Grocery Ticket Dated in 1933 Wins First Place in Gholson Contest

A sales slip for groceries purchased at the J. W. Gholson in the fall of 1933 won first place award for V. C. (Dick) Dulaney of Haskell in the contest sponsored by the store to locate the oldest sales ticket from the store. Dulaney, a Haskell ginners, said...

Mrs. Dulaney ran across the faded sales slip among some old papers and letters. Second prize, for the next oldest sales slip went to Rice Alvis, Haskell farmer, who had a grocery ticket, from Gholson's dated in 1908.

A 1940 sales slip from the Gholson store won third place award for Mrs. Lynn Toller of this city. The contest, held in connection with the store's anniversary, created considerable interest. Manager Buster Gholson said, "It was a lot of fun for the store and customers, and a surprisingly large number of grocery tickets five, ten, and fifteen years old showed up."

An interesting comparison of today's prices with those of 19 years ago was furnished in the ticket brought in by Mr. Alvis. Two large loaves of bread for 25c would cost 27c each, or 54c today. Three cans of tomatoes for 25c in 1938 now retail at 25c per can. A large box of crackers selling at 30c in 1938 is now priced at 55c, and a can of pimientos which sold for 10c in 1938 now costs 17c.

FORT CHAFFEE, ARK.—A perfect score of 160 was recorded at the Known Distance carbine range at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas.

Couple Seeking to Adopt Child Lose Custody of Boy

Jury hearing testimony Monday in a child custody case tried before District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, awarded custody of Nicklass John Dunlap, two years old, to the child's mother, Doris Dunlap Stocks and husband, Dean Stocks.

Seeking to retain custody of the 2-year-old boy, whom they had tentatively adopted last April 22, were Mr. and Mrs. James Aubrey "Slick" Boyd of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd testified they had been given custody of the boy in April by the child's mother, with the understanding Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were to adopt the boy. They had been caring for the boy since that time, they testified.

Subsequently, the 20-year-old mother of the child changed her mind about giving up the boy, and blocked adoption proceedings in a court hearing.

On Monday's trial, following testimony of a number of witnesses, including the boy's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, and others the case was submitted to the jury on five special issues. Answers of the jury favored the child's mother and her husband.

Representing Mr. and Mrs. Boyd as legal counsel in efforts to retain custody of the child were Royce Adkins and Dale Condron, Haskell attorneys. Mr. and Mrs. Stocks had A. J. Smith, Jr., of Anson as counsel.

Films of African Hunt Shown Rotary Club Thursday

Colored films of a big game hunt in Africa were shown members of the Rotary Club at its luncheon and meeting Thursday by Roy Tankersley of Knox City.

Tankersley and Morris Edwards of Clyde, Texas, made the trip to Africa in January and February of this year. They spent several weeks hunting big game, and filmed a major part of the excursion into the African wilds.

In addition to filming wildlife, many other interesting scenes of their tour were shown. Tankersley also gave an interesting commentary on the various scenes. He related that he and Edwards were successful in securing trophies of almost every animal native to Africa, including a large lion and a hippopotamus. Tankersley also told of visiting India, Singapore, and Malaya on the tour.

During the brief business session, Club president Robt. E. King announced that plans for the club adopted at a directors meeting Wednesday night would be reported at the next meeting. Attendance during July was 98.4 per cent, King stated.

Guests at Thursday's meeting were Floyd Lusk of Haskell, and several members of the Stamford Rotary Club, including President Johnny Grissom, Bernard Bryant, Bernard Buis, and Dr. Blackwell.

Rev. C. Jones, Retired Fills In As Supply Minister in Original Pastorate

The Rev. C. Jones, veteran West Texas Baptist preacher, who retired last May from the active ministry after 55 years in the mission field and pulpit, last Sunday was back where he started.

Cotton is being out-priced and out-promoted, with the result that a declining market for West Texas' major crop is drastically reducing the income of cotton farmers of Haskell County.

Methods and means to reverse this trend will be discussed at a county-wide meeting of cotton producers, ginners and business men which has been called for Thursday, August 15.

The meeting will be held in the Texas Theatre, beginning at 8 p. m. and efforts are being made to have cotton farmers from all sections of the county present, along with representative groups of business men from each town in the county.

Three members of the staff of the National Cotton Council, along with other industry leaders, will be present to discuss the problems facing the cotton industry and methods to meet these problems.

The Haskell meeting is one of a series being held at major points throughout the cotton-producing region of West Texas and the South Plains, indicating the importance of the problems facing the farmers and the cotton industry.

In urging attendance of farmers at the meeting, the following letter has been sent out by the steering committee and gins of the county:

"All of us are concerned about our cotton markets and acreage allotment prospects in the Haskell County area for the next year or two. We have recently learned that if some trends in our domestic markets are not stopped and other detrimental factors are allowed to recur, U. S. cotton markets could shrink to 8 million bales in the next few years and this would mean a 40 per cent to 50 per cent acreage reduction on each farm in the county.

