Beach; from Mrs. Linda Burns' Robert Lee 6th grade, 1ST - Jamie Chesshir, 2ND - Jodee Helwig, 3RD - Trichelle Gray, 4TH - Colby Eubanks and HONORABLE MENTION - Whitney Millican and Casey Eubanks; from Mrs. Pat Lee's Bronte 5th grade, 1ST - Melissa Walker, 2ND - Jonathan Tomes, 3RD - Joel Webb, 4TH - Randi Thomason; from Mrs. Heather Lee's Bronte 6th grade, 1ST - Gene Butts, 2ND - Morgan McCutchen, 3RD - Kelly Cooper, 4TH - Dalton Graves.

Every student who submitted a poster received a certificate from the Natural Resources Conservation Service (formerly Soil Conservation Service) in appreciation for the thought, effort and publicity on the need and worth of soil and water conservation that the posters depicted. These posters will be displayed at the Robert Lee State Bank and First National Bank in Bronte in the next few weeks.

In recognition of the growing response from teachers and students, the directors instituted a new award. Beginning this year, the class with the most outstanding posters will be honored as the year's Outstanding Class and presented a rotating trophy plaque with a space for engraving the class name and year.

Mrs. Linda Burns' 6th grade was chosen Outstanding Class for 1995-96. All the youngsters seemed to regard the award with enthusiasm, and there was already talk among next year's Coke County 5th and 6th graders about plans to win the plaque for their class next time.

Three posters done by Jamie Chesshir, Jodee Helwig and Morgan McCutchen have been entered in the Texas Regional Contest which includes 52 counties.

Pupils could choose any phase of resource conservation that is part of the work of the local soil and water conservation district. Included in this work are: soil use and treatment; erosion control practices; crop, range, and pastureland management; drainage problems; watershed protection; flood prevention; fish and wildlife management; and promoting the involvement of all citizens in conserving water and renewable resources.

Response from teachers and students was excellent, and posters submitted were outstanding, both in artwork and content. Each year choosing only four winners per class and two overall becomes more and more difficult for the board of directors.

Contributions from the First National Bank in Bronte and Robert Lee State Bank made the contest possible and helped pay for the awards. Without their support and the enthusiastic participation by the schools, the contest could not have been successful.

Otis Smith has 90th birthday

Otis Smith was honored by his family with a birthday celebration in his home north of Bronte Saturday, March 2. Mr. Smith turned ninety on Friday, March 1, and has lived in this area since he was a teenager. He married Flora Cowley of Robert Lee in 1930.

A retired stock farmer, Smith also was an automobile mechanic and salesman (Hudson Terraplane) and owned the first butane business in Coke County. He has served as Coke County Commissioner, school trustee and is a long-time director of Kickapoo Water District.

Present to help with the celebration were his wife Flora, his daughter and son-in-law, Jean and E.S. Herring of Maryneal, and the following grandchildren and great-grandchildren: Donna and Mike Gosney and Matt of Muscle Shoals, Alabama; Kimberlee Gosney of Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama; Alyssa Gosney of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee; Randy and Jan Sheppard, Jodi and Jamie, of Del Rio; and Rick and Cindy Sheppard, Zac and Nash, of Uvalde.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Forman, who have recently moved to Bronte, Dale Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Sparks, of Robert Lee, visited the family in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rampy of San Angelo also came by during the afternoon.

