Road bond issue defeated

A county-wide road bond election held Tuesday, November 27, in Coke County was soundly defeated by a total of 327-205 votes. Only 532 voters went to the polls in a dismal turnout; registered eligible voters number 2,226. The issue was turned down in every voting precinct. The bond election, if passed, would have authorized county commissioners to issue bonds in the amount of $970,000. and to levy taxes in payment of same for 10 years, to repair and seal-coat all county roads and streets. Almost 11 years have elapsed since the last extensive seal-coating project.

Former New Mexico Governor Bruce King was elected for a third separate term last week with 54% of the voters' support. He was returned to office after a busy, active campaign which included a train trip across New Mexico with a strong entourage of other state Democrats aboard. King, 66, of Stanley, New Mexico, was aided in his campaign by his hard-working wife, Alice.

Governor King is the son of the late Will King, a Coke County pioneer, and is a nephew of Dave King and Lillie Gaines, both of Robert Lee, and R. B. King of San Angelo. Local cousins include Alene Key, Lorraine Brooks, and Willie Eads.

Gary King, the governor's son, is also in politics. David King, 44, son of Sam King, is also following the family's political lead. He was elected state treasurer in a landslide victory after serving as a state employee for some time. He is governor-elect Bruce King's nephew.

COUNTRY AGENTS NEWS

by Tommy Antilley
Coke County Agent

We have been fortunate enough this year to have grown a tremendous amount of grass and forage for livestock consumption, but once grass has stopped growing and loses its lush green appearance, it begins to get course and fibrous. We still have the abundant amount of forage out there, but it loses much of its protein content and becomes harder for livestock to digest.

Animals consuming diets that are lower in protein lose their appetites, develop a rough appearance, become weak and possess lowered resistance to disease, and overall growth, reproduction and weights of offspring are greatly reduced. There is a misconception that the animals can simply eat more to make up the needed nutrients, but since the grass is slowly digested, consumption is actually lowered and the animal receives even less nutrients.

If protein supplementation is added to this type of diet, the digestion will increase, and eventually the animal will eat more, thus gaining the required nutrients.

Protein supplements come in many forms and types, such as cubes, cakes, blocks, and liquids. Each will vary in nutrient composition and concentration and the producer should be aware of the actual protein content. When comparing the price of feeds, figure the price by the pound of actual protein gained, and often this will point out that some of the so-called "bargain feeds" are actually more expensive for what you actually get from them.

The way livestock are handled during the winter will have an influence on her offspring's future and next year's offspring as well. If cows are allowed to calf in poor and thin condition, the odds of her maintaining a 12 month calving interval are greatly reduced. Also, milking ability and the level of lactation the animal will have at parturition is influenced by their nutritional status from 6-8 weeks before calving or lambing. A female with lowered nutritional availability at this time will cause her to start milking poorly and more than likely stay that way. Another good point to remember is that although supplemental feed is expensive, it is cheaper to maintain weight than to try to put it back on at a later date next spring.

Seminar aids businesses

Over thirteen local businesses of Robert Lee welcomed Harlan Bruha of the Angelo State University - Small Business Development Center, (ASU-SBDC), Monday, Nov. 19th, at the courthouse. The seminar was organized by the Business Development Task Force of the West Coke County Community Development. The group of over twenty participants seemed encouraged and pleased with the meeting.

The SBDC was established early this year to help entrepreneurs in a wide county region with tasks ranging from business start-up to market analysis to strategic planning. The team of business professionals helps small businesses get started and expand through these programs: 1) counseling services; 2) Management & Technical Assistance; 3) Training Seminars; 4) Business Resource Information; and 5) Community Support Network Services. The ASU-SBDC is a partner in the South Texas-Border SBDC Network. Funding is provided by Angelo State University and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Birthday luncheon honors Faye Scott

Mrs. Faye Scott of Bronte was honored with a "Surprise Birthday Luncheon" celebrating her 80th birthday Sunday, November 18, in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Dorothy and Noah Pruitt, Jr. of Bronte. Also hosting the celebration were her sons and daughters-in-law, Ken and Linda Scott of Odessa and James and Bette Scott of Roscoe.

Faye Irene Mitchell, fourth child of John Weaver and Natalie Higginbotham Mitchell, early day pioneers, was born November 17, 1910 in Bronte, has been a local resident since birth with exception of one year when her husband, James Walter Scott, deceased, and children lived in Oregon and Washington working in defense plants during World War II.

A lovely luncheon consisting of soup and salads and a huge birthday cake was enjoyed by some 40 guests present.

