

Report From Washington

A Marine Corps Selection Board will meet in the near future to name approximately 500 enlisted men and warrant officers as temporary second lieutenants. A present board is considering regular permanent and temporary first lieutenants, who will have two years of service in grade on June 30, for promotion to captain.

Air Force, Army, Navy, and civilian aviation and air-borne experts attended a recent conference held at Fort Bragg, N. C., to study, discuss and critique doctrine, training and equipment for future airborne operations and policies. The gathering also viewed displays and demonstrations of various types of weapons, supplies, vehicles and equipment prepared for aerial delivery, and techniques for delivering heavy equipment and personnel by parachute.

College students may now apply for Naval Reserve Commissions 120 days before graduation and receipt of degree. In the past, applicants for inactive duty commissions were required to hold degrees before making application. Active duty applicants were limited to filing applications 60 days in advance of graduation. Educational requirements for General Line Reserve commissions also have been reduced. Six hours of physics is no longer a requirement. Mathematics, through trigonometry, if completed in an accredited institution, will suffice. Formerly, 12 semester hours of mathematics were required.

Airman TVL ALWS Upped To 6c A Mile

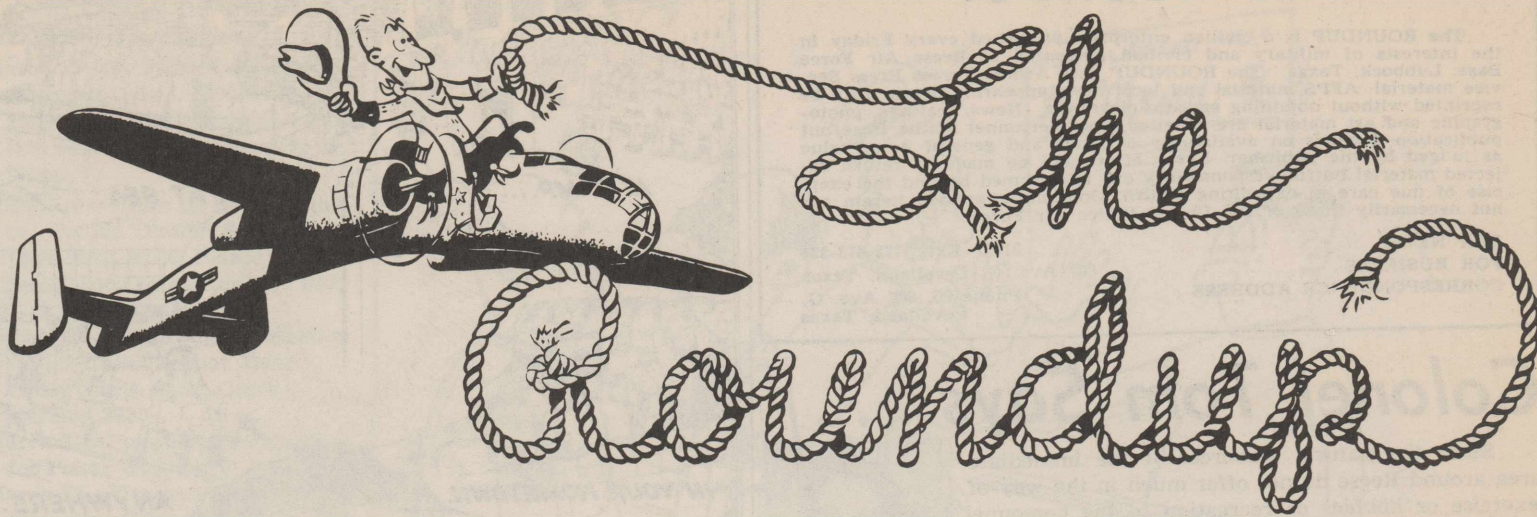

The Department of Defense recently announced that new travel and transportation allowances authorized in the Career Compensation Act of 1949 for uniformed personnel and their dependents, will become effective on April 1, 1951.

Enlisted personnel will now travel on the same allowances as officers. The enlisted travel allowances have been increased from 3 cents to 6 cents per mile. The maximum per diem allowances which may be paid to military personnel have been increased from $7.00 to $9.00.

These adjustments have been accompanied by a general increase in the normal reimbursement for the travel expense.

