Repeat Vows

Miss Linda Gayle Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams, Sr., of Haskell became the bride of Joe Elmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Elmore of Haskell in a ceremony solemn-ized at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvie Fought, sister of the bride. Rev. Roland Williams, pastor of East Side Baptist Church officiated.

The couple recited wedding vows before a basket of pink gladiolus banked with greenery. The bride wore a blue linen suit with pink accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Attendants were Miss Ina Mae Adams, sister of the bride, Haskell, and Kenneth Schwartz also of Haskell. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home where cake and punch were served. The couple will be at home in Lamesa where Mr. Elmore is employed with the National Geophysical Co.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Oneal of Haskell, and the groom is the son of K. D. Fought of Stamford and Mrs. John Perrell of Hutchinson, Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white bal-lerina length gown of soft nylon with seed pearls embroidered about the neckline. Her veil was of fingertip length and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. the bride, wore a gown of orchid bouquet of daisies. The brides-

Beneath an arch banked with maids, Mrs. Gene Brown, Has-Knox City, cousin of the bride, wore dresses styled similar to that of the matron of honor. They were of pink and blue imported organdy. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of daisies.

Serving the groom as best man was H. D. Fought, Haskell, uncle of the groom. Ushers were Gene Brown, Haskell and Horace Wayne Oneal, Haskell, brother of

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Home Economics Cottage. In the receiving line were the bridat couple, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Oneal and Mrs. John Perrell, the groom's mother.

Mrs. Fought chose a blue suit of wool orlon accented with Navy Marvin Rowan, Pampa, sister of accessories for her going away costume. The couple are now at imported organdy and carried a home in Haskell following a short wedding trip.

Abilene Navy Recruiter, announced today that a special company of red-blooded Texans, sailing under the banner of the "Texan" Company, will be enlisted in April by the Navy in an intensified program to obtain the best quality men for service with the Fleet. This company will be enlisted on April 24, 1956, and leave immediately for recruit training at San Diego, Calif. Young men who enlist in the

"Texan" Company will travel with their buddies and close friends, do recruit training with them, and return home on leave with them in early July. nine training will last about

High school graduates are es-pecially desired for the "Texan" Company, Most of these men will be sent to Navy school where they will learn to operate and maintain highly complicated machinery and weapons. This training is necessary in order to meet the forthcoming needs of the nuclear-powered ships and supersonic jet aircraft of our new Navy. Upon graduation from Navy schools, these men will be assigned to important jobs on ships that will take them many of the most interesting and adventurous places in the world.

"It isn't necessary to be high school graduate to qualify for the "Texan" Company, Chief Loftin stated, "but the Navy believes that a man who has what it takes to graduate from high school is a better bet for further extensive training in the Navy Any man with a good record who wants to travel, work, learn a trade-and can pass the Armed Forces Qualification Test-we'll take him.

Men desiring to become member of the "Texan" Company may apply for enlistment at the nearest Navy Recruiting Station. Here in Haskell the local Navy Recruiter is located at the Post Office or Court House building each Thursday.

California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District News

Several farmers in the California Creek and Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation Districts are planning to seed grass this year. Several grasses are adapted to this area. The kind of grass to plant depends upon how the farmer plans to use the land. If it is to be retired from cultivation permanent native grasses should be used. If it is to be used in a crop rotation introduced grass could be used, such as blue panio, Buffalo grass or King Ranch bluestem.

Land that is subject to extensive wind and water erosion be planted to a permanent grass. This could be either a mixture Jerry Lee Kainer, a student at of native grasses such as little Texas Lutheran College, Seguin, bluestem, big bluestem, sideoats grama, and perhaps sand lovegrass on mixed or sandy land; or an introduced grass such as King Ranch bluestem. A native grass mixture should

John H. Clifton Is Candidate for Constable

John H. Clifton, well - known resident and member of a ploneer Haskell family, has authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the office of Constable of Precinct No. 1, subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Clifton is an Army veteran and native of Haskell, has never asked for a public office before. He stated his decision to seek the office of Constable had been made after careful consideration of the responsible duties of the office. and a desire to serve the community in an official capacity to the best of his ability ..

He has a background of experience which well qualifies him for the position which he seeks, having served as a member of the State Highway Patrol prior 7:30. to World War II until illness compelled his retirement.

During World War II, Mr. Clifton served in the Army, and was assigned to the Intelligence Service branch. If elected Constable, Mr. Clif-

Blue panic grass is highly rec-ommended for use in a crop ro-tation system. It is adapted to this area on both tight and sandy soils. Blue panic grass should be planted in rows and cultivated occasionally to control weeds.
This grass has proven excellent for hay production and grazing; making high yields on both dry-land and under irrigation.

