Haskell County History

30 Years Ago—Feb. 13, 1908
Mesdames John Fouts, B. M. Whitaker, I. N. Alvis, Sam A. Roberts and Miss Lucy P. Pool visited Mrs. Jim Fouts in the Knox City Sanitarium Wednesday afternoon.

The farm home of J. M. Burson several miles west of Haskell was destroyed by fire Sunday night shortly after dusk, together with practically all the household furnishings of the family. The fire started when a lamp near a window ignited curtains while no one was in the room. The flames had spread throughout the room before being discovered and members of the family were unable to fight the blaze.

Miss Bessie Lee Sikes, regional director of Home Demonstration Work, spent Thursday in Haskell conferring with Miss Peggy Taylor, local County Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Claude Jenkins and Mrs. Ree Gardner spent last week in Dallas with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Charlie Chapman spent Sunday with friends in Stamford.

Courtney Hunt, manager of Hunt's Store in this city has returned from St. Louis markets, where he purchased Spring merchandise for the Haskell store.

Mrs. Leone Pearsey underwent surgery in the Stamford Sanitarium Monday, and is recovering nicely. Her mother, Mrs. E. E. M. Kirby of San Angelo is at her bedside.

Tom Clifton of this city visited Eugene Rose, who is a patient in the Stamford Sanitarium, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Louise Warren has returned from Oklahoma City, where she spent several weeks visiting in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Boley, and with her brother, Willard Warren.

The Resettlement Administration has named the Debt Adjustment Committee for Haskell County. It is composed of John W. Pace, chairman; W. F. Ratliff, secretary; and John Crawford.

J. B. Whitaker, water well driller who was seriously injured in an accident recently, is improving.

30 Years Ago—Feb. 11, 1908
Mrs. J. U. Fields left Wednesday for Temple, where she will be the guest of women's clubs in that city for several days.

Fred Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ellis of this city will be able to return home from the Baptist Sanitarium in Abilene this weekend. The youth underwent an operation for appendicitis and is recovering nicely.

Plans are now being made for a new Presbyterian Church building for this city. The old building has been moved back in order to make room for starting on the new structure.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery spent Sunday in Graham with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. C. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Menefee and children and T. B. Bagwell went to Wichita Falls last weekend, where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt and Mrs. Mamie Barron are in Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will purchase spring merchandise for the Courtney Hunt Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koenigler are spending the week in San Angelo with relatives.

R. C. Couch, vice president of the Farmers State Bank, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Baptist Sanitarium in Abilene recently, and has recovered to the extent that he could be returned home.

Will Harrell of the Foster community returned from Dallas the first of the week. He drove back a new Studebaker which he had purchased through the local dealers.

OUT ON A LIMB
BY CHARLENE WHITE

We'd like to make a low courtesy to all those nice people who have been saying nice things about this department. In fact, we think we're developing quite a following. We just hope they don't catch us.

We talked to John B. Martin at the hospital last week. He was sporting a fancy looking painted cut on his forehead. He says he ran into a door. Uh-huh.

Plans for Haskell's Youth Center are steaming right along with enthusiasm higher than ever. Mrs. Fred Brown is so busy helping get things organized and bustling with ideas that her youngest son suspects she's getting absent-minded. Seems he asked for soup for lunch. Twice he asked. His mother started into the kitchen twice and twice got sidetracked. For all we know the poor kid's still hungry.

We're having trouble with ye old editor again. He's been telling us about this woman who was in an auto accident some years back and lost an ear. He says the doctor just went out, picked up the ear and sewed it back on. He swears it's the truth and even calls on Dr. Williams as a backer-upper and cohort. We won't say "hey, hey," fibbing. That isn't nice. We'll just say they have overactive imaginations.

Do we have any amateur Einsteins in the audience? Then here's a problem for you. A man died and left his property to his three sons. They had no difficulties in dividing the property till they came to the man's horses. They finally divided them like this. One son got half of the horses or nine of them. The second son got 1-9 or six horses. The third son got 1-9 or two horses. Now get out your pencils and paper and figure out how they came to these conclusions. There. That'll keep you busy for a while. And if you do figure it out lemme know. We've used up two scratch pads and are all but counting on our fingers and toes.

