A former Knox City preacher, Robert L. Dodson, was adjudged of unsound mind by a jury in 39th District Court last Thursday, and was ordered committed to a State institution. The sanity hearing was the outgrowth of a felony case pending in District Court against the 39-year-old man, in which he is charged with fondling. The alleged incident occurred in November, 1958, and involved the man's daughter, Dodson was subsequently indicted. Complaint alleging that Dodson is of unsound mind at the present time was signed by his wife, Mrs. Oleta Dodson of Fort Worth, where the family has been living in recent months.

Final Rites For C. L. Raughton Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Clarence L. Raughton, 59, well known farmer of the Rockdale community, were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday at Lindsay Chapel Church of Christ, with Milton Copeland, minister, officiating. Mr. Raughton was assisted by Minister Paul Forshey, also of Abilene. Mr. Raughton, resident of the Rockdale community since 1930, died at 12:03 a. m. Monday at the Stamford Sanitarium. He had been in ill health for the past few years, and had been a patient in the hospital for several days.

Principal testimony in the brief sanity hearing was by Mrs. Dodson and the Rev. Raymond Marks, a Fort Worth minister. Defense counsel was the law firm of Ratliff & Ratliff of this city. State Prosecutor Royce Adkins did not contest the hearing. He said that the felony indictment was still pending against Dodson, who will be subject to prosecution should he be released as sane at any time within the near future. Dodson was carried to the State Hospital at Wichita Falls Thursday by Constable Ace Davis. Jury in the sanity hearing was composed of Les Medford, Charlie Campbell, Bill Gattis, Garland Orr, Bill Cochran, Jess Drinnon, Anderson Landess, T. P. Perdue, Corbet Lytle, Troy Ash, Johnnie Mullins, and Howard Perry, who served as foreman.

County Farmers Approve Wheat Restrictions

As in the past, Haskell County wheat producers who took time out to vote in the wheat referendum last Thursday, were overwhelmingly in favor of planting and marketing restrictions for the 1960 crop. Only 139 ballots were cast, 126 in favor and 13 against. In the nation, reports indicated that more than two-thirds of the wheat producers voted for the restrictions, with marketing quotas to remain in effect as the result. This means that farmers complying with their acreage allotments will be able to market their entire crop without penalty and will have a price support of 75 per cent of parity.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. L. E. Simpson of Stamford; two sons, James M. of Paint Creek and Rudy of Lueders; one sister, Mrs. Joe Dillard of Abilene; six brothers, Claud, Steve, and F. R., all of Abilene, C. G. (Doc) of Lueders, Odis of Cross Plains, and Oris of San Bernardino, Calif.; and four grandchildren. Pallbearers were Roy Medford, Paul Fischer, Gene Overton, Frank Sims, Willie Lee Medford, and Pat Morrison.

Petitions Given Court Asking Bond Election

Petitions were presented to the Commissioners Court asking that an $80,000 hospital bond election be called in Haskell County at the earliest date possible, at the regular court meeting Tuesday, July 28.

Meeting with the court and presenting the petitions was a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, composed of President Jim Byrd, Mrs. Roy Johnson, manager, and Tom Barfield, a C. of C. director.

Nine copies of the petition, which had been circulated in all sections of county, bore the names of 545 signers. This is approximately three times the minimum number required to make calling of the election mandatory. The petitions, identical in wording, asked that a county-wide election be ordered to vote on a proposal to issue bonds in the amount of $80,000, to be used for enlargement and additional equipment at the Haskell County Hospital and for other necessary permanent improvements. The bonds would bear interest at a rate not to exceed 4 1/2 per cent, and mature in a period of not more than 22 years. Voters would also ballot on whether or not a tax shall be levied on all taxable property in the county to retire the bonds. Eligible to vote in the election will be all resident qualified property tax-paying voters. Commissioners Court, in accepting the petitions, explained that the law requires that all names must be checked against tax rolls, to determine the status of signers as qualified tax-paying voters. This can be done in plenty of time for the Court to issue an order for the election at the regular August term, on Monday Aug. 10, the group of petitioners was assured.

