Steers advance to regional

The Robert Lee Steers, state-ranked all year, have advanced to the class 1A regional playoffs. Their opponents in Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood Friday night at 7:30 pm will be the Crawford Pirates. The Pirates robbed the Steers of the win, 28-6, in the state quarterfinals last year. Both high school clubs are unbeaten for the season.

The Steers clinched the area championship last Friday night in Snyder when they sacked the Paducah Dragons 41-6.

Steers' longtime coach Ed Poehls said Monday evening that the squad, still stung by the Crawford victory, vowed to redeem the loss, not just the quarterfinal defeat. Their goal since last year has been to beat the Pirates, no matter at what level they might meet.

That opportunity will come Friday night. According to Poehls, the team will have their work cut out for them. He said, in viewing the films available, the Pirates are as strong as one year ago. Although they are not playing with the same quarterback, the entire backfield are seniors - two of the backs are the same as last season. Their #7 is a state sprinter, so they have the speed. A well-balanced club, Crawford will mix it up with running and passing and are adept at running trick or gimmick plays. They are not a large team as contenders sometimes are but Poehls predicted they can match up with teams by being smart. They read techniques exceptionally well and will be the best defensive team we have met, he said.

The Steers and the coaching staff are ready, they feel. Fortunate all year by avoiding serious injuries, the closeness of the boys, and that will to win should make a heck of a match-up. Be there.

RL Landfill closed

The Robert Lee city hall announced Tuesday that the local sanitary landfill will be closed Saturday, November 26. It will open next week on schedule.

Game warden goes beyond call of duty

Texas Parks & Wildlife personnel sometimes are expected to go above and beyond the call of duty. An example of this surfaced at Paint Creek Marina last Saturday night.

About 8:30 pm, Yvonne and Vic Conner were in charge at the marina. They were feeding Don and Marsha Blair's cats when the door blew back. Being dark already they didn't notice another kind of cat -- a skunk -- walking up. At this point it entered the open door. Then the fun began!

The animal made itself right at home, nosing around everything, jumped into cabinets, examined everything. It then crawled under the refrigerator and appeared to go to sleep. Yvonne and Vic tried a number of things on the black and white striped visitor. They sprayed it with water, then tried to lure it out with tuna fish. No dice -- then they poked it with a fishing pole. It was at that point that the skunk had enough and perfumed the marina.

The Conners called Game Warden Sparks Burdett, and he was accompanied by J.P. Skipworth. Sparks eventually dispensed the visitor by shooting it.

The animal was sent to Austin for rabies testing, and everyone is trying to avoid the other four involved.

Personal

Clark and Mary Frances Glenn spent last week in Arizona where they visited her sister, Margaret Patterson, who lives near Benson.

They spent one day on a trip to Mt. Lemmon which rises 9,000 feet above the desert near Tucson. On top of the mountain one finds a beautiful pine tree forest and a ski resort- quite a contrast from the desert and cactus directly below.

Steers gain new trophy at area contest

by Bill Burns

The Steers gained a new trophy and "kept the skunk alive" as they totally dominated Paducah in the Area round of the playoffs last Friday night. The Steers remain unbeaten and will play Crawford in a rematch of last year's game.

1st Quarter

The Dragons received the opening kick at their own 17 yard line and returned it to their own 23 yard line. The Dragons went right to the air, but that turned out to be a big mistake as Eric Hood took a pass almost right out of a receiver's hands.

The Steers made a first down at Paducah's 37 yard line. Quarterback Aaron Hood kept the ball and covered 37 yards for the first Steer TD. Jonathan Torres kicked the extra point, and the Steers were up by 7 points.

Paducah made one first down but then had to punt to the Steers. The Steers made three first downs, then ran a draw play with fullback Lee McCown going 32 yards for a Steer TD. Torres' kick was good.

Paducah again went to the air, and Eric Hood got his second interception of the night.

2nd Quarter

The Steers drove the ball down to the Dragon 4 yard line, where Adam Morgan covered the 4 yards and scored another TD for the Steers. Torres' kick again was good.

Paducah came back with their best drive of the night, but when the Steers' defense tightened up, Paducah tried a field goal that was blocked by Tray Taylor.

The Steers almost scored again, but a penalty and the clock stopped that drive.

3rd Quarter

The Steers kept the pressure on the Dragons as Adam Morgan scored his second TD of the night on a 19 yard scamper. The extra point failed.

This time it was Tray Taylor that got an interception. That set up a 33 yard TD pass from Aaron Hood to Jerrid Vincent.

Torres was good on the extra point attempt.

Eric Hood got his third interception of the night.

