Newell

Oliver William "Bill" Newell Jr., age 69, of Grand Marais, Minnesota, died Thursday October 11, 2012, in Lubbock, Texas, from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident.

Bill was born on January 11, 1943, in Longview, Texas. His family moved to Silver, Texas, in 1949 and Bill grew up adventuring around Silver and the surrounding area. He attended school in Silver and in Colorado City, Texas, and loved participating in sports, especially football.

After graduating high school, he attended El Dorado, Kansas, Junior College on a football scholarship and then attended an aircraft mechanical school in California. He later served in the Army and was stationed in Alaska where he excelled at and received awards for his biathlon participation.

After his time in the military, he moved to Mississippi and began working off the Louisiana coast on offshore oil rigs.

He married Gayle Hart of Colorado City and had two daughters. He and his family then moved to Fredericksburg, Texas, in 1972. Bill became a seasoned veteran in offshore drilling and worked in the field until his retirement in 2004. His work took him to Peru, Libya, Cameroon and different areas of the United States while he oversaw many aspects of the petroleum industry including drilling, production, maintenance and safety training. Upon his retirement, he spent his time between Texas and Minnesota.

Bill had the soul of an explorer and enjoyed flying planes, riding motorcycles, skiing, traveling, golfing, boating, hunting, dancing and building. Forever young at heart, he was a wonderful companion in any adventure. His greatest loves were spending time with his family and friends and watching his grandchildren grow. He had an infectious smile and heart-warming laugh, made friends wherever he went, and his generous nature endeared him to people around the globe. His legacy of generosity will continue even after his death due to Bill's choice to become a tissue donor. As many as 100 people could have their lives enhanced through Bill's gift.

He is survived by his daughter Hartley Newell-Acero, son-in-law Ramiro Acero, granddaughter, Matea Acero and grandson Doran Acero of Grand Marais, Minnesota; daughter Mary Devlin DuVall and son-in-law Mike DuVall of Austin, Texas; sister Beth Prather of Robert Lee, Texas; sister

Susan Mouser and brother-in-law Pat Mouser of Abilene, Texas; and numerous nieces and nephews.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Oliver William Newell and Dorothy Irene Devlin Newell of Robert Lee, Texas.

A memorial service for Bill will be held at the Recreation Hall in Robert Lee, Texas, on October 19, 2012, from 3 to 3:30 pm. The Recreation Hall is located on Austin Street at the county park next to the swimming pool. Visitation with the family will occur after the service and last until 6 pm.

In leau of flowers or gifts, the family encourages all to register as organ and tissue donors in honor of Bill.

Hunters Appreciation BBQ set for November 3

By Joan Davis

Plans are underway for the annual Hunters BBQ, sponsored by West Coke County Community Development. The feed, as always, will be held on the night of opening day of the hunting season-this year it falls a little early, November 3. Letters to land owners, land managers, and local businesses have gone out. Tickets for the BBQ are being printed to give to those who donate to the WCCCD. Customers of local businesses may ask for tickets as they shop.

The feed will be held in the large county recreation building at the park in Robert Lee. Serving BBQ and its trimmings will be 6-9 pm on Saturday evening.

The BBQ was suspended last year due to the drought and poor hunting conditions. The wild fires last year greatly curtailed hunting in most of West Texas. I spoke with Texas Parks & Wildlife Game Warden Jim Allen last week. He is encouraged by the improvement of county pastures and full water tanks.

He reports the deer he has observed were in good shape but the fawn crop was short-but better than last year. Antler development is maybe below average but numbers were much better. Turkey numbers may have improved slightly but not as hoped for. He has seen a small number of quail which have been pretty thin for several years. Maybe there's hope there yet if rains continue.

Hunters, if you lease to hunt, ask your rancher of land managers for free BBQ tickets. Hope to see you there!

Desserts needed for Bronte Barbeque

The annual Hunter's Wild Game Barbeque in Bronte will be held Saturday, November 3, from 11 am until 2 pm.

Coordinator Kerry Hall would like to make an appeal to area cooks to provide a dessert for the benefit barbeque.

Book Sale to Benefit the Adult Literacy Council

The annual Best Little Book Sale in Texas will be held at Luby's location, 4240 Southwest Blvd, in San Angelo, October 26-29. A preview night will be October 25, from 5-9 pm. The times are October 26-27 9 am to 6 pm, October 28-29 1-6 pm.

All monies go to the Adult Literacy Council for teaching materials. For more information call 657-0013.

Red Hat Society to meet November 6

The November meeting of the Red Hat Society will be held Tuesday, November 6, at 11 am at First Baptist Church in Bronte for the annual Potato Bake.

The final meeting of 2012 will be held December 6, at 11 am at Miss Hatties in San Angelo.