Fly-In Is Planned As Dedication For Airstrip

Cliff B. Green of Austin, executive director of the Texas Aeronautics Commission, was in Haskell Monday afternoon and conferred briefly with city officials and C. of C. representatives concerning plans for a fly-in celebration and dedication of Haskell's new airstrip. Mr. Green was accompanied by Dr. F. C. Jonsah, space consultant with Chance-Vought Aircraft, Dallas, and Mrs. Louise Caldwell, secretary in TAC headquarters in Austin. The group was returning from Canyon where they had taken part in an Aviation Education Workshop held at West Texas State College. They were traveling in a plane piloted by Mr. Green, and were met at the local airstrip by Mayor Ira Hester, C. of C. President Jim Byrd and other chamber of commerce officials. Plans for the forthcoming fly-in program were discussed at a coffee session held at the Highway Drive Inn. The event has been tentatively scheduled for Labor Day, Sept. 7, pending approval of Chamber of Commerce directors and city officials. Mr. Green told local sponsors that between 80 and 100 planes could be expected to attend the program, if weather conditions are favorable.

Health Problems Speaker Topics At Lions Club

Some local problems related to public health were discussed by Dr. T. W. Williams in a talk at the regular meeting and luncheon of the Lions Club Tuesday at noon in the Highway Drive In Cafe. A specific health problem, the control of tuberculosis, was discussed by Dr. R. A. Middleton, also a speaker on the day's program, and a guest at the club luncheon. Other guests were W. C. Gattis of Slaton, Texas, O. F. Temple of Seymour, and Mike Matar of Denver, Colo. Lion Bailey Toliver, program chairman, introduced the speakers. Dr. Williams, who is County Health Officer, outlined the administration of public health affairs. City and county health officers handle problems at the local level, under the supervision of a state health officer, he explained. Most problems at the local level concern elimination of minor health hazards and nuisance violations, and the imposing and enforcement of quarantine regulations when necessary, the county health officer stated. He stressed that it was the duty of every citizen to report any unsanitary condition or contagious disease to the proper health authority. Dr. Middleton, terming TB the No. 1 Killer among diseases in the United States which can be cured, pointed out that one of every four deaths in the Philippines was caused by TB. He stated that the disease could be wiped out in one generation if the country had compulsory laws for controlling the disease.

Build Bridges Of Friendship, Rotarians Told

King, who urged Rotarians to "Build bridges of friendship." New Rotarian is Bill Barnett, First Presbyterian Church minister, and visitors were Bernard Bryant and J. R. McDaniel of Stamford and Bill Chambers, member of the Rochester High School faculty. Chambers also led Rotarians in a sing song, with Mrs. Henry Withers as pianist. Program chairman Henry Withers introduced Robt. R. King, newly elected district governor. He presented a number of colored slides made at Lake Placid, N. Y., and other points including historic buildings in Williamsburg, Va. which he and his family visited recently. His talk which followed was based on the theme of Rotary International for the current year, "Building Bridges of Friendship." The speaker gave an outline of Rotary from a meager beginning to its present rank as a vital force in international fellowship and friendship. Citing the fact that one-half the peoples of the world go hungry, he declared this was a challenge to the people of the free world in meeting this need. "Rotary International provides an opportunity to create fellowship by building bridges of friendship," he told his hearers. Club President Hooper Wilkinson called attention to the Rotary Information Institute to be held in Graham Sept. 15, and urged club officers to make plans to attend.

Sampson, Man Who Liked Publicity, Out of Circulation "For a Stretch"

Sampson got a free ride back to Haskell from Houston, when he was arraigned before the Judge Friday to hear the bad news that he was about to begin serving a five-year sentence. Friday afternoon Sampson was off on another free ride, this time to Huntsville in custody of State Ranger Byron Curran of Vernon. The State officer took the prisoner down as a favor to Sheriff Pennington, whose department is short-handed at present. Sampson now will be out of circulation for a while, and he'll miss the publicity. He's not worrying too much—he figures there'll be a story in the paper when he finishes his "stretch."

The football practices are set by the University Interscholastic League, the director explained.

