A MAMMOTH B-29 "SUPERFORT" bomber gets a going-over by Reese personnel. The four-engine giant, famous as a bomb-toter during World War II, was on the base Saturday with an instructor crew from Randolph Air Force Base. Members and officials of the combat crew training program at Randolph presented themselves and the aircraft before Reesemen in the base theater and on the flight line. (Story on page three).

Four Big Shows Next Weekend . . .

Circus Features World-Famed Acts

Two-and-a-half hours of the world's foremost circus acts will highlight the entertainment bill here next week end when the "Star Spangled Circus Review" brings the thrill of the big-top to the base gymnasium. Thirty-seven performers of major circus fame will appear in 18 outstanding acts when the review plays matinees at 1400 and evening shows at 2000 hours Friday and Saturday, 1 and 2 February, Col. Vernon D. Boyd, project officer, informed THE ROUNDUP.

The four performances here are sponsored to benefit the Reese Consolidated Non - Appropriated Welfare Fund, which will receive the profits. Tickets are being sold on a "first come, first served" basis, as the number of seats available is limited. The ducats are on sale in the squadrons at one dollar for adults and sixty cents for children. Hemphill-Wells Company opened ticket sales downtown today, as civilians are cordially invited to attend the Friday evening, Saturday matinee and Saturday evening performances.

The 514th AF band will be featured on all the shows, along with the following professional performers and their various acts:

Triska troupe, world - famous high - wire artists; the Pastels, America's outstanding acrobatic team; Wimpy, British unicycle comedian; Smeltonas, of Swedish importation, headbalancing perch act; the Pallenburgs bears; La Zallas, rings, bars and trapeze performers; the Royal Rockets, skating champions; the Plutocrats, world-famous Hollywood musical dogs; Vivian Russell, iron-jaw aerial star.

Ricardo, trained motorcycle dog sensations; Aerial Ballet, beautiful girls in aerial ballet; Irma and Reo, unsupported ladder stars; Bob Hilton, comedy table rock; Henrys, America's outstanding juggling family, Jimmy and Jerry, hand balancing; Romas family, high trapeze stars, and others.

Military personnel holding tickets for Friday matinee will be excused from regular duty to attend the circus, officials reminded.

ANNUAL MEETING

Reese Credit Union Group Plans Dividend

At their second annual meeting, Friday, 18 January, members of the Reese AFB Credit Union voted a 3.6 dividend on shares, increased the salary of the bookkeeper, employed a resident of Reese as bookkeeper and proposed that the office of the Credit Union be kept open from 1100 to 1400 hours.

Mr. Troy Gililland, treasurer, read the financial report that showed a total of 262 loans made in 1951 for the amount of $26,895.98, and that there had been $23,423.77 invested in the Credit Union. There are 485 active members.

A report of the operation of the Credit Union for the past year was made by Mr. W. D. Williams, president, who also presented a proposed budget for 1952.

Mrs. Leora B. Baynes gave a report on the operations of the credit committee. It was brought out in this report that loans were made for the purpose of consolidation of debts, financing of cars, furniture payments, medical bills any many other such items.

Mr. C. G. McKenzie of the supervisory committee made a report on the audit for the last quarter of 1951 along with some recommendations and suggestions.

New members of the managing staff were elected as follows: J. M. House, president, M/Sgt. Troy D. Brown, vice president, Miss Ruth Allen, sec and treas., E. K. Irwin, Capt. A. J. Ashton, Capt. H. P. Gilmer and W. L. Roark to the board of directors. R. M. Tuck, Capt. C. B. Hubter and 1st Lt. R. N. Gourley were named to the supervisory committee. Mrs. Leora Bayne, M. E. Harvey and M/Sgt. C. W. Griffith were appointed to the credit committee.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Income Tax Filing, Short Form Clarified by Legal Office

The yearly headache of 15 March is again approaching all persons in the United States who had an income in excess of $600.00 for the calendar year 1951. However, if your income was under $600.00 and tax was deducted from your salary, it will be to your advantage to file a return.

This article will not deal with the 1040 long form but will attempt to explain features of the 1040A or short form which will undoubtedly pertain to the majority of personnel at this base. If your income, however, was over $5,000.00 for the calendar year 1951, then you must use the long form.

