Dangerous storms pound Coke County

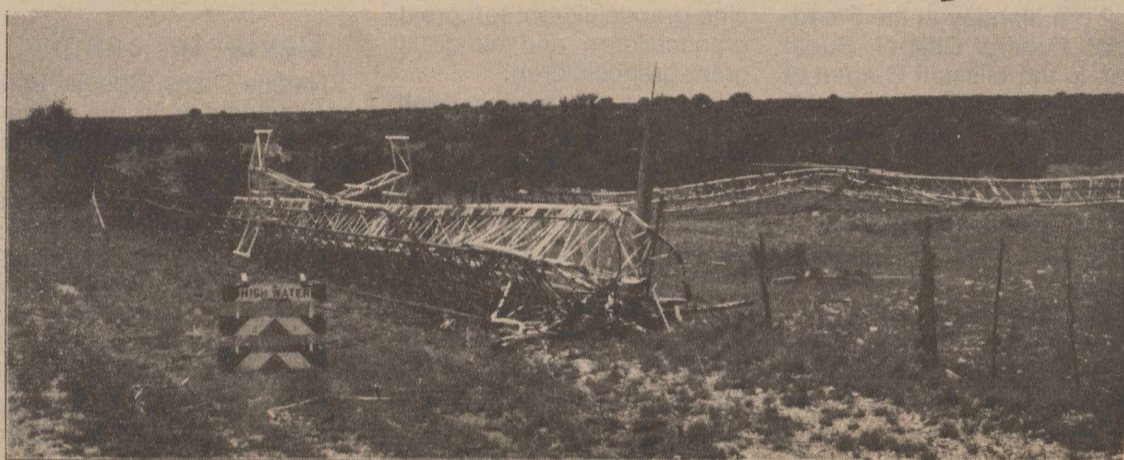

Coke County residents eye the sky daily for dangerous thunderheads as threatening storms continue to circle the area. Robert Lee citizens were pounded last Saturday by waves of thunderstorms which produced from 4 to 8 inches of rain, damaging wind, and large hail. Broken windows and battered roofs in a number of homes resulted, as ruined trees, and everything loose outside was blown away.

Both local car dealerships suffered hail damage, along with individuals. Other severe damage occurred when a transmitter tower in southern Coke County toppled and blocked Hwy. 208 linking Robert Lee to San Angelo.

Other extensive destruction this month included an apparent tornado in the south part of Robert Lee Thursday, June 1. On the following Tuesday, a storm cloud zeroed in on Silver. The Clifford Wilsons sustained alarming damage to their ranch home when two huge pecan trees were uprooted and hit the house, demolishing one corner and part of the roof.

Gardens are finished after 3 hails and the deadline for planting many productive farm crops is past.

One thing, the rain, has come out of the storms, however. Much running water was gained in stock tanks and lake drinking water.

Evidence of the violent nature of Saturday evening's storm was the downing of this radio tower on Hwy 208 at the mountain in southern Coke County. A portion of the tower landed in the roadway of Hwy 208, disrupting traffic for several hours as motorists dodged the wreckage and the many guy wires which were also strewn across the highway.

RL changes water source

According to Robert Lee Mayor Wilson Bryan and Water Superintendent James Royall, city water users are now on Mountain Creek water which was caught in run-off over the weekend. The city had been totally served by Lake Spence since last year, causing many residents to buy or haul drinking water.

Royall stated that the Mountain Creek reservoir is almost full - within 2 to 4 feet of the spillway.

Plans call for remaining on the fresh water, Mayor Bryan said, as long as possible. He said we now have enough water to last through the summer. Even then, enough might remain to blend with Spence water rather than rely entirely on the poor quality supply.

The heavy rains came just in time, the pair reported, because of the failure of some of the city's equipment installed in Lake Spence to bring water to the treatment plant. They said some changes and repair will have to be made to their installation in the event it will be needed later.

13th annual pageant dates announced

Coke County Pageant Association, Inc. will present its 13th annual production of OLE COKE COUNTY, Home of the Rabbit Twisters on July 21, 22, and July 28, 29, in Mountain Creek Amphitheatre, Robert Lee. Since 1989 is Coke County's centennial, special attention is being given to stories and incidents considered vital to history.

One scene will depict the planning of strategy for presentation of request to congressional leaders for the county to be created. Other scenes relate to life of pioneers before and after county organization.

Some properties used on stage will be horses, a buggy, a wagon, guns, campfire, and a surprise glass of "licker" in an unexpected place.

Two highlights, new to the show this year, are FIFTH SUNDAY BRUSH ARBOR

SINGING, with an ending to bring joy to every rancher's heart, and a reunion of all the rural schools that ever existed in Coke County. This calls for a quick roll call to locate old timers on stage and in the audience. OLD TIMERS ARE ON THE MOST WANTED LIST!

July 22, the first Saturday of the four productions, is THE REAL COKE COUNTY HOMECOMING DAY! The fun starts on the courthouse lawn at 2:00 p.m., continues through a barbecue supper in Coke County Park at 5:00 p.m., and closes with the night's production of Ole Coke County, beginning at 8:00 P.M. COKE COUNTY HISTORICAL COMMISSION is sponsoring the fun at the Courthouse; Robert Lee Stamp Club will sponsor the First Day Cancellation activities, with Bronte's first day cancellation having been Friday, the day before.

Please save at least one day of the four productions free so you won't miss the show.

WCCCD elects new board

West Coke County Community Development met for its monthly meeting Monday evening, June 5, at the county courthouse. Leading issue before the organization was the tallying of the votes for the 4 new board positions. According to ballots by the WCCCD members, Joe Brazier, D'Ann Eubanks, Bob Wrinkle, and Robert Wink were elected to the panel for two years. Remaining on the governing board for another year are Randy Bessent, Richard Johnson, Edna Havins, and Joan Davis. Outgoing board members who have served for two years are Cookie Burns, Elane Francis, Leta Caston, and Joe Grigg.

Another important item on the agenda was the decision to move the meeting night of the West Coke County Community Development to the fourth Monday of each month due to other conflicting local meetings. Since the centennial celebration (July 22) and the Labor Day Extravaganza (Sept. 4) are coming up soon, the WCCCD will meet again this month on June 26.

Membership in the organization are due by July 1. They have been reduced for the new year; single memberships will be $10, $15 for a couple, and businesses may join for $20. Everyone is urged to support community activities and betterment with participation as members.

The group supports other projects in the immediate area and voted to run an ad in the Ole Coke County Pageant program. In discussing more activities for youth, some urged the public to support the Grants in their individual efforts with the downtown Steer Arcade in Robert Lee by buying food from them. Immediate aid for the Boy Scout Hut in the form of ceiling fans and various repairs was allotted.

Nola Miller was present as a representative for she and Nell Kennedy. The pair have offered to print copies of a community calendar around the first of each month to better inform residents of West Coke County of local meetings and activities. Organizations and individuals who have dates to enter on such a calendar should call Nola Miller at the Water Outlet or Nell Kennedy at Olney Savings & Loan before the 25th of each month.

Board members urged citizens to keep the community alive and active by joining the WCCCD and attend the fourth Monday monthly meeting on JUNE 26.

Wilkes honored as top volunteer leader

Two leaders from the West Central Texas area were among volunteers honored June 7 in the Salute to Excellence program at the 1989 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University.

Debbie Wilkes of Silver and Edward Meier of Stonewall were recognized as the top adult volunteer leaders in the West Central District of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organizations.

Board to require well drilling permits

The Coke County Underground Water Conservation District Board of Directors recently adopted a set of Rules and Regulations for the district. About 80% of these adopted rules are already mandated by state law. The other 20% primarily concern prevention of pollution of the groundwater and to require a permit for transportation of water out of the district.

The rule that affects landowners immediately requires a permit prior to the drilling of a water well. The reason for this requirement is as follows: 1. Obtain the location of all newly drilled wells, 2. Obtain and have on file in the district office a completed well log of the new well and 3. Collect a water sample to determine water quality in the new well.

