

Red Cross Launches Drive for Funds

Goal Set at $85 Million During Mar.

A minimum goal of $85 million will be sought by the American Red Cross during the annual fund campaign which will last one month, beginning March 1. Approximately a million and a half volunteers will begin solicitation at that time through the organization's 3700 chapters in this country.

Reese personnel will get a chance to contribute to the Red Cross with the collection of funds in the squadrons on payday, Monday.

In urging base personnel to give to the drive, Frederick Huffman, ARC field director here, cited activities of the Red Cross at Reese during the year ending December 31, 1953. The field director assisted 786 personnel with personal and family problems; financial aid in the amount of $8309.50 was given in 168 cases by the local office, while the Lubbock chapter gave $3521.81 to 69 others.

The actual monetary help amounted to $11,831.31 and was provided for emergency leaves, family assistance, personal needs and grants.

A major part of the Red Cross budget each year — 43 percent during the coming year — is devoted to providing essential services to the armed forces and veterans.

A primary responsibility of the organization under its congressional charter, the program includes aid to servicemen, veterans, and their families in solving personal and family problems; financial assistance in emergencies; help with communication between servicemen and their families and giving reports on home conditions when they are requested.

Also included are recreation in military hospitals and a clubmobile program to provide leisure time group activities for troops in Korea, voluntary help in VA hospitals; help in applying for emergency maintenance.

Here at Reese, 84 Red Cross volunteers contributed a total of 3192 hours of work in the base hospital and other worthy projects. These workers are dependents of military personnel and Lubbock ladies who are organized into Gray Ladies, nurses aides, canteen, staff aides, and others.

"This will be a campaign for both members and funds," E. Roland Harriman, ARC chairman, said. "We hope to make every American feel that through his membership he participates in Red Cross service just as surely as if he had extended a helping hand to persons in need himself."

"This year our aim, in addition to securing the funds needed, is to enroll 30 million active Red Cross members."

CAGERS SEEK ZONE TITLE

The Reese Rattlers pulled two minor basketball upsets in the first round of the Western zone tournament, beating Holloman AFB 79-73 in the afternoon, and Amarillo AFB 71-64 at night. In the other first round games Kirtland AFB defeated Biggs 56-54 Wednesday afternoon, but fell to powerful Walker AFB, 93-52, Wednesday night. The Rattlers, coached by Chaplain John Gerhard, started off slowly against Holloman, trailing 11-17 at the end of the first quarter. With Ed Grier and Dalton Touchette sparking the drive, they pulled to within two points, at 26-23, when Steadman, Holloman's main rebounder fouled out. Reese went ahead 33-33 at the half.

Reese's main job was to keep the ball away from Holloman center Calvin Sparks, who turned in the outstanding performance of the day. Sparks finished with 38 points on 10 field goals and 18 out of 18 free throws.

Grier made 21 and Touchette 18 for the winners, and West made 16 for Holloman.

The Reese - Amarillo game was closer than the 71-64 final score indicates. Helped out by Ed Tiexer and Verne St. Mars, Reese was down 15-18 at the quarter, and at one point in the second period trailed by 19-23.

Then the Rattlers struck for 8 straight to come to within one point, and went on to a 35-35 tie at halftime.

The score was tied seven times during the second half, and with three minutes to go, Reese led by only 61-60. The

TAKE IT EASY — I've only got three arms. Reese's Lynch and an unidentified teammate go up with Holloman's Sparks, while Bob Bellew looks on. The action took place in the opening game of the Air Force Western zone Tournament, held in the base gym. Reese won the game, 79 to 73.

Mobile Exchange Begins Operation On Flight Line

The new "Mobile Exchange" went into operation last week, serving flight line workers and other personnel working in "fringe" areas on the base.

Operated by the Base Exchange the mobile lunch vehicle is designed to serve personnel quickly by incorporating a self-service system whereby customers can pour their own coffee and otherwise serve themselves on most items. This system was designed to save time and money normally required to perform these functions.

The mobile unit was put into operation chiefly to eliminate the need for military and civilian workers to make long trips to the main exchange.

Under the new system, the mobile exchange makes regular scheduled stops at points along the flight line, hangers, and out-lying areas. Mechanics, office workers, and other Reese personnel are now able to buy their coffee, doughnuts, ice cream, cigarettes, cold drinks and candy in a matter of seconds after the unit arrives in their area.

After the first day of operating the mobile exchange, Reese officials anticipate a considerable saving in man-hours by the efficient utilization of the unit.

According to Capt. Charles F. Sheridan, PX officer, some 33 persons were served in a four-minute period when a spot-check was made at a scheduled stop.

To further speed up sales, three lines may be formed to purchase items. Two lines are of the self-service type, while the third forms for articles inside the truck.

Base Officers, Band See Levelland Movie

At the first showing of "The Glenn Miller Story" in Levelland last night at the Wallace theater, Reese personnel cooperated with the management in making the first showing of this motion picture successful.

The USAF extended cooperation in the production of the film, a biography of Maj. Glenn Miller who served as an Army Air Corps officer during World War II.

Reese personnel attending the opening performance were Col. Clayton A. Scott, Maj. R. R. Melton, Maj. Buford W. Barker, Capt. Douglas R. Wood and Capt. William C. Woodrum. The 514th Air Force Band, directed by WOJG Robert L. Kaler, played music for the occasion.

