After being welcomed, pilots and their passengers were carried in private cars to the Elementary School cafeteria where they were served breakfast.

Mayor Ira Hester acted as master of ceremonies for the breakfast, and C. of C. President Jim Byrd introduced the guests.

During the breakfast program, Cliff B. Green of Austin, executive director of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, spoke briefly. He praised Haskell for providing the modern landing strip, which he termed a mark of progress for the community.

Meet Olney Here Friday; 2-8 By Spur in Opener

In their season opener last week, the Cubs smared Albany 38-12, while the Tribe dropped their opener to Spur. The Indians demonstrated stubborn defense against the strong Spur Bulldogs Friday night, holding the Bulldogs on downs on three different occasions in the shadow of the goal.

The Tribe, beset with fumbles, was unable to mount a sustained scoring effort, however, and was edged by the Bulldogs, 12-8, in a non-conference tilt. The game, played at Spur, opened the season for both clubs.

Spur went into the lead 6-0 in the second quarter when Linebacker Jimmy Paronto bobbled the ball into his own end zone but recovered for the touchdown.

In the third quarter, Spur's Wayne Wright, right end, picked off a Haskell fumble at the Indian's eight. Four plays later Bulldog Halfback Bubba Bingham hit pay dirt on a reverse.

With less than 20 seconds remaining in the game, the Indians scored their only marker. Quarterback Bobby Gibson passed to Back Lonnie Sturdy for 20 yards and the TD. Halfback Junior Holt ran over the extra points.

Hemphills Return After Visiting In California

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hemphill returned last week from a month's visit with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hemphill in Los Angeles, Calif., and a visit with other relatives and friends in Redding, Calif., and Phoenix, Ariz.

While in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill visited many points of interest, and the Haskell man had an opportunity to do quite a bit of ocean fishing. They visited Marine land, where they saw almost unbelievable feats performed by trained seals, porpoise, and whales. Another interesting attraction they visited was Disneyland.

From Los Angeles they went to Redding, Calif., for a visit with the Fauntleroy family, former neighbors of the Hemphills in Graham, Texas.

On their return trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill stopped in Phoenix, Ariz., for a several days visit with their sister, Mrs. G. W. West and Mr. West.

The Haskell couple made the trip by plane, with their return trip from Phoenix, to Dallas on one of the new jet airliners.

Mrs. H. M. Smith Funeral Service Held Saturday

Funeral service for Mrs. H. M. Smith, 80, resident here since 1906, was held at 3 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery, under direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Mrs. Smith, member of a family long identified with the church, civic and business activities in Haskell, died at 6:50 a. m. Friday in the Haskell Hospital, where she had been a patient since suffering a stroke July 19.

The former Lela Maud Lewis, she was born Feb. 1, 1879 in Rhea Mills, Collin County, Texas, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lewis. She was married Dec. 5, 1897 to Hugh Mack Smith of Prosper. They came to Haskell in 1906 from Denton County, and Mr. Smith was engaged in the hardware, furniture and implement business here until his retirement a few years ago.

Mrs. Smith was a member of the First Methodist Church and held a lifetime membership in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Haskell Magazine Club.

Rotarians Enjoy Film on Alaska, 49th State

Scenery, people, and industry of Alaska, the nation's 49th state, were impressively pictured in a film shown at the luncheon and meet of the Rotary Club Thursday at noon in the Highway Drive In.

Members praised the showing as one of the best film programs they had seen, and one of the clearest portrayals of the massive new state and its resources.

The film emphasized the fact that the huge new state was not altogether a snow-covered, icy wasteland. Scenes of the dairying industry in Alaska emphasized the fact that some areas of Alaska are comparable to the interior of the U. S.

Most impressive scenes, however, were of the tremendous ice areas and glaciers where icebergs are formed as huge masses of ice break away from the glaciers.

Also pictured in considerable detail was one of Alaska's leading industries, salmon canning. All phases of the industry were pictured in detail, and interwoven was the story of migration of salmon from spawning grounds in the interior streams of Alaska to the Pacific Ocean, and their return in seasonal "runs" when thousands of tons are taken by fleets of salmon fishing boats.

