Archery season begins September 30

To some, the thought of remaining motionless in a tree stand in September Texas heat for hours on end, covered in camouflage, and surrounded by a variety of annoying insects, might be a dismal one. To a bowhunter, however, the upcoming archery deer season opener carries thoughts of a different nature.

For some 75,000 Texas bowhunters who'll take part in this year's archery-only deer season, the chance to "draw down" on that first whitetail of the season will ultimately outweigh any discomfort that might be associated with the sport. The archer-only season for white-tailed deer runs Sept. 30 - Oct. 31 in all counties with a general white-tailed deer season, and in Grayson County.

And, even for the 85 percent or so who will come away without having harvested a whitetail, the opportunity to have hunted still makes it worthwhile. Typically, the success rate for Texas bowhunters is about 15 percent, which accounts for between 15,000 to 20,000 deer killed statewide, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife

Final Landfill closure notice

The Robert Lee Landfill will be open for the last day on this Saturday, Sept. 30, from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm.

Trashaway Services will begin trash collection service on Tuesday, Oct. 3 and Friday, Oct. 6 to the residents of Robert Lee. During the next couple of weeks residents will be provided with a 96 gallon roll-out container. Residents will need to place the container at the designated place of pickup. The alley will no longer be utilized for pickup. Citizens unsure of their designated place of pickup may drop by City Hall.

There has been a small delay in the shipment of the containers. All residents that do not have a container by the date that their service is to begin will still need to place their trash at the designated place of pickup. The City realizes that this will be an inconvenience and apologizes for the delay of their containers.

Department (TPWD).

But, as any bowhunter will confirm, the harvest is not the compelling factor behind bowhunting. "The harvest is always going to be low, just because of the high skill level required to get a shot at a deer," said Butch Young, TPWD whitetail deer program leader. "Bowhunting has never been a real factor in possible overharvest of deer. The end result is not the kill, although venison is nice to have, but to be closer to nature and to understand our place in the natural world.

"Bowhunting is a great opportunity to get out in the woods and improve your hunting skills," Young said. "It's a great way to introduce young people to hunting. They'll have an opportunity during bow season to get out in the woods when there's not a lot of hunters running around and the deer aren't spooked easily and see more deer and learn more about their habits."

And, according to Young, the habits of some hunters may need to change in order to get close to deer this season. Due to decent amounts of rainfall throughout the Edwards Plateau and in East Texas earlier in the year, deer may not be as susceptible to food plots and feeders, especially during bow season.

"Feeders and food plants may not pay off as well due to good mast production in East

Kerwin Denton Fund established

A fund has been established at First National Bank in Bronte for Kerwin Denton. Denton was injured in a hunting accident on Sunday, September 17th. He sustained serious injuries to the face and chest. He underwent emergency surgery at Shannon Medical Center in San Angelo. He was later transferred to a Dallas hospital for further surgery and treatment. He will have to return to Dallas for further treatment and surgery.

Individuals wishing to make deposits to this fund to assist the Denton family can bring deposits to the bank or mail them to Drawer C, Bronte, 76933, according to a bank representative.

Texas," said Young. "Finding a good red oak to hunt near may be real important for hunters who typically sit over a food plot or feeder."

Young also noted the additional rainfall in the Hill Country and some parts of South Texas has resulted in higher fawn production. "Bowhunters should be aware of the need to harvest more

Historical marker dedicated

Formal dedication for the Southern Overland Mail historical marker was conducted Tuesday at 3:00 pm at the location between Robert Lee and Bronte. Harrell Johnston, Robert Lee postmaster, read an address written by Joe Peacock of Bronte, giving a colorful background and recognition to those involved with the undertaking.

Eastern businessman John Butterfield established the first regularly scheduled means of communication between east and west in 1857. He had no idea the difficulties to be faced, physically or financially, when the mail passage began. At that time, most of the wild west was inhabited by Comanche Indians who did not welcome the white man.

Stops were 200 miles and upwards apart in a desolate dangerous land. Despite the tremendous problems, mail was never late on either end of the line.