Sampson, Man Who Liked Publicity, Out of Circulation "For a Stretch"

Sampson Hawkins Jr., Negro handyman and self-styled preacher who has been at liberty under a 5-year probation sentence since November, 1957, will be out of circulation for a while. He was checked in at the state prison at Huntsville last weekend after probation had been revoked. Sampson was a man who liked publicity, and he always made it a point to let the newspaper know about the major events in his career—except when he was in trouble with the law. He was proud of the fact that the newspaper printed the story when he got married. There was more publicity when he lost his thumb in an encounter with a power saw. Sampson was in the news again when he shot and killed what he thought was a young tiger near the lake, huffed it to town and learned it was only a bobcat. Then Sampson's house caught fire while the family was away from home, to rate another blurb of publicity. But he was proudest of the play given him when he became a preacher. The newspaper even published his picture, a first step toward fame. Then came a few little mis-steps frowned on by the law, but Sampson managed to straighten things out and remain among those free to come and go. Officers knew and liked Sampson. They described him as having a promising future. He'd promise anything and everything when in a tough spot with the law. But his luck ran out when the law caught Sampson red-handed, stealing from a wrecking yard, and the jury gave him five years. His promise to walk the straight and narrow impressed the jury, however, and they recommended probation. Sampson therewith moved to greener pastures, winding up in the Houston area. He was doing all right until he began suffering a lapse of memory occasionally. He completely forgot his responsibility in providing for two of his children left in Haskell. A manner of re-landers failed to impress Sampson that his young ones needed his help, so the matter was referred to the Court.

Building Code Provisions Should Be Enforced

A recent decision of the City Council to enforce provisions of the Building Code regarding the securing of a building permit on all construction, repair or remodeling projects is to be commended.

The Building Code has been on the city ordinance book for well over two decades, having been adopted if we remember correctly, during the administration of the late Mayor Hardy Grissom.

The ordinance was enforced for a number of years, then gradual laxity on the part of City officials resulted in the ordinance being "forgotten," like so many other city ordinances are.

No charge or fee is made for a building permit, so there should be no objection on the part of builders or contractors if the requirement is enforced impartially.

On the beneficial side, the building permit is a valuable asset in keeping tax rolls current, and as an index to the growth of the community. Building permits also provide information needed by fire insurance companies in determining equitable rates for our town.

Since it would be hard to find any reasonable objections to the building permit ordinance, we hope that the Council will continue its enforcement, now that a start has been made.

Where Doctors are Discouraged

A few months ago Harper's Magazine published an article on Britain's socialized medicine system. The author had much praise for it, and cited the fact that when he suffered a chipped elbow he was given free care.

This brought a letter from an American doctor, which Harper's published in its July issue. This doctor found that statements in the preceding article "sound like the ecstasies of a confirmed free-loader who has discovered a saloon which still offers the old-time free lunch."

"50 patients before lunch; 50 patients after lunch; 20 or 30 house calls daily. Should we wonder that the English doctor is discouraged and unable to keep up with the march of medicine?"

Deterioration of standards and services is always a result of socialism—socialized medicine included. It could happen here, just as it has happened in England. And anyone who thinks that the socialized medicine issue is dead so far as the U. S. is concerned had better think again.

Solon Would Alter Supreme Court

(The Houston Chronicle)

From United States Rep. Overton Brooks of Shreveport has come the suggestion that the present Supreme Court be abolished and a new tribunal of 17 members composed of experienced judges, each to serve only for three years, be established.

More important than the integration decision of the Supreme Court has been its rulings on matters relating to internal security and in interpretation of enactments of Congress.

To many sober citizens, the high court has appeared to be abrogating to itself the legislative right to make law whereas its true function is to interpret the law. Rep. Brooks' proposal may get nowhere but it will serve to focus public attention on the functioning of the court and to make the public more observant of the weight and impact of its decisions.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS

By A. PATE

Recently we mentioned an incident in which Tax Man Lee Dennett got the worst end of a prank played on typists who do work in the county clerk's office occasionally.

Now we chronicle another incident in which we're on Lee's side. Dennett's company has a contract to evaluate all real estate in Haskell County. A formula used in determining value of a given piece of property requires measuring of residential or other buildings.

Recently, Lee and Pat Lewis, his helper, were checking a home here. The couple who own the house were at home, and greeted them courteously. Then as they started measuring, the woman lit in and gave them "a piece of her mind." Thinking she was joking, they went on about their work. When the lady continued remonstrating they realized she was in earnest, and the embarrassed men gave up their work of measuring.

"I was afraid she might start throwing rocks," one of the tax men said. "So we got away from there immediately."

Haskell's efficient Chamber of Commerce manager, Mrs. Roy Johnson, is recognized as a person who has plenty of "get up and go" in getting things done.

