Morning Report Clerk Selected As July 'Airman Of The Month'

A Lubbock airman who plans to re-enlist in the United States Air Force this month has been selected as Airman-of-the-Month for July at Reese Air Force Base.

He is A/IC Wesley D. Curry, Jr., assigned to the morning report section of Wing Headquarters squadron. He has been in service since August 18, 1952.

Airman Curry is a May, 1952, graduate of Lubbock High school, where he participated in football. Prior to enlisting he worked for Lubbock floral firms.

The airman is married to the former Nancy L. East, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. East, of Lubbock. They have a daughter, Celeste, 16 months.

Airman Curry holds a Good Conduct medal and National Services Defense medal.

For being the honored airman of the month, Curry will receive a $25 Savings Bond. He attended the Lubbock Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday.

Others considered for the July honor were: A/3C Roger S. Phelps, Hq. M&S; A/3C Larry E. Simpson, Hospital; A/1C John D. Fortner, Support; A/1C Elmer K. Knutson, Installations and A/2C Arthur C. Spikes, Pilot Training group.

Incentive Award Rate Is Highest In FTAF

Reese Air Force Base has received commendation of Flying Training Air Force for having the highest adoption rate in the civilian suggestion program in management improvement.

A letter from Brig. Gen. Fred M. Dean deputy commander of FTAF, said that the adoption rate of 47.72 percent was recorded at Reese AFB from January 1 to June 30, as compared with 26.76 percent for the command.

The base rate, the general said, "is an indication that you and your staff are aware of the importance of the incentive award program to accomplishment of your mission in a more economical manner."

In the suggestion program all personnel are encouraged to offer proposals for management improvements which would save money and manhours.

Estimated first year savings of $35,927.52 in manhours and materials on the base came from adopted suggestions. Originators received $2,250 for proposals. Reese personnel suggested 88 improvements and saw 42 go into effect.

Six Drivers Competing In FTAF Vehicle Rodeo

Winners in the Reese motor vehicle rodeo are competing this week in FTAF runoffs at James Connelly AFB, Waco.

Two of the first place winners will not attend the FTAF competition. A/1C Gary K. Bergmann, winner in the pickup class, will not attend as there is an emergency in his family and A/1C Robert E. Wrimmer was disqualified in the 29-passenger bus category. Attending in their places will be A. E. Draper, who was second in the pickup class, and T/Sgt. Harmon R. Grier, second in the bus class.

Other contestants include A/1C Francisco Garcia, ton and a half truck, A/1C Gordon E. Redmond, van, John B. Fuller, refueling truck, and A/3C Pat Crow, sedan.

BOND DRIVE PARTICIPATION—Food Service squadron was presented a framed copy of the President's prayer, for 81 percent of squadron personnel signed up for savings bond allotments. Looking at the award are Col. Dross Ellis, Reese AFB commander, Capt. John Lippincott, Food Service commander, and 2nd Lt. Melvin E. Getz, squadron project officer. (Photo by Bernard).

Awards Given For Bond Drive Support

Three awards for accomplishments in the June U. S. Savings Bond drive on the base have been awarded, Lt. Col. Charles E. Wilson, project officer, announced.

A framed copy of the President's Prayer has gone to the Food Service squadron for its 81 percent participation in the program. Capt. John Lippincott is squadron commander and 2nd Lt. Melvin E. Getz was project officer.

The U. S. Treasury Award went to the Headquarters Squadron section of Pilot Training group for its "patriotic service to the community and nation" through its 68 percent participation.

The base average was 37.4 percent participation.

First Lt. David R. Vehling of the 3501st Pilot Training squadron was given a letter of commendation for his efforts in getting signatures to 85 payroll allotment orders for regular purchase of bonds. His record marked the highest bond selling record on the base.

Civilians Are Urged To Support United Welfare Fund Drive

Emphasis in the United Welfare Fund campaign on the base shifted this week to civilian employees, as it was found contributions from these workers were well below goals.

As of Wednesday noon, 41.31 percent of all base personnel had contributed a day's pay, with military showing 49.14 percent and civilians 29.82 percent.

Records showed that one organization, the 3501st Periodic Maintenance squadron, had contributions and/or pledges of 91.13 percent of a day's pay from military personnel. This led the base for military personnel, but the 27.8 percent of contributions and pledges from civilians put the squadron in third place, instead of first.

