Charges filed after body found at Silver

Murder charges have been filed on Henry Lee Lohse, 24, of San Angelo and he remains in custody in Tom Green County Jail under a $100,000 bond. He was arrested without incident last Saturday by Tom Green County Sheriff's Department personnel.

According to Sheriff's investigator, Lt. Lou Camelbeek, the charges came about after a confidential informant came forward regarding the death of another man. He led Tom Green County investigators, DPS personnel, and Coke County Sheriff's department members to an area southwest of Silver in Coke County and indicated a site where the victim was buried. Following a 2-day search, a body was unearthed from a shallow grave.

Peace Justice Joan Davis was called to the scene at noon on Sunday by Sheriff Marshall Millican where she certified the death at 1:05 pm. An autopsy was ordered by Judge Davis and the body was taken to the Bexar County Medical Examiner's office in San Antonio.

No autopsy report had been returned by presstime on Wednesday, and the body has yet to be officially identified. There is a possibility the body might be that of Adam Jimenez of San Angelo. At present he is listed as a missing person. At the time of his disappearance almost two years ago, he was approximately 47 years old and a taxi-cab driver who seemed to vanish without a Development of the case will partially hinge on the autopsy report which will hopefully reveal the identity and cause of the victim's death, said Tom Green County special investigator Steve Mild.

Burwick honored by Poles

Therell Burwick of Blackwell is one of 40 men in the United States Air Force in 1944 who were honored at the Intrepid Air Sea Space Museum in Manhattan, NY, by receiving recognition from the Polish government where they received the Warsaw Uprising Cross for their participation in the American Mercy Airlift 50 years ago in Poland. He served on a B-17 as tail-

While flying over Warsaw, Poland in 1944, they saw historic buildings reduced to powder by Poland's German foe. They saw Poles, hungry, tired from their effort to push Adolf Hitler's force out of their country, scrabling for boxes of food, medicine and ammunition dropping from the USAF B-17 bombers.

While the bombers flew over, German anti-aircraft peppered the planes' skin. The Germans wanted the B-17's to go away.

And now, 50 years later, the Polish people are honoring those Amrican fliers for aiding the Warsaw uprising.

After the group received the awards, Americans and Poles who died in the uprising were remembered by the dropping of wreaths in the Hudson River.

On Sept. 15, 1944, 110 Americans, B-17's departed from a base at Framlingham, England. They usually carried bombs to Germany, but this time they carried supplies to the Poles in Warsaw.

A month earlier, appeals had been made to Josef Stalin, Winston Churchill, President Roosevelt, and Pope Pius XII: that's when Roosevelt ordered the Mercy Air-lift. Most of it fell into German hands. The underground Polish army only held a small section of the cities.

The airlift's greater significance may have been on Polish morale, and it is understandable why the Poles today are looking back on them and wanted to honor the par-

Of the more than 1000 American men who took part, the Poles have traced 160 survivors and only a quarter of them were able to attend the awards ceremony.

Before the awards were given in the United States, efforts were being made to fly the participants to Warsaw, but it was decided to conduct the ceremonies in the States.

Mr. and Mrs. Burwick stayed at the Sheraton Manhattan downtown, New York City.

Therell reports that it was a most enjoyable occasion and was proud that Poland recognized those who participated in the endeavor fifty years ago.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Oh, what a tangled web we weave when it is laced with deception, half-truths, deviousness, chicanery, intimidation, coercement, and an over abundance of egotism. About the time we think we have hood-winked or duped the general public, and our subordinates, or our myrmidons, we find it necessary to again use katabasis and plan new strategy to defend our actions. Does not leave much time to enjoy our smug, complacent attitude before we are compelled, and sometimes destined to again flaunt our authority and any other asset we might possess, to remind each and every one that we are in charge, and, are capable of making an ostentatious show to prove it. At this point we should note that anyone, whether hired, appointed or elected is not indispensable and can be replaced, and in some instances could be replaced with more ease than we care to admit.

And, sometimes it is imperative to resort to creating an emanation of benevolence, with a touch of sanctity, to avoid a demarche. This ploy works well with cohorts to manipulate them. Convince them of your unbiased actions, veil your innuendos, and aspersions with requests for divine guidance and much can be accomplished. Seems deplorable to descend to these tactics, but with some people, it works.