CAPT. PAYNE HEADS CLASS

1000th Student Officer Graduates

The successful Air Force officer must have a variety of talents, 69 new pilots of the USAF were told yesterday in graduation exercises of Class 54-D. All the graduates trained as student officers in the class was the first in Reese history to contain no students who were aviation cadets.

Lt. Col. Oliver S. McAfee, commander of the 3502nd Maintenance squadron, was graduation speaker, stating that young officers must have a keen knowledge of their specialty, since military service demands each man know his job.

"Since contemporary affairs largely shape the course of the military services and our status as citizen soldiers, we cannot indulge the luxury of ignorance about contemporary affairs, domestic and international," he added. "Knowledge, weakly applied to the ever-new and difficult missions of the service, would find us seriously deficient in mission capability."

Colonel McAfee also urged that each of the new pilots have all the facts on all problems before seeking solution, and that each patience and stability if he was to contribute his just share to the Air Force. He also urged that each gain flying experience of varied nature as soon as possible and constantly study to find out all he could about aircraft.

"With enthusiasm for the opportunities and challenges which await you in a potential, long range career, you can surmount any hurdle placed before you," he concluded. "Sincere, self-generated enthusiasm will make each duty and station assignment as good or better than the last one."

Included in the class was the 1000th man to be graduated after training as a student officer since Reese was re-activated October 1, 1949. The 1000th student officer trainee was 2nd Lt. Wallace G. Hawley III, Somerville, N. J., former University of Maryland trackman.

Special recognition was given Capt. Donald Payne, a graduate who commanded the Student Officer squadron, the first to hold KICK OFF DRIVE — The first contribution to the Reese 1954 Red Cross drive is handed to Col. C. P. West, center, base commander, by S-Sgt. William S. Lindsay, Supply squadron. Frederick Huffman, ARC field director, approvingly witnesses the transaction which starts a base-wide campaign to sustain an organization which supports the American people when help is needed.

Staff Change Told At Reese Nursery

Beginning March 1, Mrs. John Breeland will be in charge of the Base nursery. All military and civilian personnel are invited to use the facilities in Bldg T-1155.

The hours are Sundays and holidays, 1730 to 2400; Monday through Thursday, 0730 to 2400; Fridays, 0730 to 0030; Saturdays, 0730 to 1230 and 1730 to 0130.

The daily rates are 30 cents an hour for one child and 20 cents an hour for each additional child, not to exceed 70 cents an hour for any family. The monthly rates will be $30 for one child, and $20 for each additional child. Check with your open mess for information on free nursery privileges.

Anyone having toys or storybooks to donate to the nursery can have them picked up by calling ext. 400 or ext. 317.

PX COMMANDMENTS

(This is the second of two editorials on exchange privileges.)

So you think you want to hold on to your exchange, Mr. Serviceman? That's swell. It's a worthwhile setup that helps make the Service a better deal. There's a lot you can do as an individual to help keep your PX. All you have to do is to remember a few simple rules. You can call them the five exchange commandments.

Know What Your Exchange Privilege Is — Remember that it is an arrangement for servicemen only. Respect the fact that the prices at your exchange usually are better because it doesn't have to pay expensive rents or high advertising costs.

Never Buy for An Unauthorized Civilian — This is a sure way to foul up both your buddies and yourself. It can raise a storm of legitimate protests from local merchants and risk disciplinary action and a black mark on your service record.

Don't Lend Your Armed Forces ID Card to Anyone — This is strictly against regulations. Your ID card is issued to you so that you can enjoy Service privileges, not so that others can. If your card is lost or stolen, report it immediately.

Respect Reputable Local Retailers as Friends — Exchanges aren't set up to compete with civilian merchants. They are established to serve you just as local stores are established to serve members of the civilian community.

Don't Brag about Exchange Prices — This sort of thing only antagonizes civilian merchants. It also causes a lot of false information and rumors to circulate in a community. You'll do no good either for the Service or for yourself by boasting.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

(By Armed Forces Press Service)

Army personnel arriving for duty in the Far East Command after May 1, 1954, may be assigned to units in Korea even though they served there during the fighting, the Army has announced.

There now are proportionately more upper grade NCOs in Japan and Okinawa than in Korea.

Previously, unless a man specifically had requested to be returned to Korea, he was not sent to the combat zone if he had served there more than six months or had been evacuated because of wounds. Specific requests for assignment to Korea will continue to be accepted.

The Marine Corps has appointed a new Director of Information. He is Brig. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, former assistant Commander of the 1st Marine Div. in Korea. He succeeds Col. Raymond F. Crist Jr., who now resumes his duties as assistant director.

The integrated Navy supply system, established by the late Navy Secretary James P. Forrestal, has allowed the Navy to use approximately five billion dollars more in supply materials than it has procured from industry during the last seven years. The system allows for a more efficient use of WWII accumulated stocks. In addition the Navy has turned back about one and a half billion dollars in cash to the Federal treasury.

The Air Force has awarded Pan American World Airways a contract to assist in the operation of range activities at the USAF Guided Missile Test Center, Cocoa, Fla. PAA has subcontracted the electronics portion of the contract to the Radio Corporation of America.

Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, USAF, has been nominated by President Eisenhower to be special assistant to the Air Force Chief of Staff, in charge of AF academy matters.

Your Chapel

All military and civilian personnel and their families are cordially invited to worship in the following services at the Base Chapel:

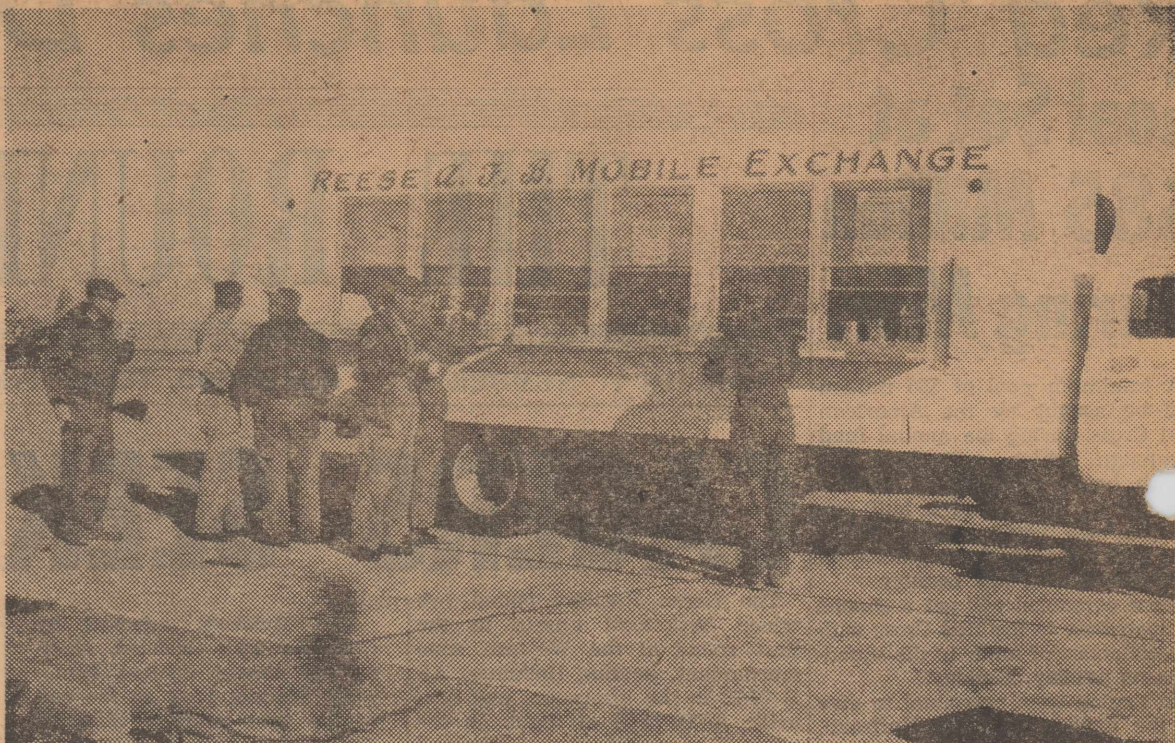

CATHOLIC:
 Sunday Masses 0900 and 1215
 Daily Mass followed by Rosary 1645

Ash Wednesday — distribute ashes at 0730, 1230, and 1730 hours.
 Thursday 1930 at the Chapel Annex, Legion of Mary

Saturday Mass 0800
 Confessions, Saturday 1900 to 2100
 Friday 1930, Stations of the Cross

PROTESTANT:
 Bible School 1000
 Morning Worship 1100
 Cooperative School of Christian Living 1500 (Bus leaves Chapel at 1430)
 Lutheran Communion 1800

Cooperative School of Christian Living 1930 (Bus leaves Chapel at 1900)

RIGHT TO THE DOOR — Personnel on the flight line and on fringe areas of the base line up for their morning coffee only a few feet away from their place of work. The unit was put into operation to save time normally required for workers to travel long distances to the main PX. Now personnel may purchase cigarettes, coffee, and other common items right in their own 'backyard.'

MUST MEET REQUIREMENTS

Study Fields Opened to Officers

According to recent quotas received from Headquarters USAF, officers meeting the qualifications described below may apply for graduate professional education programs in aerial photography, meteorology or bio-radiology (nuclear engineering effects). These programs are open to officers through the rank of lieutenant colonel, who are under 37 years of age and can meet eligibility requirements.

The academic requirements in graduate aerial photography are a bachelor's degree with a major in physics, photography, photogrammetry or mathematics (with a minor in physics). Officers with other degrees or with three years of college work completed, including a course in calculus with a minimum of six hours of college physics, and who have had extensive experience in photography may also request consideration.

Prerequisites for the graduate meteorology program are a bachelor's degree with preparation in meteorology at either a civilian or military school. Applicants must have completed mathematics through integral calculus. Officers also must have a fully qualified AFSC in the Weather Occupational area prior to entry into training.

Officers applying for graduate bio-radiology must have a bachelor's degree with a major in science, including work in physics, chemistry, physiology, and mathematics through integral calculus; a degree from a service academy; or a USAFIT undergraduate engineering diploma. Officers who have completed some graduate work in the field may request advanced training.

