

REPORT . . .

From Washington

By Armed Forces Press Service

The Army has published a new field manual, "Military Police," as a basic guide in the performance of military police duties. It supersedes FM 19-5, of June 14, 1944, and incorporates improved techniques and procedures for military police work.

Limitation of those eligible for medical care at Army facilities to personnel authorized in Army Regulations 40-506 has been directed by the Army. Among persons authorized to receive medical treatment at Army facilities are dependents, certain Reservists, and members of other Services. The Regulation establishes policy governing authorization for medical treatment and the extent of the treatment authorized.

Five Navy selection boards are meeting to recommend staff corps officers for promotion to captain and commander. A total of 2,500 officers are being considered in the Dental Corps, Supply Corps, Medical Corps, Medical Service Corps, Nurse Corps and Civil Engineer Corps.

The Air Force is restricting the use of jeeps and other military-type motor vehicles at U.S. bases, in order to conserve such vehicles for overseas service. Military-type vehicles in the U.S. will be replaced by commercial-type vehicles such as the half-ton pickup truck and the carryall.

Classes in the Navy Class "A" Machinery Repairman's School, San Diego, Calif., will convene every two weeks, instead of the present every four weeks, beginning January 2, 1951. The course, lasting 14 weeks, trains non-rated enlisted men, and has billets for 20 firemen or fireman apprentices.

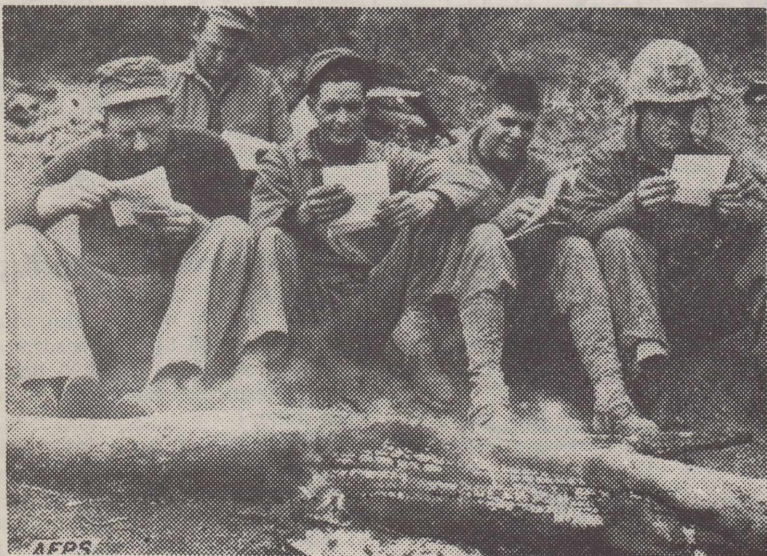

The Air Force will reactivate the Presque Isle, Maine, Air Force Base January 1, 1951. This important World War II base has been inactive for three years. It is located 30 miles southwest of Limestone, on the Canadian border, site of a large base for intercontinental B-36 bombers, and the nearest U.S. take-off point to Europe.