It is not mandatory to have qualified and informed Egerias' or their male counterparts, just the ones that are naive and credulous. And is it not a bit pleonastic to be reminded of what a privilege it is to pay taxes on frivolous expenditures, assistants and personal capriccio? Some of us are not land owners, do not have family members in business and are laboring to survive on fixed incomes that will not be increasing as the taxes

CC Library reports donations

Contributions were made by the following to the Coke County Library for the months of June, July, and August: Memorials

Lois (Vowell) McCleskey Nell Broughton Donations Davis Grocery & Gas Bob Wrinkle Ace Hardware R. T. Caperton

Let us also remember that all employees of businesses and institutions are not given the same opportunities to learn new skills. Partiality has been known to surface here. On occasion, some of those that we educated for certain positions do not succumb to intimidation and are dispensed with. Are our tax dollars refunded for this education?

Control is hard to regain once it is lost and unless changes are made. Most people with prior knowledge of our local facility will be the first to acknowledge and agree that it is not of the same caliber of past administrations. And are the taxpayers expected to pay the legal fees for tax supported institutions when they are sued for slander and/or defamation of character? Think about it - to coin a phrase - there could be trouble in River City. DIS-GRUNTLED may not apply to the general public. They could go on the offensive.

When our authority is questioned for any reason and some decisions are not in total accord with our skeptics, not all are able to reciprocate by eliminating the opposition by dismissal or demotion. This is when you insert abiguosness and then you can rely on multiple interpretations to delegate the blame. Any suggestions? If so, we will try to get them on the agenda at our next open meeting.

Thank you, T. H. Franklin

Judge proclaims Fire Prevention Week

County Judge Royce Lee has proclaimed the week of October 9 - 15, 1994 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK in Coke County

The Coke-Sterling Farm Bureau, in conjunction with all fire departments in the county are working together to emphasize fire prevention and protection throughout the county.

Fire Prevention Week is always the Sunday-through-Saturday period in which falls October 9, date of the Great Chicago Fire of 1871. The Chicago disaster killed 250 people and destroyed more than 17,400 buildings.

In this proclamation, Judge Lee has called upon the citizens of Coke County to participate in Fire Prevention Week activities such as locating and eliminating fire hazards; developing a home escape plan; and as the 1994 theme suggests -- "Test Your Smoke Detector for Life."

Bobby Roberts, President of Coke-Sterling County Farm Bureau said, "Fire is both friend and foe. We can't live without it, but its destructive power is a threat we must control." Protect yourself by keeping fire a friend:

*Regularly inspect your house and out-buildings for fire hazards. Check the electrical system, electrical appliances and equipment, fuel storage, heaters and heating systems. Make needed repairs or replacements without delay. Avoid overloading circuits or bypassing fuses/breakers.

*Remove trash, stacks of paper and other un-needed combustibles that could feed

*Read and follow instruc-

Never use gasoline in a kerosene heater, and make certain gasoline and kerosene containers are clearly marked to avoid a mixup. Never use a kerosene or gas-fired heater in a closed area - have ample ventilation. Be certain you use the correct grade of fuel for your portable heating equipment.

*Check your heating system prior to the heating season. Install and use wood-burning stoves as directed in the manuals or other literature. Screen fireplaces. Keep chimneys and flues free of obstructions and creosote buildup.

*Keep matches and lighters out of children's reach.

*Never smoke in bed and avoid the easy chair when drowsy. Avoid smoking when using flammable materials or in places that have readily combustible materials such as hay, straw, dry weeds, grain dust, etc. Store flammable liquids in well-marked closed containers. Make sure your cigarette or match is "out" before dis-

*Install approved lightning protection systems on main buildings. Inspect them annually to make sure they are properly grounded.

*Be prepared for fire should it strike. Have operating smoke detectors and fire extinguishers. Develop and practice a home fire escape plan. Teach children how to call for help. Have a water supply available to fight fire.

*Choose and regularly inspect fire extinguishers that are the right size and type for the fires that might occur.

*Consider installing a sprinkler system in all new construction.

Local Ombudsman certified

Joe Walker of Bronte recently completed training developed by the Texas Department on Aging and the Texas Department of Human Services and conducted in San Angelo by the Area on Aging of the Concho Valley. Mr. Walker has been certified as a Volunteer Ombudsman and assigned as Ombudsman for the Bronte Nursing Home.

Each state is required by the Older Americans Act to conduct an Ombudsman program. The Ombudsman receives and investigates complaints by, or on behalf of residents of long term care facilities such as nursing homes and personal care homes. The Ombudsman then attempts to resolve the situation at the lowest possible level of intervention. Complaints are kept confidential, and no information is released without permission.

