

Reese Observes 6th Anniversary

Saturday marks the sixth birthday of Reese Air Force Base, but there will be no formal observance of the occasion. It will be a non-work day.

The base was officially opened October 1, 1949, after an advance cadre had worked several weeks getting ready for the re-activation. Col. George W. Pardy was the first commander, serving until October 15, 1950, when he was succeeded by Col. Thomas J. Barrett. Col. C. P. West assumed command May 15, 1952, and is still commander.

The base, as Lubbock Air Field, trained fliers during World War II, turning out 7,008 bomber, fighter, and transport pilots before closing December 21, 1945. The field was inactive about four years before re-activation, serving as a housing area for veterans and a meeting place for reserve units.

In the summer of 1949, troops moved in to prepare the base for renewed activities, and on October 1 of that year the installation was officially reactivated. It was named Reese Air Force Base on November 4, 1949, in memory of 1st Lt. Augustus F. Reese, Jr., of Shallowater, who was killed on a bombing mission in Sardinia May 14, 1945.

Students trained in both the B-25 and the T-28 single engine aircraft until January, 1955, when the T-28's were phased out and taken to primary training bases.

Since re-activation, Reese AFB has graduated 4,357 students. Of these 1,565 trained as USAF student officers, 2,740 as aviation cadets, and 52 as students of friendly allied countries. Graduates have gone to all commands of USAF, many remaining at Reese AFB as instructor pilots.

Allies trained, most of them under terms of the Mutual Defense Assistance Program, include: Iran 15, China 10, France 10, Ecuador 6, Thailand 5, Colombia 3, Cuba 1, Chile 1, and Honduras 1.

Traffic Spotters To Continue Work In Safety Effort

More intensive use of traffic spotters will become effective immediately with the hope of further reducing ground accidents, Joe Lopez, ground safety director, has announced.

Lopez pointed out that the wing staff this week was advised of the need for further reduction in accidents and was instructed by Col. C. P. West, base commander, to give complete cooperation.

It was disclosed that the spotters are taking names of drivers violating regulations on the base and also are spotting on Highway 116 between the base and Lubbock.

"Too many Reese personnel have been involved in highway accidents to overlook spotting on the way to and from Lubbock," Lopez said. "The spotters have turned in several names of base personnel who have been seen driving too fast or recklessly during the past couple of weeks. It is not our intention to put penalties on anyone needlessly, but it is our desire to prevent death and injury on the highways. If it is necessary to penalize to prevent accidents, then we must use the spotters extensively and follow their recommendations."

You Are The Number One Man

(EDITORIAL)

In the United States and other lands where the people may have a free vote, leaders fight for the individual support of each man and woman. On each occasion they insist that it is the individual vote which counts and that if enough individuals vote the proper candidate will be elected.

It is not strange, then, that this philosophy should become paramount to the United States Air Force. To this, the finest organization of the armed forces, each of the officers and airmen is the "No. 1 Man". There is nothing but common sense in "You're the No. 1 Man".

Every member of USAF counts for much more than a number in the Air Force's emphasis on the welfare of the individual. The stress on morale and career attractiveness is a part of the over-all, continuing program.

Results are being seen. Many are listed in the pamphlet, "You're the Number 1 Man", which all of us should have read by now and which is available in all dayrooms.

The special efforts being expended for the individual constitute no short-term activity, but rather a long-range view. USAF needs skill, materials, and morale. This is recognized widely by the people of Reese AFB and Lubbock generally, as shown in the displays and advertisements this week in THE ROUNDUP.

Each of us should be proud and happy that we have been recognized.

Retirement Benefits Top Reason For Airman Planning To Re-Up

Airmen of all categories — career as well as first termers — list "retirement benefits" as the principal reason why they plan to reenlist.

With reenlistments increasing each month in the Air Force, Hqs

USAF points to its latest sample survey as being interesting in light of specific reasons why airmen are choosing the AF for a career.

Results of the survey show appreciation expressed by airmen for the many actions taken by AF leaders to make service life attractive and stable.

Along with retirement benefits, listed by airmen who realize the advantage of long-range security, other reasons given by both career and first term airman include the new pay and allowances, traditional benefits, and the increased reenlistment bonus which became law last year.

Other reasons high on the list for both classes of airmen include: Like job and duty assignments; opportunity for training and education in the AF; adventure and travel; family favors reenlisting; and like flying and aviation.

Armed Forces Day At South Plains Fair

Today is Armed Forces day at the South Plains Fair and RAFB military personnel will be admitted free with a free ticket which can be obtained at each squadron orderly room throughout the base.

The day has been set aside as Armed Forces Day and tickets were given through the courtesy of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the South Plains Fair Association.

One Of Base Organizers Re-Assigned To Tripoli

The first sergeant of the first squadron to arrive at what is now Reese Air Force Base is leaving the base in December. He is Maj. A. J. Prim, military personnel officer, assigned to duty in Tripoli.

Some of the buildings were completed, some of the roads were paved on the base, then Lubbock Army Air field, when the 494th School squadron of the Gulf Coast Training center arrived at LAAF on January 18, 1942. A. J. Prim was the first sergeant and the most pressing job was getting the area in shape and trees and grass planted.