Showing contributions and pledges from military personnel over 70 percent were the 3500th Motor Vehicle squadron with 79.08 percent, 3505th Field Maintenance squadron, 76.44 percent, and 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance squadron, 71.12 percent.

Four squadrons this week showed contributions and/or pledges from 50 to 60 percent of a day's

THE WEATHER

Saturday - Sunday

Clear to partly cloudy with thunder-shower activity in the late afternoons and evenings. High in the low nineties and low of sixty. (Courtesy of Reese AFB Weather Station.)

When a serviceman commits a crime in the United States he brings dishonor on his Service. When he commits a crime outside United States territory he brings dishonor on the United States of America.

He deals a damaging blow to himself, his family, his Service, the U. S. Armed Forces as a whole, and his country.

It is not unnatural that people in other lands are unusually angered when allied servicemen commit crimes against them. If foreign troops were stationed in our home towns and committed crimes against Americans we would be just as incensed.

Under these conditions, punishment for such crimes is not likely to be light. In many cases, under current rulings, the accused may be tried by the foreign country — not by United States courts.

A recent U. S. Court of Appeals ruling indicates that a foreign country has a right to try U. S. military personnel for crimes committed in the foreign land. The Court held that the United States has jurisdiction over military personnel stationed in a foreign country only when that country has agreed to give that jurisdiction to the United States.

But no matter by whom the accused is tried—and no matter what is the finding of the court—an incident has brought some degree of dishonor to the United States. It has weakened, somewhat, the overall strength of the Nation we are sworn to defend.

Education—More Than In Classrooms

Not many years ago, "education" was thought of primarily as teaching and learning in the classroom. Now the term has broadened to include learning in many kinds of situations—both for adults and children—on the job, and in the home.

Libraries along with schools have always been a basic means of education in this country. While a regular classroom may not be open to you, BASE LIBRARY is open from 9:00 to 5:00 and 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. weekdays and from 2:00 to 5:00 and 6:00 to 9:00 weekends. Surely during these hours all personnel connected with this Base can find the time to come. They will find the Library Staff willing to assist with all needs.

Not only does you Base Library have books to take care of textbook needs, but many supplementary books are also available. More and more ambitious airmen are using Reese Library to find help in courses they are taking at Texas Tech or for USAFI courses.

In this highly competitive age, airmen must improve their educational background if they desire to forge ahead.

Our primary mission as a Base is defense of our country. Are we fulfilling our mission to the greatest extent if we fail to stay ahead of other nationals educationally, as well as in military might?

A visit to BASE LIBRARY might convince you that pleasant as well as profitable hours may be spent furthering basic and cultural education.

Do Your Part For The Welfare Drive

by Lt. Col. Charles E. Wilson

"United We Stand - Divided We Fall" might well apply to the current One Drive effort to meet our charitable responsibilities. After all, we do have a responsibility to assist those in need to the degree we are able. Giving is a personal matter; it cannot be "shifted" to others who may be better "fixed" financially than us. Remember the widow's mite.

The 1957 Drive for funds applies to all our base personnel—military and civilian. Those who feel they might be asked to contribute at Reese and again in Lubbock should have no such fears. The card indicating membership in the Reese AFB United Fund will take care of this.

Distribution of the 1956 funds reveals that $11,495.11 was paid directly to charitable agencies in Lubbock and only $212.07 went to foreign charities. It can be seen then, that our civilian employees are not contributing purely for "military" charities.

On the other hand our civilian neighbors, the citizens of Lubbock, are taking care of the needs of the military. For example, the Community Chest provides $7,000 per year to maintain the Lubbock Service Organization. The Lubbock Chapter of the American Red Cross not only makes loans and grants to the military but provides home service to dependents and assists in obtaining emergency leaves. Where government hospitalization is not available for polio victims, the National Foundation comes to the rescue.

There can be no question of the interdependence of our personnel—military and civilian. Just under the uniform we have the same physical bodies, all subject to the same fates of hard luck. When contacted for your 1/365th of your pay, contribute cheerfully for a gift otherwise is not acceptable.

P.S. If you can't make a contribution, perhaps you better come in and let the United Fund help you.