Now, her friends are wondering if she has decided to extend her enterprising efforts to other than civic fields, after an incident last week.

QUESTION

Is it possible for a person to feel that he is right in religion and yet be wrong? Acts 26:9-11.

It seems she had told a service station operator to call and pick up her car for a wash and grease job. He was to have left his car for her use, and did.

Came noon, and Mrs. Johnson blithely steps into a car parked near the C. of C. office and takes off.

Soon, the owner misses the car and calls the sheriff. Recognizing the station operator's car still parked near where the "stolen" car was taken, the Sheriff calls the station man, thinking he might have taken the other car by mistake.

"Nope, left it there for Mrs. Johnson to use," he replied, and the case was solved. She'd taken the wrong car.

Friends say that since then, the C. of C. manager never gets into her car until after she has checked the license plates front and back and otherwise thoroughly identified the vehicle as her own.

We've seen a lot of capers cut by local hot-rodders in recent years, but for sheer dare-devil driving, an experience we had more than 20 years ago is vividly recalled as one that today's hot-rodders would be hard pressed to duplicate.

And believe it not the driver was none other than District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, deservedly recognized as a person of cautious, careful judgment and the event to which we refer is no reflection on his ability as a prudent driver.

This incident occurred around 1938, when Judge Chapman was serving as County Attorney.

About dusk one evening, local officers were notified that the body of an infant had been found near O'Brien, and foul play was suspected.

Members of the sheriff's department took off in one car, and we accompanied the county attorney in his car.

The gruesome find was un-nerving, made more so by the fact that officers waited for a considerable time for the arrival of a physician and an ambulance. Then followed an autopsy, conducted by aid of flashlights and what moonlight there was. Finally, to the relief of a squeamish reporter, the ordeal was over and the group adjourned to a store in O'Brien where the proprietor had prepared coffee for the officers.

The group had been there only a few minutes, when a telephone call for the sheriff advised there had been a murder or suicide at a farmhouse north of Haskell, in the Weinert area.

We were off again, the sheriff's car in the lead, trailed by the county attorney and a nervous reporter.

The distance of about 12 miles was over winding, dusty, dirt roads. The sheriff, thoroughly familiar with every road and cow trail in that section, whizzed along at 50 and 60 miles an hour, leaving a wake of boiling, blinding dust. Although he couldn't see 20 feet ahead, the game and nervy county attorney stayed close behind, whipping around sharp turns on two wheels and roaring ahead through the dust as if he was on a freeway.

Finally arriving at our destination, less than 200 yards behind the officer's car, the county attorney was cool as a cucumber, while it took the reporter several minutes to pull himself together after the harrowing ride.

The second case of the night was soon checked out as suicide, and a more leisurely trek back to Haskell gave a reporter time to get his notes in something like orderly shape.

Change in the election laws whereby the primary is held in May will likely result in some candidates making their campaigns know before the traditional Jan. 1 opening date.

Locally talk is already being heard of several potential candidates for precinct and county offices to be filled next year. All of this talk can be considered "feelers" at the Gal Two...People, Places... present time, but does indicate that a sizeable field of candidates will be in the running next year.

Speaking of politics recalls the story of a former well-known Haskell County office-holder who was re-elected year after year until his voluntary retirement.

He was a born politician, who couldn't be hemmed up on any question to the point of making a definite commitment.

Two of his friends, discussing this trait one day, made a wager. One declared he could get a definite answer to a question he would ask the politician.

When the politician, we'll call Joe, came along, the man who made the wager asked: "Joe, when you die, do you go to Heaven or Hades?"

The shrewd politician, after studying a moment, answered: "Follows. I just wouldn't want to say. I feel like I've got some mighty good friends in both places."

With the opening of school only a month away, doubtless many parents will welcome the school schedule as a means of keeping youngsters busy instead of running footloose most of the day.