The Wing Legal office has released information designed to help in completing these forms. First, read the form and try to acquaint yourself with it prior to completing it. Follow the instructions as closely as possible and make sure that each item is answered when called for.

Second, list all income from wages earned. This includes both your Air Force salary and any income you might have had from outside sources such as part time work or a job you might have held prior to your entry into the service.

Third, attach the original statement of earnings as supplied to you on your W-2 Form and retain the carbon copy for your information. If your employer has not furnished you with your withholding certificate, write to him and request it. He is required by law to furnish you with one.

Fourth, complete your form and

Drive Enters Last Week; Need Cash for Supplies

When polio strikes in epidemic proportions the equipment supply lines of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis very often mean the difference between life and death, it was disclosed this week by Maj. Ramon R. Melton, Reese project officer for the 1952 March of Dimes.

Major Melton said he was calling attention to the equipment supply phase of the National Foundation's many - sided fight against infantile paralysis to underscore the urgency of the 1952 March of Dimes, now entering its fourth and most critical week.

"We don't have too many more days in which to raise the funds necessary to carry on this massive people's attack against a single disease," he said. "Only a real March of Giving will enable us to cope with the quickening march of polio."

During 1951 the National Foundation dispatched more than 500 iron lungs to polio patients scattered throughout the country. In all, more than a million dollars' worth of emergency equipment was sent to critical areas as the National Foundation fought tripled polio incident for the fourth year in a row.

Equipment was rushed by plane and train to polio-stricken areas, and on several occasions it was necessary to fly consignments of ten iron lungs at a time to Colorado and California. California alone needed 77 lungs; Texas received 64 and Colorado 42.

The national aspects of the fight against polio were further illustrated by the fact that it was necessary to supply California's iron lung needs from all seven of the National Foundation's equipment depots in New York, Atlanta, Boston, Denver, Portland, Ore.; Columbus, O.; and San Antonio, Tex.

Usually the lungs were shipped empty, but quite often it was necessary to transport patients actually in respirators. Commercial transportation was frequently supplemented by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS), which aided the National Foundation tremendously in emergency situations.

In two of the most dramatic cases MATS flew March of Dimes iron lungs to Mexico City where American citizens had been hospitalized with polio; MATS then flew the patients, confined in the respirators, back to the United States for further treatment near their homes.

Singer Tops List Of Performers at Tues. Night Show

Pfc. Constantinos Mitchakes sang his way to a fifteen-dollar first prize Tuesday night at the special services variety show. A crowd of 100 was on hand at the first show of this kind sponsored at the service center by the personnel services section.

Harmonic duetists George Mondok and John Hitt took second place money of ten dollars and John H. Hyden's pantomime netted him five dollars for third prize.

Other contestants, selected earlier through auditions, who placed third through tenth respectively, earning two dollar awards, were: George Mondok, John Hitt, (the duo split as soloists), Thomas Wilson, Walter Stephenson, Theodore R. Ball, L. E. Wilson and John McCormick.

Master of Ceremonies Jimmy Canatell, civilian employee at the Officers' Mess, kept the show running at a smooth pace. Canatell has fourteen years professional experience in show business as a dancer.

The best contestants from this show will appear on later variety programs, Capt. Theodore R. Schmuck, personnel services officer, said. Captain Schmuck added that tentative plans call for the show to eventually become a weekly attraction at the service center.

Officials termed the show successful, and plans are already underway for future affairs of this sort.

Of course, the above items cannot begin to cope with each individual's problem and there will be many exceptions to the rule. In case you should have a question as to correctness of your form, or some other question pertaining to your personal situation, your Wing Legal office will be more than glad to assist you when contacted.

It is suggested that all interested persons watch the Daily Bulletin for the exact dates on which agents of the Internal Revenue department will be at the Wing Legal office to assist all personnel both military and civilian in the completion of both the long and short forms. By correctly completing your form, you will be able to save more money.

