It is solely through the funds provided by the Christmas Seal sales that the T. B. test patch for school children and X-rays can be provided without cost to the public and enhancing the chances of curing the disease after it is found.

Haskell County History

30 Years Ago—Nov. 19, 1887

Conner Nursery and Floral Company held open house Saturday and Sunday, when several hundred visitors from Haskell and neighboring towns visited the establishment.

Cotton ginnings in Haskell County this year have doubled the 1936 figures, according to the latest census report. It shows 2,508 bales ginned to Nov. 1 this year, compared to 14,171 bales on the same date last year.

Farmers sold approximately $8,000 worth of turkeys on the Thanksgiving market last week, local buyers report. The market opened at 14 cents per pound, but dropped to 13 cents on the last day of the market, Nov. 12.

Petitions are being circulated asking the Commissioners' court to reconsider the decision to locate the new County Hospital in the east part of Haskell. One objection raised is the statement by the city officials that a $3,600 bond issue would be necessary to pay for building water and sewer lines to the hospital site.

Mmes. Leon Pearsey, Carl Arbuckle, Wallace Ruff and John Willoughby spent Monday in Wichita Falls.

First freeze of the winter was reported Tuesday night, Nov. 16, when the mercury dropped to 31 degrees.

The Rochester school board will open bids today on a proposed high school building authorized recently in a $67,000 bond election.

Thirty applicants for driver's licenses were successful in passing examinations conducted Tuesday by two members of the State Highway Patrol. One applicant failed the tests. The patrolmen will return to Haskell Tuesday of each week to issue license, they announced.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

Have you seen the Centennial Plates which were received last week by the B&PW Club of Haskell?

The novel and attractive plates commemorate the 100th anniversary of Haskell County, created a century ago. The project to make them available to the public was underwritten by the local women's club.

The plates, of high quality china, portray pictures of Rice Springs Park, the court house, and schools of the county along with brief descriptive material.

Only a few hundred of the commemorative plates were manufactured and the limited supply will likely be quickly exhausted. Being coming available at this season, they are ideal Christmas gifts.

And because of their intrinsic commemorative value, they will become priceless objects in future years.

There's a deal which comes up around this time of year in which each of us should feel proud to take active part without the necessity of being urged or pressured.

It is the Goodfellows Christmas Fund, sponsored by the Lions Club and designed to provide at least a small share of holiday happiness at Christmastime to underprivileged families in the community.

The Goodfellows is not a partisan project of the Lions Club, that organization having taken the lead in launching the needed campaign several years ago as a service to the community.

The Goodfellows Fund needs and must have the support of everyone in the community this year in order to make Christmas real for a good many families in our midst. Make your gift today.

A fiery Latin-American who vented his anger at Sheriff Bill Pennington by slashing all four tires on the officer's patrol car Saturday night, had short-lived vengeance.

Within less than 30 minutes the Mexican was in custody, had admitted the misdeed, and the ruined tires had been paid for!

The incident occurred at a dance, held weekly on the rodeo grounds, sponsored by local Mexicans. Sheriff Pennington and members of his department had confiscated a quantity of beer found in a car belonging to a Mexican.

Later, while Sheriff Pennington and other officers were inside the building where the dance was going on, tires on the Sheriff's patrol car were punctured with a knife. After discovering the vandalism, the officers quickly rounded up several suspects, and within a few minutes one of the Mexicans had owned up to the deed.

A few minutes more and the damaged tires had been replaced with a new set—paid for by the hot-headed but cooled-off-by-then Mexican.

For a good many years we've been a member of the local volunteer fire department. Over the years, we've often been asked, "What do you guys get out of being in the fire department?"

We've never been able to answer that query satisfactorily, even to ourselves.

