Pageant boasts 100 rabbit twisters

Plan to be in Robert Lee on either the July 24-25 weekend or on July 31-August 1 and attend the "Ole Coke County, Home of the Rabbit Twisters'' historical pageant. The annual outdoor production involves about 100 Coke County "Rabbit Twisters", real or adopted, from both Bronte and Robert Lee. Fifty years of experiences and history of early settlers up to the turn of the century, are covered by the musical presentation.

Setting for the pageant is the Mountain Creek Amphitheatre near the county park. Much work has gone into transforming the site to extend the feeling of stepping back in time with weathered wood buildings and other rustic additions. The Mountain Creek city lake dam and the creek itself serves as a backdrop for the production.

The pageant, in its 11th year, was originally written and directed by Lucile Bryan. As the years passed several have volunteered ideas for new scenes which were revised each season. Cast members change as well as the addition of new material. If you, your family, or guests have seen Ole Coke County before, don't let that stop you; it will still be fresh to you. This production, the setting, costumes, and material do not come across as an amateur effort by the group. When the first show begins, they will have been in rehearsal over a month.

Cast members range from very young to senior citizens and the program is a labor of love. Sponsored by the Coke County Pageant Association, Inc., there are no paid employees. Year to year support for the pageant is gained from patron memberships, ticket sales, and souvenir booths.

An 8 p.m. Pageant Choir Sing Out will precede the opening of each show at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the gate or can be reserved by calling 915/453-2831 in Robert Lee. Children, ages, 5-12, will be admitted for $2.00 and adult tickets are a reasonable $4.00.

The Coke County 4-H Clubs will have the concession booths at the pageant this year, so plan to eat supper or snack with that organization.

INDIAN CHILDREN AT play add to the color and pageantry of OLE COKE COUNTY - HOME OF THE RABBIT TWISTERS coming up July 24-25 and July 31-August 1.

RL Stamp Club meeting

The June meeting of the Robert Lee Stamp Club was held at the Post Office with eight members present.

Business conducted included the selection of Jerry Thomason and Faye Roe to serve on the Notification Committee to call or mail announcements to members. It was decided that members would be given the opportunity to share "Something New" or Questions" at each meeting.

One question asked was the number of stamps to include in a strip when collecting coils. This can vary with two to five being the common numbers. Also discussed the pros of collecting "unexploded" booklets.

Tidbits presented by the President, Wanda Smith were abbreviation of S.S. (souvenir sheet) L.H. (lightly hinged) and N.H. (never hinged).

The program presented by Coe Lewis was about the National Zip Code Directory and its value in stamp collecting. She also told of the new Delaware Statehood stamp to be issued July 6.

Door prizes were First Day Cancellation of the new Wild Life series for each member present.

A Fourth of July party was held for the nursing home residents in Robert Lee by the West Coke County Nursing Home Auxiliary. Song sheets were passed out and a sing-song was enjoyed by all present.

Between 20 and 30 auxiliary members assisted with the July 4 celebration including committee members Nina Brewer and Pauline Vaughan, decorating and planning; Zera Fields. punch; Roxie Ross, decor and serving; Essie Childress, phone committee; and Dean Percifull, Lynn Doris Smith, Cindy Bessent, Willie Gatlin, and Pauline Vaughan, cupcakes.

A spokesman for the auxiliary expressed appreciation for the large number of relatives of residents who joined the celebration.

Texas farmers and ranchers with land to lease.

A good portion of the land listed with the Clearinghouse has never been hunted before or only by family and friends. So, if you're looking for great hunting and a way to keep your money in Texas, call (512) 463-7679 or write the Hunting Clearinghouse, TDA, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, TX 78711.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lackey visited in the home of her brother and wife, Charles and Willa Mae Reed in Waco over the July 4 holiday. Also visiting in the Reeder home were Ruth and Peter Hanson who were enroute to Kenya, Africa where both will be teaching in the Peace Corps. Mrs. Lackey's mother, Mrs. Ella Reeder returned to Robert Lee with the couple following a 6 weeks stay with various relatives in the midwest.

