Lockney's Lucy Dean Record Makes History

By Kay Ellington
 The Hesperian-Beacon

In 1946 a young piano teacher ran an announcement in the Lockney Beacon that she would be available to talk with parents or pupils about piano lessons. Seventy-one years later, Lucy Dean Record has taught more students than there are residents in Lockney and has traveled nationally and internationally performing Western swing music. Along the way, she has been honored with more than a half a dozen awards from major music halls of fame, and at 93, she still gives piano lessons to students.

Monday, the Floyd County Commissioners declared June 11-17, 2017 Lucy Dean Record Week in Floyd County.

Born June 1, 1924, Record began playing piano by ear at age 4 and started taking lessons at 5. By age 7, she was the organist for First United Methodist Church in Lockney, a post she still holds.

Commissioners Tanner Smith, Linden Morris, Nathan Johnson, and County Judge Marty Lucke declare June 11-17 Lucy Dean Record to honor the longtime Lockney piano teacher and musician.

"I had some cousins from Amarillo who would come visit, and they would like to sing the popular songs of the time. Mama heard me playing the songs by ear with them on the piano and said to Papa that they should get me lessons." One of the songs that she remembers playing for her cousins by ear was "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue," a song first recorded in 1925.

During the Great Depression, money for piano lessons was hard to come by. Record's father and mother, Carmillus H. and Mary Ida Rose, washed and ironed clothes for Record's music teacher in a barter arrangement.

Eventually, they opened Rose Laundry in Lockney with eight Maytag washers and two rinse tubs. "They were still supporting me and my music by washing clothes," Record said.

Record began giving piano lessons in 1946. See DEAN, Page 7

Youth Tour has been a Texas tradition since 1965, when co-ops-inspired by then-Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who encouraged youths to go to Washington to see "what the flag stands for and represents"-began sponsoring teens on this trip. Educating and mentoring young people fits in with co-ops' missions to support the communities they serve, and since the program's inception, nearly 4,000 Texans have gone on what many call the trip of a lifetime.

This year, Morren and Reagan will begin their adventure in Austin, where winners from across the state

Oddly enough, the husband did it. His arsenic source was flypaper. Imagine him standing at the stove stirring a big pot of vegetable stew and adding flypaper. Surely it was awkward for him to skip the soup himself at mealtime. What's more, it took weeks, maybe months, meaning lots of bowls of soup for her to ingest and for him to refuse before she succumbed. The flies on the wall must've smiled when the flypaper went into the soup. Have I seen too many cartoons?

Guilty. But I have a friend who thinks insects talk to each other. Maybe they do. We digress.

Back to the kitchen. Women who slip stuff into food don't just do it for their husbands. Children are targets too. My Wal-Mart cashier told me she gets her son to eat stuff he doesn't like by incorporating it in various concoctions. She tells him later. It's no fun if you don't ever tell, unless, of course, murder is your goal. Most mothers are simply trying to add some healthy stuff to their children's diets and get them to broaden their tastes. Mothers are like that.

Back to wives. Sometimes a little culinary stealth benefits the husband. Our last night's salad makings were a head of romaine and some tasteless tomatoes already nixed by my spouse. What to do? I took scissors and went into the wild in search of wood sorrel. Mother called it "sheep shower." Whatever the name, it's a clover-like plant that's a pain to harvest and even more trouble to rinse. But I did it, managing to amass enough of the

The Paperboy Juneteenth is Monday

Juneteenth is the oldest known celebration commemorating the ending of slavery in the United States. Dating back to 1865, it was on June 19th that the Union soldiers, led by Major General Gordon Granger, landed at Galveston, Texas with news that the war had ended and that the enslaved were now free. Note that this was two and a half years after President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation - which had become official January 1, 1863.

CHRIS
BLACKBURN

The Emancipation Proclamation had little impact on the Texans due to the minimal number of Union troops to enforce the new Executive Order. However, with the surrender of General Lee in April of 1865, and the arrival of General Granger's regiment, the forces were finally strong enough to influence and overcome the resistance.

Later attempts to explain this two and a half year delay in the receipt of this important news have yielded several versions that have been handed down through the years.

Often told is the story of a messenger who was murdered on his way to Texas with the news of freedom. Another, is that the news was deliberately withheld by the enslavers to maintain the labor force on the plantations. And still another, is that federal troops actually waited for the slave owners to reap the benefits of one last cotton harvest before going to Texas to enforce the Emancipation Proclamation. All of which, or neither of these versions could be true. Certainly, for some, President Lincoln's authority over the rebellious states was in question.

