Panthers grab big win over Indians

The Seymour Panthers used one play and hit pay dirt on a 46 yard touchdown pass.

The PAT kick was good, and the Panthers lead 0 to 7. This opening touchdown score by the Panthers gave a good insight for things to come in this District 4-A game of the week. The outcome of this conference game was Haskell 18, Seymour 66.

Haskell on their opening possession moved the pigskin 61 yards in eleven plays and got the touchdown on Kelson Agüero's 16 yard run. The two point conversion try was good as quarterback Isaiah Llewellyn hit wide receiver Austin Nanny for this try to put the Indians up 8 to 7 at the 6:04 mark of the first quarter. Sometime, you wish the game to be over, but unfortunately there was a lot of time left! By the end of the first quarter, Seymour had scored again to lead 13 to 8. The Panthers would add three touchdowns and three extra points to up their lead to 34 to 8 at the intermission.

The Panthers would add to their score four touchdowns and one extra point during this big third quarter for them. Haskell's middle linebacker, Tyrone Neskorik would intercept a two point conversion pass try and race 99 yards to give the Indians a two point conversion. Seymour would add six more points to their score on a 22 yard run by their quarterback. Haskell would score during the final quarter on a beautiful 35 yard pass and catch touchdown. The pass was from quarterback Llewellyn to wide receiver Nanny. Nanny made a spectacular catch in the south end zone. The Indians ran the two point conversion try and tail back Payne Utley got the successful call. The final score Haskell 18, Seymour 66.

District 4-A football looks to be a real fight this season. The Indians will have an open date this week and will resume district play when they host the Stamford Bulldogs at Indian Field on Oct. 22.

Haskell had 48 rushes for 165 yards with Llewellyn getting seven yards on 14 carries. Agüero had 40 yards on eleven carries and one touchdown. Neskorik got 90 yards on 19 carries and had one pass interception for a two point conversion. Kiefer McNelly got four carries for 28 yards. Llewellyn had eight passes, completed three and had one intercepted. He got a 35 yard touchdown on one of his completions. Neskorik had two catches for 53 yards and Nanny had one catch for 35 yards and this was for a 'touch.'

All Indian teams will be open this week and will resume play the following week.

TOUCHDOWN—Haskell Indian #20 Austin Nanny makes a touchdown on a 35 yard pass from Isaiah Llewellyn during the game against the Seymour Panthers last Friday night.

Sanders is Citizen of the Year

Alton Sanders was honored as Citizen of the Year at the recent Weinert Homecoming.

Born and raised in the Weinert area, he was an athletic standout, even postponing graduating in order to play an extra year of football. He married his high school sweetheart, Mildred, and together they raised two sons.

Until his retirement, Sanders stayed busy with his farming. He has always, however, made time for his community. He served many years as an outstanding Boy Scout leader, continues to serve as a deacon of First Baptist Church, has been instrumental in serving funeral meals for grieving families in the community through the years, and has led the song service at his church for the past forty-two years.

Sanders has planned the community worship service associated with homecoming for many years. Through the years, Sanders and his wife have been a part of several foreign mission trips, along with countless lay renewal missions throughout the United States, where they have had the opportunity to share Jesus Christ with others.

Sanders joins a notable list of Weinert citizens who have unselfishly given back to their community.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR—Alton Sanders was named the Citizen of the Year during the Weinert Homecoming held Oct. 2-3.

Protect against Lyme disease

by Wes Utley
CEA-Ag/NR, Haskell Co.

Research on the population of black-legged ticks (also know as deer ticks), which transmit Lyme disease from host animals to humans, reinforces that it is important to take preventative measures when spending time outdoors.

Research conducted in Illinois found that black-legged ticks were present in every count sampled and ticks carrying the Lyme disease pathogen were collected as well.

These ticks are very small, size of a poppy seed. The nymph stage of their life cycle is responsible for most of the human cases of Lyme disease because of peak seasonal activity coincides with human activity outdoors.

Preventative measures include:

- wear light-colored clothing so ticks are easy to see
- wear long sleeves and pants
- tuck pants into socks or tape pants to boots
- use insect repellent with DEET
- stay in the center of maintained trails
- do frequent tick checks
- check for ticks at the end of the day
- put clothes in dryer when you get home

PD. NOTICE

Making funeral arrangements in advance

Thinking about death is never enjoyable, but planning ahead allows you to choose the items you want and compare prices while no one is under duress. You can make plans with a funeral establishment directly or through a nonprofit funeral planning or memorial society. When making plans, it is important to consider where the remains will be buried, entombed or scattered. With prearrangements, you choose whether to pay for them in advance. If you do pay for them in advance, you won't have to worry about price increases.