Financially, the venture was a miserable failure. Each letter of 1/2 ounce cost 10 cents to send and cost the company $65 to deliver. The mail line operated 31 months and would have folded due to monetary losses eventually, but the advent of the Civil War sounded its death knell. The failure, however, was overridden by the vision of the huge undertaking, the hardships those involved suffered, and pointing up of the eventual necessity of a cross-country communication system.

The Texas Department of Transportation is to be commended for the beautiful job done by Coke County employees who set the marker in the Texas-shaped gravel base.

Dedication of the historical marker designating the Butterfield Trail as the passage for the Southern Overland Mail route through Coke County was held at the site on Texas 158, between Robert Lee and Bronte Tuesday afternoon.

Letter to the Editor

Editor's Note: Below is a copy of a letter which was sent to the City of Robert Lee and was requested to be run as a letter to the editor in the newspaper.

Dear Sir:
 As per registered letter sent to me about lots #8 and 9 blk. 22 OT, I made arrangements for them to be mowed, but the weather has not cooperated.

Here is a suggestion: Before the City of Robert Lee goes to the time, trouble, and expense of sending out costly registered letters, make sure ALL City of Robert Lee property and ROWs are in the condition, by law, that the City of Robert Lee expects and demands us to do.

For example:

1. Inside and outside fence at City water tower.
2. City ROW on both sides of Riverview St.
3. City ROW between 12th and 13th on Washington St.
4. Third St. beside Jody's Apts. is covered with weeds over 4' tall.
5. On both sides of street between my shop and Jim Hubbard's shop City ROW has NEVER been fully cleaned, since I've owned that property.
6. The lots behind my shop have NEVER been cleaned.
7. City alley beside my shop has grown up to about 6' tall, just past my property line. (We keep the alley that borders our property mowed.) I hired a Caterpillar to clean the fenceline behind my shop; it was not my property, but I know it is inside the city limits. WHY are the owners NOT required to clean those lots?
7. And the WORST thing is Fern Havins City Park. If I were the mayor I'd have those city employees go down there and take the sign down. If it can't be cleaned and mowed - close it.
8. City sewer plant - besides stinking to high heaven, inside and outside the fence, weeds are pretty close to 6' tall.

I could list SEVERAL pages, but I'm hoping you get the point.

antlerless deer in these areas with high fawn production."

Although providing supplemental food sources for deer has become routine for many hunters in Texas, there are some concerns which should be considered. Hunters who prefer to use corn as supplemental deer food are encouraged to keep it as dry as possible, due to the potential threat of aflatoxins. Aflatoxin in a strain of mold which grows in corn under humid conditions and can be extremely deadly when ingested by birds and mammals.

Local talent displayed on theatre stage

The Angelo Civic Theatre in San Angelo began its 110th anniversary season with an ambitious undertaking with its current production of "Annie." With its huge cast, mostly children, "Annie" represents many, many hours of auditions, preparations, and commitment by families of the children. Leading members of the cast were faced with many hours of practice sessions and volumes of dialogue and music to memorize.

The production is based on an old book, Little Orphan Annie, by Thomas Meehan, the story of an orphanage and the adoption of Annie by a wealthy man. The pair then befriend the other orphanage residents.

A local girl, Macy Hill, daughter of Billy and Cynthia Hill of Robert Lee, is cast as "Tessie," one of the orphan children. The theatre alternated the dates of the cast members' appearances due to their ages and school commitments. Macy's appearance dates include Sept. 14, 16, 22, 24, 28, 30, and Oct. 5 and 7.

Abi Pierce of San Angelo plays the alternate lead role as "Annie." She is the daughter of Doug and Gayle Pierce. Doug is a former resident of Robert Lee. Abi is the granddaughter of Jack and lone Raymond of Kingsland and the great-niece of Javan Vosburg and Add Davis of Robert Lee.

Her performances are Sept. 15, 21, 23, 27, 29 and Oct. 1 and 6. Tickets are still available to catch this fine production. Call 944-4400 for information.

