Haskell's City Council Tuesday evening agreed to contact the Fort Worth firm of Freese and Nichols to discuss an extended survey of the property proposed for a city lake, and granted a qualified permit to Gilliam and Dean Butane Co. to install & storage tank in the city.

Meeting with the council Tuesday were four members of the Chamber of Commerce Water Resources Committee. They asked the aldermen to request the en-gineering firm of Freese and Nichols to make an extensive survey of the Coody land in order that definite conclusions as to the feasibility of building a lake might be drawn.

The members of the council voted unanimously to contact the nationally known water resources firm and request a representative to meet with the council in the near future.

The members of the C of group were Rex Felker, C. of C. manager, Gene Hunter, Roy Johnson and Hallie Chapman. Other business taken up in-

M. R. Hemphill, a retired of operator, said the salt content of faskell water was increasing and predicted it would be only "a matter of time until the salt breaks through and ruins all the water wells in town.'

Mustangs, Pirates Battle to 30-30 Deadlock

Paint Creek Pirates unwound a fourth quarter scoring rally Thursday night to manage a 30-30 draw with the Mattson Mustangs in a District 4 six-man football game.

The contest, played on Mustang Field attracted a record crowd for the season.

Paint Creek trailed, 30-8, heading into the fourth quarter but the passing of Leon Hokanson made up the difference in quick order. Hokanson passed to Eddie Thane for Paint Creek's first counter in the first quarter, then hurled three more in the fourth period, two to Thane and to Eddie Earles which knotted the score. He also kicked three of the four point-after attempts.

Gene Mapes paced the Mattson attack with three touchdowns, and Arlon Alexander scored once and booted three conversions for the

Fire Chief Urges Fire Prevention Week Observance

The 1955 fire record, higher

The 1955 fire record, higher than 1954's in almost every way, emphasized the need for full-scale observance of Fire Prevention Week Oct. 7-13, Chief Ray Lusk of the Haskell Fire Department stated here this week.

Referring to figures compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, Chief Lusk pointed out that in 1955 fire took an estimated 11,000 lives and destroyed property worth $885,218,000—1.6 per cent over the 1954 property shows an increase of almost every ype of fire. Residential fires for example, totalled 291,324-almost 2,000 over 1954. Increases were noted in all other types of build-ing fires: mercantile, manufac-turing, non-residential assembly. storage and miscellaneous. The grand total-nearly 409,044 building fires-is greater by nearly 10,000 than the previous year's figures. The only decrease, and it was a sizeable one, was in the number of grass and brush fires: 248,000 more than 35,000 fewer than in 1954.

Home fires continue to be the most common type of building fire. In 1955 they represented 35 per cent of all fires—a slightly greater percentage than the year before. Chief Lusk urges every householder in the community, therefore, to increase his efforts to locate and eliminate fire hazards in his home. ards in his home.

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day "Then he went on to say that he flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drouth. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway. anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisen-hower is keeping it from rain-

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas tration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drouth, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

New Cottons Star In Fall Fashion Parade

Seasons come and go, and the American woman wears cotton from dawn to dusk at home, at work, and at play. Cotton has always been out in front of the cummer fashion parade. Now this versatile fabric has become an established leader in fall and winter styles.

Good-looking, chill-chasing cottons are more plentiful than ever this year the National Cotton Council reports. They are to be found in clothes for campus, career, party, and leisure wear. New cotton knits have been treated for washability, crease resistance, and shrinkage control. They appear in sweaters, skirts, dresses, and tapered trousers. Hoods and drawstring waists which give a blousy effect to dresses and tops are in keeping with current fashion trends. In addition to bulky knits, cotton knitwear features surface textures, stripes, tweeds, checks, and Plain or printed, corduroy is a strong favorite. The prints include paisley designs, fine stripings, provincial patterns, bold plaids, and gilt touched fabrics. Plain and print combinations are emphasized in tackets skirts jump phasized in jackets, skirts, jump-ers, pedal pushers and slender slacks. Many of these combinations are designed for multiple mixing and matching. Long-sleeved blouses of heavy broadcloth, calico and tie prints, and polished solid cottons mix well with the corduroy fashions.

Velveteen is definitely a bright spot in this year's collection of winter cottons. Red, purple, aqua, and shocking pink are leading colors. This dressy cotton fabric is being widely used in narrow sheaths, long slim pants for at-home entertaining, and raincoats. Embroidered cotton faille with the look of silk is another popuforced to drive lar fabric for dress and evening

Canvas denim, poplin and gab-ardine appear in a wide selection of skirts, pants and jackets for sport and home wear. These sturdy cotton fabrics, in natural or in bright colors, are pretty as well as practical

Thanks to textile finishers and fashion designers, there's a place for cotton in milady's fall and winter wardrobe, not only in work-a-day attire but in town and travel suits, afternoon sheaths and glamorous evening wear.

