

Base Shops Party At Lakes Tomorrow

A day-long barbecue tomorrow at the Buffalo Lakes recreation area promises plenty of eats and fun for Base shops personnel and their families.

Beginning at 1100 hours, the day of outing will feature swimming, games and dancing at 2100 hours. Door prizes will be awarded and the highlight of the day will be a men's beauty contest, the winner of which will be crowned "Mr. Base Shops."

Tickets are available from department heads at $1.50 per person.

THREE ON A MATCH means nothing to these absolutely un-superstitious airmen. And they're not worried at all about a jinx resulting from that ladder. Just prior to lighting those smokes these Hq. M & S Group aircraft mechanics were, left to right, S/Sgt. Arthur T. Moir, S/Sgt. Chester Kaplonski and S/Sgt. Albin G. Pinkston.

Airmen Chosen For Cadets By "Date of Qualification"

Airmen now awaiting appointments to the aviation cadet pilot training program will be notified as soon as possible as to a probable class assignment, FTAF headquarters announces.

Requests from individual airmen aviation cadet applicants for information concerning probable class assignments has prompted FTAF to evolve a plan for notifying each applicant individually.

FTAF also reports that some applicants are under the erroneous impression that others who have applied subsequent to their own applications are being called into flying training out of turn. Actually, selection for training is based on the date of qualification by FTAF headquarters. The fact that the date of qualification is sometimes several months later than the date of application, because of necessary administrative processing and occasional re-checking of applications, adds to the confusion in the minds of these applicants.

When each airman applicant is notified of a probable class assignment, in the period after 15 July, 1951, he will be furnished his exact date of qualification.

Dairy Freeze Stand Offers Cool Treats For Sultry Weather

Dairy Freeze products in all sizes, shapes and forms are now available to Reese personnel during hot summer days and nights with the opening last Saturday of the Dairy Freeze concession stand located adjacent to the base exchange.

Besides the standard nickel and dime-size cones, malts, milk shakes, sundaes, sodas and root beer floats may also be had at the shiny ice cream booth. Pints of Dairy Freeze are being sold to airmen with big families or big appetites.

Open from 0800 to 2400 hours seven days a week, the concession is operated by manager Charles Shelton. Wichita Falls businessman Robert Hamm is the owner.

Forty-Six Promoted on July List

Forty-six Reese airmen were promoted in the first four grades this month with ten corporals upped, seventeen raised to staff sergeancies, twelve made techs and seven techs boosted to master sergeant.

Topping the list were Master Sergeants: Cecil N. Richards, Albert B. Carson, Jack T. Cagle, Eugene V. Alfred, John L. Grey, Jr., George Grantham, Jr., and William J. Kneipp.

Newly-made techs include: Kelly A. Farrar, Milton E. Gilmore, Frederick A. Swetland, John D. Breeland, Jr., Charles A. Twiner, Gaylen B. Brooks, David H. Sowell, Warren C. Romary, Alfira Sapienza, Jurie L. Shabalin, Donald E. Smith and Anthony P. Ventrella.

Comprising the largest group, the following were promoted to staff: James P. Carroll, Willie B. Robinson, Raymond D. Stambeck, Jules G. Zinter, Jr., Walter D. Dickson, Walter W. Free, Allen C. Smith, Jr., Clinton Haithcock, Joe Lewis, Henry L. Eudy, Virgil Massengill, William H. Taylor, Claude R. Hagan, Arthur L. Mackey, Billy W. Kelly, Donald T. Braymen and James K. Palmer.

Corporals raised to sergeants were: Ludwig R. Glad, Herbert L. Jackson, Thomas J. Ramsey, Claxton Thompson, Roy H. Burks, Robert G. Berg, Samuel D. Smith, William O. Russ, Wattie C. Branch and Monroe E. Bull.

CIGARS AND SMILES go hand in hand as 46 sergeants receive promotions. Passing the good word, candy, and plenty of see-gars around to two pretty special order section employees are, left to right, S/Sgt. Willie B. Robinson, T/Sgt. Kelly Farar, and S/Sgt. Raymond D. Stambeck. The gals who passed up the sweets for the smokes are Bonnie Mims, left, and Virginia Rudy.

Speech Department Head ... Dr. Larson, Tech Prof, to Speak

Guest speaker for Hq Sq, PTW's Saturday AIP lecture will be the noted educator, Dr. Paul M. Larson, head of the speech department at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Speaking on the current topic, "Scandinavia Today," Dr. Larson will address over 500 officers and airmen at 1030 hours in the base theater.

Associated with Tech since September last year, Dr. Larson has 26 years in the field of education. Receiving his Ph. D. at Northwestern University, he has taught at the College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville, Tex.; Southwestern Texas State College, San Marcos, Tex., and was the head of the speech department at Southern Illinois University. He has also served as head of the speech department at the University of Denver and while there, taught classes in speech to officers and airmen at Lowry AFB, Colo.

Calling Denmark, Kan., his home, Dr. Larson is of Danish ancestry. An authority on the Scandinavian countries, he wrote his doctoral thesis on a leading Danish political, educational and religious reformer, Bishop N. F. F. Grundtvig.

This is another in a series of outstanding programs arranged for the personnel of Wing Hq Sq by Sgt. Jack D. Solomon in an effort to make the weekly presentation as interesting and infor-

Tech Debaters Here For AIP Program

"Women may be the backbone of the nation . . . but we of the negative believe they should bend that backbone around the house rather than try to run the government," Jim Choate, Texas Tech senior, said Saturday in an AIP debate at the base theater, "Resolved, that a woman should be elected president of the United States."

Choate and his colleague, David Blackbird, Tulsa, government major, thus convinced the judges that Patti Harris and Gail Littleton, Tech speech majors, were all wet in supposing that a female could aptly handle the job of chief executive.

