Chamber honors outstanding citizens

Once again a large number of friends and families gathered to honor outstanding citizens of Bronte. The 1993 Chamber of Commerce Awards banquet hosted by the board of directors, has been determined a success. The Community Center was decorated in bright primary colors last Saturday evening and a delicious meal of barbecue brisket with all the trimmings was served by the Shed crew from Wingate. Chamber of Commerce chairman Mike Hartman acted as master of ceremony for the evening.

Highlight of the program was revealing the name of 1993 Citizen of the Year. This year's recipient was Elmer Hurley. Mr. Hurley, owner and pharmacist of Hurley's Pharmacy, is well known for his devotion to all mankind, his dedication to making this community a better place to live, and supporting organizations and charities.

Also receiving resounding acclaim was Jerita Taylor when announced she was the recipient of 1993 Educator of the Year award. Named Outstanding Boy and Girl Students were Nathan Barnett, son of Ray and Brenda Barnett, and Jami Morrow, daughter of Jim and Mary Morrow.

Eleven Lifetime Achievement Award certificates were presented to outstanding citizens that have given freely of their time and talents over the years to serve the community. Acknowledgment went to Wanda Barbee, Pauline Blair, Jean and Royce Fancher, Dora Gallaway, Mary Frances Glenn, J. T. Henry, Elmer and Janet Hurley, Snookye Landers, Joe Rawlings, Roy Robinson, and Bill Thomas.

Musical entertainment for the evening was rendered by Bryan James, a country/western musician. Accompanying himself on guitar he sang original songs and all time favorites to the enjoyment of the audience.

The drawing for door prizes donated by local businesses brought forward happy winners.

Outgoing chamber directors were presented plaques for their three years of service. Appreciation was acknowledged by Paul Williams to Mike Hartman, Pat Martindale, and Jolene Barrett.

New directors were introduced and will serve for three years. They are Donna Hall, Cynthia Robinson, and Pam Shaffer. Remaining on the board are: Marty Boyd, Martin DeLaGarza, Shirley Denton, Pat Oglesby, Ronnie Sims, and Paul Williams.

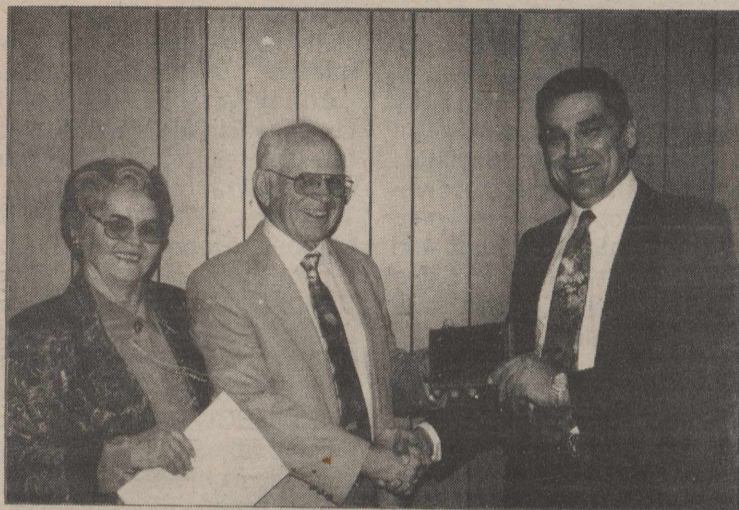

The Chamber directors expressed their appreciation to everyone for their support.

Stop Spending First

A statewide campaign to contact Texas politicians with a "Stop Spending 1st" message has been initiated by voters. The public has been urged to put those 3 words on a postcard and mail to one or all of the following:
Senator Phil Gramm
Russell Building
Washington, D. C. 20510

Senator Bob Krueger
Hart Building

Elmer Hurley receives "Citizen of the Year" plaque from Mike Hartman, Chamber of Commerce chairman. Elmer's wife, Janet, stands by his side.

Candidates slow in filing

Candidates have been slow to file for vacancies on taxing entity governing panels for May 1 elections.

City secretary Edna Havins reported that one candidate, Manuel Abalos, filed to place his name on the ballot for one of the three Robert Lee city council seats. Candidates must file by March 17 at 5 pm.

One candidate, Olene Sims, has returned the 25 signature petition necessary to file for the West Coke County Hospital District board of directors. Two vacancies exist on that panel. The filing deadline is March 17 at 5 pm.