PX HOURS

Effective March 1, the Post Exchange inaugurated a new schedule of hours to provide more shopping hours for Reese personnel. The Main Store will be open 0900 to 1730 Monday through Friday, and 0900 to 1500 on Saturdays.

THE ENTIRE CAST of "Anything Goes", led by Reno Sweeney join in singing "Blow Gabriel Blow", one of the top tunes in the production.

Cole Porter Comedy Staged In Theater

"Anything Goes" a musical comedy by Cole Porter and P. G. Wodehouse, played to a capacity audience Tuesday night at the base theater. The troupe came to Reese from Walker AFB, New Mexico and their next stop is Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

The members of the all professional cast are the first to be presented by the Army. Sponsored by the Fourth Army Theater Company, this is the first of a six play tour.

The three hour show saw the cast, headed by Mildred Cook and Bill Pitts who played "Reno Sweeney" and "Billy Crocker", romp through the adventures of a young stock broker who is trying to keep his job and his girl who is planning to marry an English nobleman.

Aided and abetted by the notorious "Moonface Martin", public enemy 13, who posed as "Dr. Moon" a traveling clergyman, Billy Crocker managed to win back his sweetheart and aid his boss in accomplishing his mission at the same time.

The comedy in the play was definitely aided by Norris Domingue's performance as Moonface and Dr. Moon.

The acting of the rest of the cast including "Reno Sweeney's Angels" and the sailors added color to the production.

TWO MEMBERS of the Personnel Services recreation department, S/Sgt. Robert D. Watts and S/Sgt. Clarence Marks, prepare a horseshoe pit for installation in a squadron area. The pits are part of the extensive recreation program initiated by Personnel Services.

Recreational Program Is Launched By Pers Services

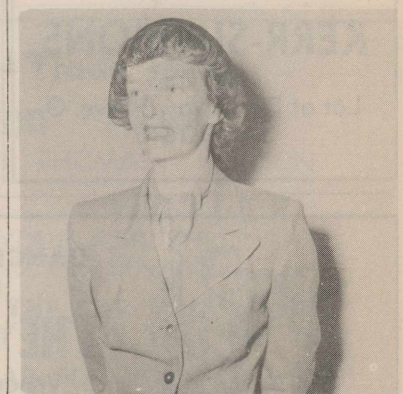

By Sgt R. C. CAMPBELL

This week Personnel Services launched an extensive sports program aimed at providing better recreational facilities for Reese Personnel. This program is under the direction of Capt. R. E. Englebretson, personnel services officer, and S-Sgt. Charles Twiner, supply sergeant.

Volleyball courts and horseshoe pits are being constructed in each squadron area, and necessary equipment checked out to the squadrons for their own use. One basketball goal will be erected at each squadron, and baseball, softball, ping pong, and boxing equipment will be allotted for their sports program.

Capt. Englebretson stated that Personnel Services is inaugurating this program to make it convenient for more people to participate in sports and recreational activities during the summer. It is the aim of Personnel Services to make up for any deficiency of recreational facilities in the surrounding area by providing the finest and most complete equipment available for use here at Reese.

It is this writer's personal opinion that with wholehearted support by Reese personnel, both married and single, airman and officer, Reese will have a recreational program that could become a standard for other Air Force bases to follow.

Mrs. Rita Umphries, wife of Capt. J. O. Umphries, base public information officer, was recently sworn into the WAF reserve as a captain. The first woman reserve officer to be sworn in at Reese, Mrs. Umphries served as a commander of WAC squadrons during the war.

Colonel Tom Says . . .

Since the natural resources of the immediate area around Reese do not offer much in the way of exercise or hobbies or recreation to the personnel of RAFB, it has been the constant endeavor of the Base Commander and the various section heads on the base to provide more and more recreational outlets.

On base facilities now include a hobby shop which has been set up and equipped for photography hobbists and another for those who like to build with wood. A base gymnasium provides for individual muscle building and also recreational games both for the participant and the spectator. The Base Theater has two shows nightly. In addition, there are the clubs—the service center which is open to all airmen with a program of dances and other entertainment, the NCO club, the Cadet Club and the Officers' Club. All of these sponsor various activities for their members and their guests. The Chapel also has a recreational program in addition to their regular Sunday services.

Off-base, the rehabilitation of a building for use as a LSO (Lubbock Service Organization—the counterpart of the USO in most cities) is well underway.

Our latest project, we believe, will interest many who are indifferent to the above.