"The whole place was pretty well plowed up," Maj. Prim said today. "It really wasn't too bad, all things considered, but it certainly needed work. There was no squadron organization, because we composed a new unit. But we took up quarters in what is now the Installations group area, and we made good progress, using Building T-456, the present In-

Airmen Get Break In Overseas Extension

Airmen serving in short tour areas can now request extension even after they have been reported on the returnee roster for reassignment in the U. S.

Airmen can do this up to 90 days prior to their month of travel. Previously, airmen had to make their decision at least seven months prior to their scheduled return for reassignment.

This new personnel policy has been announced by Hqs USAF and is effective immediately.

The policy affects airmen serving in 12 month or 18 month tour areas and airmen serving in longer tour areas who have less than 18 months service retainability. Under the policy an airman can extend his tour in the area where he is now serving, or he can request a new foreign service tour.

Voluntary extension favors airmen who like the place where they are assigned and want to remain longer than the normal tour. This eliminates the added expense to the individual of frequent moves due to reassignment.

The program benefits the Air Force in less travel costs and time lost from duty due to reassignments.

Reports received regularly by Hqs USAF show that more than 3,000 airmen and about 850 officers extended their overseas tours every three months.

stallation engineer's office, as our orderly room."

The first sergeant stayed only until June, when he took off for officer candidate school. Completing the course, he served at various bases in the United States and overseas, returning to Reese AFB, successor to LAAF, in October, 1953.

"What impressed me when I came back was the way Lubbock had grown," Maj. Prim said. "In fact, I can't get over the way it is still growing. Back in the 40's there were few houses houth of 19th street this side of College avenue. We bought our house out on 44th street two years ago and there were three houses near us. Now every lot is filled for blocks. Of course, west Lubbock, when I first came here, was just cotton fields."

The major doesn't plan to take his family with him to Tripoli, but expects them to follow later. His wife is the former Charlie Nell McCoy of Lubbock, who he married while assigned to LAAF. She will stay here until the month-old daughter gets a little older and a better traveler.

ON TOP OF THE WORLD during Kids Day is little Craig Bryant of Lubbock, who perched himself on top of a large transparent globe in the Academic section during the Kids Day open house at Reese Saturday. With him are his brothers, Fred, left, and Tom. Thousands of Kids attended similar open house activities throughout the United States last weekend, which were sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs with the cooperation of the U. S. Air Force. (EDITORIAL)

You Might Be Surprised

If you could sit in sometime at a meeting of the high-level Program Status Committee in Air Force Headquarters, you might be surprised to hear them talking about you.

Not you personally, but the personal problems of Air Force members and their families. Your problems.

If you could go into the tightly guarded room where the committee meets you'd find that your well-being enters into decisions on dozens of projects — from monitoring weapons systems programs to recommending action to provide additional family housing.

The heavily "starred" committee is made up of the Assistants to the Deputy Chiefs of Staff. Every three months the committee reviews the status of all major programs of the Air Force. And no matter what program they are studying, these experts in personnel, operations, planning and budgeting find themselves discussing how it will affect Air Force members.

Persons, they know, are more important than things in our organization. And this will be true as long as human beings are needed to operate the Air Force.

Every Week Is Fire Prevention Week

You hear about this fire prevention business every year about this time, don't you? Some people think it's getting to be pretty monotonous—they never pay much attention to all the leaflets and posters and lectures anyway.

Let us tell you something. It's only boring because you've never been caught in a fire or lost your property in one. Preventing fires is one of those subjects you usually become interested in after it has happened to you. But, then, naturally, it's too late to do any good.

So listen, just once more—but really listen, this time.

An ounce of fire prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Once fire breaks out, there often is no chance of "cure"—only ghastly death, tormenting injury and ruinous property loss. It is too late then to do the "little" things that might have stopped the fire when it's easiest to do—before it starts. "Little" things like making certain your cigarette butt is out, or that oily rags aren't forgotten at bottom of a closet, or that electrical wiring is correctly insulated.

Oct. 9 to 15 has been proclaimed Fire Prevention Week. Observe it and keep observing it all year long. (AFPS)

Chaplain's Chat

By Chaplain (Major) Wilbur J. McDaniel

CONGRATULATIONS

The time is appropriate for me to offer congratulations to the personnel of my uncle's Air Force on the improvements I've noticed in the language used here and there. Some of the old timers used to color the atmosphere with their profane and foul language, and in some places some people thought this was a sign of authority and toughness. But not so any more. We know now that it was simply an evidence of a lack of personal control and in many instances an indication of a lack of sufficient education to otherwise express themselves intelligently.