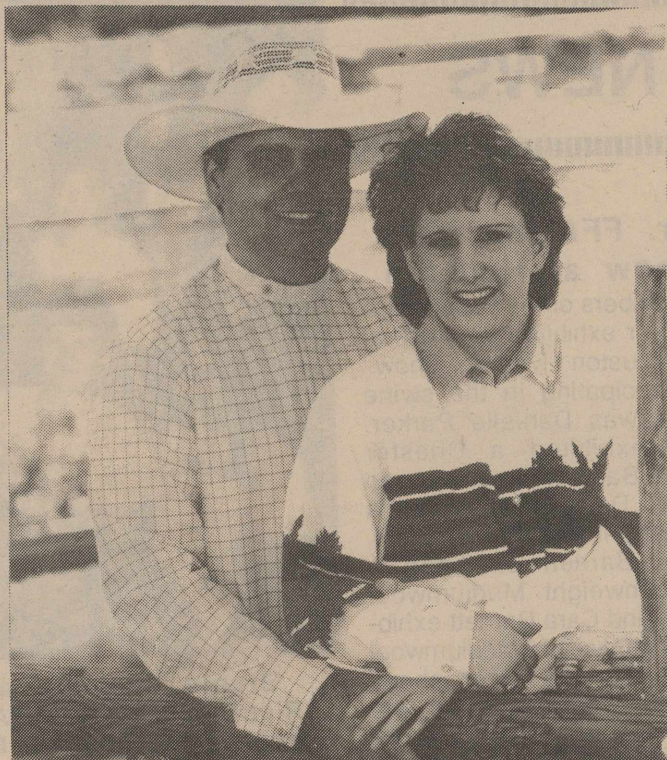

Sisters sell local business

Sisters Rhonda Hood and Judy Blair have sold The Flower Sak. The sale was final to two other local women, Cathy Hendry and Cookie Burns, on February 23.

Rhonda and Judy began their business in June, 1987. At that time their trade was basically made up of fresh flowers, silk arrangements, and live plants. Although much of their early business was seasonal, during major holidays, it showed progressive growth over the years. Balloon arrangements, jewelry, greeting cards, glassware, baskets, and other items suitable for wedding showers and graduation gifts were added.

According to Rhonda, the most interesting and pleasurable part of their work has been their customer relations. They took pride and enjoyment in customizing arrangements for customers. She said although many people find working with the homecoming mums tedious, they always took pleasure in it. One fun aspect of their work was dealing with call-in orders when the customers didn't realize they were in business and speaking personally with those who had moved away.

The sisters don't plan to retire. Judy will be her husband, Roy's parttime/fulltime secretary at his new Texas Cellular office at 803 Austin. Rhonda will continue to drive her school bus route and may spoil her twin sons, Eric and Aaron, some before they leave for college in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Robinson proudly announce the engagement of their daughter, Jennifer Lynn, to Gregg O'Neil Davidson.

Gregg is the son of Mrs. Shirley Davidson of San Angelo. He is a 1983 graduate of Eldorado High School and received an Associate Degree from Midland College.

Jennifer is a 1990 graduate of Bronte High School and a 1995 graduate of Southwest Texas State University, where she received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Sports Science and a minor in Biology. She is also a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society.

The wedding date is set for April 6, 1996, at 2:00 pm at the First Baptist Church in Bronte.

It has been an honor and privilege to serve as Commissioner Precinct 3 the past 8 years. I appreciate the support you have shown me during this time. Your vote and support on Tuesday, March 12th is needed and will be sincerely appreciated.

Br. students attend Science Day '96

Early Saturday morning February 24, five students and their sponsors traveled to Lubbock to attend a "Mini-Science Convention" on the campus of Texas Tech University.

In keeping with the theme of "Science in the Real World," they arranged the speakers, lab activities, and field trips into thematic, all-day group packages. Some of the packages Bronte students attended included the following: Biotechnology & Undergraduate Research, Reptiles & Amphibians, Adventures with Cells, Engineering, Applied Sciences & the Real World, Wildlife of the Llano Estacado, and Fun with Chemistry.

Arron Carper and Daniel Collins went to the Wildlife of the Llano Estacado package. George Tomes went to Adventures with Cells. Gary Walker and LeAnn Walker went to the Engineering package while Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Walker roamed through all the packages and finished the day with Biotechnology, where they studied DNA extraction and identifying DNA fragments using gel electrophoresis.

