Indians Lose Defensive Battle To Iowa Park Hawks, 8-6 Friday

The Haskell Indians were unable to develop a scoring offense during three quarters of their game with the Iowa Park Hawks here Friday night, and were edged by the visitors, 8-6.

Both teams scored one TD each, the visitor's two point conversion providing the victory margin and evened the score.

The Indians, their ranks thinned by injuries and illness, will meet the strong Coleman Bluecats Friday night in Indian Stadium. The non-conference affair will be the Tribe's last home game until Oct. 24.

standing between the two schools, Haskell having defeated Iowa Park last year.

A large turn-out of fans and team supporters witnessed a stellar defensive battle between the two evenly matched squads throughout almost three quarters. With 2:45 remaining in the third period, a Hawk drive starting on the Haskell 42 paid off, the visitors covering the ground in 11 carries and Quarterback Gary May hitting pay dirt. Teammate Malcolm Berry carried over for the important two point conversion.

Haskell threatened early in the second, when Indian Quarterback Erby Wolfe hit End John Sam Rike with a 50-yard aerial, only to have the gain nullified by a penalty against the Tribe.

The Indian scoring drive had its inception in the fading seconds of the third period, when three Haskell defenders blocked a Hawk punt on the visitors 29.

Beginning the fourth frame, a pass from QB Wolfe to Back Eugene Mullins netted 5 and Mullins picked up one through the line. A 9-yard aerial, Wolfe to Rike set it up on the 12, and on the next play Mullins skirted right end for the TD. Attempt to run over the extra two points failed.

Doing a tremendous job for the Indians were defensive ends Rike and Lewis Jones, and corner linebacker Tom Anderson. Outstanding in the line for the Indians were guard Gary Anthony and tackle Tommy Cathey, while the entire Indian squad turned in rugged performance.

Between 50 and 75 leaders and workers are expected to attend the kick-off dinner Monday evening and take part in the drive to be launched Tuesday, Judge Turnbow estimated.

Sen. Moffett Is Guest Speaker at Lions-Rotary Meet

Adoption of at least three of the proposed constitutional amendments in the Nov. 4 general election would be a signal for the Legislature to increase spending, Senator George "Cotton" Moffett told Haskell Rotarians and Lions at a joint meeting of the two clubs Thursday.

Sen. Moffett, veteran member of the Legislature, discussed the nine proposed amendments to be submitted in the general election.

Some of the amendments, he explained, are of a local nature and do not affect the State's financial structure, and he dealt briefly with these.

A proposed amendment to permit spending tax money to advertise Texas he termed as a "waste of money." The state and its resources are too well known to require additional advertising, he declared.

Sen. Moffett centered his strongest criticism on the amendment proposing annual sessions of the Legislature and annual salaries of $7,500.

"We will face a deficit of $44,000,000 on the day the Legislature meets," Sen. Moffett declared. Adoption of the annual sessions amendment would call for a minimum increase of $3 million yearly in the State's salary bill, he estimated. He pointed out that Legislators will be faced with problem of a $13 million increase in school needs, all of which must come from taxes.

The speaker was introduced by Chas. M. Conner, former State Representative and long-time friend of Sen. Moffett.

Other guests at the meeting and luncheon were Mrs. Ruby Withers, Dave Persons, Haskell; and J. W. Green, West Texas Utilities Co. consulting engineer.

Operation of County Government Is Biggest Business In Haskell County

Biggest business operation in Haskell County is the county itself and if a few grey hairs begin showing up prematurely on the heads of the county's four Commissioners, think nothing of it.

They're the men who are responsible for the handling the county's business affairs, an operation that requires the spending of approximately $1,045 daily in maintaining the functions of county government. These range from road and bridge building to maintenance of a county library, from care for indigent charity cases to short-wave radio repairs — to name only a few of the multitude of functions devolving on the county government.

Immensity of the county's business is indicated in a two-year audit completed recently by an Abilene firm. It covered the period from Jan. 1, 1956 to Dec. 31, 1957.

Total operating expenses, or expenditures during that period (exclusive of bond retirement) amounted to $763,165.26, or $381,582.63 each year. This represents a daily outlay of $1,045.