The debate was sponsored by headquarters squadron PTW, and was arranged and moderated by Sgt. Jack D. Solomon. Chairman man of the judges and timekeeper was 1st Lt. Conrad J. Lindemann; judging the contest were Lt. Col. V. D. Boyd, Lt. Col. J. N. Jones, 2nd Lt. Nat P. Secrest and 1st Lt. G. D. Bridges.

"We Dood It Again!"

"Civilians and airmen 'mangled' together at Mackenzie Park last week."

A wreck? Or a riot?

No, just a typographical error in last week's July 4th story which should have read "mingled."

A nationally-known football coach, noted for somewhat ruthless treatment of his boys during practice, was putting his team through a back-breaking scrimmage late one afternoon. One play ended in a scrambled pile of players, and when the pile-up cleared away, there was one player lying limp on the field. The coach swaggered over to the prone player and inquired in no uncertain terms just what he thought he was doing.

"Feels like my leg is broken, sir," said the player, "I'm waiting for the Doc to come out and check it."

"Well, don't just lie there!" roared the coach, "Do some push-ups while you're waiting!"

Some people take physical fitness pretty seriously. Others, perhaps the majority, figure they get enough exercise walking to and from the coke machine.

The choice is up to the individual. But it's a sure thing that our chances of survival are a hundred times better if we're in good physical condition. And that goes for survival in combat or just plain everyday life.

Base and community athletic facilities of all kinds are at our disposal every day in the week.

We owe it to ourselves to keep in shape and better our chances of living to a "ripe old age!"

THOMAS J. BARRETT

Two cadets of the first class, 51-E, Slezak and Schultz, went to Connally AFB Monday and Tuesday to meet the regular commission, USAF, reviewing board.

Several flights are to be taken this week-end by the first class taking their three-day cross countries. Included are: Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore, Los Angeles, Miami, Houston, and New Orleans.

51-Fox men are working diligently to solo the B-25 and several probably will be turned loose next week. Both sections report satisfactory work by everyone and anticipate no trouble in all cadets and student officers soloing.

51-H Squadron A softball team defeated the members of Squadron B's team and the winners were given special open post as a reward. Squadron B will again be given the chance to play A as the second game of the series.

Community Choir to Perform at Services

Special music at the Chapel Protestant Worship Service this Sunday will be provided by the Lubbock Community Choir. This fine choir, recently organized under the direction of Mr. John Christopher, consists of volunteer members from the civilian community of Lubbock and surrounding territory, plus some members from Reese Air Force Base. Membership is open to anyone interested in music. The Choir will present two anthems at the morning worship at 1100 Hours in the Base Chapel: "All Hail the Power" by Harlo E. McCall, and "Lord, Hear Our Prayer" by Aschenbrenner. All personnel of the Base are cordially invited to attend the services and hear this fine Choir.

How Much Time Have You?

Time is a very relative thing. It can pass swift as a jet, or drag like the feet of a weary traveler. Its passing depends upon us, our interests, and the doings of the moment.

Time has value to us because our time in this life is limited. There are many things we put off "till we find time." Of course, we never do FIND any time, we just have to take it a minute at a time. And time goes by so fast, when we are interested and happy in life. Of course there are boring times, and then time does drag. But we all have just 24 hours a day, and the way we spend at least part of it is left entirely up to us.

If we did not have to rest and sleep, our time available would be increased by at least one-half, but since we do need rest, we spend about one-third of our lives sleeping. (If it were not so hot right now, that amount might be increased!) Then our work takes another third of our time, at least. You may feel your job takes a lot more—and many of them do. But we still have some of the day left to ourselves. Eating takes a good chunk of what is left, and of course we have the problem of transporting to and from work. So actually, the amount left to each of us when we can do exactly what we want to, is small.

We have a day set aside each week, the first day of the week, as a day of "rest." How much we rest is indicated by the tired faces and slowhands of Monday morning. But it is still set up as a day for rest. On that day, we are called upon by God to take time to worship and pray. But He doesn't insist, He still leaves the final decision as to what we shall do up to us. He calls it His Day, but will never force us to observe it.

Now for a little mathematics! Say we spend two hours a week in worship, and I think we would find that is above average for many, we still have spent only 1/134th of the week worshipping God. One day, time will cease to have value—that day is the day we enter Eternity. It might prove to be very worth-while if we were to spend 1/134th of our time preparing for an Eternity so endless that time ceases to have any value at all.

How much time do you have for the Church? Or for friends? Or for the better things of life? You'll never find the time for these things, you just have to TAKE it. Your days on this world may be limited, so take care how you use your time and get the most out of every minute.

BOOK OF THE WEEK A FEW BUTTONS MISSING

By James T. Fisher, M. D.

This is an easy and delightful introduction to all levels of madness—the informal story of the life and problems of a psychiatrist through half a century of practice. Here is the personal history of a man whose exceptional vigor and salty humor make this conducted tour through the subconscious both instructive and hilarious.

Dr. Fisher, a hale and hearty 87 today, was raised on an Illinois ranch, made a small fortune in his twenties in San Diego real estate, studied medicine at Harvard, worked with Freud in Vienna before Freud was world-famous, and practiced in almost all branches of the psychiatric field, even to the psychiatric screening of draftees in World War II. This task he compares to judging the quality of rivets in a jet plane as it zips by at seven hundred miles an hour.

Comrades:

To help us break down the security effort of the USAF will require co-operation from all of you such as we received last week from two Air Force members who were entertaining in one of the local night spots. They were overheard carrying on a discussion about some classified material in the presence of two strange women. This was an obvious effort to impress the ladies with their knowledge of classified material. These two men caused the compromise of some information because of a desire to inflate their ego and because of their supposed importance to the Air Force. They did not have "security consciousness." This attitude is what we are trying to encourage and develop in all Air Force people for it is one of our easiest and cheapest sources of gaining information for our cause.