The sponsors were given a preview of the new "Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills," the state's core curriculum in science education, known as "TEKS." After fifteen years, the Essential Elements are being rewritten. The Texas law has called for a review of the curriculum every five years with the current effort being the most comprehensive to date. Sources, such as business and industry, want students to graduate with the skills necessary to compete in today's workforce. TEA received input from Texas citizens on "Real World" needs about what children will need to know to survive in the 21st century.

The First National Bank in Bronte has recently presented letters of commitment to the City of Bronte and the HOME Program. Chairman Earl Glenn stated that home building and home repair in Bronte have been a top priority of the bank for many years. The bank committed funds to finance homes for first time buyers and home repairs for the elderly and persons with limited incomes.

Glenn said, "We believe that Bronte is a fine place to live, but we are aware that housing is limited in our community. We hope that this HOME program will provide an entryway to build more homes in Bronte and help repair some of the existing property."

Applications for the HOME program can be picked up at the City Hall in Bronte. The deadline for applying for the program is March 8.

United Methodist Women Dorcas Circle of Robert Lee has been participating in an interesting study of "The Challenge of Churches in Europe," led by Alice Beaty.

A generous portion of the denomination's mission money is spent in various parts of Europe where the need is great.

The last meeting devoted to the study featured the local pastor, Rev. Dan Adams, as speaker. Rev. Adams and his wife have traveled widely in the southern countries of Europe, and he showed many slides he made of famous and not-so-famous churches in all the cities and townships he found in his travels.

Rev. Adams was able to give detailed descriptions of people, their customs, languages, climates and natural resources, and milestones of European church history.

Young athletes doing too much, too soon

Some children participating in athletics may be pushing too hard, too soon.

"There are young athletes who get overuse injuries because they're pushed too hard or too fast by a parent or coach, and they may not have been taught proper technique," said Dr. Albert C. Hergenroeder, chief of adolescent medicine and sports medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "For instance, baseball pitchers may develop shoulder problems at a young age by throwing too many pitches, especially if their technique is poor."

In some cases these injuries can cause life-long problems. Some injuries can force athletes to the sidelines, causing them to miss competitions. Other athletes drop out of sports all together if the pain persists and is not treated. Overuse injuries can occur in athletes in any sport where there are repetitive motions, including gymnastics, softball and tennis.

A key to avoiding injuries is good coaching.

"Overuse injuries often develop because athletes are overtraining and, in some cases, not using proper technique," Hergenroeder said. "It's up to the coaches to ensure that athletes are not putting in too much time on the practice field."

Hergenroeder says it is up to parents to get more involved if they feel their child is not learning properly by going to practice and helping to reinforce what the coach is teaching. Sitting down to talk with a coach about workouts can also be beneficial for all involved, as can discouraging overtraining at home.

Overuse injuries may be reduced by urging children to participate in different sports throughout the year, and building rest periods into their athletic schedule.

"I think it's much better for average athletes to play more than one sport," Hergenroeder said. "Year-round swimming, for example, can cause shoulder problems. It's better emotionally and physically for young athletes to have an off-season and take up another activity."

Hergenroeder, who is also chief of adolescent medicine at Texas Children's Hospital, says the constant day-to-day grind of training programs for growing teenagers can lead to injuries and burnout. The body needs time to recover, and rest periods are necessary to allow the body to heal and stay healthy. Young athletes can be competitive in athletics without training year-round, although certain sports, such as swimming, gymnastics and ballet do train all year.

Sports are the fourth leading cause of injury to adolescents, behind automobile accidents, alcohol-related incidents and firearms. Hergenroeder says sports-related injuries are a distant fourth, but they could be even further down the list if physicians, coaches, parents and athletes themselves recognize their seriousness and work together to prevent them.

All shooters braved strong, gusting winds to knock down the elusive steel animals. High Overall was Richard Johnson, of Robert Lee; Al Leggett, of Odessa, took second place; and third place went to Bill McNutt, of Junction.