Club President Hooper Wilkinson reminded members of the Rotary Information Institute to be held in Graham, and urged attendance of all who could go.

Guest at the meeting and luncheon was Rotarian Aubrey Simpkins of Rule.

Workers Praised For Help Given Dedication Fete

Appreciation for the splendid cooperation of Haskell citizens and civic groups in Monday's Airstrip Dedication program was expressed by Mayor Ira Hester and Jim Byrd, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Because of the help and cooperation of so many volunteer helpers and civic organizations, the program was carried out smoothly," they said.

Only sour note in the day's program was the fact that safety considerations required that the roads leading to the airstrip had to be barred to all except cars transporting visitors from the airstrip to the Elementary School, where the breakfast was held.

Mayor Hester and C. of C. President Byrd explained that because of the large number of planes using the landing strip, no parking space was available for cars.

"We regret if any inconvenience was caused anyone, but the few access roads simply could not accommodate any cars other than those of persons helping in the program," the officials explained.

County to Share Cost of Casing Humble Oil Line

County Commissioner Claude Ashley of Prec. 1, who is securing right-of-way deeds for a new stretch of F-M highway north of Rule, had a new item of expense to consider this week.

It is a bill for $1,400 from Humble Oil Company, representing the county's share in the expense of casing a 10-inch pipeline underneath the new Farm-Market highway.

An outer casing 103 feet in length will be placed around the 10-inch pipeline where it will be covered with permanent paving. This is done in order that the pipeline will be accessible for repairs if the need ever arises, without tearing up the highway surface.

The estimate of $1,400 represents cost of casing 45 feet of the oil line, with Humble paying cost of the remaining 58 feet, it was explained.

F-M Road 2407 will be a stretch of about three miles, and will connect State Highway 283 with the Rule-Jud F-M road at a point about five miles north of Rule.

Commissioner Ashley said most of the right-of-way deeds had been signed for the new road. Several deeds mailed to non-resident landowners remain to be executed and returned, he said.

Council Buys Police Car, Studies Water Situation

Ruling Favors Defendants in Suit for $3 Million Damages

A judgment favoring the defendants, Texaco Inc., et al. in a lawsuit seeking to recover more than $3,000,000 damages has been ruled by Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, in 39th District Court here, after hearing oral arguments in the case.

The suit, filed in Kent County, was styled The Fleming Foundation, et al. vs. Texaco Inc., et al. and involved mineral rights claimed under approximately 25,000 acres of land in Kent County.

Testimony in the case was heard at Jayton, Kent County seat, with the subsequent oral arguments being heard here on agreement of attorneys for the litigants.

Principal point at issue in the litigation was whether "oil, gas and other minerals" as the term used in conveying mineral rights, included subterranean water that might be discovered and produced for commercial use.

Approximately 25,000 acres of land involved was the former Adkins Ranch in Kent County, now owned by L. C. LeDerer of Wellington, Texas. However, one-half the mineral rights under the land was reserved to the Fleming Foundation and one-half to the heirs of the Adkins Estate, when the land was sold.

Litigation developed after LeDerer, as owner of the land, granted permission of Texaco Inc. (formerly the Texas Co.) to drill water wells and use the water produced from the wells in water-flooding operations in the Cogdell Oil Field in Kent and Scurry Counties, some 10 miles from the ranch.

Testimony given at the Jayton hearing was to the effect that several water wells have been put down from which an estimated 27,000,000 barrels of water have been used in the flooding operations in the Cogdell Field.

Plaintiffs, The Fleming Foundation and the Adkins heirs, contended they were owners of all minerals, including water, underneath the surface of the land involved.

After Judge Chapman announced his ruling favoring the defendants, all plaintiffs gave notice of appeal to the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals, Amarillo.