We are planning a swimming pool to be constructed on the base for the use of all personnel at Reese, but the funds for this project will not be available in time for the pool to be ready this summer.

Meanwhile, we are constructing a recreational camp at Buffalo Lakes. Mr. W. H. (Bill) Rodgers has offered the use of the use of the land and our base workmen will construct a picnic area, a wading pool for the children, a fishing dock, a pier for small boats and will make this a place where individuals and families can go to spend an enjoyable day. We hope to have this completed by the time the weather moderates enough to permit outdoor activities.

Few Bank Robbers Left In Australia

Banking has turned out to be a very informal affair in Australia, according to the latest edition of the Pennsylvania Banker, a publication devoted to bank news.

According to the magazine, a bank examiner visited a bank in the small country town of Chatsworth, Queensland and found it open but deserted.

The accountant checked the books and then looked out the back window and spotted the manager, teller, accountant, and ledger-keeper playing poker on the landing.

Hoping to scare the four, the examiner rang the bank's burglar alarm, and to his surprise, the bartender from the pub across the street hurried over with four beers.

Shooting star is the name commonly given to meteors.

Christian Fellowship Plans General Election

"A Good Neighbor" was the theme of the program at the Ladies Christian Fellowship general meeting held at the Base Chapel this week. Mrs. Ralph Randerson opened the meeting with a prayer and devotion from the book "The Greatest Story Ever Told" by Fulton Oursler.

The president of the Fellowship, Mrs. J. B. Powers, presided over a short business meeting in which a report on the Bake Sale showed the response of the airmen to the women's home made cookies and candies. A report from the Base Hospital staff commended the group for their visiting and taking books, candies and cookies to the patients and for the sewing they have been doing for the hospital.

More leaders are needed for the growing scout troops, it was announced.

The troops have sent three boxes of clothing to Japan. Mrs. R. E. Englebretson was congratulated on the work being done to remodel the chapel nursery.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Leo Hess, Mrs. Hilton Gauthier, Mrs. J. H. Henderson, and Mrs. A. J. Knudsen was appointed to make arrangements for the coming general election on April 10, the date of the next general meeting.

Circle No. 2", Mrs. Roy Garrison, chairman and hostess, will sponsor the next Fellowship Supper on March 28 in the Chapel Annex at 1800 hours. The next Bake Sale is scheduled for April 2 at 1100 hours in the PX with Circle No. 1, Mrs. Hilton Gauthier, chairman, in charge.

A social hour followed the meeting with Circle No. 4 as hostesses.

Your Chapel

Death seems like some weird, spectacular event far removed from the happenings of day-to-day life. But it will happen to each of you. There is no way for you to escape it. It is easy for you, because you are young, to forget that you are to die and to be judged. But to forget this is most dangerous; to remember it is to be prepared for it.

In your heart of hearts you all wish that you were better Christians—that you lived better lives, that you were closer to God, that your consciences were cleaner and your souls brighter with grace. Everyone, except the hopelessly bad, desires to be more religious. You are no exception. Thinking about death and judgment will make you better, if anything will. Picture yourself, just as you are at this moment, actually dying and suddenly standing before Christ. You have to give an account of everything, down to the last idle word and thought. There can be no bluffing or stalling for time, no trusting to luck, no leaning on others, no pleading for mercy, no promising that you will do better next time, your soul stands naked in the bright light of Heaven. Judge yourself now as God would judge you. If this does not make you religious nothing will.

If you were certain that you had only two more years to live, how would you live during that time? How would you spend the time if you knew that you had ten minutes before the judgment? You see, you really know how you should live to please God; you know what changes in your life you should make. What you yourself do between now and the moment of death will determine your fate. The judgment that awaits you is in no one else's hands but your own.

KADET KORRAL

Squadron A may consider itself permanently blotted after the poor showing in the volleyball series Saturday morning at the base gymnasium. Capt. Ford and Squadron A was found guilty of "failing to cheer for the Tac Section during the volleyball and basketball games with Squadron B" and challenged to defend themselves, with the weapon being volleyball.

The Tac team, consisting of Capt. Bradley, Capt. Hockaday, Lt. Temple, Lt. Knight, Sgt. Miller and Cpl. Zeno, completely shallacked A by winning the entire series 15-3, 15-2, 15-11, 15-5, 15-13.

SO, the Tac Section has successfully defended itself in volleyball—are there any golfers in the group?

