Accident results in fatality on Oak Creek

A tragic boating accident that took the life of an 11-year-old Lubbock boy cast a pall over the unofficial heralding of summer activities on the Memorial Day weekend at Oak Creek Lake.

Christopher Lee Grizzell died as a result of injuries sustained while on a holiday with his family. According to Coke County Sheriff's Deputy Jeff Barnes who investigated the accident, the boy was apparently being pulled on a tube at 12:30 pm Sunday when he fell off. The boat was occupied by his father and stepmother, Larry and Diane Grizzell, and their two daughters, Amy and Sara, 2 and 7 years old, all of Lubbock. While maneuvering close to the boy, the borrowed boat was accidently slipped into reverse. The prop struck the boy's left leg and he was lodged beneath the boat. Panicked, the couple were unable to retrieve him.

The Blackwell EMS personnel arrived on the scene quickly and dislodged the victim. He was revived with CPR and rushed to Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater. Deputy Barnes stated that the boy's leg was almost severed and due to the cut femoral artery, his condition required 7 pints of blood. He was transferred to Humana Hospital in Abilene where he died during surgery.

Barnes said in another acci-

Barnes said in another accident at the lake about 6:45 pm on Sunday, the Blackwell EMS transported a man to the Sweetwater hospital. While diving at Rocky Point, the victim slipped, dived short, and fell to the rocks below, receiving a broken arm, ribs, and gashed his upper body.

No traffic accidents occured during the long weekend, reported Barnes.

Symptoms of heat stroke approaching, the mercury will rise along with the number of people enjoying outdoor activities. It is important for individuals to realize that over exertion in high temperature weather can often be the cause of heat exhaustion.

"Heat exhaustion results when the body fails to lose heat through radiation, convection or conduction. Factors such as drugs or high humidity can affect the body's ability to control heat," said Marlene Whitehead, R. N., Methodist Hospital's employee health manager.

With the summer months victim and fanning to enhance evaporation, or by applying ice packs to the neck, abdomen, groin or armpit area. Heat exhaustion often results in death, so it is important to seek medical assistance immediately.

Whitehead suggests prevention as the best medicine. "Individuals taking part in strenuous activity should drink more frequently than thirst dictates. Water is the best bet. The added sugar in glucose solutions, like Gatorade, slows gastric emptying which delays absorption of water into the body."

Keep in mind the following tips for staying cool this sum-

- Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothes and a hat when outdoors.
- Drink more water than it takes to satisfy thirst.

· Reduce alcohol consumption, which actually dehydrates the body.

Take cool baths and showers. Cool water removes body heat faster than cool air.

Seniors improve skiing abilities

By: Rachel Lopez and Lisa Sanchez

It was a warm afternoon in front of Robert Lee High School, while the seniors waited for the chartered bus.

The thrill overcame the seniors as it made its way down the road. They then loaded the bus and said their last goodbyes to their parents and friends. They rode on the bus for 15 hours until they reached their destination. It was quite a change since they were not used to cold weather, let alone snow. Their first stop was at a quaint little restaurant to eat breakfast and prepare them for their first day on the slopes. After they finished eating, they got back on the bus and continued on their journey. They arrived at Cascade Village at about 8:00 in the morning. They all went to their condominiums and got ready for their first day of skiing. Everyone was very excited about skiing. On the first day, everyone learned how to ski. Most of the day everyone stayed on the bunny slopes. They all had their share of falling. By the end of the day they were all tired and ready to retire for the day. During the first night, they all got together and watched movies and played poker. They finally all fell asleep after a long exhausting day.

On the days following, they all improved their skiing abilities. Some of them were even brave enough to ski the blacks (some by accident).

On the day they were going to leave, it started to snow again. They did not want to leave. Before they finally headed home, they stopped in Durango to eat lunch and shop. They again traveled for many hours. They made it home at about 7:00 Sunday morning.