CG Of Twentieth AF Sends Letter To CO On Clothing Drive

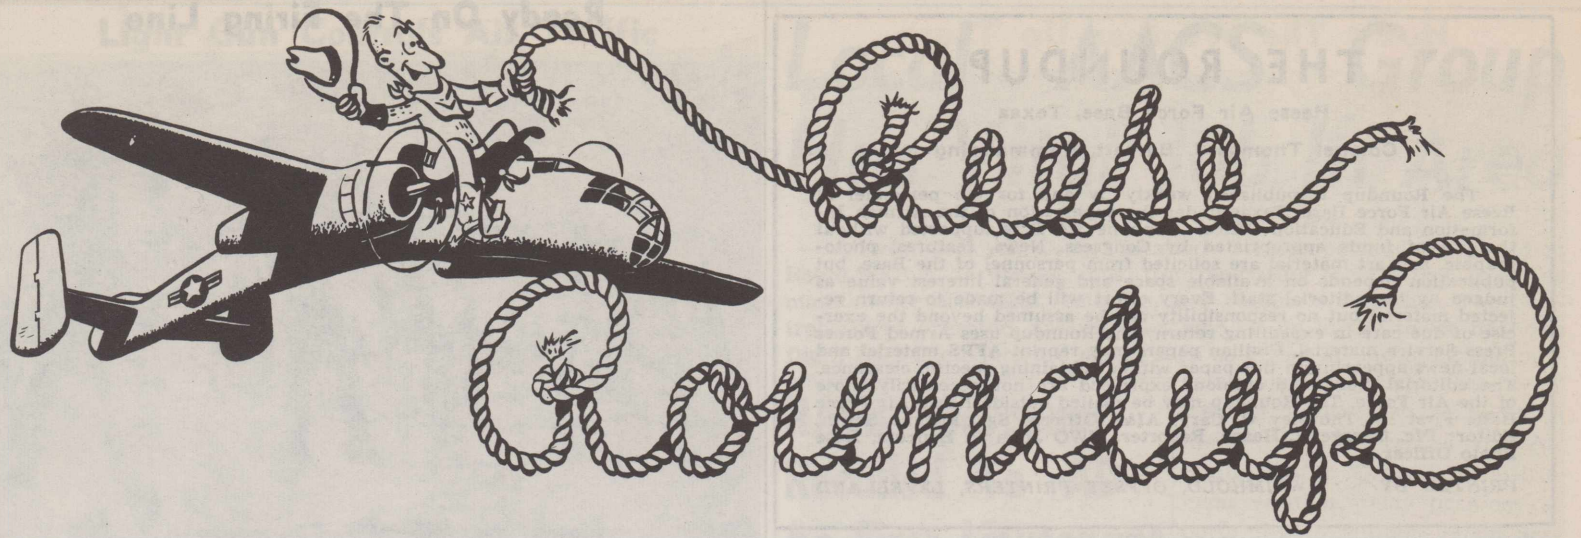

A letter of appreciation was received this week by Colonel Thomas J. Barrett from Major General Ralph F. Stearley, Commanding General of the Twentieth Air Force. General Stearley extended thanks from all the Army and Air Force personnel on Okinawa to the Women's Club of Reese Air Force Base and all other organizations that assisted in the recent clothing drive for the Okinawans.

In his letter General Stearley stated that the wonderful cooperation of the personnel of this base was deeply appreciated by members of his command and as for the Okinawans, they shall be everlastingly grateful.

Mail Call

Varied expressions are reflected on faces of these Marines as they pause to read mail from home on the road to the Changjin Reservoir in Korea. All except one studies in solemnity. The young man second from right reacts with a wide grin. Maybe his girl says she loves him. And the log fire adds considerably to their comfort.

Talent Show Set For Ninth Of December

Lt. Arthur J. Knudsen, special services officer, stated this week, that auditions for the big base talent show Saturday night, December 9 at 2000 hours are not necessary.

All men interested in appearing in the talent show are urged to sign the talent show list in the service club as soon as possible.

Men who are going to participate in the show may rehearse in the service club any time in the afternoon provided they see either Lieutenant Knudsen or Cpl. Jack D. Solomon first.

Prizes to be awarded include $10 and a radio audition for first place winner, $5 for second place winner and $2.50 for third place winner.

The judges will most likely be CWO Carmine Luce, Lieutenant Knudsen, 1st Lt. James O. Umphries, base PIO, and a representative from one of the Lubbock radio stations.

Civilians Prohibited From Drinking Beer In PX By Tax Law

"Your wife and dependents, but not your girlfriends and other civilian friends, are authorized to drink beer in the Cafeteria, located in the Air Force Exchange, Building T-15," it was announced this week.