The superintendent's office reported Wednesday morning that no one has filed for the Robert Lee ISD's board of trustees where two positions will be available. That filing deadline is also March 17.

East Coke County Hospital District board of directors has two candidate slots that are open. Jane Cumbie and R.W. Blackmon have filed for re-election for those vacancies. Incumbents are Eddie Alexander, Le Drew Arrott and Pat Oglesby. Candidates have until March 17 to file for these positions.

Steers almost pull it off!

Steers, you almost pulled it off. It was a heartbreaker but we were so proud! The battle was against a number of odds and it could have gone either way until the bitter end.

Eula (28-1) defeated the Steers in a heart-stopping game which involved two full overtimes, and some hard luck, by an 88-85 final buzzer. The Eula team had been state ranked most of the season and were virtually unbeaten but almost met their match in Abilene High's gym last Friday night in the Bi-District playoff game.

Warming up, Robert Lee suffered their first blow when Dean Burns landed wrong and thought he had pulled a muscle. His pain increased and he was unable to play at all. After returning to Robert Lee after the game, his pain continued and he was taken to San Angelo by his family where it was discovered he had cracked his hip. He will be on crutches for 6 weeks.

John Williams was the big gun for the Steers, scoring 27 points while being kept busy on defense, too. Joe Blair played tough and got 16. The Hood boys (freshmen) had 13 apiece, followed by Lee McCown with 9 points and a zillion rebounds. Jackson was everywhere and scored 5 and John Fluhmann added a critical 2. It was a fast-paced, high scoring game while still being a defensive contest.

McCown and Jackson were lost to fouls late in the 4th quarter and the Steers called on some help from the bench and they did an admirable job. If one factor spelled the defeat, it probably would be the Eula team's deadly skill at the free throw line.

Upcoming

WCCCD sanctions projects

In general monthly session last Monday evening, members of the West Coke County Community Development sanctioned several issues. The meeting was attended by the largest number since last summer and were enthusiastic about the planned Downtown Project. Members voted to go forward with labor and funds for cleaning and fixing up two downtown blocks, later hoping to concentrate on other areas. Planter boxes, and, perhaps flags, may be added to enhance the appearance of downtown.

Several individuals and organizations may donate to the project at a later date. A workday will be set soon for initial work.

The organization will again sponsor the Westland Amusement carnival to be held downtown April 12-17. Members will be selling advance tickets at a considerable discount for rides.

The quarterly Adopt-A-Highway trash pickup for the group's 2 mile responsibility will be held on Tuesday afternoon, March 9 at 5:15 pm. A participant in the project for

Bronte Scout Blue and Gold Banquet

On Thursday, Feb. 25, the Cub Scouts held their Blue and Gold Banquet at Central Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. The boys and their families ate barbecue hamburgers.

During the banquet the boys had their own Raingutter Regatta. Each of them had worked on their boats at home and brought them to race.

The Tiger Cubs racing were, Chase Williams, Richard Hoover, Cody Lee, Joseph Israel, and Brandon Hall. The Bobcats racing were Joel Webb, Cody Blaylock and Salvador Randazzo. The Wolves racing were Brandon Poehls, Joey Rhodes, and Steve Allen Eldred. Justin Herrold and Harley Hall were the Webelos racing. The Gold Medal winner was Joel Webb and second place went to Brandon Hall.

The Cub Scout leaders appreciate all the parents for their help in making the banquet and Raingutter Regatta a success.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In January, after receiving a notice of EMT classes, I enrolled with a "first aid refresher course" in mind. The fee was $60 for books (the instructor, guest speakers and assistants volunteered). Class schedule is each Monday and Thursday through April 29, followed by 3 evenings of exams for a total of 108 hours of classroom plus one Saturday.

Within 3 class days, I knew the West Coke County EMS was lacking in volunteers, so I decided I'd become certified. This requires 3 8-hour shifts at Shannon Hospital's Emergency Room and 3 emergency runs on the San Angelo Fire Department's ambulance, 9 hours of tests and the state examination.

If I pass all these requirements, resulting in certification, and if I serve ten twelve (12) hour shifts a month for four months on the WCC EMS ambulance, I'll be reimbursed for my books. The cost of my smock, name tag and minimum of 4 trips to San Angelo will be part of my expenses. Also I'll receive nothing monetary for any ambulance run I will make.