4th Quarter

Even though the Steers eased up a little this quarter, Morgan was able to get his third TD of the night on a three yard run. Torres scored the extra point.

With 5:33 left in the game, Paducah scored on a 1 yard drive play. On the next Paducah possession David Sevier was able to knock down a Dragon pass. Steers 41 - Dragons 6.

The team met many people from across the country. They well represented their school, community, and state. All of the team members are proud to be a part of the premier youth organization in the world. Good luck to the Robert Lee FFA Chapter in their future contests!

Lamar competes in Moot Court

The Moot Court State Tournament hosted by Hardin-Simmons University and the Abilene Bar Association was held November 11-12, 1994. Dr. Virginia C. Armstrong, professor of political science, was the Moot Court Director.

Schools that participated included HSU, Howard Payne University, St. Mary's University, Stephen F. Austin State University, Texas A&M University, Texas Wesleyan University, Trinity University, University of Houston Clear-Lake, and University of Texas-Tyler.

Three of HSU's five medalist teams advanced to the quarter-finals. These included Joel Hare and Chuck Anderson, Erica Carter of Riverton, Wyoming, and Jason Solis, and Wendy Lamar of Robert Lee, and Sam Mehaffey. With three teams HSU had the most teams advance of any of the schools.

Six of the ten HSU squad members were award winners, and four of the five teams compiled a 2-0 record in preliminary rounds.

Overall, there were 28 teams with 56 members from nine colleges who participated in the tournament.

Marie Arrott (seated) was honored with a 90th birthday celebration recently. Hosts for the occasion were her children, LeDrew Arrott and Marlene Vaughn.

Birthday Celebration

The 90th birthday celebration for Marie Arrott was Sunday, November 13, 1994 at the Bronte Senior Citizens Center given by her children and grandchildren.

There were over 100 friends and relatives attending from as far away as Washington State and San Diego, Calif.

The oldest of 9 children, Marie, her brothers and sisters were raised by a single parent, her mother, Ina, after her father Nick, was killed in 1922. Of these childhood years to her present 90th year, there were many displays of Life Memorabilia.

In the exhibits of "School Years" from 1912 thru 1924, you saw school books, art books, History Theme of Ben Ficklin Flood of 1882, Physiology notebook, record book of High School days, and 1924 annual. The chair used when studying was from her mother's dining room set, antiqued by her brother, with needlepoint work by her sister-in-law. The painted porcelain base rayo lamp used to study by was given to her mother as a wedding present in 1904.

In the household exhibit there was a Daisy Churn and a wooden butter mold used to make butter to sell with eggs, jams and jellies to help buy groceries. The waffle iron was used by her grandmother making waffles for her when she visited during the summer of Marie's school years. It was given to Marie when she married and started housekeeping. The smoothing irons were used in the 30's and 40's, heated on a wood burning stove to iron their clothes. They were also used as footwarmers, wrapped in old heavy blankets. The striking clock was bought in 1912 and given to her mother. It was sure to strike when Marie was late coming home from a date. The Fish plate was from a set of dishes used in the Holland Hotel at Christoval. When Marie visited her grandparents she helped serve meals using the set. Her grandmother gave the set to Ina, Marie's mother, at the time the hotel was sold. When Marie married, the set was given to her to start housekeeping. The armed rocking chair, listed in a 1910 Sears Roebuck Catalogue, priced at $4.95, was an important piece of furniture in the Hudgens' home. Marie's mother, Ina, rocked the children, read stories to them, pieced quilt tops, and always read her daily newspaper while sitting in this rocker.

To curl her long hair, Marie used the curling and marcelling irons heated in the chimney of a coal oil lamp. The sewing box displayed was made by her uncle and given to her in 1930.

Scrapbooks of Clarence and Marie's 50th and 60th anniversary celebrations and the honor of being Mr. and Mrs. Coke County in 1989 were shown. Numerous plaques, clippings and pictures of Marie's years of service with the Farm Bureau, Home Demonstration Club and church were displayed.

A fall arrangement of chrysanthemums was the center-piece of the serving table. A personalized birthday cake, punch and coffee was served to friends and family while visiting and remembering old times.

Farm-City Week observed

The safe and abundant food supply Texans enjoy as a result of the integrity and productivity of the nation's farmers and ranchers is a special reason to give thanks as the holiday season approaches.

Farm-City Week (Nov. 18-24) is an annual observance that gives Texans an opportunity to honor those producers and to celebrate the Lone Star State's longstanding agricultural tradition, according to Bobby Roberts, president of the Coke-Sterling County Farm Bureau.