"We also know, however, that if we can improve cotton's competitive situation, we could have an increase to a 20 million bale market in the same period of time and this would mean a substantial increase in allotment for each farm. It is easy to see what such a loss or gain in markets and allotments means to our cotton people in dollar income.

"The matter is so important and vital that all farmers are being asked to meet Thursday, August 15 at 8 p. m. in the Texas Theatre in Haskell for an important report concerning cotton's competitive situation. Staff members of the National Cotton Council will be at this meeting and will present latest facts and figures concerning the matter."

Clinic Shows People Are Interested In Civic Improvements

The report and analysis of the series of meetings held in the Community Clinic sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce during May has been received from the community services department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

As a result of the clinic, 556 suggestions were received covering 62 different community projects which were considered definite needs by citizens in all walks of life who attended and took part in the clinic discussions. The more than five hundred suggestions indicate that a large segment of Haskell's citizenship is intensely interested in community betterment. And it is logical to assume that where citizens are interested they will work and cooperate in bringing about needed civic improvements.

Although the full report remains to be converted into a concise work program by the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce, the Community Clinic has clearly shown that the citizens favor an ambitious program for building a better town in which to live.

As soon as the program of work can be outlined for presentation to business and civic leaders, we believe the Chamber of Commerce will be given the financial support and cooperation of members necessary to carry out any program or project adopted.

Park-Plant Road Definite Need

Two of Haskell County's biggest assets, both of which have contributed substantially to the business and economic life of the town of Haskell, are Scott Memorial Park and the West Texas Utilities Company's Paint Creek Power Station.

Scott Memorial Park, which has become one of the area's most popular recreation spots, is a gift to the people of Haskell County by Mrs. S. W. Scott and family. Because of its splendid fishing, boating and picnicking facilities available without cost to the public, Scott Memorial Park attracts people from all parts of West Texas.

In turn, these visitors spend a substantial sum with Haskell merchants. Virtually every line of business benefits from these tourist dollars, which added together represent an additional volume of several thousand dollars weekly going into local trade channels.

The WTU Power Plant, with a normal employment of about 24 persons, has probably the county's largest payroll in addition to being the largest single taxpayer in the county. All of the plant employees, with the exception of the few who live in the immediate vicinity of the plant, make their homes in Haskell. Naturally, the money spent by 20 or more families is a measurable factor in the retail trade channels of any community the size of Haskell.

A projects which would increase the potential business accruing to Haskell from the Park and Power Plant, is the proposal for an all-weather, more direct road to the plant and park area.

There should be no let-up on the part of county officials, local business men and interested citizens, along with the C. of C., Jaycees and other civic groups in continuing efforts to secure the road at the earliest possible time.

WHENCE PROSPERITY?

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

With the nation in the midst of one of its most prosperous periods, Americans in many walks of life are prone to regard our progress as the reward solely of ingenuity and wisdom on the part of individuals.

We ought, however, to take to our hearts the words of the public figure that seem to have been given little heed of late:

"We have been the recipients," said this leader, "of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has grown. But . . . we have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us. And we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

These words were uttered nearly a century ago. They are the words of Abraham Lincoln. But they are no less applicable today than when they first were expressed.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

Sportsmen in this part of West Texas who have discovered the excellent fishing in and around Scott Memorial Park since Stamford's lake was built on Paint Creek, should have been around 40-odd years ago, according to a retired Rotan farmer, "Uncle Bill" Knowles.

Some real fish were caught in Paint Creek in those days, the retired farmer declares.

According to Ferrell Coston of Haskell and the Rev. Virgil Smith, formerly of Rule who is now pastor of Crossroads Baptist Church near Rotan, they have heard "Uncle Bill" tell several times of catching an 87-pound yellow catfish in Paint Creek back in 1912. He kept the head of the huge fish for many years. "The head was so large," Coston has heard the early-day fisherman relate, "that one year a hen made a nest and hatched a brood of chickens in it when the head was left laying around the barn."

Knowles tells that he and a friend, a Rotan doctor who owned one of the town's first automobiles, went fishing on Paint Creek in the spring of 1912. After hooking the big fish, they were in a small boat trying to land him and for about 30 minutes they had a battle on their hands. The fish would pull their boat from one end of the hole of water to the other before tiring to the extent the two excited fisherman could drag the monster ashore.

Coston vouches for the story. "I've seen the huge head that Knowles kept so long, and that fish must have been a whopper," he declares.

Despite the criticism sometimes leveled at teen-agers, some of Haskell's youngsters in that bracket have set an example in unselfish service that would be a credit to grown-ups.

We have in mind The NIBS, a voluntary organization of High School Girls. Formed under sponsorship of the Progressive Study Club and the B.F.W. Club, the girls work regular schedules as volunteer nurses aides in the Haskell County Hospital during the summer months.

The work of these "Nurses in Bobby Sox" has received high praise from doctors and staff personnel of the hospital. About the best compliment was in the words of one member of the hospital staff who said: "In addition to being ideal helpers, those kids are a wonderful tonic for our patients."