In the future it will be illegal for any civilian not entitled to full exchange privileges to consume beer in the Cafeteria. Persons found to be purchasing beer to be consumed by unauthorized civilians will be punished by disciplinary action. This is in accordance with Special Regulation 210-55-21 and AFR 176-81 which states:

"In those States where Tax is imposed on Beer, Non-Appropriated Fund Activities selling such commodities free of State Tax are charged with the responsibility of preventing the diversion of such State Tax free commodities to persons who are not authorized purchasers thereof."

This restriction on beer drinking applies only to the Cafeteria, since it is the only Non-Appropriated organization on the base that sells tax free beer.

Fire Department Puts Out Blaze In Wing Dining Hall

A fire broke out in the consolidated mess hall Tuesday morning, November 28, but was extinguished by the base fire department shortly after it was discovered.

The fire, which started in one of the large ovens in the mess hall kitchen was discovered at approximately 1000 Tuesday morning. The base fire department was notified immediately and had it under control a short time after the alarm was received by them.

The fire was caused by burning grease in the oven and it was reported that no damage resulted from the fire.

Roundup Becomes Commercial Publication, Starting December 1st To Conserve Funds For Recreation

The Reese Roundup will cease to be an official publication of Reese Air Force Base, Col. Thomas J. Barrett, base commander, announced this week. Beginning next week, the paper, under the same name, will be converted to a commercial organ and will be published by the Forest Weimhold Publishing Company of Levelland, Texas.

Shipment Of Fifteen New Carryalls Received Lately

The arrival of fourteen new carry-alls will greatly increase the operating efficiency of the base motor pool, Capt. William E. Carender, motor pool officer announced this week. The new vehicles plus three new truck-tractors have all been painted the new official Air Force color for military vehicles, Strata Blue.

Another carryall is on its way to Reese from the Air Materiel Depot at Tulsa, Oklahoma, Captain Carender also stated. A recent release from Washington stated that the use of jeeps and other military types of motor vehicles is being restricted in order to conserve such vehicles for ov-

The new eight-page newspaper will continue to be distributed free on each Friday morning as before, but will carry advertising from local merchants in the area around Reese Air Force Base.

The editorial offices for the Roundup will remain the same, upstairs in building T-421, over the Base Library, Phone 324. All news will be submitted through this office or through the Public Information Section, Phones 613 or 772.

The Roundup will still continue to print all of the news available concerning Reese Air Force Base and of interest to the personnel stationed here. Individuals or squadrons who have knowledge of interesting items are requested to dial one of the numbers mentioned above, or put their news story in writing and send it to the editor, Sgt. THE ROUNDUP

Reese Air Force Base, Texas

Colonel Thomas J. Barrett, Commanding

The Roundup is published weekly by and for the personnel of Reese Air Force Base, Texas under the supervision of the Airman Information and Education Office, telephone 324. It is supported without the use of funds appropriated by Congress. News, features, photographic, and art material are solicited from personnel of the Base, but publication depends on available space and general interest value as judged by the editorial staff. Every effort will be made to return rejected material but no responsibility can be assumed beyond the exercise of due care in expediting return. The Roundup uses Armed Forces Press Service material. Civilian papers may reprint AFPS material and local news appearing in this paper without obtaining specific clearance. The editorial views and opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Air Force. The Roundup may be mailed outside Reese Air Force Base. First Lt. Thornley C. Cary, AI&E Officer; Sgt. Colonel Tom Says ...

The beautiful weather we have enjoyed this week reminds us that spring will come again—and not too long away. We now have a base beautification program well started. Planting trees and shrubbery is only one phase of this program—the cleanliness and general appearance is up to you and me. Incidentally, base beautification is a subject of Training Command inspections—and I would like to see us at the top. If daily clean up is accomplished there will be no work day on Saturday—effective immediately. But if the base does not keep up a good standard of cleanliness, we will work on Saturday.