On May 16, Mrs. Reeder attended the graduation of her grandson, John Reeder. from Texas Tech in Lubbock where he received his law degree. She then attended graduation ceremonies in Champaign, Illinois where her grandson-in-law, Peter Hanson, was awarded his doctorate in Agronomy from the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Reeder's most extended stay was in her hometown of Fairfield, Iowa where she attended her 65th high school reunion and visited longtime friend, Helen Cresswell. She was also present for the Davisson Reunion, a gathering of her late mother's family. In Fairfield she was able to visit with relatives she had not seen in some time including nieces and nephews, Maxene and Merle Bekel, Keith and Betty Reeder, all of Fairfield, and Ardys and George Anderson from California.

APPLY FUNGICIDE TO BATTLE PECAN SCAB

Pecan scab infected pecans develop black sunken areas on the young nuts. In some cases pecans drop prematurely due to the infection while others mature without filling properly. This results in low quality pecans.

An important side effect of pecan scab is that foliage damaged by the fungal infection soon drops from the tree. This leaf loss reduces the tree's ability to manufacture and store food for both the 1987 and 1988 crops.

Most fungicides used on pecans on resistant to washing once they have dried on the leaf or nutlet. for effective control, fungicides currently used on pecans must be on the leaf or nutlet before fungus spores germinate. Disease control is best achieved by preventive programs.

Benlate, Topsin-M, Du-Ter, Super Tin and Triple Tin are fungicides currently cleared for use on pecans. Of this group Du-Ter, Super Tin and Triple Tin are the more effective during periods of severe disease pressure.

For the home orchard Benlate or Topsin-M is recommended because of their additional uses on fruit and vegetable crops. Drift from the pecan spray onto these crops will not cause any toxic residue buildup or foliage burn.

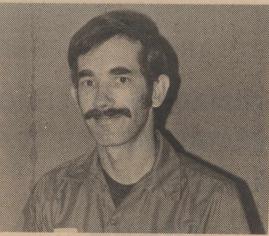

Not only should trees be sprayed as soon as possible. but the next spray interval should be reduced slightly. If the normal interval is 14 days at this time of the year, reduce it to 10 days during periods of frequent rainfall and for the two-week period following rainfall because of the large amount of fungal spores resulting from infections.

Coverage is especially important to concrolling pecan scab. Take time when spraying to make sure the material is penetrating the tree canopy Producers should examine their crop carefully and make disease control decisions based on this year's crop as well as how the disease might affect the 1988 crop. Not spraying for pecan scab will immediately reduce the quality and quantity of this year's crop. Scab inoculum on the trees will increase and disease control will be more difficult in future years.

Doe counties listed

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said many Texas deer hunters apparently are unsure about which counties will be included in the either sex whitetailed deer bag limit for the 1987-88 hunting season.

The either sex system eliminates the requirement for hunters to obtain antlerless deer tags or permits from landowners. In those counties, a hunter who has permission to hunt is required only to attach a tag from his hunting license to the carcass of any antlerless deer taken.

This hunting season, 80 counties will be under the either sex system. The remainder of counties with an open deer season will continue with an antlerless permit system, as will the mule deer season.

Counties under the eithersex system, listed alphabetically, are:

dera, Bee, Bell (west of I-35), Bexar, Blanco, Bosque, Brewster, Brooks, Brown, Burnet, Calhoun, Cameron, Coke, Coleman, Comal (west of I-35), Concho, Coryell, Crockett, Culberson, DeWitt, Dimmit, Duval, Edwards, Frio, Gillespie, Goliad, Hamilton, Hays (west of I-35), Hidalgo, Howard (south of I-20), Irion, Jeff Davis, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kendall, Kenedy, Kerr, Kimble, Kinney, Kleberg, Lampasas, LaSalle, Live Oak, Llano, McCulloch, McMullen, Mason, Maverick, Medina, Menard, Mills, Mitchell (south of I-20), Nolan (south of I-20), Nueces, Pecos, Presidio, Real, Reeves, Refugio, Runnels, San Patricio, San Saba, Schleicher, Starr, Sterling Sutton, Taylor (south of I-20), Terrell, Tom Green, Travis (west of I-35), Uvalde, Val Verde, Victoria, Webb, Willacy, Williamson (west of Aransas, Atascosa, Ban- I-35), Zapata and Zavala.

Texas Dept. of Agriculture Texas blue crabs are available year round, but the biggest harvest takes place between April and October in the bays along the Texas coast. Hess blood drive

Expert medical care is a must for a speedy and complete recovery from a tragedy, operation or hospitalization. One important aspect of that health care is an ongoing blood program like the one administered by United Blood Services (UBS) of San Angelo.