Receipts and disbursements in the various operating funds during the two-year period were shown in the audit as follows:

General Fund, receipts $207,046.57; disbursements $198,213.10.

Jury Fund, receipts $14,279.33; disbursements $27,052.15.

Courthouse and Jail Fund, receipts $23,330.10; disbursements $36,907.61.

Officer's Salary Fund, receipts $143,445.08 (including $10,000 transferred from Courthouse and Jail Fund); disbursements $133,501.43.

Income and outgo in the four Commissioners' Precincts:

Precinct 1, receipts $143,675.33; disbursements $108,163.97.

Precinct 2, receipts $94,156.02; disbursements $2,250.53.

Precinct 3, receipts $59,151.99; disbursements $65,271.36.

Here We Go Again

Six months ago recession was much in the news. Now inflation is coming to the forefront again. Business is picking up, the public debt is headed for a steep rise and prices, wages and other costs are headed for another upward spiral.

No amount of rules and regulations can change the trend of inflation nor the sacrifices it will exact if continued. It can only be stopped by curbs on government spending, on labor monopolies that force wage hikes for less work, and on price raises that inevitably follow tax and labor costs.

Oil Progress Week

As the first hint of Fall sharpens the air and Autumn colors begin to tint the leaves, another harbinger of the season, a man-created institution that has become as much a part of Autumn as Jack Frost makes its presence felt—Oil Progress Week.

This year it is to be observed from October 12 to 18. As usual it is the period when all segments of the nation's oil industry unite to present to the world the work and progress and hopes of the industry.

Every United States citizen now consumes an average of just over two gallons of oil products a day. Just imagine if oil products were delivered to your door like milk. For a family of four that would be more than eight gallons of oil products every morning.

To prepare for all of this, to be ready for these 18 million new people, oil companies must invest nearly $80 billion in production, plants and equipment. These things can only take place if our people understand and support policies which encourage the growth of a strong oil industry operating in a free competitive market.

The theme of Oil Progress Week is "Today—Oil Builds for Your Tomorrow."

State Approaches Deficit Period

(Wichita Falls Times)

The seriousness of the state's financial situation has been emphasized by the statement of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert concerning the deficit operation which will begin next month, sometime within the next few weeks.

Comptroller Calvert foresees no immediate relief for the outgo of cash which will send the state's finances into the red. Although the next legislature meets in January, it is highly unlikely that measures can be taken to ease the deficit before the fall of 1935, he said.

Two things have happened to create the problem that has not arisen in 15 years. One is an increase in governmental costs that was foreseen. The other is the failure of anticipated revenues to come up to estimates because of recession threats to the economy, particularly in oil tax revenues reduced by production curtailment.

With the state treasury in the red and with some 30,000 state employees drawing paychecks which will be cashed immediately only at a discount, the new legislature will meet under pressure to consider emergency tax proposals as well as to revise the tax program on a long-range basis.

There will be a choice between getting more tax revenue or trimming expenditures, and it is not difficult to foresee which alternative will win out.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Tom Roberson, who handles the "mike" of the public address system in the football stadium pressbox (and does a good job) is a pretty fair song leader as well as sports announcer.

His suggestion at Friday night's game that Haskell fans join in singing when the HHS Band plays the school song brought meager response, with fans here and there joining in the song.

Saturday morning we got the answer. A lot of the fans just don't know the words to the song.

Mrs. Howard Perry called our attention to that fact. "Most of the fans at the game, like myself, did not attend school here and for that reason we don't know the words to the HHS song." She suggested that the words be printed on the football programs, or on mimeographed sheets.

"Many people enjoy singing, but we can't sing if we don't know the song," she pointed out.

We believe Mrs. Perry has the answer, if someone will provide fans with copies of the HHS song.

Red Griggs, sports writer for the Wichita Falls Record-News, is considering buying a compass as an aid to his sense of direction when he covers out-of-town night football games.

It would help him locate his car after the game.

Here to cover the Haskell-Iowa Park game Friday, he parked his car where he could find it readily after the game. Took his bearings, and particularly noticed some cotton gins off in one direction.

the gym. Heading that way, we saw only a few cars parked in that area. "It must be back this way," Red decides heading west, but no car so back we go toward the stadium entrance.