Because growing conditions for aflatoxins can be created when corn is stored in areas of high moisture content, poorly constructed wildlife feeders that allow corn to get wet can cause an increase in toxicity.

With recent implementation of either-sex hunting statewide during the archery-only season, hunters in one-buck-only counties of East Texas are not required to have an antlerless permit to harvest does. All bowhunters must purchase the $7 Archery Stamp in addition to possessing a valid Texas Hunting License.

Present at the wedding were the bride's parents, grandparents, sister, aunt and uncle, and friends from California. Also attending were Sharon Kennedy, mother of the groom, and friends from Texas and California. The bride wore a white waltz-length dress of taffeta with a lace bodice. The groom wore a black tuxedo.

The wedding was held in the glass-surrounded chapel at Harvey's overlooking the lake and mountains. A reception-dinner was held at Jack Kennedy's restaurant after the wedding.

The couple is very excited about moving to Texas.

RL Baptist Church "on the move"

David Miracle, pastor of Robert Lee Baptist Church, recently celebrated his six-month anniversary with the church. Since his first "official" Sunday, April 23, 1995, Miracle and his family have enjoyed getting to know the people of Robert Lee. The church seems happy to have them as well. With a Sunday School enrollment of 230, average attendance in September has been 158, with visitors and new members adding to the number weekly.

A series of steps have taken Brother Miracle and the church members to the attendance and excitement they are now experiencing. Shortly after David's arrival, a "Dream Team" was developed. This is a dedicated group of individuals committed to praying for and exploring God's vision for the church. From the Dream Team came a Five-Fold Plan for the church, which included the purchase of a new copier, a paint job inside the education building, a computer system, minor repairs on the plumbing system, and eventually, renovation of the church offices. The first two goals have been met, and the third is now in progress.

Ministry opportunities increased even more when the church voted to bring Bobby Cox as Associate Pastor of Youth and Children in August. Bobby has since implemented youth and children's programs which have been very well-received.

The youth program, known as L.I.F.E. (Life Is For Everyone) meets on Wednesday nights at 7:00 pm in the old school gym. On one Wednesday night, 90 kids, grades 7-12, enjoyed the games, songs, and practical, biblical message brought to them by Bobby.

The children's program, TeamKid, involves kids from pre-school to sixth grade. Through recreation, songs, Bible verse memorization, and fellowship with their friends, kids learn God's love firsthand. The youth and children's programs are successful due to church members who volunteer their time and efforts each week.

Adults also have a place of involvement on Wednesday nights. On August 6, the church served 45 people for its first Wednesday night meal. That number now stands at 100-130. Dinner is followed by the pastor's Bible study for adults and the youth and children's programs. Involvement on Wednesday nights has exceeded that of Sunday School attendance.

Another member of the staff, Carolyn Long, has built an important aspect of the church ministry, the choir. Work has begun on Thanksgiving and Christmas musicals which minister to families.

Finances have also been good. The offerings of church members have exceeded what the present budget requires. This is a rare happening in a church.

Working together, David, Bobby, and Carolyn hope to lead the church fellowship to greater attendance, possibly resulting in two Sunday morning worship services and additional construction on the building for expansion. Future plans also include re-searching the feasibility of a church-managed daycare to serve the community.

However, the most important and anticipated result of the church's growth is to see the people of this community come to know that Jesus is the reason for our excitement, and He can change lives.

BRONTE SCHOOL NEWS

Fumbles lead to Longhorn loss to Lions

The Bronte Longhorns lost a tough one to Roby Friday night on the home field. Their first loss of the season came not as a result of a lack of effort, as the defense held the Lions to three points until the fourth quarter. Offensively, both teams sputtered for most of the night. When the final quarter ended, the Horns had beaten themselves with a total of eight fumbles, four resulting in turnovers.

The first half was virtually scoreless, with the Lions taking a 3-point lead on a field goal with 6:15 left in the first quarter.

The turning point in the game came in the third quarter after the Horns had taken the lead 7-3 on a well executed 61-yard pass from Nick Arrott to Kale Beck. With 7:49 left in the third quarter, Cory Robinson intercepted a Lion pass on the Lion thirty yard line, and the Horn offense seemed to take control of the game, marching down to the Lion 2-yard line.