Other people attending were: Joe, Norma, and Brian Allbright, Brad, Barrett, and Allison Hinsley of Odessa, Marla, Jennifer, and Travis Muncy and friend of Roscoe, Becky and Christa Byrom, Gatesville, Mickey Scott, Vida Hill, and Imala Lee of San Angelo, Beatrice Collins, Johnny Beavers, Leatha Wrinkle, Odella Coalson, Lizzie Hester, Clyde and Ruth White, Joe Ed and Wilma Scott, Dwain and Bernice Pruitt, Steve and Brenda Hines, and Cecil Coalson, all of Bronte.

Her brother, Weaver J. Mitchell of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Garland Good of Stephenville called during the celebration. A money tree, gifts and many cards were showered upon the honoree including beautiful flowers from Ben and Maurice Scott Jones of Milwaukie, Oregon.

Colonel Bruha extended the invitation to all citizens present and also to those who could not attend this seminar, to call the ASU-SBDC at (915) 942-2098 for an appointment for a one-on-one consultation to determine your business needs. Additional sessions can be scheduled as needed until you have accomplished your goal. He stressed that the Business Assistance/Counseling is provided at no charge. He will even come to your place of business for this consultation to save you the time of travelling to San Angelo.

The ASU-SBDC also provides training seminars and workshops specially designed to meet the educational needs of current and prospective entrepreneurs. A small registration fee is normally required for seminars and workshops. Additional information regarding their scheduled programming may be obtained by calling (915) 942-2098.

Abby illustrates government forms

In a recent Dear Abby column, she defines the various forms of governments with the following illustrations:

Communism: You have two cows. The government takes both of them and gives you part of the milk.

Socialism: You have two cows. The government takes one and gives it to your neighbor.

Fascism: You have two cows. The government takes both cows and sells you the milk.

Nazism: You have two cows. The government takes both cows, then shoots you.

Bureaucracy: You have two cows. The government takes both of them, shoots one, milks the other, then pours the milk down the drain.

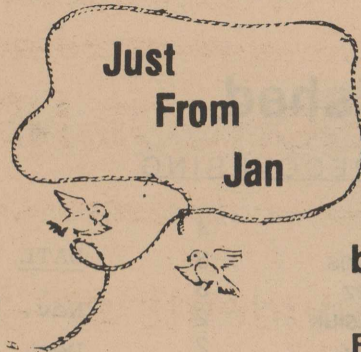

Capitalism: You have two cows. You sell one of them and buy a bull.

Democracy: Everyone has two cows, then a vote is taken and whatever the majority decides to do, you do, and that's no bull!

Holiday snacks have to be selected from a variety of fruits, vegetables, starches and proteins for diabetics and people on calorie-restricted diets, says Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a registered dietitian and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Good nutrition involves eating the right foods which places you in control of your health. No one food can supply all the nutrients your body needs to stay healthy and that's particularly important because diabetes interferes with the way the body uses food. This makes diet one of the cornerstones of diabetes management. Too many carbohydrates, starches, and sugars are bad for diabetics because their bodies don't produce enough insulin to counteract the effects of these types of food.

Healthy diets are high in complex carbohydrates which come in two forms: Simple carbohydrates or sugars (cakes, pastries, and candy, for example), which tend to raise blood-glucose levels very high and rather quickly, and often provide little nutrition and no fiber; and complex carbohydrates (vegetables, dried beans and peas, brown rice, and whole grain flours,

by Jan Yanez
Coke County
Extension Agent

breads, and cereals, for example), which tend to raise blood glucose gradually over a longer period of time, and contain a variety of vitamins and minerals as well as fiber.

The American Diabetes Association stresses that good nutrition also means limiting fat and cholesterol from foods such as gravies, sauces, dressings, fatty meats, and fried foods, as well as eggs and some dairy products. Fat and cholesterol have been linked to atherosclerosis (fatty build-up inside blood vessel walls), and can contribute to heart disease and stroke. Some people may be encouraged to limit salt as well.

Jan Yanez, Coke County Extension agent (home economics), can provide some diabetic resources to help you select foods within your meal plan that will also be good, healthy treats during this holiday season.

One suggestion for diabetics is to eat fresh fruits or unsweetened canned fruits. A baked apple sweetened with artificial sweetener, cinnamon and dietetic lemon-lime soft drink makes a festive dessert.

"Another holiday treat - pumpkin custard - can be made of un-sweetened cooked pumpkin combined with artificial sweetener, cinnamon, ginger and saccharin. This baked custard would be counted as one half slice bread," according to the agent.

Plain or dietetic gelatins can be prepared with or without fruits for many desserts. Try combining plain gelatin with low-calorie cranberry juice, artificial sweetener and orange rind. Pour into orange shells and refrigerate. If fruit is added to the gelatin, count the fruit as the fruit exchange for that meal.