For whatever the reasons, conditions in Texas remained status quo well beyond what was statutory.

General Order Number 3

One of General Granger's first orders of business was to read to the people of Texas, General Order Number 3 which began most significantly with:

"The people of Texas are informed that in accordance with a Proclamation from the Executive of the United States, all slaves are free. This involves an absolute equality of rights and rights of property between former masters and slaves, and the connection heretofore existing between them becomes that between employer and free laborer."

The reactions to this profound news ranged from pure shock to immediate jubilation.

While many lingered to learn of this new employer to employee relationship, many left before these offers were completely off the lips of their former 'masters' - attesting to the varying conditions on the plantations and the realization of freedom.

Even with nowhere to go, many felt that leaving the plantation would be their first grasp of freedom. North was a logical destination and for many it represented true freedom, while the desire to reach family members in neighboring states drove some into Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. Settling into these new areas as free men and women brought on new realities and the challenges of establishing a heretofore non-existent status for black people in America.

Recounting the memories of that great day in June of 1865 and its festivities would serve as motivation as well as a release from the growing pressures encountered in their new territory.

The celebration of June 19th was coined "Juneteenth" and grew with more participation from descendants. The Juneteenth celebration was a time for reassuring each other, for praying and for gathering remaining family members.

Juneteenth continued to be highly revered in Texas decades later, with many former slaves and descendants making an annual pilgrimage back to Galveston on this date.

A range of activities were provided to entertain the masses, many of which continue in tradition today. Rodeos, fishing, barbecuing and baseball are just a few of the typical Juneteenth activities you may witness.

Juneteenth almost always focused on education and self improvement. Thus, often guest speakers are brought in and the elders are called upon to recount the events of the past. Prayer services were also a major part of these traditions.

delicate sour-tasting leaves to give the romaine a counterpoint. Then I added a few bits of innocuous fresh mozzarella for looks.

I didn't spoil our meal by mentioning the wood sorrel. The salad drew no complaints. My spouse didn't blink an eye later when I told him what I'd done, not that he hadn't seen me roaming around with the scissors. In my favor, he'd been bitten by a buffalo gnat and couldn't blink anyway - at least not normally. What's more, the distraction imposed by the severely swollen eye effectively kept his focus off the aberrant salad. That's not to mention the over-easy eggs that weren't.

Yep, any sort of culinary deception - arsenic to wood sorrel - works best when the meal escapes scrutiny.

Me, I was a little disappointed. What fun is a little mischief when it goes unnoticed?

I'm going to have to talk to those buffalo gnats.

On Sunday, June 18 (Father's Day), Jack and Deb Stone will be performing in the 10:45 morning worship hour at Lockney First Baptist Church. Everyone is invited to come worship and enjoy the musical inspiration of the Stones.

Jack grew up in West Texas as a preacher's kid. At the age of 28, he began pastoring along with his wife, Deb, and their three children. He began his singing career in 1994. As a strong vocalist, he has been given many opportunities to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ. As the Lord opens the doors for Jack, he willingly walks through them. This has led him to many denominations to use his voice for the glory of God.

In March of 2007, Jack was able to release his first single nationwide entitled, "Jesus Is Enough" written by Russ Murphy, who was the New Artist of the Year for 2007 and Song Writer of the Year for 2008. This single went to number 16 on the Christian Country Music Charts. In September of that same year, Jack took a step of faith and launched out into full-time music ministry. Since leaving the pastorate, he has seen 1,249 decisions for Christ.

Jack is the founder of TOP SHELF MINISTRIES INC. and has developed a silicone wristband that says "STRETCH YOUR FAITH." He is currently booking concerts across the area and is available for ministry.

THE LOCKNEY LEDGER NEWSPAPER

The Lockney Beacon wasn't the first newspaper published in Lockney despite the fact it is 50 years old. "The Lockney Ledger" came out with its first edition telling of the affairs of this then young and growing West Texas community almost exactly 4 years previous to the first edition of The Beacon. As far as The Beacon editor an determine "The Ledger" was the first newspaper published in Lockney.

The first edition of "The Ledger" was published on April 21, 1896, with Jno. C. Hendrix as editor and Romulus Jones as assistant. Mr. Jones, a brother of Mrs. George Meriwether of Lockney and now living at Kerrville, Texas, was kind enough to loan the Beacon editor a copy of this first edition recently.

