Court approves 911 emergency system

The Coke County Commissioners Court approved on Monday, August 10, 1992, the debated 911 emergency system.

A sizable crowd attended the meeting, most in support of the system. Both West Coke County and East Coke County nursing homes will have a dispatching center for response to the emergency medical groups, fire departments, and the Sheriff's office.

The proposal will now go to the Concho Valley Council of Governments; in turn it will go to the state agency for funding. On January 1, 1993, a fifty cent charge per month will be made to every Coke County telephone, to go toward the cost. The Council of Governments is hopeful the 911 system can be implemented within six months of the January 1, date or by mid-year 1993. More work and planning is forthcoming.

Remainder of the meeting was taken by budget planning, approval of bills, Senior Center contracts for service and food, van driver regulation, and other miscellaneous business.

Wells remedy seepage in courthouse

According to former county auditor Weldon Fikes, water has seeped into the basement of the courthouse during and since its original construction in varying degrees. Unusually rainy weather during the past year has made it obvious that steps would have to be taken to find some kind of remedy.

The basement not only is the storage area for valuable records but contains all electrical controls for the building. Danger exists when switching controls on and off while standing in accumulated water.

After consulting various sources of information, county commissioners, under advisement of White Buffalo Environmental Service, Inc. in San Angelo, drilled three water test wells. The well on the north, midway of the building, was dry. Well #2 at the northwest corner of the courthouse produced about five gallons per minute while well #3 at the southwest corner gauged seven gallons a minute. A pump was put on the last well, hoping to pump it away from the building's basement. The water, first thought to be a spring, is slightly "hard" and is thought to be sheet water.

For the last week, the well water has been directed away from the structure onto the trees and grass. Later, if the water table holds up, it could possibly be used in the cooling tower.

At presstime Wednesday morning, the northwest well had weakened, apparently being pulled by the southwest well. The basement seepage has slowed and at present the outcome of the operation appears successful.

Coke County Commissioners recently granted a contract for drilling three water wells in an attempt to locate sheet water and prevent courthouse basement seepage.

Extravaganza activities

Two new features will be added to the annual Labor Day Extravaganza on Saturday, September 5, 1992. The West Coke County Community Development group will bring the Rabbit Twister BBQ and Chili Cook-Off and the Old Fiddlers' Contest to town. Both are real crowd pleasers and will be outdoors at the park, under the shade trees, in Robert Lee. Also in the park will be the food booths, the Washer Pitching, and the Beach Volleyball Tournament.

For the first year since the Extravaganza began, the Arts and Crafts booths will be in the air-conditioned Rec Hall adjoining the park.

An all day affair, booths will close at 5:00 pm with clean-up by 6:00 pm to make room for Prairie Fire for the 8:00 pm dance. Most of the band members are Robert Lee natives.

Make plans now to spend Saturday, September 5, with the West Coke County Community Development in the park. Bring lawn chairs, blankets, and eat with vendors in the park. Enjoy the Arts and Crafts, and the contests. Visit Robert Lee's businesses while in town and make a day of it.

Supper will be served under the shade trees on the west wing patio at 6:00 pm. The Coke County Cavaliers will play for the dance at 7:00 pm on the patio. All of this will take place on Tuesday, August 18, 1992 at the West Coke County Nursing Home.

Dear Editor

Once again it is time to renew my subscription for your weekly paper. I'm always pleased to keep in touch with my life-time friends there.

I find life about the same here in Fort Collins, Colorado, except the emphasis placed on the return of the Sunbirds from Arizona and the growing number of people arriving from California looking for homes where there are less earthquakes.

Also the city, being concerned with the pollution problem, has taken measures for improvements. For one day a week, people have been asked to stop using their cars, if possible. Many churches have cooperated by conducting environmental forums. Many people are walking to services, using their bicycles, or forming car pools.

I surely miss the clean air of a small town and the neighborly little town of Robert Lee. Give everybody my love.

Sincerely,
 Pauline Thyfault

Aging funding decreases

The FY 1993 appropriation numbers passed by the House of Representatives for aging related programs did not fare well, being reduced an average of one percent from FY 1992 or a total of $8.2 million. Funding for the White House Conference on Aging was eliminated. This appropriation level is due to the lack of reauthorization of the Older Americans Act. The Act is still held up in the Senate due to an unrelated amendment put on by Sen. John McCain (R-AZ) regarding the Social Security earnings test. Therefore a lack of a reauthorized Older Americans Act has caused a real loss of program dollars for Older Americans Act programs

In other programs in the House bill, the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Programs were reduced by $609 million or 57 percent. However, National Institute on Aging programs increased roughly $18.6 million, a 4.9 percent increase from the previous year. This was largely due to the intense lobbying done by advocates for research programs on Capitol Hill.