Regardless of what science may have to say on the subject, City Alderman and lumber company Manager Jim Byrd is convinced that City Water Department Superintendent Roy Oliphant is an expert in "witching" for water. This method of locating running water underground by means of a forked green limb was widely practiced in early days but has just about fallen into disuse, with the development of more scientific methods.

Byrd, who is City Water Commissioner, and Oliphant were discussing the city's dilemma in locating sites for needed wells. Oliphant remarked that when a boy he'd seen his grandfather and others "witch" for water and find it.

At Byrd's urging, Oliphant agreed to try his hand. Drilling a well at the spot where the forked twig twisted downward in Oliphant's hands, the water department developed one of the best wells in the municipal system, Byrd declares.

They talk about it jokingly, Oliphant cautioning, "Don't put anything in the paper about that." But catch Jim in a serious moment and he'll tell you: "I actually saw that forked limb twist down in Roy's hands when he walked back and forth, and it always happened at the same spot." And he adds, "Must be something to it, because it twisted when I tried it myself!"

FORDS COST LESS PER MILE

Fords cost less to buy!

No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '37 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delisted prices

Fords cost less to run!

In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy the 1937 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This result was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between different makes of cars . . . supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all the cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade!

Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it, too!

Little Charged Since 1933, Six Years Under Republicanism

houses the history of the automobile industry with all the old cars and buggies and carts and carriages. There was an old wooden wheel. Don't you know they made for rough riding? Then we saw the room that houses the dresses each president's wife has worn to the inaugural ball. They are on wax models that resemble the wife, from Martha to Mamie, and it is most interesting to see the change in styles. The models are standing in replicas of different rooms of the White House and since the White House is not open to visitors on Saturday afternoon, we were glad to see the replicas.

The Smithsonian houses memories of every famous person you could imagine, a history of almost every industry such as wood pulp to paper, cotton from the field to the manufactured product, life of the silk worm, history of medicine, the story of steel, shoes, gloves, buttons, material, wool, glass, guns, ships, farm implements, lumber, just everything. In one division they have family groups in wax of all tribes of Indians, Chinese, barbarians, and cannibals. They are life size and look real. They have a jade idol, the oldest antiquity in the New World. A whale skeleton 78 feet long. You name it, they have it there.

As I said, we three only looked in the front door and had a general idea of what we could have seen had we had the time. Our guide took us next to the Lincoln memorial, and that beautiful statue always makes a lump in one's throat. From it we saw the reflector pool and the Washington monument. We weren't taken to the Washington monument, and I had no regrets. Before, when I was 24 years younger I climbed all 897 steps, and read all the different states and Masonic lodges, and looked out the little windows at the top. This time I was glad to have the guide tell us about it.

Our guide was talking constantly as we rode from place to place, and he seemed to think it was important to tell us what kind of stone each building was made of, and how much it cost. Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. Willis and I didn't much care about that, but he didn't give us much chance to ask many questions. We went to Arlington memorial cemetery and of course it has changed a great deal since World War II. For one thing, the big black marble statue depicting the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima is just at the entrance. It is magnificent. We saw the changing of the guard at the tomb of the unknown soldier, and that is so impressive. I think that the tomb of the unknown soldier is one of the nicest thoughts our Congress ever had. For every mother whose son died in World War I, and the whereabouts of his grave is not known, can hope that her son's body lies in that tomb in Arlington where wreaths are placed often, and where the Army keeps a 24 hour guard. Isn't that nice?

We drove to the Pentagon, the treasury building, the Bureau of Engraving where the stamps are made, the Pan-American Building and then he let us out at the Archives Building where the Constitution is kept. It used to be in the Library of Congress, but four years ago they moved it to the Archives Building. There also are the Articles of the Confederation, the Bill of Rights, the different seals submitted to be the seal of the United States, and the one chosen. Our seal also has a design on the back of it which was news to me. It was submitted to be the seal, but was chosen for the back.

All the state flags are displayed at each side of the constitution table. There were official letters written by Washington, Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin. We only saw the top of the capitol building through the trees. It is closed on Saturday afternoon, too. I hope the boys had a longer tour of Washington, than we.

Our tour ended with the ride past all embassies (and we didn't see a single imbecile! That is a family joke coined by a cousin, E. J. Tarbox when he was in South America several years ago. He always asked about where the imbecile was when they pass an embassy.)

Our companions on the tour were a Mr. and Mrs. Rhoden of Australia and Aline Wharton and their son from Ohio, and they were going to the Jamboree Monday to visit an older son there.

Leaving Washington, we drove through Maryland late in the evening, and the country was pretty. I phoned an army friend in Hyattsville, Md. Her husband teaches in the University of Maryland. We wished we knew the address of Jane and Joe Barton. He is the President's personal helicopter pilot, and just the day before had been in all the big Civil Defense evacuations and flew President Eisenhower out of Washington. His wife Jane (Cole) is a Rule girl. But we didn't know, so we drove through Baltimore and saw the white steps in front of every apartment, and the Medical School and John Hopkins. We should have stopped at a motel near Wilmington, Delaware, because they were a lot of them. But we thought we had better drive later, and sure enough we ran out of motels, and had to go plumb to Philadelphia to a hotel. We passed through Chester, Pa., and that town didn't seem to have a single white person in it. We drove miles and miles, and just saw negroes out on the sidewalks having a good time Saturday night.