Whether you make prearrangements through a nonprofit organization, purchase a prepaid funeral plan, or merely write down your preferences, give a copy of the documents to your family members and your attorney. Because wills aren't always read or even located prior to burial, don't put your preferences in your will. Review and revise your prearrangements every once in a while to assure that your needs are still met. Informing your family of your prearrangements and about any changes you make as the years go by, can ease a lot of stress later.

Protections for those who choose to enter into prepaid funeral contracts vary from state to state. Many states have laws and agencies to assure that your advance payments are available to pay for your funeral when needed. In some states, a particular percentage of your prepayment must be deposited into a state-regulated trust or to purchase a life insurance policy that is assigned to the funeral home.

According to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), these are the important issues for you to consider before entering into a contract for prepaid funeral goods and services:

•What are you paying for? Are you buying only merchandise, like a casket and vault, or are you purchasing funeral services as well?

•What happens to the money you have prepaid?

States have different requirements for handling funds paid for prearranged funeral services.

•What happens to the interest income on money that is prepaid and put into a trust account?

•Are you protected if the firm you dealt with goes out of business?

•Can you cancel the contract and get a full refund if you change your mind?

•What happens if you move to a different area or die while away from home? Some prepaid funeral plans can be transferred, but often at an added cost.

The Funeral Rule, a rule enforced by the FTC, requires funeral directors to give you itemized prices in person and over the telephone. If you ask about arrangements in person, the funeral home must give you a written price list of goods and services offered. And if you ask about buying a casket or outer burial container, the funeral home must provide you with descriptions and prices of their selection of caskets before showing the caskets to you.

According to the FTC, under the Funeral Rule:

•You have the right to choose the funeral goods and services you want (with some exceptions).

•The funeral provider must state this right in writing on the general price list.

•If state or local law requires you to buy any particular item, the funeral provider must disclose it on the price list, with a reference to the specific law.

•The funeral provider may not refuse, or charge a fee, to handle a casket you bought elsewhere.

•A funeral provider that offers cremations must make alternative containers available.

If you decide to prearrange your funeral, be a smart shopper just like you would with any other good or service you purchase. Don't let your emotions get in the way, and don't let anyone play on your emotions. And if you need help, contact your state's funeral homes and prepaid funeral contracts licensing agency.

Long-term care kits available at Health Fair

by Jane Rowan
CEA/FCS, Haskell Co.
Sixty percent of people over age 65 will need some type of long-term care at some point in time. Planning for your long-term care may seem like a daunting task—but it doesn't have to be. You can secure your future by knowing your options, planning wisely, and taking action.

Long-term care refers to a variety of services and supports that help you with health or personal care needs over an extended period of time. You may need long-term care if you develop a prolonged or chronic illness, or sustain a serious injury or disability. Long-term care may also be needed if you develop a cognitive impairment that causes memory loss or disorientation, such as Alzheimer's or even if you just need assistance due to the normal frailties of aging. Talking about aging, finances, and health can be uncomfortable and awkward—they're extremely personal and complex topics. But putting a plan in place before a crisis occurs can help ensure your long-term care choices are known, understood, and fulfilled.

Because long-term care planning can be complicated, the Texas Long-Term Care Partnership was created by the Texas Legislature to give Texans the information and tools needed to plan for long-term care. The partnership is a collaborative effort between private long-term care insurance providers, their authorized agents, and state government agencies, including the Texas Department of Insurance, the Texas Health and Human Services Commission, and the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services. This partnership has developed a "Long-Term Care Planning Kit" that is filled with information and tools to start this planning process. These kits will be available free of charge at the Haskell County Health Fair Oct. 14. The Health Fair will be open from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Haskell Memorial Hospital Education Building. The kits will be available at the Texas Extension Education Association Booth.

For more information contact Jane Rowan, County Extension Agent/FCS at the Haskell County Extension Office, 940-864-2546.

Joining the ranks with 38 previous honorees dating back to 1966 is the 2010 Haskell County TEEA woman of the year—Kathryn Schonerstedt.

Raised in the Mattson community, Schonerstedt graduated from Mattson High School and attended North Texas University. She has two sons, Randy and Rusty and one daughter, Kimberly. She has eleven grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

Schonerstedt has been employed by Poco Graphite, Decatur Community Hospital, Haskell County Extension Office, owned and operated Levis and Lace Sandwich Shoppe and is currently the Methodist Church secretary.