Saddle sores and aching backs was the order of the day Monday morning—that is, for Johnson, Jones, Friedman, and Marcyan, who tried their talents at horseback riding and hunting. "Moochie" Friedman, the mad cowboy, is hereby tagged Ichabod Crane of the Cadet Corps. Ichabod undoubtedly had the sturdiest mount of the group—he just sagged a little which permitted riding and walking at the same time. Really was not such a bad hunting trip. How lucky can you get, Jug, getting a rabbit the first shot? But of course, who was it that shot an entire box of shells at a tin can—and not one hit? Any ideas, Moochie?

Barracks 837 seems to be model airplane headquarters. Why, we even have the last word in model planes—one that will dive down and strafe you. Isn't that right, Lee? Lacey, what ever happened to the flying wing you built?

The Strandberg-Turner combination makes a terrific pilot-co-pilot team and brought about this "intelligent" (?) conversation with the tower operator: "Reese Tower, 050 solo Baker-25, base, gear-in-the-green, TAIL WHEEL LOCKED, full stop, over" and the tower operator came back with "Roger 050, your tail wheel IS locked, clear number one."

Strandberg, being pilot, was "blamed", but his comment was: "I am changing co-pilots after this". Turner's comment was: "But Sir . . ."

Being a "fair weather" pilot lost in the snowy land of Minnesota, it is no disgrace to get stuck in a snow drift, Benny!

AIR INSTALLATIONS

TAKING THE END OFF of a motor to inspect it for defects is S/Sgt. Carl T. Rivers of the AI Electrical Shop. W. L. Roark, civilian worker, watches.

"To maintain and repair all utilities and structures on the base" is the mission of the RAFB Installation Section, according to M-Sgt. Lowery D. Allen, superintendent of AI shops.

It is necessary to have a crew on hand 24 hours a day to cope with any emergency that might arise, Sergeant Allen stated and standby crews are available to help out.

Since the reactivation of the base, the workload on Air Installations in the form of new projects has increased he also stated. Right now a mobile repair crew under the direction of S-Sgt. Judson B. Tingle is on a nine-month project to rehabilitate all of the buildings on the base. The crew is now in the hospital area and will move on to the BOQ when this job is completed.

Sergeant Allen stated that Sergeant Tingle has done an excellent job of supervising the Mobile Crew since his recall to active duty. A native of Abilene, Texas, Tingle was in the construction business before his recall to duty. During the war he served with the 8th Air Force in England.

One of the main projects of Air Installations in the future is to install a panel switching station for the base power system. This new panel will enable the repairman to shut off power in one section of the base while making repairs and not on the entire base.

Main projects completed within the last year included the base library and the courtroom in the Legal Section.

Heading the Air Installation section is Maj. John C. Geffel, and he is assisted by Capt. Perry A. Schelter, production control officer; Capt. Clyde E. Smith, property officer, and 1st Lt. Sidney E. Key, engineering officer. The sections under Installations include Engineering & Drafting, Roads & Grounds, Sewage Disposal Plant, Property Section & Cost Accounting; and Water Plant.

In charge of the Installation shops and operations is Capt. M. H. Kite with Lt. Clinton E. Pratt in charge of Roads and Grounds.

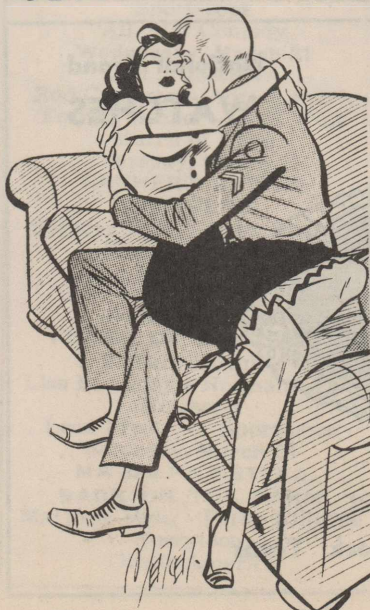

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of stories on sections that keep Reese AFB operating and fulfilling its mission of training pilots for the USAF.)

T/Sgt. DOYLE HATFIELD AND Pvt. Raymundo Gabaldon put the finishing touches on the forms that will be used in building prefabricated steps for the quarters on the base. The forms were devised by M/Sgt. L. D. Allen to speed up rehabilitation work.

