GAINES COUNTY RECEIVES BOY'S RANCH AWARD

CHARLES DAVIDSON JR. AWARD

The Charles Davidson Jr. Award was presented to Gaines County Monday, June 19th, in ceremonies at the Courthouse. In memory of Charles Davidson Jr., the award is symbolic of a West Texas family interested in the development of our area and our youth. This award is given anonymously and is presented to the county who has given the most money per capita, per population. The money given is for the operation of the West Texas Boys Ranch. Last year the award was given to Irion County and this year the presentation was made to Gaines County.

The award was presented at the annual Board Meeting. Judge Charles Lawrence accepted the presentation. The trophy is enclosed in a special case which was made by the boys at West Texas Boys Ranch in their vocational shop. It will be placed in the Gaines County Courthouse. West Texas Boys Ranch is near San Angelo.

Because someone cared and had concern for boys who need love and care, Gaines County has been singled out to receive this outstanding trophy.

OF INTEREST TO AREA FARMERS; SOYBEANS
by CALVIN HOLCOMB, COUNTY AGENT

Soybeans are the fourth largest use of crop land acreage in the South Plains. Approximately 46,000 acres are grown in this area. Yields range from 20 to 65 bushels per acre. The 1966 national average loan price was $2.50 per bushel, but the market price exceeds this by 30 cents per bushel according to Calvin Holcomb, County Agent.

Oil contents of soybeans varies inversely with protein content. Over 80% of the soybean oil consumed domestically is used for food purposes (shortening, margarine, cooking and salad oils and other edibles). Non-food uses include paint and varnish, resins and plastics, linoleum and oil cloth. More than 553,000 tons of soybean oil have been exported from the United States annually since 1961. Domestic consumption of soybean cake and meal has annually exceeded 9 million tons since 1961. Exports have exceeded 1 million tons during this same period.

Where adequate water resources are available, the County Agent says, soybean acreage can increase, particularly with the continued trend of increased quantities being exported. This increased demand should create higher prices for soybeans which will provide the basis for greater production incentives, as long as cost of production is consistent with yield expectations.

Cotton acreage which has been "hailed-out" in mid-to-late June is sometimes planted to soybeans. This alternative accounts for a portion of the soybean acreage each year and offers a possibility for increased income under certain circumstances. For example, 26 bushels of soybeans per acre would be equivalent to $30 net operating returns per acre from cotton planted later than June 21.

The County Agent says the following practices will

Q & A

(Q) Do you know anything about a peice of sculpture called "Salome" and could you explain it?

(A) Robert Laurents, carved this peice of sculpture from alabaster in 1944. It measured about seventeen inches in height. It shows Salome with the head of John the Baptist in her lap as she embraces the head with tender care. The carving is said to be the artist's finest work.

John the Baptist was not the only man to loose his head to a beautiful woman. Happily, in most cases it is only a figure of speech. But for Salome, it was the real thing, gruesome and tragic.

In spite of its grisly overtones, Salome, with the head of John the Baptist has been the dual subject of innumerable renderings by painters and sculptors since the Renaissance. Where paint and color are concerned, the results have often been distasteful; but for some strange reason, when the subject has been carved in stone, or its modeling cast in bronze, the effect has been more art than life, more a composition of form than a concentration on death.

This sculpture is now on exhibit at the National Museum of Arts.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baker and JoAnn returned last week from a two-week vacation in East Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Somers left Saturday morning to go to Ft. Polk, Louisiana to visit with their daughter, 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Danny Palmer. Their son, Ronnie was already there and will return with them in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Golden, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Norton, Nila, Dee, Gay Foote, and Joannie Scasta went to Midland Sunday to greet Connie Golden home from a visit with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Vaughn and her nephew Danny in Houston.

PLAN REUNION

The Bennett-Coble reunion will be held in the Community Building Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25. All friends are invited to come by for a visit.

ANIMALS

by SARA JANE SMITH*

Once there was a lot of animals that were real mean to each other. They were chasing each other all the time. The donkey chased the dog, the dog chased the cat, the cat chased the duck, the duck chased the squirrel, the squirrel chased the rabbit, the rabbit chased the rat, the rat chased the mouse, the mouse chased the aunt, and the aunt just ran. One day they all came good friends.