Principally, there is the association with a group of swell fellows whose loyalty and dedication to their organization has been proven time after time. Then, there is a sense of rendering a community service, helping a neighbor, doing something for the town where you live. Thrills and excitement, hard work, wet and soiled and sometimes ruined clothes. Danger, and being scared when you can't back off and run. And being a sucker for punishment. Yet, all of that and more, is balanced off when a stubborn fire is stopped or kept from spreading.

A good illustration of the loyalty of department members was given Thursday night just as the sleet and snow was moving in. Firemen turned out in force despite the bitter cold, to check a blazing burr pile at a cotton gin which endangered nearby property. Then, about 4 a. m. they were called out again for a second round at the blaze, with the mercury well below freezing and snow pelting down.

Gripping? Yes, but not over leaving a warm bed in freezing weather. The gripping is in the form of razzing for late firemen who straggle up when the job is almost finished. Those late ones may in turn be the first on hand at the next alarm. They like it.

F-M Road Work Delayed

One of Haskell County's major needs is the extension of improved roads serving all sections of the county. Although steady progress has been made in recent years, the over-all need has only been dent.

At the present time, two pending projects which have been approved by the Highway Department are being held up by property owners who are reluctant to comply with right-of-way provisions on the route of the proposed roads. In some instances, unreasonable demands have been made relative to value of the small amounts of land needed for the right-of-way. No one would deny a fair price to the landowner, or damages to the extent that his property is affected. But when an exorbitant price is demanded, it has the effect of blocking a project which is designed for public benefit.

The only alternative provided by law, and one which officials are reluctant to apply, calls for condemnation of any right-of-way land needed. As drastic as this might seem to the landowner affected, he is assured a fair appraisal and reasonable price for his property.

It is the only recourse available when no agreement can be worked out on a fair and reasonable basis. It simply means that the interest of the public is paramount to the interest of the individual.

Farmer's Plight Is Tough One

As the result of drouth, Benson, unseasonal rains and an early freeze, the situation of Haskell County farmers might be compared with the predicament of the little chap on his first day in school.

Returning home discouraged and disgusted over the school outlook, the boy summed it up thus: "I can't read, can't write, and the teacher won't let me talk, I just don't see any future in it."

Our farmers have had a similarly discouraging experience this year, after struggling through the years of prolonged drouth. Late spring rains and near-floods delayed crop planting past the normal date, with recurrent rains requiring re-planting in many instances.

Then, after getting off to a late start, prospects for a time indicated a bumper crop, only to decline when normal summer rains failed to materialize.

With the outlook still good for an average cotton and maize crop, this picture was partially blasted when one of the earliest "killing" frosts on record hit this area. Since then, rains which have continued at intervals of a few days have made it impossible to harvest the crop on anything like normal schedule. Also, the wet weather has hurt the grade of cotton with a resultant heavy loss to the farmer.

About the only bright spot for the farmer is that the drouth has been broken beyond doubt, and, falling back on a time-worn West Texas slogan: he can feel assured that "next year" will be a bumper crop year!

Progress Against Tuberculosis

In the time it has taken you to unfold this newspaper and glance over the front page, someone in the United States has contracted tuberculosis. Yes, every five minutes someone breaks down with TB, and every half hour someone dies of the disease.

This is progress. Only 50 years ago TB was the leading cause of death in the United States. Today it ranks thirteenth.

Progress in preventing the disease, however, has been slower. Theoretically it can be done, according to Mrs. Stella Trice, member of the executive board of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association. It would mean finding all active, contagious cases of TB in the population so that they could be cured. It would mean thorough education and rehabilitation of all former patients in order to help prevent relapse. It would mean safeguarding the health of those already infected—and that means approximately one-third of the nation—to prevent them from breaking down with active disease.

Such a desirable situation cannot be achieved overnight, but steady progress is being made through the efforts of the tuberculosis association in cooperation with the health department and other agencies concerned. In addition to its local program of case finding, rehabilitation, and health education, the association joins with the other 3,000 TB associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association in a program of medical research. In time this research may lead to a simpler method of preventing tuberculosis infection and disease—a vaccine or medication which can be given to the public at large.