If one is to be free from this useless and debasing habit, he must first WANT to be free. Unless one deeply desires clean speech, none can chastise him into achieving it. In other words, is clean language as desirable as clean food to eat, a clean shirt to put on, or a clean sheet to sleep on? If not, then I have no further argument. Oh yes, I know this subject is covered in the Ten Commandments, and so does the person who is profane. But my point at the moment is a little more self-ish. In other words, is it good for me or you to be clean in speech? Is it desirable for me to keep my body clean (to take a bath) just because I mix with other people, or primarily because it makes me feel better and makes me more livable to myself. Even if I were completely isolated, I am sure I'd bath if half-way decent facilities were available. Isn't it even more desirable to keep the mind and tongue clean? Most of us won't eat with dirty hands if we can avoid it. Why not be just as scrupulous about our speech? If the stream is not polluted, the water will be pure and refreshing. Think it over!

Texas Tech Museum Sponsors New Type Program Of Music

A new type of program is offered this Sunday by the Texas Tech Museum with the opening of this season's Twilight Music Hour. The program, titled "Spotlight on the Choir" will feature the First Methodist Church Choir in the REQUIEM by Fauere. Directed by Rev. T. Ray Branton, First Methodist Minister of Music, the complimentary program will start at 4:00 p.m., Sunday, October 2, in the Museum auditorium, and all Reese personnel and their families are invited.

Field Officers Urged To Offer Services To Contract Schools

Special provisions for keeping an adequate military staff at contract schools in the flying training program are contained in FTAF regulation 36-2 received recently on the base. The regulation was drawn up to assist in meeting needs of the contract school and to make sure that the vital primary training schools are well-manned.

All officers in permanent party status below the rank of lieutenant colonel are authorized and urged by the regulation to apply for contract training school duty as operations officers, directors of military training, military check pilots, and military training instructors. The regulation directs that a special file of applications be kept at FTAF. It has a format for applications attached.

Majors and senior captains may apply for duty as operations officers and directors of military training, while second lieutenants to captains may seek the other two classes of duty.

The regulation prescribes that applicants must be tactful, mature, pleasant, and temperamentally suited to work with civilians and beginning students. All applicants must be on flying status, have a foreign service selection date within the past three years, have two years of instructor training time remaining, and have 1,000 or more flying hours, half in single engine type aircraft. An AFSC of 1124P is asked, or capability of entering this category easily.

The attachment lists available assignments at Bainbridge Air Base, Ga.; Bartow AB, Fla.; Graham AB, Fla.; Hondo AB, Tex.; Malden AB, Mo.; Marana AB, Ariz.; Moore AFB, Tex.; Spence AB, Ga.; and Stallings AB, N. C. Applications must be sent through channels and base commanders are instructed to endorse the applications after interviews with those seeking to go to the contract schools.

Four Base Officers Get Re-Assignments

Re-assignment of four Reese Air Force Base officers to duties at other stations has been announced. Departing are Capt's Jack Bates, Orval E. Mauk, and John T. Faust, and 1st Lt. John D. Blagg, Jr.

Captain Bates, adjutant of the 3500th Installations squadron the past two years, is leaving for Fuchu, Japan. Captains Mauk and Faust are reporting to Moody AFB, Ga., for instrument duty. Lieutenant Blagg is going to Bainbridge Air Base, Ga., to begin training as a pilot.

Captain Faust has been an instructor pilot at Reese AFB two years, following Korean service. During World War II he was in Europe. Captain Mauk, assigned to Reese AFB since June, 1952, following Korean service, is in charge of military training of student officers and cadets. He has been in service since 1945, until 1949 in the Navy and Naval reserves. He has been commander of pre-cadets and a pilot instructor, also.

Lieutenant Blagg has been assistant staff judge advocate at the base the past two years. A graduate of Louisiana State University, he was a member of the law firm Blagg and Blagg in Baton Rouge prior to entering service. The firm became defunct when he came to Reese AFB. His partner was his wife.

PTG Commander Departs For Duty At Observer Wing

Lt. Col. William K. Pfingst, temporary commander of the Pilot Training group at Reese Air Force Base, is leaving this weekend for new duties with the aircraft observer training wing at Harlingen AFB.

Colonel Pfingst came to Reese AFB in April, 1954, from duties as assistant chief of operations and training, headquarters of the 12th Air Force in Germany. A senior pilot, he has served most of his time at Reese as commander of the 3501st Pilot Training squadron, with time also spent as group commander.

The colonel, whose home is in Syracuse, Ind., has been in service since 1940. He was in the Asiatic Pacific theater during World War II, winning several medals.

Wives Hold Card Party; October Coffee Planned

Members of the Officers Wives Club enjoyed a Bridge and Canasta party in the Phantasy Room yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ira H. Schick, senior hostess, was assisted by the Mmes. Tobias Schindler, John Lippincott, R. L. Savage, Homer L. Parsons, Charles L. Stokes, and Lloyd R. Sparks.

On Wednesday morning, October 5th, Mrs. Casper P. West is sponsoring a coffee for all wives of officers recently assigned to Reese. All newcomers are urged to attend even if they have not received an invitation. Spotters, committee chairmen, and Wives Club officers are requested to be present.

Senior hostess for the October luncheon is Mrs. Frank M. Brown. All Wives Club members are urged to remember to bring something with them to contribute to the food shower for the A. P. Oliver family.