Sunday morning we drove to Valley Forge. Old Philadelphia is old, and smoky and dirty, especially at night, but the road to Valley Forge is rolling hill country and so pretty. We reached the Jamboree while the boys were at church, and since we had walked a mile or more from the car to their camp, we just visited the Mormon service instead of walking on to the Protestant service.

We saw the Protestant group coming down the hill after their church service, and unless you have seen 30,000 boys all dressed alike, walking down a wide road together, you just can't imagine the thrill we had. They were just walking, not in orderly rows like soldiers marching, but just walking along talking to each other. They broke at the corner and all went their different ways to their camp.

Those Overton boys and their Daddy sure looked good to me, and it was just as good to see Tom Bill Holden from Haskell, Tom and Larry Horton from Rule, Jackie Wharton from Rule, Joe Breed of Anson, and all the Sweetwater, Coleman and Ahlens boys. They were all having a wonderful time, and making good campers. Gene said. We had lunch with them and then while our boys were attending a Jamboree O. A. meeting we took the bus around the Valley Forge battle field, and saw the memorial chapel to Washington, the chimes, the arch and all the camps of the different Councils of Boy Scouts. One just cannot imagine the magnitude of that Jamboree. Every state in the Union is represented and many foreign countries.

Each state has a gateway depicting something relative to their part of the country. One Mississippi Council had a gate made of two bales of cotton, the Alamo Council from San Antonio had a replica of the Alamo, and one went through the door into their camp. One Florida group had a beach of white sand about 20 feet wide with palm trees and beach furniture and umbrellas. A Minnesota camp had a big plastic swimming pool and Scouts would see who could roll a log the longest in it. One camp had tents that looked just like little covered wagons, another had tents and shade made of real parachutes dyed red, blue, green and yellow. An Illinois Council had a gate that looked as if it was made of logs in the shape of Fort Dearborn. Our Chisholm Trail Council had a scene with a covered wagon going through cactus country, with a white skull of a cow, and the sun going down. It was colorful, but as popular as our horned toads are, I think next Jamboree should have a huge horned toad sign.

We ate supper with our boys and left for home. Pennsylvania has some picturesque country all through the Dutch farms country, but the oil and refinery cities are black and smelly and dirty. We were at Harrisburg Penn., Monday night. All Tuesday we were in Ohio, and everybody grows corn and hay and pigs. They also make pottery at Luray and Zanesville, and crystal is made at Cambridge.

The pieces were so inexpensive because they were made there, that all three of us nearly "two-bitted" ourselves broke. Why is it when something is 25 or 50 cents you don't mind buying several, and really spend more than you ever intended to? Anyway, we finally got ourselves out of Ohio before I spent the wheat crop. Indiana and Illinois are nice states, and we went through 7 one mile tunnels. It rained on us one morning in Indiana, and that was nice. Our trip home was not as cool as the Tennessee and Virginia country was. But we came through the Ozarks in Arkansas and it was beautiful.

THANKS —

To Those It Has Been My Privilege To Serve

I wish to take this means to extend my appreciation to the policy holders for making the trip possible. I will strive to live up to the trust you have placed in me in handling your insurance problems.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Weaver and daughter Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ivy and Judy returned last week from Dardanelle, Ark., where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Thomas, former residents here.

Weaver relates that both he and Ivy were eagerly looking forward to a swim in a clear, crystal pool which Thomas had described to them as "so clear you can stand in water up to your shoulders and still see your toes."

After arriving at Dardanelle, the Haskell visitors eagerly prepared for a trip to the pool, which Virgil assured them was only "a short drive." As it turned out, it was a mere 80 miles away, Weaver declares.

Despite the misplaced swimming pool, the Haskell people report a thoroughly enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and family.

Weaver says he's learned one thing. Next time someone in Arkansas tells him a place is only a short distance away, he's going to be prepared to drive anywhere from 50 to 100 miles!

An Invitation

By The Gins Of Haskell County To Attend A Meeting At The Texas Theatre Thursday, August 15 at 8:00 P. M.

Cotton and Acreage Allotment

EVERYONE IN THIS AREA IS INVITED AND URGED TO ATTEND SINCE COTTON IS A BASIC FACTOR IN THE SUCCESS OF FARMER AND BUSINESS MAN ALIKE.

