Beating the "Summer Slump"

An executive of a big department store recently had something to say about how retailers can move goods, particularly during the so-called "summer slump." He put it in a jingle:

"Early to bed, early to rise,
Work like hell, and advertise."

Then he dealt with newspapers as an advertising media: "Newspaper circulation stays up in the summer. There is no appreciable change in the number of papers distributed, and this means that our advertising will get full readership and may even be more effective, because people are more relaxed and have more time to read."

No matter what the season—and in spite of the emergence of newer forms of advertising media—newspapers remain a prime vehicle for interesting people in goods and services and persuading them to buy. You can't beat the written word.

Reaching Into the Past

Life magazine recently ran a lavishly illustrated article on the boom in the antique business. Apparently the dealers have never seen anything like it before. The problem is to find enough supply to meet the surging demand. All manner of old wares are eagerly bought, from knickknacks that go for a few dollars to great rarities valued far into the thousands.

Also, in late years, the book publishers have found an extraordinarily large audience for works of history. Books dealing with some historical periods—notably the Civil War—have appeared in torrents and have been enthusiastically received, many have become runaway best sellers.

It is hard to understand the reasons for this reaching back into the past. For one thing, we live in a disordered, violent, unpredictable world. The past provides a measure of assurance.

And the past does much more than that. It is the source of a nation's strength and principle. In yesterday, we may find the guides to tomorrow. The character of those who live is in large measure molded by those long dead—by their deeds, their thoughts, their arts and crafts, their victories and defeats. The past is pride, and it is hope for the future too.

Perspective

With the per capita consumption of water almost doubling every decade and with a population increase exceeding three million each year, the proper conservation of the water resources of the nation must be kept constantly in mind.

A projection of the expenditure that will be required by 1975 to take care of growing population and water use, made by the Business and Defense Services Administration of the Department of Commerce of $171 billion will be necessary.

Population growth, industrial expansion and higher living standards combined to put the pressure on government at all levels to meet the needs for more water.

The nation has water resources available. It is well advanced in water project planning. It lags only in matching the size of the problem with its pocketbook.

Haskell County History

20 Years Ago—July 28, 1933

Haskell County schools have been allotted $7,723 in rural transportation aid for the 1933-34 school year.

A batch of 701 checks for a total of $91,608.82 was received this week at the office of County Agent Schumann, for distribution to Haskell County farmers in payment for compliance with the 1933 agricultural conservation program.

The scholastic census of Haskell County indicates an increase of approximately 200 children of school age over the total for last year, County Supt. Matt Graham has announced. Estimated enrollment in county schools for the 1933-34 term will be 4,564 students, as compared with 4,365 for the 1932-33 term.

Eight members of the Paint Creek FFA chapter and their instructor, W. B. McGowan Jr., attended the State FFA convention at Temple last week. Boys making the trip were Kermit Brown, Ray Overton Jr., Tom Wiley Jr., J. V. Weaver, Orville Cox, Edwin Timmier, P. D. Boddy and Albert Thane.

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Williams and little son, Temple, spent Monday and Tuesday in Fort Worth.

Jeff Lewis Jr. of Lubbock is visiting in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lewis and with other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Hettie Williams returned home Sunday after a vacation spent in Mineral Wells. She also visited relatives in Waco and Jacksboro while away.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

More than likely before this column sees print, announcement will be received that Haskell has been removed from the Mexican labor "blacklist." Chances are, however, that no authoritative explanation will ever be forthcoming as to the specific reason, fanciful or real, on which the "blacklisting" was based.

work this week on the new building of the Weimert State Bank. J. Dyer of Stamford is contractor on the job.

Mrs. D. M. Winn, resident of Haskell for many years, has recently returned from Henderson, Texas, and will be with Mrs. Joe Lee Ferguson for the remainder of the summer.

C. G. Burson and son, C. G. Jr., and daughter Miss Cleo Burson, accompanied by Miss Grace Cearley, made a trip to the South Plains last week. They visited Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Whitman and Sam Cearley near Earth, Texas.

50 Years Ago—July 24, 1909

The third annual session of the West Texas Young People's Assembly will be held at Stamford July 23-Aug. 1. Speakers of national prominence will appear on the program.

Haynes Hambleton has been employed as superintendent of the city's new water and sewer system.

Mark Whitman has returned from Mineral Wells, where he has been at the bedside of his father, who has been seriously ill in that city.