Applications are also being accepted for the undergraduate packaging technology program. This program is open to all officers in the grade of lieutenant through major who are under 37 years of age and who meet eligibility requirements.

In order to be eligible, officers must have two years of college or the equivalent including mathematics through analytic geometry; or one year of college or equivalent to include mathematics through analytic geometry, and two years experience in either civilian or military packaging research and operations.

Interested officers, who may be eligible for any of these programs, should apply by letter to Hq USAFIT, Admissions Division, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

Flying Students Get Lectures on B-29 Program

An informative briefing on the B-29 and the B-29 training program was given to all Reese flying students Tuesday morning in the Base theatre by crew members of a visiting B-29 from Randolph AFB. Maj. Charles L. Daniel, Capt. Henry J. Wagner, and 1st Lt. Roland D. Campbell spoke at the briefing, which was presided over by Capt. Carl Cannop, Reese Motivation officer.

Two courses conducted at Randolph are a transition course, which lasts a month and a half; and a crew training course, lasting four and one-half months. The transition course is part of the crew training course.

Of each 35 crews that enter the transition program, 20 can expect to be assigned to KC-97's, in SAC; 6 will go to MATS; and 9 will go through the crew training course.

The transition course includes 124 hours of academic work, of which 54 hours are on instruments, 30 hours on engines, and 10 hours on communications. Forty hours are spent in flying, with 20 hours on instruments. Of the 20 hours, the co-pilot, the position which will be occupied by students transferring from Reese, will have from five to seven. It was emphasized at the briefing that the co-pilot is very important in B-29's.

The B-29 was first built in the early 1940's as a heavy bomber. Today it is obsolete and being replaced by B-47's, though still used extensively as a trainer and tanker. The "29" is very easy to fly, and very safe, as it can return with two engines out on one side, Lieutenant Campbell said.

Randolph AFB is located approximately 15 miles from San Antonio,

Large Cash Awards Await AF Winners In Music Contest

April 14th is the deadline for Reese entries in the Air Training Command's tape recorded music contest.

A total of $1000 awaits airmen who sing or play their way to the top in this big contest.

The purpose of the program is to create increased interest and wider participation in recreational music and to provide an incentive for individual and group improvement through competition.

Judging of the entries will be made at ATRC headquarters in conjunction with National Music week in May.

The rules are simple.

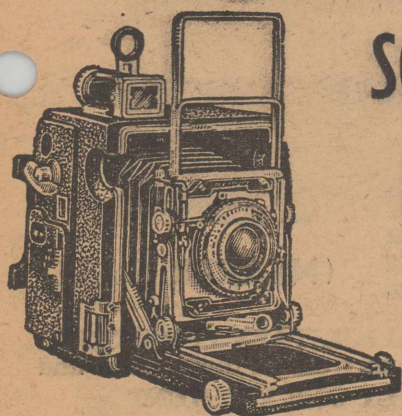

To compete personnel must be on active duty and assigned to an ATRC base or tenant unit. This includes nurses and foreign students.

Competition will be held in eight categories, each with three prizes. The categories are male classical vocal soloist, female classical vocal soloist, male popular soloist, female popular soloist, piano soloist, instrumental soloist, barber-quartet, and glee club.

Prizes, except for barbershop quartets and glee clubs, will be $35 for first place, $30, for second, and $25 for third. Prizes of $60, $50, and $40 will be offered in the quartet category. The glee club category offers $100, $85 and $70 prizes.

Judging will be based on tone quality, intonation, balance, precision, and interpretation, including tempo, style, phrasing, dynamics, and enunciation.

Those wishing to enter the competition must make recordings before April 14. Appointments may be made by calling the base Service Club at 722.

members who will help direct Red Cross work and who will assist as volunteer workers. The theme of the campaign will be 'Answer the Call — Join and Serve.' "

William W. Overton, Jr., chairman of the Texas Band and Trust Co., Dallas, national chairman of the campaign, will lead some 1,600,000 volunteers throughout the country in the month-long drive for members and funds.

"The truce in Korea has neither lessened the need for Red Cross services abroad nor decreased its burdens at home," Overton said. "Nothing is over but the shooting and the needs of servicemen, disaster and accident victims, veterans, and the general public for vital Red Cross service are unchanged."

Citing major ARC program accomplishments, Harriman pointed out that the organization's services to servicemen, veterans, and their families continued to require a major part of its budget and staff. Last year the Red Cross spent $35,147,100 on this program. Red Cross workers at military posts and hospitals helped 117,200 servicemen each month; chapter home service workers aided 105,200 service families monthly.

To make life-giving blood available quickly and surely, the Red Cross spent $12,879,400 last year. The organization procured 4,121,200 donations of January 1 and December 31, 1953, over 9 million cc. of gamma globulin to the Office of Defense Mobilization for use against measles and paralysis from polio.

For disaster preparedness and for relief here and abroad the Red Cross spent $6,776,100. Some 25,000 disaster-stricken families were assisted.

BASKETBALL—

Rattlers didn't get rattled, though, and with Touchette and Lynch, who replaced Grier, doing some sharp shooting, opened up their lead to the final seven points.