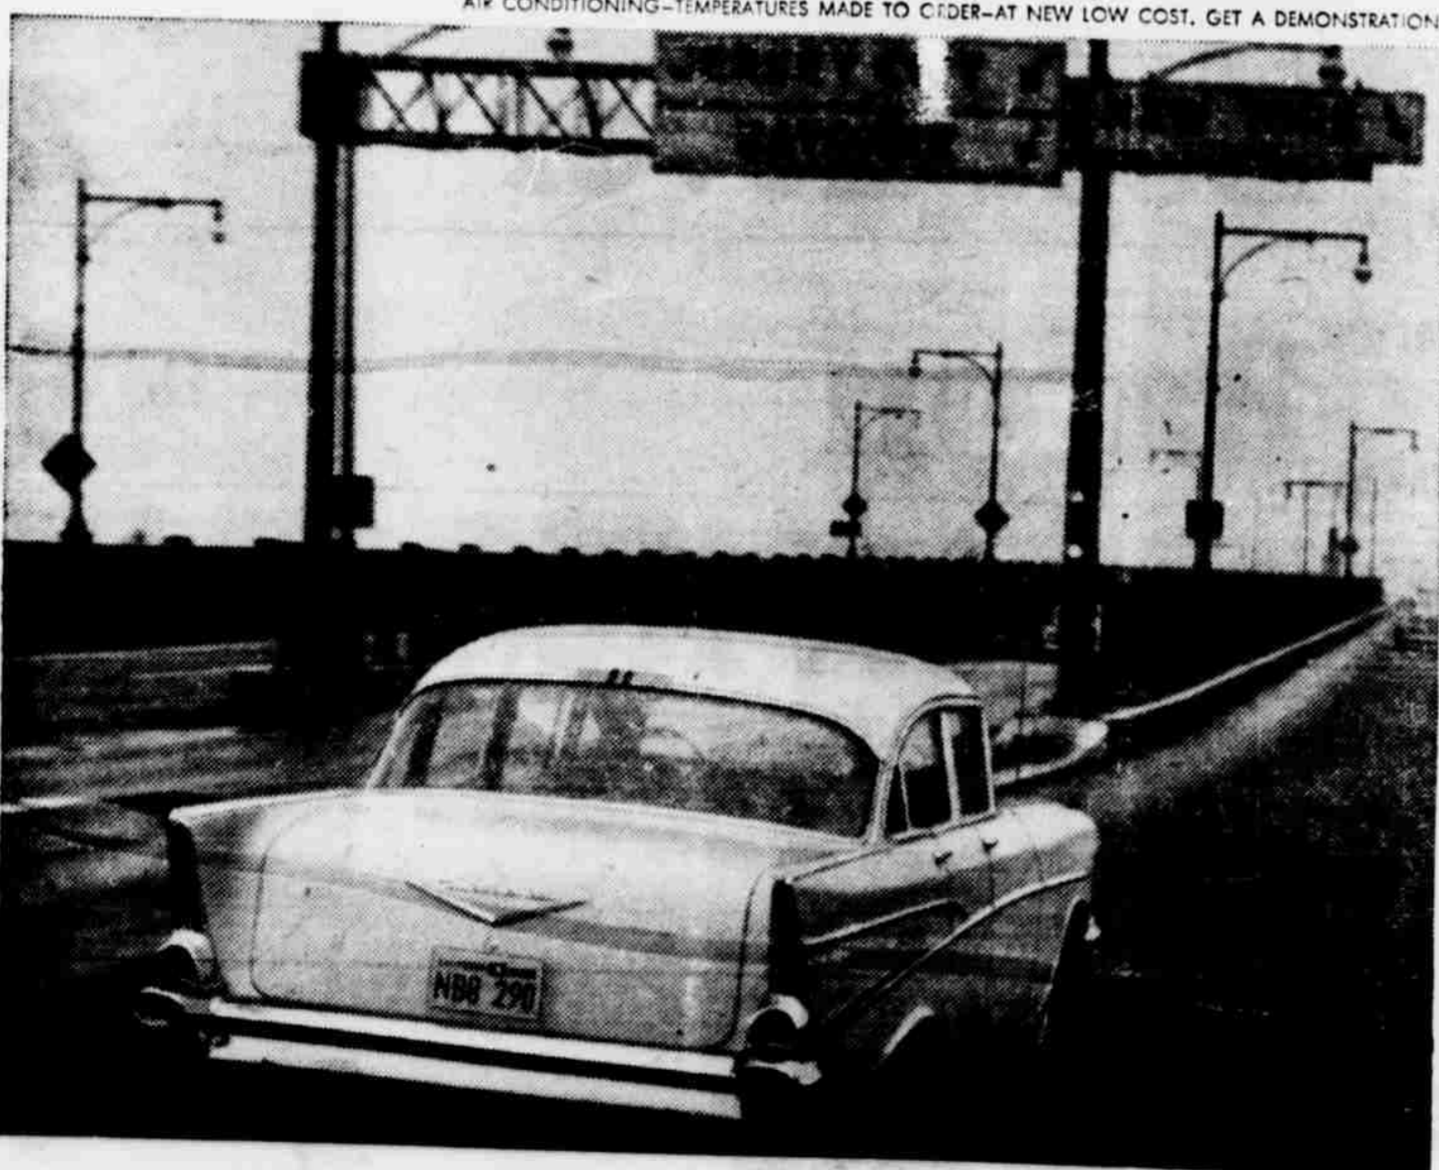

All of us are concerned about our cotton markets and acreage allotment prospects in the Haskell County area for the next year or two. We have recently learned that if some trends in our domestic markets are not stopped and other detrimental factors are allowed to recur, U. S. cotton markets could shrink to 8 million bales in the next few years and this would mean a 40% to 50% acreage reduction on your farm.

