Write-ins file for candidacy

Two candidates have officially filed as write-in candidates for the November 8, 1994 general election. Meeting those requirements as set forth in Texas election laws were Jackie Walker and Jack G. Moore.

Mrs. Walker will be a write-in candidate for county judge. She is currently the mayor for the city of Robert Lee. She is opposing Coke County Judge Royce Lee, still in his first term in that position. He was unopposed in the Democratic Primary in March, 1994 and his name will appear on the November ballot.

Jack G. Moore is now serving the unexpired term of former Peace Justice Gary Shaffer, Precinct 2, in Bronte. Moore will wage a write-in campaign for that justice of the peace position. Bruce Sonnenberg won the Democratic Primary in March, 1994 and will be on the November 8, 1994 ballot.

1993 Miss Rodeo Texas
Shelley Burrows

Burrows passes rodeo crown on

Robert Lee's own 1993 Miss Rodeo Texas, Shelley Burrows, passed her crown to Jennifer Douglas, 21, of Borger June 23 in San Antonio.

Shelley is the daughter of Tom and Elaine Lee of Robert Lee and an RLHS graduate.

During her farewell speech, marking the end of her one-year reign, at the coronation ceremony, Shelley recalled that cowboys had always been her heroes since she was young. Now these heroes have turned into friends during her travels which crossed Texas many times. As far as she is concerned the Miss Rodeo Texas honor has allowed her to "win her gold buckle" as a dream come true. She lived every girl's fantasy of travel, the spotlight, glamorous clothes, and meeting a lot of wonderful people.

According to Shelley, the long hours of travelling alone and being away from home afforded her a chance to think about life in a positive way, one being "the cowboy way". That philosophy has always meant right or wrong, with no gray areas.

Keith Martin, president of the San Antonio Livestock Association, as well as other heads of shows and corporations, have commended Shelley on her tireless efforts and energy in promoting rodeo and being an outstanding example to follow. Martin presented her a San Antonio Livestock Association Scholarship.

Shelley stated that although the past year has been a wonderful experience, it is time to go forward with her own plans, put on hold when she was named Miss Rodeo Texas. She will begin by attending Angelo State University this fall.

BRONTE SCHOOL NEWS

Lady Longhorn Volleyball results

The Bronte Lady Longhorns defeated the Class 4A Sweetwater Lady Mustangs at Sweetwater on August 23rd, with scores 15-7, 11-15, and 15-11. In game one, Joni Barrett served 2 aces, while Wendy Johnson and Laura Thomas had an ace each. Bronte's hard-hitting talents were showcased with kills by Mandy Dunn, Kim Hall, Jill Johnson, and Wendy Johnson.

The Bronte team lost game two, having trouble with their serves and serve reception. Wendy, however, served 3 aces. Offense was strong with kills from Mandy, Laura, Wendy, and Joni. The Lady Longhorns came back strong in the third game with Kim serving 3 aces, Joni 2, and Jill 1. Jill led the offense with 5 kills and Julia Gentry had 2. Also noteworthy was Stephanie Martinez's defense.

Junior Varsity had a disappointing night with losses 2-

15, and 10-15. Shelly Sims and Kelly Freeman each had a kill in the first game. The Bronte team rallied in the second game with Olivia Guzman serving two aces, Tandy Briley 1, and Kelly 2. Shelly scored with another kill.

The Bronte freshman team continues to improve, but fell short with game scores 13-15 and 6-15. Miranda Scott and Mandy Shipman did a great job at the serving line scoring 4 aces each with April Holdway scoring 1 also. Sommer Beck made a strong showing on defense. In their second game, Sommer served 3 aces.

The Lady Longhorn Varsity team played in the Ector County ISD Invitational Volleyball Tournament on August 26-27, 1994, at Odessa High School. In Friday's pool play, the Bronte team fell to Kermit with scores 12-15, 7-15. The team re-grouped for a come back beating the Permian team 15-4, 15-3. The Lady Longhorns were 2nd in their pool for Saturday's games.

In Saturday's play, 5A Monterey beat Bronte 3-15, 15-17, 15-1 and El Paso Andres won 15-6, 14-16, and 15-2. The Bronte girls put up a tremendous fight against the Plainsmen. They showed character coming back and winning the second game. The effort against a good 5A team was admirable. Poor serves and inconsistency plagued the Lady Longhorns with the only aces of the day by Kim Hall and Julia Gentry. Jill Johnson's blocking continues to improve. Jill had 10 kills for the day's action with teammate Wendy Johnson having 4. Mandy Dunn and Joni Barrett each had 2, and Laura Thomas, Kim Hall, and Julia Gentry had 1 each. Coach Fox summed it all up saying, "All in all, the experience the Lady Longhorns gained is invaluable."