Touchette scored 21 and Tiexer 19 for the home team, while Beaton of Amarillo made 23, mostly on long one-handers, Bourassa adding 18.

Walker showed themselves the team to beat in the tournament, scoring almost at will in beating Kirtland 93-52. Led by 6-7 Jack Shelton, formerly of the Oklahoma Aggies, and Earl Redwine, the Roswell, N. M., team had about everything a winner needs.

After the first team ran up a 39-16 lead midway in the second quarter, substitutes took over and played almost as well.

The halftime score was 49-23, Walker having made 19 out of 34 shots.

The third quarter score was 71-37, and it took a good defensive effort by Kirtland in the last minutes to keep the score below 100. Shelton and Redwine, each playing a little more than 20 minutes, had 26 and 24. Coffman made 11 and Friend 10 for Kirtland.

Kirtland had gotten to the winner's semi-final by whipping Biggs AFB, from El Paso 56-54 in the second afternoon game.

The game wasn't really that close, Kirtland having a seven point lead in the last minute, and pretending rather loosely against Biggs' rally. Kirtland led at each stop, by scores of 15-14, 30-26, 43-39. Pribnow and Mohler each had 16 for the winners, and Waggoner and Hayes got 10 each for Biggs.

this position since the base reopened. Captain Payne was given a letter of commendation for his outstanding work in administering the squadron and in handling student officer affairs while commander, and also was lauded for leading the class in grades.

Colonel McAfee was presented by Col. C. P. West, Reese commander, who also awarded wings to the new pilots. Colonel McAfee awarded diplomas and Maj. Tobias Schindler, Student squadron commander, presided. The invocation and benediction were given by Chaplain (1st Lt.) John J. Gerhard. WOJG Robert Kaler directed the 514th AF band and Maj. J. M. squadron commander, assisted in awarding the wings.

Class 54-D was the first in the new graduation schedule in which classes will complete work each month, instead of every two weeks. During 1953 the two-week's program was in effect.

Three Get Promoted One Gets Bermuda In AA Detachment

Three personnel of the AACS Detachment received promotions during the month of February. Roger J. Casl and George A. Walz were promoted to airman first class. Barrey E. Wickliffe received the grade of airman second class.

S-Sgt. Clarence R. Rexroad is presently spending a 10 day furlough in Pennsylvania.

S-Sgt. Alvin H. Taylor departed recently for three days TDY at Abilene, Texas. He is scheduled to meet a board which will determine his qualifications as a recruiting sergeant.

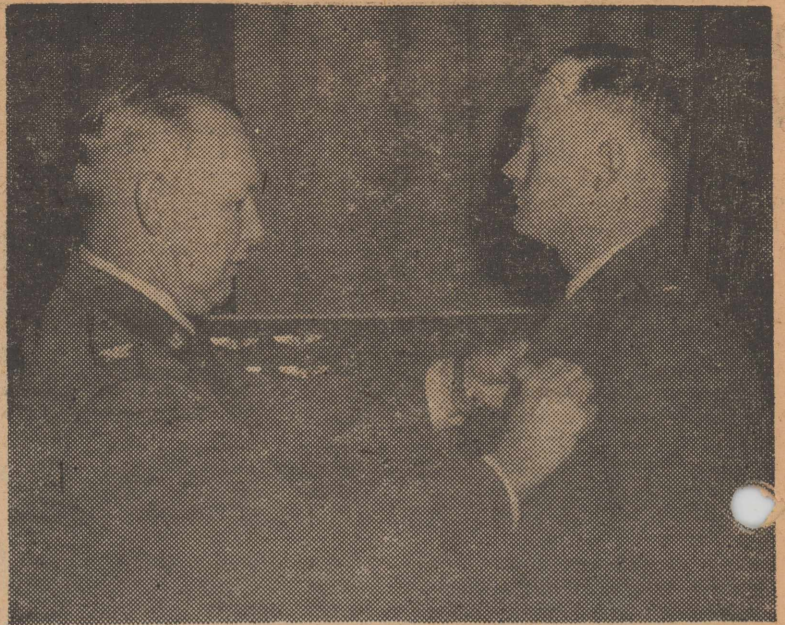

A-3C Milton J. Polous has been alerted for overseas assignment in the near future. He is scheduled to report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., in the early part of April, for assignment to Bermuda. He will depart Reese February 28, for a 30 day furlough prior to reporting to Camp Kilmer.

"GROWING WITH WEST TEXAS AND NEW MEXICO"

Drivers Must Alter Mental Attitudes

"A lot of Reese automobile drivers act as if they were driving down the Pennsylvania Turnpike with the whole road to themselves."

Joe Lopez, Ground Safety engineer, made this comment today as he discussed the need for the current Know and Obey Traffic Laws program.

"Too many of the people driving cars today have practically no sense of responsibility," Lopez said. "They drive as they please and expect everyone else on the road to look out for them. Unless they can be persuaded to change this irresponsible attitude, I see little hope of reducing the present heavy traffic accident toll."

Lopez called upon all personnel to lend their full support to the Know and Obey Traffic Laws program. He also urged every individual to acquaint himself with local traffic laws and to obey them after he has learned them.