Direct Distance Dialing

When Direct Distance Dialing came to Seminole in the early hours of June 18, it was after many months of planning and preparation by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Eva Dean King was the operator on duty when the cut over was made. Mr. Dick Phelps was in Midland to see that the procedure took place as scheduled. Mr. Phelps is the district traffic Superintendent over the Midland Division.

In commenting on the local traffic department, Mr. Phelps had high praise for the Seminole operators for the efficient and effective manner in which they performed their duties. Although the girls had known for some time that the local office would be closed, they still carried on their duties in a most commendable way.

Three of the local operators transferred to other offices.

IN CASE OF

A TORNADO

When there is no time to escape a tornado, lie flat in a deep ditch. Other ways to protect yourself are:

- Drive, or run at right angles to the storm.
- Duck into a strongly reinforced building; stay away from windows.
- Stand against inside wall on lower floor of office building.
- Avoid large rooms such as auditoriums.
- Choose a ditch instead of a flimsy building.

- Go to storm shelter or southwest corner of home basement.
- Shut off electricity and fuel lines if time.

There's nothing you can do about calming a tornado, but maybe you can calm your fears by talking about them.

Normal direction is from the southwest to the northeast.

Average tornado path is 16 miles long, less than 1/4 mile wide.

Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles an hour.

Tornadoes can strike at any hour of the day or night, but most hit in the afternoon and early evening.

There are over 90,000 peach trees in the County of Gaines, covering 1,800 to 2,000 acres. Seventeen miles west of Seminole, stretching north from Hwys. 62-180, is one of the largest, if not THE largest, peach orchards in the State.

It is 800 acres in size and sweeps the horizon almost as far as the eye can see.

It contains 68,000 young peach trees.

Mrs. Doss

Mrs. M.S. Doss has been very interested in the growth and development of West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo. She was made a life-time Director in ceremonies at the Ranch in May. She says that the boys are "her boys", and she has a great deal of pride in the growth and development of the youth.

Mrs. Doss, we thank you for your many kind deeds.

The Strangest Thing Happened on the Way To Iowa!!!

A call was received Sunday afternoon by Don Fleming. There was a fellow, about 30 years old, going through town and he wanted a free meal. His mode of transportation was a bicycle and he told Don that he had left Anchorage, Alaska, last July --destination IOWA. It would seem he had missed the way!! He said he had come from Carlsbad, New Mexico, on Sunday.

After he had eaten he pedaled on--It's a funny world!!

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at increase net returns to South Plains soybean producers: Plant the variety of seed that will mature within the growing season. Inoculate seed prior to planting. Use row spacings of less than 40 inches to increase per acre yields of solid plantings. Rotate soybeans with cotton and grain sorghum to increase cotton and grain sorghum yields. Reduce labor and cultivation costs through weed control by chemicals. Apply irrigation water at the time and in the amount when most needed by the plant. Adjust combine speed to eliminate harvesting losses. Maintain records of cost of production for pinpointing areas where costs can be reduced or eliminated. Thoroughly understanding the legislative programs affecting soybeans. Consider temporary leasing or renting of expensive equipment.

Varieties that may be planted in this area are Lee, which is a medium-to-late variety; Hill, which is a medium-to-early variety; Hinn, which is an intermediate maturing variety similar to Hill; and, Patterson, an early maturing variety recently released.

The optimum date of planting in the High Plains of Texas ranges from June 1 in the northern areas to June 15 in the southern region. One should plant around 60 pounds per acre of good seed for 40-inch row plantings with the specific rhizobia for soybeans.

Fertilization--repeated trials with varying ratios and amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium under different levels of irrigation have failed to increase soybean yields significantly according to the County Agent. Soybeans are good to grow in rotation with cotton and grain sorghum. In a research plot at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center in Lubbock from 1961 to 1963, continuous cotton productions were 689 pounds of lint per acre, while cotton following one year of soybean production produced 784 pounds of lint, and after two years of soybean production, yielded 821 pounds of lint.

Application of 10 tons of manure increased the yield of soybeans about 3 bushels per acre. With the use of 80 pounds of nitrogen, the yield did not increase for soybeans, but did increase the yield for cotton and grain sorghum.

The County Agent says that adequate soil moisture from bloom initiation until seed is fully developed is of utmost importance in producing optimum yields of soybeans on the High Plains. For maximum yields irrigation water should be applied just prior to bloom initiation and at 10- to 20-day intervals until the pods are well filled. On the other hand most efficient use of total water, rainfall and irrigation has been obtained by preplant, plus two summer applications (bloom stage and one additional irrigation, 20 days later). An additional irrigation may be necessary if the soil begins to dry out before the seed pods are filled.