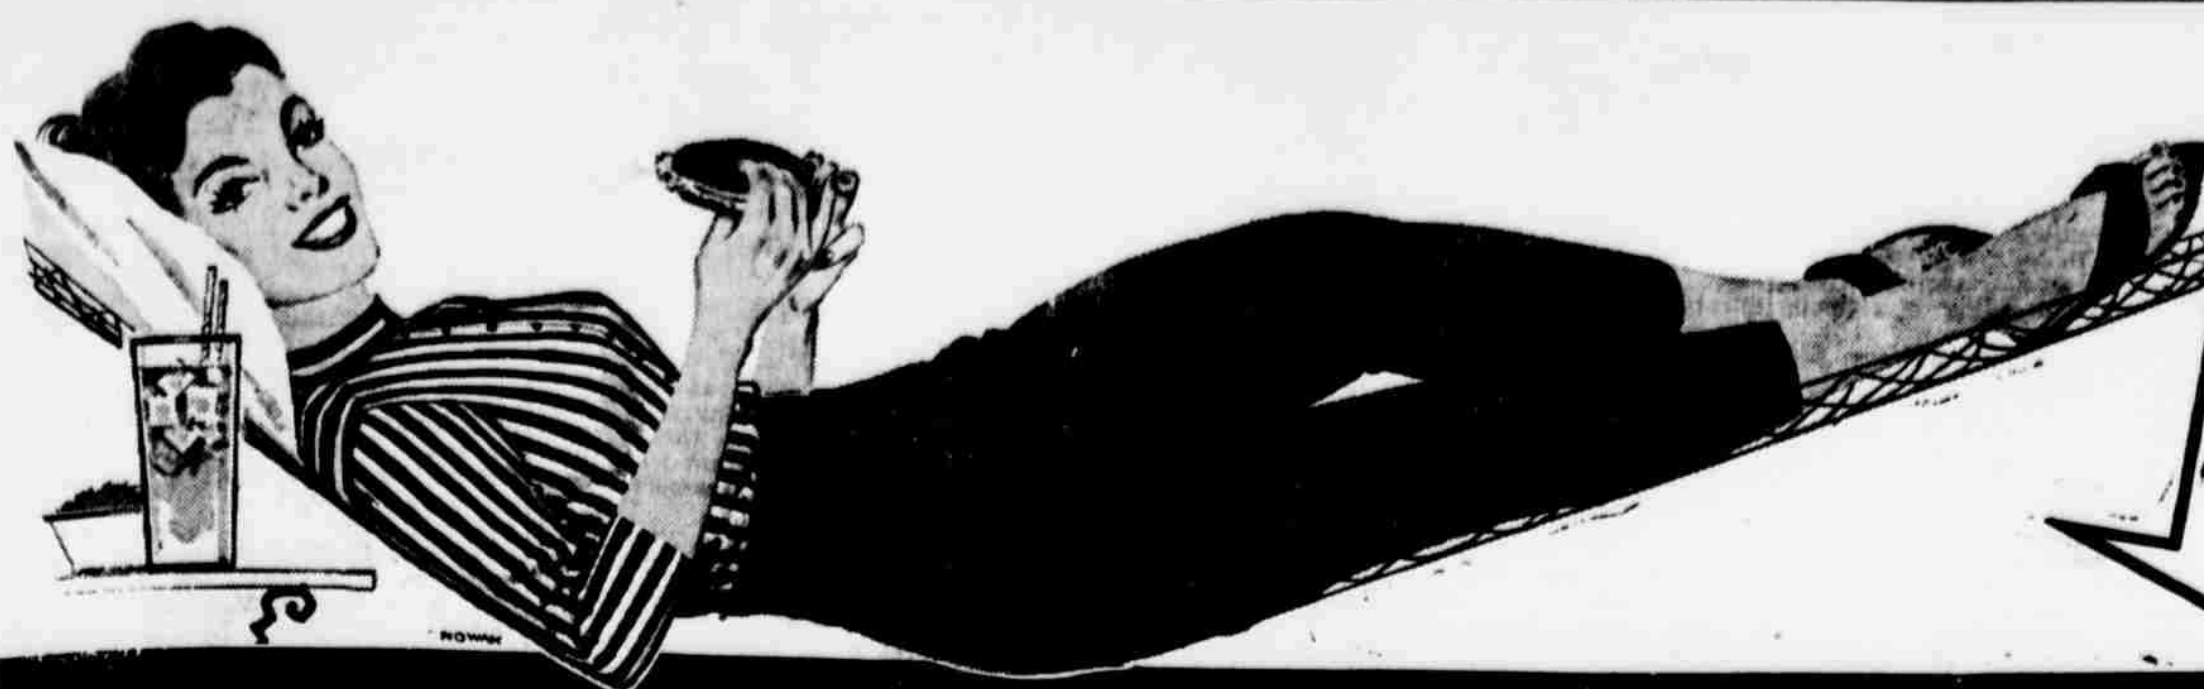

Mischievous youngsters are never at loss in finding something to occupy their time, and if they hit on something that annoys their elders they'll give the prank a good workout. In recent days, a group of youngsters evolved a plan of "ganging up" and calling the same number in the telephone directory at intervals of one or two minutes. As soon as the called party answered, the prankster would hang up. Then another lad would call the same number and repeat the procedure. Unknown to the youngsters however, is the fact that their names are being learned and will be reported to proper channels if the practice is continued.