Make reservations or cancellations by noon Tuesday, October 4, with any of the following: Mrs. James C. Watkins, Tel. 3851; Mrs. William O. Miller, Tel. 2851; Mrs. Clyde H. Plemons, SH 4-2907; Mrs. Harry L. Parker, Tel. 2611; Mrs. Edgar W. Guy, 207 Mitchell Blvd.

Special Activities

Due to lack of interest and participation, Officers Wives Club Duplicate Bridge on Friday afternoons will be discontinued.

Handicraft classes for all wives of Officers, N.C.O.'s, and Airmen will begin Friday, October 7th, at 9:30 a.m. on the second floor of the base nursery building. Mrs. Thomas Carroll is in charge of the classes. Copper, brass, aluminum and leather tooling, ceramic jewelry, knitting and basket weaving are the crafts offered. Those interested must purchase their own raw materials, which may be obtained in town at any hobby shop, before the first class begins.

The Officers Wives Club evening bowling league is complete, however, there are still openings in the afternoon league which bowls on Tuesdays. Anyone interested in joining this league may contact Mrs. John S. Bonner, Jr., 111 Andrews Drive, phone 2801.

1st Lt. and Mrs. John O. Blagg, Jr., were honored Friday night with a farewell cocktail party given in the TV Room. Hosts were 1st Lt. and Mrs. Haskel E. Downs, 1st Lt. and Mrs. William E. Campbell, 1st Lt. and Mrs. Ralph G. Dresser, 1st Lt. and Mrs. Richard N. Donaldson and 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Charles M. Hoag.

The Blaggs left Saturday for a month's leave in Baton Rouge, La., before he reports to Bainbridge, Ga., to begin flight training.

On Wednesday evening the TV Room was the scene of a combination Stork Shower, Dessert Bridge and Canasta party in honor of Mrs. David R. DeHaas. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Ben M. Kraas, Mrs. Howard W. Cole and Mrs. Carl N. Payne.

NCO Wives Present Variety Hour Social

By Mrs. Jack Rash

"Variety Hour" was the theme of the social enjoyed by members of the Non-commissioned officers wives club Monday night. Mrs. Elric Bordelan and Mrs. Grady Williams won first prize for their skit and Mrs. Ed Crump and Mrs. Claude Rushing won second place with their song.

Door prize was won by Mrs. Dallas M. Tourtellot.

Guests at the social were Mmes. G. C. Muth, J. H. Brandt and Mary E. Hortan.

Hostesses for the party were Mmes. Harry McAllister, John Murphy, Frank Misserole, and Peter Matyasisk.

Ten States Grant Korean Veterans Bonus; Action Pending In Three

Bonus payments to eligible persons who have had military or naval service since the outbreak of the Korean conflict are available or will be soon in ten states, the AIR FORCE TIMES office has notified Reese AFB officials. Bona fide, not temporary, residents of the states for varying periods just prior to entry into active service are eligible.

Bonus payments are available in Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Vermont, Indiana, South Dakota, Washington, Connecticut, Delaware, and New Hampshire. Action is pending in Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana.

Louisiana payments range from $50 to $250, depending on length and place of service. Massachusetts is paying from $100 to $300; Michigan bonuses are at so-much a month up to $500; and South Dakota has a maximum of $500 for stateside service and $650 for overseas service; paid on a basis of 50 cents a day stateside and 75 cents a day overseas.

Vermont will pay $10 a month up to $120 for enlisted service only. The Indiana legislature authorized $15 a month for Korean theater service, but failed to define the theater. Bonus applications will be available in May and the definition is expected then.

Washington will pay from $100 to $200 maximum, Connecticut goes to $300, and New Hampshire is paying for each month of service up to $300.

Applications in all states should be sent to the state capitol, in most instances to the adjutant general or office of veterans affairs.

The Illinois legislature has set up a commission to study all angles of the bonus picture; Iowa will hold a referendum next year on a proposal to pay up to $500; and Ohio will have its 1956 referendum on bonus up to $400.

New Dentist Arrives At Reese AFB Clinic

First Lt. Charles A. Mayer, recent graduate of the Marquette university dental school, has arrived at Reese Air Force Base for assignment to the base hospital dental clinic.

Lieutenant Mayer is a native of Mayville, Wis., and was commissioned on completion of schooling at Marquette last June. He attended the school of aviation medicine prior to being sent to Reese AFB. He and his wife are living in Reese Village.

Wilt Thou Take This Man?

If you — as the wife of an airman or an officer — sometimes get weary of the many inconveniences an Air Force wife has to put up with, here's an article you're sure to enjoy.

We ran across it in "The Manhattan Beachcomber," published by the 2225th Personnel Processing Group (Air Force), Camp Kilmer, N. J. The Beachcomber reprinted the article from "The Flying Hands Magazine," a Hq, Eighth Air Force publication. Titled "Love That Man," the article runs as follows:

"We all love our husbands, but every once in awhile, especially during those long TDY's, the wicked little thought may occur to us that the words used at an airman's wedding should read something like this:

"Wilt thou, George, take this woman as thy wedded wife, to live together insofar as the Department of the Air Force will allow? Wilt thou love her, comfort her, honor and keep her, take her to the movies and come home promptly on all passes and leaves?"