"Wherever it is, I backed into the parking place," Red remembered. That had to be just north of the school building, and so it was—a scant block from the stadium—and we'd circled around more than three blocks!

Senator George "Cotton" Moffett of Chillicothe may be called a politician by some, but in our opinion he talks like a level-headed, practical type of man who realizes that the money has to come from somewhere to pay the rising cost of State government. And that 'somewhere' is the taxpayer's pocket, he points out.

Sen Moffett, speaking to Haskell Lions and Rotarians last week, discussed the pending vote on nine constitutional amendments. He's opposed to three of the major amendments, each of which would call for more spending of tax money.

Strange as it may seem, one of the proposed amendments he opposes, calls for a substantial increase in pay for legislators. But Senator Moffett is against the measure, and has no hesitancy in urging voters to turn down the amendment.

Unnoticed until within a few feet of the group, a drunk staggered up and started mulling his opinion of officers in general and especially of Deputy Garrett. "You can finish your little speech in jail," the deputy advised as he hustled the drunk into his car and headed for the county jail.

Returning a few minutes later, Deputy Garrett commented "That's the first time I ever accommodated anyone who voluntarily asked to be locked up."

Smith, weight inspector of DPS, suggested that the deputy adopt as his slogan: "Have jail key—will turn."

Rats and mice at first, and now quail or bob whites, are moving in from the country, or so it seems. In recent weeks local stores have been rushed in supplying the demand for rat poison when the rapid increase in mice and rats became too much for the local feline population.

A bob white or quail doesn't pose the same problem as rats and mice, but they are something of a rarity, especially when they come right into the main business section, as several have done recently.

Tuesday evening, a pair of bob whites made their appearance on the courthouse lawn where they remained for ten or fifteen minutes. When they attempted to fly to safer territory one of the birds hit a moving car and was stunned. Knocked to the pavement and unable to fly, the bird made its way back to the grassy lawn.

Fearing that the crippled bird would be easy prey at night for a prowling cat or other animal, Constable Ace Davis took the bob white into 'protective custody', keeping it overnight in a box in his office. Released the next morning, the bob white took off on his own wingpower, probably for more suitable surroundings.

A more adventuresome bob white provided a surprise for two local officers, Police Chief Bull Barnett and Highway Patrolman Arthur Mason.

Late one afternoon recently when they entered the chief's office in the City Hall, the two officers were startled by a "White" of wings. Then they realized they had company in the office in the form of an excited bob white, as the bird zoomed around the room looking for an opening to escape. Around and around they went until one of the officers made a lucky grab and snared the near-exhausted bird.

"That bird was harder to catch than a Negro bootlegger on a moonless night," the out-of-breath officers declared.

National Business Women's Week Oct. 5-11 Honors B&PW Clubs

"The Haskell Business and Professional Women's Club joins with 3400 B&PW clubs in National Business Women's Week Oct. 5-11," Nettie McCollum, club president, has announced. She urges the citizens of Haskell to celebrate National Business Women's Week in our town as proclaimed by Mayor Ira Hester. "More power with woman power" is the nation-wide slogan, a tribute to the twenty-eight million women who work in America.

The Haskell club, organized in 1955 with a membership of 35, is beginning its new club year under the leadership of the fourth president, Nettie McCollum. Present membership is forty-six representing twenty-six different professions or types of work. The aggregate earnings per annum of the club membership are $150,318.000.

The local club is a member of the National Federation of Women's Clubs founded in 1919 and composed of clubs in state federations in forty-eight states, District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. The National Federation of B&PW Clubs is the largest organization in the world devoted entirely to the interests of employed women with over seven-hundred kinds of jobs or work represented.

The Public Relations committee has recently conducted a survey of the women who work in Haskell, reporting that over 430 are employed within our city limits in some salaried position. Locally the club has been active with community and civic services since its organization, in efforts to secure traffic lights at highway crossings, in preparation in the Miller Creek project, in awarding plaques for Christmas windows, in sponsoring home lighting contest at Christmas, in presenting History of Haskell County and commemorating its 100th anniversary by the sale and distribution of Centennial plates, in aiding various community drives, emphasizing "pay your poll tax" and voting at the polls, and co-sponsoring the NIBS, in addition to the continuance of these projects and services the club will present a business scholarship to a high school girl this club year.

