Farm bill decision aids now available online

Coke County farmers and ranchers who are struggling to understand the 2014 Farm Bill and the options it affords them can now find help online, thanks to a number of ag-oriented agencies and organizations.

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) and the Agricultural and Food Policy Center (AFPC) at Texas A&M University have both posted valuable information online explaining the Agricultural Risk Coverage (ARC) and Price Loss Coverage (PLC) programs," said Coke County Farm Bureau President John Ross Copeland. "There's a wealth of information available to help farmers make educated decisions regarding their futures."

Other farm organizations are also hosting meetings in their respective service areas to help farmers and ranchers understand the decisions they'll be asked to make in the coming months.

"We encourage Coke County farmers and ranchers to do their research before choosing either the ARC or PLC program as you'll have to stick that program throughout the life of the farm bill," John Ross Copeland said.

USDA will release additional information about the programs afforded through the farm bill as it's interpreted and implemented.

To access AFPC's data on the commodity title of the farm bill, visit www.afpc.tamu.edu and click on the appropriate link on the right-hand side of the page.

FSA's 2014 Farm Bill resources

Check Out Coke County Library

The Coke County Library appreciates all those who participated in the semi-annual book sale on April 4 & 5. There were some nice books donated for the sale. The remaining books will be delivered to the Adult Learning Center in San Angelo for their fundraiser.

The Library has received a flyer from Texas Tech University Office of Community Engagement. They are sponsoring an online "Reading Skills and Speed Reading Programs for Preschoolers through 10th Grade." Because it is a non-profit organization, tuition is less than half the cost of similar programs, the flyer states.

For four-year-olds the program offers letter recognition, beginning phonics, motivation and love of reading. For 6-8 graders and 9-10 graders will gain skills in "comprehension while doubling reading speed. Study skills are included in this training.

The library has copies of the flyer or call 800-978-3839 for more information. One 9th grader was quoted as saying, "I liked tracking my reading speed online and seeing it go up. It's easier to finish a book now and I like reading more." Sounds good to librarians, parents, and teachers alike.

Winning Coach! Robert Lee native, Lori Wink McDonald, has been named Girls Basketball Coach of the Year in tough Austin area basketball District 25-4A. Lori is varsity girls basketball coach and English teacher at Leander Rouse High School. A graduate of Robert Lee High School and Texas Tech University, Lori has a lifelong love for basketball competition and has been Varsity Girls Coach at Rouse since its inception, helping build the Lady Raider tradition.

Under Coach McDonald's guidance, the Lady Raiders Girls Basketball team made history at Rouse High School this season. The squad had a 26/9 win loss record, winning its first ever District Championship in strong 4A competition. The Lady Raiders went on to win Bi-District and Area, playing in the regional quarterfinals. This strong team of players put together the most successful season ever, representing Rouse High School with honor, ability, and dedication.

According to Coach McDonald, her life as a coach would not be possible without the love and support of her family pictured with her - husband Matt, daughter Ryan, and son Karson. Lori is the daughter of Robert and Marsha Wink and the granddaughter of Joyce Dodson, all of Robert Lee, Texas.

Remember to "Render!" Taxable Property Renditions are due April 15th.

Does this apply to you?

If you own tangible personal property that is used to produce income, such as equipment or inventory owned by a business, it does.

What is a rendition?

A rendition is a report to your county appraisal district that lists all of the taxable property that you owned or controlled on January 1 of this year. This often applies to furniture, fixtures, equipment or inventory owned by a business.

What are the advantages of filing?

- You give your opinion of your property's value.
- You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address.
- If your property's value depreciated, you can file a report of decreased value.

What is the deadline?

- THE LAST DAY FOR FILING RENDITIONS IS APRIL 15.
- An Automatic extension to May 15 is available if requested in writing by the April 15 deadline.
- The chief appraiser may grant an additional 15 days to an owner who shows good cause in writing.

REMEMBER!!

Filing is your responsibility. If you render late, don't render or file an incomplete or false rendition, you may face a 10 to 50 percent penalty.

"Productivity Appraisal" may lower the property taxes on your farm, ranch or timberland!

Texas law allows farmers, ranchers, wildlife managers and timber growers to pay property taxes based upon the productivity value of their land rather than on market value. This means qualified land is taxed based on its ability to produce crops, livestock or timber - not on its value on the real estate market. And it can mean substantial property tax savings.

When is the application deadline?

If your land has never had a productivity appraisal or you are a new owner, you must apply to your local appraisal district before May 1 to take advantage of this benefit on your 2014 property taxes. You may get up to 60 extra days if you have a good reason and ask for it before May 1. If you miss this deadline, you may still be able to apply, but you will pay a penalty. Check with your appraisal district office.

Do you need to reapply annually?

If your land already receives agricultural or timber productivity appraisal, you normally do not need to reapply unless the chief appraiser requires you to do so. If a new application is required, the appraisal district will notify you by mail.

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $15,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $35,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owns a home on January 1 and uses it as a primary residence on that date is entitled to a $15,000 homestead exemption to lower SCHOOL taxes. It does not matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. Counties, cities and special taxing districts may also offer homestead exemptions.

Are other exemptions available?

If you are disabled—or if you are 65 years old or older—you are entitled to an additional $10,000 school tax exemption on your home. And if you qualify for the 65 or older or disabled exemption, you are also entitled to a permanent, locked-in "ceiling" on the school property taxes on your home. The county, city or junior college may adopt a tax ceiling for 65 and older or disabled home owners. The age 65 or older homeowners school tax ceiling transfers to the surviving spouse, if the spouse is 55 years of age or older at the time of death and lives in and owns the home. The age 65 or older homeowners (or their surviving spouses 55 years of age or older) also may transfer the percentage of school tax paid, based on their former home's school tax ceiling, to a new home.

If you are a disabled veteran, surviving spouse or surviving child of a disabled veteran you are entitled to an exemption from a portion of the appraised value of your residence homestead. This includes homesteads donated to disabled veterans by charitable organizations at no cost to disabled veterans.

* PLEASE NOTE: If you are a disabled veteran who receives from the Veterans Affairs (VA) — (1) 100 percent disability compensation due to service connected disability and (2) a rating of 100 percent disabled or a determination of individual unemployability, you are entitled to an exemption from taxation of the total appraised value of your resident homestead.

If you are the surviving spouse of a U.S. armed services member killed in action, you are entitled to an exemption from taxation of the total appraised value of our residence homestead.

If you are 65 years of age or older or are disabled, and qualify for the residence homestead exemption, you should contact the appraisal district regarding any entitlement you may have to a postponement in the payment of your taxes.

Do I have to apply each year?

No. If you had a homestead exemption on your home in 2013, you will not need to reapply for 2014 unless required by the chief appraiser. However, if you have not received an exemption on your present home — or if you have moved to a new home — you will need to file for an exemption for 2014. If you are 65 this year, you may file for the age 65 or older exemption up to one year after the date you became age 65. And if you became disabled, you need to file for the disabled person's exemption.

When and where should I file?

File applications before May 1 at your appraisal district office. If you need more time, contact your local appraisal district at:
