

Baird Men Hear Talk on Oil Week At Club Luncheon Wednesday

L. C. Roberts is Lone Star Ad Director

L. C. Roberts

Appointment of L. C. Roberts to succeed the late J. M. Floyd as advertising director of Lone Star Gas Company has been announced by D. A. Hulcy, president.

Roberts has been with Lone Star for the past 18 years, all of this time being spent in various capacities in the advertising department. In 1942 he was made advertising supervisor and in that position he initiated and carried through many successful Lone Star advertising and sales promotion programs.

In commenting on Roberts' appointment, Mr. Hulcy said that "because of Lone Star's ever-expanding advertising and merchandising programs to promote the sale of modern automatic gas appliances through more than 1,500 dealer stores and our own offices over the system, we are fortunate in having a man whose entire business experience has been in the important field of merchandising. His special knowledge and experience will be most valuable in the development of this area's unlimited market for the various types of gas-operated air conditioning equipment. Mr. Roberts is well known among our people for his thoroughness and planning ability. He is no stranger to the retailer and his problems for he has worked with many in developing gas appliance sales programs for them. In placing Lone Star's advertising in 247 Texas and Oklahoma newspapers, he has become well acquainted with many southwest publishers who know him as Bob."

Roberts joined Lone Star in 1933 after several years experience in large Southwest department stores where he was advertising and sales promotion manager. He was born in Brenham, Texas. He attended Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

Among his civic work he has served a three-year term on the Board of Directors of the Dallas Community Chest and was chairman for two years of the Chest's publicity committee. He is a past president of the Dallas Advertising League and in 1945 was voted the League's most valuable member. He served as chairman of the Dallas Fire Prevention Council in which position he launched several city-wide fire safety campaigns.

Roberts is married and has one son who is now on duty with the Air Force. He lives at 8160 San Benito Way, Dallas.

H. V. RANKIN IS NEW AREA INDUSTRIAL ENGINEER

Appointment of H. V. Rankin as industrial engineer to serve customers in the more than 80 towns in Lone Star Gas Company's West Texas Territory, which includes Baird, has been announced by R. H. Gray, of Abilene, division superintendent. He succeeds R. B. Thompson who has resigned.

Mr. Rankin will be available for consultation on the use of gas in commercial and industrial plants and he will counsel with builders on installation of gas air conditioning equipment and large heating units. Mr. Gray said. He will have headquarters in Abilene.

A native of Brownwood where he was graduated from high school, Mr. Rankin received a degree in mechanical engineering from Rice Institute at Houston. He joined Lone Star as industrial engineer in Abilene on June 28, 1948, and in September 1949, was transferred to Kerrville when Lone Star made natural gas service available to a vast new territory in the Texas Hill Country. His appointment as industrial engineer for the gas company's West Texas distribution properties was effective October 1.

Mr. Rankin is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and his hobby is radio. During World War II he was a radio technician in the United States Navy.

Mrs. Rankin is the former Betty Jo McMillon of Guion, Texas. The Rankins are the parents of a daughter, Nancy Ann, age nine weeks.

America's thousands of competitive oil companies and nearly 200,000 service stations make it their policy to give the consuming public "more than its dollar's worth." Zolus C. Motley, of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, told members of Callahan County Club at the Wednesday luncheon held at the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Motley was introduced by J. E. Bullock, superintendent of the Baird Premier Refinery.

In a talk entitled "The Baker's Dozen," Mr. Motley discussed 13 ways in which units of the petroleum industry prove their good citizenship, as he said "giving customers a better break all 'round than they could obtain anywhere else on earth."

The thirteen tests which Mr. Motley said both oil companies and service stations pass with flying colors were listed by him as follows:

A good citizen promotes American progress by (1) Serving others, (2) Helping to raise living standards, (3) Being a good neighbor both during and after working hours, (4) Building his local community, (5) Abiding by the law, (6) Paying his taxes, (7) Working hard, (8) Being thrifty, (9) Husbanded his and the nation's resources, (10) Being courteous at all times, (11) Inspiring confidence in his good name, (12) Operating according to the principles of free, competitive enterprise, and (13) Defending his freedom again all "isms" and other threats to our democratic American way of life.