Seven Grand Jury Indictments Returned in One-Day Session

Seven felony indictments were returned by a 39th District Court Grand Jury in a one-day session here Thursday, when 25 witnesses appeared before the body.

One indictment was for assault with intent to murder, two indictments alleged forgery and passing, one charged theft over $50, and three were for burglary at night.

Charged with assault with intent to murder, with malice, was Euanna Hicks, 33-year-old Negro woman. The indictment was based on a shooting which occurred Aug. 16 at a Negro cafe here, when Annie Clara Whitaker, a Negro woman was struck in the shoulder by a revolver bullet.

Charged in companion indictments with forgery and passing were two brothers, Lewis Oudems, 24, and Luther Jerry Oudems, 19, both of Monday. Basis of the two indictments was the burglary of the A. D. Carmack filling station in Rochester on the night of June 12 this year.

All principals named in the indictments are in custody or under bond, court officials said.

At the conclusion of the one-day session, the Grand Jury recessed subject to call at a later date.

City Aldermen authorized the purchase of a new Ford car for the Police Department at the regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night discussed a pending rat poisoning campaign, and aired their worries over the municipal water situation to round out a session, lasting an hour and a half.

Bill Wilson Motor Co. was the lowest of three bidders on sale of the police department car. The net bid, after trade-in allowance on the present police car, was $1,396.58 on a 1959 model 4-door Ford.

Next lowest bidder was Perry Motor Co., whose net bid was $1,406.70 on a 1959 4-door Plymouth.

Third bidder, Medford Motors, submitted a bid of $1,626.00 on a 4-door Plymouth, 1959 model.

Concerning the rat-poisoning campaign, Aldermen decided to place the matter under supervision of City Water Superintendent Roy Oliphant, and to provide him whatever assistance is needed in effectively carrying out the campaign.

Discussion of the water situation brought out the fact that some of the city water wells are not producing, placing a heavier demand on the remaining wells to supply city needs.

A search for additional well sites inside the city limits has not been successful. Water Commissioner Jim Byrd reported. As a result, the Council may explore the possibility of developing wells in areas outside the city limits if water can be found in sufficient quantity.

World War One Vets Will Meet In Rule Sunday

For the convenience of members, meetings are alternated among the various towns in the county.

The Water Situation

During the past week several residents who use water from private wells for watering lawns, gardens and shrubbery report a diminishing supply of water in these wells.

Hot, dry weather during the month of August resulted in a terrific demand for water, for farm irrigation in the area northwest of Haskell, as well as by city residents who are supplied by the municipal system.

Luckily, the municipal wells have been able to provide the needs of Haskell residents so far, although several wells in the system have been practically exhausted.

For next year and the immediate future, the need is for all speed possible in developing the Miller Creek project, which at best cannot be completed for at least two years.

Officials of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority say that work of compiling the district's tax rolls is about complete. Then, the next step in the project will hinge on sale of the authority's tax and revenue bonds to finance construction of the reservoir and distribution system.

A candid appraisal of the situation leads to the conclusion that our community faces at least two more years of uncertainty as to the adequacy of our municipal water supply.

Our Schools Should Be Fire-Safe

There are 39 million reasons for making sure our schools are fire-safe: The nation's grade and high school students.

Making sure students stay safe is a job for parents as well as school officials.

"Parents," the National Safety Council said, "are as responsible for protecting their youngsters at school as are school officials.

"Through parent and civic organizations, mothers and fathers can press for fire-safe schools for their children.

"It has been said that fire safety does not necessarily cost a lot of money. It does, however, take intelligent thought and action—before a fire starts!"

Fire safety may not involve considerable expense, but a lack of fire safety certainly does. In 1957, for example, the 4,300 school and college fires in the United States cost the nation more than 30 million dollars.

What can you do to bring about adequate fire safety in your school? Parents should teach fire safety as a part of daily living until it becomes second nature.

Schools should give fire safety instruction throughout the year, and should integrate it with such studies as science, arts and crafts, health education and social studies, which lend themselves well to teaching fire safety.