Typical duties of a Volunteer Ombudsman include visiting residents and being readily available to help them in resolving problems that arise in the course of daily living, particularly as it relates to residence in a care facility. Questions about medical treatment, food, and staff attentiveness normally make up the bulk of the Volunteer Ombudsman's caseload.

Volunteers do not investigate serious complaints involving abuse or neglect, but will refer them to the Regional Staff Ombudsman for further action and coordination with appropriate agencies. Stephanie Salyards is the Regional Staff Ombudsman for the AAA of the Concho Val-

Longhorns and Jackets battle to a draw

by Stover Taylor The Bronte Longhorns traveled down to Menard Friday night to entertain the Yellowjackets on their Homecoming. The Horns had Yellowjackets swarming all over them for 48 minutes of the ballgame. The Longhorns beat the Yellowjackets last year 42-9 and the "Jackets" had not forgotten. You would have thought somebody from Bronte would have had a can of Raid Wasp and Hornet spray and we could have settled things down around there. However, I am not sure that would have helped because between the two teams there were 10 turnovers. Bronte had 5 fumbles and lost 4 and 2 interceptions. The Yellowjackets had 2 fumbles and 2 interceptions.

It was a tough defensive battle for both teams. The Horns showed poise and character when Nicholas Arrott guided the Horns 60 yards and scored to tie the ballgame with 1:09 left in the game. The Longhorns defense kept the Horns in the game scoring the Horns first touchdown and stopping the Yellowjackets offense all evening.

David Cason picked up a fumble and outran the Yellowjackets for 81 yards for the TD. Leading the defense were Todd Harrell, Clint Brasher, Darrel Sharp, Cory Robinson, David Cason, Gary Walker, Phillip Ratliff, Jason Wilson, Kale Beck, Nick Arrott,. Russel Vaughn, Devlin Pierce and James Hambright. Nick Arrott and Jason Wilson intercepted passes, and Gary Walker and Darrel Sharp had fumble recoveries.

The offense struggled with the Yellowjackets new defense but adjusted as well as they could, and were able to move the ball, but penalties and fumbles stopped several scoring opportunities. Russel Vaughn had 78 yards on 22 carries, Keith Treadaway had 28 yards on 5 carries, Kale Beck had 12 yards on 9 carries, Cory Robinson had 9 yards on 2 carries, Jason Wilson had 1 yard on 1 carry. Nicholas Arrott completed 6 of 8 passes for 101 yards. Kale Beck had 4 catches for 58 yards, Jason Wilson caught 1 pass for 31 yards and a TD, Cory Robinson had 1 catch for 12 yards.

The Horns punted 4 times for 38 yards and had 6 penalties for 60 yards. The Longhorns ended the night

It was an exciting evening watching the Longhorns struggle through fumbles and penalties and come from behind and tie the ballgame with one minute left to play.

1st Quarter The Horns took the opening kickoff and returned the ball to the 35 yard line. Three plays and the Longhorns had to punt. The Yellowjackets had 3 plays and had to punt. On the next series the Horns fumbled the ball on their own 40 yard line. The Jackets made one first down and failed on a 4th and ten on the next series. Keith Treadaway, Kale Beck, and Russel Vaughn, picked up good yardage rushing and two passes from Nick Arrott to Kale Beck and the ball was on the Menard 8 yard line. The Horns got a penalty and fumbled the ball on the play, a scoring opportunity gone.

2nd Quarter Nicholas Arrott intercepted a Yellowjacket pass and returned it 15 yards to the Menard 45 yard line. Eight plays later the Horns were on the Menard 25 yard line and the fumble bug bit again. The Yellowjackets moved the ball up the field on a pass-run play, but a holding penalty returned the ball to the Jacket's 20 yard line. Neither team was able to move the ball and the quarter ended.

3rd Quarter On the first series of downs neither team could move the ball. On the second series the Horns fumbled the ball and the Yellowjackets had it on the Longhorn 30 yard line. Two plays later Menard scored with 8:50 remaining in the 3rd quarter. The PAT was good. The Horns were not able to keep the drive going and had to punt. On the next Longhorns series a pass was intercepted and the Jackets had the ball on the Horn 30 yard line.

The Yellowjackets scored after 5 plays, but the TD was called back because of a holding penalty. The Yellowjackets tried again on a pitchout, the running back was hit and the ball popped loose. David Cason picked up the fumble and raced 81 yards for Yellowjackets passes and the offense ran out the clock.