Persons who employ women have been contacted on statements about the importance of women who work and their contribution to the community.

"An organization such as ours could not exist if it were not for working women—men are not gifted with the ability to serve in such capacities—women as nurses, nurses' aids, dieticians and other positions contribute to lifesaving factors in hospital work by carrying out orders, by diligent watchfulness and by careful attentions to detail.

"It has been my observation that employed women as a whole are active in church, school and civic affairs in so far as their working hours and family activities permit. Organizations such as the Business and Professional Women's Club are a direct and commendable result of the employed woman's desire to be of community service," stated J. D. Westbrook Jr., administrator of Haskell County Hospital which employs the second largest group of women in Haskell—thirty-four.

During National Business Women's Week the eyes of the world are focused on B&PW and women come to realize that here is an organization pledged to their interests and an invitation to have a part in it is expressed by the membership committee. Special events have been planned for observance of the week—Salad Circus on Tuesday evening, Oct. 7; Breakfast on Friday morning, Oct. 10; and concluding the activities a Book Review-Tea on Sunday, October 12th.

Haskell Woman Returns From Visit With Son in State of Washington

Mrs. J. R. Barnett has returned to her home after an extended trip to the State of Washington, and several stops along the way.

She visited relatives in California, including H. G. Barnett and family and Bill Barnett and family, all former residents of Haskell. While visiting them she also visited the Sequoia and King's Canyon National Parks. She saw the General Sherman Tree, reputed to be the earth's oldest and largest living thing, also Morro Rock, the Tunnel Tree, Mount Whitney, and many other interesting points. "These parks contain the most beautiful scenery you can imagine," Mrs. Barnett said.

A scenic bus trip carried the Haskell woman from Fresno, Calif., north through California and through Portland, Oregon, and into the State of Washington where she stopped at Tacoma, Wash., for a three weeks visit in the home of her son and his family, Chaplain J. Robert Barnett, former pastor of the Pinkerton Baptist Church.

She visited the Army Chapel and saw the many activities of the soldiers where Chaplain Barnett serves in the 12th Infantry Battle Group. She saw the 12 Infantry win the Sixth Army baseball championship playing against three other Sixth Army teams. She also saw the 12th Infantry football team in action.

Mrs. Barnett visited the capital city of Washington, Olympia, and saw the capitol building. Many parks and points of interest were visited in Tacoma during her stay there. One day's journey carried her to Seattle, Wash., and to the port, where dependent families come in from overseas, especially from Alaska and Japan.

High point of interest was a trip into Mount Rainier National Park, located 50 miles from Tacoma. "Mount Rainier is a beautiful snow-covered mountain and can be seen from Tacoma on clear days and it is a very impressive sight," Mrs. Barnett said. She described the mountain, a towering, ice-clad volcano, as the distinctive feature of the park. It is 14,410 feet high and is the most superb and majestic landmark of the Pacific Northwest. It is made doubly impressive by the mantle of glacial ice that conceals all but the most rugged crags and ridges.

In delightful contrast to this bold and forceful landscape are the flower-covered mountain meadows and deep forests encircling it.

Mrs. Barnett went with her son and family by automobile up the side of the mountain to Paradise Inn, which is 5,567 feet up, and there saw how life was lived above the clouds.

In contrast to the high altitude, Mrs. Barnett also took a boat trip around the coast and around an island in Puget Sound, where she could see the Federal Prison on McNeil Island from a distance.

On her return trip Mrs. Barnett spent a few days in Fresno and then came by Amarillo where she visited with another son, J. C. Barnett and family. She was met there by a son from Haskell, Police Chief Tom Paul Barnett and his wife, and they returned home Monday night.

Statue of Christ Placed in Willow Cemetery, a Gift of Mrs. J. U. Fields

Adding impressive beauty to Haskell's already beautiful Willow Cemetery and imparting a comforting assurance of eternal life to the visitor standing before it, is a recent gift to the cemetery in the form of a statue of Christ, a replica of the work of the famed Danish sculptor, Bertel Thorvaldsen which he executed in 1821 and which stands in the Church of Our Lady in Copenhagen.