We also know, however, that if we can improve cotton's competitive situation, we could have an increase to a 20 million bale market in the same period of time and this would mean a substantial increase in allotment for your farm. I am sure you are aware of what such a loss or gain in markets and allotment means to our cotton people in dollar income.

We think the matter so important and vital that we are asking you along with other key leaders, to meet with us on Thursday, August 15th at 8:00 P. M. in the Texas Theatre, Haskell, Texas, for an important report concerning cotton's competitive situation. Three staff members of the National Cotton Council have been asked to meet with us and bring the latest facts and figures concerning this matter.

The program will begin promptly at 8:00 P. M. Since this is a key leadership meeting, concerning possible acreage reductions for our area, we are counting on you to attend.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE FISCHER

Anita Jo Humphrey, Walter Eugene Fischer Repeat Vows in Double-Ring Ceremony

The home of Mrs. Bertha Humphrey was the setting July 30 for the mid-afternoon wedding of her daughter, Anita Jo to Walter Eugene Fischer. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fischer of Sagerton.

The Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before an archway covered with greenery with white wedding bells hanging from the center. The archway was flanked with baskets of white gladioli and standing candelabra accented with white tapers which were lighted by Sharon Kay Fischer, sister of the groom.

Kay Henry of Haskell, furnished traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Rev. J. Don Hazlewood of Fort Worth, wore a street length dress of white cotton with a fitted bodice covered with white nylon lace. The neckline was scooped front and back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a white Bible topped with feathered carnations, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. J. Don Hazlewood of Fort Worth, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue tulle with a matching short veil of blue illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

W. A. Fischer, father of the bridegroom was best man.

Fidelis Class Has Monthly Social Monday Evening

Members of the Fidelis Class held their monthly social in the Annex of the First Baptist Church Monday evening, August 5th. The losing group, with Mrs. Flossie Rogers as captain, entertained the winning group with Mrs. Tillie Chapman as captain.

Mrs. Brytis Chamberlin, president of the class, had charge of the business meeting. The minutes were read and reports on the sick were given. Opening songs, Love Lifted Me, and Sweet Hour of Prayer were sung by the group with Mrs. Ashley leading, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cadenhead.

Mrs. Flossie Rogers responded with prayer. The teacher was selected for next year by the class. Mrs. Moore recommended to the church and the group captains drew new names for next month's contest. Gratiifying reports were given on class activities for the past quarter.

The assistant teacher, Mrs. H. S. Moore, gave an inspirational devotion on prayer for John, 17th Chapter. Prayer is the only mediator between God and man. Jesus set the example of prayer. Prayer changes things. It is the key to Heaven. The devotional ended by all repeating in unison the Lord's Prayer.

Interesting games were enjoyed, being presented by the hostesses, Flossie Rogers, Della Ashley, Effie Jenkins and Lucille McCurley. The following members enjoyed the delicious punch and cookies served by the hostesses, Mmes. Bertha Humphrey, Della Ashley, Effie Jenkins, Virgie Bledsoe, Bonnie Cothron, Brytis Chamberlin, Flossie Rogers, Eula Orr, Lucille McCurley, and the teacher, Jewel Cadenhead, and assistant teacher, Mrs. Moore.

Annual Reunion of Stephens Sisters Held Here

(Special)

The Stephens Sisters Reunion was held July 26 through August 3 in the homes of Mrs. Jess Josselot and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rogers in this city.

The five sisters, daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stephens, former early-day residents in Haskell, are Mrs. T. J. Basham of Saint Jo, Ark., Mrs. V. A. Duncan, Lubbock, Mrs. C. C. Fouts of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Josselot and Mrs. Rogers of Haskell.

The joyful voices of the sisters were heard chattering away as the families gathered in the back yard at the Rogers home for the evening picnic suppers.

A well balanced program was arranged in advance and held each day. Fishing, boat riding, kodaking and picnicking at Lake Stamford, also a fish fry and supper was prepared by the brother-in-laws, Charlie Fouts and Walter Rogers, which was enjoyed by all.

Members of the happy group could hardly wait for the time to gather in the back yard for the picnic and fun daily. Delicious refreshments were served each day.

A lovely wrapped "hostess gift" was given to the one drawing the lucky number each night, which provoked a lot of fun and excitement for all. If all the television sets over town had not been turned on so loud, probably the Stephens Sisters could have been heard talking, laughing and singing at the top of their voices for quite a distance away.

Before closing each evening's program a moment of meditation and prayer was held, after which the five sisters would form a circle and clasp hands, making the family pledge. Then the goodbyes were said until the next evening at the same time, which brought all the families together again each day.

A. M. Turner and daughter, Mary, spent several days in Waco visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cypert.

reach of their hands. Reared on a farm, Mrs. Watson became familiar with all kinds of farm work as a girl and could make an "extra hand" when help was needed.

Her daughter, Mrs. Nanny, recalls that her mother was an excellent marksman with both rifle and shotgun. "She kept the crows and hawks thinned out around our place," Mrs. Nanny said.