T. E. Matthews, secretary of the Haskell Board of Trade, attended a district meeting of representatives from a number of West Texas towns, held in Sweetwater this week.

Fred Hicks, brother of Walter S. Hicks of this place, came in Monday from California, and will visit here for awhile.

John Therwanger of the Weimert community was in the city Thursday. He reports that after all the storm, hail and other calamities, he got 900 bushels of wheat from 100 acres of land. He also has a large acreage of oats to thresh that will turn out equally as well, he said.

J. U. Fields and Misses May and Annie Fields left Saturday to visit the Seattle Exposition. They will also visit Salt Lake City, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, Calif., before returning to Haskell.

George Courtney has just returned from a trip to Tucumcari, N. M. He reports that we have better crops in Haskell County than anywhere he visited between here and New Mexico.

N. McNeill of McNeill & Smith of this city, has returned from Tarpon, on the Gulf Coast, where he spent several days fishing with a party of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stephens of Dickens County are visiting their sons, R. D. C., W. M., and J. F. Stephens of this city. Judge Pete Helton spent the week at Aspermont attending court.

60 Years Ago—July 29, 1899

Miss Ethel Alexander returned home Tuesday from a visit in Graham.

Dr. J. M. Moore and wife of Rayner were over last week trading with our merchants.

Messrs. W. L. Cason and I. T. Farmer are attending the Fifth Sunday meeting in Aspermont.

Mrs. J. S. Rike and daughter, Miss Lillie, went to Graham on a visit to Mrs. Hall Morrison, Mrs. Rike's daughter.

Dr. A. B. King of Throckmorton was called over to see Capt. Killough, but arrived only a few hours before his death, and could do nothing for his relief.

From the size of the crowd that attended the Mollie Bailey Show Tuesday night, we are warranted in saying that Haskell was "show hungry."

Jim Hale of Eastland, who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks and doing some cattle trading to make the time interesting, left Thursday for his home.

G. M. Clayton of Wilbarger County, who bought 1076 acres of land a few miles north of town about a month ago, is here improving the property and preparing it for occupancy.

If you don't think things are growing out of sight in Haskell County just step into Robertson's Store and see those pea pods that actually measure 32 inches in length.

Messrs. F. M. Morton and Joe Lee Ferguson, who have been in partnership for a number of years in an extensive ranch venture, have dissolved their partnership.

Grigsby Mathis, while riding out last week saw a large rattlesnake going into a dog hole, and alighting from his horse, seized the snake by the tail with the intention of popping its head off by a quick twist, a feat he has often accomplished, but for once the snake was too quick for him and bit him on the right hand. It was an hour or more before he got to a physician, but in the meantime someone had corded his wrist and made an incision in the wound. His hand and arm have been considerably swollen and he has suffered a great deal, but will recover from the bite, doctors said.

All efforts to learn the actual reason or incident that resulted in the ban met with a polite brush-off by the Mexican consul at Dallas, Labor Department officials, as well as officials in Washington.

Whether Haskell remains on the blacklist or not, we are confident that the braceros will be back in full force during the fall, eager to get a chance at sacking up a few American dollars to take home with them.

From all we could hear during the weekend, local farmers are more concerned about continued rains than they are the possibility of being under a labor ban.

The rains have spawned a terrific weed crop, and soggy fields have kept farmers from cleaning out their maize and cotton which is rapidly being overrun with weeds.

Friends say Charlie Conner was moaning about the situation and declared he had some careless weeds that he'd have to use an axe to chop down—when it got dry enough to get into his field.

In a letter from Mrs. Preston C. Smith, La Jolla, Calif., she enclosed an old photograph made in Haskell around 1909-10, made during a parade and celebration held here. The picture was given her by J. J. Stein, early-day real estate dealer here.

The photograph is of an early Rambler automobile, almost completely covered with greenery and flowers, even to the wheels. Whatever the occasion, Stein's car likely won first place.

Occupants of the automobile are Mr. and Mrs. Stein, Mrs. Hollis Fields, Mrs. C. M. Hunt and little Orlean Hunt.

The picture was made on what is now North First Street, with the car at a point about in front of where Courney Hunt now has his office. In the background are portions of the old Baldwin Building and Simmons Livery Stable, located where the City Hall now stands.