Mr. Hendrix was a lawyer and only stayed long enough to get the newspaper started, stepping out soon thereafter leaving it in the hands of Mr. Jones. Mr. Jones was the son of J. B. Jones, an early day photographer of Lockney, and he had just finished his school work at Lockney Christian College, comparable to high school work now. He had about four or five years experience in the printing business, having started as a "devil" in the office of the "Lubbock Leader", Lubbock's first newspaper, started by Bob Rogers about July, 1891.

Mr. Jones continued to publish "The Ledger" until the fall of 1900 when he sold it to Mrs. Dot Hall, formerly Miss Dot Shafer, whose father, J. M. Shafer, published the Hale County Herald at Plainview.

"The Ledger" was a four page, six column all hand-set weekly, published on Thursday. The equipment for printing the newspaper was kindly furnished, without charge, by a board which had been given possession of it when a newspaper published at Mayshaw, "The Mayshaw Zephyr", suspended publication. The town of Mayshaw was located southeast of Lockney and north and a little east of Floydada and existed only a few years.

The printing plan used by the early publishers consisted of an old George Washington hand press and an assortment of 10 point body type, some display type, type cases and stands and a few other pieces of equipment. After a few months trying experience of pulling the lever that made the impression on the old "G. Washington," an opportunity presented itself for the purchase of a second-hand 14x22 Universal job press and a pretty good supply of type and other equipment. Mr. Jones made a deal for the "new equipment" and turned the old equipment back to the group who had possession of it originally. He is of the opinion that this group either sold or leased the equipment to the founder of The Beacon, Frank N. Oliver.

After the better equipment was secured for "The Ledger" plant, a small religious paper, "The Bible Student," edited by Prof. G.H.P. Showalter discontinued this publication and purchased the "Firm Foundation," a religious paper published at Austin and is still connected with it.

The first issue of "The Ledger," is a well printed, well-edited newspaper although quite different from the modern weekly newspaper. In an article titled "Salutatory" the editors of "The Ledger" say that they seek the upbuilding of the community, Floyd County, and themselves in the publishing of the newspaper. They promise to deal with facts, not to mislead anyone and to keep the people informed on public issues. They state that they will be independent in politics and desire to give value received both for money received for advertising and subscriptions.

Another article comments on the date of the first publication as being also the 62nd anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto in which "700 patriots under the command of one of histories' most noted men, General Sam Houston, won the greatest battle recorded in the history of the "Lone Star State."

An "Educational Column" is written by G.H.P. Showalter, in which he discussed a summer normal to be held at Plainview and also the Lockney Christian College, at which the session will close June 10. He tells of the Young Men's Debating Club and ends with an article urging young people to think seriously on life.

On the editorial page a directory of various state and county officials is given including C.A. Culbertson, governor; A. B. Duncan, county judge; J. B. Bartley, county attorney; R. T. Miller, county clerk; E. C. Henry, Sheriff; J. D. Starks, commissioner, Precinct No. 1; W. C. Nichols, commissioner, precinct No. 3; S. B. Chadwick, commissioner, precinct No. 4.

The editor has a long article telling of the only time the United States has declared war, that against England in 1812 and hinting that this country may again have to take such a course, apparently against Spain.

T. F. Beall, county chairman for the Populist Party, issues a call for all precinct chairmen to hold precinct conventions in their respective precincts on the third Saturday in May and to send delegates to the county convention meeting at Lockney on May 28. In the same vein a resolution is given signed by Mr. Beall and J.J. Rogers, secretary, in which the men "endorse the action of the reorganization committee at St. Louis, and are opposed to fusion in any form." The resolution further states that the men are opposed to the present administration, that a change is necessary, and that they favor a co-operative railroad in the state.

A long article in this issue describes Floyd County's many virtues, telling of its location, altitude, etc. In the latter part of the article he describes Lockney as "The principal town of the county, located northwest of the center of the county, a thriving little village of 200 population." It also says, "Floyd City is the other town in the county, it being the county site, located about 12 miles southeast of Lockney and is a very nice little town filled with energetic businessmen."

Baseball Quotes

Love is the most important thing in the world, but baseball is pretty good, too.

—Yogi Berra

There are three types of baseball players: Those who make it happen, those who watch it happen and those who wonder what happens.

—Tommy Lasorda

Baseball is a lot like life. It's a day-to-day existence, full of ups and downs. You make the most of your opportunities in baseball as you do in life.