Without careless people, egotistical people, or ignorant people, our sabotage, espionage, and anti-security efforts would be all in vain. With their help we will eventually have all capitalistic Americans in our labor camps for "re-indoctrination" purposes. The ones that have proven themselves unable to be trusted with information will be disposed of.

Swish . . . There Goes Townsend! . . .

Ex-Pilot Races Thru School

The Air Force may have some fast aircraft, but student officer 1st Lt. Jack H. Townsend has a few speed records of his own.

The first student to come to Reese on a qualification basis, Townsend amazed RAFB officials when he showed up between classes last week to report for training. Further checking at this station revealed that the officer was being put through the USAF aviation cadet pilot training program as quickly as he was able to pass each flight barrier.

Thus far, his records show that he entered flight training in March with 52-B, and will graduate either in September or October with 51-F or 51-G . . . which knocks off quite a sizable chunk of pilot training.

But an interview with the friendly officer reveals that he is missing nothing in the way of training. For Lieutenant Townsend first learned to fly at a little airport in Santa Rosa, Calif., his home town, just before World War II.

Then, with the war, he became a navigator in 1944, later doing a tour of duty with the 5th Air Force in the Southwest Pacific. Among his decorations are seven bronze battle stars.

After separation in 1946, Townsend returned to California, where he took a job as pilot and instructor with the Gibbs Flying Service.

But the Air Force was not through with him, for in December of last year he was ordered to active duty at Hamilton AFB, Calif., where he was slated for shipment to Hawaii.

Reluctant to give up flying, Townsend wired direct to USAF Headquarters in Washington, requesting pilot training. After an exchange of telegrams and hastily prepared applications, he was ordered to report to Goodfellow AFB, Tex., for pilot training in March.

It didn't take his instructors long to find out that Townsend was already a pilot, and when it was found that he had qualified for all aspects of basic, officials declared him eligible for advanced training on special ability.

Again, Townsend's wishes were granted, and he was sent to Reese for multi-engine school.

Here, he is taking instruction with both 51-G and 51-H, and is zooming through the training program. He is sent to advance phases upon completion of each portion of the program.

Upon arrival here, someone remarked about his story, "Guess we'll have to set up a special graduation ceremony for him tomorrow."

After he finishes training, Lieutenant Townsend says he would like to fly transport aircraft, such as the C-54. Right now, though, his chief concern, other than keeping up with his hectic schedule, is bringing his wife and children to Lubbock from San Angelo where he left them to come to Reese.

Lieutenant Townsend and his wife, Myrna, have two boys, Jack, Jr., six, and Richard, three.

Luncheon Features Rev. P. M. Runner

A salad luncheon was served by Circle Three, Mrs. M. R. Holt, chairman, at the general meeting of the Ladies Christian Fellowship of Reese Air Force Base, Tuesday, in the chapel annex.

The group was honored with the presence of Miss Maud Holt of Tucson, Ariz., sister of Chaplain Maurice R. Holt, who gave the devotion, using Psalm 116:8. Another chapter, "Making Prayer Work for You," from the book, "Prayer," was reviewed by Mrs. R. M. Pugh. Rev. P. M. Runner of the First Christian church, Lubbock, substituted for Dr. Travis White, as guest speaker and spoke on the history of the Christian Church.

LSO Schedule

TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY—Open from 1530 to 2230.

FRIDAY—Open from 1530 to 2300.

SATURDAY—Open from 1200 to 2315.

SUNDAY—Open from 1030 to 2230.

MONDAY—Closed.

Hubbettes, divided into three groups, are hostesses for Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights. All join as hostesses for Saturday night dance.

Ping-pong and other games available. Sandwiches, candy, gum, etc., may be obtained at the snack bar.

Airmen required to wear Class A uniform or long-sleeve civilian shirt with tie on nights when club has an orchestra. Airmen are invited to bring their wives. If an airman wishes to bring an out-of-town guest, he is required to call the LSO at 3-3348 prior to 1700 hours on Saturdays.

TOMORROW NIGHT — Phil Kligman's orchestra playing from 2100 to 2300 hours, Hubbettes will be partners.

Texas produced 5,000 100-pound sacks of garlic from 400 acres in 1949.

Mrs. Leroy Gregory, vice-president, presided at the business meeting. Recommendations from the executive committee meeting were presented and approved. The next executive committee meeting will be 10 August, general meeting, 14 August, and circle meeting 21 August.

Circles One, Two and Three will meet this month in the chapel annex, Tuesday, at 1300 hours, 17 July 1951, with Circle Three as hostesses. Circle Four will meet Monday, at 1930 hours in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Pilgreen, bldg. 242, apartment 102. Chaplain Thomas O. Stelling will be guest speaker.

Reese Academic Heads Confer With U. of NM Experts

Methods now being employed by USAF advanced training schools are decidedly on the right track, Dr. A. A. Welck, University of New Mexico head of testing and counseling, stated last week.

The remark came at the end of two days of conference between University and Reese Air Force Base officials on testing, training and teaching problems.

Headed by J. Max Ogle, Reese educational specialist, and Majors E. L. Davis, head of training and operations, and Winston M. Estes, assistant director of academic training, a five-man delegation journeyed to Albuquerque to study the latest methods in how to get the best from testing and counseling methods.

Others in the RAFB party were: Capt. S. K. Metsger and Lt. N. J. Fowler.

Three Go to Wichita

S-Sgt. Hershel R. Golden, Pfc. Wallace Hofmeister and S-Sgt. Claude A. Skinner, all of the 3500th Food Service squadron at Reese AFB, have been transferred to the 3520th Combat Crew Training Wing at Wichita Air Force Base, Kans.