The above actions are not being done to do anything to the landowners who want to drill a well. It is being done to develop resource information on groundwater in the district, to monitor water quality and to help prevent pollution of the groundwater.

A $50.00 deposit is required for a water well permit. When a completed well log is returned to the district office, the deposit will be returned to the landowner.

Those people who need water well permit applications can pick one up at the district office. Or the following people can be contacted about water well permits: Arch Mathers, J. D. Harmon, Fred H. McCabe, Jr., Royce Stowe, Otis Smith, or Eph Cummins.

NOTICES

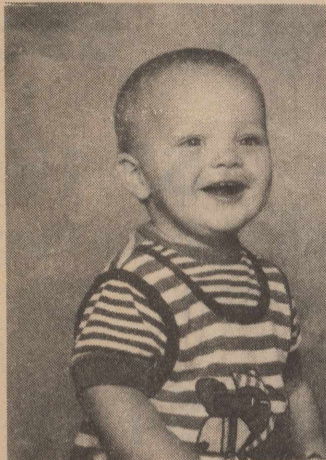

FATHER'S DAY is nearly here and I've got the perfect gift for my Grandad this year.

So with a little help from my Mom and Dad,

Together we placed this newspaper ad so I could say in a very big way I love you and Happy Father's Day.

Love,
Cody

FATHER'S DAY is drawing near and I don't know what to get my Daddy this year.

Another ugly tie just won't do

No soap-on-a-rope or cologne he won't use.

And since I'm only one, I'm not old enough yet for a practical joke he'll never forget.

So instead, I'll just say I love you for all the wonderful things you do. And most of all - for being you.

- Big enough for all to see yet coming from little Cody.

When the Freezer Fails

As the season for bad weather is at hand, it is time to think about the consequences of power outages. You can use candles when the lights go out, and batteries for the radio; but what can you do about the food in your freezer.

The first thing you do is find out how long it will be out. If it is anything less than a day or two, don't worry.

Freezers are well insulated and each item of frozen food acts as a block of ice that keeps surrounding food cool. A well stocked freezer should stay frozen two days. A half-stocked freezer should last a day.

As long as the freezer is not running it should be kept closed as much as possible. Each time you open the door, warm air rushes in, reducing the freezer's effectiveness.

If the power will be off for a few days, you should try to divide up the food among your friends' freezers or possibly rent space in a commercial freezer or cold storage plant.

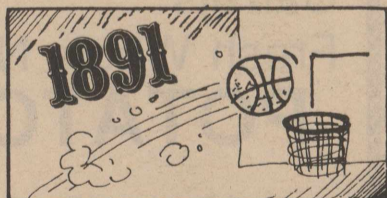

In case of emergency try putting dry ice in your freezer, with caution. Dry ice should never be touched with your hands because it freezes everything it touches and you could sustain burns.

If you use dry ice, put a layer of cardboard over the freezer items and put the ice on top of that. This should keep your food cold for a few days.

When the power returns, the food should be checked carefully. You may safely refreeze meat or poultry that still contains crystals. If the meat and poultry are only cool feeling, you should cook them immediately. Throw out any food that has even a slightly unusual color or odor.

When the storm season is here, arm yourself with knowledge and common sense. You and your food may last longer.

The first official basketball game was played in 1891.

Jeff Waldrop, Bronte calf and goat roper, receives the World Championship Goat Roping Buckle from San Angelo Stock Show officials. Waldrop is the only repeat winner of the roping, which is now in its fifth year.

The rain-delayed finals of the goat roping were held Sunday afternoon after several inches of rain postponed the finals.

Saturday night's rodeo competition, which featured ten county teams including Coke County, was canceled due to the storm and entry fees were refunded.

DPS apps available now

Applications for TEXAS STATE TROOPERS are now being accepted for the next trooper-trainee school, scheduled to begin on September 12, 1989.

"Our field recruitment personnel are informing interested persons about the professional and dependable nature of this state agency," according to Colonel Joe Milner, DPS Director. "The DPS has a national reputation of excellence in law enforcement, and we're looking for people who are good enough to help us maintain this tradition."