Responsibilities of the school administrator, according to the council, consist of:

- 1. Conducting regular inspections and evacuation drills, and insuring construction of fire-safe schools.
2. Having sprinkler systems, automatic alarm and detection equipment which can be activated at several points of the school building, and, if necessary, can be activated with an auxiliary source of power.

The theft was discovered within a few minutes, but to date the thief has not been apprehended.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Earl Correll tells this yarn on Charles Swinson, but we have a feeling that Earl has confused our banker friend Charles with Scotch Coggins, since it sounds more like Scotch in the first place. Also, both are enthusiastic golfers, each owning a $1.25 golf ball.

According to Earl, Charles was getting in some driving practice one evening recently. Following a particularly vicious slice, the ball left the fairway, rolled into the rough and down a gopher hole. After vainly trying to poke a stick down the hole and retrieve his ball, friends saw Charles shoulder his bag of clubs and head for his car.

"That's ruined his day, losing that ball," friends commented as Swinson got in his car and drove toward town.

In about 30 minutes he was back, however. When he got out of his car with his clubs, friends noticed he was also carrying a post-hole shovel, one of those long, narrow-bladed jobs.

Heading straight for that gopher hole, Charles started digging, and in a matter of minutes had recovered the lost ball and was banging it back and forth along the driving lane.

Since then, according to Earl, the post-hole spade is carried along in the bag with Swinson's other clubs.

Ever so often, you run across the unusual in the day's news, even in a small town.

Saturday morning we had a phone call that a Rule man had been injured in an oil field accident. The caller knew no particulars, other than the victim's name was Sorrels.

Going to the hospital, we were admitted to his room. Talking to relatives there with him, we were told the particulars of the accident. Then the unusual angle developed. His cousin, whose name was also Sorrels, had been injured in a separate accident on the same day and was in a Wichita Falls hospital. Another bizarre angle was that both were the same age, 25, and both worked for the same company.

Haskell County people evidently are becoming more law-abiding. Through Saturday, Sept. 5, the county jail had been without inmates since Aug. 27.

Ordinarily, the proprietor of an establishment catering to "roomers" would be unhappy if he had no customers for a 10-day period. But Sheriff Bill Pennington and other local officers were well-pleased over the situation.

"We like it that way," the Sheriff said, adding "I just hope it's not a lull before the storm."

George Dolan, whose widely-read column "This is West Texas" is a week-day feature in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, recently had a story about an Appeals Court justice who worked as a road hand during his spare time.

The hard-working jurist was Associate Justice Alton E. Chapman of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals, Amarillo. George, of course, had no way of knowing anything about Justice Chapman's background, or he would have readily understood the man's capacity for hard work.

The Amarillo jurist is an old Rochester boy, born and reared there, and a graduate of Haskell High School. His grandfather, a pioneer settler in Haskell County, established the town of Marcy which later became Rochester. Growing up on a farm, young Alton naturally became acquainted with hard work at an early age, and learned to like it!

Justice Chapman is a first cousin of District Judge B. C. Chapman of Haskell, and an uncle was the late Judge W. R. Chapman of Anson, which proves that Chapmans take to the legal profession like ducks to water.

Motorists traveling Highway 24 between Haskell and Throckmorton Saturday night may have wondered when they passed a car parked beside the highway and saw two men with flashlights apparently searching for something beside the highway.

The answer is simple, but surprising and somewhat frightening: They were looking for rattlesnakes!

Finding plenty of the reptiles, too, according to Sgt. Frank Jircik of the Highway Patrol, and Ray Lusk, highway maintenance boss.

Sgt. Jircik and Lusk were on their way to Olney Saturday night when they noticed the men, one of whom was carrying what looked like a cane fishing pole.

Stopping to investigate, Sgt. Jircik asked the men where they were from and what they were doing.

One of the men explained they were from Wichita Falls, and were hunting rattlesnakes. "We snared three just a few minutes ago, right about where you are standing," he told Sgt. Jircik, who moved quickly out to the center of the pavement.