United Blood Services furnishes our area hospitals with the fluid of life itself... blood. In addition, this nonprofit organization provides specific blood components such as plasma, platelets, and clotting agents which are needed by some patients to save or prolong their lives. Lifesaving blood and blood products would not be available in our area if it weren't for the unselfish going of all-volunteer blood donors in our community.

Jeanene Baucum, West Coke County Hospital District Administrator, announced this week that a special blood drive will be conducted on Tuesday, July 14, 2-6 p.m. in the nursing home lobby for Frank Hess.

Mr. Hess was injured in a recent car accident which took the life of Mrs. Hess, a West Coke County Nursing Home resident.

You can lower your cooling bill up to 50% by raising the temperature in your home from 72° to 78°. West Texas Utilities recommends that you set your thermostat at 78° or higher for efficient summer cooling. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help the higher thermostat settings feel more comfortable. Also, check the filter in your air conditioning system regularly. A dirty filter could keep your system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace nonpermanent filters.

For more conservation tips on summer cooling, call your local WTU office.

BUILDERS OF THE Temple of Quetzalcoatl, surrounding pyramids, and other religious ruins in Mexico remain a mystery to historians. The archaeological wonders were discovered, along with evidence of an advanced culture, when Toltec Indians arrived in the area just north of Mexico City about 400-800 AD to find the ancient City of Teolihuacan abandoned and uninhabited.

Mexico (cont'd. from last week)

by Joan Davis

It really is "a small world". My sister, Billie Wallace and I hardly ever strike anyone who knows where Robert Lee, Texas, our birthplace, is but on a trip to the interior of Mexico last month, we did. During introductions among the 36 or so fellow tour members, two ladies from Sweetwater, Virginia Hefner and Jeane Lee came over to us and said they had attended Ole Coke County pageant 3 years ago and might come again.

Our stay in Puebla, Mexico was enjoyable. It is a warm friendly city and has adhered to many old Spanish customs including the observed from 2-4 Many of the shops are and you see locals eati or 4 o'clock at the small sidewalk cafe restaurants.

Mexico, great use was made of them for building in the 1500s and 1600s. The church is surrounded by a large courtyard, paved with handcarved stone, enclosed with an elaborate iron fence. The 8-bell tower is 210 ft. high with all former bishops buried in crypts under the first floor. A large timber about 16-20 inches square lays across all church thresholds. Our guide explained that all who enter and step over must bow in respect in the act of the motion.

The Bello Museum was donated by Jose M. Bello y Acedo in 1938 (his entire riday, July 10, 1987 worldwide art collection and home) to the city. It contains sculptures, fine porcelain, furniture, crystal and art from many other countries and was an interesting tour site.

We toured the Santa Monica Convent where a large order of Catholic nuns, with the aid of secret staircases. hidden doors, rooms, and concealed passages remained in solitary isolation from the world for 35 years. In 1851, the government confiscated all church property and forbade the operation of religious facilities. The nuns hid there, buried their dead, spun their clothing, and carried out daily chores with no one aware they lived there.

One afternoon we went to a smaller city nearby, Cholula, where pyramids are now being excavated. The archaeological site can never be fully uncovered because part of the city was built on it before its discovery. Five cultures have built their own temples, and shrines, and covered the previous one with earth. On top of that mountain of carved stone and volcanic plaster now rests the Church of Remedios, a Spanish church. The main pyramid, Tenapa, is one of the largest in the world at 1320 sq. ft. at the base (Cheops in Egypt is only 756 sq. ft.). Mexican pyramids are not burial tombs but rather ritual temples.

We also visited the 16th century Tonantizintla Church with the same fabulous wealth and beauty inside as most other churches in the area. The exterior was completely faced with glazed Mexican tile.

One entire day was spent in Mexico City 80 miles away, and we only scratched the surface of this tremendous city. Mexico City is modern and metropolitan and just recently moved ahead of Tokyo, Japan as the largest city in the world at 20,000,000 population. It has beautiful parks, wide avenues, many statues, and beautiful old buildings as antiquity sits next to the mod offices and apartments.

Our bus met slow going in the traffic as we were pulled over many, many times for the traditional Mexican bribes to police when we were spotted as tourists from the States.

The Shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe, a world-famous cathedral, was a high point.