After showing by concrete examples how the oil industry passes each of these tests, Mr. Motley concluded:

"Oil men point to more than 90 years of continuous progress in the service of humanity as proof positive that they manage their affairs for the benefits of the people as a whole. Of course they approve of laws and treaties which enable them to operate in the most efficient manner. But they feel that bureaucratic interference with those operations along the lines advocated by the so-called 'economic planners' is an opening wedge for socialism, communism, fascism and other economic ills which are plaguing foreign nations today. Either independent, forward looking businessmen compete in a free market or the government eventually regiments our entire economy. 'Planned competition' is a contradiction in terms which makes absolutely no sense."

Methodist Pastor Has Success at Industry

Rev. Walter V. O'Kelly held a revival meeting at Industry, Texas, all last week and reports that seventeen persons joined the church during the meeting.

The meeting was held as part of the statewide Methodist Evangelistic Campaign. Rev. O'Kelly states that a similar meeting will be held at the Baird church from October 28 until November 4. On Saturday, the 27th, a great youth rally will be held at McMurry College Life Center Building, Abilene, beginning at 7 p. m.

New Rules Made by Highway Dept.

The local highway office has received certain changes in the regulations for moving houses, etc., over the new Highway 80, east of Abilene. The widths of such loads has been extended from 12 feet to 18 feet by the new order. Loads exceeding this width must have special permission before it enters the highway.

Permits for all types of privileges may now be obtained at the local highway maintenance office. Permits for private driveways, permission to run utilities under or over the highway, should be applied for at the local office.

Baird Quarterback Club Buys Movie Camera; To Get New Pillows

If you have an old cotton mattress you do not want to keep, give it to the Baird Quarterback Club. The cotton will be taken out, carded and sterilized and placed into new seat pillows to be rented at the ball games. The Quarterback Club tried to save some money on the pillows now on hand, but soon came to the conclusion that they were not large enough and much too thin for comfort. It was voted at Monday night's meeting to have the pillows worked over by L. G. Kerby, local mattress maker. The donation of two or three old mattresses will supply enough cotton for the required number of pillows, it was estimated. Free-will donations were made

County-Wide Rat Control Campaign Scheduled for November 19th

A county-wide rat control campaign will be held on November 19, County Agent Glen W. Green, announced today. Specialists of the Rodent Control Service will assist in making the program a success. (A limited amount of bait may be available sooner.)

Warfarin-treated rat and mouse bait will be used. It is the simplest to use, safest and most effective poison available. It has been giving very good results in other areas and has been used in this vicinity with equally good results.

Several businessmen throughout the county are cooperating in the campaign by taking orders for the bait and distributing it to the people when it arrives. They are as follows:

Baird, E. L. Reese, VA Instructor. Clyde, J. C. Snow, VA Instructor. Colony, Clovis McCollum, Rt. 2, Moran.

Cottonwood, Norman Coffey, grocer, Cottonwood.

Cross Plains, O. B. Edmondson, VA Instructor.

Denton, Sidney Johnson, Denton Store, Rt. 2, Clyde.

Dudley, C. W. Wilkerson Grocery & Mkt., Rt. 2, Abilene.

Eula, Reese Miller, Red & White Grocery, Rt. 1, Clyde.

Hamby, Grady Smith, Hamby Station, Rt. 1, Abilene.

Oplin, Zack McIntyre, Grocer, Putnam, White's Grocery.

Rowden, Stephens' Grocery, Scranton, Lewis Morgan, Grocer, Stanton.

To make the campaign a success, it will be necessary that everyone, both in town and in the rural areas, put out the poison simultaneously. Since this is a non-profit undertaking, it is asked that the poison be paid for at the time of ordering. Please turn your orders in to your nearest distributor as soon as possible, so we can get started on the program.

The price of the poison is 25c per pound, and 4 to 10 pounds should be enough for most places, depending on the number of rats in the vicinity and the number of buildings around the place.

Baird Might Get FM Road in 1955

"I have a most encouraging report on our farm to market roads," reported F. E. Mitchell to Callahan County Club Wednesday. As a member of the club's form-to-market road committee, Mitchell explained what he had learned at a meeting of the county commissioners court on the subject. "We are very likely to get something started on the Admiral farm-to-market road by 1955," he stated. Admiral representatives also met with the commissioners to seek FM designation of the road connecting their community with other county centers, Baird and Cottonwood.