"I will."

"Wilt thou, Doris, take this airman as thy wedded husband, bearing in mind off-duty hours, flight schedules, details, sudden shipping orders, uncertain mail connections and all other problems incident to Air Force life? Wilt thou serve him, love, honor and wait for him, learn to wash, fold and press his uniforms, and keep a lamp in the window for him?"

"I will."

"I, George, take thee, Doris, as my wedded wife from 1700 until 0800 hours, as far as permitted by my commanding officer, off-duty hours (subject to change without notice), for better, for worse, for earlier or later, and I promise to write at least once a week."

"I, Doris, take thee George, as my lawful wedded husband, subject to orders of your commanding officer, changing residence whenever ordered, to have and to hold as long as my allotment comes through regularly and there I give my troth."

"Then let no man put asunder what God and the Department of the Air Force have brought together, by virtue of the authority vested in Air Force Regulations, subject to Air Force Directives, and the latest Air Force Letters concerning Marriage. You are now Man and Wife, Amen!"

We hope the author of the article won't mind a postscript to call attention to something she probably didn't want to say about herself. From the tone of her story, we can surmise that she loves her husband. To her, he's the Number One Man, just as he is to the Air Force.

It's obvious, too, that the author of the article also loves her country. By waiting through long TDY periods, regulating her household routine to fit changing Air Force schedules, and the like, she's putting needs of the Nation before her own convenience.

She probably realizes too that hers is a pretty special job. Most wives, of course, make sacrifices to help preserve security of their own families. But Air Force wives have an even higher calling. Their daily sacrifices — while their husbands are hard at work on the Air Force mission — help preserve security for the whole free world.

Maybe that idea will give you some food for thought during those long TDY's. There's a lot of satisfaction in realizing that your sacrifices are partly responsible for peace in our land.

AF Renames Bases Honoring Officers Who Died In Service

renaming two Strategic Air Command bases in honor of fighter pilots who distinguished themselves in action against the enemy during WWII.

Great Falls AFB, Mont., will be re-designated Malmstrom AFB to commemorate Col. Einer A. Malmstrom, a WWII ace and prisoner of war, who was killed last year in an air accident near the base.

Sedalia AFB, Mo., will be renamed Whiteman AFB in memory of Second Lt. George A. Whiteman, who was killed at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941 while taking off under fire to engage the enemy.

Both bases will officially assume their new names effective Oct. 1. Dedication ceremonies will be held at a later date. (AFPS)

Observer Corps Duty Assignments Are Now Open To Select Airmen

Qualified airmen are now given an opportunity to volunteer for duty with the Ground Observer Corps as instructors or in other type assignments.

Hqs USAF has announced that those who meet the eligibility criteria will be assigned three-year tours at detachments in the U. S. and in localities of their choice when possible.

The assignment policy is for airmen on duty in the U. S., as well as those overseas and due for re-assignment.

In order to qualify the airman must be: on active duty; in grade of staff sergeant or higher; have a minimum of four years active service; have a character and efficiency rating of at least excellent; have foreign service selection date not earlier than 24 months from date of application (with exceptions for airmen with 20 and 26 years active service). To qualify an airman must not be assigned to a unit which has a stabilized tour, such as recruiting service, ROTC, Air Attache and Air National Guard duty.

Airmen can make application on AF Form 109 "Airman's Application for Special Assignment" through channels to the Commander, Air Defense Command, Ent AFB, Colorado Springs, Colo. Application should be accompanied by a recent photograph of the airman. Those based overseas must apply no earlier than the 12th and no later than the 9th month prior to their scheduled rotation date.

Complete details on the subject, including list of cities where GOC detachments are located, can be found in Interim Change No. 3 to AFM 35-11.

Reenlist

S/Sgt. Robert D. Folkers, A/1C Donald B. Ashlock, and A/2C Verdid L. Arnold have reenlisted for a period of six years and are re-assigned to the base.

Sergeant Folkers is assigned to the 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance sq., Ashlock to the 3500th USAF hospital in the ambulance service and Arnold to Hq. Sq. Maintenance and Supply Group for administrative duty.

The base intramural football league will start its initial play Monday, October 3. The games played on the base might just be touch football, but it is nevertheless a rough and tough scramble, anyway.

With the decreasing temperatures and in turn, decreasing attendance, the base swimming pool closed its doors for the 1955 season. The pool had been open since May 18th.

The number one rated gridiron team in the nation, Maryland, will be seen in action against Baylor University, at Waco this Saturday night.

Maryland won its berth as top team in the nation after defeating the favorite UCLA, last week voted number one, by 7 to 0. UCLA, by the way, slipped to sixth place after their loss.

The University of Michigan Wildcats were second in the UP grid poll after handing Missouri a strong 32-7 defeat.

Texas Christian University, who were in Lubbock last Saturday, moved up to ninth place in the United Press poll.