It seems the rattlers frequent the highway shoulders at night, evidently finding food in grasshoppers, birds and insects killed on the highways.

Whatever the reason, the Wichita Falls men were finding plenty of rattlers, most of them two or two and one-half feet in length. They had taken 28 on the evening's hunt. Lusk and Jircik were told.

Just goes to prove that "death lurks on the highways" in more ways than one.

Around this time of year rattlesnakes are more numerous than at any season, or at least they are seen in larger numbers.

Near the high school Mrs. Roy Johnson, C. of C. manager, stopped and asked the two youngsters if they wanted a ride. Noting the official sticker on her car, they quickly accepted.

Unaware that their host driver was an executive of the Chamber of Commerce, and that the airport dedication was her original idea, the two lads were discussing community activities.

Then, as the car neared the airport, Walter Viars remarked to his companion: "Wish we had of Rex Felker back in Haskell, there just hasn't anything happened here since he left."

Rex is an uncle of Walter Viars, and was C. of C. manager here for a number of years before taking a similar position in Quanah.

Jones-Jeffcoat Wedding

Helen Davene Jones of Rule and Jerry Lewis Jeffcoat of Cisco were married at the First Baptist Church in Rule August 30 at 3 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Jones of Rule. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jeffcoat of Cisco.

The bride's sister, Dianne Jones of Rule, was the bride's maid of honor. Don Jeffcoat of Cisco, brother of the groom, was best man.

Bridesmaids were the bride's cousins, Betty Jones of Stamford, Brenda Dyer of Denison and Mary Whorton of Rule. Flower girls were Leatrice Jones of Abilene, cousin of the bride and Cindy Ragland of Graham, cousin of the groom.

Brothers of the bride, Eddie and Ronnie Jones, lighted the candles. Bo Jones of Abilene, cousin of the bride, and Jeffrey Ragland, nephew of the groom, were ring bearers.

Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Jimmy Jeffcoat, Buddy Waters, Jimmy Walker and Charles Laugherty, all of Cisco. Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage.

The bouffant skirt of the bride's embroidered tulle gown formed a back bustle and train. The waltz length dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice, winged collar and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, geranium blossoms, miniature rosebuds and stephanotis with lovely-knotted satin streamers atop a white Bible.

Bridal attendants wore gowns fashioned alike of red organza with pleated white chiffon drapes. Fitted bodices tapered to a V in front and back and topped full circular skirts. Long white gloves, pearl necklaces, red patent shoes and organza picture hats completed their costumes. Their fan bouquets were of red and white verbenas and miniature ivy, encircled with red tulle.

The reception in the banquet room followed the ceremony. Members of the houseparty were Molly Wilcox, Myrtle Murray, Sonja Carroll, Martha Campbell, Penny Rial, Audrey Smith and Mrs. W. A. Robinson.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Rule High School. She was Football Sweetheart, twirler in the pep squad, member of the paper and annual staff, and active in dramatics. She attended Howard Payne College where she was a twirler for the Yellow Jacket Band, and a member of the Oratorio Choir. She has been employed at Carlock Motors in Brownwood.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Rule High School. He is a senior at Cisco Junior College. The couple will reside in Cisco.

A fleet of Falcons is going to undergo a final exhausting test... over every single mile of numbered U.S. Federal Highway... along a crisscross route that will include the ups and downs of two major mountain ranges, the challenges of every type of roadway and thruway, main street and boulevard.

TODAY... 10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tuned and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested... everything-tested on Ford's own proving grounds. The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it takes anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads.

How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon!

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's... for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the Ford Falcon.

Water Safety Act Causes Over Boat Licensing

Provisions of the Water Safety Act, since all local regulations must conform to the Act.

Under the new Water Safety Act, each of the following classes of boats will be registered for a three year period for the rates shown:

Less than 16 feet in length, $1.00.
16 feet and over and less than 26 feet in length, $5.00.
26 feet and over and less than 40 feet in length, $10.00.
40 feet and over in length, $12.50.