"If every driver and pedestrian would suddenly decide to observe traffic laws and regulations and to practice safe walking and driving rules," Lopez said, "the local traffic picture would change over night. In fact, experts estimate that if such a change in conduct could be accomplished, the annual traffic toll could be reduced 90 per cent."

AFROTCers Live Life of Reese Cadets

Four college students, two from Texas Tech and two from the University of New Mexico, last week began to learn what it is like to be an aviation cadet in the United States Air Force.

From Thursday to Sunday morning they lived the life of a cadet at Reese, doing everything except "bone" over the day's assignment. The quartet, selected from membership of the AFROTC at their schools, included Dwayne West, a sophomore, and Carl Kennedy, a junior, from Tech, and Charles Rohde, Artesia sophomore, and Manuel Del Llano, Albuquerque junior, from New Mexico.

The four came mostly to observe and learn but West found himself also much observed —when his hat was off. For he was forced to report for the three-day duty with all his hair lightened by peroxide except several Double-Ts in dark brown (his natural hair color). West's hair has not grown out since he was initiated into the Double T club, made up of Texas Tech athletic lettermen, the peroxidizing being a part of initiation. West was center on the Red Raider football team which won the Border conference title and the New Year's Day Gator bowl in Jacksonville, Fla.

The college AFROTC assignees arrived at Reese shortly before noon Thursday and were immediately assigned escorts for their stay, Rohde was placed in custody of Cadet Harold P. Schedler, Athens, Wis., cadet-major; Kennedy drew Cadet Roger P. McKee of Watertown, Wis., as escort; West was accompanied by Cadet Robert H. Ruhle, San Diego, Calif.; and Del Llano was assigned to Cadet Richard E. Thorndike of Portland, Ore. Schedler and McKee are members of Class 54-F at Reese, while Thorndike and Ruhle are members of Class 54-L.

There were other preliminaries before the AFROTC visitors to this Air Force multi-engine pilot training base got down to work. They were assigned quarters, ate at the Cadet mess hall, and were greeted by Maj. Tobias Schindler, Student Squadron commander.

Then there was a visit to the academic section to look over facilities and get a briefing on objectives. At the Physiological Training altitude chamber there was another briefing, followed by a tour of the base exchange, hobby shops, library and gymnasium.

The quartet checked out flying equipment and witnessed the retreat in which all cadets participated. Then came dinner in the Cadet mess, an evening in the base gym and bowling alley watching cadet teams in action, followed by a conference with the Cadet Group staff and cadet squadron commanders.

The visitors spent the night in the cadet barracks, answered a 0615 reveille and early breakfast the next morning. They were required to prepare their barrack's areas for inspection.

Friday morning was spent attending a class in physiological training in the chamber which simulates high altitude flight; a class in flight operations; and a class in electronics and radar.

On Saturday morning Rohde and Kennedy attended a briefing on flying the B-25 aircraft and then went on a two-hour training flight in the multi-engine planes. West and Del Llano were briefed on the single engine T-28 aircraft and flew in that.

After the flight there was a period in the synthetic trainer where the four young men took simulated flights in trainers, followed by a tour of base operations and the flight line and a session of debriefing.

The two juniors and two sophomores were selected for the visits and training at Reese in order that they may pass along information to other AFROTC men at their college.

Capt. John Baumgartner of the Texas Tech Air Force ROTC staff served as liaison officer with West and Kennedy, while Capt. Harry J. Williams of New Mexico served in a similar capacity with Del Llano and Rohde.

DOD Slashes Military Jobs; Reassigns 91,000 Personnel

Washington — Approximately 160,000 jobs have been eliminated in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps, the Defense Department has announced. The reductions resulted from a review by the military branches of some 5000 manning tables.

Conducted periodically by each Service, the review eliminated the requirement for 69,000 personnel and made way for the re-assignment of 91,000 personnel from non-combat to combat jobs.

The net result of the review was to ease the effect of the total reduction in strength required by budgetary limitations.

Despite the elimination of the need for 69,000 personnel, the number and effectiveness of authorized organizations was increased. The reassignment of about 91,000 military personnel from administrative supporting units to combat units or to priority projects during this period increased the proportion of military manpower in combat-type jobs.

Approximately 55,000 of the 160,000 jobs eliminated were in such fields as personnel administration, personnel accounting, other administrative and clerical positions and automotive transport supply positions as specified in the legislation. The remainder were eliminated in such fields as food service, public information, police, communications and construction.

Squadron 'B' Tops Cadet Field Meet, Wins Long Weekend

Far outdistancing three other squadrons, Squadron B captured six out of nine events in the all-cadet field meet last Saturday and easily took top honors.

The victors will be given a "long week end" the first time no flying is scheduled, officials said. While Squadron B is off enjoying itself, the other three organizations will have a full day of duty.

Scoring a total of 215 points, Squadron B's closest rival was Squadron C with 135. Squadron D amassed 80 and Squadron A was low with none.

The cadet participants were also judged on their performances in an open-ranks inspection and parade February 13. This plus the field meet determined the winner.

The results of the review are: The Army was able to man previously authorized units with 65,000 fewer military positions. Manning standards were revised to require fewer cooks, assistant mess personnel and transportation dispatchers.