No Shootin' Irons Pose a Problem For Daniel Boone

Tokyo (AFPS)—Dan'l Boone of Little Rock, Ark., got caught recently without his shootin' irons over North Korea.

Lieut. Daniel Boone was quietly taking pictures from his unarmed F-80 jet plane when 12 Russian built MIG-15s appeared. With a quick snap roll, the lieutenant barely avoided the blazing guns of the lead plane.

Three different MIGs opened up and all three missed. Dan'l was wondering how long his luck would hold when the enemy headed for home. His plane hadn't a scratch.

Camden, Tenn. (AFPS)—Farmer Reuben Barker doesn't know how to milk a cow. His wife does it. When Mrs. Barker became ill, Reuben led bossy into the living room twice daily so the missus could perform the chore.

Corinth, Miss. (AFPS)—Mrs. B. B. Voyles and Mrs. Leroy South each have four children. The two women were operated on for the same ailment, on the same day, by the same doctor, and occupied the same room. They're sisters.

SC In Drive To Instruct Personnel

Washington (AFPS)—To assure faultless operation, the Army Signal Corps has launched an intensive program of instruction for communication personnel in the importance and technique of maintaining and operating such equipment.

"Maintenance advisory teams" have been established at all Signal Corps depots and Signal Sections of Army General Depots that have a supply mission.

The teams are composed of highly skilled electronics technicians selected for their ability to teach as well as their technical knowledge.

The teams are touring the country, visiting Army installations and helping units solve their communications maintenance problems. Emphasis is placed on having equipment at peak performance and ready for combat at all times.

AF to Build Big B-52 Jets, Air Sec. Says

Washington (AFPS)—The Air Force has decided to proceed with the manufacture of B-52 Boeing jet bombers in its program to replace the B-36 with swifter and more powerful jet-propelled aircraft, Air Secretary Thomas K. Finletter said recently.

Production models of the Boeing B-52 probably will be delivered before the end of the year, Mr. Finletter said.

Two experimental models of the plane, as yet untested, are expected to complete test flights this fall, according to Secretary Finletter.

The Air Force also is studying a jet-propelled version of the B-36, made by Consolidated Vultee, Mr. Finletter stated.

These craft are expected to be ready for testing about the same time as the B-52. Following these tests, the Air Force will decide whether its future "intercontinental" bombers will be B-52's or jet-engined B-36's, or whether both will be used.

North Kansas City, Mo. (AFPS)—Banker R. H. Woolridge won the door prize at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon—but he doesn't want it. The prize was a $5 starting deposit in another bank, his only competitor.

Roseville, Calif. (AFPS)—Highway crews were summoned to fill in a "bad chuckhole" in a downtown alley. The "chuckhole" turned out to be a 200-foot-deep well uncovered by heavy rains.

AF to Rotate FEAF Airmen

Washington (AFPS)—The Air Force is planning to increase the flow of its personnel to the Far East in order to resume rotation of Far East Air Force personnel to the United States in May 1951. These replacements will maintain the combat strength of the FEAF at its present level.

Present plan calls for return during May of personnel previously scheduled for rotation in July 1950. A normal tour of duty in Japan is 30 months and varies throughout the rest of FEAF.

Although the objective of the plan is an eventual return to the rotation system in existence prior to the Korean incident, the rate at which the rotation backlog can be reduced is dependent entirely on world developments and USAF-wide requirements.

Combat experienced crew personnel are presently being returned to the U.S. in the specialty fields required to provide U.S. training establishments and newly-activated units with a valuable leavening of individuals with recent combat-zone experience.

President Holds Ancient Yearning To Try 'Chuting

Washington (AFPS)—Speaking recently to a group of paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N.C., President Harry S. Truman expressed a long-time ambition to jump from a plane.

President Truman said, "I once went up with the airborne people and wanted to jump out, and I almost got arrested by a major general, because he said he would be court-martialed if I jumped out, so I didn't get to jump."

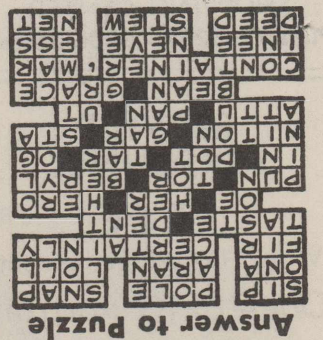

Then, he added: "I still have that anticipation and I hope some day to do it." He told the paratroopers that he hoped they would put everything they have in their work "so that if it ever becomes necessary for us to face a complete emergency" they would be ready.