"Many diabetics are unaware that they can eat regular ice cream - in limited amounts - in place of a slice of bread and two fat exchanges.

"Avoid diabetic candy and ice cream because they may be high in fat, contain other forms of nutritive sweeteners such as sorbitol and xylitol and may be very expensive. Also, the labels may be confusing," Yanez said.

If diabetic ice creams are used, they must be calculated into the diet. Ask your dietitian to tell you the proper exchanges for each type of ice cream. For example, 1/2 cup of regular ice cream could be substituted for one starch/bread and two fat exchanges or servings. One-half cup servings of the following dairy desserts contain the following calories:

- 1/2 cup vanilla ice milk (4%) 92 calories
- 1/2 cup vanilla ice cream (16% fat) 175 calories
- 1/2 cup vanilla ice cream (10% fat) 135 calories
- 1/2 cup soft serve ice cream 181 calories
- 1/2 cup dietetic ice cream 90 calories

Dietetic soft drinks are allowed and can be used to flavor desserts or even in baking a candied holiday ham, she said.

Steer stats published by Bill Burns

The Steers lost their final game of the season, Friday night a week ago, by a score of 39-7. The Steers were never really in the game as Rotan scored on their 1st possession. Lenny Jackson was able to score for the Steers with 1:12 left in the game and Randy Watkins kicked the extra point.

The Steers are losing ten seniors off of this team due to graduation. They are Ron McCown, Lenny Jackson, Stevie Oleksiuk, Jody Tavarez, Robert Rodriguez, Brent McPeek, Randy Watkins, Brent Gibbs, Francisco Saucedo, and Jeff Wilkes. These young men planned to win a lot more games this year, and worked hard to obtain their goals. Although things did not turn out the way they intended, they are still winners in life because they have dedication and the will to succeed. Good Luck, Seniors.

Sparks presents '64 SC program

The '64 Study Club, TFWC, of Robert Lee, met in the Coke County Recreation Center November 13, with 47 members and guests attending. President Opal Jacoby greeted the guests, and called on Robert Vaughan to give the opening prayer.

An informative program was given with slides and explanations by John D. Sparks, a lieutenant in the Rio Concho Multi-Agency Drug Task Force stationed in San Angelo. He explained how the Drug Task Force of Coke and neighboring counties work together.

Other officers present who participate actively in striving to rid our area of drugs by arresting illegal drug dealers were: Jerry Gibbs, an agent with the Rio Concho Multi-Agency Drug Task Force stationed in Ballinger; Sparks Burdett, Robert Lee, Game Warden for Texas Parks and Wildlife; Roy Blair, DPS Trooper, Robert Lee; Coke County Sheriff Marshall Millican, Robert Lee; Coke County Deputy Sheriff Jeff Barnes, Robert Lee; and Coke County Deputy Sheriff Wayne McCutchen, Bronte. They were introduced by Mrs. Jacoby who commended them for the good job they are doing for the counties represented.

A question and answer period followed the program.

Attractive Thanksgiving decorations added to the enjoyment of the delicious catered meal.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to Texans. Our customers trust gas and take comfort in the impressive safety record we've compiled. By following a few simple rules, you can help keep that record intact.

Always have qualified service people install and maintain all gas appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation and operation. And always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.

Natural gas itself is odorless. Its strong smell is added for your protection. If you ever smell gas in your home, follow these rules: 1 Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark. 2 Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation. 3 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to: 1 Put in a new fence. 2 Install an underground sprinkler system. 3 Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office. If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

Our safety record proves that when you follow these simple guidelines, you and your family can stay safe and sound with natural gas. Energy you can trust.

Don't Compromise.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On July 19, 1990, GTE Southwest Incorporated ("GTE-SW") filed revisions to the company's tariff pertaining to the features and associated equipment for providing emergency number services (9-1-1).

In this filing, GTE-SW proposes to modify its existing 9-1-1 tariff and to add more than 200 new service offerings. The new items of service and equipment in this application have been added to meet the company's increasing 9-1-1 customer demands and to allow GTE-SW to compete more effectively in the 9-1-1 equipment market.

The product line in the new offerings consists of a mini-computer and specialized console package for larger communities, as well as a personal computer with Automatic Number Identification (ANI) display for smaller communities. (ANI displays a caller's telephone number on the emergency dispatcher's computer screen.) In addition, the product line will include ANI and Automatic Location Information (ALI) display units compatible with, and similar to, those offered by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and other local exchange carriers in Texas. (The ALI feature displays a caller's address on the computer screen.) The rate charged existing 9-1-1 customers may be revised at the expiration of their contracts with GTE-SW if the proposed tariff is approved.