—Ernie Harwell

I see great things in baseball. It's our game - the American game.

—Walt Whitman

The way I figured it, I was even with baseball and baseball with me. The game had done much for me, and I had done much for it.

—Jackie Robinson

In baseball, my theory is to strive for consistency, not to worry about the numbers. If you dwell on statistics you get shortsighted, if you aim for consistency, the numbers will be there at the end.

—Tom Seaver

You could be a kid for as long as you want when you play baseball.

—Cal Ripken, Jr.

Baseball was, is and always will be to me the best game in the world.

—Babe Ruth

Baseball is the only field of endeavor where a man can succeed three times out of ten and be considered a good performer.

—Ted Williams

When baseball is no longer fun, it's no longer a game.

—Joe DiMaggio

Growing Potential

The steadfast love of the LORD never ceases, his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning.

—Lamentations 3:22-23 (NRSV)

For several years, wild violets have grown in part of my herb garden. Then it finally occurred to me that violets are weeds. They may be beautiful, but I was allowing them to sap the vital nutrients from the soil to the detriment of my herbs. I had compromised the integrity of my garden for the sake of the violets.

Sin, like weeds, can come into our lives beautifully packaged and seemingly harmless. But it robs us of the spiritual nutrients we need to grow. I wondered, Where have

I compromised my spiritual life by letting sin grow? What pretty package did it come in? For starters, I like to think I am self-sufficient. I don't always ask God for guidance, and sometimes I forget to read my Bible.

Thankfully, God provides new mercies every morning and forgives me. Just as I pulled out the violets that prevented my herbs from growing to their full potential, with God's guidance, we are able to make choices and to change behaviors so that we will no longer compromise our spiritual growth.

—Lynne Jamison (Pennsylvania, USA)

Thought for the Day: How do the compromises and choices I make impact my spiritual growth? Because of my faith, I am not alone.

Here are the results from the contest: Austin Phillips, 2nd place third grade bare bow, Drake Gonzales, 6th place junior bare bow, Kaden Weekes, 8th place junior compound aided, Peyton Anderson, 9th intermediate bare bow, Ryder Glass, 1st intermediate recurve, Rachel Graham, 6th place senior compound aided, Mason Esty, 1st senior recurve.

Congratulations to all on a job well done!

America Sprint Car Series puts on a great show at West Texas Speedway

By Daniel Shank
Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

West Texas Raceway in Lubbock was the site that was chose to kick off the ASCS Summer Sizzle Speed week; this was the first night of nine straight nights of racing for the touring series.

It has been 15 year since the series has set speed records 118.3 mph was tops on the West Texas bullring. ASCS brought cars from three counties and nine states with the furthest driver coming from South Wales and Melbourne, Australia. Stateside we had a driver from Spokane, Washington. But Colorado's Jake Bubak #74b has been getting much practice driving a 305 sprint here at WTR for the last eight weeks. He picked a great night to get a major win in the series. "This was my first win in the 360 class", stated Jake. Dustin Morgan of Tulsa, Oklahoma, finished 2nd while Blake Hahn of Sapulpa, Oklahoma grabbed 3rd. The best local driver was #17 Josh Baughman of Odessa, Texas fought to get a 9th position finish. ASCS brought 24 fighting for 22 starting positions. The 1736 fans enjoyed an amazing night of racing.

If you ask some of the 17 local Street Stock drivers they would tell you it is great to see the touring series, but they do not want to be out shined, they tried to steal back the spotlight. By providing some of the best racing of the season including a pass on the last lap in the final lap in turn 4. Season point leader David McCurry #555 was unable to hold off door to door racing down the back straight and into turn 3. #29 Steven Smallwood passed him low in turn 4 and beat him to the line to take his vehicle to the Harley Davidson victory line for the win. Several drivers were going all out when David Lucky #2 blew his engine on lap 8 while battling Jason Lester #4. The DNF bug bit Jerry Riley #116 again when he lost control in turn 2 and collected about five other cars.

Cory Williams #511 of Slaton took control of the Sport Mods race at lap 3, the other 17 cars seemed to be sitting still. He fought to come from the 8th starting position. Lap one had a really bad wreck that involved Lubbock's Ryan Thomas #15 who got sideways under the flag stand and took out four other cars. 711, 36,4G,5B... but all of them were able to finish the race except the #36 Roger Armstrong, who was towed off the track. Cory with the win is pulling away from the rest of the division in the points lead.