Car Finished, ABGp Entry Ready For Contest 22 July

Wayne Herridge, 102 lbs. soaking wet, will be in there pitching when the South Plains edition of the 1951 Soap Box Derby rolls around July 22nd.

Wayne is the ward of M-Sgt. and Mrs. Kermit W. Hale, RAFB, and is one of four entrants representing various Reese squadrons in the race. As full of fight as a "young Banty rooster," Wayne is the pride of Hq. Sq. Air Base Group, his sponsor in the race, and is eagerly awaiting the elimination scramble in Lubbock.

Two weeks ago his slick racer was completed with only a few final touches remaining before the gun goes off to start the big race. Almost any afternoon will find him testing the steering mechanism and checking the wheels to get that extra burst of speed desired to produce a winner.

Wayne explains the reason for his car being pointed on the front in this manner, "it jst cuts down wind resistance." Every section in ABGp contributed to buying of the materials for the car and are almost as excited over the prospects of Wayne winning the coveted prize as Wayne himself. Capt. Charles E. Sheridan, C. O. of ABGp, says that he is a real soldier, always seeing that all buttons are buttoned and that he has a neat appearance before entering his office.

Although Wayne would like to bring home the championship trophy, the real reason for his entering the race stems from a burning desire to win the four-year scholarship given to the winner of the national finals.

The winner of the Lubbock race will go to the national finals at Akron, Ohio, where he will compete with other hopefuls from all over the United States.

Other Reese entries in the race will be: Thomas Wintle, sponsored by the 3501st Tng. Sqdn. Sect. II, Walter O. Shaw, sponsored by the NCO Mess, and James Edward Guthrie, sponsored by the 3500th Air Police sq.

Motor Trans. Officer Reassigned to Bryan

Capt. William E. Carender, who reported for duty at Reese in September 1949, has been reassigned to Randolph Air Force Base with duty station at Bryan AFB, which is being reactivated. Captain Carender has been motor transportation officer at Reese and has resided in the trailer court on the base.

Special Duty for Exec

Lt. Col. Robert L. Wright, Acting Executive Officer at Reese, is scheduled to leave Sunday for Ft. Benning, Ga., where he will spend three months on a special assignment.

Major Betts Takes New Duty at Scott

Maj. Russell W. Betts, Jr., who has been a member of the 3500th Pilot Training Wing since January 1948, is scheduled to leave this week to take up new duties with the Flying Accident Analysis Division at Headquarters, Air Training Command, Scott Air Force Base, Ill. Enroute he will spend 10 days at his home in Chattanooga, Tenn.

At Barksdale AFB, Major Betts served as a squadron commander. Upon the transfer of the wing to Reese, he became executive officer of the 3500th Air Base Group and more recently has served as Supply Staff officer.

Installation News

By Cpl. Otto Sample

After missing last week's edition due to the Fourth of July confusion, we are ready to fire both barrels. The squadron softball team should be congratulated on their fine heads-up ball playing. After losing their first two games, the team came bouncing back to win nine straight. Losing to 3501st Maint., their last game played, they now hold a solid second place with nine won and three lost. It is urged that all Installations personnel turn out for the remaining games and give our team the support they deserve.

S-Sgt. Donald C. Johnson and Sgt. Robert E. Jones enjoyed one day of freedom recently prior to their re-enlistment.

Pvt. Orba L. Stanley has been assigned to Installations with duty in the fire department.

Pfc. Stephen Stepniak has acquired the nickname "Lucky" by beating Pfc. Joseph Blackstone, Pfc. Hartley Bibbs, and S-Sgt. F. B. (Big) Turner in ping-pong. After watching some of these sharpies bounce that little white ball, he has earned the title. Pfc. Edward Snell, however, has yet to be topped on the pool table. If you have heard about putting the eight ball in the side pocket, this boy can do it.

Pfc. Lloyd O'Connor, who has been on detached duty at Francis E. Warren for a clerical course, has returned to work on the morning report with Pfc. William Dillon. When these two sons of the Eire soil get together anything can happen, and we might add, usually does.

NCO Club Notes

Bingo as usual for $375.00 . . . gonna call about 57 numbers and hope that there is a lucky person in the house. After Bingo of course there will be dancing to the music of Kay Carter and his Band. . . Saturday nite the club will present the Latinairs from the Mocambo in Holly-wood. I understand that they are well worth listening to, so come on out and sit in. For your information, the Sunday nite dances have been reinstated and we hope that we will be able to continue this form of entertainment. Monday and Tuesday nites will be open house for you to come out and have fun just as long as you don't tear the place down. Wednesday nite will be the night of the pinochle tournament with prizes for the loser and the WINNER, so if you play the game at all be sure and be there so that you have a good chance to pick up one of those prizes. Thursday nite will be open house again.

Quite a few changes are in the process of being made at the club. As you no doubt know, our secretary Buddy Goins will soon be leaving for Scott AFB to assume new duties. Needless to say we are all most sorry to see him go, for during his long tour of duty with us he has been a veritable mainstay of the mess. If you will remember, this club was first Proud parents this week are Cpl. and Mrs. Greene. The blessed event happened while the corporal was on a thirty-day leave. The baby tipped the scales at 7 pounds 4 July 1951. Congratulations and best of luck in the coming future.

Yesterday afternoon at 1430 hours near the squadron area a C-2 wrecker turned over. The cause of the accident was blamed on the balancing jacks. The jack on the right side snapped while the wrecker was unloading a freight car of wood. Pfc. John (Lucky) Oney escaped without any injury. The truck got out with minor damage.

After a great victory last week the Squadron softball team lost a close one. They were beaten by the Food Service nine, seven to five. Food Service hit pitcher S-Sgt. Shine hard in the first three innings, getting three in the second and four in the third. Our boys bounced back with two in the fifth and three in the sixth. Our batting stars were Pfc. Brown with a homer to his credit, Pfc. Wood, Pfc. Glasscock and Pfc. McGraw who hit Food Service pitching for two hits in four trips to the plate.