For boat owners the change in licensing regulations will mean a substantial saving, since the State fee is considerably lower.

On the other hand, loss of revenue to the City of Stamford will add to the burden of maintaining a Lake Officer to supervise safety regulations and other regulations at the lake.

For the past year, Stamford has had an officer on duty at the lake, with this expense being paid out of the licensing fees, it is understood.

Workers Advised To Check Social Security Records

A question the Social Security Administration would like to hear asked more often is, "Have my earnings been properly credited to my social security account?"

Most people know something about their rights and benefits under social security but many do not know they have certain obligations, too. For example, have you checked your social security in recent years? Do you know whether all your earnings have been correctly credited to your account? If your answer is "No" to these questions, you should take action now.

Plan Now For Winter Pastures

Winter pastures can reduce the cost of wintering livestock and help maintain growth and production. E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says that dairymen have reported net returns of $25 to $50 per acre from winter temporary pastures.

Even though Texas has had a good pasture year, winter pastures will still be needed to supply green grazing while summer grasses are dormant, reminds Trew. Winter pastures also help with erosion control, says the specialist. They cover the soil and prevent washing and blowing and the roots add organic matter.

Trew advises planting at the proper time for your area, even if it is necessary to dust the seed in. He points out that stockmen who have dry planted in the past were ahead when rain did come, because plants came up, grew off and gave grazing much sooner than where seed were not sown until after the rain.

The use of fertilizer can't be overlooked, for it will pay big dividends when needed, says Trew. A soil test is the best fertilizer dollar that can be spent, for this is the best way to determine the type and amount of fertilizer that is needed.

If the crop has to be dusted in, the specialist advises putting down the fertilizer, too. He says it won't be lost, because if rain doesn't come for the winter pasture, the fertilizer will still be there for use by the succeeding crop.

Varieties of plants to use vary with different areas of the state. Trew says that a combination of a grass and a legume sometimes gives greater total production. The forage produced from the combination is sometimes higher in protein and minerals and the grazing season is frequently extended over a longer period of time.

He advises contacting the local agricultural agent for additional information about winter pastures. They also have copies of L-268, Winter Temporary Pastures, which can be obtained free of charge.

More than 45,000,000 of the 50,000,000 U. S. households will receive a newspaper today.

Judge Jim Alvis Named President Of Band Boosters

Haskell Woman Accompanies Son And Wife on Long Vacation Tour

Mrs. May Larned has returned to her home in this city after an extended vacation tour with her son and his wife which took them to points in Ohio, Washington, Pennsylvania and other states.

On last July 18th Mrs. Larned received an invitation and bus ticket from her son, Lieut. Jack Larned and his wife, of San Antonio, to accompany them on a four-weeks vacation.

The Haskell woman joined her son and daughter-in-law in San Antonio July 21 and the three left July 23 for Camp Perry, Ohio, to attend the National Pistol Matches, in which the San Antonio police officer participated.

Lt. Larned did unusually well at the national meet, winning silverware and other awards. The San Antonio man has won top honors, a gold Distinguished Honor medal, twice and the trophy will be awarded to him permanently if he wins it a third time.

While at Camp Perry, the party went to Detroit, Mich., where they spent the day. They went through the Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. They made a boat trip to Canada on the steamboat "Pelee" and spent several hours in Kingsville, Ontario, and also stopped briefly on Pelee Island.

After remaining at Camp Perry for 10 days, the party went to Jersey Shore, Penn., for a visit with Mrs. Jack Larned's parents, leaving Aug. 20 to return home, they came by way of Washington, D. C., where they visited many historic places including the capitol and the White House, Washington's Monument and Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the National Cemetery and the tomb of George and Martha Washington at Mount Vernon. They drove through the battlegrounds at Gettysburg, then visited Jamestown, Williamsburg, Va., and other points. They returned through Shreveport, La., to Granbury, Texas, where they visited in the home of Mrs. Annie Tittle, a sister of the Haskell woman. From Granbury, Lt. and Mrs. Jack Larned returned to San Antonio, and Mrs. May Larned remained with her sister for a visit of several days before returning to Haskell.

