Area ranchers named Rehab chairmen

Coke County's Ed Cumbie and Clifton Reed are among 150 volunteers throughout Texas who will carry on the tradition of "helping Rehab help others" by serving as 1999 area chairmen for West Texas Rehabilitation Center's 40th Annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Rehab.

Regional chairmen of this year's program are Carter Behrens of San Angelo and Mike Alexander of Abilene, and honorary chairman is Rex Allen.

Since 1960, Round-Up has provided friends in the agricultural industry an opportunity to lend their support to WTRC and to date has brought in over $8,050,000 to Rehab which annually serves more than 17,000 children and adults with disabilities.

Ways in which ranchers and agriculture-related businesses can participate in CRR include:

*Donating livestock -- cattle, sheep, goats, or horses -- to be sold at one of Rehab's seven special auctions during September and October.

*Sending a cash donation to Rehab if this is not a good time of year to cut out livestock for an auction.

*Attending one of the special sales and joining the bidding on livestock or novelty items.

*Notifying a CRR chairman right now of an intent to have your auction house cut a check to Rehab for the proceeds of one or more animals to be sold later in the year.

This year's CRR program has already received a significant boost from four great friends of Rehab. Twin Mountain Fence Company has joined Wrangler, Federal Land Bank Association, and First Texas Ag Credit as Round-Up sponsors.

WTRC President Jim Pethis expressed his appreciation for these gifts and hopes that everyone in the livestock industry will help build on the momentum by being a part of the Rehab tradition of the Cattlemen's Round-Up.

1999 Round-Up will begin with a cattle auction Thursday, September 16 at Producers Livestock Auction in San Angelo. Other sales and their dates include: a cattle sale September 28 at Abilene Auction; and specialty sales October 6, Coleman; October 8, Dublin; October 13, Stephenville; and October 28, Ranger. A special sale for sheep and goats is scheduled for October 25 at the Junction Stockyards.

For more information about this important Rehab fundraising program, please contact the local CRR volunteers or WTRC at 915-223-6300 in San Angelo or 915-793-3507 in Abilene.

The partners continued to operate the factory until the closing earlier this year. Although production of new goods ceased, the doors remained open and goods were still being sold. Last Friday, Shirley Denton bought out her partner and she hopes to begin a new era in the community. She will offer a wide variety of services to the area including consignment clothing for men. women and children. Mrs. Denton will also be selling Sunbelt T-Shirts and crafts. The business will continue to be a drop station for dry cleaning services. In addition to these services, Shirley's Place, the new name for the business, will offer a rental room for private parties and meetings and the factory portion of the building is being converted to climate controlled storage facilities that will be available for rent to the public. Erma, the first child of Mattie Eckert Tinkler and Harrison Sumner Tinkler, was born February 5, 1910 in Runnels County. She attended school in Veribest and Mereta. It was in Wall that she met Leslie Edwin Wink and they were married in December 1926. Wed for 67 years, they ranched and worked together until his death in 1993.

A lifelong quilter, Mrs. Wink's handiwork was known throughout the area and in 1976, she and her quilts were featured in Better Homes and Gardens magazine. She loved to piece the quilts and often had Leslie draw patterns that she fancied. Erma said that it wasn't a real quilt unless it came from the scrap bag, and her quilts are treasured by those who knew and loved her.

Letter to the Editor Dear Editor;

After I wrote the letter about the veterans memorial to be built in Bronte, I was asked to help the committee. I knew nothing about such things; so I began asking questions and went to see the beautiful memorial in Ballinger to learn something about the requirements for such an undertaking. I learned that most monuments are built by American Legion and/or Veterans of Foreign Wars posts. Those groups have contacts, information, manpower, and financial backing. They obtain help from local businesses and even public utilities. Because of financial help, they are able to require very small donations for each name to be listed on the monument.