The committee learned that the road north of Putnam was first on the FM program in the county. Second is a 3 1/2 mile piece of road north of Clyde. The Admiral road is placed third on the list, which will probably take until 1955 to obtain appropriation of farm-to-market funds.

Baird, the county seat, will be the last point in the county to receive a farm-to-market road.

Baird Bears Tounce Moran Bulldogs 46-6

By Charles Young

The Baird Bears ran wild over the Moran Bulldogs 46-6, in a game played here Friday night, Oct. 12. This was the second District 9-B game for the Bears.

In the first quarter, the Bulldogs fought their way to the Bear one yard line, but failed to score. The Bear defense was too much for them.

The Bears opened the scoring in the second quarter when Jimmy Higgins fought his way 45 yards to pay dirt. Meadows' try for the extra point was off to the side and no good. The score was 6-0.

Jimmy Higgins again scored in the second quarter when he scampered 32 yards for a tally. The extra point was good, kicked by Meadows, and the score was 13-0.

The next score was something to behold. The Bears were on the 20 yard line when they decided to try for a field goal. Kyle Meadows calmly carried it out. It was a perfect kick squarely between the uprights. The score read then 16-0.

Randall Ivy made the last score in the first half by running from the 2 yard line. The extra point try by Meadows was blocked, and the score at the half was Baird 22, Moran 0.

Early in the third quarter George Jones scampered 70 yards for a Bear TD. Extra point try by Meadows was no good.

Randall Ivy plunged over from the 5 yard line late in the third quarter for a touchdown. The extra point was not good. The score at the end of the third quarter was Baird 34, Moran 0.

Moran's only tally came in the fourth quarter when quarterback Bennett passed to end Winifred McCoy for the touchdown. The try for extra point was not good.

Charles Jacobs made Baird's next score by running 8 yards. The try for extra point was blocked.

Jonny West made a diving catch of Chatham's pass in the end zone for Baird's last score. The extra point try was not good. The final score was 46-6.

Moran was well represented at the game with many fans making the trip over from Moran. The Bulldogs played an exceptionally clean game and are to be commended on the good sportsmanship displayed during the entire contest.

The audience appreciated the timely information given out by former Bear coach, Eddie Bullock, as he spoke over the speaker system from his perch in the crowd's nest, high over the field. Johnnie Joe Walker was helping Bullock as spotter.

The Bear defense was really clicking with Donny West, Jonny West, Eddie Pierson, Stanley Loper, J. E. Bullock, Robert Halle, Rolle Gunn, and Kyle Meadows doing yeoman duty in the mighty Bear line.

Regional Institute For State Lawyers

Unlike the attorneys in most of the rest of the state, the lawyers in this county will have a choice of which regional legal institute they wish to attend the week beginning, Oct. 29.

Regional institutes will be held in Lubbock on Oct. 29, at the 72nd District Court Room, in Midland on Oct. 30 at the City-County Auditorium, and in Waco on Oct. 31 at the Raleigh Hotel. These sites are roughly equal distance from most of the towns in this county.

Registration chairmen at all three places report they expect record crowds to attend their meetings. They said early registration indicated enthusiastic endorsement of the State Bar Association's plan "to bring as close as possible to the lawyer's doorstep" recognized authorities in the various field of legal practice and also, for private consultation, high officials of state and federal agencies.

The group of speakers and agency officials will be the same at all three regional meetings.

These post-graduate clinics will be a part of a series of six that will be held during the week in various part of the state. The complete institute schedule is: Lubbock, Oct. 29; Midland, Oct. 30; Waco, Oct. 31; Tyler, Nov. 1; Houston, Nov. 2; and Harlingen, Nov. 3. Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd of Austin and C. Burt Potter of Corpus Christi, co-chairman of the Bar Association's Committee on Legal Education and Institutes, are arranging the tour.

Speakers who will appear at each of the Institutes will include Lee Jones, Jr., San Antonio, who will speak on "Oil and Gas Laws"; Paul Strong, Houston, "Civil Procedure"; J. Paul Jackson, Dallas, "Taxation"; Paul Carrington, Dallas, "Horse and Buggy Corporations in the Atomic Age"; Kellis Dibrell, San Antonio, "Professional Services"; Judge James R. Norvell, San Antonio, and J. Chrys Dougherty, Austin, "Streamling Justice"; and Cecil E. Burney, Corpus Christi, State Bar President, who will make the keynote address.