HEALTH NOTES

Burn Risk

An estimated twenty-six thousand children and teens are hospitalized each year for fire and burn injuries. More than half involve children younger than five. A two-year study of children under five who needed hospital treatment for burns provided a closer look with a surprising finding—that eighty-eight percent of all burn cases involved children between six months and two years of age.

The study, conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, showed a striking relationship between the risk of burns and the age at which children acquire the ability to reach, crawl, climb, and walk—too many times with precarious lack of control.

Scalding was the most common cause of burn injury. Drs. Paul Simon and Roy Baron say most burns were apparent accidents, but intentional abuse was suspected in almost twenty percent of the cases. They say parents need to be told of the particularly high risk of burns during late infancy and the early toddler period.

Pruitts attend convention

Noah Pruitt, Bronte Postmaster retired, and Dorthey Pruitt, Carlsbad Postmaster retired, were among more than 3,000 postmasters in attendance at the 90th National Convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States (NAPUS) here, in Albuquerque, N. M., August 20 to 26.

NAPUS National President David Games, postmaster of Frankfort, KY, told postmasters that while postal workers in general are giving their best individual efforts, "it is clear that we are not always working as a team." He and NAPUS National Secretary-Treasurer John Hammitt, postmaster of Galt, CA, praised postmasters for rededicating their efforts to carrying out their main responsibility as Postal Service managers -- moving the mail!

Attendees also heard speakers from the U. S. Postal Service outline ambitious new efforts to improve postal service in many of the nation's largest metropolitan areas and to ensure that universal postal service to rural and small-town America is maintained. Among the guest speakers were U. S. Postmaster General/Chief Executive Officer Marvin Runyon.

Ted Carrico, postmaster of Palisades, CO, was unanimously elected the organization's national secretary-treasurer for 1995-96.

The National Association of Postmasters, headquartered in Alexandria, VA, represents more than 84% of the nation's postmasters and officers-in-charge.

Some 300 retirees over the nation were present for the luncheon for Retirees of NAPUS on Tuesday noon. Noah and Dorthey were present for this and were presented gold retiree pins for their service.

The Texas NAPUS Retirees met on Wednesday evening with 22 retirees attending the National Convention from Texas and the called state meeting. Mrs. Pruitt is Sec./Treasurer of the Texas Retirees.

Millie Davis of Robert Lee has returned from an enjoyable nine days in Cloudcroft, New Mexico in the home of her niece, Nettie Bob Roberts. During her visit, the temperatures ranged in the seventies most of the time and they were able to observe several species of hummingbirds as well as a bear and her cub, deer, and raccoons.

The pair attended a local Church of Christ meeting and enjoyed pot luck meals with the congregation. They also traveled to Alamogordo for a day of shopping. Millie rode a 4-wheeler for the first time while in Cloudcroft! She reported she had a wonderful time.

Nettie Bob came to get her and returned her to her home.

They visited in Lamesa with Marie's uncle and aunt, Glen and Maurine Price, and later made a trip to Coleman to see their cousins, Earl and Dovie Childress. They also dined out and shopped in San Angelo with Marie's daughter, Sondra Hester.

As always while Louise is in town, they drove out to Paint Creek Cemetery where most of their Childress ancestors are buried. Louise, who has helped purchase some of the grave markers there, was delighted to see improvements in the cemetery and how well-kept it was.

Small Grain Products

Hopefully, we will receive some rain soon and sow our small grain for winter forage and grain production. There are several important decisions to make before we sow our grain.

First, fertility is probably the most limiting factor besides moisture. The best source of information for fertility is a soil test, but if you have not taken one there are a few pointers on deciding how much fertilizer to use. For forage production small grains will use 70 lbs. of Nitrogen per ton of forage, 20-40 pounds of Phosphorous, and 20-40 pounds of Potassium. For grain production it requires 2 lbs. of Nitrogen for each bushel of grain produced and 0.8 pounds of both Phosphorous and Potassium.

If grain is to be grazed, about 2/3's of the nitrogen needs to be applied at or near planting. If it is for grain production only, then 30-40% applied in fall and the rest in the spring. Fertility levels at or near emergence of small grain can genetically determine the future production of that crop. If the fertility is low at emergence or shortly thereafter, no amount of moisture can recover the loss of pre-determined production later.

Another key factor is what to sow. If you are going to strictly graze the grain out, there are several options to use. Beardless varieties such as Win-Tex, Russian, Wm-135, and Quantum 554, have performed very well in area tests. Also at maturity the lack of awns or breads on the grain allows livestock to more completely graze these varieties out. Also a producer can mix either varieties of early and late maturing grains or mix oats, rye, barley, or triticale with wheat to give increased forage production.

For more information on small grain production or a list of varieties and results from area tests, contact the County Extension Office at 453-2461.