The Longhorn defense played great and kept the Horns in the game. The offense showed character by coming on late in the game with the clock running down and scoring with 1:09 left in the game.

the TD. The PAT failed. The Yellowjackets were not able to move the ball. The Horns took the punt on their 30 yard line. The first play of the series, the Horns fumbled again. Six plays later the Yellowjackets scored again. The PAT was good with 8:10 left on the clock. The Horns fumbled again on the first play of the series, and Menard had the ball on the Horn 35 yard line. Good defense and a penalty put the ball back to the Horn 45 yard line. The Jackets punted and the Horns had 5:10 remaining on the clock. Kale Beck, Russel Vaughn, and Cory Robinson went to work moving the ball downfield. With 1:20 left on the clock, Nicholas Arrott dropped back and threw a 31 yard pass to Jason Wilson as he crossed the goal line. The 2 point conversion by Cory Robinson was good and the score was tied at 14 all with 1:09 remaining. The Yellowjackets moved the ball to the Horns 30 yard line on a pass completion and pitch-out run play. Two plays later Jason Wilson borrowed one of the

by Bill Burns The Steers traveled to Cross Plains last Friday night and gained their fourth victory of the year. A perfect record so far for the year, but even so this Steer team can play better. The coaches and the team are working hard to be the best they can be as district starts this week against Bronte. Every game counts from here on, and the Steers will meet every challenge one at a time as true champions

Another important thing going for the Steers is the fan support. The Steers and the coaches really appreciate this. 1st Quarter

2nd Quarter

Cross Plains moved the ball well and scored early on a 2 yard run. The Buffaloes went for a 2 point conversion, but the Steers would not allow that. Steers 7, Buffaloes 6.

With 4:33 left in the half McCown went 69 yards right up the middle for his second TD of the night. The blocking was perfect and McCown out

3rd Quarter

The third quarter was all defense as neither offense got a lot going. McCown had a punt of 47 yards which upped his average for the night to 46 yards on two punts.

The Steers had four first downs to Cross Plains 3 first downs.

Barrett graduates from basic training

S. A. Sean Barrett, son of Jesse and Susan English, and Dee Barrett, all of Robert Lee, recently graduated from Naval Basic Training in Great Lakes, III. Sean left for basic training July 22, 1994, and along with 1600 other young men, attempted 9 weeks of intense, rigorous military training. There were 1100 present at graduation on Sept. 23, 1994. Fifteen companies graduated, out of which Sean's company #279, was one of four to graduate with "color" (honors). Sean is presently enrolled in tech school at Great Lakes. Sean is a 1994 graduate of Robert Lee High School.

Probation officer to speak in RL

Juvenile Probation Officer Ed Jennings of San Angelo will speak in the Coke County Courthouse in Robert Lee on Tuesday night, October 11, hosted by the Robert Lee '64 Study Club. The public is urged to attend the 7:30 pm meeting.

Mr. Jennings spoke before the '64 Study Club last year, and his information was so compelling that a question and answer period following his talk, plus that of another officer who accompanied Jennings, lasted for an hour. Both Officer Jennings and his co-worker work with gangs in San Angelo, and other young criminals. Their information is valuable for all citizens, especially those who have children in the family and for those who work with youth.

There is no charge for attendance. The time and place: County Courthouse, Robert Lee, 7:30 pm, October 11, 1994.

Dogies go 2-0 by Chad Helwig

The Robert Lee Dogies went on a scoring spree last Thursday. They beat the Cross Plains Buffalos 30 to 8. They got into the endzone on the second play after the opening kick after a run by Michael Munoz. Chad Helwig scored on a quarterback keep for the 2 points. The second score came on a 22 yard strike from Helwig to Andrew Mc-Cabe. The two point conversion failed. After a stand by the Dogie defense, the Buffalos had to punt. The punt was returned for a touchdown by Munoz. Will Simpson scored on the 2 point conversion. The last Dogie score came with under a minute left in the first half. Munoz scored the touchdown then ran it in for 2. The Dogies held the Buffalos scoreless until the closing minute of the game.

The Dogies are 2-0 after a 6 to 0 win over Roby the week before. Robert Lee will face Bronte this week at Robert Lee at 5:00 pm. Go Dogies!

SHANNON HEALTH NOTES

Not Cat-Astrophic

Cat lovers should be aware of research at the University of California, San Francisco. Drs. Jane Koehler, Carol Glaser and Jordan Tappero have found that cats may carry a bacterium that can infect humans.