The Simmons Livery Stable, a large frame building, burned sometime before the 20s, according to old timers. The blaze threatened to spread to other buildings across the alley, and this would have probably wiped out that side of the square.

Oldtimers recall that volunteer firemen almost lost their Model T fire truck in that blaze. The motor died as the truck was right in front of the burning stable, and firemen had their faces and arms blistered as they struggled to push the truck to safety. Luckily, the fire burned itself out without spreading.

When Haskell's first fire department was organized, members did not have the benefit of today's modern alarm system.

Virgil Hudson and R. J. (Bob) Reynolds who were members of the local firefighters organization 50-odd years ago, recall that in those days, especially at night, a volley of pistol shots was a fire alarm.

Next system used was the steam whistle at the light and ice plant, with a series of rapid blasts repeated for a period of five or ten minutes.

Later, a large bell was installed on the water tower with an electric motor operating the gong something on the order of a glorified telephone bell.

In the early 20s, the first electric siren was bought by the fire department, and the new-fangled alarm almost resulted in some of the firemen being jailed as it was being tried out.

As quick as it could be uncrated, it was set up on a large wooden box in the alley just back of the building now occupied by the Chamber of Commerce, and electric wires were connected to the power line in the alley.

A term of County Court was in session, with the late Judge Jas. P. Kinnard presiding. It was summer, and all windows in the courtroom were open.

Suddenly the courtroom was filled with the wailing sound of the siren, startling everybody out of their wits and disrupting the court.

The judge ordered the bailiff to find out the cause. The deputy sheriff was gone a few minutes and came running back with the explanation that "it's that new-fangled fire siren, Your Honor. It came on that last freight and they turn it on."

"Well go back and tell them to turn it off and stop that ungodly noise or they'll be in contempt," the judge ordered.

Soon the deputy was back in the courtroom, but the "siren" was still wailing. "Your Honor, they said some kind of an automatic do-jigger on that thing was wound up and had to run down before it would stop," the uneasy deputy explained.

Judge Kinnard, realizing the humor of the situation, recessed court for the remainder of the morning. Later he confided to friends, "Those fireboys were like a bunch of kids with a new toy. It would have been a pity to stop their fun."

An ever-present problem facing peace officers is that of the beer and whiskey haulers who supply bootleggers in dry areas. The haulers are cagey, alert characters who don't mind risking their necks in outrunning officers once they are "jumped."

However, this problem has faced officers of every decade, in varying degrees.

Back in the depression 30s, bootleggers, haulers, and moonshiners were almost as thick as fleas on a dog's back, it seemed, while making "home brew" was a popular do-it-yourself hobby.

Distillers of "white lightning" had a practice of stacking their contraband under a bridge or culvert near the edge of town in order to give officers the dodge. Then, after getting their customers lined up, they'd slip back and get the stuff and make deliveries.

This plan worked for a while, but backfired when an alert officer figured out what was going on.

Every Saturday morning the officer would get on the roof of the courthouse bright and early with a pair of strong field glasses. Scanning every country road leading into town, he'd make a note when a car stopped at a bridge or culvert.

Then he'd make a quick round to all points and come back with a carload of corn whiskey and home brew. He couldn't make a case against the haulers, naturally, but he did slow down the while.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Rule Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Hunt, well known farm couple of Rule, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in that city Sunday, July 19.

Highlight of the occasion was open house held during the afternoon, when about 100 friends and acquaintances, including many early-day neighbors of the couple, called at the home. Also, the couple received scores of cards, letters and congratulatory messages from friends unable to attend.

Hosting the open house reception were the four children of the couple, Mrs. Bill Fouts, Lorous Hunt of Rochester, and Hubert and Festus Hunt of Rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were married July 15, 1909 at Lakeview, small community in Comanche County. She was the former Grada Richards, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Richards.

The couple lived in Comanche County until moving to the Rule section about 40 years ago and Mr. Hunt was engaged in farming until his retirement a few years ago. Both are active members of the Baptist Church.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends attending the wedding anniversary were several brothers and sisters of the couple from Comanche and Palo Pinto counties.

Final Rites For W. C. Bevers Held At Munday

Funeral for Walter C. Bevers, 77, member of an early-day Haskell family who died Monday in the Knox City Hospital, were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the First Methodist Church at Munday.

Officiating was the Rev. Rex Mauldin, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Marvin Burgess, Gillespie Baptist pastor.