Coke County has no American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars posts, or large businesses. The memorial committee has none of the advantages of a large county. They started with a $100 donation, ingenuity, and hope. To get the word out to the people, they have depended on articles in newspapers, mail-outs to known veterans or their families, phone calls to "old-timers", lists from schools and the courthouse, visits to tamily reunions, help from interested residents, and wordof-mouth.

fund them will be put on the memorial free. Someone has to pay for this beautiful remembrance and the landscaping required on the rather barren plot.

The monument will be placed on a designated historical plot near the old Bronte Depot. It will have two faces, one facing north and one facing south, depicting how most of the men and women heroically began their journeys away from their loved ones and home.

Some natives who have not lived in Coke County for many years have responded enthusiastically and sent small but very welcome donations. If you want to be a part of this commendable project, mail contributions to the address below.

I'm proud to donate my services to this grand accomplishment. If it's not like "coming in on a wing and a prayer", it is an achievement beginning with a one hundred dollar bill, visions of a lovely memorial marker, and fierce determination.

Sincerely, Loretha Wrinkle Knight Veterans Memorial Committee PO Box 46 Bronte, TX 76933

Longhorns lose squeaker

Bronte's Longhorns lost their first game of the '99 season last Friday night 6-7 to Menard, giving them a 0-1 record. The game's first score came with 1:26 minutes left in the first quarter when Menard's Heath Cary scored from 16 yards out. The extra point was good.

The score stayed the same until the third quarter when Brandon Gibbs connected on a 3 yard pass to Jerrod McClure to make it 7-6 with 1:11 minutes left. Bronte gambled on a go-ahead two point conversion that failed.

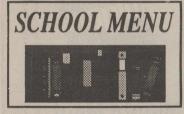

The entire defense did a very good job, holding a talented Menard team to just 7 points.

Area host families sought

Foreign high school students are scheduled to arrive very soon for academic program home stays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (PIE) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. PIE currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

PIE area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match. As there are no "typical" host families, PIE can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for PIE are also eligible to claim a $50.00 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, PIE has students from Spain, Germany, Latvia, the Former Soviet Union, Finland, Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, Paraguay, Australia, Sweden, Yugoslavia, China, Belgium, Vietnam, and many other countries. PIE has also been invited to participate in a special government-funded program to bring scholarship students from the Newly Independent States of the former Soviet Union to the United States. PIE is a nonprofit educational organization that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 40 countries since its founding in 1975. The organization is designated by the United States Information Agency and is listed by the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel (CSIET), certifying that the organization complies with the standards set forth in CSIET's Standards for International Educational Travel Programs.

Doty encourages families to contact the program immediately, as it will allow the proper time for the students and hosts to get to know one another before they actually meet for the first time.

Coke County area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call PIE, toll-free at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

Steers drop home opener

by Bill Burns

Football season started last Friday night with the May Tigers coming to Robert Lee. The game did not go well for the Steers, as May won the game 14 to 28.

The Steers still have a lot to learn as they are working on new Athletic Director Ray Brown's system. Change takes time, but the Steers should be improving with each practice.

1st Quarter

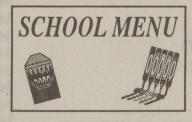

The Steers started the game like they might walk away with a victory. At the end of the quarter the Tigers and the Steers were tied on 1st downs, but the Steers led in every other category, including the score. The Steers took the lead when Andrew McCabe returned an interception 70 yards for a Steer TD. Deric Brothers kicked the extra point and the Steers led by 7.

2nd Quarter

This quarter was controlled by May as they ran 22 offensive plays to the Steers 5 offensive plays. The Steers had their backs to the wall as everything the Tigers tried to do seemed to work. The quarter ended with the Steers behind 14 to 7.

3rd Quarter

The third quarter was a little better for the Steers as Beau Boxell completed a pass to Garrett Brown for a 31 yard gain and also a pass to Andrew McCabe for 24 yards. The running game was still struggling with only short gains. Boxell punted one time for 53 yards.

A May Tiger got loose on a 36 yard scamper and increased the Tiger lead by 21-

4th Quarter

The Steers came back with a score early in the 4th quarter when Brown went wide to the left side for a 14 yard TD run.