The I-Stocks saw 19 cars started the main event and they were also not going to allow the big boys to steal the spotlight. We saw a 3-wide battle for the lead on lap 5. #45 Brandon Williams, #56 Jordan O'Neil and #00 Shawn McCarty dragged down the back straightaway, Brandon pulled away and took the lead into turn 3. He went on to finish in that position taking over for the rest of the race. #00 hung on for second and Cary White finished 3rd.

The 305 sprints saw a major flip going into turn 3 #13 drove by Alexander Ort took a rough tumble, he was ok and not to happy watching his ride being towed off the track. Chris Douglas #56 beat Jake Bubak #74 and prevented him from a double victory night. #13 Preston Peebles grabbed a third-place finish. John and Jett Carney rounded out the top 5 positions.

On June 16th we find Freedom Firewood adding $1,500 to the I-Stock division. This should make for a great night in the I-Stock class. Friday nights racing starts at 8 p.m.

Lane closures planned for US 70, SH 194 in Hale County

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

PLAINVIEW – Starting tomorrow, motorist driving on US 70 and SH 194, at I-27 in Plainview, can anticipate lane closures as the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) begins work to abate asbestos on the bridges. The abatement work is being done to prepare the bridges to undergo major maintenance planned for later this summer.

Work is scheduled to begin on Tuesday, June 13, and continue through the month of July, said Mike Craig, TxDOT Plainview Area engineer.

"First to be impacted by the work, are the north- and southbound I-27 frontage road turnarounds at US 70. The turnarounds will be closed to traffic starting on Tuesday," Craig said. "All lane closures will occur during daytime hours only, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and are not expected to impact weekend traffic," Craig said.

Motorists should anticipate traffic delays and are urged to use caution when driving through the work zone, since crews will be working in close proximity to traffic and should keep the following tips in mind:

- Slow down and always follow posted work zone speed limits. Speeding is one of the major causes of work zone crashes. Remember, traffic fines double in work zones.

- Pay attention. Workers and heavy equipment may only be a few feet from passing vehicles.

- Be patient. Delays from roadway construction can be frustrating, but it only takes a few

- extra minutes to slow down for a work zone.

Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo commits $1.4 million in scholarships

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo awarded 70 4-H members from 54 different Texas counties with $1.4 million in scholarships during the Texas 4-H Roundup in College Station, Texas, Thursday, June 8.

Founded in 1908, Texas 4-H is the largest youth development program in the state, impacting more than 550,000 students each year through agriculture-related, hands-on learning experiences.

"Texas 4-H and the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo have a shared vision of youth development that involves a diverse offering of competitions and educational programs, many of which incorporate some facet of agriculture," said Joel Cowley, Show president and CEO. "As a result, it is particularly rewarding to recognize the effort and accomplishments of these very deserving 4-H scholars."

Each of these 2017 Texas 4-H Show scholars receives a $20,000 college scholarship, payable over four years.

Students were selected by Texas 4-H officials based on the students' involvement with the program, academic achievements and financial need. Of the 70 recipients honored, 65 percent were female and 35 percent were male. In the fall, these students will attend 25 different Texas colleges and universities and will major in 44 different disciplines.

Since the first scholarship was awarded in 1957 in the amount of $2,000, more than 2,500 Texas 4-H'ers have received scholarships from the Show.

This is the third of four scholarship presentations this summer in which the Show will commit $14.3 million in scholarships to Texas youth. These scholarships represent a portion of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo's annual commitment of more than $26 million to scholarships, research, endowments, calf scramble participants, junior show exhibitors, School Art participants and other educational programs. For more information on the Show's educational support, visit rodeohouston.com/Educational-Support/Commitment.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is a Sec-

Commissioners Recognize Record Old Settlers' Individual winners

By Kay Ellington
The Hesperian-Beacon

In their monthly meeting Floyd County Commissioners declared the week of June 11-17 as Lucy Dean Record Week in Floyd County.

Record, who has taught piano in Lockney since 1946 and who has earned national recognition as a Western Swing performer since 1991 appeared at the court to accept the honor. (See feature story: Record Makes History With Music).

In other court action Computer Transition Services made a presentation to the court about the services they provide to organizations, such as county governments, that enable back-up of data, improved firewall protection, and enhanced access to internal wireless networks.