Meantime, however, the tuberculosis association needs the support of every citizen in its efforts to protect our homes from TB. You have received a letter containing Christmas Seals from the association. Answer your letter and send in your contribution today.

Cotton has been coming in rapidly. McDaniel's Gin has turned out 2,133 bales and the Oil Mill gin around 1,000 bales, according to their reports. The public weigher has weighed 2,451 bales this season, while about 800 bales are on gin yards. This indicates that considerable cotton is being hauled to the local market from surrounding points.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Management area in Brewster County, adjoining Big Bend National Park.

The work is being done in these places will be the deciding factor in our game supply for many years. The practices used on these areas also can be used successfully on other ranches, which will have a great deal to do with future deer crops.

Not too many Texans hunt rabbits any more. This is the time of the year, however, when rabbit hunting is at its best. There was a time when the cotton tail was recognized as a very delectable bit of meat. It still is in many states. However, rabbits always have been so plentiful in Texas that we take them as a matter of course.

Rabbit meat, fried like chicken, is a strong rival for taste and food value.

There is a big crop of rabbits this year. In fact the crop is so big that a tremendous rabbit hunt is now being planned for the Panhandle area, for sometime about mid-January. We'll have more about that later.

Most of us remember rabbit killing as boys, when we used .22 caliber rifles. The .22 still is an ideal gun for shooting rabbits, where there is plenty of room to shoot and care is used.

With the present-day automatics and rifles equipped with scopes this type of rabbit shooting is lots of fun.

However, when hunting with such equipment all the rabbits should be shot through the left eye. Any good rabbit hunter would count a body shot the same as a miss.

Of course, back in the early days there wasn't much fear of tularemia, or rabbit fever. By using care in handling a rabbit, however, there is no danger. Also, if a rabbit has the energy to run it isn't a sick rabbit.

Those Little Bass

Have you been out to a lake lately to see how fast the young bass are growing?

For several months we've been watching these little fellows. They come in close to docks and chase the little minnows and forage for food.

The little rascals, spawned this spring, already have reached legal size. This applies both to black and white bass. In about two more months most of them will be from 10 to 12 inches long.

All of which means that you'd better have your equipment ready for next spring's fishing. It's bound to be good.

Old English Lures

One of the most ingenious fellows we've run across lately is Doug English at Corpus Christi. For several years Doug has been making Old English lures, which

There were 30 hunters there, with guns. They had been the lucky ones whose names were drawn for a public hunt this year. The Game & Fish Commission authorized the issuance of some 500 of these permits. More than 7,000 persons applied for them. Which means that more than 6,000 were disappointed not to get in on the free hunt.

That is a tremendous difference, tis true, but right now the state simply does not own enough land to provide free hunts for every one. For that matter it never will. Such procedure would be entirely impractical.

State operated areas were not bought for hunting anyway. They were purchased to study management practices. Well trained and efficient biologists put in long hours studying what deer eat, their breeding practices, the ratio of bucks to doe, and how they get along with livestock.

On this game management area they have small pastures with fences 10 feet high. In these pastures they run a certain number of deer, sheep, goats and cattle. They make a constant check on how much they eat, what they eat, and their other habits.

Thus the biologists are able to determine what the reproduction is and how the young survive.

In Hunting Blinds

Of course those who hunted did not get to shoot behind one of these big enclosures. Instead, they were placed on stands in open pastures. Each hunter had his own stand in known deer runs. Some of the hunters never had shot a deer before. Several were old timers. But each was just as happy with the buck he brought in.

We also were impressed with the size and condition of the bucks. They were from two to five years old and everyone in perfect condition.