We'd like to pin a medal on Millard M. Swain, uninvited George mechanic. We've had a suppressed desire for the last six years, but never had the courage to do anything about it. Not long ago this modern-day D'Artegian was sitting with his family and watching TV. He was absentmindedly loading and unloading a gun. See he to his small son, "Want Daddy to shoot the man on TV?" The small son, an obliging sort sez, "Sure Daddy shoot 'im." And he did. Really that is. The gun's slugs missed the picture tube, but left it with a large spot which makes the picture kind of purple in that area. At last reports, McSwain has given up swashbuckling. Too expensive.

Jerry Maurice is being accused of a dastardly thing, or clever, depending on the way you look at it. He and the wife were on the way home from Wichita Falls and got stuck. Jerry got out of the car and started up the road to a house to see if he could borrow a jack, leaving the charming Mary in the car. Now everybody knows that no red-blooded American is going to be able to refuse aid to a lady in distress. Thus when Jerry got back sans jack, the car had been pushed from the mudhole and the little wife was sitting there looking a bit smug. All of those rumors that Jerry was hiding behind a billboard waiting for the good Samaritan to get the car out just aren't true. We know. He told us.

We enjoyed a housewarming at the home of Bill Kurk, steadfast, loyal and true limotyper last week. That is the party was last week. And after the housewarming, he shouldn't have to have any more fuel for the rest of the winter. It was a surprise party, plotted by Mrs. Jetty Clare and Mrs. Jack Sellers. You should have seen the conspiracy down here last week. Mrs. Clare spent hours on the phone hoarsely whispering invitations with Lela B. stationed at the door as sentry. We almost were getting used to the sight of her jumping up in the air, turning around three times and shrieking "He's coming, he's coming." Anyhow we had a ripping time and Bill collected a lot of loot.

Puts you in the Big Time for a small-car price

Why hold back from the fun and thrill and pride of bossing a Buick—when you can boss such a big and strapping beauty for the price of a smaller car?

Hard to believe? Listen...

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this brawny Buick SPECIAL Sedan—for a very simple reason.

This Buick is priced within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars—and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. (The price we'll show you proves that.)

Want more proof? For two years in a row now, Buick has outsold every other car in America except two of those well-known smaller cars. And you can bet your bottom dollar that it takes bedrock prices to stay in the Top 3 of the nation's best sellers.

But even that isn't the whole story—not by a long shot.

Folks are buying Buicks in record numbers because they find in these big beauties a lot more automobile for the money.

They find here more styling freshness and distinction—more snap and ginger and power thrill—more comfort and luxury—more ride stability and steadiness—and more structural solidity and pure automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

MRS. GENE OVERTON

Wallar Overton, Eagle Scout of Troop 48, Paint Creek was representative from the Northern District, Chisholm Trail Council when the Texas Scouts delivered their yearly message to the governor during Scout Week. Mike Kelly of Sweetwater, Robert Culp of Abilene and Ted Burnam of Coleman were the other representatives from this Council. Henry McGinty, Head Executive of the Chisholm Trail, took the boys. They drove to Austin Friday and stayed at Bergstrom Air Base while there. The Governor's Ball for the Scouts was Friday night, and Saturday morning they marched to the Capitol and delivered their message. They also gave Gov. Shivers a plaque of the "Onward, for God and My Country," which is the theme for the next few years. At noon there was a fellowship luncheon. There were two or three hundred Scouts from all over Texas, and the boys enjoyed their trip thoroughly. Wallar didn't really enjoy it till he was sure he was not to make any speeches.

It will be on "Texas in Review" and several of you Paint Creekers have asked about the TV, so you could look for Wallar. He may have dodged the cameras. And since there were several hundred Scouts, the Abilene boys may not be in the picture at all, but Wallar carried the "Chisholm Trail Council, Abilene, Texas" flag into the Capitol building and in the Governor's office. In the parade up Congress Avenue, he is right beside Ted Burnam, who carried the flag in the parade.