Burial was in the Gillespie Cemetery.

A native of Palo Pinto County, Mr. Bevers was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Spence Bevers, a pioneer ranching family in Haskell. He was reared here, and later lived on a ranch in the Thorpe community five miles southwest of Munday. In 1922 he moved to Munday and entered the grocery business. He had been in semi-retirement in recent years.

Mr. Bevers was also a former Munday city official.

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Lewis of Houston, Mrs. Allene Koenig of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. Maurine D. Oran of Odessa; two sons, Joe L. of Dallas and Jasper of Munday; three sisters, Mrs. J. A. Frazier of Haskell, Mrs. Frank Moore of Houston and Mrs. Lena Collard of Fort Worth; and three grandchildren.

Corner on Cotton
BY BOB COLLINS

Cotton acreage for the '59-'60 season is estimated at a little more than 15.8 million . . . that's about 28 per cent over this year's figure . . . just what kind of production will come from the increase will be forecast on Aug. 10 . . . with a production figure of 466 pounds per acre (that's what happened this season) or a little more—and some people think it may be more—a crop of better than 14 million bales would be in the offing . . . what would we do with this cotton? . . . some long range projections by some pretty smart people indicate that none of it will go into the surplus we now have on hand.

The projections offer this food for thought: Consumption in domestic mills next season may reach nine million bales—that's 300,000 bales more than expected consumption during the current season . . . exports may top five million (they are running less than three million this season) as a result of the lower price . . . so, if these projections prove accurate, none of the new crop cotton will add to the surplus, which will be about 8.8 million bales at the end of next week.

Much of the 28 per cent estimated increase in acreage comes from what was the soil bank . . . this program kept about five million cotton acres . . . but despite the increase there is apparently considerable underplanting since the total allotment for the country is 17.3 million acres.

LINDA McDONALD

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McDonald of this city are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda, to William A. Prater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Prater of Mattson. The wedding will be Saturday, Aug. 22, in the First Methodist Church.

Senator Moffett Cites Support Of Tax Bills

The Free Press has received the following statement from Senator George Moffett, who represents the 23rd Senatorial District in the State Senate at Austin, of which Haskell County is a part:

"I frequently receive inquiries concerning my attitude on the various proposals to raise revenue to wipe out the State's deficit and provide necessary funds to operate the State Government for the next two years," stated Senator Moffett.

"I have voted five times for a complete bill which would provide the revenue to meet the State's obligations which are authorized by law. Among other things, I have voted for an increase in the taxation on cigarettes, whiskey, wine and beer. I have voted five times for an increase in the tax on natural gas, including the so-called 'severance beneficiary' natural gas tax.

"Those persons who have served on school boards, church boards, city councils and other public agencies can realize full well how difficult it would be to get a much larger group, such as the 181 members of the Legislature, to agree on a public question, and particularly a tax bill. I have voted for every reasonable proposal that has been placed before us. I hope an agreement can be reached soon. I want to get back home."

Chimney Swift From Alabama Reaches Texas

How far will a chimney swift travel?

Wildlife biologists of the Game and Fish Commission have a record of one traveling all the way from Rome, Ga., to Bonham, Texas, according to the director of Wildlife Restoration.

This bird was banded in Rome, Ga., September 27, 1953, by Gordon L. Hight Jr. The same bird was taken at Bonham, in Fannin County, early this summer. The band number was recorded and the bird was then released. Whether it remains in Texas or moves on may never be known.

"This is an interesting bit of information, as this small bird has been free some six years," the director said. "If everyone would record bands on live birds or return the bands of killed birds, it would be a great deal of assistance in an overall study of wildlife everywhere."

Each year thousands of birds are banded in every state. In Texas the Commission limits its banding to game birds. Ornithological groups, however, do some banding on other birds for their records.

3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush and talus that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pion won't even grow. But it's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction® rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game Commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. # PAINT CREEK ... COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

When do you suppose this monsoon season will be over? I've never seen a rainer July in all my 46 years. Of course it is wonderful how things are growing—cotton, maize, Johnson grass, lambs quarters, careless weeds, Bermuda grass and mesquite trees are just growing their heads off.

The thing is, we need it to stop raining long enough to plow and chop the "bad uns" out of the "good uns." But all this beautiful green stuff is so wonderful that most of can't even complain about the weeds. In fact we begged for rain so much during the drouth, we can't afford to complain. My brother Doc Jones in Rule says maybe the good Lord just filled all the prayers for rain for the six years, and is just now getting around to answering them—all at once.

