Voter turn-out registered as 'fair'

A fair voter turn-out was registered in the county at city, school, and hospital board elections on Saturday. Balloting in some cases reflected the lack of opposition in the hospital board voting.

West Coke County Hospital District totals were divided between incumbents Dale Wojtek 85 and Richard Johnson 85.

Incumbents in the East Coke County Hospital District gained the following totals: Mary Glenn, 165, Stover Taylor, 159, as well as write-ins Cecil Ellis 1, Cecil Kemp 1, R.T. Caperton 1.

Bronte City Hall reported Dorris Saunders and E.G. (Corky) Collins were returned to the City Council by totals of 139 and 135, respectively.

Moderate voting occurred at Robert Lee City Hall. Aldermen J.A. Dunklin received 76, Pete Prentice 73, Jody Rodriguez 50, and challenger Bascom Chesney gained 35 votes.

Three incumbents for the Robert Lee Independent School Board were returned to the roster. Mary Patterson, election judge, gave the unofficial totals as Mary Herring 140, Gaylon Pitcock 143, Donny Robertson 115, opponent Tommy Lee 51, and write-ins Tony Smith 1, Donald Mauldin 1, Joe David Key 1, Richard Daves 1, and Orville Drake 1.

Bronte Independent School District voters elected board members for four places with totals as follows: Wayne Arrott 139, Andra Arrott 126, Lisa Glenn 111, Ronnie Sims 161, J.T. Parker 97, Larry Spivey 64, Mike Owens 42, and Pat Moore 25.

The Lions Club in conjunction with the Lighthouse for the Blind will be offering some fifty different household aids in their Caravan Sales on Saturday, April 20. Lions Club members will tour the city with quality merchandise made by the blind as well as displaying their wares at the First National Bank Bldg.

On hand to witness the signing were County Attorney Bill Helwig [standing left], and Mickey Pierce [standing right], Executive Vice-President of First National Bank, Bronte.

COKE COUNTY LIBRARY sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt on Tuesday, April 2, at the Robert Lee county park. Thirty-six pre-schoolers participated in the festivities as part of the Story Hour program enjoyed each Tuesday by three and four-year-olds. Cookies and punch were served to the group.

New X-ray technology installed

Mrs. Charlzie Treece, Administrator of West Coke County Hospital, Robert Lee, has announced the installation of new X-ray technology which will permit a sharp reduction in patient radiation exposure without sacrificing image quality of the X-ray. The 26 bed hospital this week switched to an imaging system combining DuPont's rare earth Quanta III intensifying screen and Cronex 7 X-ray film, which according to Dr. Chunn, the radiologist from San Angelo that reads the films, will reduce radiation dosage to patients in most examinations by 50 percent. An intensifying screen is a thin sheet of phosphorescent material placed between the patient and the X-ray film. The screen changes X-rays to light rays which are more easily "seen" by the X-ray film. West Coke County Hospital monthly X-rays about 110 patients, totaling over 135 separate X-ray examinations. Dr. Pulse and Dr. Hamamcy noted increasing U.S. government concern with radiation dosages as well as rising health care costs. They said, "The X-ray Departments objective is to use as little radiation as possible while still producing a readable X-ray. This new X-ray screen and film system greatly reduces patient dosage and at the same time gives a usable image. It also enables us to increase X-ray tube life and thus help hold the line on hospital costs. We are very pleased that our hospital can offer this new system to our patients."

...Letter To The Editor...

Dear Mr. Spain,

On March 29th and 30th, I had the opportunity to be a contestant in the Miss West Texas Teenager Pageant that was held in Midland. Thanks to the following sponsors: West Way Grocery, J & B Lumber, Ivey Motor Company, Ben Besent Chevrolet, The Flower Sak, Bakers Grocery and Bill Burns, I was able to compete with 94 girls from all over West Texas for the crown.

Although I didn't win Miss West Texas Teenager, I had a wonderful time and a great experience. I want to thank again my sponsors, my school administrators and teachers for their encouragement and my community for supporting me with their words and deeds. Robert Lee is a great place to be a teenager.