The copy of the statue was executed by A. H. Wair of Graham, using imported Carrara Italian marble and rare pink Etowah marble. The life-like statue stands on a base of grey Georgia marble. Installation was completed by Mr. Wair in late September, and the statue is located on the site of the cemetery's original tool house, which has been moved.

The replica in Willow Cemetery is one of few in this country. In the original, an inscription on the pedestal reads "Come Unto Me." Scene visualized by the sculptor was against the Mount of Olives on Ascension Day. The sculptor portrayed Christ not theatrically ascending, as in so many pictures of the event, but as He still stands on the solid earth among His friends; and His words are both a farewell and an invitation.

In the words of one interpreter "In this statue the invitation seems to have a scope wider than the immediate present; it embraces the world and all succeeding time." The statue is a gift to the

JOHN DEERE "KBA" DISK HARROWS

There's no more important factor in a good planting job than the quality of the seedbed; and the modern farmer doesn't take this operation lightly. In fact, you'll find more and more modern farms depending on the John Deere Model "KBA" as the heavy-duty answer to good seedbed preparation.

Let us show you how the "KBA" chews up clods with ease, pulverizes the soil to a fine, mellow texture, and provides the ideal cradle for your crops.

110 Tons of Salt Going Into Lake Stamford Annually

According to SCS technicians, a stream of salt water running into Lake Stamford is estimated to be dumping 600 pounds of salt into the lake each 24 hours, or approximately 110 tons of salt each year.

The salt water is bubbling out of a test hole alongside a farm road south of the lake. Disposal pits have been dug along the road to help evaporate the salt as a temporary solution.

It was suggested that unless some effective method of sealing off the salt water at its source could be found, it could break through elsewhere, even below the water surface of the lake.

The application of nitrogen at planting time in the fall will increase the grazing value of small grains and step up forage production during the fall and winter months, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. He suggests a visit with the local county agent for details.

Cemetery from Mrs. J. U. Fields, longtime resident and prominent civic, church and club worker. "It is a tribute to all those who are buried in the Willow Cemetery," Mrs. Fields said.

The project fulfills a goal which she adopted almost 20 years ago, in 1940, and on which she has been quietly working with few, if any, of her most intimate friends being aware of her intended gift to the cemetery.

Appreciation and praise for Mrs. Fields' gift was expressed by Mrs. Courtney Hunt, president of the Haskell Cemetery Association, in behalf of the city and the association membership.

Mrs. Hunt said: "We wish to express our deep appreciation and sincere thanks to Mrs. Fields for the beautiful statue of Christ. We are sure we voice the gratitude of the citizens of Haskell for this magnificent gift, which lends so much beauty and dignity to our cemetery. Haskell is indeed fortunate to have this majestic statue, since there are only two like statues in Texas."

Oat Pastures Can Be Improved By Use of Nitrogen

The application of nitrogen fertilizer at seeding time in the fall will increase the grazing value of small grains and step up their forage production during the fall and winter months. Too, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, the quality of their forage will be improved.

Nitrogen needs will vary, points out the chemist. Some soils will require no additional nitrogen while others will need from 20 to 40 pounds an acre.

Phosphorus is another plant food that is often needed by fall sown small grain. The amount may vary from none to 40 pounds an acre. On sandy, light textured soils, potash may also be needed, says Bennett.

If fall seeded small grains are to be used for grain production and not grazed, Bennett says nitrogen should not be applied at seeding time in the areas north of Waco, because of the possibility of winter killing. An early spring application of nitrogen is recommended for these areas.

Research workers, Drs. I. M. Atkins and D. E. Weibel of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, in recent years have developed methods for treating seed wheat which can be used on the farm. If properly done, Hodges says effective control of the troublesome disease can be expected.

The most practical method for farm use consists of soaking the wheat seed in water with a temperature of 70 to 80 degrees for 4 hours then draining off the water and holding the seed in an airtight container, such as an oil drum, for an additional 72 hours. At the conclusion of the holding period, the seed should be dried immediately, advises the specialist.

The addition of a pint of chlorox to each 30 gallons of water for soaking the grain will reduce bacterial growth and undesirable odors which will develop during the treatment period.

We have planned a Family Fun Night for our program on Better Family Living. Other plans are incomplete.