The Steers might have been a little anxious as they were down by seven. They outgained the Tigers 50 yards to 26 yards; four 1st downs to two 1st downs, but an interception by May set up a TD for May with 52 seconds left in the game.

ABC's of School Bus Safety

The army of yellow buses snakes through urban neighborhoods and bumps along country roads. Passengers small and large stream on and off in waves. It's school time in Texas, and safety is one of the first lessons youngsters need to learn.

"Parents need make learning safety rules as important for children as knowing their ABCs," said Dr. William R. Archer, Texas Commissioner of Health. "Knowing safety basics can save lives and prevent needless injuries. In addition, drivers need to slow down and pay close attention around schools and bus stops.'

Even though school buses are one of the safest forms of transportation in the nation nearly 2,000 times safer than a passenger car - injuries and deaths do occur, according to health and safety officials at the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

"Most children injured while riding school buses are acutally hurt outside of the bus," said Gene Weatherall, chief of the TDH Bureau of Emergency Management.

Weatherall suggests teaching children to stay on the sidewalk when the bus stops to pick them up and to take five giant steps away from the bus when they exit. Children should never touch the outside of a bus when it is moving. And parents need to shorten or remove all loose or dangling drawstrings, ties, scarves, and straps on clothes, backpacks, and other items so children will not be caught by bus doors or hand railings.

TDH advises adults help children learn these safety lessons:

•Waiting for the bus:

*Arrive at the bus stop at least five minutes early. Walk on the sidewalk, not the road. Walk facing traffic if there is no sidewalk.

*Stay away from the street while waiting for the bus and avoid horseplay.

*Stay out of the danger zones directly in front or in back of the bus where the driver may not see you. Take five giant steps away from the bus until you see the driver and the driver sees you.

*Stay away from the bus until it stops completely. Riding the bus:

*Always use the handrail. *Sit down right away and stay seated. Keep hands, arms and head inside the bus.

*Always follow the driver's instructions.

*Don't throw things and don't yell or distract the driver.

*Keep the bus clean. Keep belongings out of aisles and away from emergency exits.

*Wait until the bus comes to a complete stop before getting up to leave. ·Boarding and leaving the bus: *Never crawl under or around a bus. If you drop something, tell the driver.

*If you must cross the street, wait for the driver to signal you to go.

*Cross the street in front of the bus - not the back - and look both ways for traffic.

*Don't walk out from between parked cars.

Adults, too, need to be especially cautious when driving near schools, since children may forget their safety lessons.

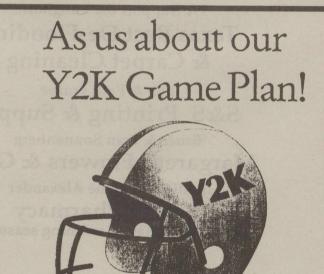

*When backing out of a driveway, watch for children walking or riding a bicycle, especially if there are no sidewalks in the neighborhood.

*Slow down in school neighborhoods.

*Be especially alert around the start and end of a school day. Children may be running across streets without looking. Pay close attention around school bus stops.

*Obey school bus signals. Yellow flashing lights mean a bus is preparing to stop. Red flashing lights and/or ex-tended STOP arms mean the bus has stopped to let children on or off. Drivers in all directions must stop until the lights quit flashing, the STOP arm is withdrawn and the bus begins moving or until the bus driver signals other drivers to go

"Stop, look and listen are still the best rules for children to remember," Archer said.

Kids and weight lifting don't always mix

To bench press or not to bench press, that is the question.

Thousands of junior high and high school athletes are taking part in football drills, and the vast majority of them engage in a comprehensive weight lifting program. But will pumping iron really help them on the field?

For some yes; for others, it will be of limited value and a waste of time and could actually be detrimental, believes a Texas A&M University health and kinesiology professor who specializes in child fitness.

William Barnes says age is the key factor. Generally, kids in the 16 to 18 year old range will find that a serious weight training program can produce tangible benefits.