The 1550s church has been visited by heads of state including the late President John Kennedy and Charles de Gaulle of France. It is customary for worshipers to walk on their knees across the volcanic rock courtyard to the front doors in penance or thanksgiving. It was there at the small tourists center, the tourists experienced a first. At the entrance to the restroom, a little old man was seated in the doorway. For 20 pesos you could go in and as you paid, he handed us each an already-torn 2 ft. long strip of toilet paper!

Everyone on the tour agreed the highlight of our trip was the city of Teolihuacan where the Pyramid of the Sun looks down 216 ft. over the Avenue of the Dead which is lined on each side for $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles by temples and shrines to reach the smaller. Pyramid of the Moon. The ancient city was discovered empty and abandoned about 400 AD by Toltec Indians. No evidence is available on who constructed the immense complex of volcanic rock, crushed rock and mud stucco, and sometimes enforced with tree trunks. Some of the structures appear to have been for ceremonial use and a complete arena may have been for ancient games or contests.

Time simply did not permit the group seeing many of the sites in the area but they did visit the National Museum of Anthropology where the famed Aztec Calendar of Stone can be seen.

The Mexican people seem to remain cheerful and show no signs of unrest despite their economic situation. Our only regret was we could not speak their language and visit with them. However, sign language and a smile are universal communication.

FOOD SAFETY WHEN CAMPING

Camping out overnight presents special food safety problems, but you can plan ahead to solve them. The biggest problem is lack of refrigeration.

Even on a short overnight trip you'll need to keep cooler space for fresh meat and poultry, milk, butter and eggs. If the trip involves several meats - supper the first night, plus meals and snacks the following days here are some suggestions for handling the food:

* Don't take any more foods that need ice to keep cold than you can use early in the trip. For later use take along canned meats and fish, vegetable soups and stews, dry cooked cereals and peanut butter.

* Camping stores have a variety of dehydrated foods, including dried meat sticks, dried fruits and nut mixes and even whole drive dinners. For beef stew in a pouch, for example, you just add boiling water.

* If you catch fish, remember they're highly perishable. After cleaning, wash the fish thoroughly and cook immediately or wrap the fish tightly and keep it in the cooler with ice for no longer than 24 hours.

* To help keep your ice chest cool longer, wrap the cooler in newspaper and put it in a sleeping bag in the shade while you're hiking, fishing or boating. Jan Hohensee County Extension Agent-HE Coke Co.

* Keep the same standards of cleanliness for cooking as you would at home. Clean your hands before working with food by using either soap and water or disposable wet hand wipers. And wash your hands again after working with raw meat, poultry or fish and before handling other food.

Food safety is just as important as fire or water safety on a camping trip.

LINEN IS A COOL SUM-MER FABRIC -- If you're looking for a cool fabric to wear this summer, try linen. Its fast absorbency makes it a cool and comfortable choice for summer clothing. "Linen is a durable, and attractive fabric," says Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "It absorbs moisture, and dries fast, which makes it popular for women's suits, blouses, and jackets. Its appearance is deceiving," she says. "It's really a tough, long lasting fabric. Linen is a bit more expensive than some other fabrics, like cotton, but its durability makes it a good investment. Linen also wrinkles very easily," the specialist remarks. "To some extent, the wrinkling could be considered fashoinable, but some people may not care for it. There are linens with durable press finishes and linen blends available that don't wrinkle as easily. Blends are less expensive, yet are still cool and comfortable."

Pressure Cooker Explodes; Lady Seriously Burned---

Mrs. Chester Kiker narrowly escaped fatal injury Thursday at noon when a pressure cooker, from some unknown cause exploded while Mrs. Kiker was near the cooker.

Mr. Kiker had moved his thresher to the Wendland Ranch and was threshing there. Mrs. Kiker prepared lunch to take to the thresher crew. When the lunch was ready Mrs. Kiker put it in a car and went to the ranch where Mr. Kiker and his crew were threshing. As she went to remove the cooker from the car, it exploded and severely burned her on the face, neck and arms.

The lady was rushed to Bronte where medical attention was given her by Dr. Leonard and it is hoped now that no bad permanent effects will result from the accident.

The rains have been wonderful and the crops are about all that can be desired at this time.

The protracted meeting season is now here - a mighty hard time on the gastronomic powers of the preachers but it is worse on the frying size of the "yallerlegged" aristocrats of the poultry yard, for many a one of them is "entering the ministry" these days.