She was originally a member of the Weinert TEEA Club and has been a very active TEEA member on the county level where she has helped with fundraising activities by working in the stock show concession stand and assisting with the birthday calendar project. She is currently serving her second term as county TEEA treasurer. Beyond the county level, she has attended and assisted with Tri County Rally Day and participated in TEEA training meetings at district and state level.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Ed Sterling

Attorney General seeks halt to home foreclosures in Texas

AUSTIN—The Texas Attorney General's office on Oct. 5 called for a halt on all foreclosures, sales of properties previously foreclosed upon and evictions of persons residing in previously foreclosed upon properties.

Loan-servicing companies were asked to review their processes, including whether employees or agents "robo-signed" affidavits and other documents recorded in the state before proceeding with foreclosures.

Suspension notices were sent to 30 loan-servicing companies doing business in Texas in an effort to determine the full harm Texas homeowners may have suffered or could suffer as a result of these business practices.

On Oct. 6, the attorney general's office reached an agreement with Wells Fargo & Co. to provide $5 million in relief to more than 200 Texas homeowners who had "payment option" adjustable rate mortgage loans with the bank.

FEMA denies aid for Hermine

The Federal Emergency Management Agency on Oct. 8 denied Gov. Rick Perry's request for a major disaster declaration as a result of Tropical Storm Hermine, which barreled through Texas Sept. 8-10. The state may appeal.

If granted, the governor's request would have brought about $7 million in federal aid to 13 of the worst-hit counties.

FEMA said storm damage was not severe enough to warrant federal aid. Hermine caused eight deaths, destroyed about 200 homes and washed out roads and bridges.

Flu shots encouraged for all

The state health department on Oct. 5 announced that Texans over 6 months old should get a seasonal flu shot as soon as possible.

"There's no reason to wait. The supply is here," said Commissioner David Lakey of the Department of State Health Services.

"We usually see an increase in flu cases in late October or early November. It takes the vaccine about two weeks to become effective, so get vaccinated now to protect yourself and your family."

Lakey said this year's seasonal vaccine also protects against H1N1 flu. A nasal spray vaccine is an option for healthy people ages 2 to 49 who are not pregnant.

Candidate forum held without Perry reported that candidates for governor met in Houston for a debate on Oct. 3. Incumbent Gov. Perry was invited but did not appear at the forum. Questions focused on public education issues.

The Houston Chronicle

Harris County Board of Education and the Houston-area League of Women Voters, asked questions of Democratic candidate Bill White, the Green Party's Deb Shafto and Kathie Glass of the Libertarian Party.

Wild pig problem grabs spotlight

The Texas Department of Agriculture on Oct. 4 declared October "Hog Out Month—Get the Hog Outta Texas!"

An estimated 2 million feral hogs live in Texas and they cause some $400 million in damage a year in Texas. That's $200 in damage per critter.

A grant will be given to the counties with the most hogs removed. County Extension agents have more information on hog control measures and the granting program.

Tax intake shows marked uptick

The office of the Texas comptroller on Oct. 6 reported state sales tax collections totaled $1.57 billion in September, up 6.8 percent compared to a year ago.

"This increase is significantly larger than recent monthly gains which have been in the 0 to 2 percent range," said Comptroller Susan Combs. "Sales tax increases were posted across almost all sectors including oil and gas, construction, manufacturing, wholesale trade, retail trade and restaurants."

Watch for deer, TxDOT says

During fall months, there's more deer activity so Texas motorists should keep a close watch for animals that wander onto the highway, especially at night.

According to the Texas Department of Transportation more than 7,000 animal-related crashes occurred on Texas highways in 2009, many involving deer. Twenty-five of those crashes involved a fatality.

Data show recession's effects

The Center for Public Policy Priorities, an Austin-based non-profit, analyzed the 2009 American Community Survey released by the U.S. Census Bureau and reported the following:

More Texans are below the poverty line and lack health insurance compared to 2008 and most of Texas' metro area poverty rates exceed the U.S. average.

Nearly one in four Texans (23.8 percent), or almost 5.8 million people, does not have health insurance.

Ask the Mayor

By John Gannaway, Mayor of the City of Haskell

Another big weekend in the city! Allsup's had its re-grand opening. Inside is completely redone and looks great. The fence looks good and I'm sure the residents who live behind the store appreciate it as well. Stripes opened its doors; grand opening will be later. I'm told that this is the mid-size Stripes, but it seems very large to me. It also is a credit to the community. Modern Way has begun adding the stone to the columns and the fence around the store is completed. We are blessed to live in a community with so many businesses giving us a face-lift and our hometown merchants and citizens joining in. Things are looking up!

Can you just imagine the cost in concrete alone? Guess this should make Strickland a smiling man... his business is outside the city limits so guess we don't get the city sales tax...that's a shame. A story told to the wife at the grocery store: A woman in town has a child who lives in Houston who periodically comes to check on her mother. Her comment to her mom was, "What's going on in Haskell?" She could see the difference we're beginning to make. Keep on keeping on and we'll "get'er done!"