Promotions were plentiful this month for many airmen of the squadron. To you men, congratulations.

started in September of 1949. At that time the building was run-down and had very few improvements, none of which are still in use. Sergeant Goins started in business with 50 cases of beer, which came from no one knows where, or if they do they refuse to talk, two Coca-Cola boxes and ice. Has been with us ever since during which time he has helped this club to grow from its humble beginning to its present state, which we firmly believe to be one of the most beautiful in the Training Command. It has a sound financial foundation, being worth approximately $107,000. So take a little time the next time you see Buddy to say goodbye and let him know how we all feel about his leaving. At the same time let's all get together and welcome our new secretary, whom I am sure that you all know, M/Sgt. J. E. Bagley. He is starting on a big job and has a lot to learn; however Need a buck? Well, there's three on the bulletin board contributed by Captain Owen for men who need them. The only catch is that you should replace the one you take within 72 hours. Sgt. Sam Burnett made the buck board. Use, but don't abuse it, men.

T-Sgt. Betts, who recently re-enlisted for an indefinite period, leaves tomorrow on a 30-day furlough for his hometown of Memphis, Tenn. While he's away, T-Sgt. Geary is going to be the wheel.

The squadron bids adieu to two sections this week as the Wing Instrument school and Personal Affairs were transferred to Air Base Group.

A new assistant adjutant and supply officer, 2nd Lt. Don A. Norton, reported for duty this week after graduating and receiving an ROTC commission from Texas A. & M.

The Air Inspector section gained two new men, M-Sgt. Fred Syroka who transferred from Supply Sq., and T-Sgt. Gaylen B. Brooks from the 3502nd Maint. Sq.

After taking four straight, the softball team's winning streak was snapped Monday night by the hard-hitting M & S Gp in a 5-4 heartbreaker.

Cigar smoke is in the air again, which means promotions. The lucky ones include Donald W. Eberhart, who made Pfc., and two strippers McElveen, Keller, Beaman, Kell, Lopez, Grigsby, and Eastep.

Anyone having suggestions to improve the squadron contact one of the following members of the new character guidance council:

M-Sgt. Cates, chairman; T-Sgt. Evers, M-Sgt. Muth, T-Sgt. Betts, M-Sgt. Wood, T-Sgt. Cox, Sgt. Johnson, Sgt. Wilcox, Cpl. Witting, and S-Sgt. Stambeck.

Legal Off. Reassigned

Capt. William B. Hollingsworth, Jr., of Dubach, La., who has served as assistant legal officer at Reese since 14 June 1951 has been reassigned to Mather Air Force Base, Calif.

er I am sure that if we all cooperate with him that his task will be much easier and that the mess will benefit by the association.

Supply Sayings

By Pfc. Don Elliott

Lt. Earle R. Wolff, squadron adjutant, will soon don a pair of spectacles. This probably means more "gigs," so we'd better get on the ball and stay away from the "big bad wolf"!

Sgt. James M. Salee, who recently completed 29 months of duty in Alaska, has been transferred to our organization. Also 2nd Lts. Donald L. Jackson and John R. King have been assigned to base supply. Lieutenant Jackson and Lieutenant King received their commissions 15 May '51 at Oklahoma A. & M. through the AF ROTC. Welcome to the fold!

What with dove season opening 1 September, Capt. Leroy P. Hansen, M-Sgts. Carlton "Joe" Allen and Edward H. Crump are oiling up the shooting irons again. M-Sgt. H. L. Norworthy is spending his spare time giving his pooch, "Tiny," last-minute instructions before the big day.

Congratulations and little blue bibs to Lt. William B. Lassiter and S-Sgt. R. M. Elliott. Their sons were born the 8 and 3 of July, respectively.

Maj. Kenneth J. Morgan will soon take over the position of director of supply.

The clothing sales store is now open for all sales. "If you got the money, honey," they got the time.

Pfc. Gerald Stokes recently attended his girl's family reunion in Austin. Reckon that means the boy has plans?

T-Sgt. A. V. Simmons is acting first sergeant during the absence of 1st. Sgt. H. L. Norsworthy, who is on leave.

M-Sgt. Carlton "Joe" Allen and his wife recently returned from Missouri where they visited his mother.

Last Monday night behind the fine hurling of Cpl. Arthur L. Emery, our squadron softball team turned back the Air Police softballers, 8-4.

Judging from all comments, the AIP debate held last Saturday was a real success and we hope that more programs of that nature come our way.

3502nd News...

By Pfc. Ernest Holfoth, Jr.

We send our congratulations to M-Sgt. and Mrs. Kavalawski on the birth of a daughter, Donna Lee, weighing 7 lbs., 2 oz., 3 July. We also send our belated congratulations to T-Sgt. and Mrs. Geoffrey Gustin on the birth of a son, Ricky Donald, on 17 June.

This Sunday, 15 July, the chapel services will be sponsored by this squadron. All members of this squadron are cordially invited to attend the services.

Recent additions to the squadron are the following airmen: Pfc. Billy S. Holdren, Pfc. Harold Heuer, Pfc. Cornelius P. Stotko, Jr., and Pfc. Billy R. Birch. We hope their stay in this organization is a pleasant one.

We wish to congratulate the airmen of this squadron who were recently awarded the Good Conduct Medal or the appropriate clasp for exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity in the service of their country.

A number of airmen received promotions this month. They are M-Sgt. John L. Grey, Jr., M-Sgt. George Grantham, Jr., M-Sgt. William J. Kneipp, T-Sgt. David Sowell, T-Sgt. Warren O. Romary, T-Sgt. Alfio A. Sapienza, S-Sgt. Arthur L. Mackey, S-Sgt. Billy W. Kelley, Cpl. Hugh F. Whaley, Cpl. Thomas I. Payne, Cpl. Richard N. Lieby, Cpl. Laddie J. Harp, Pfc. Gerald Huber, and Pfc. Austin D. Baggs.