Seriously though, maybe our poor old tired land got such a good rest during the drouth, that now that it has the rain and warm weather, it is just showing off. Maybe God sends a drouth so we greedy people will have to rest our soil once in awhile.

William Haynes is attending summer school at Hardin-Simmons this second semester.

Charles Griffith of Benjamin has been visiting his cousin, Dan Riley Griffith and the Sammy Griffiths this summer. Charles is a sophomore in Texas Tech.

Jeff Smith, who has been a patient in the Stamford Hospital for two weeks, is at home now. Keith McKeever spent last weekend with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Overton recently entertained her family with Sunday dinner and then a trip to the lake for swimming. Guests were her brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Opitz and children of Weinert, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Opitz and children of Abilene, and her mother Mrs. Laurel Opitz of Haskell.

Mrs. Hildred Patterson and Bailey spent several days week before last in Carlsbad, N. M.

Leon Hokanson, who is working in Abilene, spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Hokanson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hughes returned to Chicago with her brother's family and they will meet their son Ray there. Ray is stationed in Connecticut in the submarine service. They will then go to Beatrice, Neb., to the home of their other son, Bill and his family, and await the arrival of a new grandbaby. Jerry is staying with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Rosa Hughes in Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norman of Rule visited their daughter, Mrs. Chris Hager and Mr. Hager last Sunday. Chris and June are staying on the Hager farm for a few weeks while the Bill Hagers are in Colorado visiting two of their sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Desha Patty and children have had as their guests the past two weeks Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hahn of Chicago. Also, Richard, young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Young of Abilene visited Spencer Patty last week.

Mrs. W. C. Hughes, Mr. Hughes and Jerry had as their guest her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hughes, Jimmy, Stephen, Judy and Sally from Chicago. Our Hughes returned home with them. It is rather a complicated thing to write about the W. C. Hughes family. He is called Kid, and Rueben. And Mrs. Hughes was Ruby Hughes before she married Rueben Hughes, and all the kinfolks on both sides of the family are named Hughes. She is an only girl with several brothers—all named Hughes.

Mrs. George Free is a medical patient in the Stamford Sanitarium.

Wayne Dilbeck who recently underwent surgery at Anderson Hospital in Houston returned home last Wednesday and is doing just fine. He had his palate removed, and now has a temporary plastic one.

Waller and Mike Overton went to Camp Tonkawa Thursday night to assist in the O. A. Calling Out ceremony, and the Brotherhood ceremony. This is the last week of Scout Camp Aquatic camp and O. A. camp.

Dub Sims has returned from the wheat harvest in Kansas. He is working with James R. Mickler and driving a wheat combine. They will leave for the maize harvest in South Texas in a few days.

Nelta Walton returned home from Camp Tyler where she has served as a Counselor for the past six weeks.

Roy Overby is a patient in the Stamford Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery and John Paul have moved to Houston where John will study at the Humble College for a year.

Joy Bergstrom, Amelia Perry and Mrs. Ray Perry attended junior camp at Camp Butman near Merkle last week. Mrs. Perry taught a class and was a cabin mother for one cabin of girls.

Emilee Griffith and Jimmy Griffith have returned from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene where they have been students for the first term of summer school. Jimmy will enter Texas A&M in September and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffith. Emilee, his cousin, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Griffith and is a senior at H-SU next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and sons William, Wallar and Mike spent Sunday in Rule with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lennis W. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan LeFevre and children spent last weekend in Odessa visiting his uncle,

Mr. and Mrs. Earl LeFevre and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Coleman, Dorothy and Phil were Lubbock visitors Wednesday.

Glenda Walton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton and a senior Homemaking major at NTSC attended the National FFA meeting in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. Annie Fischer who is visiting in the home of her son Paul Fischer and his family, was quite ill last week with a high blood pressure attack. She is better and able to be up now.

In special services at the Methodist Church Sunday evening little David Wayne LeFevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan LeFevre was christened by the past, Rev. Oscar Bruce. Taking part in the service were his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buerger, and his paternal aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Apple from Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buerger will leave Saturday for Indiana where they will visit until Monday with two of his brothers and their families. Then they will go on to New York where they will sail for Germany. They plan to be gone until early October.