Insects--Soybeans have suffered no serious losses from insects. In some areas where the cotton boll worm has high populations, some soybeans crops have been attacked. For insect control recommendations, see your County Agent.

M.S. DOSS YOUTH CENTER TOURNAMENTS HELD

The annual tournaments at the M. S. Doss Youth Center in chess, billiards, and ping pong have recently been concluded, with winners being named in Junior and Senior High Divisions. Trophies were awarded to 1st and 2nd place finishers in each of the divisions.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the tournament was the elimination of Ben Marcus, a recently graduated senior, by David Taylor, a last years sophomore, in the third round of Senior High billiards. Ben was a 2nd place winner as a freshman, and finished 1st the next two years. He was a strong favorite to win his third 1st place trophy in this tournament. In a close match however, he was beaten by David who won his way in succeeding matches to the finals, where he was defeated 50-28 by Junior, Don Fields. The advance to the finals was not an unfamiliar path to Don. As an 8th grader he took the 2nd place spot, but had failed to advance this far in either of the past two years.

Graduating senior, Barry Hill copped first place in the Senior High ping pong competition. Barry finished 2nd last year to Jimmy Nelms, but this year was not strongly challenged in any of his matches en route to the title.

One of the most notable accomplishments of the tournament was the winning of the chess championship by last years freshman, Gary Baker. Gary emerged from a very formidable field, including many upper classmen, to cop the crown in the third game of a best two out of three finals match against senior Wayne Hunt.

In last years tournament, Jimmy Lewis accomplished the rare feat of winning first place in all three sports in the Junior High Division, something which had never been previously achieved, and which is unlikely to be repeated any time soon. As a freshman competing against considerably older boys, Jim did not fare quite as well in this tournament, but he will doubtless be heard from again in coming years.

Following is the complete list of 1st and 2nd place winners.

Senior High Division. Chess: Gary Baker and Wayne Hunt. Billiards: Don Fields and David Taylor. Ping Pong: Barry Hill and Weaver Patterson.

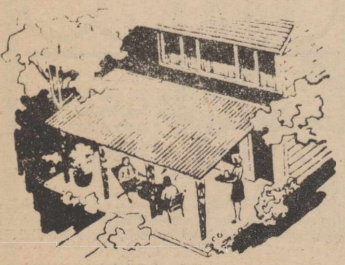

Junior High Division. Chess: Gene Sims and Farris McDonald. Billiards: Mike Shipley and Tom Curry. Ping Pong: Rodney Lunceford and Mike Elder.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warneke are vacationing in Dallas and Arkansas.

Mr. Woods of the Seminole NEWS has gone on a vacation to California and also on to Hawaii. Don't you know this trip will be educational for his sons, his wife, and himself--with a wreath of flowers around his neck and watching the Hula dancers in the moonlight, but Mr. Woods, while you are enjoying this, the hail and rain fell in spots in Gaines County and some of the hail was golf ball size and the ground covered with all size hail. Man, when that big hail would hit, thirty years ago, I would have tried to out run the shot, but not now.

BROWNFIELD MEET

Sixteen towns were at the Brownfield meet. They gave no team awards nor did they give place standings, although Coach Hicks said that a 2nd place was probable considering the achievements of the Seminole Track boys.

Twenty-four boys were taken to the meet, which started at 2:00 and lasted until 11:15. The next meet will be held June 24 in Hobbs, New Mexico.

"The interest has been extremely good", reports Coach Hicks, "and anyone who would like to come out for track at the present time is welcome."

Nature never deceives us; it is always we who deceive ourselves.

We wonder how many local residents used DDD on Sunday. Lloyd and Marge Coffman call called their daughter, Susan Van, in Missouri. Susan is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Minnix and family. They also wished a happy Father's Day to Joe Greene of Lamesa, who is in Missouri for a visit.

Charles and Madeline Shelton called his brother in Houston and her aunt in Kerrville.

It is certain that many residents enjoyed this new service in our town.

Jim and Jean Inman called Tulia to talk with Jim's parents. Jim and Jean have moved into their new home, purchased from the Don Meltons.

Carol and Pam Norton called his parents Sunday night from Dallas to wish B.C. "Happy Father's Day!"

He who imagines he can do without the world deceives himself much; but he who fancies the world cannot do without him is still more mistaken.

