employment information, military papers... the list goes on and on, making the piles grow around our homes. Here's a list of what to keep, where to keep it, and for how long.

Papers To Keep Permanently

All the items listed below should be stored in a safe deposit box and/or fireproof storage for the home.

- Birth, Marriage and Death Certificates
- Adoption and Custody Papers
- Citizenship and Naturalization Papers
- Separation and Divorce Paperwork
- Settlement Agreements
- Military Documents
- Diplomas and Transcripts
- Audit Records
- Insurance Records
- IRA Contributions
- Medical History
- Employment Records
- Real Estate Records.

Such as Real property deeds, title papers, abstracts, mortgage & lien documents, tax assessment notices, purchase contracts and records of capital improvements. Be sure to include any rental properties.

• Social Security Card – In the past, we were told to carry our card with us, but the SSA now advises that the card not be carried with us, unless we are using it to show an employer or for other specific identification purposes.

Store in fireproof home storage.

- Advance Directives (living will/durable power-of-attorney for health care). Should be placed in fireproof storage in the home or safety deposit box. Copies should be held by your agents
- Insurance policies and records of claims – fireproof storage in home, with list of policies in safety deposit box.
- Inventory of household goods and appraisals – store in safety deposit box with copy in home file. Update once a year.
- Inventory of valuable papers – home file and keep copy with trusted friend. Update annually.

Items To Keep Temporarily

- Will. Store the original signed copy with the probate division of a circuit court or in a safe deposit box that is jointly rented. Keep a copy in your home file. Keep it only as long as it is in effect.
- Passports. Store in home storage or safe deposit box until they are replaced.
- Burial Lot Deed. Store in a safe deposit box for the duration of your ownership.
- Motor Vehicle Titles, Purchase Receipts, and Licenses. Store in a safe deposit box for the duration of your ownership.

• Records of Auto Service and Repair. Store in your home file for the duration of your ownership.

• Auto Insurance Card and Registration. Store in your vehicle. Some keep copies in home file. Keep only the current cards and registration.

• Stocks, Bonds, and other Securities. Store in a safe deposit box with a listing in your valuable papers inventory. Keep for the duration of your ownership plus up to six years if it is needed for tax purposes.

• Bank Accounts, Account of Ownership Registers, and Statements, Savings Certificates, list of Credit, ATM and Debit cards, Credit contracts, Records of Credit Payments, and Account Statements. Store in your home file for the duration of ownership. You may need to store them longer if necessary for tax purposes, frequently up to six years.

• Cancelled Checks. Store in your home file if they are non-tax deductible spending. Keep for a minimum of three years.

• Receipts and Records of Deductible Expenses, Income and Tax Payments. Store the current year's records in your home files. Put others in fireproof home storage after filing your taxes. Keep for a minimum of six years.

Papers You Can Toss

• Receipts not necessary for tax or warranty purposes. Some people keep receipts for everything, but receipts that aren't warranty, insurance or tax related do not need to be kept. If you keep receipts for budgeting purposes, make a weekly time to go through them and record them either on paper or on software to keep track of expenses. Throw away the receipts when you finish.

Warranties And Manuals For Items You No Longer Own

One of the best ways to store warranty information or manuals is to use a binder with clear plastic sleeves. Keep all the information related to an item (receipt, photo, warranty information, user manual) together in one sleeve. When you need to retrieve information it will all be stored together.

Coupons That Have Expired Or That You Will Never Use

We want to save money, but sometimes we cut coupons that we'll never use (dog food coupons for someone with no pets). Go through your coupons and toss the ones that aren't needed or are expired. Coupon organizers can help you sift through coupons you will really use.

Recipes You Haven't Used Or Don't Plan To

If you cut out every recipe that looks good, you may have a stack to try someday, but you'll probably never get around to them all. Be selective and throw out recipes you won't get around to using.

Copies Of Magazines

If you have stacks of magazines cluttering your living space, consider weeding out the number of copies you keep. Try cutting out only the articles you really want and storing them together.

Every Piece Of Schoolwork Your Children Ever Did

Try picking out the important papers and projects to keep. Big bulky projects may not be able to be saved. Instead, consider taking a picture and journaling about the project.

Event Announcements That Have Passed.

If you save event announcements in the hopes that you'll remember to go, you have a lot of flyers laying around. Toss them and from now on transfer date and time information to your family calendar. This will allow you to toss all the flies and still keep important event information in one centralized plan. Throw away any outdated information or papers that have no purposes.