At the beginning of the century, nearly every family grew at least some of their own food, Mr. Roberts pointed out. Today, a complex and efficient system of research, farming expertise, and agribusiness has been developed to free Americans from the burden of growing most of the food they eat.

"Our nation's farmers and ranchers are unmatched in performance," Bobby stated. "Less than two percent of the 250 million people in the United States live on the farm, yet they manage to feed the other 98 percent. Actually, a single American farmer produces enough food and fiber for about 128 people at home and abroad."

Food is not only safe and abundant, it is relatively cheap, the county Farm Bureau leader added. Americans spend only about 12 percent of their income for food as opposed to the 50 percent or more citizens in some countries pay for food, he said.

Agriculture also provides jobs, Bobby said, noting that while two percent of Texans are farmers and ranchers, more than 20 percent of the work force is dependent on agriculture.

"That's more than one million people who are involved in the business of providing farmers with the materials they need for transforming raw agriculture goods into products for consumers," the county Farm Bureau president advised.

According to Bobby Roberts, agriculture and its related industries account for 16 percent of the country's Gross National Product (GNP) and add more than $52 billion dollars to the state's annual economic activity.

"In Texas, agriculture supports a combined payroll of more than $12 billion dollars. Many Texas communities exist solely because of farming or ranching," he said. "In fact, one-fourth of Texas' 254 counties are dependent on agriculture."

Mr. Roberts said Texas ranks first in the following areas: numbers of cattle and calves and cattle on feed; cotton production; total farms and ranches, and number of farm and ranch acres; cash receipts for all livestock and related products and in numbers of sheep and goats; and production of watermelons and spinach.

Texas is also ranked as the number one exporter of cotton and related products and number two in rice exports, he said. The value of Texas crops exported annually is almost $3 billion, with this activity supplying some 45,000 jobs.

The Texas forestry industry is important nationally and adds $6 billion dollars annually to the economy, he pointed out.

"Farm-City Week is a forerunner of Thanksgiving, giving Texans time to reflect on the benefits and bounty of modern agriculture and to count the many blessings it provides," Bobby Roberts concluded.

Stenholm announces Whip candidacy

Congressman Charles Stenholm, one of the most conservative members of the U. S. House of Representatives, recently announced his candidacy for Democratic whip in the 104th Congress.

"On November 8th the nation's voters unequivocally told Congress they wanted change, and I believe the Democratic Party must redefine itself if it is going to win back middle America's voters," said Stenholm. "We have dangerously reduced the Big Tent of the Democratic Party to a Pup Tent, and a great number of Americans feel left out in the rain."

As the founder and coordinator of the Conservative Democratic Forum (CDF), Stenholm has worked tirelessly to bring a conservative perspective to the Democratic Party.

Stenholm observed that the election results were not only a referendum on the Clinton Administration, but also a message from the electorate that it is time for the Congress to change both the way it does business and the direction in which it is taking the country.

"We in the Democratic Party have an opportunity to re-define the Party and regain our majority status," said Stenholm. "I believe that my voice added to the leadership team will lead us in that direction."

Sims announces intern program

State Senator Bill Sims has announced that he is sponsoring an intern program again this next session. The program will be for the 74th legislative session, which begins January 10, 1995, and runs through May.

"This session promises to be very interesting," says Senator Sims. "We have had a good response in years past, and I am looking forward to having even more of my constituents involved in the legislative process through the 24th District."

Because of limited space in the senator's office, internships are restricted to residents of the 24th Senatorial District, which includes the following counties: Bell, Brown, Burnet, Callahan, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Coryell, Lampasas, Llano (partial), McCulloch, Menard, Mills, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, San Saba, Shackelford, Stephens, Taylor (partial), and Young.

Residents of the 24th Senatorial District who are interested in being a part of this program for a few days during the legislative session may call Detta Haffelder at (512) 463-0125. Effective January 1, 1995, the telephone number will change to (512) 463-0124, or you may write to PO Box 12068, Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711.

HEALTH NOTES

Worst Time For Heart Attacks

Going back to work Monday mornings somehow results in the greatest risk of a heart attack, more than any other day of the week.

A scientist who observed that heart attacks are two to three times more likely to occur in the morning than other times of the day has completed a five-year study in Germany that shows Monday mornings are the riskiest, by one-third. Dr. Stefan Willich wrote in the American Heart Association journal Circulation that the higher risk of a heart attack Monday mornings occurred only in working people - blue collar and white collar alike - but not in people who did not work, such as those who were retired.

Dr. Willich says the reason for the increased risk of a heart attack is not obvious, but among the possibilities are physical and mental stresses, body rhythms or behavior patterns.