Steers Defeat Yellowhammers

By Tom Sawyer
Robert Lee hosted the Rotan Yellowhammers last Friday night for another exciting game of six man football. Conditions were perfect for play except for the mosquitoes, but the Steers don't let the little things get in the way of their goals. This team of young men has stepped up this year and showed pride, leadership, determination, and the athletic ability to meet the expectations that they have created for themselves under the leadership of their coaches.

The Steers will be on a bye week on Friday to rest up for the start of district play which will begin October 26 at home against Blackwell.

Steer fans, this is the time to step it up like the players have and get to the stadium and cheer on our team for our district games.

In a recent column I talked about population control for white-tail deer and how a better handle on the population can lead to better quality deer. In this column, I want to continue talking about deer management and discuss deer nutrition.

As any cattle rancher knows as we approach the fall and the plants go dormant what is on the rangeland is no longer sufficient enough to meet the nutritional demands of the body for livestock, the owner solves this problem by feeding a supplement to allow the livestock to make use of what is left on the rangeland.

For deer when the weather cools off the plants go dormant many of the higher stress functions of their body start. For example around thanksgiving the rut (breeding season) starts and the bucks body condition will decline through the rut, the does are about to enter their breeding season you can improve your conception rate by getting the does in good body condition prior to the breeding season.

As we all know it is not essential to feed the deer, being that they are wildlife they can survive in the wild, I think lots of times this is a forgotten fact. To improve your deer quality and quantity it can be beneficial to supplemental feed the way you would a livestock operation. By starting supplemental feeding when the plants go dormant (August or September) and ending around spring green up (March or April) you benefit both the does and the bucks and is more cost effective than feeding year round. This will improve the buck's body condition prior to the rut and will allow them to return back to good body condition after the rut. For the does the extra nutrition can increase the conception rates leading to an improved fawn crop which can lead to an improved deer size.

TxDOT to award funds to beautify, enhance Texas communities

While the Texas Department of Transportation continues to connect Texas communities through the development and expansion of critical roadways, the agency also is helping provide some much-needed improvements in cities across the Lone Star State.

TxDOT is now accepting applications for the federally-funded Transportation Enhancement Program to aid communities across the state. Up to $70 million is available to fund the improvement of areas in communities that are associated with transportation. Such projects include pedestrian and bicycle trails, the rehabilitation of historic railroad facilities, landscaping near roadways and even preventative care to protect water resources from highway runoff.

Eligible projects must demonstrate a relationship to the surface transportation system. Projects must incorporate one of the following 12 categories:

- Pedestrians/bicycles facilities
- Safety and education activities for pedestrians and bicyclists
- Acquisition of scenic easements and scenic and historic properties
- Scenic or historic highway programs (including providing tourist and welcome center facilities)
- Landscaping and other scenic beautification
- Historic preservation
- Rehabilitation and operation of historic transportation buildings, structures, or facilities (including historic railroad facilities and canals)
- Preservation of abandoned railway corridors (including conversion and use for pedestrian and bicycle facilities)
- Control and removal of outdoor advertising
- Archaeological planning and research
- Environmental mitigation to address water pollution due to highway runoff or reduce vehicle caused wildlife mortality while maintaining habitat connectivity
- Establishment of transportation museums.

Selected projects are eligible for reimbursement of up to 80 percent of allowable costs. The entity nominating a project is responsible for the remaining cost share, including cost overruns. Submissions will be accepted until 5 PM CST on Nov. 16, 2012. Applications should be submitted to local TxDOT district offices.

...Grain Referendum

"I hope I never have to collect from this fund," said Coke-Sterling County Farm Bureau President John Ross Copeland. "But it gives me peace of mind to know this is here in the event of failures like we have had in the past."

Currently, a 10-cent per bushel bond is required by the Texas Department of Agriculture for licensed grain warehouse and covers only stored grain. This has proven to be insufficient in the past to protect grain farmers when an elevator declared bankruptcy or went out of business.

The program will be run by the Texas Grain Producer Indemnity Board (TGPIB), which is made up of nine representatives including farmers, storage Facility representatives and grain buyers.

Funding for the program will come from an assessment determined by the TGPIB on all farmer-owned grain in Texas. The program will include procedures for refunds.

Enactment of the assessment is dependent on the approval of a producer referendum, to be conducted from Nov. 19 to Dec. 7.

Any farmer who has sold grain in the past 36 months will be eligible to vote. There is one vote per person.

Ballots will be available at all Texas AgriLife Extension Service county offices and must be mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture by Dec. 7 to be valid.

Robert Lee Street Affair! These Chevrolet trucks were entered in the Dang'd Ole Car Show at the 2012 Robert Lee Street Affair.

Roberts Family hosts visitors

Sheila Roberts Farrar spent the week of September 17-23, 2012, in the home of her parents, Bobby and Jeffie Roberts and her daughter and son-in-law, Crystal and Ryan Stanford all of Robert Lee. Also, spending the weekend of September 21-23 in the Roberts' home was Pam Quisenberry Bauerlein of Wimberly.

