Quick Action Due On Great Plains Soil Program

State, Conservationist H. N. Smith of the U. S. Soil Conser-Plains program in this state.

Smith said that he called a conference of state leaders of agricultural programs and agencies in Texas for Jan. 11 at College station to blueprint the plan for action on the farm and range lands of the 85 counties in that portion of the state.

program was recently placed on the Soil Conservation Service by the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Smith pointed out that Secretary Benson's order provided for Gin. the continuing of the resources of the Department of Agriculture's various agencies in a stepby-step process for making longtime adjustments in land use, cropping systems, and in the treatment of cultivated lands and range, under the climatic hazards of the Great Plains.

The Great Plains program. brought into being by Public Law 1021 only last August, is designed to give farmers and ranchers, the Great Plains area of the 10 involved states, both immediate and long-range help in the use of their land within its capabliities, Smith pointed out.

He explained that Public Law 1021 authorized an appropriation of not over $150 million for a 15-year period. Funds to aid farmers and ranchers are expected to be available after July 1, 1957. Expenditures may not exceed $25 million in any one year.

The program will apply in counties to be designated by the ecretary of agriculture in portions of Colorado, Kansas, Mon-tana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming.
"The continued drouth in these states has emphasized the need for such a program to help develop a more stable farm and ranch economy in this region," Smith said.

Wind erosion in the Great Plains area of Texas is serious with 403,000 acres damaged during October and November. Approximately 6,500,000 acres in a 68 county area of northwest Texas are in condition to be damaged by wind erosion this winter and spring, Smith announced.

He emphasized that the Great Plains program is not an annual or district type program nor does it replace any other existing agricultural program.

"This is a way to an enduring agriculture based on the capabilities of land geared to the climatic hazards that we all know Mrs. B. E. Tompkins, Haskell, are ever-present in this impor-tant area," he said. "It is not a Mrs. J. W. Derr, Haskell, med- production adjustment or an in come supplement program. It is a voluntary program with long-term assurance of needed financial

R. A. Gillispies, Pioneer Rockdale Couple Observe Golden Wedding December 23

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Gillespie, among the early settlers of this area, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with open house at their home in the Rockdale community Sunday after-

Friends and relatives from over a large area of West Texas join-ed with them in the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie have no children, but there are a number of relatives in this vicinity and many of them helped with the party details.

In the houseparty were Mr. and Mrs. Cody West of Goree, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKeever, Mr. and Mrs. John Guillet and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gillespie and daughter, Pamela, of Munday, Becky Gillespie of Oderse. Gillespie of Odessa. Gold flowers formed the centerpiece of the refreshment table which was covered with a gold cloth overlaid with lace. The anniversary cake was cut and served with gold punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were married in Haskell County Dec. 23, 1906. They now own land where the back of her head. Mrs. Gillespie was Bena West, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. West and was born in Bell County, three miles east of Tem-ple. The West family came from Tennessee. They came to Stamford in 1901.

Mr. Gillespie was born three miles east of Stamford Feb. 12, 1886, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Gillespie. They lived in West Virginia and later in Kaufman County before they came to Jones County in 1885, among the earliest settlers of this area. The Gillespies can remember dred.

Producers Develop Chickens, Turkeys, To Buyers Standard

College Station-The average housewife may know nothing about the science of genetics as applied to animal breeding, but nevertheless she exerts a big inpoultry marketing specialist.

The housewife can be thanked, he says, for the improved appearance of poultry offered on today's markets. Store sales showed that women prefer a readydressed, meaty bird with yellow skin and light pin feathers that eliminate the tedious job that used to be a part of getting a chicken or turkey ready for cooking. Breeders went to work to to help producers meet these requirements and to provide a bird which is easy to dress for ready-to-cook sales.

The results can readily be seen by comparing the poultry on the market today with that obtainable a few years ago. Poultry sales have increased phenomenally-sales of chicken meat increased from 3 pounds to 21 pounds per person annually between 1935 and 1955; turkey sales rose from less than 2 pounds to 5 pounds per person during the same period, says Schlamb.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

Happy New Year! And just to two children of Dallas, Helen Jean going to be, it is trying to be cloudy this very day. I hope everybody is having blackeyed from Lubbock. Others were Mr. peas today, because that is supposed to bring good luck. I think Leon, Mrs. R. L. Medford and District Leon, Mrs. R. L. Medford and R. a Yankee taught us that in the army and they thought blackeyed peas should be eaten on New Year's Day and fed to the pigs and cattle on other days. We and cattle on other days. Texans eat them all year long and love them green or dried, but since the army days we have had them every NewYear 's Day for sure. I think, traditional think like that are fun anyway. Paint Creekers have Ray Overthank for raising such a patch of peas so we could all can and freeze a winter's supply.