The memories they had will linger in their minds forever. It was a trip they will never for-

Christie Payne

Vocational award noted

Christie Payne was recently awarded 3rd place female in the Education Service Center's Region XV Vocational Equity Program's "Nontraditional Student of the Year" contest. This is the first year for this type of contest to be held statewide for vocational education. Each of the 20 service centers in the State sent out nomination applications to all school districts offering vocational education programs. Students entering the contest had to be enrolled in a vocational program that was nontraditional to their gender. Top placing winners for Region XV, which covers 18 counties in central west Texas, are Gerald Jost, a junior from Wall High School, enrolled in Home Economics and Becky Kearney, a senior from Sterling City High School, enrolled in Agricultural Science Technology. Both Jost and Kearney will compete against 20 other male and female students across the State enrolled in vocational programs nontraditional to their gender. State winners will be honored at the Vocational Administrators and Supervisors Conference this July in Austin.

Christie entered this competition as a sophomore. All other entrants in the female portion of the contest were seniors. In this particular contest, many considerations are taken, not only in the vocation, but also participation in extra curricular activities, leadership in other fields, a short student interest statement, grade average, and a short comment by the teacher.

Academic honors listed

Rhapsody Weaver, Bronte Junior High School student and daughter of Robert and Rose Marie Weaver, will be honored for her academic achievement at a statewide ceremony on June 11, 1990 at Trinity University in San Antonio. The recognition ceremony is sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the seventh-graders from Texas who qualified in TIP's tenth annual Talent Search. All students invited to the ceremony have earned scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) comparable to college-bound high school seniors.

The students will receive certificates of distinction at the ceremony. The highest scorers will also receive scholarships and books.

TIP conducts recognition ceremonies in each of the 16 states it serves in the Southeast, Midwest, and Southwest. Over 55,000 mathematically and verbally gifted seventh graders are identified by this program each year. TIP offers additional educational opportunities for gifted students in seventh through tenth grades.

TIP is a non-profit educational organization established in 1980 with a five-year grant from The Duke Endowment. The program receives continuing support from student fees, individuals, corporations, and foundations.

Don't you think the world's two biggest problems are ignorance and apathy? I don't know and I don't care.

Carlton to survey ag producers

Although some of us may have trouble getting from "here" to "there", Annie Carlton of Norton has no problem finding her way as she travels the back country roads with only a stock tank or windmill as a landmark. In fact, the less travelled highways and byways of Texas provide many of the short cuts Carlton needs as part of her job as a field enumerator with the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service.

Beginning June 1, Carlton will once again fill up the gas tank and log many travel miles, as she begins interviewing farmers and ranchers in Coke County for a national agricultural survey. 1990 may be the year to count people, but Carlton is going to be busy counting livestock and collecting data on crop acres.

"Information gathered on this confidential survey will be used to make state and national estimates of crop acres, livestock inventories and grain stocks, information that is vitally important to the producers in Coke County," Carlton noted.

"These estimates are a working tool farmers and ranchers can use in their production, marketing and investment decisions and are the only unbiased information source available," state statistician Dennis Findley reported.

Survey information will be extremely important this year in measuring crop and livestock losses from the severe flooding across north and east Texas.

Field enumerators provide a basic link in the data collection service of the Texas office, since they are the primary personal contact Texas producers have with the agency. Currently, there are over 100 field enumerators working on farm and ranch surveys across the state.

Most of the enumerators have an agricultural background and are familiar with the many day-to-day problems facing Texas producers. "Like the farmers and ranchers they are interviewing, our enumerators also deal with low prices and severe weather conditions at harvest and mother cows that wait until 3:00 am to calve," Findley added.

The June Agricultural Survey is the largest of a series of surveys conducted throughout the year by the Texas office. The random sample of producers selected for this survey represent a broad cross-section of Texas agriculture, and producers selected for this survey represent other operators of similar size and type.

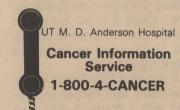

"Our field enumerators will be putting in some long hours during the next two weeks," Findley reported, "but their hard work is the only way to provide Texas producers with accurate, reliable agricultural information."