Sheila and Pam attended all the Robert Lee ISD Homecoming activities. They enjoyed seeing the Steers win the football game against Sterling City. One of the Steers, James Roberts, is Sheila's nephew. Her brother, Douglas Roberts, is a member of the Rough Creek Western Band which played music for the RLHS 1962-1977 Class Reunion who also attend the Homecoming Activities. Sheila and Pam attended the Brisket Dinner sponsored by the Robert Lee FCCLA Class of which Denise Roberts is the teacher.

Get and Be Prepared Get Prepared

In addition to listening to the emergency alert system and local health officials, you also need to know about other sources of help that are available when a disaster happens. Please become familiar with the following resources; they can provide emergency assistance and critical information during a time of disaster.

Emergency 9-1-1

9-1-1 is the universal emergency phone number for residents of the United States to use to request emergency assistance. During a disaster, do not call 9-1-1 unless the situation is life threatening.

Parents should teach their children how and when to dial 9-1-1.

2-1-1 Texas
First Call For Help

2-1-1 is a non-emergency information and referral hot line. It is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to every resident of Texas. Specialists are trained to provide callers with current information such as evacuation routes and locations of food and shelter during a disaster.

Texas Poison Control Center

If you suspect that someone has ingested or inhaled a toxic substance, immediately call the poison control center at (800) 222-1222. A trained professional will give you specific instructions on how to handle the incident. Poison control specialists are available to take calls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get Prepared

You can help protect your family during and immediately after a disaster by making a family plan, know where to go when a disaster happens.

Families differ considerably. It's important to create a plan that fits your family's needs. Regardless, all family members need to know how to respond to severe weather or any disaster that could occur in your area.

When making a family disaster plan, you will need to consider escape routes, family communication, utility shut-off and safety, insurance and vital records, special needs, caring for animals and safety skills.

Escape routes: You need to know escape routes from each room in your house as well as from your neighborhood. To establish escape routes from your house or apartment, draw up a floor plan and make sure that all family members understand the plan. Each room should have two exit points. Include all members of the household when you conduct a practice session. Be sure to select a site outside the home for everyone to meet after they've left the house.

To establish escape routes from the neighborhood, draw a map that shows all the streets and their names so that when authorities provide evacuation instructions, you will know where to go.

Family communication:

It's important to plan how your family members would contact one another if they were separated when disaster strikes. Fill out a contact card for each family member and have everyone keep a copy of it in a wallet, purse or backpack for easy reference.

Communication with emergency personnel:

If you are injured because of an accident or disaster, you may be unable to speak with emergency medical technicians. In these cases, paramedics and other emergency response personnel often turn to a victim's cell phone for clues to his or her identity and emergency contacts. You can make their job much easier by simply adding an entry in the contacts list of your cell phone: ICE. ICE stands for "In Case of Emergency." Add an entry, label it ICE, and enter the name and phone number of the person whom the emergency services should call on your behalf. Adding this entry takes only a few moments, but it can save time for the emergency personnel who can contact your loved ones quickly. Paramedics know what ICE means, and they look for it immediately.

Discussing a Disaster with Children

During emergencies, children often feel afraid, anxious, confused and worried. To help give them a sense of comfort and security, discuss the disaster with them.

Below are some tips suggested by Judith A. Myers-Walls of Purdue University.

- Assume that the children know about the disaster. Children know more you think. They are often exposed to the events as soon as they are able to watch television and interact with others.

- Reassure them. Help your children feel safe by giving them reassurance.

- Be realistic—although you try to support and protect them, you cannot prevent all bad things from happening. Tell them that you love them, no matter what happens

- Be available. Be available and "askable." Let your children know that it's OK to talk about unpleasant events

- Say how you feel. Sharing your feelings can help children know that others also are upset by the events.

- Recognize their fears. Support your children's concern for people they do not know. Children often are afraid not only for themselves, their family and their friends, but also for people they do not know.

- Be aware of other emotions. Look for feelings beyond fear. Let your children express all of their emotions.

- Find emotional outlets. Help your children use creative outlets such as art and music to express their feelings.

- Help them take action. Children may want to take action. The action can be very simple, such as writing a letter or getting involved with a disaster preparedness organization.

Wake Up America

911 was a warning to the American people to repent and come back to God.

Romney and Ryan unknowingly adopted as their campaign slogan (The America Come Back Team). They probably can't even tell you why they picked that slogan or where it came from.

In ancient Israel when the Lord was dealing with the Hebrew people, it was called "The Time of The Sheshuba". The Hebrew word sheshuba means repent, to come back, to return to God.

America is in that time of sheshuba when as a nation we have the choice to turn back to God or continue to move toward judgment.

The "American Come Back Team" a coincidence, or a sign from God as to which path our nation should take?