The bacterium, known as rochalimaea henselae, can cause a variety of problems in humans, such as lesions on skin, bones and other organs, endocarditis and cat scratch disease. The report, in the Journal of the American Medical Association, (2-15) says at particular risk are people whose immune system is already compromised and the elderly. With fifty-seven million pet cats in America, the number of humans at risk for infection is potentially

The key word there is "potential", since not all cats carry the bacteria and of those that do, most of their humans have not been infected. Dr. Koehler says antibiotics will usually cure the infections and researchers are trying to determine if giving antibiotics to infected cats will help eliminate the bacteria.

AARP's Tax-Aide Program seeks volunteers

This year, more than 1.5 million Americans -- including nearly 40,000 Texans -- received free tax-filing assistance from some 30,000 trained volunteers in the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) Tax-Aide Program.

This successful program is seeking more volunteers to serve as Tax-Aide Counselors, instructors and coordinators during the 1995 taxfiling season.

Volunteers will receive free training from the Internal Revenue Service. They will then be asked to serve just four hours per week from February 1 through April 15, 1995. All program-related expenses will be reimbursed.

Tax-aide volunteers come from an amazing variety of backgrounds. They include retired teachers, bookkeepers, homemakers, bank managers, CPA's, business owners, hospital dieticians, retired generals, plant managers, salespersons, and even IRS employees.

But they share certain qualities that make them successful Tax-Aid volunteers: They like to work with numbers, they are dependable and accurate, they know how important it is to protect the confidentiality of taxpayer information, and -- most important of all -- they enjoy helping other people.

Many of them enjoy it so much that they return year-after-year. More than ninety percent of all Tax-Aide volunteers have worked in the program for more than a year -some for more than a decade.

For more information on how you can become a Tax-Aide volunteer, write to: Harry J. Hall, 3406 Tanglewood, San Angelo, TX 76904.

Bullock announces abandonment of critical habitat

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock recently announced that the U. S. Interior Department's decision to abandon designating areas of 33 Texas counties as critical habitat for the Golden-Cheeked Warbler is a victory for Texas landowners.

"They finally got the message that Texans won't stand for regulatory overkill and bureaucratic dictates," Bullock

Bullock, who voiced strong opposition last summer to the critical habitat designation, said public opposition played a big role in the agency's reversal on the habitat.

"We didn't hear a word until the Secretary of Interior sent a message from Washington saying that they were dropping the idea. There were no hearings. There were no forums to express our concern, but they got the word any-

Bullock said he thought most Texans recognized the proposal as excessive and an unreasonable intrusion on farmers, ranchers and property owners.

"This dispute had nothing to do with the bird per se, but it had everything to do with constitutional rights and due process," Bullock said. "I'm glad the federal government finally realized that they need to follow the law and U. S. Constitution, too".

State ends budget vear in the black

Lt. Governor Bob Bullock and House Speaker Pete Laney recently announced Texas has closed its books on the 1994 fiscal year $2.2 billion in the black.

Bullock and Laney said more than $1.2 billion of the year-end balance came from better than expected revenues from a strong business climate. State leaders attributed another $1 billion in state surplus to a decline in government spending and the continued success of the Texas Performance Review under the direction of State Comptroller John Sharp.

"We stood our ground," Bullock said. "We promised Texans no new taxes. We promised more for less. We've delivered a budget surplus and we are putting it to good use."

State officials already have earmarked $156 million to help pay for a massive prison construction project currently underway to bring the total number of prison beds on line to more than 145,000 by 1995. State Comptroller John Sharp last April approved spending another $100 million authorized by the Legislature last session to help fund Texas schools. Another $267 million in reductions were used to streamline state finances and eliminate plans to speed-up sales tax collection deadlines for Texas businesses that file electronically.

Bullock and Laney said the Legislature will be left with nearly $1.7 billion after the year-end balance is adjusted.

The next Regular Session of the Legislature begins in January.

Taxpayer seminar set for SA

"At the Comptroller's Office, we understand that state tax issues can sometimes become very complex and confusing. Since taxpayers can't just pick up and come to Austin whenever they need assistance we'll hold a free taxpayer seminar in the San Angelo area on Wednesday, October 12, 1994," State Comptroller John Sharp announced recently

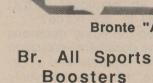

The seminar will be held at Angelo State University, Business Computer Science Building, Room 265, NW Corner of Varsity and Dena, San Angelo, Texas from 2:00 pm to 3:00 pm. Nancy Rodgers, from the Comptroller's San Angelo field office will be available to meet and discuss any questions pertaining to state taxes.