Other relatives from out of town present were a brother of Mr. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Watson of Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watson of Ada, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. John Bohannon of Quanah; W. B. Sherrill of Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Bohannon Bennington of O'Brien.

An interesting family coincidence is the fact that two of Mrs. Watson's sisters and a brother will observe their 50th wedding anniversaries. The sisters and their husbands are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Earles and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nanny; and the brother and his wife are Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Howard. All live in Haskell and vicinity.

CITY ORDINANCE
 AN ORDINANCE GRANTING TO LONE STAR GAS COMPANY, A CORPORATION, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, A FRANCHISE TO FURNISH AND SUPPLY TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN THE CITY OF HASKELL, HASKELL COUNTY, TEXAS, AND THE ENVIRONS THEREOF, PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF A FEE OR CHARGE FOR THE USE OF THE STREETS, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC WAYS, AND PROVIDING THAT IT SHALL BE IN LIEU OF OTHER FEES AND CHARGES, EXCEPTING AD VALOREM TAXES.

Be It Ordained By The City Council of The City of Haskell, Texas:

SECTION 1. That the City of Haskell, Texas, hereinafter called "City," hereby grants to Lone Star Gas Company, hereinafter called "Company," its successors and assigns, consent to use and occupy the present and future streets, alleys, highways, public thoroughfares and grounds of City for the purpose of laying, maintaining, constructing, operating and replacing therein and thereon pipelines and all other appurtenant equipment needed and necessary to deliver and sell gas to persons, firms and corporations, including all the general public, within the City's corporate limits and the environs thereof, said consent being granted for a term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the date of the final passage and approval of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. Company shall lay, maintain, construct, operate and replace its pipes, mains, laterals and other equipment so as to interfere as little as possible with traffic and shall promptly clean up and restore to an approximate original condition, at its cost, all thoroughfares and other surfaces which it may disturb. The location of all mains, pipes, laterals and other appurtenant equipment shall be fixed under the supervision of the City Council or an authorized committee or agent appointed by said Council.

SECTION 3. When Company shall make or cause to be made excavations or shall place obstructions in any street, alley or other public place, the public shall be protected by barriers and lights placed, erected and maintained by Company; and in the event of injury to any person or damage to any property by reason of the construction, operation or maintenance of the gas distributing plant or system of Company, Company shall indemnify and keep harmless City from any and all liability in connection therewith. Company shall repair, clean up and restore to an approximate original condition, all streets and alleys disturbed during the construction and repair of its gas distributing system.

SECTION 4. In addition to the rates charged for gas supplied, Company may make and enforce reasonable charges, rules and regulations for service rendered in the conduct of its business, including a charge for services rendered in the inauguration of natural gas service, and may require, before furnishing service, the execution of a contract therefor and may require each consumer, within the corporate limits of the City, to pay Company for the installation of all service pipes from the main in the street or alley to and throughout the consumer's premises; and Company shall have the right to contract with each consumer with reference to the installation of service pipes and the control of service pipes from the connection thereof with Company's main in the streets or alleys to and including the meter located on the consumer's premises. Service lines are defined as supply lines from Company's mains in the streets and alleys to and ending at consumer's curb line when the mains are located in the streets and consumer's property line when the mains are located in the alleys.

SECTION 5. Company shall not be required to extend mains on any street more than fifty (50) feet for any one consumer of gas. Nor shall Company be required to connect to intermediate or high-pressure lines.

SECTION 6. Company shall be entitled to require from each and every consumer of gas, before gas service is commenced, a deposit of twice the amount of an estimated average monthly bill, which said deposit may be retained by Company until service is discontinued and all bills therefor have been paid. Company shall then return said deposit to the consumer, together with six per cent (6%) interest thereon from the date of said deposit up to the date of discontinuance of service. Company shall be entitled to apply said deposit, with accrued interest, to any indebtedness owed Company by consumer making the deposit.

SECTION 7. The rights, privileges and franchises granted by this ordinance are not to be considered exclusive, and City hereby expressly reserves the right to grant, at any time, like privileges, rights and franchises as it may see fit to any other person or corporation for the purpose of furnishing gas for light, heat and power to and for the City and the inhabitants thereof.

SECTION 8. Company shall furnish reasonably adequate service to the public at reasonable rates and charges therefor; and Company shall maintain its property, equipment and appliances in good order and condition.