THE ROUNDUP

The ROUNDUP is a civilian enterprise published every Friday in the interests of military and civilian personnel of Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, Texas. Local news appearing here may be reprinted without obtaining specific clearance. News, features, photographic and art material are solicited from personnel of the Base but publication depends on availability of space and general news value as judged by the publisher. Every effort will be made to return rejected material but no responsibility can be assumed beyond the exercise of due care in expediting return. Registration for night classes at Texas Technological College is now underway at the Wing Education office and interested airmen and officers must register next week to qualify for classes this semester. Some 165 Reese personnel attended during the fall semester, increasing their formal education and their career potential for service or civilian life.

The AF education program offers you the opportunity to increase your education at any level in the service. You may earn a high school diploma by taking self-study courses, correspondence courses, or by passing the high school level General Educational Development test. If you have completed high school, you may work toward a college degree by taking correspondence courses, passing the college level General Education Development test, the 2CX (two year college equivalency) test, or by making application for "Operation Bootstrap," whereby you are allowed six months temporary duty to complete your college education. Military correspondence courses are offered through the Air University, and graduate courses in Technical subjects at the USAF Institute of Technology.

This opportunity of furthering your education is worth your serious consideration. By doing so, you become more valuable to your organization while in the service, and, if a reservist, more valuable to your future employer in civilian life.

I would like to urge you to take an inventory of your education . . . your career potential. If you have a shortage, check with the Education Officer today.

 Colonel, USAF.

KADET KORRAL

In some of the past issues of THE ROUNDUP the "Kadet Korral" has made note of some cadet teams being organized. This week we are proud to make a report on three really fine basketball games played in the past few days. Thursday night the 52-B Cadets of Squadron B defeated the AACS team by a score of 50-24. Again on Friday night the Baker Cadets of Squadron A defeated the 3501 Maintenance squad by a score of 36-23. This was a tough game for the cadets to dominate as the Maintenance team had things all tied up 15-15 at the half way mark. The last half saw the cadets surge ahead and remain there until the final whistle. Monday the Baker Cadets of squadron A defeated the Air Police by a score of 35 to 18.

There is a movement at present, that is a bit past the rumor stage, to present an all-cadet amateur show. This promises to be a fine activity as there is some fine talent here at Reese. All of the cadets who are interested in participating in a show of this nature will be given an opportunity to submit their names in the near future. Everyone is urged to give this new idea their fullest support and help to make it an enjoyable activity for everyone concerned. Full support has already been pledged in the way of facilities and other necessary requirements, so all that is needed is plenty of participants and 100% attendance to make this new idea go over. Incidentally, there will be prizes for the winners and plenty of good entertainment for those who attend, so it looks like a winning proposition for all.

Not long ago there was a treat for all of the "jet jockies" in the form of a demonstration by an F-94. Last week all of the "25" boys were given an opportunity to see a fully equipped B-29. Preceding the inspection of this craft was an interesting talk given by one of the officers from the Strategic Air Command.

YOUR THOUGHTS

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he" is the epigrammatic statement of a writer of a thousand years ago, but it is a truth which does not pass away. It also contains a vital truth for the day in which we live. What we think, or our refusal to think clearly, is affecting our lives daily. Each of us as an individual must realize his responsibility in this matter. What we think is tremendously important for our thoughts mold our personalities. The thought is the mother of the deed, and thoughts invariably lead to actions. For these reasons we ought to give some thought to what controls our thinking processes.

If we look around us, we realize that much of the thinking that we do is controlled not by God but by the society in which we live. Today's society is not noted for realistic thinking; therefore much of the thinking we do is downright fantastic. Modern psychology has revealed that much of modern man's life is motivated by "feelings." We are swayed not by clear, concise thinking but by various short cuts that catch our attention. We are conditioned to respond to irrational motivation, and we do so so often that it is practically automatic.

Notice, for instance, how often we are led in unthinking and irrational ways. We are swayed by our prejudices against people who have different religions from our own, who speak different languages or have different racial characteristics. Look at the present political arguments which urge us to vote for or against a person because he favors the "factory worker" or "big business." No politician could hope to succeed if he appealed to reason.

The thinking patterns of many of us are simply the result of laziness or thoughtlessness. Instead of thinking why we listen to certain radio programs, we simply turn the radio on to certain networks and listen indiscriminately to anything they offer. We decide to attend a movie without ever attempting to find out what kind of a movie it is. In other words, we take the course of least resistance.