But for younger kids, it may be less effective or could even produce damaging results, Barnes believes. Instead, a vigorous exercise program might be better, he says.

provides many benefits:

Gives you energy to do the things you enjoy, such as spend quality time with friends and family.

*Reduces feelings of stress, anxiety, and depression.

*Clears your head so you can approach work refreshed and able to concentrate.

*Reduces the risk of heart disease, or improves physical functioning even if you have had a heart attack or bypass surgery.

*Reduces the risk of colon cancer.

*Lowers high blood pressure and risks of stroke.

*Controls blood sugar (glucose) levels if you have, or are at risk for, diabetes.

Dr. Ted Edwards, an Austin gastroenterologist, says "The one thing you can do that will dramatically improve your health -- aside from quitting smoking -- is exercise."

He mentions a study showing participants who walked as little as three miles a week, who reduced their absenteeism from work from eight days a year to three. The optimum is three miles, three times a week.

"This is a good expectation for anyone; something just about anyone can do. I have an 84-year-old patient who came to me and said, 'I'm having trouble jogging three miles at a time. I find I have to walk the last mile. Is there anything wrong with that?' I had to laugh and tell him he is the only 80-year-old patient I have who is jogging."

Keep in mind that you can fit exercise into your schedule even if you are busy. You don't have to add a heavy workout routine into your already hectic day. Instead, add a few activities that fit naturally. For example, you might walk to lunch spots at a distance from your office instead of always frequenting the corner cafe. Or take the stairs instead of the elevator. To begin, ride the elevator to a midway point and climb the rest of the way. On the weekends, walk to the corner store to pick up needed items, rather than driving there. Or go for a brisk walk in your neighborhood to unwind after work (or before work, to prepare yourself mentally for the day)

After a few weeks you will get so used to regular activity that a missed workout will feel unnatural.

One last thing: Don't expect to "get into shape" overnight. Your fitness should start to improve within three months with consistent effort.

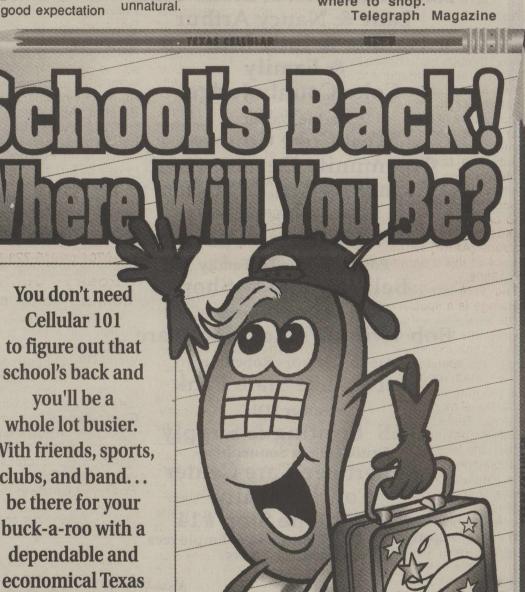

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 36,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 118 component county medical societies around the state. The association represents 85 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas. TMA's key objective is to improve the health of all Texans.

Seniors give themselves a "raise"

Homeowners over the age of 61 can give themselves a "raise" through participation in the reverse mortgage program designed, by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The program enables homeowners to turn their home equity into tax-free income while requiring no monthly repayment.

Sound too good to be true? You can thank the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) for their advocacy of this program since the 1980s.

The FHA-insured reverse mortgage is a special type of home equity loan that allows participants to convert a portion of their locked-up home equity into spendable income while retaining ownership. The program works much like a traditional mortgage -- but in reverse. Rather than making monthly payments to the lender, the lender makes loan distributions to the borrower. The amount of tax-free income that the homeowner may receive is based primarily on the age of the participants and the home's value. In this program, older homeowners may receive more than their younger counterparts. No repayment of the loan is required until the home is no longer occupied as the principal residence. Eligibility requirements are quite simple and do not impose any standards based on income, assets, credit, or employment. "The reverse mortgage is a safe, financial alternative enabling older homeowners to comfortably remain in their homes and enjoy a secure retirement," said Jeffrey Moulton of the Reverse Mortgage Department. "Because fixed income levels often prevent older adults from qualifying for standard loans, FHA developed the reverse mortgage program to provide a viable option." The benefits of this program are numerous. The tax-free cash that is made available can be used for any purpose. Many participants have used the loan proceeds to pay off their existing mortgages, to pay their property taxes, for medical expenses, to pay off credit cards, and to make improvements. home Reverse mortgage payments do not affect Social Security or Medicare benefits.