Grass is an excellent soil conditioning crop and the most prac-tical method of conserving soil subject to severe erosion. It provides supplemental grazing while native pastures are being deferred, it provides an income from grazing, hay production, or seed supply. It will utilize land that cannot be planted to other cash crops.

Grass should be planted on a well prepared, but firm seedbed using either flat or shallow beds. Best results have been obtained when the seed are covered with only enough soil to hold them in place. Blue panic grass should be place. Blue panic grass should be planted in rows, with special planters having small seed attachments. K. R. bluestem and native grass mixtures may be either drilled or planted in rows. Equipment for planting grasses is available to farmers through the Soil Conservation District the Soil Conservation District. Grass planting should be protected from grazing until the grass is well established.

Seed may be obtained from local seed dealers or from farmers who have harvested seed.

Slaughter Cattle Prices Firm on Ft. Worth Market

By TED GOULDY

Fat seers and yearlings were steady to strong at Fort Worth. some yearlings and heifers selling better again. Seasonal improvement in fat cattle is being beloed by continuance of tapering off of supplies in the north. Cows ruled steady. Fat calves were steady to stronger. Others are tending lower. Corn Belt outlets are still bearish in view of losses during the past feeding season.

Comparative prices included: Fed steers and yearlings, good to choice, $16-$19; heifers $17.50 down. Plain to medium yearlings $12-$15.50. Fat cows $11.50-$13. some heiferish kinds higher. Canmers and cutters $7.50-$11.50. Dulls $10-$14.50, few higher, Good $15.50. Stocker steer calves $20 down; light yearlings $18.50 down; the heavier yearlings $17 down; stocker cows $9-$13.

Very few of the top meat type hogs were included in Monday's offerings at Fort Worth, making it difficult for salesmen to press for a higher market despite the smaller runs around the market desirable weights and grades $12-$14.50; and butcher pigs $10-$11.50. Sows drew $9-$12. Stags sold at $5-$6.

Soil Conservation Week Designated May 6 to 12

The week of May 6-12 is Soil Conservation District Week in Texas, It begins on Soil Stewardship Sunday, May 6, when many churches will hold special services to recall man's duty to the land. During the rest of the week most SDS will present special tours, programs and field days to publicize district accomplish-ments and objectives.

Texas has 172 soil conservaion district which embrace 96 per cent of land area of the state. These districts represent the greatest force-and the first organized, locally - controlled force - for the conservation of soil, water, plants and wildlife. Each soil conservation district was organized only after landowners of the area voted to have such a district. SCDs are legal sud-divisions of state government comparable to counties and school districts, but they have no taxing power. Each is governed by a board of five supervisors who must be landowners themselves and who are elected by farmers and ranchers of the dis-

A soil conservation district helps its cooperating farmers and ranchers plan and apply conservation measures on their land. Following a master plan which er and rancher committees, each district works toward the goal of complete conservation for all the land in the district. Supervisors function as a co-ordinating body to stimulate and guide the efforts of local groups and individuals toward achievement of the district goal. Technical assistance is provided by various agencies. such as Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, Forest Service and Vocational Agriculure teachers.

Any landowner can become a SCD cooperator by applying to the board of supervisors. Beoming a cooperator does not inany financial obligation. Texas SCDs now have 172,000 farmer and rancher cooperators, and the figure grows by 15,000 each year. Last year these cooperators cover-cropped 1,180,000 acres and stubble mulched 256,000 acres of Texas land. They controlled brush on 1.322000 acres and had 6,963,000 acres under deferred grazing. They built 10,700 11:30 a. m.

Haskell Firemen To Enter Contests At District Meet

Haskell firemen plan to have large delegation in attendance at the semi-annual meeting of the Mid-West Texas Firemens Association in Snyder April 12. The local department also will

100 Grade Officer Appointments Open In Army Reserve

Brigadier General Lewis ? Griffing, Chief of the Texas Military District, announced in Austin this week that a quota of 100 spaces had been allocated to the Fourth Army Area for appointments in the grade of lieutenant through captain in the U.S. Army

Appointments to fill this quota will be assignment to a United States Army Reserve control group. In this status appointees will sot be assigned to a specific unit, but will be in a reinforce-

To qualify a person must be a college graduate or possess the equivalent of a college degree. In some cases prior service personnel may have these requirements waived.

These appointments are open only to qualified individuals who due to geographic location or through lack of Army Reserve unit vacancy cannot obtain a commission

Interested individuals are urged to contact the Unit Command-375th Replacement Battalion. the Haskell County courthouse on Tuesday nights, or phone 105J.