Sincerely,
Melissa Grim

Soil Conservation District News

Bill Blair has rootplowed the deeper soils on his ranch located near South Nipple Peak. It has also been roller-chopped and seeded to adapted grasses. These improvements together with the cross-fence built earlier was cost-shared with the USDA through the ASCS office. Technical assistance has been provided by the SCS.

LeDrew Arrott has just completed rootplowing a thick stand of mesquite on some of the deeper soils on his ranch Northwest of Tenyson.

The land was rollerchopped and seeded to a mixture of grasses such as K.R. blue-stem, sideoats grama, and Kleingrass. The shallower soils were left in brush to provide cover for various kinds of wildlife. Replacing the thick stand of mesquite with a good stand of the better grasses should use only about 1/3 the amount of water as was used by the heavy stand of mesquite. The water saved will go into underground reservoirs or appear as seeps and springs downstream. Thus more water is available for rivers and lakes downstream. Practices such as this and other good range management practices benefit the urban people as well as the rural people. This is a part of Arrott's Great Plains Conservation Program with the SCS.

Lavern Lee, of Odessa, has rootplowed the better soils on his ranch South of Bronte on the Colorado River. The rich bottomland soils and the clay loam and sandy sites in the upland pastures will be seeded to various mixtures of grasses with some wildlife forage plants added to improve their wildlife habitat. Cross-fencing and water developments will be constructed also to improve livestock grazing distribution in some of the larger pastures. These improvements are being cost-shared by the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Friends, relatives, former pupils gather for final tribute to long-time educator

Relatives, friends, and former pupils gathered on Monday to pay final tribute to long-time Coke County educator, Naomi Lee Powell Blanton.

Mrs. Blanton, 81, died on Friday, April 5, at 1:30 p.m. at Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas following a heart attack.

Funeral services were held on Monday at 11:00 a.m. at the Robert Lee Baptist Church with interment following at the Robert Lee Cemetery under the direction of Shaffer Funeral Home. Conducting the rites were the Rev. Roy Epperson, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Charles Taylor of Dallas.

Pallbearers for the services included Dean Chenoweth, Walter Thompson and Walt Ray, all of San Angelo, Bill Allen, David Key and Don Fields, all of Robert Lee.

Memorial services for Mrs. Blanton were held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Dallas, officiated by Dr. Taylor.

Naomi Lee Adams was born in Robert Lee Dec. 2, 1903 to Noel Killingsworth Adams of Mississippi and Martha Swann Adams of Gonzales County, Texas. The couple married at the turn of the century and came west to seek their fortune and raise a family of four. She was the great-granddaughter of J. Alfred Morris who came to Texas with Green DeWitt's colony and was given a Spanish land grant in 1821. He later fought in the battle of San Jacinto.

She attended Robert Lee Schools and graduated in a class of five girls and three boys in 1920; her diploma was signed by her father, president of the school board.

Mrs. Blanton's teaching career began at the old Union School north of Bronte in 1920 at the age of seventeen. It was the beginning of a dedicated work that spanned 39 years in class rooms in Coke County, twenty-five of which were in the first grade at Robert Lee.

She furthered her own education over the years, receiving a Bachelors Degree from Daniel Baker and her Masters Degree from Hardin-Simmons.

As Mrs. Blanton had no children, she directed her interests and energies toward youth and civic duties. She is remembered fondly for her work as a 4-H leader, Boy Scout den mother, Sunday School teacher, and PTA worker.

She was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, a sorority for outstanding teachers, Daughters of the American Revolution, Tom Green County Historical Society, Baptist Memorials Auxiliary, the Retired Teachers Association, and the Presbyterian Church.

On June 10, 1925, she married Samuel S. Powell, a rancher. The couple engaged in ranching their entire married life and she continued to hold ranching interests following his death in 1963.

Following her retirement from her teaching career, she moved to San Angelo to be with her aged mother. As was her nature, she served San Angelo and Tom Green County in many capacities through civic and church organizations.

On May 22, 1981, she and Burt C. Blanton of Dallas were married. They divided their time between San Angelo and Dallas as well as making frequent visits to Robert Lee where she was always warmly welcomed.