Seniors often worry that the expenses of home ownership will force them to lower their standard of living. This is a choice that most older homeowners simply do not want to make. With the reverse mortgage program, many seniors are able to give themselves a "raise" without selling some of their assets.

To learn more, individuals can contact Jeffrey Moulton of the Reverse Mortgage Department at (800) 920-2226.

Stenholm invites residents to FUNDay

Congressman Charlie and Cindy Stenholm will host FUNDay on Saturday, September 11, 1999 at the Ericksdahl Picnic Grounds east of Stamford. Festivities will begin at 4:30 pm and continue into the evening.

The annual event draws people from throughout the vast 17th Congressional District.

The program includes barbecue, entertainment, and a drawing for flags flown over the U.S. Capitol. The Cooper Fiddlers from Cooper High School in Abilene will provide entertainment. "Cindy and I want to invite everyone to come and spend the day in Ericksdahl," said Stenholm. "FUNDay is a great time to meet new people and visit with old friends." "In addition, a few of my colleagues will be visiting, and they need to know the concerns of the people here in West Texas. This year I will be bringing Representative Mike Representative Doyle, Leonard L. Boswell and Representative Rosa DeLauro. Mike Doyle is a 3rd term Congressman from Swissvale, Pennsylvania; he serves on the Science Committee for Basic Research, Energy and Veterans' Affairs for Health. Leonard Boswell is a 2nd term Congressman from Davis City, Missouri: he serves on the Agricultural Committee. Rosa DeLauro is a 5th term Congresswoman from New Haven, Connecticut; she serves on the Appropriations Committee for Agriculture and Rural Development, FDA & Related Agencies; Labor, Health & Human Services & Education."

Tickets for FUNDay, which remain at $10 per person, will be available at the gate. Children's activities will also be provided. For more information, contact the Stenholm Campaign office at 1-800-391-0704 or 915-773-5521.

Forum to focus on community needs

Improving the efficiency of health and human services. Creating a continuum of care for families and individuals in Texas. Promoting teamwork among state health and human service agencies. Fostering innovation in the delivery of state services at the community level. These are just some of the wide array of topics that will be discussed at at public community forum set for San Angelo on September 14, 1999, from 9:30 am to 3:30 pm at the Concho Valley Regional Training Center, 5014 Knickerbocker Road. Individuals from throughout the 13 county area are invited to attend and offer input.

In making the announcement about the forums, Texas Health and Human Services Commissioner Don A. Gilbert noted that "citizen input is critical to the formation of any blueprint for health and human services delivery in Texas in the coming century." He added that improved access to the coordination of services "is dependent on an earnest assessment by citizens of how we are doing and how we can do better."

The forum is one of 21 sessions to be held across the state during the Summer of 1999 to seek public comment on unmet health and human services needs and education of local communities on agencies' initiatives and direction. Most importantly, the forums will also offer participants an opportunity to assess the responsiveness of health and human services efforts to improve the service delivery system and the coordination of services.

The public sessions will be sponsored by the United Way of the Concho Valley, the Concho Valley Council of Governments, the Texas Health and Human Services Commission and the other 12 health and human services agencies currently charged with the responsibility of providing services to Texans.

Mike Loving, Director of the City/County Health Department, will facilitate the forum and encourages the public to attend the sessions. Roundtable discussion will be conducted on issues relating to delivery of services. Lunch will be available. Please Celebrating birthdays in August of the Luckettt gang recently were: Joy, the oldest at 77 and Dale, the youngest at 62. Scott, Billy Joe's sonin-law, didn't say his age, but he is a young chick compared to the others.