The Navy increased the active fleet manning allowances by 19,000 billets during a period when the total Navy strength was being reduced by 81,000. The Navy's review reduced the requirements for stewards, personnel employees, commissary men, medical service men and non-rated airmen.

The Air Force increased combat capability by activating three air quired flying units and five combat wings in addition to the four previously programmed. The Air Force effected savings in such areas as air police, headquarters positions and food service.

The Marine Corps maintained a required combat force of three divisions and three air wings despite a reduction of 30,000 in the strength initially planned for fiscal '54. Savings in the Marine Corps were made in the depot supply system, special services, messmen, and communications personnel. (AFPS).

HERE TOMORROW NIGHT — Annie and Frank Butler mix it up in a scene from "Annie Get Your Gun" which will be presented tomorrow night in the base theatre. Two presentations are scheduled to begin 1830 and 2030 hours. Tickets may be purchased at the Personnel Service office or at the door for $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20

Musical Show Opens

Though far from a documentary play, the plot for the hit Broadway musical comedy, ANNIE GET YOUR GUN which plays here for one performance only on Saturday is based on actual happenings and characters of several decades ago.

Annie Oakley, Buffalo Bill, Pawnee Bill, Frank Butler and Chief Sitting Bull, the leading parts in the hit musical, were all very much alive in the not so long ago days of the Wild and Woolly West. And the story of Annie follows pretty closely their lives in the era of Cowboys and Indians.

The headline attraction of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, according to the story of ANNIE GET YOUR GUN is the champion sharpshooter, Frank Butler. However, he meets his Waterloo in the person of Annie Oakley, a backwoods girl whose shooting prowess is incredible.

In a meet with Frank she wins the championship but loses her heart. To be near him, she accepts a job with the show as Butler's assistant. As time goes on Annie is promoted to the show's featured act and gets star billing over her sweetheart. This so angers Frank that he leaves the show and joins up with a rival outfit owned by Pawnee Bill.

Annie tours with the Buffalo Bill show thruout all Europe, returning to the States with a chest full of invaluable medals but with a great longing in her heart for Frank Butler. On their return to America the two shows combine which throws the two lovers together again.

At another meet, Frank and Annie again shoot it out for the championship. But enroute to the place of the contest, Sitting Bull, a romanticist at heart, twists the sights on Annie's gun so that she will lose. At first, Annie is miserable when she misses her shots but when Sitting Bull gives her the hint as to the reason, the light dawns. Now she is perfectly willing to lose the match in order to win Frank. This she does and they become partners in the show as well as in love.

Officers Wives Club

By Mrs. Peter L. Coffield
 A spring hair styling show featured the Reese Officer's Wives club tea on Thursday afternoon. Models chosen from the OWC roster were Mmes. Richard W. Phillips, Edward J. Culleton, Peter L. Coffield, Alvin A. Katt, Vernon R. Stutts, Bob G. Miller, Vito M. Scuro, Erick R. Ahokas, and Clyde H. Plemons. Hair styles were designed by Charles Powell and Sterling Powell of the professional department of the Isbell School of Beauty.
 Mrs. Raymond A. Lawn, tea chairman, introduced Powell, and Mrs. Charlotte Gelber, mistress of ceremonies. Models were combed and presented on a stage in front of a green curtain decorated with pastel ducks, pheasant and birds, flanked by baskets of flame colored gladioli. Models were chosen for their color of hair, red, blonde, brunette, black and gray.
 In charge of all arrangements was senior hostess Mrs. William O. Miller, assisted by Mmes. Edward W. Kubin, Gale E. Crawford, Winston H. Bishop, Jerome Parson, Don H. Roepke, and Miss Eunice Goff.
 Following the show, punch was served from a table laid with a champagne colored satin cloth centered with an arrangement of flame colored gladioli, iris and miniature blue birds flanked by flame-colored candles.
 Sketches for the programs were by Mrs. Murray W. Crowder Jr., and floral arrangements were from the Green Thumb.
 Guests of the Officer's Wives club were members of the Non-commissioned Officer's Wives club. One hundred and twenty-five guests attended.

 The OWC semi-annual Pot Luck supper will be held today at the Officer's club. All regular and associate members and their husbands, bachelor officers and their dates, nurses and their dates are invited to attend. Music will be furnished by Bob Lamont and his Orchestra, and entertainment will be by members of the OWC.
 On March 10 a Red Cross coffee will be held in the Television room of the Officer's club at 10 a.m. A film entitled "Red Cross Report for 1953" will be shown. All Red Cross members, Gray Ladies, nurses' aides, and Red Cross volunteers in Lubbock and on the base are invited to attend.

NCO WIVES CLUB

By Mrs. L. W. Jackson
 Thirty-eight members and three guests played bridge and canasta at this month's social held Monday night at 19:30 in the NCO Club ballroom.
 Prizes went to Mrs. L. W. Thromod for high score, and Mrs. Johnny Breeland for low. Mrs. Clarence Shearer won travelling prize.
 Guests were Mrs. Christine Qualls, Mrs. Myra Donald, and Mrs. Sarah Sheppard. We hope to see them next time as new members. Also, we hope to see anyone else who is interested in joining our club.
 The ballroom was decorated in a Washington's birthday theme.