We drove our son and his wife through the town this weekend and pointed out not only the above improvements, but the school's renovation, the hospital's, the square's washed windows, the park. We have much to be proud of, but we have much to do. We must continue cleaning up the vacant lots. I noticed the boat that had been on a vacant lot next to the old Assembly of God Church building, was gone from its perch of years. Makes it look better for Highway 277 travelers; however, it is still visible from behind the building where it was moved; better, but not best! The lot north of the park behind the old Wooten filling station was mowed; better, but now reveals old metal containers that need to be hauled off or added to the War Memorial stash...once again, better, but not best!

This weekend the Disciples Now program met at First Baptist Church and they painted benches at the park and cleaned up the creek. Jason Daniels said he expected about 50 youth to be helping with that project. Way to go, kids! We did our morning walk today and noticed the improvement; however, it is an ongoing chore at the park to pick up trash others thoughtlessly toss on the ground. Today it looked as if a cooler fight had transpired—the loser scattered in pieces. We had about four handfuls on our first turn around the track. The gazebo needs to be repaired and painted and the foliage around it trimmed. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we had about 3-4 aerators in the creek beginning on Highway 380 and through the park? We had several of those in Lubbock and the ones lighted at night were quite lovely...also the aeration keeps the moss from building up and perhaps the springs would flow even more. I'm told they can be bought for about $1500 each and I have a man who works for the city who says he can install them. If anyone needs a civic project...Rotary? Lions?...any interested parties?

Had one complaint about the clean windows on the square: Lady said she saw her reflection in them... didn't like what she saw! I don't like my view from the side either. Let's keep those windows respectable. I have names of professional window washers if building owners are interested.

More questions about the streets. I sympathize with you, and as a politician (I do not often quote) said, "I feel your pain." However, the budget is still tight. The only alternative is to raise your taxes and I don't think any of us want that at this time. We're working on a method that will allow the patching of the street pot-holes to be more permanent. I'm afraid, however, there are some streets that just need to be grated down to the bone and started from scratch.

The Community Betterment Committee meets this Tuesday and I'm eager to see where their initial emphasis is going to be.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On September 17, 2010, Atmos Pipeline – Texas, a division of Atmos Energy Corporation ("APT" or the "Company"), filed a Statement of Intent to change its natural gas transportation rates for firm and interruptible customers and implement a new schedule of rates and riders applicable to all transportation customers receiving service under existing Rate Schedules CGS and Rate Schedule PT. The proposed effective date of the requested rate changes is October 22, 2010. If approved, the proposed changes will affect approximately 4 firm transportation customers and 63 interruptible transportation customers. APT's Other Revenue customer class is not affected by this filing.

If approved, the proposed rates will increase the Company's annual revenues by $38.9 million. The proposed change in rates constitutes a "major change" as that term is defined by Section 104.101 of the Texas Utilities Code. In addition, the Company seeks to recover all rate case expenses as allowed by law. The exact amount of rate case expenses will not be known until the case is completed.

Based on the proposed rate design, the meter charge will be eliminated, and the capacity charge and usage rate applicable for each of the customer classes affected by this filing will increase by the amount shown in the table below:

Customer Class	Current Meter Charge	Proposed Meter Charge	Difference
CGS – Mid-Tex	$4,356.69	$0.00	($4,356.69)
CGS-CoServ	$4,356.69	$0.00	($4,356.69)
CGS – Other	$2,425.17	$0.00	($2,425.17)
PT	$6,124.34	$0.00	($6,124.34)

Customer Class	Current Capacity Charge	Proposed Capacity Charge	Difference
CGS – Mid-Tex	$0.9988	$4.8444	$3.8456
CGS-CoServ	$0.8507	$3.9815	$3.1308
CGS – Other	$0.9988	$3.9815	$2.9827
PT	$0.0000	$2.6276	$2.6276

The customer charge reflected on the bill for each customer class is calculated as follows: customer charge = MDQ (Maximum Daily Quantity) * capacity charge (customer charge will vary by customer based on the customer's MDQ).