The Senate appropriations committee is expected to act very soon on their version of the FY 1993 appropriations.

The National Association of Area Agencies on Aging are seeking support for these older American programs by contacting your Senators and asking them to move immediately and vote for increases in appropriations. Aid could come from advisory councils, service providers, and other advocates by drawing their attention and support.

BRONTE SCHOOL NEWS

Band camp termed exciting, productive

August 3 - 7 1992 will go down in Bronte High School history as one of the most exciting and productive band camps ever! The band students showed a lot of pride and dedication as they went outside in 90 degree heat and, under the of Mr. Tomes, pieced together the halftime show football fans will be enjoying this year.

During the first two days, basic marching drill and instrumental performance were emphasized. The last three days were geared toward using the basic marching drill and instrumental techniques in piecing together the halftime show.

On Friday, the band members elected the following as officers: President, Amy Bailey; Vice-President, Casey Thorn; Secretary, Wendy Huckabee; Treasurer, Amy Allen; 8th grade Rep. Amy Harrell; 9th grade Rep. Cody Holland; 10th grade Rep. Brent Taylor; 11th grade Rep. Edwin Thomas; 12th grade Rep. Gina Chambliss and Nathan Barnett; this years band librarian will be Lynn Sonnenberg.

The Drum Majors for the 1992-93 school year are Christy McKinney and Jamie Sullivan. Because of their willingness to do the job, their positive attitude, and their proven leadership, marching and instrumental abilities, these two young ladies were selected for this position.

Mr. Tomes would like to commend the band students for their hard work and dedication during band camp week. Their excitement and hard work will make this year's Longhorn Band one of the best ever.

Mr. Tomes and the band students expressed appreciation to the Band Boosters for all of their support and the great time they had at the swimming party after the last day of band camp.

Controlling pond weeds

With warm weather, weeds are not only growing in yards and fields but also in stock ponds.

Some weeds or green vegetation is necessary for oxygen formation vital to fish survival, but an overabundance of weeds makes the tank impossible to fish or swim in.

There are three types of vegetation problems in farm ponds. These are algae, submerged weeds and emerged weeds.

Algae can be controlled with algacides that are supplied directly to the water.

More common ones include copper sulfate (bluestone) and Cutrine Plus. Copper sulfate rates are .5 to three pounds per acre foot of water, while Cutrine Plus calls for 60 pounds per acre or .6 gallons per acre foot of water.

Both of these are safe for livestock water.

Also, Hydrothol 191 can be used, but no fishing, livestock or domestic water use can be utilized for three months. Rates for hydrothol range from 3-11 pounds per acre for granular and .6 to 2.2 pints per acre foot for liquid.

Emerged weeds such as cattails, waterlily or arrowhead leaf can be effectively controlled with Rodeo (glyphosate) and diquat if livestock are using the water.

Water treated with Rodeo has no restrictions while that treated with diquat has a 10-14 day restriction on use.

Rodeo is used at 3 quarts per acre in 100 gallons of water applied.

Submerged plants such as watermilfoil (moss), pondweed and bladderwort can be treated with diquat, endothal or Aquakleen (2,4-D).

Diquat has a 7-25 day restriction and Aquakleen has no restriction for use by beef animals but cannot be used for dairy animals.

For additional information on weed control in ponds contact the County Extension Office. Reference to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is implied.

The five children of James & Rebecca Ritchey were present. Two of the Ritchey brothers who are now deceased, had children present as well. Ed and Minnie Ritchey and 2 of their 4 children also attended, along with several other members of the Ritchey family.

There was a lot of picture taking, visiting, games played, and lots of good eating going on as usual. On Saturday evening the family had a dance with a live band to play and sing. Everyone had a lot of fun.

There were family members present from several states, Alabama, California, Oklahoma, Arizona, and Texas.

Descendants of the late Dave and Ida Bell Hughes were the largest group of family members attending the reunion this year.

Ronald and Sandy Hughes of Pleasanton, TX. came by for a visit with his mother and father, Fred and Ona Hughes. The four of them spent some time in Glen Rose, on Thursday of last week.

It has not been decided at this time as to where or when the 1993 reunion will be held. However, this year's reunion was a big success and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Drink water to help diet

Everyone knows that water is good for you, but recent studies have shown that drinking plenty of water may actually help you lose weight. According to Tracey Norman, R.D., outpatient dietitian at Methodist Hospital, water naturally suppresses the appetite and helps the body metabolize stored fat. "Drinking about eight 8 ounce glasses of water each day can actually help reduce fat deposits," said Norman.