Similar experimental ranges are operated in other parts of the state. For instance there is the Engeling Wildlife Management area in Anderson County, near Palestine; and the Black Gap

Firearms Safety Is Stressed for Hunters

Careless handling of firearms is a good way to get to the happy hunting grounds in a hurry. Hunting is a grand American sport, and one which can be as safe as it is fun if every hunter will take it upon himself to make it so, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Unfortunately, it's the teen-age group which suffers most from accidental death and injury from firearms. The bright spot in this youth problems is that with the proper pre-hunting training these mishaps can be reduced to the vanishing point. Before letting youngsters go afield with a gun, be sure they know thoroughly the rules for safe gun handling advises Cooper.

One of the first requirements for safe and successful hunting is to know your gun and how to operate it safely. Treat the gun with respect due a loaded gun and carry it so you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. And keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.

When firing be sure the gun barrel and action are clear of obstructions. Have a full knowledge of the background at which you are aiming so you will be sure where the bullet, shot pellets, or slugs will strike. Firing a gun at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water might bring disastrous results, for ricochets can be dangerous. At target practice, too, be sure your backstop is adequate.

have been very fine for coastal fishing.

Then he started out with other ideas, also in the plastic line. Now he turns out beautiful and efficient fish stringers, life preservers, and even ornaments for earrings, all from his plastic material. In addition he makes those plug shaped tie clasps which men wear with cowboy shirts.

Nation's Drivers Set Encouraging Safety Pattern

CHICAGO—If the nation's drivers continue to "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," America may have one of its safest and happiest Christmases, the National Safety Council said today.

In launching its annual Christmas safety campaign, the Council said the traffic trend is encouraging — but it also warned that highway accidents and deaths reach their peak at Christmas time.

During the first nine months of this year traffic deaths dropped 3 per cent from the same period for the previous year—a saving of 800 lives.

"If drivers can maintain this rate of improvement, more than 1,000 lives can be saved on the highway in 1958," the Council estimated.

The success of the "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" campaign in its first year has led the Council to extend it through 1958. The purpose of the campaign is to encourage public officials to step up the attack on traffic accidents and to stimulate acceptance of personal responsibility for safety.

Speed is a large factor in yuletide accidents, the Council said. It increases the chances of an accident, and it also decreases the chances of drivers and passengers coming out alive if an accident occurs.

To determine a safe speed, the Council said, drivers must take into consideration:

1. Weather and visibility. Fog, rain, snow or darkness are caution signs that should be heeded.
2. Mechanical factors. Engine power, ability to hold the road, and efficiency of all mechanical parts have a definite bearing on selection of a safe speed.
3. Physical factors. Whether a road is rough, smooth, hilly, flat, curving or straight are considerations that should influence the speed.

4. Personal factors. The driver's physical and mental condition and the speed at which he can safely control his car are important considerations.

5. Traffic conditions. Drivers should adapt their speed to the traffic they meet. A safe speed on a country road can be unsafe on a city street.

Name "Dixie" was given to the South, according to popular belief, by Negroes who were fond of a Manhattan slave by that name.

In its earlier years, Detroit was proclaimed as the "Constantinople of the Western World."

 the place in 1913. He has four sons, of the cotton fields last week and it looked as if there was a bracero for every row. Their truck held 11 bales and Ray Overton and Howard Montgomery had their whole crop gathered in two days. They say those people make enough during the Texas cotton harvest to live all year long in Mexico. Not that they make such a fabulous amount, but it doesn't take so much for them to live there.

Burl Medford had to return to the hospital Saturday afternoon.
 He is suffering from some sort

Ducks and Geese Move In Ahead Of Cold Weather

Cold weather of the past week has put a big push not only behind ducks but hunters, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

The 1957 season on ducks and geese promises to be one of the best in years, according to reports of both biologists and wardens who have been making spot checks. There are more places for ducks this year than ever before, with every pot hole in Texas filled in the spring and refilled by the early fall rains.

The flight from the north has been good. Crop conditions and fresh water along the Texas coast all add up to good prospects.