Customer Class	Current Usage Charge	Proposed Usage Charge	Difference
CGS-Mid-Tex	$0.2103	$0.0276	($0.1827)
CGS-CoServ	$0.1778	$0.0276	($0.1502)
CGS-Other	$0.2103	$0.0276	($0.1827)
PT-1st Tier	$0.1739	$0.0163	($0.1576)
PT-2nd Tier	$0.1579	$0.0163	($0.1416)

In addition to rate revisions, APT seeks to adopt a Rate Schedule CGS – Mid-Tex to be applicable solely to Atmos Energy Corp., Mid-Tex Division. This Rate Schedule will, consistent with the Commission's Final Order Nunc Pro Tunc in GUD No. 9869, include recovery of ad valorem taxes related to Mid-Tex's working gas in storage, as well as the return and related taxes on Mid-Tex's working gas in storage, the Accumulated Deferred Income Tax for UNICAP Section 263A and the WACOG to FIFO change related to the Mid-Tex working gas in storage. A second Rate Schedule CGS - Other is proposed for all other city gate customers that is identical to the proposed Rate Schedule CGS – Mid-Tex with the exception of the requested changes related to Mid-Tex's working gas in storage. Other proposed tariff changes include a new Rider REV, a new Rider WGIS, and minor wording changes in the other existing Riders applicable to service provided by APT. Specifically, APT seeks to adopt a new, revenue tracking mechanism (Rider REV) that will adjust Rate CGS and Rate PT annually for changes in the level of revenue received from APT's "Other Revenue" customer class in the prior year. APT also proposes to adopt a new Rider WGIS to establish a twelve (12) month surcharge to be applicable to Atmos Energy Corp, Mid-Tex Division to recover the regulatory asset balance in Account 182.3 – Other Regulatory Assets that has accumulated since the entry of the Commission's Final Order Nunc Pro Tunc in GUD No. 9869. APT proposes to adopt minor wording changes to all of its existing Riders, including a change in the title of Rider FF to Rider MF. Additional minor changes to APT's other Riders are proposed that will, for example, delete unnecessary definitions.

Persons with specific questions or desiring additional information about this filing may contact Atmos Energy Corporation at 1-214-206-2809. Complete copies of the filed Statement of Intent, including all proposed rates and schedule changes, are available for inspection at Atmos' offices located at 5420 LBJ Freeway, Suite 1600, Dallas, Texas 75240. In addition, any affected person may file in writing comments, a request for intervention or a protest concerning the proposed change in rates with the Docket Services Section of the Office of General Counsel, Railroad Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 12967, Austin, Texas 78711-2967, at any time within 30 days following the date on which the change would or has become effective. Please reference GUD Docket No. 10000.

Este es un aviso a los clientes de APT División de Atmos Energy Corporation, (la "Compañía"), que la Compañía está solicitando un cambio en la tarifa de transportación de gas natural para clientes firmes y interruptibles. Si usted tiene preguntas con respecto a este cambio, por favor llame a Atmos Energy Corporation al 1-214-206-2809.

may not sound dangerous, but the facts are that tampering with an electric meter can cause fire, hurt you or someone else and, even worse—it may kill you.

Don't tamper with your life.

FIRST PLACE AUTOMOBILE—This 1931 Model A Ford entered by Mary Murphy Photography and Ed Murphy, took first place in the automobile division at the Weinert Homecoming parade held Oct. 2. Shown with the car is Alton and Mildred Sanders.

GRAND CHAMPION ENTRY—The grand champion winning float of the Weinert Homecoming parade was entered by the Class of 1958 and was titled "58 Retirees Love America." The homecoming was held Oct. 1-3.

Friends and schoolmates gather for Weinert homecoming

The old school closed twenty years ago, but the 2010 Weinert Homecoming held Oct. 1-3 was a huge success once again. Friends and schoolmates from the present and long ago reunited, making more good times together while reliving the old ones. Early morning registration and coffee, juice and doughnuts provided by Weinert Gin gave an opportunity to roam the halls, look at class pictures, check old lockers and revive old memories.

The parade, led by Grand Marshall and former superintendent H.L. Guess, caused a crowd to gather to laugh and look and discover old friends and, once again, be amazed at the size and quality of the parade in such a tiny town. The theme of the parade this year was patriotism and it reminded us of what living in America is really all about.

The Hardin-Simmons Six White Horses proudly carried the six flags of Texas and dazzled in their red, white and blue. The Grand Champion of the parade was the Class of '58 entitled "58 Retirees Love America" showcasing their rocking chairs and exercise bikes.

Other winners were the following: Classes: "I Pledge Allegiance" Class of '67, first place and '58 Retirees Love America, second place; Family: "Sanders Produce" first place and "Sink the Bismarck" second place; Business: "Red Airplane" by Cliff's Garage in Haskell and Rockin' Grill in Knox City, second place; Organization: "Take Me to the River" City of Weinert, first place and Weinert Fire Department, second place; Youth: "Welcome Back" golf cart by Cody and Garrett Dutton, first place and Toby White's four-wheeler, second place; Automobile: bright green 1931 Model A Ford by Mary Murphy Photography and

Ed Murphy, first place and second place went to a pearl white 1955 Ford Fairlane by Dolan Vaughn.