Oil Production in Texas Tops Billion Barrels Yearly

Texas oil production in the 10 years since World War II nearly equalled total production of the preceding 50 years and generated $22,921,000,000 for the state's ec-onomy during the decade, accord-ing to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association in a special Oil Progress Week report.

During the 1946-55 period Texas produced more than 9 billion barrels of crude oil, with output for the past five years averaging slightly more than 1 billion barrels a year, the association said.

Rate of production per day rose from an average of 2,083,000 bar-rels to 2,901,000 barrels for the period.

According to the new edition of the booklet. Texas Oil and Gas, published by the Association, Texas producers increased the state's crude oil reserves by 3.3 billion barrels in addition to producting the 9 billion barrels during the post-war decade, indicating that 12 billion barrels of crude were found during the period.

Texas has an estimated 17.9 billion barrels of oil reserves-14.9 billion in crude oil and the remainder in natural gas liquids. The state has 50 per cent of the nation's oil reserves and produces 43 per cent of the domestic output, according to Texas Oil and

Texas has dropped back in relation to world production over the past 10 years, however. Texas now produces only 18 per cent of the world's crude oil. In 1946 of the world crude output in 1946, is now producing 21 per cent. Percentagewise, Venezuela, another prolific producing region, held steady at 14 per cent for the comparable periods.

Texas produced 39 per cent of the oil consumed in the U.S. in 1946, dropping to 33 per cent for 1955. During the same period the share of the U.S. market held by oil from other countries jumped from 7 per cent to 14 per cent. According to Texas Of and Gas, the greatest part of Texas oil production has been from fields discovered prior to the end of World War II. A study of 269 of the state's largest fields (3,000 barrel a day fields which account for 80 per cent of the state's production) shows that about 27 er cent of the 1955 production 1,058,720.000,000 barrels was om fields discovered since 1945. Thirty per cent of the state's roduction was from fields disovered between 1926 and 1935, and 33 per cent from fields found between 1936 and 1945. Only about 2 per cent comes from fields dis-covered before World War I. At the beginning of 1956 Texas had 6.625 oil fields, including 10 which proc than 10 barrels annually and 181 which produce more than 1 million barrels a year. Texas has about 160,000 wells which produce an average of 19 barrels a day. About a third of these are "stripper" wells, with average production of less than 5 barrels a day. Together, however, they account for about one out of 10 barrels produced

Oil fields are produced under strict conservation laws. The rate is affected by the demand for Texas oil and the ability of the individual fields to produce efficiently. The 1 million barrel-aday reserve capacity in Texas represents the difference between current demands and the flow rate the wells could maintain if produced at their MER

(maximum efficient rate). Value of Texas oil production in 1955 was estimated at more than $3 billion. Total value of crops and livestock sold in Texas last year was 1.8 billion.

Much of the oil dollar is reinvested in hunting for more oil. One industry survey shows that an amount equal to 65 cents out every dollar received from crude oil sales is spent on finding and developing new reserves.

Large portions of the oil dollar for production costs, royalty, and taxes. Texas farmers, ranchrs, and other royalty owners 1955 received an estimated $450 million as their share of the ale of crude oil. Production of oil requires the ervices of about 60,700 Texans the draw some $337 million in ages each year. In addition to the $1 billion op. erators spend each year in drilling activities, maintenance after production is found, is a major cost item. An estimated $22 million a year goes into pumping equipment alone, according to Texas Oil and Gas.

What A Leading Texas Newspaper Thinks About President Eisenhower

Ike Is Endorsed By Star-Telegram

FORT WORTH (19) .- The Fort Worth Star-Telegram in its Sunday edition came out editorially in favor of President Eisenhower in the presidential campaign.

The editorial said in part: "Just as he has commanded the respect of the American people in the White House, President Eisenhower has commanded the respect of the world, and in the eyes of Soviet Russia as well, he is a man of stature , ,

"The Star-Telegram believes Mr. Eisenhower has been a good president, and in some respects an extraordinary one.

"He has come closer, in our view, than any president in this century to being the president of all the people rather than one segment or one party.

"As between him and the untried, inexperienced and some-what unpredictable Mr. Steven-son, it is the Star-Teegram's conviction that it would be to the interest of the country to re-elect Mr. Eisenhower for a second term.