The cake was ornamented in the form of a U. S. flag.
 As you girls know, Friday night March 5 is our last Bingo raffle. We would like for the ones who can, to be there to help sell tickets.
 Mrs. Louie Evers has returned from an extended visit with her niece, Mrs. E. Shield of Tyler, Tex.

Visiting M-Sgt. and Mrs. Calvert Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Donaldson and family, of Odesa, Tex.

THEATER

TODAY

"Taza, Son of Cochise," starring Rock Hudson and Barbara Rush. The story is set in the critical year of 1874 with Geronimo again plotting to break out of the reservation and incite the Apaches to rebellion. Pursuing his father's ways of peace, Taza is empowered by the U. S. Cavalry to form an Apache police force to maintain law and order.

SATURDAY

Stage Show, "Annie Get Your Gun," starring Lynne Torres. A musical comedy based on the career of Annie Oakley, famed as a sharpshooter in Buffalo Bill's wild west show. Songs by Irving Berlin.

SUNDAY, MONDAY

"Beachhead," with Tony Curtis, Frank Lovejoy, and Mary Murphy. The story deals with the heroic and suicidal mission of four Marines in the jungle fastness of a South Pacific island during World War II.

TUESDAY

"Drums of Tahiti," starring Dennis O'Keefe and Patricia Medina, with Francis L. Sullivan. O'Keefe is seen as an American, living in the tropical city of Papeete, a friend of the aged and rebellious Queen Pomare, who plots to overthrow the French. O'Keefe volunteers to smuggle in arms to aid the native rebellion, but is constantly hounded by a crafty French official.

WEDNESDAY

"Highway Dagnet," starring Richard Conte, Joan Bennett, and Wanda Hendrix. An unusual murder mystery in which the killer helps an innocent suspect to escape.

THURSDAY

"The Naked Jungle," with Charlton Heston and Eleanor Parker. South American plantation owner, Charlton Heston, receives a mail-order wife, whom he considers too elegant for the rough life he must live. He urges her to go back. When the countryside is laid low by soldier ants, Heston is urged to flee. Instead he and his wife stay, and together they conquer the ant army and save their plantation.

(AFRS Staff Announcer)
Perry Como has handcuffed a winner with his latest, a haunting ballad called "Wanted." Cellmate "Look Out the Window" takes on a calypso flavoring with a musical assist from Hugo Winterhalter and company. . . The Voices of Walter Schumann bring back an old standard, "I Only Have Eyes For You." Thrush June Valli reminisces with "Old Shoes and a Bag of Rice" backed by a happy-go-lucky item, "The Gypsy Was Wrong". . . That singing rage, Miss Patti Page, packs a vocal punch on "Cross Over the Bridge." On the reverse side, Patti sings a nostalgic melody, "My Restless Lover."

In the novelty field five members of the Godfrey gang go vocal via two separate releases. First, there is the Mariner's latest, "They Don't Play the Piano Anymore," with emphasis on the ol' barbership harmony. Lower deck carries a lush ballad, "Sentimental Eyes." "Unpucker" is the vocal plea offered by Frank Parker augmented by Stan Freeman on harpsichord, the guitar artistry of Mundell Lowe, Frank Carroll's bass and Chauncey on the drums. For sure winners we place bets on Sinatra's "Young at Heart," "Baton Rouge" by Ginny Gibson and Rosemary Clooney's vocal flame on "My Baby Rocks Me."

Dickenson Case to Be Tried Before General Court Martial

Washington — The commanding general of the Military District of Washington has referred the case of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson to a general court martial, the Department of the Army has announced.

In reviewing the pre-trial investigation at which Cpl. Dickenson was represented by a qualified defense counsel, sufficient information was disclosed to make this action necessary.

Dickenson will be tried on charges of violating Article 105 of the Universal Code of Military Justice by allegedly giving information to his captors, concerning his fellow prisoners in order to receive favorable treatment, causing these other Americans punishment and hardships. Such communication with the enemy is unlawful and contrary to regulations and custom, according to the charges.

He also will be charged with violating Article 104, UCMJ, by allegedly associating and collaborating with the enemy and giving information to them.

The charges and specifications deal with Cpl. Dickenson's conduct while in prison camp and not while in custody of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

It should be made clear, the Army said, that Cpl. Dickenson would have been similarly charged and tried even had he returned in the prisoner exchange operations. A policy announced by the Defense Department on Sept. 24, 1953, said that any action by DOD will be on an individual basis and will be just and fair in line with the established facts and evidence and the rules, regulations and laws on military conduct.

The trial is expected to take place at Ft. McNair in Washington, D. C. It will be an open trial except for when the court is closed for deliberation. (AFPS).

40 ANG Tactical Sqs. To Have Jets by June

Washington — Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, has announced that about 40 of the Air Guard's 87 tactical squadrons will be jet-equipped in time for summer Guard training in June.

"COMMON SENSE"

Wise men are governed by reason, men of lesser knowledge by experience, fools by force and brutes by nature. Be wise and take care of your eye sight. Most eyes are not only beautiful but useful and necessary. Now— isn't it just downright foolish to neglect them when a dollar or two now and then spent with DR. FRED FERIS, "The Old Reliable Optometrist" in COOPER'S JEWELRY at 1010 Broadway will keep you seeing with comfort as long as you care to see anything.