The afternoon program began with Hal Guess giving the invocation and president Jacky Sanders giving the welcome. Penny Patton Puetz gave the response. Mary Alice Davis Carlson inspired us once again, reminding us what we learned growing up in Weinert. Shanna Murphy White shared some of her memories and sang and Wanda Miller Hester recognized classes.

After describing his life in Weinert, Sue Sanders Cox presented the Citizen of the Year to Alton Sanders.

Sue Cox held the business meeting and the benediction was given by Mary Murphy. Jacky Sanders once again provided nostalgic peanuts and bottled Cokes in the old study hall following the program.

A fish and chicken supper was followed by a gospel singing led by Alton Sanders with special music by Doris Walker, H.L. Guess, David Phemister, Alton Sanders, Bobby Isbell, Judy Gray Hicks, Wilburn Hill and Joni Bullock. Pianist was Cindy Guess. Later a dance was held in the gym with music by Dan Green and sponsored by the Weinert Ex-Students Association.

A Sunday morning worship service was held at First Baptist Church with Pastor's Pals led by Bro. Dan Bullock and special music by Don Welch, Doris Walker, Judy Hicks and Bobby Isbell. Several exes and others gave inspiring testimonies about how the Lord has worked in their lives growing up in Weinert and since.

A congregational praise of "Amazing Grace" led by Alton Sanders closed out a wonderful weekend together.

Haskell National receives award

Haskell National Bank has once again earned the highest rating for strength and stability from BauerFinancial, Inc., Coral Gables, Florida, the nation's bank rating firm. Earning Bauer's coveted 5-Star Superior rating indicates that Haskell National Bank is one of the strongest banks in the country excelling in such areas as capital adequacy, delinquent loan levels and profitability. In fact, Haskell National Bank has earned this top rating for the past 74 consecutive quarters. Only seven percent of the nation's banks can claim that distinction.

"There has been a lot of debate recently about how much capital banks should have on hand," explains Karen L. Dorway, president of BauerFinancial. "That has never been a question here at Bauer. A sizeable capital cushion can make all the difference in an economic crisis. In fact, we consider it so important that in order to earn a 5-Star rating from Bauer, Haskell National Bank's capital ratios are at least twice what federal regulators require. With twenty-seven years to back us up, Bauer has always believed that capital is king."

Established in 1890, Haskell National Bank has been serving the banking needs of its neighbors and friends for 120 years. It operates through conveniently located offices in Abilene and Haskell and can be found on the internet at www.haskellnationalbank.com.

Flu

is a serious contagious disease.

Each year thousands of people are hospitalized and die from flu complications.

Some steps to protect yourself and others from the flu that The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommend are as follows:

Vaccinate: A yearly flu vaccine is the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease. Getting a flu vaccine is very important for people at high risk for serious flu complications, including young children, pregnant women, people with chronic health conditions like asthma, diabetes, heart disease, lung disease, people who are 65 years of age or older, caregivers to the young and elderly, and health care workers.

Stop Germs: Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze, throw used tissues in the trash, wash your hands often with soap and water, use alcohol-based hand cleansers, try to avoid contact with sick people, avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth, and if you get sick with the flu stay at home from work or school.

Knowing and Trusting the Lord Psalm 9:7-10

7 God holds the high center, He sees and sets the world's mess right. 8 He decides what is right for us earthlings, gives people their just desserts. 9 God's a safe-house for the battered, a sanctuary during bad times. 10 The moment you arrive, you relax; you're never sorry you knocked. (The Message)

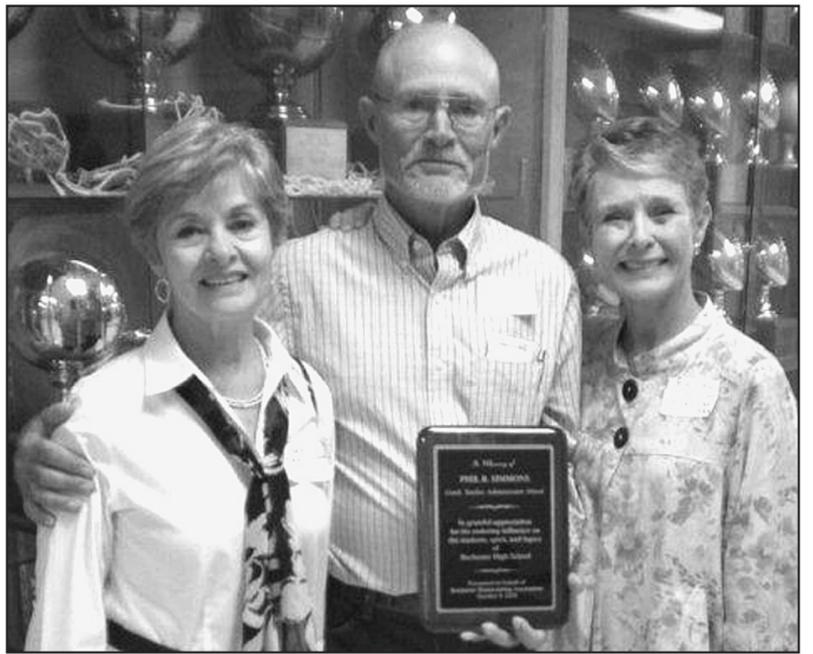

Whenever you are tempted to doubt, remember these three essential truths about the Lord:

- He is completely sovereign (Ps. 103:19). God has everything in His control even when we can't perceive it.
- He is infinitely wise (Rom. 11:33-36). The Lord knows every side of the situation (inside and out) and every event (past, present, and future).
- He loves perfectly (Ex. 34:6). Without exception, He always chooses what is best for us, even if it's not easy.

We grow in faith, not by trying harder to believe but, by following the Lord. This involves doing all we can to get to know Him, like spending time in His Word and talking to Him in prayer. Then our trust in Him will grow as we learn that He never abandons those who seek Him.

Rochester homecoming fills streets, hearts with memories

Small town pride and school spirit were very much alive and well in the crowd that poured into Rochester to relive memories and celebrate friendships from days gone by. Tough economic times took a distant back seat to replaying football games and relishing the smiles of old friends. As much as the internet's social media is enjoyed, it pales in the light of the warm embrace of an old friend.

After weeks of putting a polish on their community, Rochester residents welcomed the crowd on Friday with a stew and cornbread meal. Visitors filled tables and chairs set up along storefronts of Carothers Ave. In the waning hours of daylight, the mind's eye traveled easily back to days when Saturday nights saw Rochester brimming with people, drawn from miles around for groceries and a chance to see their neighbors.

The crowd moved to Field's Stadium for a patriotic celebration in tribute to America and to honor our veterans. Without their service and sacrifice, all that is held dear about America, including homecoming gatherings would not be possible. It was a moving sight to see Rochester veterans, many wearing caps commemorating their service, gather on the beautiful field to salute our flag against the backdrop of a West Texas sunset. These veterans, now scattered across the country, are honored each year on Veterans' Day in their respective cities, but to honor them together back in their hometown was very special. Brother Joseph Barrett, pastor of Rochester First Baptist Church, gave moving remarks that reminded those attending of what veterans have sacrificed, up to and including their very lives. Gary Strickland, veteran of the Iraq War, joined World War II veteran Herman Hearn, in carrying out a flag folding ceremony. The service concluded with a 21 gun salute and the playing of Taps. The crowd gave special honor to the flag of our country as Carson Horner made a horseback presentation of the flag to a recording of God Bless the USA by Lee Greenwood. Fireworks provided by Jim Hollingsworth concluded the ceremony. Following this tribute, Rochester roped off its main street, and music and conversation continued under a starlit sky into the closing hours of Friday.

Saturday morning registration found the cafeteria packed with ex-students enjoying coffee and donuts, reminiscing and viewing memorabilia and photo displays. Ex-cheerleaders, twirlers and drum majors gathered for coffee in the homemaking room.

The afternoon program began with a performance by the Rochester Junior High Band. Goosebumps best describes the moment as ex-Rochester students harkened back to tradition and rose spontaneously—not once, but twice—to clap along with the band's beautiful renditions of fight song, Anchors Aweigh and the Rochester School Song.

The Dyess Air Force Base Honor Guard posted the colors, and former Rochester student, Tandi Townsend, sang the National Anthem. Tommy Holmes, class of 1966, gave the invocation. Junior High Principal Reida Mullino Penman, class of 1976, formally welcomed the crowd back home. As has become tradition at Rochester Homecoming, Dickie Greenwood, class of 1976, sang, Hey, It's Good to Be Back Home Again.

The roll call of classes from 1934 to 2005 was called by Michelle Scoggins Dunnam, class of 1988. The class of 1956 had the most present. Classes of 1935, 1960 and 1985 were recognized as celebrating 75, 50 and 25 years. Earliest Rochester graduates present were honored. Ardelle Williams Beason and Bill Hudson were present from the class of 1934. Modelle Manley Barton and Carl Ray Alsobrook represented the class of 1935. The class of 1936 was represented by Paul Grinstead. Former students and teachers of country schools of Haskell County were recognized, and former administrators, teachers and staff of Rochester ISD were asked to stand, as well as present staff of Rochester Junior High. The Hollingsworth-Davidson family had the most present, and Rita Beth McWhorter Graham of Boston, Massachusetts, was the ex-student traveling the farthest to attend homecoming.