With the home team poised to take all the momentum away from the Lions, the offense fumbled the ball again on the 2-yard line. The Lions took advantage of this gift in the form of a 98-yard drive for a score.

The home team went up again in the fourth quarter on a 26-yard run by Kale Beck, but it just seemed like the Lions had taken the wind out of the home team's sails, as the visitors put two more TD's on the scoreboard before the end of the quarter, making the final score 25-14.

Individual rushing stats for Bronte look like this: Kale Beck, 9-63; Russel Vaughn, 5-25; Nick Arrott, 5-17; Keith Treadaway, 2-10; Michael Sallee, 1-3.

The Horns have a chance to regroup at Santa Anna tonight and get back on track in their final non-district contest. With the excellent effort this group has given, if they can control their mistakes and turnovers, they can still be playing football when some of the other district teams start basketball workouts.

(Editor's Note) As of this writing, there is still no one from Bronte who has stepped forward to write up the football stories. Let me explain it like this. I think you are short-changing your kids if you allow this to continue. Yes, I will keep writing the stories if no one steps forward, but let me explain what you will be getting.

In many cases you will be getting a story that is copied straight out of the Standard-Times by someone who did not attend the game. I don't know about you, but to me, that is totally unacceptable.

Let me suggest something. We have seven games left until the end of the regular season. Why doesn't the Booster Club get together and appoint or volunteer someone different for each game to write up the story? Then at the end of the regular season we will get somebody to judge the write-ups, and whoever is judged the best can write up the playoff games. Let us know what you decide.

Also, if you are concerned why your kids' signatures are not on the opposite page, then ask your coach. We cut a sheet of paper the exact size needed at the first of the season and took it to the school, and Keith chose to ignore our request. If you are unhappy with not having your kids' signatures on the opposite page, then why not ask him about it.

Br. seniors receive quilt

To the band parents of Bronte

"Why music?" I bring you good news about our band, our band students, and what this program means to them concerning their future. Realizing curriculum is a major area of public school responsibilities, it is important to update you on some of the latest research involving the ongoing discoveries of the power of music education. As we develop our own class offerings at Bronte ISD, we must take into account this important data so all students can enjoy the advantages of musical training. Did you know:

-Recent testing (1993) revealed students with experience in music performance scored measurably higher in both the verbal and math sections of the Standardized Achievement Test (22 points above the mean on verbal and 18 points above the mean on math).

-There continues to be a significant (and growing) spread between the scores obtained by musicians and those of their non-musical counterparts.

-The correlation between cognitive learning musical understanding continues to prove they are linked, and improving one will develop the other. In fact, music is suspected to be the key for unlocking the scientific mind.

-Music is seen by many as the solution to many of our cultural problems. It is the common language of communication for our shrinking global society, crossing all ethnic and social strata.

-The theory of "multiple intelligences" tags music as one of the separate minds, and being exposed to music strengthens all other learning forms.

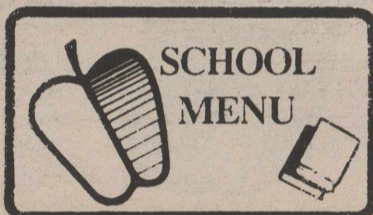

-National testing demonstrates scores rise proportionately higher with the length of time spent studying music in school.

We cannot take for granted what "being in band" means to our students. Although it might seem we are just completing one performance and then preparing for the next, there is a much greater educational agenda being shared every day in our rehearsal room. Learning music is preparing our students to be successful in life. In the interest of music, Strike Up the Band!