The Future Homemakers plan to serve food at the Homecoming to make money for the club. We plan to serve sandwiches, pie, cake, coffee and cold drinks. Erlinda Alexander and Sharon Caddell were put in charge of the project.—Reporter.

Rat Poison Now Available For Texas Farmers

A program for rat control has been worked out by the Game & Wildlife Service, rodent consultants of the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, rodent control division, according to the executive secretary of the Game & Fish Commission, at Austin.

Poison grain now is available to farmers of the state to combat the cotton rat, which has become prevalent, particularly through South Texas. Milton Caroline, district agent of the Service, with Calvin Johnson, his assistant, have worked out a program with Robert G. Mauermann, regional coordinator at San Antonio, for a distribution of the poison through the Rodent Control Service, 216 7th St., San Antonio.

Each person getting poison for the control work will be listed. Game wardens then will check the effect of the poison control program on the places, under the agreement.

The active ingredients of the poison is .31% Strychnine Alkaloid by weight, with 99.69% inert ingredients. The bait is placed on the ground under grass, weeds or other vegetative cover at turn rows or other places frequented by the rats.

If the poison is properly put out the danger to bird life is greatly minimized. The biologists point out, however, the poison is dangerous, and a physician should be called immediately if a human is the victim of it.

Oneal, a fire direction center chart operator in Battery B of the artillery, entered the Army in December 1957, completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo., and arrived in Europe last July.

Rats and Mice

Due to the trouble in mixing bait materials, Haskell County has been delayed in getting another rat and mouse campaign started. The demand is far exceeding the capacity of the mixing station. The week of Nov. 4 through 7th will be the earliest date for a rodent campaign. This will be set up as on the farm demonstrations and bait will only be sold at these demonstrations. All farmers will be notified where the meetings will be held. At that time we will have plenty of bait material present but it will be about six months before we can have another rodent control program.

Hog Outlook Briefs

The number of sows farrowed and intended to farrow in the fall of 1958 (June through November) for the nine Corn Belt States is 17% larger than the 1947-56 average.

The September 1 survey indicates an increase of less than 1% from the farrowing intentions reported for these states as of June 1, 1958. Therefore, it appears at this time that hog producers are carrying out their earlier intentions. What happens in these nine states is very important because they produce a very large per cent of the total pig crop.

This increase means that we are going to have a substantial increase in the number of hogs marketed in the spring of 1959 compared with the spring of 1958, when hog prices were very good.

Reported breeding intentions indicate that the number of sows to farrow during the 1959 winter quarter (Dec. 1958-Feb. 1959) will be 20% above the number of sows farrowed during the same period a year earlier.

Because of the increase in hog production in the fall of 1958, it appears that prices in November 1958 will be near the November 1957 level and that hog prices should have a downward trend the rest of this year.

The period of exceptional high hog prices has almost ended. It also appears that slaughter during the early months of 1959 will be much larger than the very low level of a year earlier. Prices in the spring of 1959 will probably be lower

Cattle Open Fully Steady to Strong At Fort Worth

BY TED GOULDY

Cattle and calves were generally steady to strong at Fort Worth as stocker buyers were numerous and aggressive and shippers and independent packers also set a fast pace. There was some ineffective lower bids offered on the early rounds but these bidders were quick to surrender or go empty-handed.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $25 to $27 and medium and lower grades scaled from $18 to $24. Fat cows drew $19 to $21.50 and canners and cutters sold from $13 to $19. Bulls brought $18 to $22.50.

Good to choice slaughter calves ranged from $24.50 to $17.50 and common and medium sorts drew $19 to $24. Culls sold from $15 to $19. Medium and good stocker steer calves cashed at $27 to $33 and light weight stocker yearlings scaled from $31 downward. Feeder steers sold from $22 to $26, a load of strictly good feeders weighing 803 pounds from Les Ringo of Gordon at the $26 top. Heifer calves sold mostly from $29 downward, a few lightweights above that range.

The delayed action break in swine prices which featured the close of livestock trade at northern centers last week struck at Fort Worth Monday. After considerable delay in getting trading started, during which it was well past mid-morning before any movement toward the scales started, salesmen were forced to yield.