Ridgway Honors French in Korea

Central Front, Korea (AFPS)—Lieut. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway supervised bestowal of the United States Presidential citation on the French battalion in Korea recently and told the French fighting men:

"This decoration will bring you, your country and your Army closer to the United States than ever before."

The citation honored the French battalion for its heroic stand with the United States Second Division's 23d Regiment in surrounding Chipyeong last month.

Did You Know . . .

That no serviceman with U. S. armed forces—in Korea, Japan, or anywhere else in the world—pays for any item distributed, or service given, by the Red Cross?

GI Joe of World War II who, at the War Department's insistence, did pay for meals and lodging—but not for cigarettes—in Red Cross service clubs would find the present-day practice entirely changed.

In Pusan, Korea, the American Red Cross has operated a service club since last November. It has been tremendously popular — 10,000 attendante on opening night, and capacity crowds since. Before military reverses caused the loss of Seoul, plans also had been made for opening a club there, and also in its seaport city, Incheon.

At the Pusan club, services and programs follow much the same pattern of World War II days, except that everything is free—a traditional policy of the Red Cross since its founding. In World War II, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson overruled this, insisted on actual cost charges at all stationary clubs. One reason—to conform with established practice of allied countries.

In asking for club charges, Secretary Stimson stated, in 1942:.... The Red Cross officials appear to be reluctant to provide these accommodations, except on a basis of no charge to servicemen.... The War Department appreciates the motive of the Red Cross with respect to this matter and its established policy of free service, but under the circumstances it is believed impractical, unnecessary, and undesirable that food and lodging be furnished free.... It is believed advisable that American soldiers be required to pay at least the actual cost of meals and lodging furnished for their convenience and benefits while on furlough...."

In the Korean war the Red Cross continues its traditional policy—no charges. Its services to fighting men include the distribution of such items as cigarettes, toilet articles, stationery. Its welfare and hospital staff in Korea —92 at present — have what amounts to front-line jobs, helping in family welfare emergencies, (including non-interest loans, or outright grants, of money for emergency needs,) distributing comfort articles, giving personal services to the wounded. In Japan, several hundred paid staff and over 3,500 volunteers are doing what they can for the comfort of men in hospitals and rest centers.

And, most important of all, life-giving blood from Red Cross collecting centers back home continues to arrive in Japan and Korea by regular air shipment for treatment of the wounded and hospitalized.

CANDY FOR BREAKFAST

by Gwen Davenport

Here is another of Gwen Davenport's incisive explorations into the American middle class home. This time in a gay, witty novel she tracks the younger generation and takes a long look at how they are sometimes educated.

Molly MacLean was thrilled to be instrumental in acquiring Dr. Frederick Macefield as principal of the Sunnyside School in Cranville. When her husband, Bill, who had been only dimly interested in the education of the children, protested that the Sunnyside pupils were not being taught the three R's, Molly begged that the "great educationist" be allowed a chance to prove just how wonderful his superprogressive methods could be. Later, as the fantastic situation rapidly developed into a fiasco, Molly and Bill and the whole town found that Methods of Maturation were hard for parents to learn as well as for the kids.

Candy for Breakfast, while hilarious to the Nth degree, is built on the solid framework of the difficulties and problems which beset honest, sincere parents in their search for the good life for their children. Gwen Davenport, it will be remembered, is the creator of the immortal Mr. Belvedere. Base Library has a copy.

AF Officers Promoted Ahead of Schedule

Washington (AFPS)—A total of 1,652 officers selected by the Air Force last fall for permanent promotion have been given temporary promotions, USAF Headquarters has announced.

Included in the promotions are 575 to the temporary grade of lieutenant colonel and 1,077 to the temporary grade of major.

All of those named were scheduled for permanent promotions this year. The temporary promotions just announced will immediately raise them to temporary ranks equivalent to the Regular ranks that they are scheduled to receive.

Intramural Basketball Nearing End Of Season

Two games marked the end of Intra-mural basketball for last week, with 3501st downing Section I, 53-44, and M & S topping Fire Dept. 48-39. Joe Lopez and Dalton Touchett, Rattler aces, led 3501st with 16 and 14 points respectively. Dale White led M & S in their victory over the Fire

Dept. by dropping in 32 points. White was one of the star centers on the Reese Rattlers during the past season.