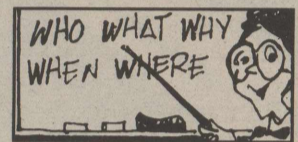

Here's why: the kidneys don't work properly without enough water, and when they don't work to their capacity some of their load is taken on by the liver. One of the liver's primary functions is to metabolize stored fat. But, if the liver has to do some of the kidney's work, it can't operate fully and as a result, metabolizes less fat. So, more fat is stored throughout the body.

The study also revealed that drinking plenty of water has a converse effect on water retention - drinking plenty of water actually helps guard against fluid retention. "When the body gets less water than it needs, it perceives it as a threat and begins to retain it," said Norman. "So, the best way to overcome the problem of water retention is to give your body what it needs - plenty of water." Drinking water also helps rid the body of excess salt, which is another major contributor to water retention.

Some other benefits of drinking water include better muscle and skin tone and improved irregularity.

The average person needs to drink about two quarts (eight 8-ounce glasses) of water each day. Water intake should be increased during exercise, or in hot, dry weather. Overweight people should drink an additional 8 ounces of water for every 25 pounds of excess weight.

The letter "W" is the 19th most frequently used in printed English.

ROBERT LEE SCHOOL NEWS

Lori Wink, (l to r) Heather Millican, Carlene Bewick, Elaine Gibbs, and Shanon Parks make up the 1992-93 Robert Lee High School Cheerleader Squad.

Varsity cheerleaders attend ETSU camp

The Robert Lee Varsity Cheerleading Squad recently attended a cheerleading camp at East Texas State University in Commerce.

The camp was conducted by cheerleaders who represented the Universal Cheerleading Association. At the four-day camp, the Steer Squad mastered numerous crowd involvement cheers, chants, and sideline yells.

Daily evaluations rewarded the RLHS cheerleaders with eight superior ribbons. Along with the ribbons, the squad received the spirit stick each day, which allowed the group to bring it home. The highlight of their camp stay was the presentation of the superior trophy for their outstanding spirit and achievements.

Sponsored by Mrs. Sheri Millican, the RLHS Cheerleaders are as follows: Elaine Gibbs, Jr. (Head); Carlene Bewick, Sr.; Lori Wink, Sr.; Shanon Parks, Jr.; and Heather Millican, Fr.

The five girls are full of enthusiasm, and are anticipating a great year for the Steers. They would like to encourage all fans to catch the Steer Spirit and help the cheerleaders back the team to victory.

SHANNON HEALTH NOTES

Just One Sunburn...

Do you think a suntan makes your child look healthy? You're not alone. Most parents surveyed think so, despite clear evidence that even one sunburn in childhood increases the risk for skin cancer later in life.

Researchers at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston wrote, in Archives of Dermatology (5-92), only about half of the parents questioned had been using sunscreen lotions on their children, and use of sunscreens tended to come after the child has previously experienced painful sunburns.

Dr. Lurleen Maducdoc and her colleagues say even children not susceptible to painful sunburns need protection from the sun, since they receive three times more damaging ultraviolet-type B radiation than adults.

The report is not trying to prevent fun in the sun, rather, it wants to remind parents there is no such thing as a healthy tan.

Measles cases confirmed

The measles outbreak in South Texas is a close example of a disease that is affecting many lives. People around the state should take precautions, and be immunized.

This year alone, more than 600 confirmed measles cases have been reported in over 20 counties in South Texas, primarily in Hidalgo County. Recently, an 18-month-old, unimmunized child, died of suspected measles. The Public Health Region 3 communicable disease staff of the Texas Department of Health is currently monitoring measles cases in the region and providing vaccine to all Public Health Clinics.

According to Charles Mallory, Program Manager for the Communicable Disease Programs for Region 3, "Even though no measles cases have been reported in the region this season, it is still very important for your children and young adults to be immunized against measles. Measles is not just a disease of young school children, in fact, more than one third of all cases occur in people of 15 years of age and older. "Anyone having questions regarding immunizations should call the local Public Health Region 3 field office clinic, county health department, or your private doctor for information.

People catch measles by breathing the measles virus that an infected person spreads by coughing, sneezing or simply talking. It takes from 10 to 14 days for a person to begin to show the symptoms of measles: high fever, rash, runny nose, watery eyes, or cough.

