Candidates for elections set as filing deadline passes

The filing deadline for Coke County city councils, school districts, hospital districts, and the Coke County Underground Water Conservation District candidates passed on Wednesday, March 17, for the May 1 elections.

Four candidates will appear on the City of Robert Lee's ballot for the city council for the three openings. Council members whose terms will expire are C. O. (Joe) Brazier, Sparks Burdett, and Beth Prather. Brazier and Burdett did not file for re-election. Joining Prather on the ballot are Manuel Abalos, Jeff Eubanks, and Garland Davis.

Write-in candidates for city offices must declare and file an application with the City Secretary before 5 pm, April 1. No write-in votes will be counted unless cast for a declared candidate.

Two vacancies exist on the West Coke County Hospital District board of directors. Panel members Joy Bagwell and Kenneth Green chose not to re-enter the race. Declared candidates are Olene Sims, Elaine Lee, and Mary Bessent.

The May 1 election will fill two positions on the board of directors for the Coke County Underground Water Conservation District. Expiring are the terms of Fred H. McCabe, Jr. in Precinct 3 and R. S. (Bud) Johnson of Precinct 4. One director will be elected from each of the above precincts. McCabe and Johnson, the incumbents, are the lone candidates for those positions.

Candidates for the Robert Lee ISD board of trustees include Kim Hodge, incumbent Bill Burns, Steve Whiteker, and Mark Riley. They will vie for the two places on the governing panel. The term of Burns and an opening created by an earlier resignation are up for grabs.

HOUSE FIRES

Three-fourths of all deaths related to fire in this country are from house fires. House fire deaths in Baltimore were analyzed by researchers at John Hopkins Injury Prevention Center to determine important contributing factors and possible preventative measures. Researcher Susan Baker says of the fifty-five deaths in house fires in Baltimore during a three-year period, more than half resulted from fires blamed on smoldering cigarettes.

Even more tragic is that thirty-nine percent of the people who died in fires blamed on smoking were not cigarette smokers. Nationally, smoldering cigarettes are also the leading ignition source of house fires. Ways to make cigarettes less likely to ignite a fire are being tested in order to comply with a 1990 federal law. That law requires development of a standard test to determine the propensity of cigarettes to ignite fires.

The students were accompanied by their classroom teachers.

BRONTE SCHOOL NEWS

Math-A-Thon students raise $3,000

Bronte Elementary students completed the St. Jude's Research Hospital Math-A-Thon this past week with very successful results. The Math-A-Thon provided a fun way for the students to improve their math skills, while at the same time raising money for research and treatments of sick children with cancer, sickle cell anemia, and other catastrophic childhood diseases. "I have never seen a group of young children work as hard as these did to raise funds for such a good cause. They've learned how to help others that are less fortunate, and at the same time helped themselves. We are so proud of them," said Robbie Sanford, Bronte Elementary principal.

The following Bronte Students raised $3,049.74, and earned certificates, T-shirts, bags, and 15 calculators for the school:

RL Natives Find it's a Small World

This story comes in the "it's a small world" category. Al Baze was in the doctor's waiting room with one other patient. They chatted for awhile and Al mentioned that he grew up near San Angelo, in the small West Texas town of Robert Lee. The other fellow was surprised and told Al that he too, was raised in Robert Lee. When they introduced themselves, the man said his name was Paul Shropshire. Al reckoned as how he had known a family of Shropshires. However, the name 'Paul' didn't strike a chord with Al, but he did remember a Ford Shropshire. The other man said as a boy he went by his middle name, Ford.

It turned out that Al had picked up the young boy, Ford each day on his way to school. The Shropshires lived closer to town than the Bazes, so Al gave Ford a ride since he went right by, that was the neighborly thing to do back then. No wonder they didn't recognize one another.....that was back in 1928! Albert and Lois Baze now reside in Ft. Worth and recently celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary.

Personal

Irma Casey enjoyed a week's visit from a long time friend - Sophie Thomason of Woodland Park, CO. Together they visited other friends while she was here. She was a former resident of Robert Lee.