The airmen who recently returned from pleasant summer furloughs are T-Sgt. James F. Roswell, T-Sgt. James N. Burks, S-Sgt. Howard P. Naeege, Cpl. Robert E. Young, Cpl. Peter Lecorchick, Pfc. Walter E. Crawford, Pfc. Charles Tant, and Pfc. Edwin R. Banks.

Transfers for Three AACS Officers Set

Capt. Ray E. Dickson, 4013A 21st Street, Lubbock, Capt. Francis E. Balshaw of Jennings, La., and Capt. Roy H. Lanz of Searcy, Ark., all of whom have recently been ordered to active duty at Reese Air Force Base from a reserve status, have received orders for transfer. Dickson will go to Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, Balshaw to Walker AFB, N. M., and Lanz to Limestone AFB, Mo. Each will work with the AACS Detachment at their new station.

Lt. Gleeson to Bryan

First Lt. Joe D. Gleeson, 2522 2nd Street, Lubbock, who has been assigned to Reese Air Force Base since February 28, has received orders transferring him to the 2510th Pilot Training Wing at Bryan AFB, which is in the process of reactivation.

Follow The Leader . . . 3502nd Maint. Squadron

At the helm of the largest squadron on the base is an officer seasoned with 26 years continuous service. As CO of the 3502nd Maintenance Sq., Maj. Andrew B. Postlewait is charged with the responsibility of 246 enlisted men and six officers.

The major, who first entered service from his hometown of Punxsutawney, Pa., "home of the ground hog," came up the hard way. His first assignment after joining the Army as a private in Jan. 1925 was with the 34th Infantry Regiment at Ft. Eustis, Va. After working his way up to sergeant as a "gravel agitator" in 1932, he decided his future would be better with the Air Corps so he started all over again as a private.

He attended aircraft armament

school and did that type of work until 1944, but he was a captain then. In Nov. 1942 he received a direct 1st Lt. commission as armament officer at Tyndal Field, Fla. Then in Dec. '43 he went overseas to the CBI theater and remained there until Nov. '45 as maintenance officer in India with the 1st Air Commando Gp.

When he returned to the states he was assigned as maintenance officer to Goodfellow AFB, Tex. Then when Goodfellow went on inactive status in May '47 he transferred to Barksdale AFB, La., as property and production control officer with base shops. He held that assignment with the wing until taking over his present job four months ago.

A married man, he resides with his wife at 2818 41st St., in Lubbock.

An old cavalry first sergeant is riding herd on the boys in the 3502nd Maint. Sq. He's M-Sgt. Marshall W. Rogers who hails from Stamps, Ark.

It was eighteen and a half years ago that Sergeant Rogers then a private, joined the cavalry at Fort Riley, Kans. He rode his mount and did regular drill duties until March '41 when he was made first sergeant of a cavalry recon. organization. Then in Sept. '42 he was promoted to master and moved up to Recon. Gp. Hq. as sgt. major. And ever since he has given up the saddle for a comfortable desk.

Sergeant Rogers joined the Air Force in Jan. '45 and worked as chief clerk in personnel at Smyrna AFB, Tenn., and Maxwell AFB, Ala. Then in Sept. '46 to Nev. '48 he was stationed at Ashiya AFB, on the Kyushu Islands in the southern part of Japan. His job was sergeant major of the 8th Fighter Wing. He said he liked it over there, except for what he saw at Hiroshima.

"When I first went over the town was still flat on the ground. The frame buildings of pine lumber were burnt like matchsticks. A bunch of gutted, ripped stone buildings and empty houses without roofs or windows lined the streets as a monument to the devastating power of the A-Bomb. It was a sight I'll never forget."

Upon returning from overseas he joined the wing at Barksdale as chief clerk in personnel with the 3505th Maint. Sq. Then in July '49 he transferred to the 3501st Maint. Sq with the same job and remained there until Dec. '49 when he was assigned as chief clerk with the 3502nd Maint. Sq. He has been first sergeant of the organization since the first of the year.

The sergeant is married, residing with his wife and four children, Cornelia Ann, 13, Cynthia, 10, Michael, 3, and William, 4 months, at 1911 6th St. in Lubbock.

NCO Wives Hold Election; Mrs. Lowry Allen President

Highlighting Monday night's meeting of the NCO Wives club was the bi-annual election held at the NCO club. Nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Tom E. Toms announced the result as follows: president, Mrs. A. Barlow; recording secretary, Mrs. E. J. Bosko; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Sanford; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Vernon Howell; parliamentarian, Mrs. Grady Williams, and board of governors, Mrs. Cecil Brooks, Mrs. Warren Romary, Mrs. O. K. McReynolds and Mrs. Tom E. Toms.

Plans for a dinner-dance, to be held at 6:30, 23 July, were discussed and the president appointed Mrs. Leo Hess committee chairman. M/Sgt. and Mrs. Leo Hess, T/Sgt. and Mrs. J. B. Powers and S/Sgt. and Mrs. Howard Sanford are to act as hosts and hostesses.

Introduction of two new members, Mrs. John H. Dennis and Mrs. Gailon Combs, were made by Mrs. John B. Powers. Guests were Mrs. B. J. McCormick, Caruthersville, Missouri; Mrs. Mae Northern, Steele, Missouri; and Mrs. Francis Neely, Longview, Texas.

Refreshments were served following the business meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Johnathan Boggs and Mrs. Vernon Howell.

Prizes for bingo were won by Mrs. Robert Jackson and Mrs. Warren Romary.