Monday's action brought a surprise upset of PTWg by the Fire Dept, 50-48, in a see-saw battle. ABGp got Tuesday night's play under way with a 48-27 thumping of the Air Police. Charles McKinney led ABGp with 13 points and Bill Wilson added 12 to share scoring honors. In the second game, 3502nd walked over PTGp 38-22. Ronnie Lopez was high for 3502nd with 14.

ABGp, sparked by big Bill Ballard, smothered Supply 72-52 in Wednesday's opener. Ballard dropped in 35 markers for ABGp, and Baker led the losers with 22.

The league leading 3501st quintet continued their winning ways with a 56 to 37 victory over M & S. Hill was high for 01st with 17, and White was the top man for M & S with 15. In the night-cap the Fire Dept. trounced Cadets "B" 51-28. The victory gave the Fire Dept. a 7-7 season's record, and moved them in 6th place in the Intramural standings.

An anagram is a rearrangement of the letters of a word or words to make another word or words. Some types of anagrams are made by arranging words to read the same backward or forward, such as Adam's apocryphal salutation to Eve: "Madam, I'm Adam."

The Alabama, Confederate privateersman, destroyed 57 Northern vessels, valued at $6,500,000 during the Civil War. She was later sunk by the Kearsarge in a naval battle off the coast of France.

At Buffalo Lakes Picnic Site Selected

Reese personnel will have a special attraction at Buffalo Lakes this summer when the picnic area, donated to Reese by Mr. W. H. Rodgers, owner of Buffalo Lakes, is completed.

Last Tuesday a group of officers including, Colonel Thomas J. Barrett, Colonel Cecil C. McFarland, Lt. Col. Louis I. Hoffman, Lt. Col. Walter Kerbel, Lt. Col. Robert L. Wright, Lt. Col. Maurice R. Holt, Major John C. Geffel, Major Seidel M. Stephens, Capt. R. E. Englebretson, and Capt. James O. Umphries visited Buffalo Lakes, and selected the site for the Reese picnic grounds.

Work will get under way shortly to fence in the area, and to construct a boat dock, tables, shelters, barbecue pits, and a wading pool. A ball diamond will be laid out, along with a volleyball court, and horseshoe pits.

Mr. Rodgers, who resides in Lubbock, has generously donated the site to Reese, and has offered the use of lighting facilities and other conveniences to the base. Buffalo Lakes is known as one of the most beautiful spots in this area, and Reese is certainly fortunate to be honored by Mr. Rodger's thoughtful generosity.

Golf Course Being Prepared For Season

Extensive operations are under way on the golf course, and the opening date is tentatively set for May 15, according to Major Irwin Ungerleider, chairman of the Golf Tournament Committee.

It is the desire of the committee to have the course in first class condition before opening so that Reese golfers will be afforded all the conveniences of a fine golf course.

In the near future the Committee will distribute letters explaining in detail the purposes and aims of the Golf Tournament Committee, the rules under which the course will be operated, and specific data on membership in the Golf Club.

The Golf Tournament Committee includes, Major Irwin Ungerleider, Chairman, Major Seidel M. Stephens, 1st Lt. Vernon L. Behner, M-Sgt. Leo Hess, M-Sgt.

Grady E. Williams, and T-Sgt. Ike C. Lowe. Capt. R. E. Englebretson and Mr. Herman Guinn are advisory members.

MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING
After his second fight with Joe Louis, Abe Simon was a better drawing card than ever . . . a crowd puller because of his size, evil appearance and ability to "take it." He could have gotten $10,000 for fighting Harry Bobo in Pittsburg, $15,000 for a battle with Lou Nova in Washington and $5,000 a piece for a couple of fights with local favorites in California. The total bait of $35,000 was entirely net and all for Abe, and radio, movie shorts and vaudeville would have sent the figure to about $50,000, just for slinging the leather a few more months . . . but Simon couldn't take it because the picture of Willie Jackson remained in his memory. Willie Jackson had been the only fighter who could knock out Johnny Dundee but when Abe Simon met him, he was walking with a shuffle peculiar to half-paralyzed people and his curly head shook in nervous spasms. Talking thickly and slow, he was just a "beaten up has been." Money is all right but Abe Simon would rather have the "wits to count what he had than the Fifty Grand."