This filing has been assigned Docket No 9667. The hearing on the merits is scheduled for February 25, 1991, at the offices of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The deadline to intervene in this docket is December 31, 1990.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas, 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Bronte Enterprise -- November, 1950

FROM THE BRONTE ENTERPRISE, NOVEMBER 17, 1950 NEW CLINIC COMPLETED AND OPENED TO PUBLIC THIS WEEK

The new John Harris Clinic, adjacent to the Karen-Gayl Hospital, is now open. Dr. John R. Harris, owner of the clinic, saw his first patients in the new building Wednesday.

The clinic is composed of four rooms, in addition to a bathroom and numerous closets.

Main reason for the expansion, Dr. Harris said, was the crowded conditions which existed in the hospital.

The clinic is furnished with the latest in office and hospital furniture. A large amount of new laboratory equipment has been purchased, also.

Dr. Harris, who has been in Bronte for more than three years, has the Karen-Gayl Hospital leased.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Edward Cumbie shipped six registered Hereford heifers to Chester, West Virginia Monday. The heifers went to W. V. Olson, who operates a Hereford ranch at Chester. The West Virginia ranch has been showing their cattle and receiving top prices for them.

Clarence Webb of Tennyson is planning on using Brahma cattle to stock his new ranch near Shep. He will take possession of the ranch after New Year. Joel Webb will operate the ranch for his father. S. L. Bacon of Abilene sold the ranch to the Webbs. It consists of three sections.

Small grains are withering and dying in some places in this area, farmers and stockmen say. The wheat, oats, etc. need rain in the worst way if they are to provide any winter pasture. If it doesn't rain soon "we'll see lots of feeding this winter," one ranchman said.

WTU awards dinner held

Sixty-two employees were honored Thursday, November 15, for service to West Texas Utilities Co. and its customers during the company's annual service and safety awards dinner for the San Angelo district, the San Angelo and Oak Creek power stations held at the San Angelo Convention Center.

This is one of eight dinners the electric utility will hold throughout its 52,000 square mile service area.

Mike Moran, vice president, engineering and production company, made the presentations to the honorees.

To enhance the flavor and spreadability of butter allow it to stand for 15 to 20 minutes at room temperature before serving.

Correspondence desired

Dear Editor:

I am writing in hopes you may be able to assist me in my search to find a friend or friends to correspond with. I have no family, and the so-called friends I had prior to being incarcerated turned out to be just fair weather friends. It seems to most, out of sight truly is out of mind.

Since my incarceration I've come to realize how important it is to have communication with those in society, and I don't have anyone writing or visiting me. I'm alone and I've been forgotten and that hurts more than you can know. It is so important to know someone in the free world knows you exist and cares.

I am a 38 year old male in the

Brazil teenager seeks host family

Cristina Barbosa is a 16 year old girl from Brazil who would like to spend the next six months studying at a Texas high school, while living with an American family.

Cristina lives with her mother, step-father and 11 year old sister in the city of Sao Paulo. Her father and her step-mother also live in Sao Paulo so she sees them often. Her mother is Italian so Cristina speaks Italian quite well. She has also studied English for six years.

In her free time, Cristina practices gymnastics, reads, visits museums, swims and listens to music. She loves children and intends to become a pediatrician. Both of Cristina's parents were exchange students in the U. S. and now she wants to learn about the American lifestyle while improving her English at the same time.

The American Institute for Foreign Study is sponsoring Cristina and would like to find her a host family in Texas. Cristina will come with her own spending money and will be covered by medical insurance. The family would receive a $50 per month deduction from their income tax when they file their return.

In addition, AIFS will award the host family a scholarship worth up to $800 which may be used by a member of the family towards the cost of any AIFS program for study or travel abroad.

Any family who would like to be considered as a possible host family for Cristina or another student may contact Pamela Williams-Rowe at (512) 699-9024 or Susan Whitaker at (800) 322-4678.

Indiana Department of Corrections. I am 6', 200 lbs., with brown hair and green eyes and I'm of French and Indian descent. Prior to incarceration, I participated in a variety of activities such as dancing, swimming, horseback riding, and photography. Now I spend the majority of my time furthering my education and bodybuilding. I am currently working on two associates degrees: one in welding and one in industrial maintenance.

If you would publish my letter in your paper, hopefully it would catch the interest or attention of someone, anyone, who has known the pain of loneliness I live with constantly, and is willing to extend this friendship in correspondence, as I reach out. This is my only hope of reaching out and I promise to promptly answer anyone and everyone who cares enough to respond to my plea.

I realize I have made mistakes, but I realize my mistakes and have corrected them to the best of my ability under my present adverse circumstances. I hope my being incarcerated will not prevent you from showing compassion and helping as I reach out.

I want to thank you for your time. I sincerely appreciate any and all consideration and assistance you are willing to extend.

Sincerely yours,