Class Winners are as follows:

1st AA - Al Leggett, Odessa
2nd AA - Doug Randel, Big Spring

3rd AA - Earl Williams, Ker-ville

1st A - Clyde Howard - Odessa

1st B - Stevie Smith - Robert Lee

2nd B - Joe Thompson - Big Spring

3rd B - Ray Atwater - Robert Lee

Richard Johnson and Doug Randel both earned a 10-in-a-row pin on pigs, while Al Leggett and Clyde Howard each earned a 5-in-a-row pin on pigs.

Mrs. Linda Burns' 6th grade class at Robert Lee Elementary was chosen Outstanding Class for 1995-96. They were recognized for their artwork and effort in promoting resource conservation through their posters.

CRMWD fishing report

As of last week, lake elevation at O.H. Ivie measured 1549.73 feet, which means this lake is approximately 94 percent full. Temperatures were recorded at 52.7 degrees Fahrenheit on the surface, and 52.0 degrees Fahrenheit on the bottom. The main body of the lake was clear, and the upper-end was murky.

Crappie fishing was good in the morning and late evening hours during the past week. Most were caught up and down the end of the lake, and up coves and creeks in water 10-20 feet deep. Bull Hollow, Elm Creek, and Concho Bridge were some of the better spots. Minnows and jigs were the best baits.

Bass fishing was given a "fair" ranking. The smaller black bass, 12" to 14" variety, were found along shorelines, and the larger ones were hanging on points and ridges in the main lake and midway up creeks and coves. In water 20-30 feet deep, plastic worms and slabs were used, while in shallower water spinner and crank baits proved best. Smallmouth bass stayed in water 15-30 feet deep along points and ridges.

Plastic worms, jigs, and slabs brought good results. In water 10-30 feet deep, white bass were found suspended over river channels and some points; they were hitting live baits.

It was a slow week for catfish. Baiting trotlines with shad, minnows, and live baits, and setting them up rivers was the ideal way to pull one in. There were no reports of any walleyes being caught.

On Lake E.V. Spence, the water was slightly warmer than Lake Ivie, at 58 degrees Fahrenheit. Results of a one-day tournament hosted by the Association Bass Club from Midland and Odessa topped the news from Paint Creek Marina. (Those results were posted in last week's Observer.)

Avoid color loss in fabrics

Color loss ranks as a leading cause of damaged garments. Color damage may result from not following care label instructions, incorrect laundering procedures, incorrect labeling by the manufacturer or faulty dyes or dye application during manufacture.

Before buying a garment, check the permanent care label for instructions such as "wash separately" or "do not bleach." If you are not willing to follow the instructions, you should look for another garment or be willing to accept the consequences of incorrect handling.

After you have bought a garment, if you are concerned that it might fade, clip a small piece from a seam allowance or other hidden part. Dip it in water and watch for color change in the water or for colors running into each other if the fabric is a print.

Also, dry the test fabric and check it against the original color. Some dyes bleed excess into the first wash water but the color of the fabric does not change noticeably.

If the fabric is labeled washable, but your test shows that it will fade or run unacceptably, you have little recourse but to return it. Garments that are labeled washable usually will not be accepted for dry cleaning because of the liability that the cleaner assumes if the care instructions are not followed.

Use the following pointers to minimize the possibility of color damage during laundering:

* Sort laundry into loads of similar color and degree of soil to allow the gentlest procedures appropriate for each load.

* Always wash nylon fabrics with like colors. Nylon is a color scavenger, readily absorbing any dyes released during laundering.

* Launder garments before they are badly soiled and need soaking. Soaking is hard on many dyes and may cause them to bleed or run.

* Follow instructions about using bleach. Oxygen bleach or all-fabric bleach is safe for most colors, but chlorine bleach may lighten or remove color. Some garments cannot tolerate any bleach.