The Texas Tech Raiders will travel to Stillwater, Okla., to play the Oklahoma A&M Aggies, Saturday. In the past rivalry, Texas Tech has won 6, lost 4, and fought the Aggies to a tie twice.

The long ball was the word in the first game of the 1955 World Series, as the Yankees went by the Dodgers by the score of 6 to 5.

The Yankees, however, were out-hit 10 to 9, but added an extra run to win.

Joe Collins hit two of the Yankees' four home-runs to lead the victors. The Dodgers also hit many long balls and connected with two circuit blows. Winning pitcher was Whitey Ford, Yankee starter, and Don Newcombe was the loser.

5 Reese Officers High In S. O. Course

Five Reese Air Force Base officers made such high grades in a recent Squadron Officers course at Air university in Alabama that they received high praise and high officer ratings from the university.

The five are Capt. Robert L. Savage, military training officer; Thomas H. Davis, flight commander, and Loral H. Hall, aircraft maintenance officer; and 1st Lts. Earl W. Handing, pilot instructor, and William E. Mohr, III, academic instructor.

Col. C. P. West, Base Commander, was notified that the five were high in the upper ten percent of the class of 700 students completing a 14-weeks course at the university August 12. All members of the class were constantly supervised in all phases of their course and grading officers rated the Reese officers high, in the upper bracket of the rating: "A very fine officer of great value to the service." This rate in their permanent files is considered at promotion time and at other periods.

Recreational Bus Available To All Military Personnel

Local sportsmen are reminded that Reese has a recreational bus available to all military personnel for outings, picnics, fishing and hunting trips that are within a 300 mile radius of the base, the personnel services pointed out.

The bus is equipped with cooking and camping facilities for the convenience of those using it.

Personnel desiring to use the bus should submit their application on a disposition form to the base personnel services officer at least 92 hours in advance of the date desired.

Further information can be obtained by contacting 2nd Lt. John P. Lee, base personnel services officer, or by calling ext. 612.

Oklahoma Coach Named To Head AF Cage Team

Bruce Drake, successful basketball coach at the University of Oklahoma for the past 17 years, has been named coach of the Air Force basketball team. The AF team will be selected from the top amateur basketball players now on active duty with the AF at various bases. The squad will assemble around December 1, with competitive games to be played between January 1 and March 15 prior to participation in the Armed Forces Olympic tryout tournament.

In addition to coaching the basketball team, Drake also will serve in advisory capacity in respect to training of AF Olympic candidates in sports other than basketball.

Heads For England

S/Sgt. James M. Moon, Jr., of the Installations group is leaving for new duties in Germany. He is taking a month's leave before reporting for shipment overseas on October 23.

Goes To Chanute

S/Sgt. Jack J. Ingle of the Pilot Training group is under orders to go to Chanute AFB on October 6 for duty with the headquarters squadron section of the Air Base group there.

Instructor Pilots Bag Birds On Recent Day-Night Flights

1st Lt. Raymond G. Cook got his bird right through the plexiglass nose of his B-25 last week. He was at six thousand feet on the return flight of a day-night cross-country to Tinker AFB, Oklahoma.

2nd Lt. Charles F. Jordan also lost a pane of plexiglass when he met one the previous week. Lt. Jordan was at eleven thousand feet returning from Williams AFB, Arizona, when his plane hit a bird.

Lt. Cook says he believes something should be done about requiring birds to either display navigation lights or file flight plans for all night flights even though they were flying long before men.

Flight One Lt. Receives Promotion To First

Lieutenant Joseph Aimo, instructor pilot in Flight One, received his promotion to First Lieutenant last week.

A graduate of the Basic Instructor School at Craig AFB, Alabama, Lt. Aimo has been assigned to Reese as an instructor in T-28's and B-25's since July of 1954.

Lieutenant Aimo was commissioned upon graduation from single-engine Basic Training at Webb AFB, Texas, in March of 1954, and attended F-86 Transition and Gunnery at Nellis AFB, Nevada, before being assigned to Reese.

Prisoner School Studied By Air Force

Washington — The Air Force's POW survival school at Stead AFB, Nev., is being studied to see whether any changes are necessary in view of the new prisoner Code of Conduct announced by President Eisenhower.

Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., deputy AF chief of staff for personnel, disclosed that the review of the Stead course was in progress.

Pending its completion, students at the school will continue to be allowed to volunteer as subjects for sham prisoner interrogations, Gen. O'Donnell said. (AFPS)

Ex-Mosquito Pilots To Hold Reunion At Goodfellow AFB In November

Mosquito pilots, whose target spotting helped the ground advances of the Army Infantry and Marines in Korea, will converge on Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, November 11 for their first reunion since the signing of the Armistice.

A two-day meeting of the T-6 pilots and other officers of the 6147th Tactical Control Group and their wives is scheduled for November 11 and 12, with a full calendar of activities planned for the occasion. Colonel R. C. Crawford, Goodfellow's Commander, says every effort will be made to make this first reunion a memorable event for all.

Tentative plans for this event were made at a small reunion held at Goodfellow recently. Forty-eight ex-"Mosquito's" and their wives were present at that time, and Major Harold C. Hansen was designated Project Chairman for the November dates.