FALLOUT SHELTERS are the best way for rural Americans to protect themselves from a massive nuclear attack which could unleash dangerous radioactive fallout throughout the country. Some of the shelters recommended by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization are not as elaborate as this one, which includes an auxiliary generator and an electric air filtering and ventilating system. However, all recommended shelters should include the basic features shown here—a place to sleep; food, water and medical supplies, and at least eight inches of concrete or an equal weight of other materials for shielding the shelter against fallout. Free designs may be obtained by writing to OCDM Rural Civil Defense, Battle Creek, Mich. (OCDM Photo)

New Water Safety Act Becomes Law Aug. 1; Affects Many Boat Owners

BY J. O. MUSICK
General Manager
Texas Safety Association, Inc.

The Water Safety Act, which goes into effect Aug. 1, 1959, will affect literally hundreds of thousands of Texans, because it places specific responsibilities on boat owners, operators, skiers, law enforcement officers and courts.

Furthermore, inquiries received in the Texas Safety Association's headquarters office, Austin, indicate that only a few Texans have any real knowledge of what the Act is about or how it will influence their lives. Thus, this series of articles will attempt to highlight the principal provisions of the Act to an extent that will help water sport enthusiasts avoid running afoul of the new law.

The Texas Highway Department will administer the Act. Enforcement will be made by all duly authorized peace officers.

Classifications

Motorboats subject to the provisions of the Act have been divided into four classes:

Class A. Less than 16 feet in length.

Class 1. 16 feet or over less than 26 feet in length.

Class 2. 26 feet or over and less than 40 feet in length.

Class 3. 40 feet and over.

Lighting

Any kind of self-propelled boat, when underway between sunset and sunrise must use at least one bright light and exhibit it so as to avoid a collision.

Motorboats of Class 1 must use two lights: A white light aft to show all around the horizon and a combined lantern in the front (lower than the aft light) that will show a green light to the starboard (right) and a red light to the port (left).

Classes 2 and 3 must carry a bright white light in front of the boat, as near the stem as practicable, that will show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass and fixed to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel. Also, a bright white light aft to show all around the horizon (higher than forward white light.) Port and starboard lights must be fitted with an inboard screen that will prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Motorboats of Classes A and 1, when propelled by sail alone, must carry the combined lantern, but not the white light aft. Motorboats of Classes 2 and 3, when propelled by sail alone, must carry colored side lights, but not the white lights. Motorboats of all classes must

Stamford, Sweetwater Backs Named On Texas Squad for Oil Bowl Game

Wichita Falls — Stamford's great halfback, Donald Davis, and Sweetwater's rampaging fullback, James Parker, were named Saturday to the Texas Oil Bowl squad.

Both were all-state selections and both were among Texas' finest schoolboy stars last season. Parker was a tremendous threat on a strong Mustang team that won the AAA-3 title and lost to eventual state champion Breckenridge, 16-14, in bi-district play in a memorable clash.

He was tabbed as one of the hardest plunging fullbacks in recent years in schoolboy ranks. Parker signed a letter of intent to attend Texas Christian University and later said he would attend the University of Oklahoma. Recently he indicated he would enroll at Abilene Christian College.

Ideally built for a fullback, Parker is 6-1 and 195 pounds. He was coached by Elwood Turner who will be the head North coach in the Texas Coaches School all-star game at Fort Worth Aug. 7. Davis, a brother of McMurry's Little All-America, Ernie Davis, scored 11 touchdowns in last year's playoffs as the Stamford Bulldogs rolled on to another state AA title, whipping Angleton 23-7, in the championship game. He is 6 feet and 180 pounds.