An exception will be in case the Pilot Training Group gets behind in flying. Then the entire wing will work all day Saturday to catch up. I hope this will not happen—but it could be brought about by unfavorable flying conditions.

And speaking of flying! I wish to warn all students and all pilots that violations of flying regulations will be dealt with harshly and I have the backing of General Harper on this. Right now there is one case pending final action and another case where the pilot of an aircraft who flew through a prohibited area is forfeiting $100 a month for three months.

Are you looking forward to spending Christmas at home? Leaves during the vacation period are encouraged. Recruits just coming on active duty who do not have leave time accrued may draw upon future leave time up to a 15-day limit. I suggest that you make your plans now and let your squadron and section head know your decision.

KADET KORRAL

Thanksgiving holidays have passed, bless 'em, but we would like to confer a type of culinary commendation on all those personnel of the Cadet Mess Hall who had a part in preparing and serving that tasty and abundant Thanksgiving feast. Aside from the plentiful and tasty food, the Mess Hall was pleasantly made eye appealing with table decorations . . . our appreciation is extended to all responsible.

How many Cadets have been receiving the latest editions of "Hot Rod Happy's" trials and tribulations in their mail? These are clipped from home town newspapers and sent to a number of Cadets by friends and relatives. So far the comic strip has been fairly accurate in its presentation of Cadet life, but it summons forth a laugh or two when letters begin with, "Now I know just what you're going through because I read 'Smilin Jack' every day." There are some things you just can't print, dear civilians.

Jack Coin, 51-A, tells of a weekend jaunt to Lubbock for the purpose of buying a sandwich that cost him $18.00. The much-talked about steak of Paul Jones and John Bradford never began to approach such a fabulous fee. In fact, they say it's even possible to buy passage out of Texas for much less than $18.00.

Cadets who made full use of their time off last week . . . John ("civilian pilots are just peachy") Stavast went home to them thar Colorado hills . . . Rivers, Ainsworth, Howard, Jones, and Bradford drove to Carlsbad Caverns . . . while George Mills, Don Palmer, and Claude Phipps spent the greater part of a night in Amarillo looking for a room with a bath . . . Earl Handing met a nurse from England while returning from Oklahoma City—said she was every man's dream . . . Billy Smith spent a foggy day in California (Texas Chamber of Commerce please note.) But old Rip Van Reneau had the best idea . . . he never moved from the confines of his sack for the entire four days.

Christmas Preparations

Have you considered the fact that there are only 19 more shopping days left before Christmas? Christmas has grown into a time for the exchanging of gifts, sending cards to friends whom we contact in no other way during the year and thinking again of the poor who need our help to brighten their Christmas Season.

There is a danger in this kind of thinking, however, for we have too much commercialized Christmas. Christmas brings to us a real message of love, good cheer and glad tidings to the earth. We hear again the echo of the Angels' Song "Peace on Earth, good will toward men." But too many people have come to think of Christmas only as a happy season for giving and receiving gifts. Christmas is a birthday celebration in which we celebrate again the birthday of our King. Many times we buy presents for every member of the family, for all our close friends, and even for a few strangers whom we feel to be in need of our help. Yet we never think to prepare a gift for the One whose birthday we are celebrating.

It is true that there are only 19 shopping days left until Christmas, but in addition to those 19 days for shopping, there are four Sundays in which we may worship the One whose birthday we celebrate on Christmas Day. In your plans for Christmas, whether you spend that day here or at your home in some other part of the country, do not forget to give some thought to the gift that you should bring to Jesus, the Great Prince of Peace, whose birthday we thus remember. Prepare yourself to make a worthwhile gift to Him by attending some church service each Sunday.

Commercial Roundup

weekly edition of the Roundup has been moved up to Tuesday at 1600 hours instead of 1200 hours on Wednesday as had been formerly done.

Colonel Barrett also stated that the money saved by converting the Roundup to a commercial paper, will be diverted to recreational uses for personnel of Reese Air Force Base.