Hunters also had another warning, the limit on ducks is five a day or 10 in possession after the first day. The limit is six geese, with no more than 6 in possession.

If you hunt outside your own county, you need a state license.
 If you hunt ducks or geese you must have a Federal Stamp, costing $2.

All shotguns must be plugged to hold no more than three shells.
 The use of a motor or sail boat for hunting is prohibited except in going to and from blinds or picking up cripples.

Wild Game Provides Tasty Meals When Properly Dressed

Game meats, like domestic meats, are at their best when properly dressed and cooked, remind extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Natural tenderness of any meat is influenced by the kind of animal, age, finish or fatness, and cut. Tenderness as served depends upon natural tenderness and method of cooking.

Carcasses of large animals are cut in much the same manner as beef carcasses and cuts are cooked by the same methods that are used for beef of a similar grade.

The loin will usually be cooked satisfactorily by dry heat. Moist heat is considered more satisfactory for the other cuts.

The loin will give the best roasts and steaks (sirloin or porterhouse). Chuck and rump are good for pot roasts and ground meat. The round will make good steaks unless the animal is particularly tough.

special sessions to change the law which limits water in small (200 acre feet or less) farm ponds to livestock and domestic use. Freedom to use the water for irrigation is sought.

Present law requires a special permit from the State Water Board to gain irrigation privileges. Farmers say getting such permits is complicated and too expensive.

But spokesmen for cities and downstream users vigorously oppose a change. They fear wholesale irrigation would dry up the streams leaving no water for them.

Governor Daniel said he would not submit this issue for the special session which "is dragging enough as it is." But he promised a study of the problem with a view, perhaps to making permits easier to get.

Insurance Quiz

Senate investigating committee continued to put Insurance Department employees on the carpet to determine how well that agency is carrying out its functions.

Asst. Com. Paul Connor took full responsibility for a three-month delay in action on a critical report concerning Preferred Life of Dallas. It was handled as quickly as possible "under the circumstances," said Connor. He pointed out the department was in a period of reorganization at the time and that it received hundreds of such reports.

T. W. Goad, for 17 years a department examiner, testified that examiners' morale was at an all-time low. He attributed this to (1) legislative cutting of examiners' per diem pay and (2) hostility from companies which feel state charges for an examination are too high.

Cost of Crime

Board of Corrections adopted a 1958 budget of $4,045,720 to take care of the all-time-high state prison population.

However, only $1,025,829 of this comes from tax money. The rest is earned by the various farming and manufacturing enterprises operated by inmates.

Number behind bars has climbed to an average of 9,726 this year compared to 4,987 in 1947.

More Money for Texas

Texasans have been getting richer faster than the average U. S. citizens in the past 27 years.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports Texas average income increased 447 per cent from 1928-57. U. S. average increased 278 per cent.

But there's a less rosy side. Last year Texas per capita income still hadn't caught up with the national average. It was $1,686 compared to $1,940.

Also, drought and farm depression have slowed Texas' rate of increase in incomes. However, said the Bureau report, some improvement in the farm incomes is expected this year.

Rural Roads Supported

Governor Daniel had more words of encouragement for farmers at the Texas Farm Bureau convention.

"There'll be no let-up on the building of rural roads during this administration," he told delegates. Bureau delegates were concerned with recent suggestions that the farm-to-market system is getting a disproportionate share of road money and should be curtailed.

Short Snorts

Another Travis County grand jury is underway. State Auditor C. H. Caveness was called in to brief jurors on any possible irregularity that should be investigated.