Among agencies that will have high officials on hand for private conferences and panel discussions with the attorneys will be the Collector of Internal Revenue; State Comptroller's Department; Industrial Accident Board; National Production Authority; Office of Price Stabilization; Railroad Commission; Reconstruction Finance Corp.; Secretary of State; and Veterans Affairs Commission. Justice Jack Pope, Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, San Antonio, will also be present to discuss appellate matters.

State Bar President Burney said the institutes were planned for the purpose of taking legal information, that otherwise might not be easily available, to the attorneys of Texas in order for the legal profession of the State to give the public the best service possible.

Mrs. Andrew Johnson and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Wasson and daughter, of Oplis, were shoppers here Friday. They came by The Star office and Mrs. Johnson renewed her subscription to Frontier Times for another year.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

OCTOBER 14-20

Oil Progress means more to Texans!

This week the United States will focus its attention on the oil industry's contributions to the high American standard of living, to the nation's industrial progress, and to the national defense. This is Oil Progress Week.

Texans know the story well: as home folks in the oil country, they share the oil industry's pride in supplying the resource that powers a major share of the country's industries, all its airplanes and automobiles, most of its ships and trains.

Texans realize, moreover, that oil's progress means even more to them than it does to many other Americans. For example, the value of the crude oil produced in West Texas* in 1950 was approximately a billion dollars. This is not "boom money." West Texas uses it to pay taxes, salaries and wages; it buys homes, groceries, light and heat; doctors collect a portion of it; landowners receive royalty and lease payments; a sizable portion of it is reinvested in the further development of the region's oil resources.

In a word, the progressive development of the petroleum resources of West Texas has enormously stimulated its thriving industrial, commercial and agricultural development, and this is the more, the plus, that oil's progress means to West Texans. Modern, efficient production practices will conserve the oil and gas resources of the region, and oil's progress will continue to mean more to West Texas for many years ahead.

* The shaded area is the region called West Texas by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

RESPECT THE HIGHWAY

The speed limit on Highway 80 through Baird at the present time is 60 miles per hour — just like it is all up and down the highway before entering the city limits. It is needless to say that crossing the highway on foot, or in fact any other way, is dangerous, and all Baird people should enter the highway traffic with extreme caution.

In a meeting of the city council recently with Joe Bruton, local highway foreman, regulations necessary for the safety of Baird people, as well as for those who pass through our town on the new highway, were discussed. Signs will soon be erected to slow the traffic to 30 miles per hour. Stop signs will be placed at all intersections, school crossings will be designated, and certain traffic lights will be installed. In front of the courthouse traffic lanes will be established, as well as at the point where Market Street intersects with the highway.

It has been a real problem to work out the traffic rules due to the location of the hospital. No stop lights will be installed near the hospital, but every effort will be made to slow traffic for the cause of safety. The highway men and the city officials have done a good job in planning the rules for safety along the new highway through town. Now it will be up to the citizens to observe these rules for their own safety. There is always that human element so necessary to smooth working of any plan regardless of the amount of rules and regulations mapped out. First, know what the rules are. Then, see to it that they are obeyed.

THE JOKE IS ON THE PRANKSTER

A car drove slowly by a street light at the alley east of Spruce Street on Highway 80 last Sunday night, and one of the occupants of the car poked a gun out the window and shot the light out. Folks living nearby were sitting on their porch and saw the incident and can identify the car. The big light globe was destroyed, as well as other parts of the light, which amounts to more than $15 of the city's money. The prankster didn't know it, but he will pay for this damage. The other citizens of the town will also help pay the bill, but he will go right along with the others paying off. If all our citizens participated in such folly, Baird just wouldn't have any street lights. People who are opposed to letting one person destroy the better things of our town will not allow this practice to go on and on. So, it seems to us, the smart thing for the prankster to do is to refrain from ever destroying public property again, and thus, avoid paying a higher price than he is going to pay as it is.