New Library Books

"Lyndon B. Johnson and the World" by Philip Geyelin.

The scene is the White House; the time, a few months after John F. Kennedy's assassination; the occasion, an off-the-record discussion of relations between Lyndon B. Johnson and the world.

"The Cross and the Switchblade" by David Wilkerson.

The conflict of good and evil is dramatized here in the real-life story of a country preacher who, in 1958, was moved to try to help seven boys indicted for the murder of a crippled teenager. His first effort failed, but it sparked the Teen Challenge movement, which has saved other boys and girls from crime and addiction.

"Stillmeadow Calendar" by Gladys Teber.

The first report from Stillmeadow in five years, another invitation to behold the seasons and meet the author's family, friends and neighbors- and her dogs. Readers of Gladys Teber's books will welcome another visit to her peaceful Connecticut valley, with its snow and sunshine, and to her comfortable old farmhouse with savory dishes cooking in the kitchen, and books all over the house.

"The Prospering" by Elizabeth Speare.

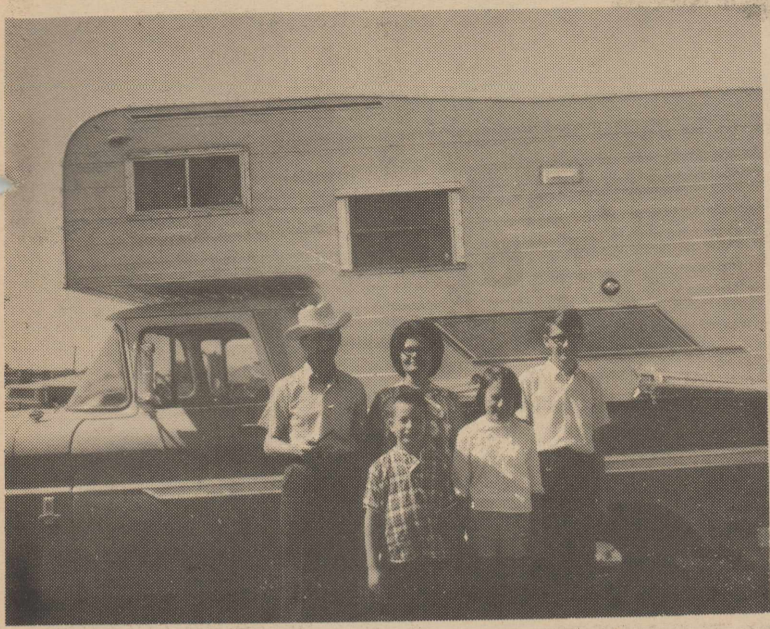

This is a story of Elizabeth, youngest of the three Williams daughters, and is an account, seen through her eyes, of the men and women famous in Berkshire history. Uncertain of her role in an ambitious family and torn by loyalties she could never reconcile, she does at last find in this town her own happiness and fulfillment, but she acknowledges in her heart the cost. A book not only for everyone interested in American history, but for every student of the human heart.

NATION BUILDERS

*Not gold, but only men, can make
A nation, great and strong,
Men who, for truth and honor's sake,
Stand fast and suffer long.
Brave men who work while others
sleep,
Who dare while others fly,
They build a nation's pillars deep
And lift them to the sky.*

—Emerson

If half that we say, in a single day, without a word left out,
Was printed each night, in clear black and white,
It would make a queer reading, no doubt,
And then, just suppose, e'er one's eyes should close,
He would read the day's record through.
Wouldn't he sigh and wouldn't he try,
A great deal less talking to do?
And I more than half think, that many a kink,
Would be smoothed out of life's tangled thread,
If only half that we say, in a single day,
Was forever left unsaid. Submitted by Mrs. Ward Collier, Sr.

WALT PIERCE PERFORMING AREOBATICS FOR THE NEWS PHOTOGRAPHERS

Walt Pierce, a native of Roswell, New Mexico, makes his living by performing aerobatics in airplanes. Pierce is one of 21 aerobic pilots remaining in the United States.

Walt was born in Bell, California, and moved to Roswell in 1946. He became interested in flying at an air show in 1947 in Roswell.

At the age of 13, Walt began skipping classes and could usually be found at the airport. In 1955 he began taking lessons. When his parents found out, they ordered his instructor to discontinue the lessons. Walt then began changing instructors until he ran out of instructors.