Also, on the agenda, County Judge Marty Lucke noted that the costs associated with the Guardian Camera Security system that Commissioners had agreed to pursue earlier this year might exceed earlier estimates and recommended that the court table action on that initiative until further study could be done.

Also appearing before the court was Shern Bohr, CEO of Central Plains Center. CPC provides services to assist families whose children might have developmental delays, and she summarized some of their programs for the court.

In other court discussion, commissioners discussed developments in wind energy. Commissioner Linden Morris noted that Hill Country Wind Power had been active in Briscoe County and he had heard that they had plans to enter the Floyd County market.

Kay Ellington/The Hesperian-Beacon

Virgil Warren came the most distance to attend the 88th Old Settlers' Days. He traveled from Weatherford which is 259 miles.

Arbor Day Foundation Helps Identify Species

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

The Arbor Day Foundation has a book that helps people identify trees in a simple, step-by-step process. The book, What Tree Is That?, is available for a $5 donation to the nonprofit tree-planting organization.

What Tree Is That? is a fun, easy-to-use tree identification guide that features hand-drawn botanical illustrations highlighting the distinctive characteristics of many tree species.

Nature lovers and professional arborists alike have called this pocket field guide a must-have, user-friendly resource. Its beautiful, full-color illustrations are in precise detail and depict natural colors, shapes, and textures so users can make a positive species identification in just a few easy steps.

The Arbor Day Foundation offers this book to help people identify trees throughout the Eastern and Central regions of the United States. What Tree Is That? uses a unique step-by-step approach for identifying the species of each tree, explaining what to look for in the shape of the leaves, differences in the leaf stems and twig structures, and specific characteristics of fruits, flowers, buds, and bark.

"Our What Tree Is That? Pocket guide is an ideal resource for developing a greater appreciation for trees," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "The Arbor Day Foundation strives to help people enjoy and appreciate trees, and we feel our pocket field guide will do just that."

What Tree Is That? is also available as an online interactive version at arborday.org.

Be aware of the deadly amoeba when enjoying freshwater recreation

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

WACO, Texas (June 9, 2017) — As the weather warms up, finding relief in cool water seems inviting. However, warmer water temperatures means there is danger from an amoeba that can cause a rare but fatal infection.

Primary amebic meningoencephalitis (PAM) is a rare disease caused by Naegleria fowleri, an amoeba found in almost all untreated, fresh surface water and in soil. The amoeba thrives in low levels of fresh water that is warmer than 80 degrees and stagnant or slow-moving. The PAM infection occurs when water containing the organism is forced into the nasal passages — usually from diving or jumping into water or from water skiing. The amoeba makes its way into the brain and spinal cord, destroying brain tissue.

Symptoms of the infection include severe headache, high fever, stiff neck, nausea, vomiting, seizures and hallucinations as the condition worsens. Although PAM is rare, those infected usually succumb to the disease within a week.

There have been 34 reported cases of PAM in Texas between 1972 and 2016. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports that of 143 cases nationwide since 1962, there are four known survivors of the disease.

To prevent infection, it is recommended that those taking part in warm, fresh water-related activities use nose plugs or hold their noses shut while jumping into the water. Some swim masks can also offer protection. With the amoeba often found in soil, it is best to avoid stirring up underwater sediment. The Texas Department of Health recommends that people avoid stagnant or polluted water and take "No Swimming" signs seriously. PAM cannot be spread person to person nor by drinking water. Salt water, as well as swimming pools and hot tubs that are properly cleaned, maintained and chlorinated are generally safe.

For many years, Naegleria fowleri infections were considered to be fatal with no specific treatments available. However, in recent years, there have been a few patients with confirmed cases of PAM who have survived. The Texas Department of State Health Services recommends that anyone experiencing symptoms of PAM should be evaluated immediately by a physician. The physician should be informed that the patient has taken part in activities in warm surface water. The disease has mistakenly been diagnosed as the flu or meningitis. Providing the physician with information that the patient has been swimming in surface water will allow for appropriate testing to be undertaken quickly.

The Brazos River Authority encourages people to enjoy the water while being aware of health risks associated with swimming in or around stagnant or slow-moving water. For more information about PAM, contact your local county health department or the Texas Department of State Health Services at (512) 776-7111 or 1-888-963-7111. Those who are hearing impaired should call 1-800-735-2989.