SHADOW ON THE WALL

DAUGHTER BORN TO MORAN COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Snyder of Moran, are parents of a daughter born Oct. 10 in an Abilene hospital. The baby was named Helon Elizabeth. The Snyders live on the Snyder ranch west of Moran. They also have a son, Bob, 20 months. Grandparents are Mrs. Lula Snyder of Moran and Mrs. F. E. Dodson of Albany.

Mrs. J. S. Freeman, of Wylie, and daughter, Miss Vinora Freeman, student at Abilene Christian College, were shoppers here Saturday. Mrs. Freeman has recently returned to her home from San Angelo, where she visited in the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Barron and family. The Barrons are parents of a new daughter, Iris Lee.

Pork Should Be Well Done Before Eating

AUSTIN — As the weather turns cooler our thoughts turn to pork roast dinners, or perhaps to waffles and sausage suppers. Pork is a palatable food, rich in protein, fat and vitamins. Properly prepared, it is a wise choice of food. Properly cooked pork is gray throughout. Undercooked pork is pink in color and should not be eaten because it is a common source of the disease trichinosis, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"You are perfectly safe from this disease as long as you eat of hogs that did not have trichinosis when they were butchered. But, the danger is real as long as you buy pork and pork products without finding out where they came from. It is equally real as long as you are not careful about what your hogs eat. Most hog trichinosis comes from hogs eating uncooked garbage.

"This disease is caused by a tiny, parasitic, round worm called trichina. It has a particular fondness for the animals muscular tissue, and while still in the larvae stage, becomes embedded there. It is usually in this stage when the animal is killed. People eating the meat without taking proper precautions swallow these larvae. From the mouth they go to the stomach. Then the larvae bore into the walls of the intestines. Here they grow rapidly and migrate into the blood stream, causing fever, intense pain in the muscles, swelling and a high white blood-cell count.

"There is no absolute cure for trichinosis. The most important preventative measure is to eat only pork that is well cooked."

Mrs. Samuel Diller of Moran, and daughter, Miss Betty Diller, student at Hardin-Simmons University, were shopper here Saturday afternoon.

BAIRD BOYS ATTEND FFA DISTRICT MEETING IN CLYDE

FFA president, Cleo Ivy, and vice-president Jimmy Higgins, went to the district FFA meeting at Clyde on Oct. 10.

Each of the boys were elected district officers. Ivy was elected parliamentarian and Higgins was elected 2nd vice-president. These boys, along with the chapter sweetheart, Carolyn Nichols, will attend the district FFA banquet. They were accompanied to Edwin L. Reese.

Dr. and Mrs. George Franz and children, Byron and Billy, of Killeen, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Gee the past weekend.

IT BEGINS to appear unlikely that this congress will see an early adjournment date, although the time has again been moved up to about November 1. However if the members get away by Christmas, many of them will consider themselves lucky. In the meantime, the senate has passed the tax bill, considerably under the house-passed measure in total taxes and in income brackets for collection. Some declare the senate bill again is a "rich man's" tax bill with the big majority of the taxes coming from lower income brackets. And the sponsors say that most of the money is in the smaller income brackets, although that is only because there are so many more millions of Americans in those brackets.

Mention has been made in these columns before of the sugar subsidy act and that it applies to only a few, possibly three, real big cane sugar growers in Florida and Louisiana. As a matter of fact, however, the subsidy applies to beet sugar farmers also, in 30 states, although these too, are relatively few as compared to all farmers.

Ordinarily farmers buck over the traces at the mention of the word "subsidies" or "controls," either of prices or marketing quotas. And yet the cane and beet sugar farmers were a unit in demanding rigid governmental controls, and the bill sailed through congress with little or no opposition and without creating a ripple.

The sugar controls act which received united support included strict marketing quotas set by the agriculture department, subsidy payments to farmers, special excise taxes on sugar processing and importing, import quotas, indirect price control and minimum labor standards on sugar cane or beet farms.

For instance in the cane sugar states, farmers in Florida received $932,000 in sugar act subsidies or two per cent of their income and Louisiana cane growers received $6,160,000 or 14.7 per cent of income. In the larger beet sugar producing states, Colorado farmers received $8,048,000 in subsidies or six per cent of their total farm income; California farmers, $7,355,000 or two per cent; Montana, $2,411,000 or 2.6 per cent; Idaho, $1,927,000 or 4.8 per cent; Michigan, $1,964,000 or two per cent of income.