Press reports state that the buddhists in Japan are praying for the souls of one hundred thousand dead frogs. If they will come over to the land between the two oceans they can easily find at least a million two-legged "Jack Asses" for which they can pray.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONDUCT WEATHER MODIFICATION OPERATIONS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS

Date of the first of three weekly publications of this Notice: July 10, 1987.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Colorado River Municipal Water District has filed an application with the Texas Water Commission for a State permit to conduct weather modification operations to change or attempt to change the natural development of clouds for the purpose, objective, period, and by the method summarinzed hereinbelow.

2. The Colorado River Municipal Water District has a valid Texas weather modification license. The initial license was issued on December 18, 1974, and was renewed in 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, and 1986.

3. The purpose of the weather modification operation is to increase rainfall to affect water resources. The period of the permit is March 1 through November 30 during the years 1988, 1989, 1990, and 1991.

4. The proposed weather modification operation is to be conducted for and on behalf of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721-0869.

5. The proposed weather modification operation is to be carried out in both an "operational area" and a "target area" to cause the intended effects to occur only in the target area. The operational area is that area described as being the area between an outer boundary which is defined by a line that encompasses the block of counties of Lynn, Garza. Kent, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Martin and Dawson, and an inner boundary which is that of the target area. 6. The area to be affected by the proposed weather modification operation is the target area. The target area is that area described as bounded by a line beginning at a point of origin at Big Spring, Texas, and running along Highway 87 in a northwesterly direction to Lamesa; thence, northnortheast on Highway 87 to the north border of Dawson County; thence, east along the northern boundary lines of Dawson, Borden, and

Lifting weights may injure shoulders

by Jerry L. Cochran, MD

Friday, July 10, 1987

Over the last couple of years, I have been privileged to see several weight lifters with profound shoulder problems. A review of the medical literature failed to turn up any significant information concerning the injury. I could find only one physician, Lannie Johnson, M.D., who had noted patients with similar findings. I refer to this interesting malady as the "Weight Lifter's Shoulder".

This condition is seen in athletes who are serious weight lifters. Each patient that I examined had been working out with weights for several years and could, in reality, be described as experts in body building. Each individual was sequentially doing full body workouts in the appropriate manner, working each body part no more than twice a week, and Scurry Counties to Highway 84; thence, southeast along Highway 84 to Roscoe, in Nolan County; thence, south-southeast to Maryneal; thence, southwest to Silver in Coke County; thence, west-southwest to Highway 87 at a point approximately 13 miles northwest of Sterling City; thence, northwesterly along Highway 87 to the point of origin at Big Spring, Texas.

7. The methods and materials to be used in conducting this operation are summarized herein: A licensed meteorologist will select cumuliform clouds for cloudseeding using a weather radar display, standard meteorological analyses, forecast techniques, observations, and pilot reports to direct an aircraft equipped to dispense the seeding particles, silver iodide crystals, into the updraft air at cloud base.

8. Persons interested in knowing more about the technical aspects of the proposed operation should contact the applicant or the Weather & Climate Section of the Commission.

9. A public hearing on this application may be called by mailing a petition that requests a hearing to the allowing at least 48 hours for muscle recovery.

Each athlete complained of shoulder pain when specifically performing bench and incline presses. The pain was usually so disabling that the weight lifter was forced to curtail these activities. Other upper extremity exercises, such as curls or tricep extensions, did not usually cause as much discomfort. Examination of the patient demonstration pain to palpation of the acromioclavicular joints of the shoulders (where the clavicle or collar bone joins the shoulder). Inspection of these joints usually demonstrated findings consistent with arthritis. X-rays confirmed the presence of severe degenerative arthritis of the acromioclavicular joints. Initially, treatment was on a conservative basis: local heat packs, anti-inflammatory medications, occasional intra-articular corticosteroid injections, and avoidance of painful activities. Those who failed to respond to this regime were treated surgically with excision of the distal clavicle and reconstruction of the ligaments. The findings at surgery, in each case, included arthritic destruction of the acromioclavicular joint and stretching out of the acromioclavicular and coracoclavicular ligaments.