At the close butcher hogs and packing sows were 50¢ to mostly $1 per hundred lower. Shippers took about a deck of choice hogs at $21 and the other choice hogs sold at $20.75. Medium to good butchers cashed at $19 to $20.50. Sows sold from $19 to $20.

than they were during the same period in 1958.

At the present time meat animal production is increasing because during the past two years general rains, abundant feed, good pastures, and good prices have encouraged farmers to step up production. Pig and lamb crops are up in 1958 but the calf crop is down a little but remember the current buildup in cattle herds is the prelude to larger calf crops later on and this all means a larger supply of meat on the market in later years.

Safety Stickers Due For 5,036 Cars In County

There are 5,036 motor vehicles in Haskell County which must be inspected, approved and issued the new safety inspection sticker prior to midnight, April 15, 1959, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Capt. Alan Johnson of DPS motor vehicle inspection service, states that there are more than 4,000,000 vehicles registered in Texas that must be inspected before the mid-April deadline.

There are seven inspection stations in this county at which owners can get their vehicles inspected now, without having to wait in line as thousands of motorists did as the deadline neared at the close of the last inspection period.

Motorists arrested for not displaying a current inspection sticker on their motor vehicle are subject to a fine up to $200 and costs of court.

Social Security Man Schedules Haskell Visits

Schedule of visits to Haskell by a representative of the Social Security Administration, for the fourth quarter of 1958, has been announced.

A representative from the Abilene office will be at the Haskell Chamber of Commerce at 10 a. m. on the following dates:

Thursday, Oct. 9; Thursday, Oct. 23;
Thursday, Nov. 13; Thursday, Nov. 20;
Thursday, Dec. 11.

Use of Malathion On Stored Grain Is Approved

Malathion has been approved by the Pure Food and Drug Administration for use in stored grain to protect it against insects. A tolerance of eight parts per million has been established, reports Extension Entomologists F. M. Fuller and C. F. Garner. The insecticide may be used on or in stored barley, corn, oats, rice, rye, grain sorghum, wheat or peanuts.

According to the entomologists, the approved dosage is 10 ounces of actual malathion per 1,000 bushels mixed with the grain and 10 ounces of actual material per 1,000 square feet of grain surface.

The entomologists point out that only premium grade malathion should be used. One pint of 50 per cent premium grade malathion mixed with two to five gallons of water will treat 1,000 bushels of grain. It may be applied as the grain is placed in final storage. A special one per cent malathion dust impregnated on wheat flour may also be used. This dust should be applied at the rate of 60 pounds per 1,000 bushels of grain, say the entomologists.

Fuller and Garner point out that no research information is available on how long malathion will protect grain against insects under Texas conditions nor whether it will kill weevils and moths in field infested grain. They advise those who use the material to keep these facts in mind, and for insurance to make frequent checks for insects in all stored grain. If insect infestation occurs, they recommend fumigation and suggest that a copy of L-217, "Stored Grain Insects," be obtained from the local county agent. The leaflet gives information on fumigation and offers other suggestions for maintaining the quality of stored grains.

Rule Soldier Finishes Course At Fort Chaffee

Fort Chaffee, Ark. (AHTNC)—Pvt. Robert L. Thompson, 18, son of Mrs. Nora L. Williams, Rule, recently completed the eight-week general supply course at Fort Chaffee.

He received his instruction in the fundamentals of Army supply procedures and preparation of supply records and forms.

Thompson is a 1958 graduate of Albuquerque, N. M. High School.

Fall Vegetable Gardens Have Good Prospects

Recent rains have provided moisture needed for soil preparation and the planting of fall gardens, says Blueford Hancock, extension horticulturist. If planted now snap beans, lima beans, squash, and the leafy green vegetables should produce good crops before frost.

Soil should be prepared for later plantings of turnips, collards, kale, swiss chard and broccoli, says the specialist. He recommends disking two or three times to form a smooth, firm seedbed. If only a small area is to be planted, he says a hand rake can be used to smooth the seedbed. Because most vegetable seeds are small, it is necessary to break up clods and plant them in a firm smooth bed in order to obtain a good stand.

Vegetables planted now will insure a good supply through late fall and winter months and provided the family with the green and leafy vegetables they need for a good diet, says Hancock.

The specialist advises those who may desire more information on fall and winter gardening problems to visit the local county extension agent for advice and free publications.