ECI Offers Course To Auto Mechanics

More enrollments in the Extension Course institute were sought this week at Reese AFB, as it was pointed out that technical courses covering over 20 Air Force career areas are offered.

"For $16,000, could you tell a quiz master the difference between a torque wrench and an Allen wrench?" J. F. Reeves, educational specialist, asked. "Most automobile mechanics could, and you could, too, if you studied ECI Course 4710, the basic vehicle maintenance course."

He added that this course and all others are planned to assist all personnel in attaining high rating in various skills. Reeves said that more than 16,000 civilians employed by the Air Force also are enrolled in ECI to aid them to obtain higher ratings.

ECI enrollment aid may be secured from the Education office in the Library building.

Winning team in each half of the intramural softball league is not being left out of the picture as far as awards go. Each will receive a trophy for their efforts. Winning team in the double elimination tournament will receive individual awards.

Second half play started in the base softball league Tuesday evening with Pilot Training Wing defeating 3505th Headquarters M&S, 9-6, and 3501st Maintenance squadron won from the non-playing Installations squadron.

The chances of Reese winning the west district softball tournament looked promising, with the eight teams of the district to square away August 13 at Clovis AFB. Included in the district are Kirtland, Holloman, Biggs, Walker, Clovis, Webb, Amarillo and Reese.

The Rattlers have defeated Webb AFB several times and split with Walker, who is considered to be the best team of the New Mexico bases in the district. Seems the only two teams that haven't seen action in the area are Amarillo and Biggs AFB, El Paso. It is anyone's guess what calibre of team they will field.

The week-end play of the Rattlers resulted in a split with Walker AFB. The first game was lost by Reese, 3-1, with all of the runs by Walker being unearned. The locals had their lone run on 4 hits and 6 errors. Whitley was charged with the loss.

The second turned into a wild scoring party with Reese having a 10-run second inning to win 13-12. Lefty Forrester was the winning pitcher and also took hitting honors and scored the winning run. He had 3 hits for 4 times at bat, a triple, double and single. In the big second inning Reese sent two Walker pitchers to the showers.

The scoring by innings:

First Game --
 Walker AFB — 0 0 0 2 1 0 x

Second Game --
 Reese AFB — 0 10 0 0 2 1 0
 Walker AFB — 2 1 5 2 2 0 0

Its area covers 24 South Plains counties containing about 18 credit unions, including the Reese organization.

First Lt. Robert W. Weinschke will accompany the team as coach. Tournament competition this year will be for the Marion Hiskey trophy, awarded in memory of 1st Lt. Peter M. Hiskey, conference champion last year. The lieutenant, graduate of Reese AFB, was killed March 22 near Hearn, Texas. The trophy will go to the individual winner of the tourney and is rotated annually.

pay of military personnel. These are Headquarters squadron, M&S group, 58.82 percent; Headquarters squadron section, PTW, 54.66 percent; Support squadron, 53.95 percent; and Air Police, 53.37 percent. The six remaining squadrons are below 50 percent.

Figures from civilian personnel are consistently low, with the exception of three squadrons, Maj. Edward S. Ashley, campaign project officer, said. Civilians in the 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance squadron are the only ones exceeding the goal of a day's pay. They reached 103.06 percent. The Support squadron showed 76.19 percent, and Air Police showed 63.62 percent. All other squadrons showed less than 33 percent of a day's pay collected or pledged from civilians.

Major Ashley reported $4,024.83 contributed by military personnel and $1,647.07 by civilian personnel for a total of $5,671.90. An additional $4,221.11 has been pledged. This represents only 41 per cent of a day's pay.

Accident Roundup

An even dozen first aid accidents marred the base's ground safety record last week, Joe Lopez, ground safety inspector, reported Thursday. Injured were five civilians, four airmen, two officers, and one NCO.

One officer cut his hand checking a B-25, while another cut his fingers on a joint-o-plane in the hobby shop. The NCO received a cut eye in a fight in the NCO open mess.

One airman received burned fingers lighting a space heater; another cut his head when he raised up under a B-25; a third airman cut his hand when it went through the glass of a window at his home; while a fourth bruised his foot on a swimming pool diving board.

One civilian received a cut eye from a particle off a generator on which he was working; another strained his back reaching over a box; a third civilian cut his finger while moving meat; another cut his thumb slicing bacon; and another cut his hand opening a can.