T.-Sgt. Robert J. Morgan, new first sergeant of Headquarters squadron section, A-BGp, was formerly first sergeant of the Air Police squadron. Sergeant Morgan replaces M-Sgt. Tom E. Toms, who was recently transferred to duty at Big Spring AFB.

The result is evident in life all around us. We are being led astray by the voices that call the loudest. We are being influenced to behavior that destroys rather than builds character. The lack of sound thinking and of critical evaluation is rendering many of us incapable of a moral approach to life's problems. Let us yield our minds to God, that in his guidance, through his Word we may purify our minds and hearts for the tasks with which life confronts us.

Red Cross to Teach Mother, Baby Care

A special course on "Mother and Baby Care" will be offered each Tuesday and Thursday evenings beginning Tuesday, 29 January, at the Women's Club, 2020 Broadway, in Lubbock, Mr. Leland J. R. Williams, Reese Red Cross field director, said this week.

Mrs. Glenn Woody, chairman, Nursing Service, of the Lubbock chapter of ARC will conduct the classes which last from 1900 to 2100 hours. The course consists of six class sessions.

Expectant mothers in late term pregnancies and their husbands are urged to call Mr. Williams at 215 if they are interested in the course. No fee, other than sixty cents for a handbook, will be charged.

Promote 3 Officers

Seven lieutenants in Air Training Command swapped gold bars for silver last week, ATRC announced. Among them were David W. Calebaugh, John E. Johnson and Robert L. Waterman, of Reese.

NO REFLECTION here, as Donald G. Rhone looks into a "mirror" and sees not himself but his twin brother, Richard J. Rhone. The look-alike pair entered the Air Force together, underwent basic training at Lackland AFB and A&E Mechanics school at Sheppard AFB at the same time, and are now assigned to the same T-6 crew as members of the 3502nd Maintenance squadron.

Rhone Brothers ... Twins So Alike, Even Make the Same Mistakes!

"The A&E Mechanics school at Sheppard made a great impression on us," the short blond Pfc. smiled from beneath a crew haircut. "They didn't spare anything for training purposes."

"Yes, it was very good, and we liked it a lot," joined in the airman sitting beside him, also sporting a blond crew cut.

A glance back to the first speaker confirmed it. The two were speaking so well for each other because they have been together not only since enlisting in the USAF in April of last year, but from birth.

Identical twins Donald G. and Richard J. Rhone, of Philadelphia, Pa., have long been a problem to anyone trying to distinguish one from the other. Amazingly identical in appearance, the only difference between the two Pfc's is taller.

Presently assigned to a T-6 crew, 3502nd Maintenance squadron, the twins were together during basic at Lackland AFB and again at the Sheppard AFB A&E school. Having enjoyed their mechanical training, the pair agreed that they would like to continue

Officers Needed for AROTC Duty USAF

Approximately 21 additional officers will be required for duty as professor of air science and tactics and 98 as assistant PAST, Headquarters, USAF, announced this week.

Applications are to be processed in sufficient time to arrive at Headquarters, Continental Air Command not later than 15 March, 1952; however, applications received after that date will be forwarded as expeditiously as possible, the message informed.

it by attending a jet engine course, preferably at Amarillo AFB, they said.

Before entering service Richard and Donald were self-employed as painters and contractors in Pennsylvania. Always together, their hobbies even take a similar turn as both are ardent hunters and fishermen. Both are members of a sportsmen's club at their favorite outdoor recreation site.

But physical characteristics aren't the only identical features about the Rhone twins ... they even think alike. Proof: both inadvertently misspelled the same word while completing their personal questionnaire forms!

Randolph B-29 School ...

Instructors Explain Bomber Here

Combat crew training in the B-29 "Superfort" medium bomber was explained to Reese cadets, officers and airmen Saturday by Col. Gaillard R. Peck, 3510th Combat Crew Training Wing, Randolph Air Force base, Tex., and ten officers and airmen instructors and officials of the program. The group arrived at Reese in one of the four-engine bombers of World War II fame at 9:30 Saturday morning.

Speaking before a Reese audience in the base theater, Colonel Peck discussed the Randolph training program and the B-29 bomber and its present use by the Air Force as a training aircraft and a military weapon in Korea. In the Randolph transition school, he explained, complete crews of 11 men are trained to be "combat ready." Following training at the school, entire crews, almost without exception, he said, are assigned to duty with the Strategic Air Command in the Far East. Before actual assignment, however, the men are given further training at other Air Force bases.