AON plans "Spaghetti Spectacular"

AON Service Club met for its September meeting in the home of Kim Philley, where the group finalized plans for its 7th annual Spaghetti Supper. Program was given by Linda Burns, who also serves as Spaghetti Supper Chairman, so the program was a motivational presentation. The AON Service Club is a group of local ladies who work together to serve the community in various ways. Year to year projects include nursing home door decorations and birthday party activities, Labor Day Extravaganza participation, civic responsibility, and service to our community. The main focus of AON fundraising activities, however, is done in support of its Robert Lee High School Scholarship fund. Begun in 1987 with the first presentation of $200.00, the scholarship program has presented 20 RLHS graduates a total of $8,200.00. Awarded annually at a luncheon for that year's graduating class, the scholarships have encouraged Robert Lee grads to pursue a college degree.

The main source of funding for this worthwhile project is the annual Chicken Spaghetti Supper. Traditionally held just prior to a fall football game, the meal is one the entire community looks forward to. This year's Chicken Spaghetti Supper Spectacular will be held Friday, October 13, in the Robert Lee ISD Cafeteria. Serving time is set for 5:30 - 7:30 pm, and take-outs will be available. Robert Lee Steers will host the Bronte Longhorns that night, so a full evening of food and football is on the agenda.

AON Service Club officers for the year are: Linda Eaton, President; Diana McCabe, Vice President; Denise Roberts, Secretary; and Debbie Smith, Treasurer. Members roster includes: Beverly Burdett, Linda Burns, Beth Heard, Cathy Hendry, Cynthia Hill, Lorrie Martin, Kelly Millican, Sherri Millican, Kim Philley, Nancy Randolph, Tammy Roe, Elena Sanchez, Nita Gaye Williams, and Marsha Wink.

Tickets to the spaghetti supper are available from any AON member or at the door.

Br. students to take tests

Bronte High School will be giving the following tests to high school students in the grades designated below. These tests are given each year in order to better prepare our students for the college entrance exams which are necessary to take in order to be accepted at a college or post-secondary institution. These tests also help our students to see their strengths and weaknesses and help them to make decisions about careers and courses in the future.

All three tests will be given the morning of Tuesday, October 24 and each is designated for a particular grade. Two of the tests require payment of a fee, but the results will be very beneficial. The students need to pay for the test prior to the test day.

PLAN - an academic testing program including a survey of interests, and an assessment of study skills knowledge which helps students to set goals for life after high school. It is also a good predictor of the TAAS test these students will take for the first time in March, which makes this an excellent tool for their teachers to use for preparation. DATE: Tuesday, October 24 at 8:15 am. COST: $7.00. PLAN is a test designated for all tenth graders and is a shortened version of the ACT test.

PSAT - Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) - a pre-SAT testing program requiring students to answer academic questions in verbal and mathematics areas. It helps them to be exposed to the SAT, compare scores with others, participate in the Student Search Service, and qualify for scholarship recognition and enrichment programs that use PSAT/NMSQT. Calculators may be used but are not required. The school will provide the calculators. DATE: Tuesday, October 24 at 8:15 am. COST: $8.25. PSAT is a program designed for eleventh graders.

ASVAB - Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery - a multiple aptitude battery designed for use with students in the 11th and 12th grades and in post-secondary institutions. Scores help schools, students, and military. Schools use it to help students with educational and career counseling, the and military uses it to qualify for the military and for assignment to military occupational training program. It consists of 10 subtests and an academic composite and an occupational composite. Bronte High School gives the test to all 12th graders only. DATE: Tuesday, October 24 at 8:15 am. No Cost!

Mrs. McCutchen will be going into classrooms next week to familiarize the students with the format of the tests. The PSAT and the PLAN provides students and their parents with a preparation booklet which will be given to the students next week. The only preparation for these tests is familiarization, motivation, and academic growth over their years in school. If you have any questions, please call the school.

Pre-emergence weed control for lawns

Weed control in lawns is a constant problem. It seems if one weed is eliminated, another tries to take its place. In our area, a thin, stressed lawn is more susceptible to invasion of weeds than is a lush thick turf.

If weeds do become a problem in your lawn and there are too many to dig up, then chemical control becomes necessary. This is broken down into two types of control; pre-emerge or controlling the weeds before they come up and post-emerge or controlling the weeds after they begin to grow.