Euterpean Club

The Euterpean Club of Blackwell, celebrated their 59th anniversary March 18, 1993, in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church of Blackwell. The regular meeting was cancelled in order to honor Mrs. Esther Smith. Mrs. Smith was the first member voted into the club 59 years ago. President Margaret Stout announced the surprise honor and welcomed previous and present members and family of Mrs. Smith's who were able to attend. The program was conducted by Bobbie Barrett. She gave an interesting presentation of the club's history. Hostess was Laura Seale and co-hostess was Bea Murray. Juanita McRorey was in charge of the guest book. The table was beautifully decorated in the club's colors of pink and white. Pink and white roses in a silver vase was the centerpiece, with pink candles in silver candle holders on each side. The pink and white cake was also decorated with roses with the years 1934-1993. The mints were made in the shape of roses and at the other end of the table was the silver serving set. Previous members attending were: Mrs. W. A. Hickman, Thelma Fry and Mrs. Therell Burwick. Family members present were Mrs. Smith's son and daughter-in-law, Cecil Lewis and Verla Smith, and two nieces, Mrs. Ed Cole and Mrs. Sonny Sweet. Present Members attending were: Margaret Stout, Bobbie Barrett, Betty Cole, Emma Lee Lanier, Dona Sanderson, Juanita McRorey, Laura Seale, Gracie Spence, Bea Murray, Noba Ware, Mary Lee, Sue Sweet, Rosemary Ten Eyck and the honoree, Esther Smith.

B-Day Honorees

Honorees for the Birthday Party on March 19 at the Bronte nursing home were: Georgia Mae Mackey, Beulah Campbell, Chester Hallmark, Louis Baker, Allen Moore, Edith Banfield, and Robert Mantis. The Home Demo. Club was hostess for the party. Pearlie Mae Andrews and Ella Pruitt furnished entertainment. Birthday cake and punch were served to twenty seven residents and a host of family members.

Bryan James entertained twenty three residents and several friends on Saturday night, March 20th, with his Country Western music. Everyone enjoyed the music very much.

Valentine Sweetheart Ball

The walls of the Rec Room were decked out with red and silver Hearts, red and silver metallic streamers (and more hearts) hung from the ceilings, the bandstand had red and white balloons everywhere (and some more hearts) and the tables sported red tablecovers with hearts on the centerpieces. Several visitors commented on the decorations and said February was the prettiest month for decorations.

Billy Newman provided the entertainment and it was nice having him back. We had more people on the dance floor than we had for awhile, and they all had a great time. Those that didn't dance enjoyed watching and listening to the music.

We appreciate the auxiliary for the refreshments and the help getting everyone out for the party. We had a very big crowd, and a very good time.

Surprise Activity

Our surprise for February was in honor of Pearl Childress. Pearl has been in our nursing home for 18 years. She joined us February 15, 1975. This is the longest anyone has ever lived in this nursing home. Ella Duncan was the previous record holder with 17 years and 9 months. Pearl is also our oldest resident. She was 98 on August 16, 1992. Pearl was presented a stuffed bunny, and her granddaughter, Bonita Copeland played some of Pearl's favorite songs on the piano. Refreshments were served to a good sized group who came to celebrate with Pearl.

Auxiliary

New Auxiliary officers were elected at the January meeting. For 1993, new officers are: Gladys Millican, President; Dot Brown, Vice-President; Pauline Vaughan, Secretary; Louise Walker, Treasurer. New members include: Gertie Bloodworth, Maudie Conley, Charlotte Millican, and Alene Key. This brings our membership up to 21. The auxiliary is looking forward to a busy and prosperous year. We are in the planning stages of opening a thrift shop again in the old pharmacy building. All funds generated by the auxiliary go back into the nursing home. The latest addition to the long list of things the auxiliary has bought for us, is a big fuzzy, talking bear for the bedfast residents. We appreciate every one of you for the time you give us.