We, the unwilling, led by the unknowing are doing the impossible for the ungrateful.

2000 with Implications for Curriculum Development in Agricultural Education was selected as the outstanding dissertation of 1989 by the society. The paper will go on to compete nationally.

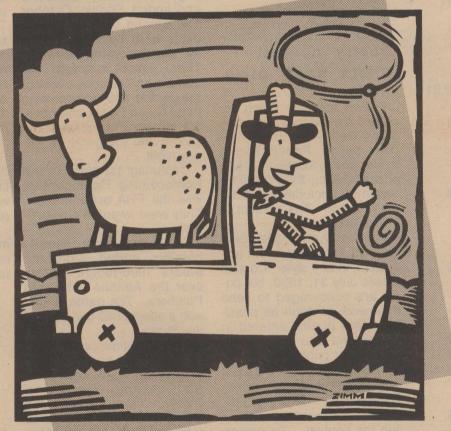

Varnadore earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Texas A&M University and his Ed.D. from the University of Georgia. He worked as an extension agent in Jackson County from 1979 to 1982. He has supervised the University's Meat Plant since 1985.

Varnadore is the son of Edna Russell of Robert Lee and W. K. Varnadore of Ruidosa, NM. His wife, Betty, a Robert Lee native, is the daughter of A. V. Hughes and the late Daisy Hughes. RL Homecoming memories noted

By: Warren Brasher and Wes Horn

The Homecoming festivities began on Monday, October 8 and ended Friday, October 13. During the week, students were busily preparing for the upcoming events. These events included: the bon fire on Thursday evening, the parade and Homecoming pep rally on Friday afternoon, the general decoration of the school and the game on Friday night.

Capturing 1st place in the Homecoming Float contest was the FHA organization. They were awarded a prize of $20.

On Friday night, Homecoming ended with the Steers' hard-fought victory over the Abilene Christian Panthers. The game ended with a score of 20-0 in favor of the Steers.

At the half-time ceremonies, Rickie Wheat and Shannon Skipworth were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. Jon Rogers and Tiffany Jameson were also given the titles of Mr. and Mrs. RLHS.

So, all in all, the 1989 Steer Homecoming was a success!

If you've taken draperies or curtains for cleaning only to have them returned with small tears or streaks, chances are sunlight or rain have taken their toll.

Sunlight, yes. But rain? It happens all the time! A window gets left open and rain blows through onto the drapery. Once it dries, brown or yellow stains from the chemical sizing used to finish the fabric may appear.

If condensation forms inside a window and comes in contact with a drape, it may also cause stains and sizing streaks. In some cases, sizing streaks can be removed by dry cleaning, but not always. It depends on the age of the stain and the fabric.

To remove a water mark, the drapery must be wet-cleaned, rather than dry cleaned. But wet cleaning can't be used successfully on all fabrics.

Sun is also a common culprit in drapery damage. Most textile fibers are weakened by exposure to strong sunlight. The fibers most vulnerable to sunlight damage are delustered (dulled) rayon, acetate, nylon, cotton, silk and wool. Heavy yarns are more sun-resistant than fine yarns. Acrylic, modacrylic, polyester, nylon and glass fibers are the most sunlight resistant fibers. By selecting a fiber blend in drapery fabric, you can get both the texture and look you want along with higher sunresistance.

Since dark colors absorb more light, they will deteriorate more rapidly. On printed fabrics, the damage will be greater in the colored areas than in the white or light areas.

The fiber damage usually occurs along the folds of the drape on the exposed side. Sometimes the damage won't be apparent until the fabric is cleaned and the weakened yarns break and fall apart in the process.

After carpeting, drapes are the next biggest investment in household textiles. So it can pay to think through your selections.

Points to consider:

Invest in lined drapes. Most drapery liners are sun resistant and their light color helps reflect light. Generally, unlined drapes will last three years and lined drapes five.

· Look for sun-resistant fabrics or blends containing sunresistant fabrics.