Then I attended the February monthly meeting of the volunteers. I learned how badly they need volunteers for all phases of the service. Also that most Wednesday and Saturday day time hours there is no ambulance service for lack of volunteers. Other shifts are sometimes doubtful.

So where does that leave us? As for me, hopefully I will be certified by June. For you? "Shedule" your accidents and illnesses on days other than Wednesday and Saturday!

An EMT Student

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to submit the enclosed article from our local paper, "The Coloradoan", which states that Governor Ann Richards of Texas challenges third-time Governor of New Mexico, Governor Bruce King, concerning the Chili Capital of the Southwest.

Now Governor Bruce King is the nephew of Dave King of Robert Lee. Come August 20-22, will Dave, a native Texan, and my life-long friend, decide that blood is thicker than chili and cast his vote for New Mexico?

Chile battle heating up between N. M. and Texas

Texas Gov. Ann Richards has told New Mexico to put its chile where its mouth is.

She formally has challenged the state, which touts itself as the chile capitol of the Southwest, to fight Texas chefs for the title.

"The only thing that stands between us and our rightful title is the willingness of New Mexico chile chefs to actually show up and fight," reads her official memorandum.

The duel takes place Aug. 20-22 at the Placita de Ysleta complex in El Paso. Richards is expected to attend. A spokesman for New Mexico Gov. Bruce King says he'll also try to make it.

"We are certainly ready to do battle with Texas on this issue," King spokesman John McKean says. "We think the chiles are stacked in our favor. New Mexico has the best growing conditions, the best water, the most astute agriculturalists. We're a center for chile research. "And we know how to spell."

New Mexicans spell the chile pepper with an "e" at the end. Many Texans spell it chili.

There's more than just pride at stake in the fight. Chiles are a $3 billion industry. Texas growers want to dispel the notion that New Mexico is the center of the market.

New Mexico claims it is the chile capitol because of the volume of peppers grown. New Mexicans harvested about 30,000 acres of chiles last year. Texas doesn't keep track of chile acreage, but its chileheads say the Lone Star State grows more varieties of peppers - and knows more tasty ways to use them.

The El Paso festival, which is expected to attract around 100 chefs and their chile dishes, allegedly will decide bragging rights once and for all. It is organized by area civic and agricultural groups. A portion of its proceeds will go to Unite El Paso, a civic empowerment group.

HEALTH NOTES

Cataract Risk

Depletion of the earth's upper ozone layer increases exposure to ultraviolet radiation from the sun, and while that depletion needs urgent action, some of the possible consequences of it are not as clear. The American Academy of Ophthalmology says studies link ultraviolet-b light with the formation of cataracts, but it may take decades to determine whether changes in the earth's ozone layer will have a measurable effect on the general population.

A study showed that fishermen on Chesapeake Bay had a high risk of forming cataracts, but they spent many years working on the water where reflected radiation from the sun is intense. The fishermen who wore sunglasses or a brimmed hat substantially reduced their risk of developing cataracts. Few of us get that much long-term exposure to ultraviolet-b radiation. More likely are sunburned eyes from just a day on the water or ski slope. That painful temporary burn to the eye can also be avoided by proper eye protection.

Personal

Wendy D. Lamar of Robert Lee, Texas, has been named to the President's List at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene for the fall semester. Students must attain a 4.00 on 12 or more hours of work to be listed on the President's List.

Thompson is guest speaker

Lynette Thompson of Abilene, on leave as a Baptist Missionary serving in Brutina-Faso, Africa, was the featured speaker of the monthly meeting of the Sorosis Study Club last Thursday night at First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Bronte. The club had extended invitations to ladies of the local area.

Mrs. Thompson showed slides of the work she and her husband, Marvin Thompson, a native of Bronte who also serves as a missionary, were involved in.

Her commentary was very interesting and informative for those who were in attendance.

Proceeding the program, the club hosted a tea. Punch and cookies were served from the table that was centered with an arrangement of daffodils grown and arranged by Mary Frances Glenn. Special hostesses included Jean Fancher, Mary Glenn and Ann Hamilton.

President Diane Luckett introduced the speaker.

Present were club members Frances Kemp, Margaret Martin, Pat Oglesby, Mildred Thomason, Nelda Thomason, Dorthey Pruitt, Fancher, Mary Glenn, Hamilton, Luckett, and Mary Frances Glenn.