Five Officers, Airman Attend Conference

Maj. Francis A. Maloney, Lt. Col. Walter Kerbel, Maj. Russell W. Betts, Capt. Elmer L. Kimball, 1st Lt. Lester A. B. Tapper and Sgt. Walter H. Dennis left Reese Air Force Base last enroute to Washington, D. C. where they spent five days at a conference on the 1952 construction program.

Roundup of SPORTS

... edited by Kell

Splinters from the sports desk

It was three weeks ago that the Reese Rattlers went under new management. Since that time they have been both on and off the victory trail. Bad luck has continually plagued the hard work and earnest efforts of Lt. Gene Hudman, new manager, and M-Sgt. Tom E. Toms, who has taken over the coaching reins.

The Rattlers have won three and lost five since the change was made. They say "records speak for themselves," but that is not the case with the Rattlers. In their first game for their new bosses, they edged out the Perrin AFB Pilots in the last half of the ninth on two circuit clouts by Dale White and Leo Barnes. The second game of the two-game series saw the Rattlers battle tooth and nail for the full nine innings before the Pilots eked out a 13-11 victory. On the following Sunday, a game but out-manned Hobbs, N. M., team felt the wrath of the Rattlers, 21-9.

In two return games with the Perrin Pilots at Sherman, Tex., the Rattlers bad luck held true to form as they lost out by the narrow margin of 10-9 in the first game and an 8-4 count in the second.

Last Thursday and Friday, part of you witnessed the two-game series with Goodfellow AFB, in which the locals lost the first set, but came out on top in the second. Scores, 5-6 and 6-5.

The Rattlers have the pitching and they have the hitting, with four men over the .400 mark, but the breaks have fallen the other way. From this corner we're hoping they will get that extra break, that extra push, to win in the state tournament. If so, then we just might be sporting a new trophy next week.

23 WTSC Airmen Receive O-S Shots

Twenty-three airmen of the 3469th School squadron, clerk-typist school attached to West Texas State college in Canyon, arrived at Reese via a college bus Tuesday to take shots prior to overseas processing.

Ten of the group will be sent to the European theater and 13 will receive FEAF assignments.

STATE TOURNAMENT bound is this band of Reese Rattlers pictured beside the bus which took them to the state baseball tourney at Greenville, Tex. The winner of the Greenville tournament will meet the Sinton winner for the championship crown and the right to go to Wichita, Kan., and the national tournament.

Rattlers Split Pair In Final Home Games Of Season, 6-5 And 5-6

Two identical scores, one spelling victory and the other defeat, marked the close of the 1951 home season for the Reese Rattlers as they went down under a close 6-5 count last Thursday to Goodfellow AFB on the home diamond, but came back on Friday to win by the same score.

The first game was a see-saw affair right up to the final wire as the two Inter-Service league clubs battled back and forth until the ninth inning when Goodfellow pushed across the deciding run on timely hits by Able and Wilson. Able, Wilson and Muller collected two hits for the winners, one of the base blows by Able being a long home run.

The big inning for the Rattlers came in the fourth when Ramsey Webb hit a long drive that got away from the left fielder and Webb scored. Leo Barnes then walked and was brought home on a home run by Victor Christiano, who was also the leading clubber for the Rattlers with a single and the homer.

Charles Mays suffered the loss for Reese, giving up 11 hits, while Blackum took the win as he limited the Rattlers to five bingles.

Goodfellow	020	000	301
Reese	000	301	001

Four pitchers saw action for the Rattlers in the second game, their combined efforts allowing the visitors nine hits, as Reese took the second of the two-game series, 6-5.

Kenneth Wycoff started on the hill for Reese, but was relieved in the fifth by the eventual winner, Walter Sable. Sable stayed until the eighth when Tony Santonocito came onto the scene only to be replaced by Charles Mays in the same inning.

Dalton Touchette was the most effective man with the timber for Reese, getting two for four, as did Wilson of Goodfellow.

Hansen was the losing pitcher; he gave up seven hits in his nine-inning stint.

Country Club Now Open To Military

A thirty-minute drive from the main gate at Reese leads to the sprawling green lawns and spacious club house of the Levelland Country Club. Up until recently the country club had been closed to all military personnel but now the ban has been lifted and Reese officers and airmen along with their families are invited to become members of the club.

Although not permitted to vote, military members are eligible for all golf tournaments except the President's Cup and club championship tourneys. Fees to military personnel will be ten dollars monthly which will purchase a membership card. Military personnel are permitted to bring out-of-county guests to the club by paying one dollar for each guest and fifty cents for the children at the swimming pool and regular green fees on the golf course.

Club house hours are as follows: Monday—Closed.

Tuesday through Friday—11:30 a. m. to 12:00 p. m.

Saturday—11:30 a. m. to 1 a. m.

Sunday—11:30 a. m. to 10 p. m.

'01st Adjutant Leaves

First Lt. Reuben W. Rogers, adjutant of the 3501st Maintenance Squadron at Reese, has been chosen to go to Minneapolis, Minn. for recruiting duty. Lt. Rogers reported for duty at Reese in April. His home is in Menomonie, Wis.

Rattler Baseballers Enter State Tournament At Greenville, Tex.

It's tournament time in Texas, just as it is all over the United States. For Rattler fans tournament time means the start of the 1951 state baseball tournament at Greenville and Sinton. Greenville will have the most effect on Reese followers for that is where the Reese Rattlers are making their bid for fame and fortune.

The winners of the Greenville and Sinton tourneys will meet for the state championship and later this same champion will go to Wichita, Kan., for the national tournament. A few of the other service teams in the Greenville tourney include such baseball powerhouses as Sheppard AFB, Tex., Carswell AFB, Tex., Brooks Medical and Perrin AFB.