Jesse and Willie Eads, longtime friends of the Lucketts were present. The Eads and the Lucketts first met in 1926, that is 73 years ago.

A big fish fry was held for the celebration. Dewey was the fisherman and chef. There was lots of fish, hush puppies, red beans, potato salad, onions, ice tea, soft drinks, and two birthday cakes. One cake had 77 candles and the other had 62. A freezer of homemade banana ice cream rounded out the meal.

Pictures were taken of the birthday honorees blowing out the candles on their cakes.

Those attending the birthday celebration and having a wonderful time were: Joy and A.J. McDaniel; Scott Bayer, Aaron, Amanda and Corey, all of San Angelo; Jessie and Willie Eads; Jim and Lois Dunklin all of Robert Lee; Dale and Cindy Luckett and Stormy from Abilene; Helen Murtishaw, Billy Joe and Diane Luckett, Joey Luckett, and Dewey Luckett, all of Bronte.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS Special Election NOVEMBER 2, 1999

PROPOSITION NO.1 ON THE BALLOT

HJR 44 - HJR 44 proposes a constitutional amendment that would ensure a clear succession in event of vacancies in the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor. Spe-cifically, the amendment would provide that if after qualifying for the office, the Governor is temporarily unable to serve, the Lieutenant Governor shall act as Governor until the Governor is able to serve; but if the Governor is permanently unable to serve, the Lieutenant Governor shall become the Governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. The amendment would require a Lieutenant Governor who becomes Governor to forfeit the office of Lieutenant Governor. The amendment would also provide similar succession procedures when a vacancy occurs in the office of Governor before the newly elected Governor qualifies for office, and when the newly elected Governor is temporarily unable to take office. The amendment also would provide that if there is a temporary vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore of the Senate will fill the position; but if there is a permanent vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall serve as Lieutenant Governor only until such time as the whole senate can convene to elect one of its members to perform the duties of Lieutenant Governor. Finally, the amendment would provide that if the Lieutenant Governor, while temporarily exercising the powers of the Governor, becomes temporarily disabled or unable to serve, the President pro tempore of the senate shall exercise the powers and authority of the office of the Governor until such time as the Governor or Lieutenant Governor reassumes those powers and duties.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to revise the provisions for the filling of a vacancy in the office of governor or lieutenant governor.

The amendment would mandate that the recw if neither the Senate nor the House of Representatives rejects them by majority vote.

spend public funds or extend credit to purchase nonassessable property or casualty insurance from a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in Texas. Under current law, a political subdivision is generally prohibited from spending public funds or extending credit to become a stockholder in a corporation but is permitted to purchase nonassessable life, health or accident insurance policies from a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in Texas. This amendment would authorize a political subdivision to also obtain non-assessable property and casualty insurance from such a company

Under the amendment, the amount distributed to the AUF would consist of distributions, as determined by the University of Texas System board of regents, from the total return on all investment assets of the PUF, instead of consisting only of the dividends, interest, and other income of the PUF minus administrative expenses. The amendment also would provide guidelines for minimum and maximum amounts to be distributed to the AUF, and require that the board of regents manage distributions to the AUF in a manner that will provide the AUF with a stable and predictable stream of annual distributions and maintain the purchasing power of the PUF investments and annual distributions to the AUF.

It would expand the list of circumstances under which payment of principal and interest become due and the procedures involved in foreclosure, and would require certain advances to be made according to specific terms in loan documents, including advances by the lender, on behalf of the borrower for payments necessary to protect the lender's interest. Finally, the amendment would require the Texas Supreme Court to promulgate rules of civil procedure expediting court-ordered foreclosures of reverse mortgage liens.

Current law further allows a person to secure a home equity loan on their homestead, provided that the loan does not overburden the homestead. That is, the principal amount of the home equity loan, when added to the total of the outstanding principal balances of all other indebtedness secured against the homestead, does not exceed 80 percent of the fair market value of the homestead on the date the extension of credit is made.