Babies and adults who catch the measles are often much sicker and are more likely to suffer longer than elementary school children and teenagers with measles.

Measles is often a severe disease, with frequent complications such as middle ear infection, or, more rarely, convulsions, hearing loss, and mental retardation. In the United States, 1 child out of every 500 to 10,000 who gets measles dies.

Public Health Region 3 recommends that infants and children be immunized at 15 months of age, and again at 4 to 6 (before entering school). Children will receive a combination vaccine, MMR (Measles, Mumps, Rubella).

Adults born after 1957 who have not had the live measles virus vaccine on or after their first birthday, had a case of measles diagnosed by a doctor, or had a blood test for measles, should be immunized.

For more information, contact Charles Mallory, PHR 3 Communicable Disease Program Manager at (915) 774-6200.

Lifestyle affects dieters

You race out of the house in the morning grabbing an éclair for breakfast to make it to work on time. Because you don't have time for a sit-down lunch, you opt for a burger and fries to eat on the run. Then, in lieu of time constraints, for dinner you pick up a prepared, greasy chicken.

Sound familiar? The fast paced lifestyle so many of us lead can challenge our weight loss efforts. However, identifying our "patterns" or lifestyle rhythms can assist us in trimming our waistlines. Here are examples of different patterns and how to deal with them:

Busybody- if you like your life filled to the brim, try taking a few minutes the night before or wake up earlier to plan the day's meals and prepare a healthy brown-bag breakfast and lunch to be eaten in the car. A bagel, muffin, cheese sandwich and fruit are all good take-along items.

Layed-back-time spent reading, watching television or talking on the phone can often cause us to reach for high-calorie foods without thinking. Try creating non food related alternative activities which can be performed during leisure times. For example, work on a jigsaw puzzle while visiting on the phone or reorganizing the photo album while watching television. Use your imagination!

Not living in the present- constantly dwelling on and feeling guilty about past overeating binges doesn't accomplish anything. Neither does worrying incessantly about future events. While it's natural to glance back at unhealthy eating habits, the purpose should be learning from our mistakes. And instead of worrying about tomorrow, try planning for it.

For more weight-loss information, contact your local Weight Watchers center, or call 1-800-359-3131.

Burning CRP Fields

The winter season will be here before we know it, and it is time to begin thinking about prescribed burning in CRP fields. If you have not thought about burning your 3 to 6 year old CRP, consider these advantages: a reduction in the population of predators and varmints; a reduction in the chance for uncontrolled wildfire; benefits to quail and deer; and invigoration of grass.

Several years after establishment, most CRP fields develop dense mats of old dry grass. This accumulation of dry grass provides an ideal home for critters like skunks, coyotes, and wild housecats and poses an increased threat of wildfire. This same buildup of several years grass growth limits habitat quality for quail, who need sparse vegetation to walk through, and deer, who eat small weeds.

Finally, range grasses developed under a fire and grazing ecology. If excessive dead top growth is not removed periodically, it will choke and severely weaken the grass stand.

FmHA now accepting apps

The Farmers Home Administration is now accepting applications for the financing of homes in rural areas for low income applicants in Tom Green, Coke, Sterling, Irion, and Reagan Counties. Applicants must be unable to obtain a loan from other sources on terms and conditions that they can reasonably be expected to meet; have sufficient income to pay house payments, insurance premiums, taxes and necessary living expenses; and have an acceptable credit history.

FmHA finances homes that are modest in size, design and cost. They must be located in rural areas to include open county and towns and cities of a population of 10,000 or less. Financing is normally for 33 years, and the present interest rate is 8.25%. Interest credit assistance is available for eligible applicants.

Interested persons should contact the FmHA office at 915-655-5518 or come by the San Angelo FmHA office at 3514 Devonian Dr., Suite B, in the USDA Office Building.

Breast cancer clinic set

The Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Bronte, Monday, August 31, 1992, at the Bronte Senior Center. Call 473-6471 for information or to make an appointment.

According to the American Cancer Society, one of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent ten year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer, even before it can be felt.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of the disease.) Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are as follows:

- 1) 35-40 years of age- One baseline mammogram.
- 2) 40-50 years of age- A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 3) 50 years of age and over- An annual physician examination and annual mammogram.
- 4) Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.
- 5) A symptomatic women should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $70. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard, & American Express. Now accepting Medicaid and Medicare.

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATES

1992 Property Tax Rates in

ROBERT LEE I.S.D., BRONTE I.S.D., COKE COUNTY EDUCATION DISTRICT

This notice concerns 1992 property tax rates for the above jurisdictions. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.