Only dissent on the sugar act came from industrial users and molasses importers.

Continuation of the easter hearings on Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin on the bill of particulars drawn up by Senator Benton of Connecticut continued. One of the most sensational pieces of news which obtained but few headlines was the announcement by the Canadian government that the Canadians would build, on their own, the St. Lawrence river seaway, which since the early 1930s has been before congress. President Truman has given his approval to the Canadians' move after state department consultation, if congress still refuses to take action. Chief opponents of the proposal to provide a deep-sea waterway from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes are, of course, the railroads and the Atlantic seaboard port facilities, many of which are owned by the railroads.

Huge utilities also have opposed this cheap freight avenue and also a new source of hydro-electric energy. Governor Dewey of New York has previously offered to build the hydro-electric plant; but has never received the green light, since because of the international aspect, it seems to be a federal instead of a state job.

Although a conference committee had not met, a compromise was expected to be worked out this week on the two postal rate increase measures passed by each house.

The senate agricultural committee held hearings on steel shortages for agricultural machinery. Industry representatives, on the short end of steel allocations, of course criticized those allocations as endangering the nation's food supply. Also shortages will be apparent in phosphates and superphosphate fertilizer, due largely to the sulphur shortages. Hearings were held on this shortage by national production authority.

Miss Alda Nurdyke Hostess to Thursday Club of Clyde in W. B. Barton Home

The Thursday Club of Clyde met in the home of Mrs. W. B. Barton, Thursday, Oct. 11. Miss Alda Nurdyke was hostess.

Subject for study was "Federation." Roll call, "What's New in General Federation."

Mrs. Thelma Berry spoke on the subject "Federation." This talk was very interesting and helped all to realize the important place that women have in affairs of church, home, community and state.

Mrs. Weldon Edwards called attention to important points in our constitution and by-laws, as she led in a parliamentary drill.

A refreshment plate of cake, coffee, ribbon sandwiches, nuts and mints was served. A theme of green and white was carried out in decoration and refreshments.

Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. W. B. Barton, were present.

Mrs. Darwin Miller, Mrs. Zettie Parrock and son, of Eastland, and Mrs. Myra Lee Parrock of Denver, Colo., visited Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thompson, Thursday.

On The School Campus

Atrelle Dill

This week marks the first milestone in the 51-52 school year. Student report cards were issued Wednesday which concludes the first six weeks period of the school term. On a whole, teachers report, the grades were satisfactory.

Miss Sybil Myers' first grade can look-back on six weeks of progress, which includes the mastering of two pre-primer reading books, correct formation of numerals, and first attempts at manuscript. Improvement in art work is readily seen, too, and little fingers which were "all thumbs" a week or so ago are now handling crayons deftly and applying color smoothly.

This week's wall decorations make a panorama story of "Little Black Sambo" and they are exceptionally well done. Absent this week from classes was Tommye Sue Pruitt, who has been ill. Guest to the first grade this week was Linda Dill, who enjoyed the visit immensely. Someone should write a book sometime about the patience of first grade teachers (bless 'em all) and of how they never tire, but really enjoy this all-important work of starting our youngest ones on the road of education.

Mrs. Hubert Ross' first grade is also a very progressive class. These little ones have also completed two reading books and will be issued a third soon. Hallowe'en is beginning to occupy the minds of the students and their teacher has been teaching songs and poetry for that occasion, and soon smiling Jack-o-lanterns, black cats, and witches will decorate the walls. Mrs. Ross and the first grade send special wishes to their student and classmate, Beverly Atkinson, who has been in St. Ann's hospital in Abilene and is now at her home recovering from illness.

Mrs. John Bowlius' second grade completes the first six weeks period in fine style — they have read ten books in their reading classes, have started work on a course in health and hygiene, and have progressed rapidly in the more advanced numeral work. Mrs. Bowlius has been stressing the importance of reading and "reading for meaning." This first six weeks has been a "warm-up" period for second graders who may have become "rusty readers" during vacation.

First and second graders were entertained this week by Edward Mosely and his smaller sister, who celebrated their birthdays with a party.

Mrs. Lueille Hall's fifth grade has started a "story period" in their work at which time students take turns reading to the class. Story selections are left to the child. This not only helps the youngster to know his literary work, but perfect "audience reading," so necessary for older children. Flag etiquette is being stressed in the fifth grade and "pledge to the flag" is part of each days routine.