Memorial recognitions were given for individuals who have become golden threads in the tapestry of Rochester history. Former principal and superintendent, Rod Townsend, class of 1977, presented a tribute to Bob and Joyce Easterling. This Rochester family became a symbol of the very soul of community spirit. They supported Rochester in a way that we could never repay, nor readily duplicate. Former student, Cliff Crofford, who left cotton country to make it big in country music, was recognized for his achievement in the field of musical entertainment. Crofford's nieces, Beverly Barkalow and Shelby Arrington accepted a plaque on his behalf and presented a trumpet once belonging to Crofford to the school. Coach, teacher and administrator, Phil R. Simmons was also honored by the assembly. Simmons

The Rochester homecoming parade began with the flags of the United States and of Texas, carried by Ricky and Aaron Urich. They were followed by the Hardin-Simmons Six White Horses, with former White Horse rider, Amy Turner, Rochester class of 2004, rejoining the group to carry the Texas flag.

The Dyess Air Force Base Honor Guard led Rochester Veterans who served as Grand Marshall of the parade.

Awards included: Most Patriotic Float, Veterans; Most Creative Float, The Greenwood Family; Best

had as much influence on the students and legacy of Rochester High School as anyone in its history. Former student, coach and principal, J.T. Segó talked of gridiron glory and Coach Simmons' legendary play calling that often prompted debates among the defeated concerning the fine line between innovation, and bending the rules. Segó established for the record that, of course, it was all legal. In further remembrance and honor of Simmons, the Rochester Museum Association has placed a plaque recognizing his extraordinary record and influence in the Rochester Museum.

Sandra Fry provided a video of memories of Rochester. Following a business meeting, the assembly was adjourned. James Gauntt, class of 1952 gave the benediction.

Just about everybody in Rochester turned out to be part of the parade that afternoon. Flags carried by Ricky and Aaron Urich were followed by the Hardin-Simmons Six White Horses, the Dyess Honor Guard and veterans who served as Grand Marshall of the parade. The Lone Star Ladies riding group was followed by classes of 1934, 1935, and 1936 and the Haskell High School Band. Classes, churches, families, golf carts, antique automobiles, tractors, fire trucks, floats, a children's train and myriad other entries formed a parade that moved down Carothers Avenue. Entries stretched over six city blocks to clear downtown so the parade could come back through town. Following the parade, a brisket supper refueled the crowd for a night of class parties and dancing under the stars.

Sunday morning dawned quiet and still. Precious memories were overlaid with recent images of childhood friends with ageless smiles. Years and miles have separated us, but we fall so easily back into conversations that we think we have only awakened from a dream. Many who answered roll call when Rochester last gathered for homecoming did not answer this year. These were the friends and mentors of our youth, when life was simple and everyday was new. They knew our grandparents and they know our children. Theoretically, they might have climbed the water tower or raided Manford Reid's watermelon patch. Your handprints are side by side in some sidewalk here in town. These fellow travelers with whom shared Friday nights and Sunday mornings have now gone on.

The next homecoming is scheduled for 2013.

Winners in the classes parade held during pep rally on Friday include: first place, second grade with Bobcat Circus; second place, eleventh grade with Bury the Gorillas; and third place, seventh grade with Grill the Gorillas. A snake dance and bonfire were held Thursday night at the track field.

Homecoming queen and her court were Freshman, Marissa Holder; Sophomore, Lacey Tabb; Junior, Dannes Hollard; and Senior, Jenny Dudensing who received the honor of Homecoming Queen for 2010.

Assembly was closed with the benediction given by John Greeson and the tradition of facing east and singing the school song, Rule Bobcats Forever.

This Week's Devotional Message:

Faith will reveal the joy of forgiveness

If you are burdened with a feeling of resentment against someone who has wronged you in the past, you are bringing far more unhappiness to yourself than to the person whose action you resent. The Bible tells us to love one another; and to love is to forgive, no matter how serious the offense. If the Son of God, whose teachings you follow, was able to forgive those who had subjected Him to the most heinous crime in all history, you can forgive someone a far lesser offense. Go to your church and learn how love brings peace and happiness, while resentment can cause only misery to yourself and those around you.

The Hard Way.

Sure, you can stand in the street in the middle of a major intersection every day for a week with an item you want to sell, put a couple of huge signs on it, and hope someone takes you up on the offer. It might just get the job done. Or you might just end up looking foolish.

The Easy Way.

Or, you can place a Classified Ad with us and have people from all over the area clamoring to take your unwanted items off your hands for a handsome profit. Quickly and easily. And for a very small investment. So what are you waiting for? Call or email now!