Pierce's training in aerobatics came by accident. It all began one day when his instructor stated, "What's the matter, boy? Haven't you spun this airplane yet?" From then on spins and loops were a part of his everyday training. He has advanced and remained current with aerobatics ever since.

At the age of 17, Walt enlisted in the Air Force for a four year hitch and entered pilot training two years later. By the time he had almost finished his pilot training, the Air Force began transferring most of the graduates to desk jobs. Walt didn't like this idea, so he got out of the Air Force.

Before he became a full-time stunt pilot, Walt worked as an airplane pilot, Charter pilot, aircraft mechanic, agricultural pilot, military pilot and flight instructor.

In 1963 he flew with three shows while he was with Trans-Texas. In 1964 he worked all season as a stunt pilot.

Later this year Walt will begin work with the National Air Shows, one of the leading groups in the country. He even hopes to do some skywriting in the future.

Walt's wife, Sandi, is also a pilot. They plan to form a family air show team as soon as she has more time to practice. He said he usually spends about three days a week practicing and the rest of the time maintaining his airplane.

Walt is a newcomer to Seminole, moving from Odessa. His wife will join him soon. He is presently associated with Seminole Aero Service,

LETTERS HOME FROM THE TRAVELING FOLK OF SEMINOLE

TO: SEMINOLE NEWS
FROM: ROVING REPORTER (w. w.)
SUBJECT: TRAVEL

We're 3993 miles from our destination at 4:00 a. m. No wonder I can't sleep! We got away in record time at 4:35 a. m. and had traveled ten miles before one boy and one mother was asleep. In 35 miles I had it alone and lacked only 3958 miles.

We had cold orange juice and cereal for breakfast at White City. The Guadalupe Range was as pretty as ever. We wished for field glasses to look at the pine trees or elk on top of the mountains. The sign still reads, Elevation 5695'.

It is 10:40 a. m. and we're in New Mexico for the second time today. Our cameraman, Larry, had us make two unnecessary stops for him to shoot pictures. Old Mexico still looks poor, high and dry from our side. Times must be a lot better. The state of New Mexico has sure improved their roads in the past 10 years.

Our co-pilot, Frances, is at the wheel. Naptime for me and I awoke to the beautiful rock formations just past Lordsburg. Another state and another picture.

Hurrah for all the motels in Phoenix, only $8.00 plus 40 cents in tax for four, with good beds and a heated pool. (An early stop helps to get an early start.) Saturday - 4:15 a. m. and we are only 3293 miles from Hawaii. Our co-pilot is fast asleep at 4:45 a. m. We had a good pre-breakfast run, hot cakes and ham at Blythe, California. Indio is 13 miles away - Los Angeles, 140. Our speedometer just turned past the 1000 miles since leaving Seminole. We've gained 2 hours of time. It is now 8:30 a. m. and talk about a sand storm - white blowing glass sand has cut our vision to near zero. The brown showing on the front of the old buggy is not dirt. We see snow on the mountains near Palm Springs.

Santa Ana, California, our destination for Saturday was achieved at 1:00 p. m. Even a policeman could not find the street we were looking for after being lost on the maze of freeways. We spent the night with brother Paul and family. We were surrounded by orange trees, eucalyptus trees and beautiful avacados. There was a little Texas '42 thrown in. The Boys picked strawberries and oranges. Just think, avacados were selling for only 5¢ each.

Sunday and the freeways brought us through Santa ana, Long Beach, San Pedro, Signal Hill, Hawthorne (where our no. 1 was born), Inglewood, Culver City and Hollywood and the ocean drive north. Just think 70 miles and we're out of the City and not one stop!

Our first view of the Pacific was at Ventura. The first ship, seen 10 minutes later. The surfers are surfing, the fishermen are fishing and it is our breakfast time! The many flowers, the early start, the ocean drive and the citrus groves makes breakfast worth eating. Highway 101 is a nice drive, but can you imagine Odessa and Lubbock being connected through Seminole with a four lane highway and then

We approached San Francisco by Candlestick Park, home of the baseball Giants, on through the City over the Golden Gate Bridge. From the vantage point above the Golden Gate Bridge we could see San Francisco, the bay, Alcatraz and all the sailboats and fishing boats. Each made our arrival here picturesque. As I turned to leave and saw the American flag, I decided anew, it was good to be a part of this great country!