Davis gained more than 2,000 yards last year. Like Parker, he is primarily a dazzling runner. Davis is bound for the University of Houston. His coach, Larry Wartes, guided his team to the state title in his first year at the helm.

Parker and Davis add a strong double punch to the Texas attack in the 22nd Oil Bowl game to be played Aug. 21 in Midwestern University Stadium.

Tickets are on sale at Kemp Hotel lobby, Wichita Falls. Reservations may be made by calling 723-4551, Wichita Falls.

The exercise, which preceded the San Francisco visit involved fast-moving aggressive attack carrier teams which struck at simulated mainland targets as naval air patrol squadrons and submarines held the defensive role.

Vegetables Head Plentiful Foods List for August

What's plentiful in Texas food stores this August? Fresh fruits and summer vegetables dominate the list of more than a dozen plentiful foods, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, after making a survey of stocks immediately available to Texas and other southwest home-makers.

Pears and plums rate the feature spot because shipments will be rolling from the largest pear crop since 1949 and from a plum crop about 70 per cent larger than last year.

Supplies of peaches, lemons and limes are expected to run especially heavy, too.

Only meat to make the U. S. Department of Agriculture's August plentiful foods is turkey. About 65,000,000 pounds are moving from national cold storage stocks.

Disability Pay No Offset To Social Security

Disabled workers who have not applied for social security disability benefits because they are receiving disability payments from another Federal agency, or under a State Workmen's Compensation program, should get in touch with their local social security office without delay.

According to R. R. Tuley Jr., manager of the Abilene social security district office, many such workers can now get social security disability benefits. Moreover, benefits can go back as far as August 1958, if application is filed before September 7, 1959.

Under the law in effect prior to August 1958, a worker's social security disability payment was reduced by the amount of any other disability benefit he received under a State Workmen's Compensation program, or from another Federal agency. In a number of cases this meant that no social security payment could be made. As a result, many workers who would not have benefitted by the "disability freeze" did not file a claim. These workers should check with their local social security office not later than August 31, 1959, Tuley emphasized today.

A representative of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration will again be in Haskell on the morning of Aug. 6 and 20 at the Chamber of Commerce. He will be glad to discuss your social security questions with you.

Exhibit Booths Being Rented At West Texas Fair

Commercial exhibit space is now being contracted for the West Texas Fair in Abilene, E. L. Turner, chairman of the Exhibits Committee has announced.

Dates for this year's Fair are Sept. 12 to 19.

Exhibit booths will be rented on a first-come, first-served basis with 1958 exhibitors given priority for the space they had last year.

New velvet backdrops and sidropes, and utilities for booths will be provided as well as an identification sign to each exhibitor. Minimum space available is 10x10 feet with the rental being $62.50.

The biggest animal in the world, the blue whale, feeds solely on small shrimp that never grow more than two inches long.

How To Plan Your Kitchen

Are you planning a new kitchen? If you are, here are a few suggestions that can help you arrange a convenient and pleasant kitchen work center for your home.

Begin by making a scale outline of the room on a piece of graph paper. Use a simple scale, such as 1/2 or 3/4 inch equal to 1 ft. Be as accurate as possible, making your scale drawing conform closely to the wall dimensions. Indicate all doors and windows.

Next, make scale cut-outs of all appliances, cabinets, counters and furniture you want in your new kitchen. Now you are ready to arrange the cut-outs according to a plan based on the most efficient use of the available space.

There are four basic plans for kitchen arrangement:

1. Single wall line-up
2. Parallel walls
3. L-shape
4. U-shape

If your kitchen area is small, it's best to use the single or parallel wall plans. The L and U-shaped plans are real step savers in larger kitchens.

Don't be satisfied with your first arrangement. Try various plans until you find the one most suitable for you and your family. This practical method of kitchen planning prevents mistakes and disappointment later on—and it's lots of fun.

Successful kitchen planning includes wise selection of work-saving appliances. If your home is located in suburban, town or rural areas, you can have the most modern gas appliances with liquefied petroleum gas service. LP-Gas bulk tanks and cylinders provide a dependable and economical source of fuel for millions of new and remodeled homes beyond city gas mains.

Rangeland Grasses Improved By Proper Management

The rains which commenced in the late spring and have continued throughout the summer have improved much of our grassland from poor to a fair condition. This situation seems to prevail throughout the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation districts in Haskell County, according to Hinds McGowan Jr., local SCS technician.

