These Building in Robert Lee. will be judged by Brent Hoover. Saturday, January

This year's show will feature animals in the Market Lamb, Market Goat, Market Swine and Market Steer shows, but more importantly, many young exhibitors from around the county.

The county stock show offers the youth of Coke County an opportunity to exhibit their livestock projects which they have worked with for more than 11 months, in many cases.

Besides being a worthwhile educational activity for our youth in teaching them responsibility, working with others and numerous life skills, it is an important economic endeavor when you consider the animals purchased from county producers, feed purchased locally and the premium sale monies that come in from county and other areas. The total amounts of monies generated by these exhibitors amounts to over $150,000 per year

Persons wishing to donate to the Coke County Livestock Show can contact either the County Extension office in the courthouse or one of the Livestock Association directors which include Shane Kelton, Douglas Roberts, Tom Sawyer, Terry Austin, Michael Cervenka, Riley Coalson, Corby Kelso, Curtis Knight, Steve Oleksiuk III, Terry Queen, Jonathan Reeves, Ricky Ross, Ricky Royall, Rick

What a Christmas Gift! December 28 2012, will be remembered in the years to come as a good day for the taxpayers of Coke County, Texas. That is the day when the transaction was finalized on GEO Group's sizable donation of the detention facility to Coke County. The worldwide giant corporation once owned and operated this facility at the edge of Bronte.

In early December, Judge Blair was approached by GEO executives making this offer. Upon presentation of the offer at the next session of the Commissioners Court, all commissioners voted in favor of accepting the gift.

In 2008, Coke County sold the facility to the GEO Group for 3.2 million dollars. Since that date, the only benefit to Coke County from this facility has been the annual property taxes of approximately $66,000.

Granted, with this gift, the county and the other taxing entities will lose the annual tax revenue that is generated from the property. However, the county has gained a property appraised at approximately 3.3 million dollars.

Coke County Judge Roy Blair expressed his sentiments "It is felt by the majority of persons who have examined all the aspects of this land deal that in the long run, this is a win-win for all the citizens and therefore is in the best interest of the county."

Judge Roy Blair and the Commissioners Court are currently exploring potential uses for the property to generate economic development for the county. Judge Blair states, "I have longed for this facility to be open for business in some form or fashion and bring jobs and growth to Coke County. I feel with this generous gift that this translates to a very large windfall for our county."

Sanchez, Bob Sheets, everyone to come and participate in this years Tinkler, and Mark Wright. County Livestock Show

The directors of the Coke and support the youth of County Junior Livestock our county for their hard Show would like to invite work and dedication.

Let it Snow! Coke County residents woke up last Friday morning to a beautiful blanket of snow. Reports range from 3-5 inches within the county, distributing much needed moisture.

... WCCHD meeting

(Continued from page 2) continues to be a work in progress. In the census count, there are currently 41 residents in the Care Center as of the meeting date.

Under capital projects, the renovation work in the Unit is steadily progressing, and Roger informed the Board the construction should be completed by January 18, 2013. At this point a request will then be sent to DAD's for a final inspection. The Board requested that Roger proceed with the second phase of the building remodel process, which will be the renovation of the East wing of the facility.

Accounts receivable were discussed, and the financial statements were discussed and accepted.

The Board broke for lunch from 11:55 am to 12:47 pm.

After lunch, the Board discussed the longevity bonus policy and the FMLA policy as listed in the handbook. At 1:15 pm, the Board went into Executive session to discuss personnel. They came back into regular session at 2:10 pm. No action was required.

Future agenda items were discussed and the meeting was adjourned. The next regular meeting will be January 29, 2013. Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend.

Checking out the calendar for the first month of the new year, it looks like things may be a bit quieter after the hectic rush of the Christmas holidays. On January 12, at 3:30, the Assembly of God Church will be at the facility for a time of good gospel singing. The monthly birthday party at the facility will be held January 22, at 3:30 pm. Birthday honorees this month are Elaine Norvell, Edith Blackwell, Olive Enlow, Billy Ray Ruth, Tonja Hubbard, and Ettie Hubbard. January 25, at 3:30, will find everyone assembled in the dining room for a time of fun and music at the Sing-Along. If you can arrange to be present in the facility at this time, come join in the fun! The more, the merrier!

Everyone at the facility joins the Board in wishing everyone a very happy and blessed 2013!