On to Mill Valley, a suburb of Frisco and the 200 foot Redwood trees. You would find it hard to believe that one (4', yes, four foot through) grows through all three stories of the Ross A. Smith home (Frances' brother). Undoubtedly, this is the most unique place people could live.

It is Monday and I can count houses on five different levels of the mountain and still see giant trees towering above them. The mountainsides are covered with ivy, ferns and at least five different colors of flowers in bloom. Bluejays and humming birds abound.

Last Rites Held Friday

Mrs. James L. Dow 82, widow of a pioneer Lubbock and West Texas publisher, died at 6 p.m. Wednesday in West Texas Hospital following an illness of some six years.

Funeral was at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Bowman Chapel of the First Methodist Church. Dr. J. O. Haymes associate pastor officiated. Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery.

She and the late Dow were married May 1, 1904, in Colorado City. A year later, they moved to Lubbock where he joined The Lubbock Avalanche. In January, 1906, Dow purchased the newspaper which he published until 1926, when it was sold to The Lubbock Evening Journal.

Her husband was an early and ardent supporter of locating Texas Technological College here and is pictured in the West Texas Museum Rotunda mural, posed before the original quarters of The Avalanche.

Following the sale of The Avalanche, the Dows purchased The Wink Times-Telegram. In 1936, they moved to Kermit where he published the Winkler County News.

Three years later, they moved to Levelland, where he became manager of the Phillips-Dupre Hospital. In 1946, they moved to Seminole and Dow became manager of the Gaines County Clinic Hospital, a position which he held until his death in 1958.

Mrs. Dow then moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jay Gordon, 2411 29th.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Gordon, include two sons, Dr. Harold D. Dow and Melvin N. Dow of Wink; five sisters, Mrs. Tom Coffee of Loraine, and Mrs. Una Richardson, Mrs. W. J. Chesney, Mrs. Rube Harte, and Mrs. Emma Thrailkill, all of Colorado City; nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Sara's Stories

by SARA JANE SMITH*

"The Ice Cream Cones"

One day I was walking along the street. I met a lady who had four ice cream cones. She ask me if I wanted one. But I said I did it. So she walked on. Then the poor lady sneezed and droped one of her ice cream cones. She ask me to hold the other three for her while she got a kleenex out of her purse. While she was't looking I droped them. There was a ice cream man passing by me and I ask him for four ice cream cones. Then the lady said she wanted her ice cream cones back. So I gave them to her. Then when I have them to her she said I only had three. So she gave one back to me.

CURE FOR PNEUMONIA

A simple and very effective remedy for this dangerous disease and one easily tried is as follows:

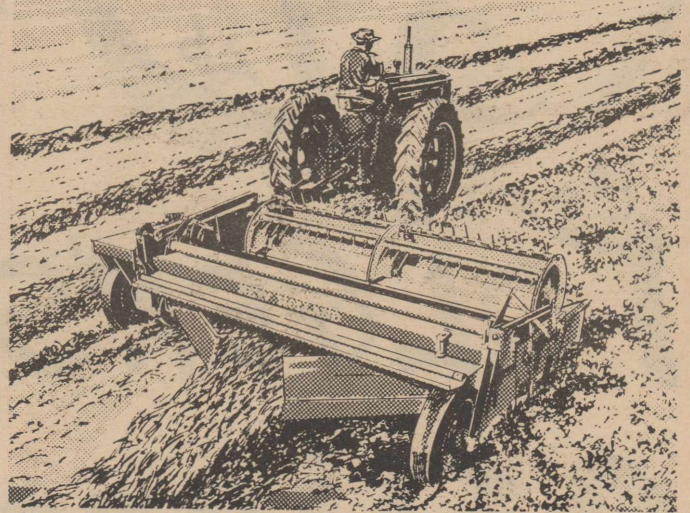

Take six to ten onions according to size and chop fine, put in a large skillet over a hot fire, then add about the same quantity of rye or corn meal (some say that bran can be used), then add a small quantity of salt and vinegar enough to form a thick paste. In the meanwhile stir it thoroughly, letting it simmer five to ten minutes, then put in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and chest and apply as hot as patient can bear. Change about every ten minutes and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger.

This simple remedy has never failed to cure this too often fatal malady. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient, but continue always until perspiration starts freely from the chest. This remedy was formulated many years ago by one of the best physicians New England has ever known, who never lost a patient by the disease.

He who waits to do a great deal of good at once, will never do anything.