About the Brazos River Authority

The Brazos River Authority, with headquarters in Waco, is the oldest river authority in Texas. Created by the Texas Legislature in 1929, the Authority's 42,000 square-mile territory includes all or part of 70 counties; extending from the Texas-New Mexico border west of Lubbock to the Gulf of Mexico near Freeport.

The BRA built, owns, and operates three reservoirs (Lakes Possum Kingdom, Granbury, and Limestone). In addition to these water supply reservoirs, the BRA contracts with the Corps of Engineers for the water supply storage space at eight federal multi-purpose flood control and water conservation reservoirs (Lakes Whitney, Belton, Proctor, Somerville, Stillhouse Hollow, Granger, Georgetown and Aquilla).

The Brazos River Authority operates a regional wastewater system for the cities of Temple-Belton and the Brushy Creek Regional Wastewater System for the City of Round Rock. The BRA also operates wastewater treatment plants for the cities of Clute-Richwood, Sugar Land, and Hutto. The BRA owns and operates the East Williamson County Regional Water System for the City of Taylor.

lessons while she was still in high school. She attended Texas Tech University (then Texas Technological College) and Draughon's Business College.

She married Charles L. Record in 1942 and put her secretarial skills to use at the Army Air Corps in Garden City, Kans.; Monroe, La.; and the Aviation Cadet Center in San Antonio.

Record joked, "I looked for a long time for a man that had a last name that would go with my profession and when I found him I married him in two months and stayed with him until he passed away 48 years later." After the war the Records returned to Lockney, and Lucy Dean pursued teaching certification.

She received her piano teaching certification from the Saint Louis Institute of Music. "I could get the certification in just one summer, and I had a small daughter that my husband could look after while I was gone," she said.

On Feb. 17, 1946, back home in Lockney, Record began teaching piano full-time. At one time, she taught as many as 90 students a week, ranging in age from 4 to 91.

She started teaching because her husband, C.L. came back from the war disabled from a heart procedure gone wrong, on a medical discharge. They had a non-traditional are greeted by Texas Electric Cooperatives, the association that organizes the state's participation in Youth Tour. From there, the planned agenda includes a tour of the State Capital and Bob Bullock Texas State History Museum before boarding a flight to Washington, D.C.

In D.C., the itinerary is jam-packed with sightseeing and meaningful events, including witnessing a wreath-laying ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and attending appointments with elected officials. Highlights also include visiting national monuments and historic sites, touring Smithsonian Institution museums, seeing a show at the Kennedy Center and rallying with fellow students from around the U.S. for a day of inspirational leadership speakers.

After their week in Washington, Morren and Reagan will bring home memories that will last a lifetime.

National Ranching Heritage Center Hosts Western Art and Gear Show

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

Western art and gear collectors will have an opportunity to purchase new art pieces and meet the artists at the 4th Annual Summer Stampede Western Art and Gear Show on Saturday, June 17 from 6 to 11 p.m. at the National Ranching Heritage Center (NRHC) in Lubbock.

Sponsored by Capital Farm Credit, the annual event will feature more than 80 original pieces by 28 artists and craftsmen. The show and sale will begin at 6 p.m. in the NRHC main gallery followed by a 7 p.m. dinner on the patio and an 8 p.m. dance to the Western swing music of Jake Hooker and the Outsiders.

"A portion of the proceeds will benefit the educational and restoration programs of the center," said Executive Director Jim Bret Campbell, emphasizing that the art and gear show "is unique for this part of the country."

"We take a lower commission than most galleries and don't require a bidding process," he said. "Buyers can meet the artist, pay the posted price and take the artwork home that day."

Summer Stampede provides a unique mix of art that combines both Western paintings and gear, including spurs, stirrups, bits, belt buckles and jewelry. Even though Summer Stampede is relatively new among Western art shows, Campbell said sales have been equivalent to other long-established shows.

Campbell said a limited number of tickets are available for the show and must be purchased in advance either online at ranchingheritage.org or by calling (806) 834-0469. The cost is $85 for the general public and $75 for RHA members.