An Economy Suggestion

Does the fact that we have law enforcement officers on state and local levels imply that all citizens are law violators?

Certainly not! Neither do laws requiring publication of financial statements by governing agencies, or open meetings of governing bodies, or that public records be open to public inspection imply that all government officials are corrupt. Yet many office holders resent and resist efforts to enact such laws because they say they are a reflection on their honesty!

Actually, such laws would be a protection to honest officials. just as the policeman is a protection to honest citizens.

Lack of an adequate police force tends to make people careless and they often do little things they would not do if an officer of the law were close at hand. Like speed laws, for instance. Isn't it surprising how much more carefully people drive when they see a highway patrol car parked by the side of the road?

Laws requiring publication of financial statements by taxspending agencies of the government are chiefly beneficial as a preventive measure. Few officials will unlawfully expend money if it has to be reported publicly. Most officials will weigh carefully what might be only an unwise expenditure if they know it is to be printed for all to see.

Officials move more cautiously in transacting government business when their meetings are open to the public, or when minutes of their activities are subject to public investigation. This makes for better government, for sounder thinking and planning in goverment. It just about puts the occasional corrupt official out of

It was reported during the Duval County investigations that fin ancial statements made to Austin authorities showed that hundreds of dollars had been paid carpenters for repairs on school buildings. Until the investigation began. Austin had no way of knowing these were not legitimate, but it was revealed during the investigations that carpenters had not done any work and had not received any

How long would such practices have continued had the school district been required to publish financial statements in local newspers? The carpenters would have revealed the fraud immediately, of course, but more important—it never would have been attempted if publication had been required.

That's why Texas now has some laws requiring publication of quarterly statements by officials handling public funds and needs more laws requiring that public business be made public. That's why Texas voters should demand that candidates make known their attitudes on such measures during this campaign year.

St. Louis'll Never Be the Same Again, Following Weekend Trip of HHS Seniors

BY CHARLENE WHITE

St. Louis will never be the same. That's the concerted opinion of HHS Seniors who returned Monday from their long anticipaled trip to the Missouri city.

They got off to a festive if omewhat crowded start at 12:30 m. Thursday when 60 Seniors, sponsors, 84 pieces of luggage and 32 fried chickens were loaded onlo school buses for the first leg if the trip.

Upon arrival in Wichita Falls, the group carried the luggage and the much more treasured fried hicken to the train and sat back o await departure. While waitig they were visited by four ex-HHS Seniors, Clarence Callaway, ohn Duncan, Rosalie McCall Betty Waldrip, and one old friend, Dr. R. K. McCall.

Joined by Mr. and Mrs. Emery Luckett representatives of the M-K-T Line, they left Wichita Falls with water guns in full rce. It wasn't long though, fore the water guns were discarded in favor of fried chicken. Re- Hong Kong which opens Sunday portedly. "Jerry Larned almost te us off the train."

They were afraid they would have trouble sleeping on a train, but this was satisfactorily solved nobody tried. The Seniors arrived at the big city and waited mpatiently as the train "backed, switched, and went through tunnels and buildings forty-eleven

Rumor had gotten around the Lennox Hotel that they were students from either Harvard U. or the U. of Houston. A bellboy muttered that it didn't make difference, there'd be trouble regardless. Obviously a

After checking into the hotel the group relaxed a bit and got mack their sea legs before taking chartered bus to the Chevrolet plant. The trip showed them the omplete Chevrolet assembly This is the only plant in the S. where the Corvette sports car is made. Only ten are produced each day and are hand made by skilled mechanics. (Wonder if the Ford Thunderbird will re-

"The auliences are encouraged to hiss villain and cheer the hero and heroine, and don't think we init take advantage of it!" CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH Rev. Earl Moore, Pastor

Sunday morning. April 1 will be long remembered in the hearts of a record breaking crowd at the Central Baptist Church in Haskell, as the Lord blessed with a spirit filled, heartfelt, glorious service.