Vision with a Purpose meeting held

By Joan Davis

The first meeting of the new year for Robert Lee's Vision with a Purpose was held Thursday, January 3, at Victory Assembly of God's nice youth center on 6th Street in Robert Lee.

A wrap-up of the Christmas activities was the main agenda. The Christmas lighting drew a number of visitors and locals who have said it was such a pleasure to see and that it encouraged residents to put up decorations and lights. The parade was small, but for VP's first year, it was a great joy.

The first work of the year will be at the Robert Lee School, where VP members will work at the basketball games to be held January 17. They will man the concession stand that evening, beginning with preparations at mid-afternoon. Contact Janie Munoz for more information and scheduling.

Conservation Tree and Shrub Seedlings available

A limited quantity of container and bareroot seedlings are available through the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District. Deadline to order is February 1, 2013. Seedlings will be delivered and ready for pick up on February 7, 2013.

Those participating included Marshall Millican, Beverly Hawkins, Nancy Wilson, Mason Hill, Denise Roberts, James Roberts, and Kacee Roberts. It appears the younger generation had to tackle the windmill. James Roberts is shown at the top of windmill with Mason (Stomper) Hill and Kacee Roberts at the bottom.

EPA holds true to promise of no new regulations on farm dust

Many farmers and ranchers across the nation heaved a big sigh of relief earlier this month after the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) held true to its promise not to regulate farm dust.

"Had the EPA decided to regulate coarse particulate matter, or farm dust, it would be nearly impossible for farmers and ranchers to move cattle, plow their fields, plant crops and do the things that are necessary to produce America's food and fiber and still be in compliance," said John Ross Copeland Coke County Farm Bureau president.

Under the Clean Air Act, the EPA must review its standards every five years.

Farmers were concerned that the EPA would tighten its restrictions on farm dust after a federal court ordered the EPA to make a decision regarding farm dust standards by December 14, 2012. However, during this review of its regulations, the EPA opted instead to regulate fine particulate matter, or soot, and not farm dust.

"That's good news for farmers and ranchers," John Ross Copeland said. "There is no evidence that suggest coarse particulate matter is harmful. Regulating farm dust is unwarranted and unnecessary."

Check Out Coke County Library

Long-time readers of children's books remember the illustrations that make the story work. Illustrations of some favorite illustrators are now up for auction. Maurice Sendak's "Where the Wild Things Are" original illustrations are bringing from $10,000-$15,000; Dr. Seuss illustrations are going for from $20,000 to $30,000; Charles Schulz "Peanuts" illustrations sell for $25,00 to $30,000; and Garth Williams the illustrator for Little House on the Prairie series brings $25,000 to $40,000 a piece as do the Beatrice Potter

Oath of Office! Coke County Judge Roy Blair administers the Oath of Office Wednesday morning, January 2, 2013, to Coke County Commissioner Gaylon Pitcock (from left), Sheriff Wayne McCutchen, Coke County Attorney Nancy Arthur, Tax Assessor-Collector Josie Dean, and Constables Marty Boyd and Marshall Millican. Commissioner Gene Montgomery is not pictured.

"Peter Rabbit" illustrations.

A children's book illustration museum is on North First Street in downtown Abilene. It is worth a stop to see what might become some very high dollar illustrations. Children's books and their illustrations are not only worth a lot as a learning experience, but also count big at auctions. Children deserve exposure to stories and illustrations that will become more valuable through time.

Coke County library hours are Tuesdays, 8-12; Wednesdays, 8-4; Thursdays, 1-5; Fridays, 8-12. Call 453-2495 for information. Books may be returned to the book drop at the library and at the Main Street Market in Bronte.

Registration opens for Stribling Art Event

Entries now are being accepted for the upcoming Stribling Art Extravaganza scheduled March 22-24 at historic Fort Concho to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Interested persons who are at least 18 years of age and are a current or former resident of the Concho Valley are eligible and may go online to www.striblingart.org or enter by mail by calling 325-223-6313 or 223-6414. Deadline to enter is February 15th.

Ben and Beverly Stribling underwrite the annual spring show and sale which will feature an array of original works ranging from oils, acrylics and watercolors to bronzes, metal works, ceramics, wood and stone.

A Young Artists' Display featuring the works of local and area high school students will be on tap again this year and interested art teachers may call the numbers displayed above for more information.