The Observer/Enterprise

The mechanism of injury for these athletes has to do with the biomechanics of the bench press and incline press exercises. Typically, the weight lifter lays on his back and presses the bar vertically. In the incline press, the motion is similar. but the patient is inclined 30 to 45 degrees. After the vertical press component of the exercise, the bar is brought down to the level of the chest. This motion forces the elbows toward the floor, producing stress on the anterior shoulder structures.

The clavicle, in this situation, acts as a strut and attempts to stabilize the shoulder. The weight on the bar is brought to bear on the weakest component of the system, the acromioclavicular joint. Thereby, the acromioclavicular and coracoclavicular ligaments are stretched out leading to the degenerative arthritis of the acromioclavicular joint.

Most advanced weight lifters use more than 300 pounds for the bench press and 225 pounds for the incline press. The acromioclavicular joint and associated ligaments are unable mechanically to accept that kind of load on a repetitive basis.

People who are approaching 65 and who do not plan to retire should be aware that their Social Security check will be larger when they finally do apply for it, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

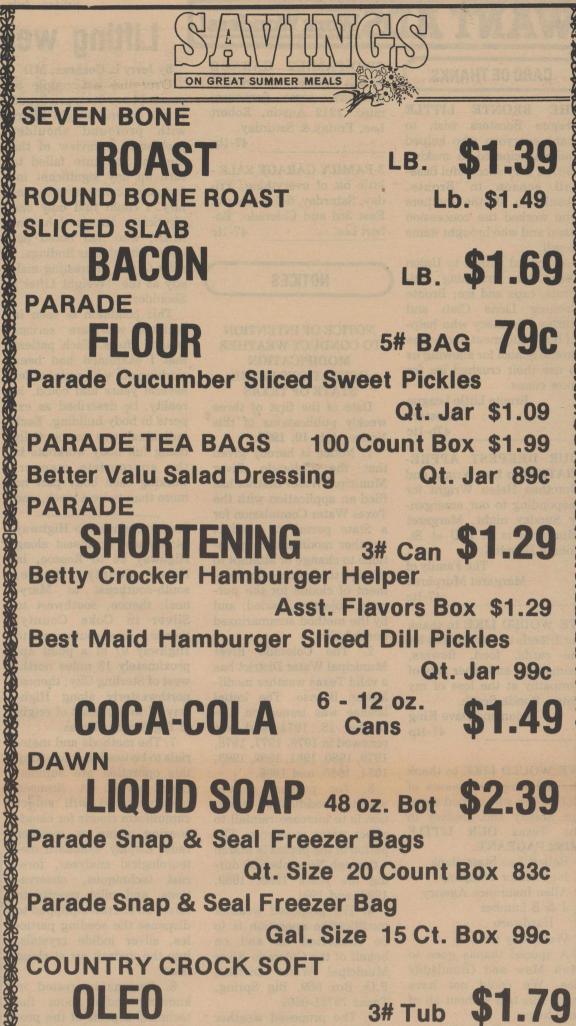

The reason is because of "delayed retirement credit". This credit increases a person's retirement checks for each month he or she does not get a benefit after 65 and before 70. The credit adds 1/4 percent for each month -- 3 percent for each full year -- a person does not get a check because of work. It also applies to widows and widowers benefits. The credit will gradually increase to 8 percent a year between 1990 and 2008.

In addition to these credits, a person's earnings after 65 may also result in a larger check than would have been payable at 65.

Of course, Upp said, a person who starts getting checks at 65 can still work and earn a significant amount before his or her benefits are affected. In 1987, people 65 through 69 can earn $8,160 and still get benefits for all of the year. There is no limit for people 70 and older. If earnings go above $8,160, then $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above this amount. This annual exempt amount will increase automatically to keep pace with increases in average wages. The exempt amount for people under 65 is $5,000 in 1987.

People who are working and estimated they would not earn more than the exempt amount should make sure they still are. Any change in a person's estimate should be reported to Social Security, Upp said. For more information about Social Security retirement benefits or to make any changes, contact the San Angelo Social Security ofc. located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. There are free leaflets available which tell about retirement and how work affects benefit checks.

Webb receives dearee

Diplomas were awarded to some 600 graduates during the 84th commencement ceremonies at Texas Woman's University in Denton on May 16. TWU holds three commencements each year. For the first time, degrees were conferred in separate undergraduate and graduate ceremonies, enabling graduates to invite more family members and friends than has been possible in the past. Dr. Shirley Chater,