Entertainment arrangements for the officers and their wives will include a cocktail hour and a dance on Friday, November 11, with Saturday morning scheduled for a mixed breakfast. Following the breakfast, the Mosquito's will hold a business meeting, while the ladies hold an informal coffee.

All officers planning to attend this event are requested to send a letter or post card to "Mosquito's", Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, so that adequate arrangements and reservations can be made for their comfort.

Reservations will be made, either on or off base, for all who desire them. Those traveling by automobile and desiring reservations in town will be advised by mail well in advance of the scheduled dates.

63rd Troop Carrier Wing Wins Best Unit Award

The 63rd Troop Carrier wing has won the Air Force outstanding unit award by distinguishing itself from March 2 through May 31, 1955, an AF publication disclosed recently.

The organization successfully completed an airlift of construction equipment, housing and building material for a distant early warning network in the remote Canadian Arctic.

The movement was part of "Project Ice Cube" airlift and the superior manner in which the project was accomplished reflects great credit on the troop carrier wing.

Bigger in performance, power and appearance, this new 1956 Mercury Monterey coupe emphasizes the lower silhouette of the entire line of Mercurys for 1956. With 13 models in three series—Montclair, Monterey and Custom—Mercury offers an impressive variety of color and fabric combinations. A new Mercury Safety-Surge V-8 engine with 312 cubic inch displacement further enhances Mercury's acceleration and power throughout all the driving range.

AF-Army Games Feature A-Weapons

Langley AFB, Va. (AFPS) — The largest air force-army maneuver since the end of WWII—Exercise Sage Brush—will be "fought" this fall in a sprawling 7,000,000 acre area surrounding Camp Polk, La.

Approximately 110,000 army and 30,000 air force men will take part in the huge maneuver designed to prepare them for an attack by an enemy with "numerically superior ground and air units." The exercise starts Nov. 8 and will last 45 days.

One of the key aspects of Sage Brush is the expectation that it will add significantly to our knowledge of air and ground combat when atomic weapons are employed.

Every type of tactical aircraft will be used during the maneuvers, including fighter-bombers, light bombers, tactical reconnaissance planes, tactical missiles, troop carriers, and rotary and fixed wing assault and refueling planes.

In Sage Brush, simulated atomic, chemical, bacteriological and electronic weapons will be used—and the results could mark the beginning of vital changes in military tactics.

Officials at Tactical Air Command Hq., here, met with the National and Regional Airspace Committee at Ft. Worth, Tex., recently to plan coordination of civic and military flights during the big maneuvers.

The action in Sage Brush will be centered on a situation in which aggressor forces have taken a foothold in the U.S. Gulf Coast area. The United States, fighting on the defensive, must muster its strength and strike back.

Army units will maneuver in area reaching from the Sabine River to Opelousas, La., and from Lake Charles to Monroe, La. Air Force units will be based in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama.

Gen. O. P. Weyland, chief of the Tactical Air Command, will command the exercise. This is one of the few occasions that an AF general has commanded a large joint AF-Army exercise. Thirty-eight other generals of the army and AF also have been assigned to Sage Brush.

Two Lieutenants Pass 1,000 Hours

1st Lts. Alexander Edgar and Jay Picking have recently passed their 1000th hour of flying time this week. Both of the lieutenants are graduates of Reese AFB pilot training.

Lieutenant Edgar graduated from class 54-L and went through B-26 transition at Vance AFB. He went to BIS at Craig AFB and returned to Reese as an instructor.

Lieutenant Picking graduated from Class 54-N and was in the first Basic Instructor School class to be graduated from Reese.

Leaves and TDY

Lt. James L. Wadley Jr. returned from leave to Flight 10 just in time to start with training of Class 56-J.

Lt. H. V. Dyer, of Flight 7, is presently on a 30 day leave in Atlanta, Ga., and will be separated from service on his return. He has been an instructor in the flight for the past 14 months.

LAFFS

The vacuum cleaner salesman was demonstrating in a skyscraper apartment building. The doorbell rang.

"It's probably my husband!" gasped the housewife, "He's insanely jealous. Jump out the window."

"But this is the thirteenth floor!" said the salesman.

"Go on," she said, "This is no time to be superstitious".

* * * *

Then there's the bandage-covered patient who lay in the hospital bed.

"What happened?" he asked.

"You had one too many last night and they made you bet that you could jump out the window and fly around the block."

"Why," pleaded the beat-up patient, "didn't you stop me?"

"Stop you, I had $25 on you."

* * * *

Young man—"Sir, I want to marry your daughter."

Father—"Have you seen my wife yet?"

Young man—"Yes, sir, but I still prefer your daughter."

* * * *

Clerk: "Did you kill any moths with those moth balls you bought the other day?"

Customer: "No, I tried for five hours and missed every time."

* * * *

A lot of self-made men should deny it.

* * * *

"Hey, where is that chicken I ordered an hour ago?"

"It'll be along soon. The cook hasn't killed it yet, sir, but he's getting in some nasty blows."