In recent surveys made on rangelands, traces of sideoats grama, Arizona cottontop and blue grama have been observed where only a year ago there were none of these grasses. Buffalo and curly mesquite grass have made a tremendous comeback on most all range sites. This is especially true on pastures which had a heavy growth of annual weeds and grasses such as broomweed, rescue grass, and sand dropped a year ago. Bottom land and roughbreaks range sites have made the greatest recovery of all rangeland areas in growth of more desirable grasses.

Even though we have made great progress on recovery of our grassland we still have a long way to go to achieve what is necessary to have an economically sound grazing program. There are still a number of pastures and ranges in the two districts which need improvement. Just because our grass shows signs of good recovery doesn't mean heavier stocking is advisable. This is strictly to the contrary, since the range may already be stocked to the extreme. More profits can be made by grazing according to what the grassland is capable of supporting, thereby putting pounds of beef on livestock.

Proper use of rangeland is necessary to stay in the livestock business. Grass must retain 50 per cent of its annual growth if it survives. This portion of the plant is needed to manufacture its food. With continued over use of our better grasses they will be replaced by undesirable grasses with less nutritional value.

The future of our children and nation depends upon the wisdom we excel today in the use of our agricultural and rangeland. In very few endeavors can we contradict the old saying "You can't have your cake and eat it, too." The grazing of our perennial grasses is one of the rare exceptions to this rule. Many of our ranchers, perhaps the majority of them, fail to recognize the possibilities in modifying their rule to their benefit. Let us say that our "cake" is in this instance our grass. By properly stocking our grassland so as to remove by grazing no more than 50 per cent of the annual growth, the grass plant continues to grow throughout the entire growing season, putting down its roots deeper in to the life-giving soil, growing more grass. You can't have all your cake and eat all of it, but you can dine royally and still keep plenty for a droughty day. And the beauty of it is, in the long run you will come out with more than you started with.

Several farmers and ranchers in this area, (California

Creek and Wichita carrying out good proper utilization of land, namely Leland Rule, Calvin Frye, Couch, Brooks, E. L. Holt of Haskell.

If you desire further information concerning the utilization of your grass, contact any of your local technicians at the R. office.

Lower Hog Prices In Prospect Due To Increase In Production

By F. W. Martin, County Agent

In view of prospective supplies, prices of hogs in the winter of 1959 and early 1960 can be expected to be lower than a year earlier. Production started upward last year, and may continue upward this fall and well into 1960. For this reason there is little room for optimism for hog prices in 1960.

According to the June Pig Crop report released by the Agricultural Marketing Service, the 1959 spring pig crop totaled nearly 60 million head. This is 12 per cent more than was produced in the spring of 1958 and is the largest spring pig crop since 1951. This means that we are going to have more hogs on the market in the fall of 1959. If producers' fall farrowing intentions materialize, the 1959 fall pig crop will also be large and will probably be exceeded by the fall pig crop of 1943. On June 15, 1958, the farmers of Texas received an average price of $20.70 per 100 pounds compared to $15.30 on June 15, 1959. This year's prices are expected to remain considerably below those for last year.

This outlook information does not warrant the dispersing of commercial breeding herds as has been done in the past by Texas producers facing similar price situations. It does mean that Texas hog producers should re-examine their individual hog production program for the possibility of improving the efficiency of their operation. The inefficient hog producer will be the one hardest hit as prices decline.

Producers should consider these points: Make sure that they can either produce or obtain the needed grain at reasonable prices, in view of the price outlook; sell market hogs at lighter weights (around 200 pounds as soon as they reach market top); cull down to the most productive sows and gilts; retain sufficient numbers to make most efficient use of equipment and labor; consider selling heavy sows and keep young gilts; and hog producers should examine their feeding program to be certain that the largest possible number of pigs per litter are being raised and the most efficient feed lot gains.

Bond Sales In County $158,997 Through June

J. M. Crawford, chairman of Haskell County's Saving Bond Committee, reports that June bond sales in Texas were 11.4 per cent greater than May sales.

In June, Haskell County people bought savings bonds in the amount of $17,812, while sales in the county totaled $158,997 for the first half of 1959. This represents 49.5 per cent of the year's goal for the county.

Sales in Texas for the first half of 1959 were $81,960,465 or 44.9 per cent of the year's goal of $182.5 million.