"It's important that taxpayers have a full understanding of state taxes. This seminar has been designed just for that," Sharp said.

Nancy Rodgers, one of our many agency experts, will be available to deliver quick accurate information to all tax questions and assist taxpayers in any way she can.

Those taxpayers who cannot attend the free seminar can call the Comptroller's tollfree hotline at 1-800-252-5555 for additional informa-

Immigration Reform and Control Act

The Immigration and Control Act of 1986 (ICRA) makes it illegal to hire anyone who is not authorized to work in the United States. The law requires that employees verify the identity and work eligibility of every employee hired after November 6, 1986, the date the IRCA went into effect. To show verification, employers must complete the Immigration and Naturalization Service's Form I-9.

Many employers do not understand the record keeping and anti-discrimination provisions of IRCA. The requirements are not complicated. but they do take some understanding.

In essence, the law requires that employers treat all people the same-in announcing jobs, taking applications, interviewing, offering the job, filling out Form I-9, hiring and

As an employer, what should I do - and not do? *Keep the hiring decisions and the document-verification process separate and in sequence. Hire first, then verify identification and work eligibility.

*First, decide whether the worker is the best person available for the job, based on skills and experience. If the worker is the best qualified, offer the job.

Then, have the worker fill out the "employee" portion of the I-9 form. Let the person choose which document to present; all acceptable ones are listed on the back of the I-

*Allow the worker to produce these documents within three work days. If the job you're hiring for lasts three days or less, the worker must produce the necessary documents at the time of hire.

*Write down the name and number of the documents produced on the employer section of the I-9. That's all there is to it.

*Later, if a temporary work document is about to expire, you can remind the worker about having it renewed. If the document expires and is not renewed, the worker can present other documents listed on the I-9 to prove identity and work eligibility.

*Remember, don't single anybody out. For example, don't ask any workers to produce documents before you hire them. And don't pick and choose among the documents listed.

*If a worker offers documents from the lists that appear genuine, accept them. Don't accept documents you know are false, or don't belong to the worker offering them.

Surgery may be the answer for poor tear drainage

Surgery once used only in trauma cases to reconstruct tear ducts may be the cure for a problem that won't go away for thousands of people, according to an opthalmologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Many people suffer from either inadeqate or excess tear production. Both conditions not only make the eyes uncomfortable but may cause vision difficulties as well.

It is a problem most people experience every once in a while. For instance, during allergy season the tear drainage ducts may swell and drain improperly causing watery eyes.

But for many people, it is an ongoing source of frustration that prevents them from staying outdoors on windy days or keeps them from driving at night because of itching or a constant, heavy flow of tears into the eyes.

"It is a question of where the tears are draining," said Dr. James R. Patrinely, an associate professor of opthalmology and plastic surgery at Baylor. "Tears drain onto the surface of the eye or into the nasal cavities. Too much production or not enough drainage creates a problem."

A common technique to correct dry eyes is to close off the drainage ducts that keep the tears in the eyes longer.

Unfortunately, this can sometimes lead to the opposite problem. Dry eyes may experience excessive tearing.

Using microscopic surgical techniques, the tear duct is reconstructed to allow for normal drainage of tears from the eye and the nasal cavities. The goal is to find the right balance of drainage into the nose and tear secretion into the eyes.

"We have used reconstructive microsurgery in several patients who experienced problems after their drainage ducts were permanently blocked and the results have been excellent," said Patrinely. "This is a last resort for people who have endured months or years of eye discomfort and vision problems because of tearing.

"But, it is a last resort that appears to have a high degree success," he said.

Stenholm accepting apps for service academies

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is currently accepting applications from young men and women in the 17th Congressional District who are interested in attending one of the nation's service academies.

This December Congressman Stenholm will have the opportunity to nominate area citizens for appointments to the four U.S. academies: the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, CO; the Military Academy in West Point, NY; the Naval Academy in Annapolis, MD; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, NY.

Persons interested in the possible nominations should contact the Congressman's San Angelo office as soon as possible. The deadline for completed application files is December 1, 1994.

To be eligible for an appointment, the applicant must meet certain requirements.

The requirements are: American citizenship; good SAT or ACT scores; outstanding high school record; and good physical condition, including excellent eyesight. There is a very limited number of waivers for non-pilot candidates whose eyesight is less than 20/20.