Only the most qualified pilots are selected to fly the B-29s, the colonel stipulated. Aircraft commanders, as well as navigators, bombardiers, radar officers, radiomen, engineers and gunners receive through schooling in the aircraft and in ground during their combat crew training. One of the training missions during transition is a 14-hour flight from Randolph, over the Gulf of Mexico to Florida where the bomb teams make radar-simulated bomb runs on cities, drop live bombs on ranges and "shoot" jet fighter interceptors with film.

Following the talk Colonel Peck answered questions from the audience and later invited Reese personnel to discuss the program informally with members of the instructor crew.

Colonel Peck was introduced to the audience by Col. Cecil C. McFarland, commanding officer of PTGp. Maj. Jack Blackwell, aircraft commander, introduced the crew of the Randolph B-29 which included: Capt. Arthur B. Wilcox, Jr., pilot, Capt. Harry H. Vaughan, navigator, Capt. Dale T. Sarrett, bombardier, Capt. Sumner S. Pierce, VO, M/Sgt. Herman A. Hoke, flight engineer, S/Sgt. Samuel T. Riker, radioman, T/Sgt. Stewart T. Swan and T/Sgt. William W. Mathews, gunners. Capt. Carlton H. McConnell, of Randolph training analysis and development, also accompanied the group.

Regular AF Members Cannot Vote in Texas

The Attorney General's office, Austin, Tex., has announced that members of the Regular Air Force are prohibited from voting in this state.

However, persons not a member of the Regular Air Force of the United States and otherwise qualified may vote in elections in Texas. Persons desiring to vote in the 1952 general election in this state are required to pay a poll tax before 31 January, 1952.

NCO General Meeting To Name New Head

A general meeting of members of the NCO Mess will be held at the base theater at 1500 hours, 30 January, for the purpose of electing a president of the club, Mess officials stated.

All members are urged to attend.

SCALPED TWICE BY CHEROKEES

Vance Tops Rattlers 57-51, 74-50

Last week the Reese Rattlers ventured to Vance AFB in Oklahoma for a pair of Inter-Service Conference games and dropped them both, 57-51, and 74-50.

The opening affair was a close ball game from start to finish and found the Rattlers leading until the last four minutes of play when the Vance Cherokees put on a last-minute rally to pull ahead and win.

Reese was without the services of one of their best floor men, Joe Lopez, who was forced to stay at Reese due to illness.

Reese's scoring was fairly evenly divided, but found Coach Sunderlage coming out on top with 21 points. Jerry Duncil was high for Vance with 19.

Vance Was Hot

Hitting 31 out of 65 shots from the floor, the Vance team gave the Rattlers their second defeat in two nights by a 74-50 count.

This ball game was the exact opposite of the first game in that the Cherokees led all the way from the starting center jump. Jerry Duncil put on a one-man show on the floor and hit the bucket from no matter where he shot the ball. He hit 15 out of 25 shots from the floor and added six out of seven free throws for a 36-point game total and a fine exhibition of ball handling. He used a jump shot while fading away from the basket, next to impossible to stop.

Gavin and Sunderlage tied for scoring honors on the Reese side of the ledger with 14 points each.

Skeet Range Open

The RAFB skeet range, located at the north end of the base, is in operation from 1300 to 1600 hours each week day. Rated personnel on flying status are eligible to use the skeet facilities, Maj. Buford M. Humphries, assistant wing operations officer, said.

George Washington's first employer was Lord Fairfax, whose lands he surveyed.

REA Travelers Down Reesemen 77-66 in Artesia

In a game played at Artesia, N. M., Monday night, the Reese Rattlers were downed by the REA "Travelers" of the AAU Basketball league, 77-66.

The Travelers had five former All-Americans in their starting line-up and proved to be a strong second half team by controlling both backboards and hitting at will from the floor.

The Rattlers played their best game of the year and led the entire first half by margins varying from one to nine points. The Reese team led at the end of the first half, 30-27. After the intermission, the REA found the basket and with Don Heathington hitting from the floor and Dick Eicher getting three quick tip-ins from baskets, the Travelers slowly pulled away until the final gun.