Elwood Haynes is generally credited with building the first automobile on a commercial production scale in 1894.

CORNBREAD ARISTOCRAT

By Claud Garnes

Toby Giles is no standard hero of any standard historical novel. He is neither very good, nor very bad, but like most of us, he is a combination of vice and virtue, decency and devilry. He lands in brawling, sprawling Washington, Arkansas—the jumping off place on the trail to Texas—with nothing to his name but a driving ambition and a trumped-up story of aristocratic Virginia forbears.

But Toby is an opportunist and soon—by fair means and foul—he becomes a man of parts. Toby knows how to get what he wants—money, power, position.

The only thing that Toby doesn't understand is Woman. He is happy when he marries gentle Agatha, daughter of the richest man in town, but he feels sure there is something lacking in his wife when he first sees beautiful, high born Josephine. From her he learns what real aristocracy is—and, more importantly, what it is not.

Here from the red soil of Arkansas has grown a story—strong, lusty, truly representative of America's heritage. This is a spell-binding tale of a man and two women; the legend of a frontier Samson who meets—like all Samsons—his aristocratic Delilah.

Q. What are the re-employment rights of Civil Service employees inducted or recalled into the Armed Forces?

A. The Selective Service Act of 1948 was extended by the Selective Service Extension Act (Public Law 599) until 9 July 1951. This law safeguards the re-employment rights of permanent Civil Service employees. It applies not only to persons who may be inducted by the Selective Service Act, but to Reservists who volunteer or who are called to EAD involuntarily. (Ref. TIG Brief, Vol. II, No. 38, 30 Oct. 50).

Q. Are Reserve airmen entitled to the same retirement benefits as those afforded Reserve Officers?

A. Yes. (Ref. AF Reserve Briefs, No. 9, Nov 50).

Q. What is the deadline or cut-off date for GI education or training?

A. For most veterans the deadline is 25 July 1951. Those who have courses interrupted by military service can resume such courses when they return, but those who have not started prior to active duty call will lose their rights, as the law now stands. (Ref. AF Reserve Briefs, No. 9, Nov 50).

AF Academy Board To Pick Final Site

Washington . . . The Air Force Academy Site Selection Board has selected 29 sites that will receive further consideration as the most suitable for the proposed Air Force Academy. A total of 354 sites were recommended and the remaining 325 sites have been eliminated from further consideration.

On Monday, November 20, the Site Selection Board began making brief visual inspections of the 29 sites selected in order to give all members of the Board a common basis of comparison as to terrain features and the nature of the immediate surroundings. Based on these visual inspections and the data already available the Board will select from the 29 sites under consideration a lesser number—probably three to six—for further study.

The final three to six sites will be given a detailed survey by the architectural engineering firm, Holabird and Root and Burgee of Chicago, Illinois. It is expected that they will begin these surveys around the first of the year.

The Site Board already has at its disposal a great deal of factual data concerning each of the 29 sites. This includes not only the material furnished by the sponsoring agency, but reports prepared by representatives of a U. S. Army Division or District Engineer Office as the result of an actual, on the spot, survey of the site. The Site Board itself has assembled additional information from various sources.

The Board will consider this data along with the report of Holabird and Root and Burgee in making its final selection for recommendation to the Secretary of the Air Force. Final authorization to establish such an academy must be obtained from Congress.

erases service. They are expected to be replaced by the half-ton pickup truck and carryall.

The Lubbock Post Office will receive nine 1½ ton trucks during the Christmas Season to aid in the delivery of Christmas mail. For the past several years the Armed Forces had adopted the policy of loaning military vehicles to post offices in the adjoining towns to help combat the staggering load of Christmas mail deliveries. The vehicles will be dispatched to the Lubbock Post Office beginning December 4.

The Motor Pool is now located back in its old area at the end of Fourth Street, Captain Carender stated. It was formerly located near the flight line at the other end of the field while the motor pool was being resurfaced.