While we're thinking of TV, Don Summers is getting better and better on Slim Willit's show, don't you think? The reason he doesn't sing like he used to here at home is because he doesn't get to choose his songs. Mr. Willit chooses them, and tells him which song he is to sing. I wish it were color TV and we could see that red hair and those freckles. Another thing different, here at Paint Creek he played his own accompaniment.

Gladstone McLennan was critically burned last Wednesday afternoon in almost the same kind of accident in which H. Hisey was fatally burned several weeks ago. A pear burner Mr. McLennan was using exploded and threw gasoline over him. This ignited, and he was burned badly on one side of his face, one arm, and one leg, in fact, half his body. The explosion also caused several bad cuts on his face and arms. He managed to get to the home of his sister, Mrs. Olin Houston, who lives about half a mile from where he was burned. The Houston's were not at home, but he managed to phone the operator who called Mrs. Alec McLennan. Mrs. McLennan and the Houston's arrived about the same time, and Mr. Gladstone was taken to the hospital. He is some better now, and barring serious complications he is expected to live. However, the think he will have to remain in the hospital six months or more. Those pear burners are becoming the most dangerous tool on the farm. That is another result of the drought. If we could have raised feed for the cattle, or if it weren't so high and we could buy it, farmers wouldn't have to be burning pears to feed their cattle. All you who are burning pears, check your equipment, and use the correct fuel, and let's not have any more of these terrible accidents. Mr. McLennan lives in the Rockdale part of Paint Creek which is the southeastern part.

John Bray, Sr., of Albany died Saturday morning and was buried in Albany Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bray and his family lived for many years at Paint Creek, and his children attended the old Post School. His youngest son, John Jr., was in the second class to graduate from Paint Creek. John Jr. is now vice president of the bank at Albany. Bruce, the older son, is postmaster in Albany. Cecile works in Fort Worth, and Ann is Mrs. Ollie Johnson of Haskell. Mr. and Mrs. Bray lived on the family farm near Albany at the time of his death. Paint Creekers attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Perry, Ray Perry, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, J. H. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton, Ralph Ketrin, Mr. Bray's sister, Mrs. Minnie Howard, and his nephew, Vernay Howard.

lar monthly meeting. The Scout Troop 48 gave an impressive program at the Chapel program Wednesday afternoon. They explained the laws, the oath and the uniform and the ideals in Scouting. They also told about the camps, the ranch trips, and the Jamborees Scouts may attend. It must have been very impressive, because the parents of one little boy came to our house that cold, misty afternoon to learn the details of Scouting. Their little boy, Cub age, had misunderstood and thought he had to join the Scouts just like being drafted into the army. We are going to organize a Cub Pack at Paint Creek soon and those boys who want to join and enjoy Cubbing until they are Scout age.

Sunday morning at the Baptist Church Rev. A. E. Eubanks brought a wonderful message for Scouts and his subject was "The Great Scout." The Scouts, in uniform, sat together with their Scoutmaster at the service. Sunday night at the Methodist Church, Rev. J. B. Thompson the pastor, brought a message to Scouts and the congregation reversing the expression "You can't prove it by me" to "You can Prove it by me," and using the parts of the Scout law, truth, loyalty, etc., he developed his theme of these should be proven in Christian life. Again, the Scouts sat together. Troop 48 is composed of William Haynes, Jerry Hughes, Mige Overton, Dan Griffith, Mike Shaw, Wallar Overton, Eddie M. Earies, James Edwards, Martin Dale Coleman and Johnny McCrae.

Coach Pat Morrison's girls have won every game, and beaten every team twice in District 14B basketball. They now have a 3-game playoff with the second

Directors of Farm Bureau Get Report On District Meet

Directors and alternate directors of the Haskell County Farm Bureau were given a report on the recent district meeting at Wichita Falls and the membership chairman's rally at Lubbock by Shelly Royall, local president, at a board meeting held Monday night.