Mrs. Lee Ivey's seventh grade is a very pleasant room to visit — the room is unusually attractive and adding to it are the lovely bird and animal pictures which their teacher obtained by requesting them from the Texas Game Commission. The seventh grade has also received "Texas History Movies," and informative booklet sent with the compliments of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

The entire student body had a special treat Tuesday, when Jim Lynch, archery champion, visited the school and gave a demonstration of his prowess with the bow and arrow.

Mrs. Lee Ivey announced to the school this week that reading certificates will be awarded by the State Library Department for children complying with the rules which include the reading and reports of ten books — five fiction and five non-fiction.

Baird Cubs, the grade school football team, lost their first game of the season to the Albany Juniors Thursday night. Take into consideration that the Albany team comes from a school a great deal larger than Baird and you can understand why. Give the Cubs an opponent in their own class and this is one person who doesn't think they'll ever have a defeat.

FOLKS

In Our Home Town

By Atrelle Dill

If you doubted it before, you should be convinced by now that it's really on its way — Hallo-we'en, we mean. False faces become more wierd each season — time was when children were quite satisfied to transform themselves into goblins or witches, but now you simply aren't in fashion unless you can be a Frankenstein monster or some other ghoulish cut-throat. Any day you'll be confronted by some fugitive from the rouge morgue, but calm your fears, it's probably only the kid next door.

Did you see the motion picture celebrities that visited Baird Monday to advertise "Movie Time in Texas?" Half the population turned out for the show, but we think "Andy" Anderson sorta' voiced our sentiments when he walked away saying, "Sure glad those folks got to see me — I came down here so's they could."

Baird shoppers won't need to leave town or shop by mail this year to contact Santa Claus. Baird merchants are already receiving Christmas gift selections to equal any which will fill windows in towns many times the size of ours.

Mr. and Mrs. "Rabbit" Johnson and Jim Clark returned this week from a trip through the Ozark country to St. Louis, Missouri, where they visited son, Bill, in the Armed Forces, and stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daniel are celebrating this week — son Leon is home for a visit, and that's reason enough to declare a holiday.

"Alice in Wonderland" comes to our local theatre Sunday and Monday and there oughta be a law compelling children to take their parents to see this one. Done in typical Disney style, it's slightly terrific. You'll recognize old favorite characters from the Lewis Carroll story, but they differ slightly from old original John Tenniel drawings, and the difference is a happy one. It seems a pity that Lewis Carroll couldn't have lived in this age and met Walt Disney. He'd have loved his interpretation of "Alice." The old illustrations were slightly night-marish in quality, but Disney's aren't. Even the Red Queen, who goes about threatening "off with her head" is funny, and that's just what the author meant her to be. The difference is that John Tenniel probably never really believed in Wonderland, and it's much harder to draw a white rabbit wearing a waist coat and carrying a huge watch when you don't believe in one — but Disney does believe and so will you when you see it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Browning, of Keller, visited Mrs. Browning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rutherford, the past weekend.

Mrs. John Kellner and Fred Cook, of Putnam, were business visitors here Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krogull of Freeport, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Neubauer last Saturday. Mr. Krogull, a cousin of Mr. Neubauer, was born and reared in Baird. He left here in March, 1914.

Mrs. J. W. Findley, of Hatch, N. M., visited Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hart last week. Mrs. Findley is the former Virgie Turner, who lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Conner.

Mrs. Clovis Womack and daughter, Pat, of Ozona, visited Mrs. Tom Wylie during the weekend.

Mrs. E. C. Fulton spent from Sunday until Tuesday visiting friends at Ft. Worth and attending the State Fair at Dallas. She heard Gregory Conway, noted lecturer on flowers, deliver a talk and demonstration, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hart, of Midland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hart the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pierson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Pierson, of Jal, N. M., left Thursday for Corpus Christi to attend the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Hilliard and Billy Bob Pierson, Friday morning.

Mrs. J. T. Loper accompanied them there to visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Jordan dropped by The Star office Thursday to have their paper changed from their old address on Clyde Rt. 1, to Baird. They have purchased the Clark place at 128 Lombard Street, and moved to town.