Lt. Don Sunderlage put on a brilliant display of scoring for the Rattlers and ended up with game honors in that department with 33, while Joe Lopez hit seven out of 15 from the floor and added five straight free throws for a 19-point total.

By Sgt. Bud Herbig

The second game with Carswell AFB last week was slightly delayed due to the absent-mindedness of the two officials, Curtis Barrett and "Doc" Wilkins. It seems as though just as they began to start the ball game, they had both forgotten to put on their whistles and had to retreat to the dressing room to get them. After they got the ball game under way the fans saw two of the finest officials in the South Plains area.

Many of the fans did not get to see the REA "Travelers" when they played over here earlier this year and therefore did not know the roster that they carry so we would like to give it to you now.

Doug Lynn 6' 8", Oklahoma University

Don Heathington 6' 5", Baylor University

Dick Eicher 6' 5", Eastern Washington College

Dee Nutt 6' 4", Abilene Christian College

Roger Stokes 6' 4", Colorado University

Bill Johnson 6' 2", Baylor University

They are going to add Bob Pettit from the Louisiana State team in a couple of weeks. He presently is in the top five in scoring in the nation and stands 6' 11".

This week's orchids go to Maj. Maurice DeSchepper for his fine 634 series in last week's Inter-Squadron bowling league. His high game during the series was 234. This is the highest series to date in the league and we would just like to say "keep 'em rolling."

This week's basketball games with Biggs AFB have been transferred to the El Paso Field instead of the original schedule for them to play here. This arrangement was made with the Biggs and Reese officials so that the teams could make other scheduled commitments. The two games scheduled here with Holloman AFB on 1 and 2 February have been cancelled so that the circus might play a two-day stand here. Reese's next home games will be 21 and 22 February with Goodfellow AFB of San Angelo.

Texas Tech Students Tour Base Yesterday

Twenty A ROTC students of a flight operations class at Texas Tech college made a tour of the base yesterday afternoon. The group was shown through base operations and the flight line in connection with their schoolwork.

Reese host officer was Capt. Donald E. Schweger, academic instructor.

Squadron Scribblings

HQ SQ SEC, 3500th M&S GROUP

By Cpl. Owen J. Nunez

Hq Sq Section, M&S Gp is indebted to Miss Margaret Turner, editor of the "Women's Angle." The following is a quotation from her column in the Lubbock Avalanche.

"When you transplant your shrubs and bushes and reset trees and grass, you might give a thought to Hq Sq M&S Gp, Reese AFB, if you have greenery left over. S/Sgt. Bill Kook-en, who is stationed at Reese says he'll send for the shrubs or whatnot if you will telephone him at the base."

The people of Lubbock have been generous and Sergeant Kook-en and the personnel of Hq Sq wish to thank all who contributed so generously to the project.

Recent additions to the squadron include Capt. John W. Goodrich, recently returned from Korea, who is serving as squadron adjutant. Another addition is 2nd Lt. Spencer O'Neal, reassigned from 3501st Maint. squadron and now serving as maintenance officer of base flight.

Maintenance personnel of this squadron can't decide which is worse, dust and wind or ice and cold weather. M/Sgt. James L. Pinkerton, able flight chief of base flight, likes the ice. We've seen him sliding around quite a bit on the ice that covered the ramp. Some slides were unexpected but he enjoyed them all.

The transient alert crew members, under the wing of M/Sgt. James L. Linneman, are looking sharp with those white coveralls and checkered jackets. They are building up a splendid record that will be hard to reach by alert crews of the future.

NCO Wives to Hold Buffet Dinner Mon.; Install New Leaders

The NCO Wives' club will entertain members and their husbands at a buffet dinner Monday night, 28 January in the NCO ballroom, club officials announced.

First showings of spring fashions in both men's and women's wearing apparel will highlight the evening's entertainment.

During the program the following newly elected officers will be installed by Mrs. Thomas J. Barrett, honorary president: Mrs. John Burkett, president; Mrs. Gailon Combs, vice - president; Mrs. Vernon Howell, recording secretary; Mrs. Eric Bordelon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Reifers, treasurer; Mrs. John L. Thomas, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Bailey Shrum, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Lowery Allen, Mrs. Harold Hailey, Mrs. Roy Garrison, and Mrs. Louis Evers, board of governors.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Mmes. Louis Evers, A. N. Dale, Dale Dunn and Ernest E. McKinney.