Also present at the meeting were three guests from Abilene, Charles Partin, Claud Ash and H. A. Travis. Partin talked to the group about the Paymaster hen-laying and feeding program, and offered information to any persons interested.

Directors decided to have a spring membership drive to pick up memberships that are past due and help reduce the solicitation for the fall drive, held in October. Royall said the quota for Haskell County Farm Bureau this year is $45. Bud Herren, general agent, gave his insurance report and E. C. McMurray of Eastland, area field insurance director, made a brief talk. Directors decided to have a county meeting March 19 and to invite the state vice president, C. H. Devany for that meeting. Felix Mullino presented a problem before the board about the Mexican nationals which the board agreed to investigate further.

Attending the meeting Monday night were W. P. Ballard, Sam Scott, C. G. Burson, Sr., Roy Johnson, Alton Feiser, Felix Mullino, Bert Davis, F. A. Ulmer, Eddie Kainer, Coye Jenkins, Jess Glover, Gene Tonn, Alvin Bredthauer, Arthur J. Moody, Hiram Olson, Thurman Rice, Bill Lees, C. E. White, C. H. Herren, S. M. Royall and Mrs. Gene Tonn, secretary.

More Than 100 Scouts, Parents Attend Scout Banquet Observing Scout Week

More than 100 persons including Boy Scouts from Cub to Eagle rank, their parents and adult Scouters and leaders, discounted winter weather and braved a threatening snowstorm to attend an All-Scout Banquet Thursday night in the Elementary school lunchroom.

Presiding as master ceremonies was School Supt. C. D. Allen, and members of the two Scout troops conducted opening and closing ceremonies.

Cited for outstanding work and service to Scouting were Adult Leaders Dr. R. K. McCall, Dr. T. W. Williams and Tom Stewart. Recognition was also given A. M. Turner of Haskell, long-time Scouter and holder of the Silver Beaver Award.

Certificates from the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, and official service emblems were presented Dr. McCall and Tom Stewart for completion of three year training program, and to Dr. Williams for 20 years service as Scouter.

Other special awards included the 30-year veteran service certificate and pen to Dr. McCall; and the Chisholm Trail Council's distinguished service trophy to Dr. Williams.

Recognition was also given Scoutmasters Cecil Corley of Troop 36; district Explorer Scout director Fred Brown; and Cub Scout Leader Ira Hester.

Awards to other Scouters included a 4-year star to Cecil Corley; 3-year stars to R. A. Coburn and Fred Brown; and 2-year stars to Frank Urban and Pete Snider.

Dr. Williams, in a brief talk to the gathering, expressed his appreciation of Scouting, and urged all parents and others interested in youth to support the local Scout organizations and workers.

Announcement of the Scout Camporee to be held March 23 and 24 at Scott Memorial Park adjoining Lake Stamford, Scouter Tom Stewart urged parents of Scouts to plan to visit the Camporee, particularly on the evening of March 23. Stewart also suggested the organization of a Woman's Auxiliary, composed of mothers of youths in the Scout movement. Mothers present at Thursday night's banquet indicated the proposal would be studied.

Entertainment features during the evening included two laughable skits presented by members of Troops 35 and 36.

Haskell Negro Wants More Ammunition Next Time He Meets Up With Bobcat

Sampson Hawkins, Negro handyman at at Spencer Lumber Company, intends to take more than two .22 bullets along next time he goes hunting and fishing. Just to be on the safe side.

Late Saturday, after fishing awhile at the lake, Sampson was walking through a wooded patch adjoining Scott Memorial Park, taking a short cut to his car, when he came almost face to face with a full-grown bobcat.

Now, Sampson had heard a lot about how fierce those 'cats can get, and here he was with one on his hands, so to speak. He wasn't nervous or scared, no sub, but that walk of 100 yards or so had him fatigued and his shot was a little wild and only infuriated the big 'cat.