More than 100 applicants will be accepted for the 22-week trooper education program at the DPS Academy in Austin. A major part of the Department's recruiting goal is minority and female hiring.

"We earnestly seek qualified minority persons for employment with the DPS," Colonel Milner pointed out. "And, as in the past, we will do our best to start the recruit class with at least 40 percent minority enrollment."

Milner also indicated that his agency offers competitive salaries. "The Texas Legislature recently authorized a five percent increase in salaries for state employees, including the commissioned and non-commissioned personnel of the DPS. This action will increase the pay for trooper-trainees to $1,622 per month.

The DPS Director also had a few comments regarding the commissioned ranks.

"Our troopers have many opportunities to advance in responsibilities and rank. And we make every effort to make sure that our officers have equal promotional opportunities."

The deadline for submitting an application for the next trooper-trainee school is Friday, July 28, 1989. Colonel Milner requested that interested persons contact the local state trooper during the business hours of Monday through Friday for additional information.

Mrs. Armando Sanchez

Moore, Sanchez marry

Mitzi Lee Moore and Armando Sanchez were united in marriage in a candlelight double-ring ceremony Saturday, April 22, 1989 at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Lubbock, Texas. The Reverend George Estes officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore of Quanah, Texas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanchez Sr. of Robert Lee.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, designed and made her formal length gown of double faced satin and imported Alencon lace. Features of the gown were a fitted bodice and long sleeves with lace appliques accented with pearl beads. The full skirt and cathedral train were trimmed in lace and beads. The back of the dress was accented with a flounce and bow. The bride also designed a cathedral length veil of bridal illusion which drifted from a satin bow and silk roses. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis orchids.

Nancy Schilling of Lubbock was Matron of Honor. She wore a tea-length dress of red moire taffeta featuring a fitted bodice, full skirt and satin bow tied at the back waist.

Bridesmaids were Karen Burgett of Lubbock and Gia Wright of Irving, Tx. They were dressed identically to the Matron of Honor. They all carried bouquets of red Gerber daisies and ti leaves.

The bride wore her mother's double strand of pearls for something old to represent her heritage. She designed and made a blue satin garter with an Alencon lace ruffle accented with pearl beads which represents faith. She borrowed her bridesmaid's pearl and diamond earrings for friendliness and her dress completed the tradition as something new to represent her new life. She kept a silver dollar, a gift from her father, in her shoe for luck and prosperity.

The flower girl was the bride's neice, Robyn Roberts of Quanah. She wore a red moire taffeta dress with a full skirt and bow tied at the back waist that was trimmed in white lace. Robyn carried a basket of red and white flowers and wore a wreath of flowers and greenery in her hair.

Monty Williams of Bryant, Arkansas, served as best man. Robert Sanchez Jr. of Midland, Texas, and Mike Sanchez of Lubbock, brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

John Sanchez, nephew of the groom, carried a white satin heart pillow as ring bearer.

Ushers were Scott Ryan of Lubbock, Danny Melcher of Oklahoma City, Ok. and David Caves of Irving, Texas.

Traditional wedding music was presented. My Only Love, The Greatest Gift and The Lord's Prayer were sang during the ceremony by Amy Assiter of Lubbock.

Presiding over the wedding book was Karisa Bybee of Lubbock.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The three-tiered heart-shaped cake was decorated with red roses and topped with a porcelain bride and groom. The groom's chocolate cake was a double heart decorated with chocolate roses. Punch and cake were served by Karisa Bybee, Demetric Fields of Lorenzo, Dena Gamble of Slaton, and Lisa Sanchez of Robert Lee, sister of the groom.

The couple took a honeymoon trip for a week to Cancun, Mexico. The will reside in Lubbock where the groom is a sales representative for Gene Messer Ford and the bride is a high school science teacher in Lorenzo.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at Leal's Restaurant in Lubbock.

Lady golfers win

With 30 teams entered June 6 in Snyder's Low Ball Golf Tournament, Katie Campbell and Sue Caudle, of Bronte, tied two other teams with 62 for low net, and won on a card playoff in the Championship Flight. They received gold pumpjack charms.