Altogether there will be 12 teams in the double elimination tournament which started on the 12th. The Sinton tourney gets underway the 23rd, with the Greenville and Sinton winner to meet later on a date not yet decided. Sinton is boasting of two tourney favorites in the Plymouth Oilers and Alpine who last year tied for fourth place in the national tournament.

The Rattlers played their final home game of the season Friday afternoon when they defeated Goodfellow AFB, 6-5. Three make-up games remain on the Reese schedule and all of them are to be played away from home. Walker AFB, N. M., will be the scene of a two-game series on the 19th and 20th and a return game with Vance AFB, Okla., is yet to be set.

Hensley AFB, Tex., will be headquarters for the Rattlers during their stay at the tourney. Players making the trip are: 2nd Lt. Gene Hudman, manager; M-Sgt. Tom E. Toms, player-coach; S-Sgt. Paul W. Musselman, equipment manager; S-Sgt. Richard E. Bochte, Sgt. John H. Badgette, Cpl. Daniel R. Holmgren, Pvt. Charles Mays, Pfc. Victor Christiano, Pvt. Edward K. Esposito, Pvt. Frank Husak, Jr., S-Sgt. Ramsey H. Webb, Sgt. Dale White, Pfc. Anthony P. Santonocito, Capt. Leo E. Barnes, S-Sgt. Ben D. Harvey, S-Sgt. Arcie W. Holton, Pfc. John Babbitt, Sgs. Leon B. McFarland, Walter J. Sable, T-Sgt. Frederick G. Edwards, S-Sgt. Kenneth J. Wycoff and Sgt. Dalton Touchette.

THE FLYING DUTCHMAN

I think it is only fitting that we keep alive the immortal stories of the great men, and the grand old men, of the sports world. What an inspiration they are to us all, and especially the youngsters with an enthusiastic eye for a sports career. And, I think, no discussion of grand old men can be complete without a story about the eternal shortstop, Honus Wagner.

He could do everything on the field but "catch", when he was in his prime. From far back of third base, he could throw out runners at first after miraculous catches that left him sitting or lying on the turf. He was the most feared right hand batter in the game... was even better as a fielding shortstop... and a ball of fire at running bases. But what makes this a story is that his personal character matches or betters his ability. There never was a more inoffensive player than old Honus Wagner. He was proud, fair, loyal, and a true sportsman. He would actually allow himself to be put out, rather than run the risk of injuring a player, if such happened to be the case.

3501st Ahead, Inst. 2nd; Stu Off Pushed by Medics

Softball chugged full-speed ahead into the second round of play this week and as it did the Intramural League standings were thrown into a turmoil. Only two teams, in the upper division, held onto last week's ranking in the National league. The "soft-ball sockers from 3501st" got a tighter grip on first place by posting three wins during the last two weeks of competition. 3502nd didn't budge out of sixth place as they won one and lost one.

ABGp and Install merely changed places in the standings as did M&S and PTGp. Install moved into second place by virtue of two wins and a loss while ABGp dropped to third and PTGp got back into the running, moving into fourth place. M&S dropped to fifth after winning two games and dropping two.

3501st defeated second place Install earlier in the week by the massive score of 16-2. Install came back with a vengeance the next day, however, slapping down 3502nd, 12-1. M&S posted a narrow 6-5 victory over PTWg in other highlight games of the week.

Jumping over to the American circuit, the Stu Off continue to lead the pack, but are beginning to feel a nip at their heels by the Medics.

The Medics plastered the Stu Off this week with a stunning 15-3 reversal to serve notice to the Off of their approach to the top of the heap.

The Cadets also made their bid for top honors this week by defeating Section II, 14-3, and Section I, 7-6.

ROAMING AROUND

By Ed Wilson

It gives us genuine pleasure to call attention in this column to an event that happened this week in Lubbock, the opening for business of the Roy Cooper Motel.

Conveniently located about a mile north of the Courthouse on highway 87 this motel is certainly one of the finest in the Southwest if not in the nation. Any locality would be proud to possess it and you will be glad to recommend it to your friends when they stop off in Lubbock.

Besides possessing all the features that we have come to accept as standard with the better-class motels, the Roy Cooper Motel features individual room refrigerated air, and morning coffee served in your room.

Lubys suburban Cafeteria enters the pages of the Roundup this week with a service that will be appreciated by all who love good food.

Beat the Heat with an Artic Circle Air Cooler. This is certainly timely advice, and you can obtain them at the Lubbock Tire & Appliance, 1519 Avenue H.

When we last visited Town & Country, 1947-15th Street we were struck by the air of efficiency which prevades this establishment. And we could not help but feel that if you wished to have the best help in interior decorating this would be the place to refer to. Don Fulp, is manager, and he will be glad to help you in your home decorating problems.

Safety should be "Made in America."

PX Anniversary 25 July... Exchanges Celebrate 56th Year

On 25 July 1951, Army and Air Force exchanges will celebrate their fifty-sixth year of continuous service to military personnel. While the practice of special stores catering to the needs of military personnel has been traced back to the days of Caesar's legions, it was not until the close of the 19th century that such stores became an official part of the American military services.

Today, under a postwar operating system known as Centralization, exchanges guided by the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, a joint activity of the Army the humble stores of a half century ago. Under this system exchanges have been transformed into modern, attractive places to shop. Dividend payments to welfare activities have been equalized at all installations, large or small. Prices have been stabilized, overhead reduced, and all around greater efficiency brought to exchange operation.

Exchanges span the globe to provide service to American troops wherever they are stationed. From the handsome permanent type stores in the occupation areas of Germany and Japan to the mobile PX's that tour the combat front in Korea, exchanges bring familiar American merchandise to American military personnel.

FORE... IS THE CRY as 2nd Lt. Pete L'Angelle tees off on the Reese AFB golf links. More and more Reese personnel are trying their skill on the nine-hole course as the newly opened grounds offer ample opportunity to improve as well as enjoy healthful recreation.