Mrs. G. W. Roberts and Mrs. Jack Daniels are at the bedside of their mother Mrs. Lillian Banks who underwent surgery at the Haskell Hospital Friday night. She is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Calloway and daughter Judy are in Houston at the Anderson Hospital this week where Judy is being fitted with her new leg. It takes a week or two for them to teach one to walk on an artificial leg, but Judy says it won't take her that long.

Mr. and Mrs. James Raught and family moved back to Campus Row this past weekend from Texas Tech in Lubbock where Mr. Raught has been taking some special science courses this summer. He was the recipient of one of the science scholarships offered by the science teachers of this area.

Curtis Cox found a bobcat that had been run over on the highway in front of his house. He estimated that it weighed about 60 pounds. I guess with farmers planting sorghum alum and leaving it for five years to build their soil, we will have all sorts of wild animals on our roads. This sorghum alum is so thick and such good protection for small wildlife that we should have an abundance of birds and rabbits and rats as well as bobcats, skunks and coyotes. Heaven help our poor chickens! All sorts of new kinds of birds are around this summer. Have you seen any of the blue quail, and those with little tufts on their heads? Gene saw a coxey of the tufted kind several weeks ago.

With all the rains and things growing so fast, we are going to look like the pictures of the South American jungles. Only instead of gorgeous tropical trees and plants, ours will be huge careless weeds and Johnson grass. I'll bet Tarzan could swing from branch to branch on some of the careless weeds now. But haven't the rains been wonderful, and isn't it good, cool sleeping weather these nights? I can't remember a more pleasant summer. Talking about wild life, I swept a little snake out of our front porch room not long ago. The screen doesn't fit tight, and he was about 12 inches long and about as big as a pencil, so he crawled in. I found him sticking his tongue out at me from under a divan. I've tried to be nice to the hideous little things ever since Gene told me they eat more mice than a cat. So I just swept him out the door, even if it will be ages before he'll be big enough to eat a mouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Isbell and children from Haskell spent Sunday in Graham with Ben Isbell's mother, Mrs. Emma Isbell. It was her 86th birthday.

That the defendant, S. E. Lanier, has made default in the payment of such note and that as of April 1st, 1959, said defendant was indebted to plaintiff in the amount of $4,142.80 unpaid, and that such note provides for ten per cent (10%) attorney's fees, and that such lien is a first, prior and superior lien on the above described property.

That the other defendants than S. E. Lanier and wife, Kathryn Lanier, are asserting some right, title, lien or claim against the above described property, which titles, claims, liens and rights so asserted by defendants, if any exists, are wholly secondary and inferior in every respect to the lien held by plaintiff.

Plaintiff prays for the judgment for its unpaid balance on note, interest, attorney's fees, costs of court, and for foreclosure of such lien as a first, prior and superior lien on such property.

Second 'Mystery Farm' Identified As Noah Lane Place Near Haskell

The "Mystery Farm" pictured in last week's Free Press, second in a series of area farms to be published in alternate issues of this newspaper, was identified by the owner, Noah Lane, as the 210-acre improved farm one and one-half miles southeast of town known as the Noah Lane home place.

Mr. Lane, owner of the farm, recognized the picture as his place and came to The Free Press office to receive a free photograph of the farm, suitable for framing.

The farm, one of the most modernly improved in this area, has been owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Lane and their sons for the past 13 years.

Improvements include a large modern residence of brick veneer, and a smaller brick residence adjoin the Lane home.

About 130 acres of the farm is in cultivation, principally in cotton and feed, with a small amount of grain. In addition to farm crops, Mr. Lane is a well known stockraiser and Hereford breeder and has some of the outstanding registered Herefords in this area.

The entire farm is underlaid with an abundance of good water at a shallow depth and there are many small springs on the tract. Two large surface tanks on the farm are fed by springs, providing a never-failing supply of water for livestock and some irrigation on a small scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane came to Haskell County in 1938 from Munday, and he soon became one of this section's leading farmers. They built their present home 13 years ago and have lived there since.

In addition to the home place, Mr. and Mrs. Lane have other extensive farm and ranch holdings southeast of town on which some oil production has been developed in recent years.

At home with his parents for the summer, and assisting in the farming and stockraising operations, is Kenneth Lane, the couple's youngest son. He is a student in Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, where he will be a senior next term, majoring in geology.