Baird's Future

The proper development of any town's possibilities usually means a successful future for that town. We must create pay rolls from sources which can be developed in our midst. In this regard we hear much of industrial developments, both large and small, and indeed industries for our city are to be sought after aggressively.

However, let's not forget the service businesses — service makes up the pattern of our community life, including as it does every activity not engaged in manufacturing or agriculture.

It is now granted that people who render service create wealth in so rendering it. The payroll of a laundry or an insurance office or shoe shine parlor are, to a certain point, as valuable to a community as that of a shoe factory. Although factories are to be gotten if possible, we must not forget the importance of our service businesses.

We should encourage our local businesses to enlarge and diversify their activities so that all types of marketing, in fact all types of services can be obtained in Baird. Business firms are in a better position to render service to the people of this area than anyone. A net work of good farm-to-market roads connecting the county seat with all parts of the county is essential. Good will coupled with good service will help make any town better.

It is the constant desire of the folks at Municipal Light Plant to render a better service to all our people. We look forward to a successful Baird built on gainful jobs for its citizens engaged in service functions, as well as new industries.

You can help make Baird a better place in which to live by supporting its business institutions, schools and churches.

LICENSE PROVISIONS FOR NEW HUNTING SEASON

AUSTIN — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission reminded Texans of some extra state law license provisions for the new hunting season.

One is that all Texans over 16 years of age, planning to hunt waterfowl, must have the $2 Federal duck stamp regardless of whether they hunt in their home area.

Under the new state combined hunting license law, Texans must have the $2.15 license to hunt small game beyond their home county. All those hunting deer or turkey must have the state license, excepting those who hunt on the property of their residence and those who are under 17 years of age.

Those hunting deer or turkey on their home property or excused by youth, must obtain an "EXEMPT" license which is similar to the regular licenses. They are issued without cost, bear the regular two deer tags but have the word "EXEMPT" lettered in red across their face.

The Executive Secretary emphasized that, for the waterfowl season beginning November 9, only exemptions for the $2 Federal fee are persons 16 years of age and under.

Texas Methodism Launches First State-Wide United Evangelistic Mission

Texas Methodism launches the first phase of the statewide United Evangelistic Mission this week which Bishop William C. Martin of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Area characterizes as, "the most intense and far-reaching evangelistic activity in which the Methodists of Texas have ever been engaged." Six hundred thousand Methodists will be involved in this All-Texas Methodist Revival which began Sept. 28 and continues through Nov. 4.

Districts will exchange pastors in this first phase of the effort, Oct. 5 to 14, in the Houston area. In the second phase Houston pastors will be guests of churches throughout North, Central and Northwest Texas Conferences Oct. 26 to Nov. 4.

Students and faculty from the Perkins School of Theology and 100 top-flight leaders from over the nation, including nine bishops, will participate in this endeavor. Rev. Howard Ellis of Nashville, Tenn., representative of the General Board of Evangelism, is directing the project which he describes as the largest evangelistic endeavor of its kind ever undertaken.

Districts exchanging pastors are: Perryton, Amarillo and Clarendon with San Angelo and Kerrville; Lubbock, Vernon and Abilene with Austin and Corpus Christi; Sweetwater and Plainview with McAllen and Bryan; Stamford with Tyler.

In North Texas, Dallas exchanges with Houston; Denton with Huntsville; Paris and Sulphur Springs with Galveston; Wichita Falls with Longview; Sherman with Palestine; Greenville with Beaumont; McKinney with Nacogdoches.

Central Texas exchanges include Cleburne to Longview; Corsicana to Beaumont; Gatesville to Palestine; Georgetown to Huntsville; Waxahachie to Nacogdoches; Waco to Houston; Weatherford to Texarkana; Ft. Worth to San Antonio; and Brownwood to Galveston.

The West Texas Conference in the Central Jurisdiction exchanges with the Texas Conference.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in trashpiles, rubbish, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzene, naphtha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

"Clean Buildings Seldom Burn"

- Chimney and roof in good condition?
- Attic a junk pile?
- Stairs or halls cluttered?
- Trash and rubbish near your house?
- Electrical circuits and fixtures OK?
- Is your basement a fire hazard? Open paint or oil cans?
- Paint rags? Shavings near work bench? Fuel within 3 ft. of furnace? Piled-up paper and rubbish?