 Protect drapes with low sunresistance by also installing blinds or other sun blockers on the window.

· Rubberized backing on drapes insulates and reflects light, but may be difficult to clean without damage to the backing.

· If you are buying a preowned home, ask that the draperies be cleaned and if the result is not acceptable, negotiate for a drapery allowance to replace them.

Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppresses calorie absorption
SWEDEN--Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight-loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional difatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a formula to lower cholesterol. In a controlled study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen" in patients who received the formula formula.

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits". One patient in this study lost more than 30 pounds.

According to one informed source, According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption.

A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Shorter tax form assists business

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday it is now easier to start a small business in Texas with a new, shortened sales tax application

"We have cut the red tape to get a sales tax permit for people starting their own business," Bullock said. "It's hard enough to start a new business without having to worry about a lot of unnecessary paper work."

The new sales tax application form for a business with a sole owner has been reduced to a single sheet of paper.

Nearly half of the 95,000 sales tax permits issued last year were for sole owners going into business for the first time who could use the new short form.

Bullock said the new form will be a boon for both small business and for the state. It will reduce time and errors for new taxpayers and cut processing time for the Comptroller's Office.

"Time is money for business," Bullock said.

The new forms are available at Comptroller offices throughout the state or by calling toll free at 1-800-252-5555.

Avoid "miracle" cures

The sudden appearance and disappearance of arthritis symptoms make the disease a ready target for so-called miracle cures and quack products. During National Arthritis Month in May, Texas Medical Association urges arthritis sufferers to avoid these unproven methods and consult their physician for treatment.

'Because the common forms of arthritis represent diseases of antiquity, we should not be surprised that they're surrounded by myths and misconceptions," said TMA member Jerry C. Daniels, M. D., Ph.D., professor and director of the Division of Rheumatology with the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

Americans spend an estimated $10 billion each year in search of relief. The most common remedies sought are special diets and nutritional supplements. Advertisements also promote relief through use of dimethyl sulfoxide, magnetic bandages, vibrators, or other gadgets. Despite glowing testimonials, the relief may be only a result of the sudden disappearance of symptoms. People who suffer from arthritis pain and stiffness should be wary of these treatments, which are unproven and may be unsafe.

Instead, arthritis sufferers should consult a physician for ways to relieve pain and stop joint damage. Although no cures have yet been found, promising research is underway, says TMA. Arthritis, often incorrectly called "rheumatism," actually refers to more than 100 different conditions involving inflammation of the joints. In adults the most common forms are osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis.

Osteoarthritis often is a painful condition that develops in the hips, knees and spine. Many people also have osteoarthritis in their fingers, which may give the hands a gnarled appearance.

A more descriptive term for osteoarthritis is degenerative joint disease because wear and tear on the inside surface of the joint frequently is a cause. Heredity and excessive weight are other contributing factors.

Rheumatoid arthritis is a more serious condition usually affecting the smaller joints - knuckles, toe joints, wrists, knees, ankles and neck. Sometimes it is associated with inflammation of other body systems, including the heart and lungs.

In this disorder, the thin membrane surrounding the joint becomes inflamed and swollen. In severe cases, deformed joints collapse and become distorted. If the neck is involved, paralysis or even death may result, although this is rare.

In both common forms of arthritis, high-dose aspirin frequently is an effective initial medication, although a physician may prescribe a newer anti-inflammatory pain medication, or occasionally a steroid injection. Physical therapy, heat treatments, a balance of exercise and rest, and swimming in a heated pool also may be helpful.

Surgery sometimes is necessary to remove an inflamed joint membrane or replace a severely damaged joint with an artificial one. No matter how severe your symptoms, TMA urges you to consult your physician for proper treatment.

Texas Medical The Association is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physicians and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 117 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents more than 80% of the state's physicians, and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of its members.

Air bags, seat belts save lives

Each year, our nation celebrates Buckle Up America! Week over the Memorial Day holiday, the traditional start of summer travel. This public awareness week, May 21-28, 1990, is designed to raise the nation's consciousness about the benefits of safety belt use -- and for good reason.