Bronte students prep for UIL contests

Bronte students are busy getting ready for their District University Interscholastic League Contest. Junior High School will compete March 26, at Robert Lee and high school will compete March 30, and April 1 at Baird.

High school students may enter events such as Prose and Poetry interpretation, Debate, Ready Writing, Calculator, Number Sense, Mathematics, Current Events, Keyboarding, Informative and Persuasive speaking, Spelling, Science, Literary Criticism, Journalism, and Accounting.

Junior high events are Ready Writing, Spelling, Impromptu Speaking, Oral Reading, Maps, Graphs, and Charts, Listening Skills, Modern Oratory, Calculator, Number Sense, Science, and Dictionary Skills.

February 20, Math and Science students attended the Lakeview Invitational meet in San Angelo. The results have not been sent out due to a computer technicality. Those students attending were: Casey Thorn, Walter King, Wendy Huckabee, Edwin Thomas, Laura Stevens, Fel-cia Beam, Joy King, Angie Shults, and Scott Graves. Sponsors for the trip were: Lloyd Walker and Ben Ham-bright.

February 27, the full U. I. L. participants traveled to Robert Lee for a day of competitive practice. Students attending were: Walter King, Edwin Thomas, Casey Thorn, Brent Taylor, and Laura Thomas in high school and junior high was represented by Shea Kelton, Felicia Beam, Laura Stevens, Joy King, Angie Shults, Michael Martinez, Scott Graves, Miranda Scott, Shaunna Tinney, Amy Harrell, Misti Kirby, David Wison, Lana Balderas, and Mandy Shipman. Everyone gained valuable experience for working toward the District contest.

For high school Edwin Thomas placed 7th in Mathematics. Walter King placed 4th overall in Science and 3rd in Chemistry and 6th in Biology.

In junior high Lana Balderas placed 2nd in 7th grade Spelling, Miranda Scott placed 4th. in 7th grade Listening Skills. Angie Shults placed 6th. in 7th grade Life Science and Felicia Beam placed 7th. in 8th grade Earth Science.

Sponsors for the day were Sarah Logan, Ben Hambright, and Jerita Taylor.

Bronte Senior Arts and Crafts

Seventeen were present, with one visitor, at the Bronte Senior Arts and Crafts Show. Opal Marks was the guest of Effie Corley for the quilting at the Senior Center Thursday, Feb. 18.

Virginia Boatright was hostess for the occasion. Her quilt pattern was beautiful, having Colonial girls with colorful skirts, ruffles of lace, and ribbons on their bonnets.

Dora Galloway won the door prize given by Ruth Hageman. A short business meeting was conducted by Mary Percifull, who gave a financial report.

A delicious potluck meal was served at noon.

The quilt was finished by 4 pm making a total of 46 quilts, over a period of 4 years. Eleven quilts were for special purposes, four were for donations to the Senior Center, 3 were for West Texas Rehab, one for the Nursing Home, 3 for special gifts and 35 for individual members. Many of the quilts were displayed downtown (Olde Bronte) in December for the past three years.

The group was organized early in 1988, with Zada Denman as chairman; in 1990 Pearl Mae Andrews was chairman; for 1993 Dora Galloway will serve as chairman.

New quilters are always welcome!

Bronte Senior Center

Dear Editor:

The Concho Valley Council of Governments, Area Agency on Aging has requested that each Senior Center Operation provide some form of volunteer recognition to those who volunteer in the community to serve and help others. We here at the Bronte Senior Center know of many in the community who would fall under that umbrella.

April has been designated by the Area Agency on Aging as the month to honor these members of our community. Our volunteers here at the Center quilt each month and this past year, two of the quilts have been raffled and the contributions from these quilts go back into the Center's activity fund. They donate a quilt each year to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center for their January auction.

The purpose of this letter is to see if some of you might help us here at the Center to recognize these women. We have about 25 of them and since the Center belongs to the community and is funded in part by County funds, we thought it might be good if the community and some of its members help us honor this day.

If you would be interested in helping with this event, which has been set for Thursday, April 15th, please call us at the Center, 473-6471 or 473-2166. A committee of 4 or 5 people to plan this day would be appreciated. We need input from those of you in the community that don't come to the Center. We feel it is a vital part of our Bronte Community. Sincerely,
Mary Percifull
Director Bronte Senior Center