Cotton Harvesting Methods Affect Market Price

Texas cotton growers have produced one of the best crops in many years, and should use the best harvesting methods possible for the most profit, advises Fred Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

Good harvesting can mean as much as $25 per bale more for the grower, he pointed out. If growers will use good harvesting methods, many millions of dollars can be added to Texas farm income this year.

To harvest better cotton, Elliott stated that cotton should be picked only after dew or rain has dried off and that green bolls, grass, stalk parts or other trash should be kept out of seed cotton.

Enough seed cotton should be taken to the gin for a 500 pound bale of lint cotton. Farmers will be docked for undersized and oversized bales. Also, he reminds, bales weighing less than 275 or more than 700 pounds cannot be sold to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Other harvesting practices recommended include: not picking cotton in tar bottom pick sacks; seed cotton grouping for hand picked and machine picked cotton, tramping seed cotton in trailers for storage; and keeping mechanical harvesters in good condition and using only well trained operators.

When seed cotton is delivered to the gin yard, the effects of harvesting do not end. It's easy to see that clean, dry cotton can be ginned much better than damp, trashy cotton. Remember that you have a sizeable investment in your crop and in a great many cases proper harvesting practices can mean the difference between profit and loss, added Elliott. He suggests that a copy of MP-297, Keep Cotton Loose, Dry and Clean be obtained from the local county agent for more information on cotton harvesting problems.

Workers Advised To Check Social Security Records

A question the Social Security Administration would like to hear asked more often is, "Have my earnings been properly credited to my social security account?"

Most people know something about their rights and benefits under social security but many do not know they have certain obligations, too. For example, have you checked your social security in recent years? Do you know whether all your earnings have been correctly credited to your account? If your answer is "No" to these questions, you should take action now.

Social security records should be checked at least once every three years and the sooner a worker checks the easier it is to correct any errors in his earnings record. This advice applies to everyone but especially household workers who may work for several employers at the same time, or who may change jobs often, or who may not work steadily.

Remember that your social security retirement, disability, and survivors benefits will be based on your social security account. Therefore, it's good business to check the record of your earnings. It's an easy thing to do, too. Just write the social security district office, Box 5168, Abilene, Texas, and ask for OAR-7004 Wage Statement Request. When your statement comes back in the mail, check it carefully against your own records. If you believe that there are any errors—that all of your earnings that should have been credited to your account are not shown—get in touch with the Abilene social security office, or meet a representative of that office when he is in your vicinity. Check his travel schedule at your local post office.

Letters to Gov. Daniel Stress Theme of 'No More Taxes, Please'

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—People who have been writing Gov. Price Daniel in the past few weeks say "no more taxes, please."
In mid-August the governor announced he would call a special session to raise money for higher teacher pay only if he people demanded it. He said he also wanted to find out how legislators felt after they had had a chance to be at home a while and talk with the folks in their districts.

In the weeks that have transpired, there has been a heavy volume of mail running strongly against the special session idea. Lawmakers also are taking a dim view of being called for a fifth round of money hunting.
Whether this means that prospects for a teacher pay session are out remains to be seen. It could mean only that the teachers, their families, friends and other school-minded people have been too busy with "back to school" work to get their letters off to the governor.

On the other hand, it could mean that the people are getting tired of taxes and spiralling wage scales.

Pinch Already Felt
Perhaps the reason many Texans weren't eager to have another tax session was that they were beginning to feel the bite of new taxes already passed this year.

State Treasurer Jesse James' report shows that many stockpiled up on cigarettes and liquor during August, before higher taxes on these items became effective in September.

Mrs. W. D. Hellums had as guests in her home during the Labor Day weekend, her sister, Mrs. Luna Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Funk and daughter Norene, all of Albuquerque, N. M., and her daughter, Miss Wynelle Hellums of Dallas. All returned home Monday except Mrs. Jacobs who remained for a longer visit. Miss Norene Funk will attend Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth.