Our hearts were made to rejoice when one of our young deacons. Bro. Cleaburne J. Moore surrendered to the Gospel Ministry. Thanks be unto God that He still calls those to preach the Word. Bro. Moore is 34 years old, a veteran of World War II, serving in the infantry. While serving in the Far East he was wounded in action. He has wonderful family, his wife, Hazel, and daughter Rita June, age 8. Bro. Moore is a lifelong resident of Haskell and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Moore who live about three miles north of

Bro. Moore will preach his first sermon next Sunday night, April at 8 o'clock at the Central Baptist Church. We invite everyone to come and be in this service. Also a cordial invitation to all services at the Central Baptist Church.

rushing things. Everything from bees to pekes, that's what you'll find at Mrs. Claude Warren's pet shop. "But this is like no other pet shop in the world," says the cheery little proprietor, "we don't have a monkey or parrot." Most everything else they do have, tho.' This reporter was particularly entranced by some 3weeks old pekinese puppies, with noses that seem to just vanish. The mother of the sextuplets was most attentive until we tried to snap a picture of her with her progeny, then she disappeared. Besides the pekes, Mrs. Warren showed us a trio of Boston screwtails, Chihauhaus, and a fox terrier. The Chihauhaus are Mrs. Warrens favorites, except, that is when one gets out of his run. We joined the pursuit with enthusiasm and verve which soon degenerated into an exasperated, "How can he get so close and still stay out of reach?"

After rounding up the pup, we rather breathlessly wandered over to the aviaries and admired the seemingly hundreds of parakeets in every possible When we bought our first parakeets, several years ago, they cost us $8 a pair. Now they sell for 50c almost," she reflected sadly. We flicked away a tear or two, and wandered over to another pen wherein reigned ducks, Why do people want ducks?" we asked. (We often think of clever questions like that.) "For pets?" She replied, "No, you're supposed to pick the feathers, for pillows and things." "Oh," we said. "We have Muscoveys, Mallards and Pekins, here at the shop." We asked, "What kind of ducks are those over there?" "Those are chickens," she replied with a questioning look. "Oh," we rather hurriedly changed ley Furth.

"See that marked off place in the yard? We're going to make that a gold fish pond," she said. "By the way, you might mention in your story, that those tropical fish are called guppies not 'guffies.' More people come in and want 'guffies.' she said disgustedly. "Yes'um," we said.

By this time we had gotten to the rabbit cages. "How many rabbits do you have?" "Well, you know rabbits," she said dubiously. So we counted them. Six babies and three adults, including the black sheep, that's to be found in every crowd, and a guinea pig. Very sensitive that guinea pig. Mrs. Warren neglected to feed him right away, so he went back into his shelter and sulked.

We pulled out our camera then started snapping pictures. Trying to get a good shot of the peke puppies, we started backing up, up—and that's when we found out Mrs. Warren keeps bees. The hard way, we found out. Stingingly Yours,

The miniature prairie schooner Indians were pretty tame by displayed at The Free Press of then," he reminisced. fice to ballyhoo the upcoming Rice Springs Roundup May 17-19. brought back a rush of memories to one of the county's long-time want to go. In those days, Texas residents, John A. Lee, Rule,

Mr. Lee, a retired mercantile merchant, recalled the trip he and his family made to Boise. Idaho in a covered wagon in 1880. "I remember our first stop was at the Goodnight Ranch in Seymour. I was 6 at the time, my sister Dora, 12 and my brother Our old home is the first house George, 4. The Goodnight's had south of the jail there," he resome pet buffaloes on the ranch and we got the greatest kick out

Making the trip to Idaho they had to go through Colorado. "It was hard going through the mountains, because there were no roads. However, we managed to find some railroad tracks and followed them for several miles. Also there were stage coach tracks we could follow. Those stage coach drivers were sure reckless. Once they tried to run over me, but I wouldn't let them. he laughed.

There were lots of bears in those mountains. Every morning when we children would wake up. we'd see bear tracks all around the camp. They never bothered anything though. They were wild days. They wouldn't get in the car with you like they now," he said scornfully

When asked how they carried food and supplies on the long trek, he explained. "We had buffalo hides tacked under the wagon and we put food, poss, pans, and camping needs in these rawhide baskets. We didn't need much food, because everytime turned around you ran into a deer, antelope, prairie chicken, or some kind of game.

"We children would get tired He expressed the hope that own-of riding in our own wagon and ers of such property would tkae we'd get out and ride with one steps to tidy it up during Clean. of the others. # TAX ESTIMATES

You must file a declaration of estimated tax if you have an income of more than $5,000 a year-$10,000 for heads of a household and married couples filing a joint return. Also, you must file if you have more than $100 in income not subject to withholding-provided your total income for the year is more than $400 larger than the amount that results from multiplying $600 by the number of your exemp-

This estimate, with a payment of one-fourth of the amount you expect to owe, must be submitted to the Director of Internal Revenue by April 15th. We will be glad to render any assistance needed in the preparation of your estimate.