We all had visitors, went visiting and ate too much and every body I have talked to had a wonderful Christmas.

Mrs. Irene Ballard went Mississippi to spend Christmas with her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Louie Spinks and children. Her brothers Jim and Bill Perrin made the trip with her and they had a wonderful trip. They stayed a week and then when they got home, Mrs. Ballard made a business trip to Hereford and home today.

Mrs. Durward Livengood had a large gathering of relatives for dinner Christmas Day. They were Durward's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Livengood and her father, J. F. Jones of Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Baker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis, all of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones and two sons of Brownfield, Mrs. Katie Parker of Stamford and Miss Sallie Jones of Abilene. Then Edith's family were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery, her brother, Wayne Dibeck, her nephew, John

C. Montgomery, his wife and son and Mrs. Pearl Dilbeck, Haskell. The relatives of Mrs. J. L. Earles went to Vernon on Monday, Dec. 17 to have Christmas with her. She has been in the hospital there for quite a while. Her daughters took decorations and decorated the dining room at a cafe where they had Christmas dinner and it was such a nice Christmas party. Those enjoying the day were her husband

L. Earles Sr., her sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Earles and Dodie, Mr. and Mrs. Jody Earles, Joe Bob. Jane and Margie and Mr. and Mrs R. V. Earles. Her daughters, Mrs. Veda Middlebrooks. It is school census time again, work through the school rolls for the school children already school age, but I might miss a new first grader. So if you know Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Velton of any child who will be six before next September, please send ters Mrs. John R. The Earles down this year becuse so many children spent Christmas Day at families have moved to town, the home of their father J. There is some talk of changing our school district lines, because there are people who are on the line, and don't want their children in a rural school, but prefer to pay Paint Creek school taxes instead of Haskell or Stamford taxes. While other families have to pay the higher town taxes and have their children in our school. When Nais Cafe burned in Stamford the only thing that was not damaged by the fire and smoke was an electric train that was gift-wrapped under the counter. It was the gift from Nat's employees to Bobby Selby. Bob loves trains and we know he has enjoyed this one since Christmas.

Beginners, Primary and Inter-mediate classes had the Christ-Beginners, Primary and Intermediate classes had the Christmas program at the Methodist Church Sunday night before Christmas, and Bro. Thompson said they brought so many little sermons, he would just let that be the sermon for the evening. The program was directed by Mrs. Gene Perry and Mrs. Ailen Isbell. We surely will miss the Gene Perrys when they move to Stanton next week. Gene has been superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School, and Jeannine has been our pianist and has taught the Primary class. But they want to farm so badly, and were able to get some irrigated land out there, so we are gled for them. Jerry Hanson is the county agent at Stanton, and Gene and Jerry have been close filends since high school days at Paint Creek. Jerry's wife and Jeannine were reared together at Weinert, so it is real nice, except their leaving us.

The community extends its deepest sympathy to Mr. and

Plentiful Foods Has Varied Items

With the passing of another holiday season and the beginning of a New Year, homemakers will still find a long ist of plentiful foods to meet the family dietary needs in January.

Eggs, potatoes and canned sweet corn are given feature spots on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's January plentiful foods list. These foods, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service's regional office in Dallas, are in heavy supply not only in the Southwest but in all parts of the nation.

Red meats, including beef, pork, turkeys, brokers and fryers, are also listed. Other high protein foods are ocean perch fillets, milk and other dairy products. In the Southwest, rice and pecans also will be plentiful. Fruits expected to be in good supply during January include winter pears, dates, dried prunes and canned purple plums.

The only vegetable on the list, other than potatoes, is onlons.

Colored Residents Enjoy Orderly Holiday Season

Haskell's colored residents cer-ebrated the Christmas and New Year's holidays without a single instance of disorderly conduct or disturbance, reports Albert Hall, proprietor of the Yellow Dog cafe and dance hall and popular re-creational center for colored people's activities.

Hail estimated that at least 350 or more people attended the several dances and other social events held during the holiday season. "There were no arguments or disturbances at any of the gatherings," Hall said.

Final event of the holiday season for the colored people was a New Year's party Tuesday night sponsored by the "44 Club" to usher in the New Year.