Mrs. Blanton's survivors include her husband, Burt, of Dallas; one sister, Dannie Carter, of Harlingen; one brother, S.E. Adams, of Robert Lee; one niece, Kathleen Carter, Harlingen; one nephew, Stanley Adams, Austin; six great-nieces; and six great-nephews.

HERE'S BLACKWELL

Mrs. Rockey Thompson

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pratt were her sister, Enid Allison and Reta Wade from Odessa; Mrs. Wade's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Wade and sons, all of Odessa; Mr. Pratt's son and daughter and their spouses from Graham. They were on their way to Lubbock to attend the funeral of Mr. Pratt's son's father-in-law. Mr. Pratt accompanied them to Lubbock and they all remained for a few days to visit relatives and friends. Mr. Pratt had known when he lived there before moving to Blackwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crain had as their visitors last Sunday his sister, Mrs. Vel-ma Young and her daughter, Mrs. Billie Neepner from Sweetwater.

Another visitor in the Crain home Sunday afternoon was Ruth (Leach) Ratliff also from Sweetwater. She and a friend were out driving Sunday afternoon and decided to go by and see the "Old Home Place" once more. When the Leach home was sold several years ago, the Crains bought it. They reported Ruth to be in very poor health with difficulty in walking.

Blackwell had another thunderstorm Friday night, with lots of thunder and lightning and high winds but only .1 inch of rain.

Blackwell was awakened Saturday morning with cool weather, as Oak Creek Lake reported a cool 35 degrees.

The Blackwell Euterpean Club met Thursday afternoon Mar. 21 in the home of Georgia Lewis, with Mrs. Lewis as hostess and Esther Smith as co-hostess.

The business meeting opened with the club collect, and a welcome to one guest, Verla Smith, followed by the secretary and treasurer reports.

The club then heard a program entitled "Erma Bombeck Review", by Laura Seale.

Those attending were: Gracie Spence, Donna Sanderson, Juanita Dancy, Mary Louise Alderman, Betty Cole, Margaret Stout, Emma Lee Lanier, Vera Raney, of Bronte; Esther Smith, Miss Bertha Smith and Guest, Verla Smith and the hostesses.

Davis welcomed as new member of RL Stamp Club

The Robert Lee Stamp Club met at the Post Office for their March meeting with eleven members present. Peggy Davis was welcomed as a new member.

Door prizes of assorted postcards were won by Vivian Jacobs, Lois Dunklin and Kay Lackey. Bonus prizes of descriptive posters on issued stamps were awarded to Bobbie Allen, Ella Reeder, Eloise Guerrant and Faye Roe.

It was voted to purchase a Scott's Catalogue of Stamps for the club's library. Postmistress Lewis discussed the new eagle express stamp and the seashell booklet to be issued in April. The remainder of the time was devoted to learning how to soak off stamps and exchanging stamps.

rious kinds of turkey calls. The show put on by large gobblers during the breeding season is worth going into the field to see as they preen, dance and spread their feathers to impress the hens.

All Texas counties are not on the spring turkey hunting list from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. If you plan to hunt in another county, check your Texas Hunting guide or talk with Coke County Game Warden Sparks Burdett.

Spring turkey season set for April 13 - April 28

The 16-day spring turkey season will open in Coke County this weekend (April 13) and continue through April 28. One gobbler is the bag limit for the special season and must be tagged with the hunter's license tag, "spring season only".

Although last year's area hatches were not good, plenty of adult birds are available for harvesting. Spring turkey season presents a challenge and it is the favorite of many shotgunners. Most toms taken during the spring are called within range by va-

Personal

Mrs. H.C. Bruckner and son, Ted, visited last week with her mother, Mrs. Lila Austin Cope, and her brother's family, the I.M. Austin Jr.'s, of Robert Lee.

Mrs. Bruckner, the former Jane Austin, and her husband have recently moved to Georgetown, Texas from Chatham, New Jersey where they had made their home for 12 years.

Traveling to the little community of Beehouse, Texas last Saturday for the Connor family reunion were Jr., Jane and Kelly Webb and Lanora W. Vaughn of Bronte. The drive was most enjoyable because of the very green grass and trees and beautiful wild flowers in bloom. The reunion was attended by a very large group, some who had not been there in many years.