With only one bullet left, Sampson's marksmanship had to be good, or else he'd have that bobcat in his hair judging from the way the critter was growling and spitting. He couldn't afford to miss with the final bullet—and he didn't.

What if he had? "Man, I'd uv wore mistuh Shorty's .22 plum out on that bobcat," Sampson declared.

He brought his trophy to town and proudly displayed the big cat, which measured 42 inches in length and weighed 39½ pounds.

Sampson's bobcat was the third killed in the Haskell area in recent weeks, as more and more of the animals are being reported seen.

Shook Homeplace, Haskell Landmark, Being Razed

Razing of a familiar Haskell landmark, the M. S. Shook old homeplace at the corner of North 16th and Avenue E, is being completed by Charlie Harrell, grocer and farmer who recently purchased the property from the Shook Estate.

Harrell plans to build on the site, and will probably erect one or more modern homes on the property, it was understood.

Mr. Shook, who died in 1953, came to this section in 1879 before the county was organized for judicial purposes. Establishing a ranch in the northwest part of the county he became one of the largest ranch operators in this section.

In 1906, he built the large two-story residence here, one of the most pretentious homes in the city, which became one of the landmarks of Haskell. The residence was occupied by the Shook family for almost 50 years, until the death of the pioneer couple.

Farmers in Local Soil Districts Do Terrace Work

Many farmers in the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Conservation Districts are busy constructing new terraces or enlarging old ones. Because of the low rainfall the last few years the benefits of water conservation have been easily recognized. However, even in dry years we sometimes get large rains. Last year, for example, approximately half of the annual rainfall fell in May and September. As a result of these rains many farmers are having to rebuild terraces that were destroyed.

These terraces were destroyed either because they were not properly maintained, or water from another field or pasture ran into the terrace system. When this happened the terraces received more water than they could hold, and if no outlet was provided the terraces broke, causing heavy damage to the field and crop.

A terrace is designed and constructed to hold only the water that falls during normal rains on the land between that terrace and the terrace above it, or the top of the slope. If larger rains than is normally expected to fall, or water from another field runs into the terrace system, this excess water must have adequate outlet in order to protect the terraces and fields from damage.

When possible terraces are constructed to spill excess water on pastureland; this provides an excellent emergency outlet. However, when this is not possible a waterway should be established as an emergency outlet.

Many farmers have the impression that a waterway is used to drain terraces. However, by placing a partial block in the terrace at the waterway the terrace is allowed to store as much water as it can safely hold. Any excess water will be disposed of by flowing down the waterway.

Perennial grasses seeded in a waterway may serve as a pasture strip for grazing or hay production, or may be harvested for seed.

In some cases a safe outlet may be provided by sowing a waterway to annual plants such as sudan grass, oats, or other close growing plants. However, when annual plants are used, all crops should be left on the surface of the soil.

Waterways properly installed and used would have prevented most of the damage done to fields and crops last year, and the expense of repairing broken terraces would have been saved.

H-SU Extension Course In Guidance Being Offered Area Teachers in Haskell

A real opportunity in education's latest requirement is the description of the course "A Symposium in Guidance" to be offered each Monday evening at the Haskell High School.

Under the instruction of Dr. Clyde Jetton of Hardin-Simmons University's extension division, the education course will be open to graduates and undergraduates at the college level and will give material and procedures in guidance and those in both elementary and secondary education. The course will cover the basic needs of pupils, development of guidance, the testing program, counseling and guidance, interviewing techniques, and all aspects of guidance techniques such as case study, anecdotal records, and autobiography. Dr. Jetton has announced.

Dr. Jetton served as teacher and counselor in the Sweetwater public schools before coming to Hardin-Simmons University last fall. At the university where he is education professor, he teaches all courses in guidance. He holds the Ph. D. degree from Texas Tech College and the M. A. degree in education from Oklahoma A&M College. YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb... when its men are untrained for battle... that an enemy strikes. To keep peace—keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve—well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.