Local AACS Group Has Vital Job In Area

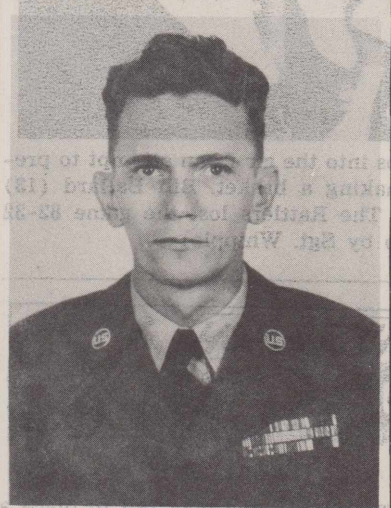

By SGT. W. D. CHRISTIAN

Airways and Air Communications Service personnel assigned at Reese AFB have various jobs, from operating the Control Tower to maintenance of Radios, Teletype, and Facsimile machines. The Control Tower operators are the men who sit up in the tower near the flight line. Their jobs are many, such as giving all incoming and outgoing airplanes clearances, relay weather information to pilots in the air, relay clearances from Air Route Traffic Control in instrument weather, relay position reports to both Military Flight Service and Air Route Traffic Control and staying alert at all times in case of an accident or emergency.

RAFB Sergeant Recalled To AD As First Lieutenant

Technical Sergeant Donald C. Mills former chief clerk in the Signal Office, of Headquarters Squadron 3500th ABG received his recall to active duty the 13th of November. Sergeant Mills was called to duty in the rank of First Lieutenant and was sworn into the service on the 26th of November. He will be stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi and expects to attend a course in Radar at the base as his first assignment.

His hometown is Shreveport, Louisiana and that is where he entered the service as a Private in 1941. He received his appointment to Officers Candidate School in 1943 and was commissioned the same year at OCS at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He was then transferred to the European Theater and served there in 1944 and 1945 as a forward observer for the field artillery. He has been with the 3500th PTW since 1946.

It was while serving in this capacity that Lieutenant Mills was cited for bravery and was awarded the Nation's second highest award, The Distinguished Service Cross. He also has the silver star, Purple heart and the Belgium Croix de Guerre. The Croix de Guerre was awarded to the First and Ninth Armies and the 30th Infantry Division for their participation in battle campaigns in the Rhineland, Central Europe and the Ardennes.

Here is what happens between the Control Tower operator and an airplane when the pilot calls for landing information. A/C: Reese Tower this is AF 8297, over. —Twr: AF 8297 this is Reese Tower, over.—A/C: AF 8297 is 15 miles west of your station at 6,000 feet, request landing instructions, over.—Twr: AF 8297, you are cleared into right hand traffic pattern for runway 17 to the south, the wind is south at 12 MPH, altimeter setting is 30.08, check entering traffic pattern, over. A/C: AF 8297, roger, understand landing instructions will call entering the traffic pattern, out. AF 8297 then alters his course so that he will not be in the way of any airplanes that are taking off or are in the traffic pattern at the time, and calls the tower when he enters traffic.