* Use warm or cool water for washing. Hot water is harsher on dyes and may cause damage.

* Test any laundry products such as stain removers and disinfectants on a hidden area of each garment. Some dyes are sensitive to these products.

* Always launder all pieces of an outfit together. Then, if minor color changes do occur, they will be even in shade.

* Wash items that fade with garments of similar color. Some fabric dyes such as true Madras and indigo-dyed denim are designed to fade in each laundering.

* Remove garments from the washer as soon as it finishes the cycle. Damp garments left in the washer may bleed dye onto each other, causing streaks and spots.

* Be sure to follow the care instructions for drying as well as for washing. Line drying may cause colors to bleed down a garment.

Br. youth serve seniors

On Sunday, February 15, some of the members of the Bronte Church of Christ who are 65 years old and over were honored by that church's youth group with a noonday meal served by the young people themselves. With help from some of the good cooks in the congregation, the youth paid tribute to ten of their respected senior citizens with a "Somebody Loves You" banquet of turkey and dressing with all the trimmings in an atmosphere of red hearts, red and white roses, and red candles. The youngsters were quite proficient as they waited tables, visited with, and generally took care of, their "adopted" grandparents-for-a-meal.

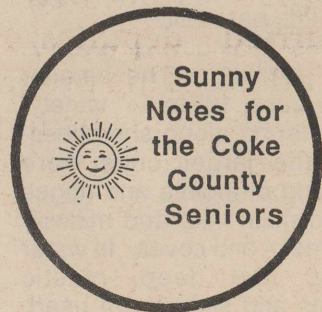

Outgoing Bronte Chamber directors Frank Sanders (l) and Pam Stokes (r) accept congratulatory plaques from Miss Bronte, Courtney Stokes.

George Eubanks, Sr. was selected as Employee of the Month at the Bronte Nursing Home for February.

ELECT

Mike Harris

Coke County Sheriff

Mike Harris is a candidate for the 1996 election of Coke County Sheriff. He is 36 years old and graduated in 1977 from Lake View High School and was born and raised in San Angelo. He has been a member of Trinity Lutheran Church in San Angelo all of his life. He is married to Debbie Manning Harris, a graduate of Bronte High School. They have been married over ten years and have lived in Tennyson for all of those years with the exception of three months. They have three children, Cody, Casey, and Chase. Cody and Casey attend school in Bronte.

Mike has been in law enforcement for 15 years. Fourteen of those years have been with the Tom Green County Sheriff's Office where he is presently serving as the Lieutenant over the Patrol Division. He supervises twenty-seven deputies; this is inclusive of three Sergeants, the DARE Program deputies and the K-9 unit deputies.

His responsibilities as Lieutenant are to manage and supervise the patrol division. That includes inspection, assigning and monitoring the work and training of the deputies, performing evaluations and making recommendations regarding the hiring, termination and discipline of deputies; budget analysis and projections for long range planning of the office; purchasing of equipment; prepares reports of call-loads and work-loads for the Commissioner's Court. He also serves on the oral review board for the hiring process of all Sheriff's Office employees, including the jailers and office staff. He was instrumental in creating a written policy manual for the Sheriff's Office with standard operating procedures and rules of conduct and in establishing specific job descriptions for the Patrol Division.

He started the Tom Green County Sheriff's Office involvement in Operation Alliance and oversees the program. This is a program in which law enforcement agencies receive surplus military equipment at no cost. For the Tom Green County Sheriff's Office, Mike has obtained night vision scopes, binoculars for all deputies, 4 WD vehicles and other military equipment. This program has enabled the Sheriff's Office to provide better equipment for the deputies, enabling them to better do their jobs in serving the public. This has been a tremendous savings for the county.

Mike has experience in all phases of the Sheriff's Office, including Administration, Patrol, Criminal Investigation and Jail operations.