Mrs. M. T. Wilson of Roby vis. Sagerton and Rule Had Beginning in 1905 With Coming of Orient Railway

on early days in this section. based on material in the late R. E. Sherrill's History of Haskell County

By CHARLENE WHITE In writing the history of Haskell, the importance of nearby communities cannot be discounted. The citizens of these communities have contributed, either direstly or indirectly, to the growh and prosperity of Haskell.

The town of Sagerton was founded by William Sager on a tract of land belonging to him and named after him, during the summer and fall of 1905.

The first school building was erected in 1910. It was damaged and torn down in 1920. A new bond issue of $15,000 was voted, and the money with insurance and material from the old building was used in erecting the new school with 7 rooms for seven teachers. The total amount of the bonds was $32,000. Near the town is a very fine gravel bed owned by Park Caudle. from which have been shipped to distant points, hundreds of car loads of gravel. Surrounding the town on three sides is a body of fine dark land, and near by to the west are the rich bottom lands of the Brazos River, farmed by a substantial body of farm-

Rule, about 10 miles to the west of Haskell, was founded in 1905 when the Orient Railroad was building north through the county. by J. L. Jones, on land belonging to him and named after W. A. Rule, cashier of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City. Mo., and treasurer of the Orient. The road reached the own in January, 1906.

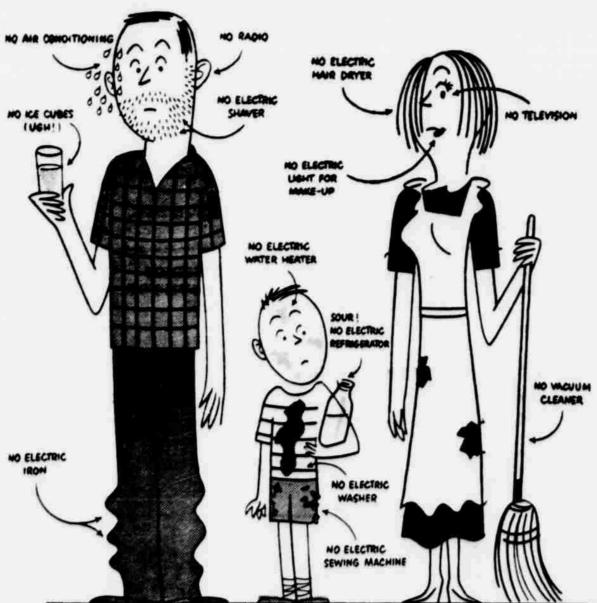

The town owns its own water plant and has an excellent school plant, to which was recently added a new wing.

In 1907, the town built a cement rossing through the sandy bed of the Brazos River, and has held many community fairs. February 5, 1906, A. B. Carthers contracted with the offirials of the Orient Railway for a town on his land, agreeing to give the right of way through his land and 160 acres for a town site. Rails were laid into the town April 1, 1906. The town was named Rochester after Mr. Stillwell's home town of Rochester, N. Y. The town was incorporated in April. 1922 and owns its own water works and fire department. O'Brien was founded in 1906 when the Orient Railroad built through the county, on land be-longing to Tom Carney, and was named Carney after its founder. Later the name was changed to O'Brien after N. F. O'Brien, Texas manager of the Orient road. Weinert was founded by F. C. Weinert of Seguin, Texas, and named after him, when the Wichita Valley Railroad built through ed by a large body of fine agricultural land, and near to the sandy land on the prairie north

These communities now depend on farming for their main source

Modern family minus electricity

What would you do without low-cost electric service in your home? Well - you could use candles. And build fires. And use elbow grease for all the jobs Reddy Kilowatt does automatically. If you did, you would be reminded quickly - and forcefully - how much your electric service does at such low costs for each of the many jobs. Your electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget. What else gives you so much value in comfort, health, ease and fun? Keeping your electric service high in usefulness, low in cost is the main job of your electric service company.

ming whatever had been done in the county. The entire county had been given over to cattle, horses and sheep. The settlers had planted a few gardens and experimental patches, but there was regular farming. Cattlemen did not want farmers and discouraged every attempt.

George Cook, in the sand near the forks of the Brazos River in the western part of the county had a few acres of corn and other crops which did well. He claimed the corn made about 25 bushels per acre. The little experiments made by him and some others were just enough to show that crops could be grown here.

Although it was an exceedingy dry year in 1886, the crops had the benefit of the drouth resisting quality of sandy soil, the richness of newly broken land, the help of a little rain, and matured corn, feed and lot of melons. It was election year, and Geo. Cook was running for the assessorcollector's office. He used his melons freely to advance his chances for office. The boys cheered him and bragged on his melons, but to his disgust, he lost the office and the melons too. But he is justly entitled to the credit of being the pioneer farmer of Haskell County.