For control of winter weeds such as Rescue grass, commonly called winter rye, and broadleaf winter weeds such as dandelion, sow thistle, members of the mustard family as well as others, you can use a pre-emerge herbicide applied at this time of the year. The beauty of pre-emerge herbicides is that they will control only the selected plants before they begin to grow. They will not harm any growing plant, even the weeds that are targeted if they have emerged. Some of the pre-emerge chemicals to use are: Amaze, Balan, or Betasan. These are readily available at your local feed store or nursery. These chemicals are in the dry form, usually a pellet, and should be applied according to label directions and watered in to activate them. If properly applied they should give excellent control for winter weeds.

Winterize your lawn

This is also the time of year to prepare your lawn and last application of fertilizer should have been applied by now to make the grass root on down and prepare itself for winter. Do not apply fertilizers later in the fall as this will cause the roots to come back to the fertilizer just below the ground and make it more susceptible to a winter freeze.

When you water your lawn or trees this time of year, be sure and give them a good deep soaking and not short shallow applications of water. Like the early fertilizer treatment, this will cause the roots of grass and trees to "root down" to reach the water, thus giving them more insulation for a hard freeze. As long as the soil is moist from 4-6 inches deep, you lawn should not require watering.

For additional information about your landscape, contact the Coke County Agricultural Extension Office at 453-2461.

Vaccines may soon come from insect viruses

Human disease prevention research may yield some major breakthroughs this year due to technology that uses insect viruses to quickly reproduce vaccines.

Several experiments using bugs to ward off the "bugs" of human illnesses are nearing completion in the United States, Canada and Europe.

The largest ever therapeutic AIDS vaccines trials will be completed by the end of this year, the third phase of an influenza vaccine is about to begin, and breast and colon cancer vaccine studies have just begun. All are rooted in insect virus technology called BEVS, or Baculovirus Expression Vector System, according to Dr. Gale Smith, vice president and chief scientific officer of MicroGeneSys Inc., Meriden, Conn.

"We never dreamed that insects might have a big role in preventing human disease," said Smith, who with Dr. Max Summers, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist, discovered BEVS in the early 1980s. "At that time, we weren't even terribly interested in controlling insects on crops."

Summers said their research then, and that which he has continued through Texas A&M's Center for Advanced Invertebrate Molecular Sciences, began an intricate look at what makes insects tick, so to speak.

"Insects and other invertebrates play a major role in their function as a reservoir of disease agents," Summers said. "Insects are of major economic importance to food and fiber production by causing human, animal and plant disease. The economic impact worldwide is very significant."

We all make frequent trips to the post office, the grocery store, the bank, the courthouse, and we encounter many different people along our way. We all struggle with the same responsibilities of paying bills, raising our children, always searching for answers to personal, social, and global problems that arise every day. Kindness is a positive attribute that is valued by all but somehow it doesn't seem to play a role in the end results. Kindness is about being who we truly are and can be one of the most powerful tools we possess because it is so easily accessible. A random act of kindness has been known to utterly transform another person's life through the simplest of actions. It has the power to connect us with every human being we meet. Too many times we only use this limitless, powerful tool when the need arises instead of utilizing it every day. Many people will say that one person cannot make a difference when in fact it has and does everyday. Think back to a time when someone showed you a random act of kindness. How did you feel after it happened? Is it something we can learn to do if we practice? Will practice help kindness to become a natural part of our daily lives? I think so.

A random act of kindness: "I am a senior in high school and work at an athletic shoe store. One day a woman and her six-year-old son came in to buy school shoes. They found a pair he liked and came to the register to pay for them. As she was unfolding her checkbook, I noticed they were temporary checks, and I had to tell her that store policy would not let me accept her check. Her son had been prancing around the store, testing out his new shoes and showing them to everyone; when she told him he had to take them off, tears started to well up in his eyes. It just broke my heart. I stopped him before he could untie them and pulled out my checkbook and wrote a check for the shoes. His mother could not believe what I was doing. She wrote a temporary check out to me and gave me her address and telephone number so I would know that I could trust her. As she walked out of the store, she told me she would never forget me. It was not until later that I noticed she had made out the check