He has an Advanced Certification for law enforcement from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. He is a student of LEMIT (Law Enforcement Management Institute of Texas), the largest and most sophisticated statewide preparation program for law enforcement management in the United States. This program is a state funded program that trains Law Enforcement Administrators which are hand picked to attend Texas A&M, TWU, and Sam Houston State Universities at no cost to the law enforcement agency. The training covers Ethics, Administrative Law, Planning and Budgeting, Law Enforcement Program Development and many other facets of law enforcement administration.

As sheriff for Coke County, Mike feels that his experience and training will allow him to address the concerns of the citizens of Coke County in a progressive and cost effective manner. Thank you for your support and consideration.

Exposing election "no-shows"

by Tony Garza, Texas Secretary of State
 You get your ticket weeks in advance. Your seats are never as close as where you really wanted, but that makes little difference. After all, your ticket not only means you see the action, it guarantees you're part of it. Then you notice some prime seats where no one will sit. Who gets a ticket to a big event and then opts not to use it?

In attendance-keeping, they are known as the "no-shows." People who buy tickets and then for some reason don't attend. No-shows can prevent an event from touting itself as an official sell-out. For that reason, you'll hear boos, hisses, and cat-calls when the number of no-shows is announced at some sporting events.

In many respects, Texas elections vary little from this scenario. You get your voter registration card (your ticket) weeks in advance. Most of us are never as close to the political action as we'd like, but on election day that makes little difference. Our vote makes each and every one of us a vital part of the action.

And like any big event, organizers always hope for a 100 percent turnout (a "sellout," if you will) on election day. However, over the years, the political arena has been anything but full. Empty seats are easy to find.

So where are the "Boos" for the no-shows on election day?

Let's face it. Booming the election day no-shows is no long fashionable. Yes, it's certainly chic to complain about "the system," but taking an active role in changing it? That's for the other guy to worry about. The right to vote, once a patriotic duty, has become as important to some people as a weekend chore that never seems to get done. "Yeah, yeah. I'll do it -- if I get around to it."

With 1996 being a Presidential election year, that fact alone should be enough to spark voter interest across our state. And considering Texans will also have the final word on one U.S. Senate seat, all 30 Congressional seats, all 150 seats in the Texas House and approximately half the seats in the Texas Senate, you can understand why 1996 is viewed as a significant election year -- and why voter participation is as important as ever.

However, if a 20-year trend holds, more than a quarter of the registered voters in Texas will opt to sit out this Presidential election year. In hard numbers, that's more than two million people. Since 1976, voter turnout in the November General Election has surpassed the 70 percent mark only once. As Secretary of State, that's a trend of voter apathy that disturbs me.

Upon being appointed by Governor George W. Bush, my goal has been to continue the strong legacy of my immediate predecessors in the area of voter registration. Secretaries of State including Jack Raines, George Bayoud, John Hannah, and Ron Kirk have all worked to assure every Texan eligible to vote gets the chance to register to vote.

Passage of the National Voter Registration Act has made registration a relatively simple process. More than nine million Texans will be registered to vote this election year, representing approximately 70 percent of the eligible voting population. With registration made easy, the challenge is now on assuring those registered to vote will show up at the polls.

The answer to voter apathy has proven elusive. Feelings of isolation from government, negative campaigns, and the overwhelming number of elections have all contributed to the problem. All have added to the perception, "What does it matter?"

If you are concerned about how state and federal government utilize your tax dollars, your vote is crucial. If you consider jobs and the economic future of our children a priority, your vote is significant. In 1996, as in every election, your vote still matters.

Democrat or Republican, Libertarian or Independent: your political affiliation is not the issue. What matters is that you let your voice be heard on election day. The sounds that resonate from the ballot box are ones that cannot be ignored in Washington, in Austin, in county courthouses or in city halls.

Your voter registration card is your ticket. The political arena has plenty of seats. With so much riding on the outcomes in 1996, it's time we start booing the election day no-shows again.