LSO Formal Dance Tomorrow Evening

A formal dance will be held at the downtown Lubbock Service Organization tomorrow night, Miss Leona Gelin, LSO director, announced. Time for the affair has been set at 2030 to 2330 hours.

Coats and ties will be required of military personnel, Miss Gelin reminded. The base dance band will furnish the music, and hostesses for the evening will be the Hubettes, Lubbock girls group. Refreshments will be served, it was learned.

All Reese personnel are invited to attend, and Miss Gelin extended a special welcome to married airmen and their wives. The LSO is located at 1311 Main.

Top spot in radio this week seems to be the battle of the "D. J.'s" (translated that's "Dick jockeys for the uninformed). KSEL-LBS and KFYO-ABC are having it out among their own respective jocks to see which of the turn-table Toscaninis can drag in the most cash for the 1952 March of Dimes campaign. Looking to Liberty for loot, the fight rages between Jim Atkinson, Dave Stone, "Hi-Pockets," and Wayne Allen on their shows. ABC-ing it through are "The South Plains Farmer," Jack Creel; John of "Kennedy's Korner," and yours truly, Jack Gibson, from "The House That Jack Built." In the latter clash, the low man pushes the other two around the courthouse Saturday afternoon, the 2nd. Needless to say, with the Air Force behind me, I shouldn't have to worry about losing . . . but regardless, the more cash the better for the polio sufferers; make sure you GIVE!

KSEL-LBS: Sunday, 3:00 p. m. —A special broadcast from the Senate Chamber in Austin commemorating the outstanding service of the Texas Highway Department.

KFYO-ABC: From the Metropolitan Opera in New York, another double bill: Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci — Saturday afternoon at 1:00 . . . "Bright Star", with Irene Dunne, Fred MacMurray and announcer Harry Von Zell, chase away the Monday blues with a 30-minute session of laughs at 9:30 p. m. . . . Amateur shows air from ABC Tuesdays and Thursdays at 8:00 p. m., respectively, Paul Whiteman's Teen Club, and Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour . . . Academy Award winner Mercedes McCambridge stars as "Defense Attorneys" Thursday nights at 7:30.

KCBD-MBS: VFW Chief Frank

C. Hilton speaks on "Our Time for Greatness" tonight at 9:10 . . . Sunday mornings offer educational highlights at 10:30 from the Northwestern University Reviewing Stand . . . A 15-minute stanza of music furnished by Bernie Howell-airs Sunday afternoons at 2:15 . . . After Nick Carter (Sunday, 7:00 p. m.) keep tuned for "Sunday Sports" at 7:25 . . . "Crime Does Not Pay", Monday night, 7:30 . . . Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore air "Dr. Kildare" adventures Tuesday nights at 7:30 . . . "Wings Over Lubbock" drops in for 15 minutes tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 with a special interview with a member of a flight crew. Don't forget the "House"—11:05 Monday through Friday on KFYO—and the March of Dimes EVERY DAY! More next week!

Classes Not Filled

More airmen are needed to complete class minimums in certain courses at Texas Technological college, J. N. Reeves, education officer, said this week.

German 132, second semester beginning, and Accounting 244, first semester of elementary accounting, are still below the quotas required in order to schedule the classes in the evening program. Mr. Reeves is hopeful of signing ten students for these courses.

Anyone interested in these courses, or any others offered in the Tech evening study program, is invited to call the wing education office, extension 574, or come by and inquire in building T-421.

Officer Career Plan Lectures Next Week

A series of indoctrination lectures will be held next week to acquaint officers with the newly established Officers Career Program, according to Capt. Conrad J. Lindemann, military personnel officer. The objective of the new program is to classify officers by identifying the abilities of all officers in terms of the newly established Air Force specialties.

Under this program, officers will be classified in generalized fields according to skill. This program is very much similar to the one under which airmen are now classified. Officers are to be informed that MOS's will not automatically be converted, but each officer will be interviewed prior to conversion.