RLISD Awards Ceremony slated

Robert Lee ISD will hold the annual End of School Year Awards Assemblies on Thursday, May 24. The Elementary Assembly will begin at 9 am, followed by the Secondary Assembly at 10 am. School will be dismissed for the summer break at 12:30 pm.

All parents and family members are encouraged to attend the assemblies.

Please feel free to contact the school office at 453-4555 for additional information.

Robert Lee Water Pipeline Update

WE ARE CLOSE!! Within the next few days, Robert Lee citizens should start to notice a change for the better in their water. Crews are working on the last two sections of the water line doing pressure testing and sampling. When this is completed, the City will start discharging water from the pipeline. Initially, the water from the pipeline will be blended with what water is in the storage system and it will take a few days to notice the difference.

Please be patient, it will get better.

Also, please remember that we will remain under water restrictions as the City monitors water usage and studies daily consumption. At the next city council meeting on Monday, June 11, a water rate increase will be discussed. Citizens will be provided an opportunity to comment regarding the proposed increase. At this time, the minimum increase being considered, is $27.00 per month. This is based on the price of treated water from the City of Bronte, and the loan portion of funding received from the Texas Water Development Board.

USDA Seeks Applications for Grants to Improve the Quality of Rural Housing

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced today that applications for grants are being accepted to help low- and very-low-income rural residents repair their homes.

"These grants help limited-income rural homeowners make necessary repairs and improvements for safer, healthier and more energy-efficient dwellings," Vilsack said. "I strongly encourage all eligible organizations to apply for this funding."

"The costs associated with maintaining a home are a challenge for many rural homeowners," said Paco Valentin, USDA Rural Development State Director. "USDA Rural Development is proud to provide housing rehabilitation funding to help rural Texans meet and improve their housing needs, a critical component to the long term sustainability of our communities."

USDA Rural Development is offering Housing Preservation Grants to intermediaries such as town or county governments, public agencies, federally recognized Indian Tribes, and non-profit and faith-based organizations. The grants are then distributed to qualified homeowners or owners of multi-family rental properties or cooperative dwellings who rent to low- and very-low-income residents. USDA does not provide funding directly to homeowners under this program.

...USDA Grants

Grants can be used to weatherize and repair existing structures, install or improve plumbing or provide access to people with disabilities. Housing Preservation Grants help bring job growth and stability to low-income communities while improving the living conditions of rural Americans.

For fiscal year 2012, USDA may award up to $4.1 million in competitive grants through the Housing Preservation Grant program. Applications are due June 25, 2012. For more information on how to apply, please see page 27179 of the May 9, 2012 Federal Register or view <http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2012-05-09/html/2012-11036.htm>

USDA, through its Rural Development mission area, administers and manages housing, business and community infrastructure and facility programs through a national network of state and local offices. Rural Development has an active portfolio of more than $165 billion in loans and loan guarantees. These programs are designed to improve the economic stability of rural communities, businesses, residents, farmers and ranchers and improve the quality of life in rural areas.

Songwriters festival slated for Kerrville

The Kerrville Folk Festival at Quiet Valley Ranch, nine miles South of the Texas Hill Country resort community of Kerrville, has announced an exciting 2012 festival schedule for its 41st annual event. Once again this legendary songwriter's festival will run for 18 straight days, from Thursday,

May 24 through Sunday, June 10, 2012.

The 2012 Grassy Hill Kerrville New Folk Competition for emerging songwriters will be held on the first Saturday and Sunday of the festival (May 26th and 27th), from 1 to 4 pm. From the almost 800 entries, 32 finalists have been selected to perform in this prestigious annual competition.

Held each year since 1972, the Kerrville Folk Festival is the longest continuously running festival of its kind in North America. Over the years it has become known internationally as a Mecca for singer songwriters of varying musical styles... a place where those just beginning to develop their skills have the opportunity to play their music along side those who are masters. Emerging songwriters as well as teachers are drawn to the festival's many learning opportunities, such as the 32nd Annual Songwriters School, the Roots / Blues

Guitar Workshop, Harmonica Workshop, Capo Workshops, a Music Law Panel Discussion, and the 11th Annual Professional Development Program for Teachers.

A complete festival schedule, information and tickets can be found at kerrvillefolkfestival.org or by calling the festival office at (830) 257-3600.