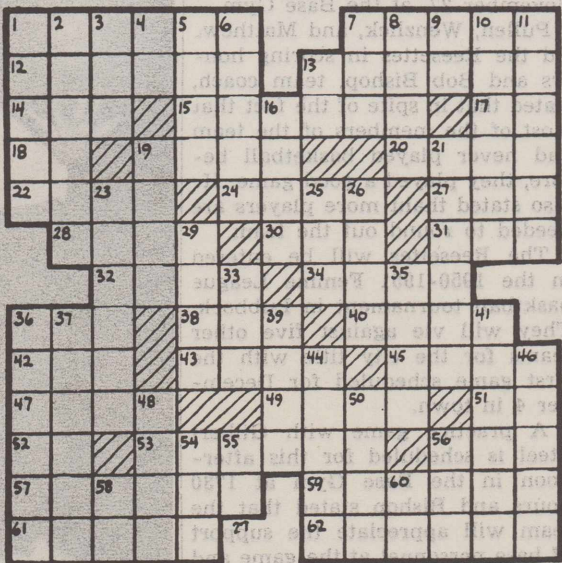

It is at this time that the tower operator advises him of all other traffic and their position in the pattern. AF 8297 then spaces himself so that he will not cut anyone out of the pattern and recalls turning base leg. At this time he is advised to check his gear and again advised of the wind so that he may correct for a cross wind, etc.

It is very similar when an airplane wants to take off, he calls the tower like this. A/C: Reese Tower, this is AF 1234, request taxi and take-off instructions, over.—Twr: AF 1234 this is Reese Tower, you are cleared to runway 17 for South take off, the wind is south at 10 MPH, altimeter setting is 30.12, correct time is 35, taxi north on ramp and exercise caution in taxiing as there are other aircraft on the ramp, advise when ready for take off, over. — A/C then acknowledges understanding of the instructions and proceeds to run-up position and calls when he is ready for take-off and the tower again advises him of the current winds and clears him for his take off.

Reese Rattlers Leave For Perrin To Open Basketball Conference

The Reese Rattlers were dumped 82-32 by the Texas Tech Varsity basketball team in a practice game Tuesday night at the Tech Gym. This was the first practice loss of the season for the Rattlers who had previously defeated the Tech Freshmen team and the Thomas Tinkers, a local semi-pro team.

The Rattlers left Thursday for Perrin AFB, Texas to open the Inter-Service Basketball Conference with a two-game stand tonight and tomorrow night. The Vance Cherokees of Vance AFB, Oklahoma, will open the home season at Reese on December 7 and 8 at the Base Gym.

S/Sgt. Delbert D. Adams, team coach, said the shellacking by the Tech team has in no way affected the team's morale or their determination to take the two-game series at Perrin this weekend.

Sergeant Adams also stated "the loss to Texas Tech was good experience for the team inasmuch as they will meet service teams just as tough and some possibly tougher during the course of the season. The support of the Rattlers by RAFB personnel by coming out to the home games and rooting for the team will play a large part in helping the Rattlers to win."

The Rattlers are in the Northern Zone of the Inter-Service Basketball Conference which is composed of teams from Air Force installations in Oklahoma, Northern and Western Texas, Arizona and New Mexico.

Reese Boxing Team Holds Group Meeting

Handball Playoffs Set For Tomorrow

The play-offs for the base handball title will be held tomorrow morning in the Base Gym, Sgt. Charles R. McKinney, tournament conductor, stated Wednesday.

Fighting for top honors will be Capt. Carl M. Hagle and Maj. Richard P. Haney against Lieutenants James O. Umphries and Robert E. Englebretson.

Runners-up for the play-offs were Maj. Seidel M. Stephens and Lieut. Richard R. Grayson.

Girls League Play Begins In December

The Reesettes, girls basketball team, defeated the Associated Telephone Company team 13-12 in a practice game Monday night, November 27, at the Base Gym.

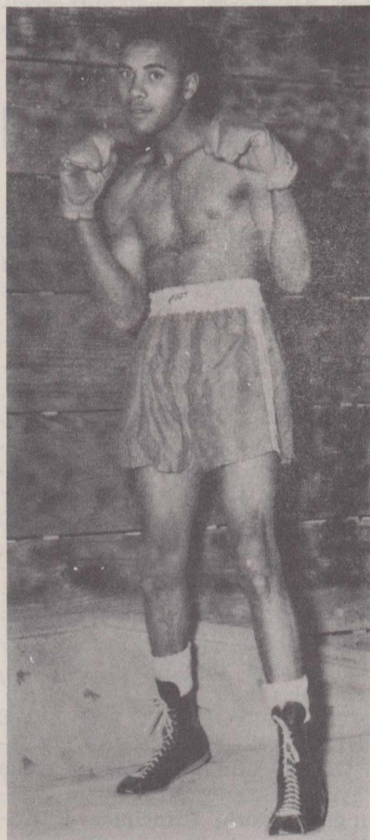

Pullen, Wenzlick, and Matthew led the Reesettes in scoring honors and Bob Bishop, team coach, stated that in spite of the fact that most of the members of the team had never played basketball before, they played a good game. He also stated that more players are needed to round out the team.