A new law prohibiting optometrists from quoting prices in ads is invalid, says the attorney general. Opinion said the law was improperly drawn and therefore void. Funeral services were held in Austin for former State Supreme Court Justice John H. Sharp, 83. Judge Sharp was appointed to the court by Gov. Dan Moody in 1929. George Parr gained at least a brief respite in his court battles after the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a conviction for misappropriation of school funds. Parr had been sentenced to five years in a New Braunfels district court. He also has been convicted in a federal court of using the mails to defraud a school district. Sputnik means "we will do what we have been doing, except a little more of it," says State Civil Defense Director William L. McGill. Texas will stress preparing emergency governments to function in the event of disaster, he said. More than 50,000 Texas families are now receiving food from the government's surplus stocks, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Much of its goes to children via the school lunch program.

Charles Randell Bates, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams Bates of Haskell, was admitted on Friday, Nov. 22, to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas.

Haskell Lad, 3, Is Patient in Scottish Rite Hospital

Texas Scottish Rite Masons founded the hospital thirty-three years ago in an effort to provide a chance at normal life for the handicapped child. The hospital is supported by public contributions and bequests, has accepted more than 100,000 children for treatment since 1925.

An expert staff, plus exceptional physical facilities and dedication to the welfare of the child, make the Scottish Rite Hospital an outstanding treatment center which serves the entire state.

Sagerton Grade School Wins District Championship in Area 6-Man Football

By MRS. DELBERT LEFEVRE

Sagerton Grade School won the district title in this area in 6-man football, in the grade school division.

Paul Gomez, a 115-pound half-back, scored 233 points during the season. He proved to be a real jackrabbit speedster as well as a very elusive runner and a demon on defense.

Benny Mueller was the quarterback who was able to do some fancy quick ball handling, operating off the single wing formation most of the time. He was also the team's main passer. He played safety on defense and made many open field tackles.

Jim New made several touchdowns as well as several extra points after touchdowns. Jim's chief job was to throw the key blocks for the ball carrier. Jim was an outstanding linebacker on defense.

John Elias, who played well on offense in the line as well as offense, also shifted some to full-back and made some touchdowns. He also dropped kicked several points.

Bob Clark was an outstanding offensive center, always centering the ball to the right place in the backfield. On defense he made many tackles behind the line of scrimmage and recovered several fumbles in the defensive backfield.

Jackie Sellers was the "mightiest" for his size. He made several open field tackles on the big boys. He made key blocks on offense.

Ray Gomez played defensive center a lot behind Bob Clark.

Members of the "B" squad who got many poundings to help develop the first team were: Harold Bredphauer, Roy Bell, Tommy Niedrick, Roy Sellers and Terry Sellers.

The following four boys will not return next year: John Elias, Paul Gomez, Benny Mueller and Jimmy New. However, Miss Irene Stewart, the coach, believes good

Grace for Thanksgiving Day

We thank Thee, Father, for Thy love That gathers us in sweet accord To count our blessings and enjoy The bounty of our gracious Lord.

We see our harvest-mellow land Round out another peaceful year, Assuring all men, everywhere, Those joys of life that are more dear Than daily bread: home, love, work, friends; The blessed right to speak and pray As each one wills. God keep us strong To follow on our chosen way!

Help us to look beyond the feast To sharing with our fellowmen All these Thy boundless gifts. And last, Be Thou our Unseen Guest.

Amen.

Robinson
 College Station—Statistics show that prices received by farmers for hogs in 1957 have shown good gains over those received in 1956, but these price gains can be maintained only if the supply of hogs is kept in line with prospective demands.
 Price increases such as those from 1956 to 1957 have a tendency to encourage more hog production next year. If production is increased materially, prices in the fall of 1958 could be much lower than at the present time, warns John G. McHaney, extension economist.

Weinert Bulldogs Lose to Jayton On Penetrations

The Weinert Bulldogs, district 4 6-Man football champions, battled the Jayton Jaybirds to a 20-20 tie in a bi-district contest at Jayton Saturday, only to lose the title to the Jaybirds on penetrations, 4-0.

The Bulldogs held a 20-14 lead until the final period, when Jayton scored from the 9, but failed to convert extra point.