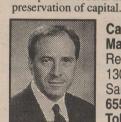

Aside from academic achievement, emphasis is also placed on character, church and community involvement, extra-curricular activities, and/or part-time employment. Applicants must be single with no dependents and at least 17 years of age, but not past their 22nd birthday upon admission into the academy on July 1, 1995.

Additional information may be obtained from high school quidance counselors or by contacting Jayne Schoonmaker in Congressman Stenholm's San Angelo office at (915) 655-7994 or by writing to: 33 East Twohig #318, San Angelo, Texas 76903.

Be Aware

Although adults of all ages are swindled every day, older persons are often selected by con artists because some may seem more trusting, appear to be lonely, give the impression that they are easily confused by fast talk, or appear to have time to listen to the "pitch" of the con artist. Con artists appeal to many different human motivations: greed, fear of disease, the desire to perform public service, the temptation to make money with little effort, or to obtain something for nothing. Con artists come in all shapes and sizes, colors, and backgrounds. Most convey the impression that they are honest and congenial people who want to help others. In reality, they are criminals. Their purpose is to get money or other assets from their victims by means of deception. They are unconcerned with the effects such losses will have on their victims. This message comes from an AARP Consumer Fraud manual.

More information will come your way during the month of October to help you be more "aware". Better Business Bureau will give a program on Elder Fraud on Thursday, October 27th at our Potluck Luncheon. A video "Listen Up, Wise Up, Hang Up" will be available sometime during the month dealing with fraud to the elderly.

San Angelo author's romance novel to be released

San Angelo author, Roz Denny skillfully combines romance and humor with the spice of chili in her sixth Harlequin Romance entitled, Some Like It Hotter. A subtle blend of fact and fiction, the book, a November, 1994 release, happens to coincide with the championship chili cook-off in Terlingua.

This light romance is sure to provide a chuckle or two and maybe a tug on the heart of serious chili heads, and others. A consistent comment of fans is that Ms. Denny's characters are people you'd like to

Of Ms. Denny's previous traditional romances for Harlequin, her second, Romantic Notions, was nominated in 1992 for RITA, the Romance Writer's of America's most prestigious award. Her fourth book, Stubborn As A Mule, made the Waldenbook best seller list for series ro-

Farmers asked to make nominations

"Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice by October 31, to be on the ASC County committee ballot," says Dwayne Vin-

ASC committees are responsible for managing federal farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals. Coke County farmers have the opportunity to nominate people they feel would best serve the farm community. Petitions may be picked up in the ASCS office.

In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm votes in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office by the October 31 deadline.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office holders.

Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC committee. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASC committees is essential in the administration of farm programs," Vincent

The county ASCS office welcomes all valid petitions.

Don't forget the snack bag

When traveling with children this summer do not forget to pack the most important bag: the "snack" bag.

"Traveling as a family can be a lot of fun. There are lots of things to do, and eating is one of them," said Dr. Corinne Montandon, a nutritionist at the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center and an assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine. "Just make sure you offer nutritious treats," she added.

Mobile munchers can wile away the miles crunching on fresh fruit, nuts, popcorn, dry cereal, celery sticks, and carrot sticks. (Nuts, whole grapes, or popcorn should not be given to tots younger than 5 because they could choke).

String cheese, packaged fruit snacks, a variety of breads, spreads, small boxes of raisins, Graham crackers, animal crackers, low-salt pretzels, and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches also appease restless riders.

For heartier fare, have a picnic lunch prepared and stop at a convenient roadside park, Montandon said.

A cooler with ice or commercial ice pack allows travelers to pack a wider range of items.

Sandwiches might include sliced barbecue beef or chicken, lean luncheon meats or tuna. Pack sandwich fillings, lettuce and tomatoes, and conciments separately in clean air-tight containers or clear plastic food-storage bags. Assemble sandwiches just before serving to keep the bread fresh.

Mantandon also encourages parents to ice down plenty of single-serve cartons of fruit juice, a quart of milk, and a bottle of water.

Remember to tuck in some colorful napkins, sturdy paper plates, plastic forks and knives, and paper cups, she said.

Next to "I'm hungry," parents most often hear, "I'm bored." Montandon suggests games that focus on family participation.

Counting cows or billboards, rhyming games, map reading, sing-alongs, and riddles provide hours of entertainment.

Children also enjoy a special travel bag filled with books, P. E., Director of Operations, hand-held videos, a deck of cards, and mini-puzzles. Toddlers and preschoolers like dolls, plastic cartoon figures, and coloring books.

Montandon reminds parents to make frequent stops so children can stretch their legs and use the restroom

With a bit of planning, patience and plenty of travel treats, families can make this summer's vacation a road trip worth repeating.