SECTION 9. Company, its successors and assigns, agrees to pay and City agrees to accept, on or before the 31 day of March 1958, and on or before the same day of each succeeding year during the life of this franchise, up to and including the year 1982, a sum of money which shall be equivalent to two per cent (2%) of the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within the city limits of said City (expressly excluding, however, receipts derived from sales to industrial and governmental users and consumers in said City) for the preceding calendar year, which annual payment shall be for the rights and privileges herein granted to Company, including expressly, without limitation, the right to use the streets, alleys and public ways of said City. And it is also expressly agreed that the aforesaid annual payment shall be in lieu of any and all other and additional occupation taxes, easement and franchise taxes, or charges (whether levied as an ad valorem, special or other character of tax or charge), in lieu of municipal license and inspection fees, street taxes and street or alley rentals or charges, and all other and additional municipal taxes, charges, levies, fees and rentals of whatsoever kind and character which City may impose or hereafter be authorized to levy and collect, excepting only the usual general or special ad valorem taxes, which City is authorized to levy and impose upon real and personal property. Should City not have the legal power to agree that the payment of the foregoing sums of money shall be in lieu of taxes, licenses, fees, street or alley rentals or charges, easement or franchise taxes or charges aforesaid, then City agrees that it will apply so much of said sums of money paid as may be necessary to satisfy Company's obligations, if any, to pay any such taxes, licenses, charges, fees, rentals, easement or franchise taxes or charges.

In order to determine the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas (expressly excluding the sale of gas to industrial and governmental consumers) within the corporate limits of City, Company agrees that on the same date that payments are made as provided in the preceding paragraph of this Section 9, it will file with the City Clerk a sworn report showing the gross receipts received from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within said city limits for the calendar year preceding the date of payment. City may, if it sees fit, have the books and records of Company examined by representatives of said City to ascertain the correctness of the sworn reports agreed to be filed herein.

Receipts from sales to governmental users or consumers shall include all those receipts derived from the sale of gas to federal, state, county or city governments or branches or subdivisions thereof, of school districts or other similar districts, it being the intention to include within the term "governmental users and consumers" all tax-supported institutions owned or operated directly or indirectly by said governments and branches or subdivisions thereof, such as schools, colleges, hospitals, eleemosynary institutions, army or training camps, airports, courthouse, city hall and other institutions of like or similar kind and character.

"Industrial users or consumers" as herein used, are those generally and commonly classified as such by Company. The payment herein provided shall be for the period January 1 to December 31 of the respective year that the payment is made.

SECTION 10. Effective with the date of passage of this ordinance there is hereby fixed and determined a Reconnect Charge to be applied as follows:

A charge of Two Dollars ($2.00), or the cost of actual materials and labor furnished, whichever is greater, is to be made in instances where service is being re-

NIBS Schedule at Haskell Hospital Is Revised

The NIBS (Nurses in Bobby Socks) met in the home of Mrs. Trice Sunday afternoon to discuss the change in hospital for the remainder of summer due to girls who wished to attend camp, band school and go on vacations. The girls have worked three hour shifts every day for the past two summers. This was changed to six hours one day a week. While the president, Twyla Hipp, is on vacation the girls are to report to vice president, Jan Herren in the event they are unable to work their assigned time.

Many compliments are still heard as to the usefulness of these girls and their volunteer service to the hospital. When so many girls were out last week Nancy Davis, Throckmorton, visiting Jan Herren, donned a borrowed uniform, and worked one shift. This was at Mrs. Trice's suggestion.

The following are the Nibs that are continuing their services to the Haskell County Hospital this summer:

Maria Jane Bynum, Marsha Buegger, Jane and June Bell, Janice Hattex, Jan Herran, Twyla Hipp, Betty Landess, Suzanne Lane, Sarah Lees, Shirley Norman, Dortha Rueffer, Jane Ann Sego and Linda Spear.

Pledges will be accepted this fall, and there will be a monthly meeting of the Nibs with programs pertaining to their training that will be helpful as well as educational to the group.

Program plans are to include films, lectures by doctors and nurses, discussion forums, socials and other entertainment activities.

augurated for the same customer in the same distribution plant within a period of twelve (12) months following the date service was last discontinued, and it shall also apply in cases where gas service has been discontinued for nonpayment. Cotton Farmers

A subject of vital interest to you and to every business man in this area,

Future of Cotton and Acreage Allotment will be discussed by members of the National Cotton Council accompanied by visual education at the

Texas Theatre

Thursday, August 15 at 8 p. m.

Everyone in this area is invited and urged to attend since cotton is a basic factor in the success of farmer and business man alike.

LETTER OF INVITATION SENT OUT TO FARMERS OF THIS AREA BY GINS AND OTHER INTERESTED GROUPS

All of us are concerned about our cotton markets and acreage allotment prospects in the Haskell County area for the next year or two. We have recently learned that if some trends in our domestic markets are not stopped and other detrimental factors are allowed to recur, U. S. cotton markets could shrink to 8 million bales in the next few years, and this would mean a 40 percent to 50 percent acreage reduction on your farm.

We also know, however, that if we can improve cotton's competitive situation, we could have an increase to a 20-million bale market in the same period of time and this would mean a substantial increase in allotment for your farm. I am sure you are aware of what such a loss or gain in markets and allotment means to our cotton people in dollar income.

We think the matter so important and vital that we are asking you, with other key leaders, to meet with us on Thursday, August 15th at 8:00 p. m. at the Texas Theatre, Haskell, Texas, for an important report concerning our competitive situation. Three staff members of the National Cotton Council have been asked to meet with us and bring the latest facts and figures concerning this matter.

The program will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m. Since this is a key leadership meeting, concerning possible acreage reductions for our area, we are asking on you to attend.