Artist participation is by invitation only. Those scheduled to exhibit are Peter Robbins, David Griffin, Tyler Crow, Baru Forell, Edgar Sotelo, Bob Moline, Teal Blake, Buckeye Blake, Mary Baxter, Billy Klapper, Brian Asher, Wayne Baize, TK Riddle, Jan Mapes, Russell Yates, Mary Ross Buchholz, Mejo Okon, Jason Scull, Garland Weeks, Stewart Williamson, Herman Walker, Jayson Jones, JaNeil Anderson, Kim Machey, Doug Clark, Mike Capron, Michael Tittor and Toni Arnett

Texas Drilling Permits and Completions Statistics for May 2017

Special to The Hesperian-Beacon

AUSTIN — The Railroad Commission of Texas (Commission) issued a total of 1,021 original drilling permits in May 2017 compared to 606 in May 2016. The May total included 841 permits to drill new oil or gas wells, 25 to re-enter plugged well bores and 155 for re-completions of existing well bores. The breakdown of well types for those permits issued May 2017 included 274 oil, 43 gas, 619 oil or gas, 64 injection, one service and 20 other permits.

In May 2017, Commission staff processed 593 oil, 115 gas, 60 injection and zero other completions compared to 760 oil, 199 gas, 60 injection and 11 other completions in May 2016. Total well completions processed for 2017 year to date are 3,223; down from 5,529 recorded during the same period in 2016.

According to Baker Hughes

Inc., the Texas rig count as of June 9 was 460, representing about 50 percent of all active rigs in the United States.

For additional drilling permit and completion statistics, visit the Commission's website at <http://www.rrc.texas.gov/oil-gas/research-and-statistics/well-information/monthly-drilling-completion-and-plugging-summaries/>.

marriage for their times. C.L. cooked, cleaned and took care of their two children. Lucy opened Record Music Shop and Studio and taught piano, accordion, organ, and guitar.

In 1952 the couple bought a ready-built cottage that Record began using as her studio. Their home was right across the street from the elementary school. In 1964 when the new elementary school opened, the Records picked up the studio building and moved it across the alley from their new house, on the corner across the street from the new elementary school.

In 1991 C.L. passed away, succumbing to cancer.

"I was lost," Record said of the loss. What helped her overcome her grief was accepting an invitation to play at the Silverton (Colo.) Jamboree. And then another. And another. "I had no idea I was essentially auditioning" to be in a band," she said. In 1992, she started playing keyboard with the Texas In the Swing band along with Jimmy Burson. They also played with Shirley Goodness and Mercy in Vienna, Austria.

For 13 years, Texas in the Swing played for the Western Swing Barn Dance in Silver Dollar City, Mo. "We loved Silver Dollar City and Branson," Record said. "When we played there, we got to see all of the wonderful musical acts.

I was honored to see Andy Williams in one of his last performances; the Osmonds; and the Lawrence Welk Orchestra show."

Record's brushes with fame have been frequent. She once played a concert with one-and-a-half hours' notice for Ray Price when his pianist became ill.

She has played guest appearances with Billy Mata and the Texas Tradition, and Floyd Domino's All Stars. Locally, she is a regular with Rick Suduth and Denim and Lace II, Henry Baker and Friends at Turkey, Texas, and the Turkey Jamboree Band.

She has been named to Halls of Fame of the following organizations: Texas Western Swing Music, the Living Legend Cowtown Society of Western Swing, the Northwest Western Swing Music Society, the Western Swing Music Society of the Southwest, and the Hero Cowtown Western Swing Society.

Since this week is Lucy Dean Record Week in Floyd County, the honoree was asked if she had any words for the residents of Floyd County. "I would like to thank you for the support that you have given me with my piano teaching," she said. "Folks here are just good neighbors. They have supported me, loved me, and cared for me."

This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to application. <http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index.html?lat=33.94583&lng=-101.0864&zoom=13&type=r>. This application was submitted to the TCEQ on May 26, 2017. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ Lubbock regional office, and the Floyd County Courthouse, 105 Main Street, Floydada, Floyd County, Texas, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Lubbock regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. In addition to the renewal, this permitting action includes the incorporation of the following authorizations or changes to authorized facilities related to this permit: alterations and amendments. The reasons for any changes or incorporations, to the extent they are included in the renewed permit, may include the enhancement of operational control at the plant or enforceability of the permit. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Public Education Program toll free at 18006874040. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments is 15 days after newspaper notice is published. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process.

After the technical review is complete the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. If only comments are received, the response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will then be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who is on the mailing list for this application, unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing.

Further, the Commission may only grant a hearing on those issues submitted during the public comment period and not withdrawn.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility; and (7) a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period. If the request is made by a group or association, one or more members who have standing to request a hearing must be identified by name and physical address. The interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns. Requests for a contested case hearing must be submitted in writing within 15 days following this notice to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law relating to relevant and material air quality concerns submitted during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.