Traffic crashes are the number one killer for those between the ages of one and 34. In 1988 alone, more than 47,000 people were killed on our nation's highways. And more than half of the American people continue to ride in cars without the protection of a safety belt. These statistics are frightening, but there IS good news.

Since 1983, it is estimated that safety belts have saved more than 15,000 lives. And in September of 1989, car manufacturers were required to equip all new cars with automatic crash protection -- air bags or automatic safety belts.

As more and more air bags and automatic belts go into use, their life-saving benefits will become increasingly evident. Most people are familiar with how safety belts work, even the new ones that move into position automatically. But how an air bag works is a mystery to some people.

Air bags are a proven safety technology with an impressive reliability and performance record. They are installed in the steering wheel hub on the driver side and in the dashboard on the passinger side. In a frontal crash, a sensor is triggered that deploys and inflates a fabric cushion in the blink of an eye, and then the bag begins to deflate in less than one second. Air bags are only effective in frontal crashes. They are not designed to provide protection for side and rear impacts or rollovers. So, for maximum protection in all crashes, front seat occupants need the added benefit of a safety belt. Together, air bags and safety belts form the "winning combination" that offers you the best available safety protection.

Ag inventory estimates begin

Beginning June 1, representatives from the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state to help set the 1990 planted acreage estimates and midyear livestock inventories.

State Statistician Dennis Findley emphasized that information from these surveys will help producers adjust their production and marketing plans for 1990. "Good marketing requires good information and advanced planning. Information from these surveys will provide Texas producers with solid facts and figures they can use when making their marketing plans."

"There are many uncertainties facing agriculture," Findley added, "and accurate, reliable figures will give producers a chance to make sound production and marketing decisions during the coming year."

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted by telephone or in person by field enumerators, will be published later this summer. The 1990 planted acreage report will be released June 28 and the U.S. cattle inventory will be released July 27.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. Individual reports will be combined with other reports to state estimates.

"Remember, these are sample surveys so if you are contacted it is important to provide the requested information, since your one report represents similar operations of the same size and type. Our estimates can be no better than the numbers producers provide," Findley added.

6 feet wide and any length, depending on the material and space available.

The simplest composting method is to alternate 4 to 6 inch layers of plant matter, such as leaves or grass, with 2 to 4 inches of good garden soil. Add manure to the soil layer if it's available, and sprinkle commercial fertilizer on each layer of plant material to hasten decomposition. Use a cupful of fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio per 10 square feet.

The top layer of the compost pile should be soil and should form a basin to hold water. Water each layer of organic matter before adding the soil layer.

Water the pile thoroughly when completed; then add water as needed to keep the material moist but not soggy. Leaves decompose slower if left too dry.

Turn compost every three to four monthes to aerate the material and decomposition. Within six months to a year, it will be ready for use, and you'll be glad you saved those grass clippings.

Pleasure driving input sought

Where would you take visitors to show off the scenic, historical, and recreational features of West Texas?

That's the question the highway department is asking Texans who live in West Texas Rolling Plains region, as part of a new national tourism plan to encourage pleasure driving. On Wednesday, June 6, in Abilene, the highway department will seek public input about pleasure-driving routes in the wide area.

Don Clark, director of the highway department's Travel and Information Division, explained that pleasure drives can include elements of scenery, recreation, and history. "Other states will be charting their own leisure drives as part of a tourism plan filtering down from Congress and the Federal Highway Administration. We need grassroots ideas for Texas routes,"

Abilene was selected as the meeting site based on the excellent support given the Texas Forts Trail several years ago. "That support was by far the greatest received on any of the Travel Trails charted through 10 areas of Texas," Clark said.

The Abilene meeting is one of 10 such sessions in different regions of the state through July. It will convene at 9 am in the meeting room of the Royal Inn, 5695 S. First Street. Tourism authorities and interested citizens are invited to attend the free, informal public forum June 6.