The Reesettes will be entered in the 1950-1951 Femme League basketball tournament in Lubbock. They will vie against five other teams for the city title with the first game scheduled for December 4 in town.

A practice game with Gilbert Steel is scheduled for this afternoon in the Base Gym at 1730 hours and Bishop stated that the team will appreciate the support of base personnel at the game and those to come.

With an urge to do a story dealing with what the players of the Notre Dame football squad do when away from school, a sports-writer approached the coach and asked to speak to the team chaplain.

"Which one," asked the coach, "offensive or defensive."

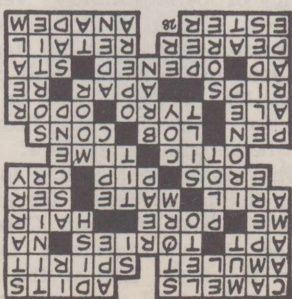

ERNEST BRUCE

Last year Bruce was runner-up for the featherweight title for the Air Training Command. His teammate Sgt. Richard "Bipp" Baer copped the Command's lightweight crown.

The team is scheduled to begin working out every afternoon from 1500 hours until 1630. Boxing shows by members of the team and those from other bases are scheduled to begin after the Christmas Holidays. In the meantime other prospects urged to come out and try for the team.

Answer to Puzzle

For the first time in five years, Notre Dame may fail to place a man on an All-American team . . . of which there are many these days. The reason, of course, is that the Irish are having their poorest season since that fall when Army beat them 59-0.

This being the zany time of the year when all of America picks All-Americans, how is this team for an argument starter? Let's start off with Bill McColl of Stanford and Don Foldberg of Army who, like all of the rest of our players can carry on regardless of whether the platoon is defensive or offensive.

Next, of course come the tackles. Here our choice is easy because 185 pound Don Coleman of Michigan State and Bob Gain of Kentucky, who weighs 230-plus, are positive standouts.

Little Bud McFadin of Texas (241) and deadly Ted Daffer of Tennessee (185) get narrow calls over the many other good guards.

Irv Holdash of North Carolina gets the nod at center because he is one of the best centers in the business and also qualifies as an outstanding linebacker.

Picking four backs out of the scores of good ones may be a bit risky but our quartet is being eyed by every pro team in the USA: John Dottley, 200 pounds of Mississippi "must" will wind up as a half with some professional team as sure as some people say you-all. At present, he is cast in the role of fullback but could play any position in line or backfield.

Kyle Rote, another 200 pounder from Southern Methodist, is sure sugar to the Mustangs and poison to the enemy . . . as Notre Dame can testify. On most teams he too, would be a fullback but the "pays" undoubtedly will think of him in terms of "scat".

Victor Janowicz, a mere slip of a lad weighing 185 and only a Junior at Ohio State, came to Columbus with the biggest reputation a midwest prep had ever gained. Some said last year that he was a dud but those voices have now been silenced because he is the lad who is making the Buckeyes boom.

Fourth of the four is Leon Heath, Oklahoma's amazing full who also weighs nearly 200. That boy may wind up as back of the year, just as he did in 1949 when he electrified a Sugar Bowl crowd with his greatest performance, after averaging nine yards a carry during the regular season.

That eleven leaves out some potent talent and great stars but is one which could go for 60 minutes, with or without the ball, against any competition . . . including the Cleveland Browns and the New York Yanks!