Flu vaccines urged for 'high risk' persons

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) warns each year that anyone who may be at increased risk of complications of influenza should be immunized before the flu season begins.

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) each year predicts which strains of influenza pose the greatest public health danger. The vaccine CDC has been recommended for the 1994-95 season and is designed to combat the A/Shangdong, B/Panama, and A/Texas (first isolated in Houston in 1991) strains of the disease.

Flu vaccines are subject to yearly change, and the effectiveness of the shots declines with time. Therefore annual immunizations with the recommended vaccines are necessary for people most at risk.

People most at risk of severe or fatal complications of the disease include those 65 or older, anyone with chronic respiratory or heart problems and children weakened by disease.

"Yearly, usually between December through April, influenza kills about 20,000 in the U. S., most of them in high-risk categories," Robert D. Crider, Jr., director of TDH's Immunization Division, said. Crider said that the elderly are among the hardest-hit by influenza and its complications.

"Fewer than 30% of Americans in high-risk groups heed our annual warnings to seek influenza vaccinations," he added. "We know that one reason some older people fail to be vaccinated is because of an unfounded fear that the vaccine can actually cause influenza. The truth is that a vaccinated person may still contact some strain of influenza, but not from the vaccine. If they do become ill, the vaccine usually helps lessen the severity of the case."

The categories of people who are most likely to develop influenza complications are:

*Persons 65 years old and older;

*Adults and children with chronic heart or lung disorders, including children with asthma;

*People under medical care for chronic metabolic diseases, kidney or blood problems or weakened immune systems; and

*children (18 and younger) who already are receiving long term aspirin therapy, which can place them at risk of developing Reye syndrome after influenza.

"We strongly recommend influenza vaccinations for all people in high-risk groups, especially if they are international travelers or if they are pregnant," Crider advised.
"People infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (the virus which causes AIDS) also may be at increased risk for flu complications." In addition, CDC recommends that physicians, nurses and other health professionals should be immunized against influenza to avoid spreading the disease to their patients. Residents and employees of nursing homes and other facilities treating chronically ill patients also should be immunized.

"We advise physicians to offer vaccine to their patients during routine clinic visits, beginning September and throughout the influenza season," he said.

Crider explained that all immunized residents of chroniccare facilities, such as nursing homes, should be immunized during October and November. Since immunity by the vaccine may not be complete for a few weeks following vaccination, waiting until flu cases occur in the community can be a tragic mistake. He added that high-risk persons who are hospitalized any time from now through March and members of their households are encouraged to be vaccinated.

Tax rate announced

Mayor Jackie Walker and the city council are happy to announce that the tax rate is .34013, down from .34375 last year. Many things are to happen in the near future. The station that the EMS has been using is being purchased from Bill Allen, the EMS and fire department will both be housed at the building. We will add a 60 X 60 foot building at the back to house the fire trucks. The EMS will add a section to the side for the ambulance and the two present stalls will be turned into a training center. This will be of great assistance to both units and any one else needing to have a place for training. This will be done by enrolling a lot of volunteer Joe Torres will be attending an animal control training course in Midland, which will certify Joe as an animal control officer. We will begin construction of the housing for the animals within the next two weeks and hope to be ready to begin animal control by the middle of November if not sooner.

The city has adopted a vendors ordinance; we are in hopes this will help protect the citizens from some of the unreliable sales persons.

The fence is being constructed around the holding pond. Trees are to be planted around the pond and by the sewer plant. Fern Havins Park is going to be a beautiful site, as it should be. A soccer field is going to be constructed at the park. This will be done by joint efforts with Jim Clendennen. This is another example of community pride by volunteers.

The city is starting a sewer improvement project, funded by 1992 and 1993 grants each for $99,500.00, which will put the sewer system back to state requirements. We currently are working on a planning grant, which will help with future work plans, this involves streets, zoning, water, sewer, construction, and economic development. We have applied for a grant to supply sewer to the east side of Hwy. 208 and to replace some more water lines. The water plant is also being improved at the present time, with new meters, charts, and pumps.

Mayor Walker reported that the present plans are to try to keep the landfill if at all possible, as we feel it is needed not only for the citizens of Robert Lee, but the entire county, as some of the trash from the Blackwell area is being brought in, along with the rural area and lake area around Robert Lee.

This is a review of what is happening and what should be happening soon. If you have any questions or concerns please talk to the mayor or one of the council members. They will be glad to answer your questions.