Base Improves Record In 'Handicapped' Employment

Reese AFB has improved its record over last year in the employment of handicapped persons, Col. C. P. West, base commander, stated in referring to the observance of the National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, October 2-8.

The Air Force has in operation a selective placement program which emphasizes the practicability of placement and retention of physically handicapped persons wherever they can perform a job successfully without hazard to themselves or others, he said.

Evidence of the effectiveness of this policy is reflected in statistics for 1951 through 1954 which show that an average of over 10 percent of all Air Force civilian employees in the U. S., had a physical handicap which required selective placement. The physically handicapped have demonstrated by their performance that it is good business for the AF to employ them.

At Reese the employment of these handicapped persons is above the average for the Air Force, Colonel West pointed out. The base has better than 17 percent of civilian employees in that category.

UP SLEEVES AGAIN— FLU SHOTS COMING!

WASHINGTON (AFPS) — Influenza shots again will be mandatory this year for military personnel stationed both in the U. S. and overseas. The shots also will be available for military dependents.

Supplies of the influenza vaccine are expected to begin arriving at military installations sometime in October and shots will begin immediately. The program is scheduled to be completed by the end of November.

Eighteen Friendly Nations Observe Air Force Weapons-Gunnery Meet

Eighteen friendly nations from North and South America to Europe, Asia and Africa, will be represented by official observers at the United States Air Forces fourth world-wide fighter weapons and gunnery meet which started at Nellis AFB, Monday.

According to a preliminary listing of officials made public here, air attaches from Australia, Great Britain, Canada, Venezuela, Korea, Yugoslavia, France, India, and Israel will be in attendance.

Also observers from Burma, Indonesia, Turkey, China, Sweden, Iraq, Vietnam, Egypt, and Pakistan, will join with Air Force staff experts, technical specialists from other U. S. services and civilian guests to watch top teams from this country and overseas compete in air to air and air to ground contests.

Each group contains six pilots and twenty-five ground crewmen, chosen as best in their commands after contests this summer.

Besides the competitive events which will take place at Nellis, Indian Springs gunnery range each day during the week, the visitors will see exhibits of latest USAF equipment and aircraft, some being flown to Nellis especially for the meet. Aerial firepower will be part of each day's program.

The official Air Force demonstration team, The Thunderbirds, based at Luke AFB, near Phoenix, Ariz., will conduct exhibitions of precision flying at various times during the meet, as well as the aerial acrobatics will show latest techniques of fighter handling, and give visitors a good look at the speed and maneuverability of first line combat aircraft now being flown.

Physical Training Program Studied By AF Headquarters

WASHINGTON. — The AF is preparing a physical fitness regulation authorizing major area commanders to grant a half day off weekly to selected personnel for exercise and athletics.

It is not yet in effect, but will be published and distributed to the field after further study. The AF stressed, however, that the half day exercise periods will not be mandatory since many commands already conduct organized athletics and training programs.

Particular concern was expressed for the physical condition of officers who are approaching middle age and whose duties and responsibilities impose heavy burdens.

These are the people, the AF said, whose positions often do not permit them enough recreation and exercise compared to younger officers who hold jobs of lesser responsibility.

"Physical fitness of airmen is the responsibility of their individual commanding officers," an AF statement said. "Commanders are charged with the responsibility to see that airmen in the older age brackets and assigned to sedentary duties participate in such activity to a degree that they maintain their level of health."

Sub Sets Mark Cr 8,000 Dives

Norfolk, Va. (AFPS) — The Torsk recently became the first U. S. submarine to make 8,000 dives.

Torsk crewmen marked the occasion with a special cake. One crew member, munching his cake, mumbled, "I am not celebrating the 8,000th dive, but the 8,000th surfacing."

The Torsk, commanded by Lt. Cmdr. William L. Siple, is known as the "divingest" ship in the Navy. Her other achievements include sinking the last two Japanese warships in enemy waters on the last day of WWII.

At the end of WWII the Torsk was sent to New London, Conn., to serve as a training boat.

In daily operations from the submarine base the Torsk trained future submariners and these operations accounted for the Torsk building up its vast number of dives.

Promotions To Major

A Hqs USAF selection board has named 1,289 officers for permanent promotion to major in the Regular AF. This includes 1,237 AF, 1 Chaplain, 16 medical, 4 dental, 1 veterinary, 9 medical service, 19 nurses and 2 women's medical specialists. The officers on the AF and Chaplain promotion lists will be promoted during 1956 as they complete the required 14 years service. The others were given recess promotions on September 1 to fill existing vacancies.

SPORTS CARS by Austin Conley—

This book is for the sports car enthusiast, whether he be an owner or not. It is primarily a detailed accurate report on all the latest models, including some that are not yet on the market. Using the manufacturer's technical data, the author has given simple, clear descriptions of each car. There are photographs of both interiors and exteriors, as well as diagrams of motors and chassis.

All the best-known cars of the world are included from Italy, Germany, France, Great Britain, and the United States. And in each instance, Mr. Conley notes the good and bad points of the car. These evaluations are based on tests by experienced drivers and mechanics.