J. W. Swaner sparked the scoring for the Bulldogs. He raced 70 yards for one Weinert marker and passed for the other two. He hit Tiffen Mayfield for 29 yards and a TD and then found Bob Raynes on a 45-yarder for the second. Swaner kicked the successful Weinert conversion.

Haskell Delegates Attend Farm Bureau State Convention; New President Named

Five members of the Haskell Farm Bureau attended the state convention of the farmers organization in Dallas last week. Heading the local delegation was Adel Thomas, president of the county unit, and H. D. Gammill of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tonn and C. H. Herren of Haskell.

J. H. West of Bishop, Nueces County farmer and businessman, was elected president of the Texas Farm Bureau, succeeding J. Walter Hammond of Tye. The election was at a meeting of the organization's 13 directors held following the close of the state convention.

Hammond had been president of the Texas Farm Bureau for 18 years. He was a charter member of the Texas Agricultural Association, predecessor to the present group, which was formed in 1924. He has been credited with creating and leading a fight for a soil bank plan which the Texas Farm Bureau has endorsed for 10 years. Unlike the present soil bank plan, it calls for total farm acreage to be reduced in line with total consumption of farm products.

C. H. DeVane of Coahoma was elected vice president and Edwin Sanderson of Paris, was named secretary - treasurer. The Texas Farm Bureau went on record for a gradual elimination of government regulations and the right to seek lower price supports in exchange for an increase in cotton allotments. Delegates suggested that the present soil bank act should be allowed to expire with the end of present contracts. Wheat growers put through a resolution asking that grazing be allowed on wheat, beaver water belongs to the land on which it falls. Water stored behind retention dams located outside of stream beds should be available to the land owner for any beneficial use.

Ralph Yarborough's Report

By RALPH YARBOROUGH U. S. Senator

Texas, our so called "land of the big rich," is unfortunately still the "state of the hungry old folk."

But it is encouraging to note that Texans voted in favor of the Constitutional Amendment to boost, old age pension checks $2 a month.

This meager raise is a pitiful increase to tack on a starvation allotment, but at least it shows we Texans are moving in the right direction.

In my recent fact-finding visits in all parts of the State, I have found that our old folks who have so little are the ones who have been hit the hardest by the continued cost of living increases. Some death certificates list the cause of death as "malnutrition," which usually means the person couldn't get sufficient variety of food to avoid starving.

We Texans like to brag about everything in our State being the biggest and the best, and that is the way it should be. Yet, we certainly can't brag about the way we take care of our old people.

The average monthly old age assistance grant in Texas is $45.05 compared to the national average on such checks of $59.01. Texas is nearly $15 a month below the national average and ranks 40th among the 48 states. Of all the assistance paid in Texas, over 63 per cent comes from the Federal government, so it is evident; this critical problem requires action by our State Legislators.

I believe that our pension average should be raised to at least $65, and I want to work with all people who want to do something about these measly, miserable pensions.

Every time there is a movement to raise old age pensions, some selfish interests and unconcerned politicians holler, "It's socialism." This criticism is plain selflessness. We are strengthening—not softening—the moral fiber of Texas when we answer the needs of those who have done a life's work. We will be doing only what is right and decent when we provide our people with enough milk and bread and little meat.

Early Snow Brings Two-Inch Blanket Over This Area

One of the earliest heavy snowstorms in a number of years struck this section Thursday night, blanketing the Haskell area with more than two inches of snow. The fall was reported general over most of West Texas, with some sections receiving as much as four inches.

Moisture resulting from the snow was measured here at 20 inch. Coming on the heels of slow winter rains which had fallen at intervals during the previous week, the added moisture further delayed harvest of this section's cotton crop, already several weeks behind schedule.

The snow also brought the coldest weather of the winter, the temperature dropping to 21 degrees during Friday night.

Clearing and partially cloudy weather which had prevailed the first three days of the week brought farmers a hopeful outlook that the gathering of their cotton could be resumed this week.
