

Survivors' Benefits Act Effective January 1

Advance Measures Will Provide Continuous Insurance Coverage

Hq. USAF officials advise that two groups of AF members should consider taking advance steps to provide continuous insurance protection to their families beginning January 1, 1957, effective date of the Survivor Benefits Act.

One group, who were on active duty before April 26, 1951 and allowed NSLI or USGLI term insurance policies to lapse or expire and did not renew their policies after that date cannot renew their policies now.

The other group includes persons who surrendered for cash their NSLI or USGLI permanent plan policies.

Both groups can regain their former government insurance coverage on January 1, 1957, by applying to the Veterans Administration well in advance. Such action would provide their families continuous insurance protection when the current $10,000 free indemnity expires December 31, 1956.

Those individuals who had let their term policies lapse or had expired policies after April 26, 1956, may apply in advance to the VA to reinstate their insurance in the same amount, for either term or permanent plan policies. They must furnish evidence of current good health and initiate a payroll allotment or make direct payments to the VA. Allotments must be initiated in time to be effective December 1 in order for the reinstatement to be effective January 1. Allotments should be effective November 1 if the policy's effective date is other than the first day of the month.

A person who had surrendered a permanent plan policy for cash may regain his NSLI or USGLI insurance in either of two ways. One way is to reinstate the surrendered policy by paying its reserve computed to the date of reinstatement, plus the first month's premium, or evidence of an allotment effective December 1. In this case premium cost of the reinstated policy remains the same as before it was surrendered. Again, if the effective date of the policy is other than the first day of the month, the allotment should be effective November 1.

The alternative is to replace the surrendered policy with a new policy of the same permanent plan and amount. A person electing to do this must apply to the VA and make provisions for paying premiums either directly or by allotment. Again, to make the policy effective January 1, an allotment must be effective December 1. Premium rates for such replacement policies will be based on the individual's age at the time of replacement.

An allotment generally is deducted from the pay of the month in which the authorization is received at the AF Finance Center in Denver. Local finance offices can advise of local deadlines for forwarding authorizations to Denver.

AF members with premium waivers in effect on term or the "pure risk" portion of permanent plan policies must revoke such waivers in order for their dependents to be eligible for Survivor Benefits Act provisions. They have a four month period after January 1 in which to act. This grace period ends May 1, 1957.

Hq. USAF is preparing detailed instructions to be followed by all AF members who must take insurance actions, including those who had surrendered permanent plan policies for cash.

Base Nursery Has New Location

The Reese AFB Nursery and kindergarten will be moved from the present location in the Bachelor Officers Quarters area to building T-133 across the street from the Base Exchange about October 1, Lt. Col. Quinn L. Oldaker, commander of Air Base group said.

The Nursery will occupy the downstairs of the new quarters and the Kindergarten will utilize the center two rooms in the upstairs part of building T-133. The other two rooms in the upstairs area will be used as Sunday School rooms.

All equipment presently in use including the playground equipment and fences enclosing the playground area will be moved to the new location.

The Nursery has three regular attendants on duty and one extra attendant that is on call any time. The hours of operation are from 7:20 a. m. to Midnight, Monday through Friday, and Friday night until 12:30 a.m.; Saturday, from 7:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.; Sundays, 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Pools To Close

The two base swimming pools are scheduled to close for the season October 1.

Training Group Honors Instructors

The 3500th Pilot Training Group announced the selection of 1st Lt. Joseph Aimo, 3501st Pilot Training Squadron and 1st Lt. Thomas D. Brown, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron as Outstanding Instructors of the Month.

Lieutenant Aimo, native of Whittier, Calif., came to Reese AFB in August 1954 after completing advanced pilot training at Webb AFB, Big Springs, Tex. The Lieutenant was first assigned to the base as a single engine instructor and was transferred as a B-25 instructor in 1955. He has accumulated over 1,600 hours of flying time and is element leader in Flight One.

Lieutenant Brown, who entered the service as an enlisted man in 1948, received his commission from Officers' Candidate School. He graduated from the Reese pilot training program in June 1953 and completed advanced pilot training at Vance AFB.

A graduate of Clarksville High School, Md., he attended Mississippi Southern College. He is married to the former Shirley A. Prokop of Detroit, Mich., and they have three children. They reside at 222 Harmon Drive, Lubbock.

All Personnel Urged To Get Polio Shots

"You are never too old to be vaccinated for polio," Col. Raymond A. Lawn, Wing Surgeon said, in urging all military personnel to take advantage of the free polio shots at the Base Hospital. Polio vaccinations are given Monday through Friday, 1:30 to 3:30 p. m., in Ward 2.

"Most adults are under the impression that the Salk vaccine and polio vaccinations are for children, but recent outbreaks in different parts of the United States, have shown that polio knows no age barrier", Colonel Lawn pointed out. "The response that military personnel have made concerning their dependents has been good, but it is just as important that adult military personnel receive polio vaccinations."

"Recently in the Dallas area there were some seventy cases brought into a Polio center, only six cases had been vaccinated, and two cases of the six had had their complete series of polio shots. One member of a family remarked, 'that she couldn't afford the $15 for the Salk vaccine.'"

Colonel Lawn explained further that this is the last year free polio vaccinations will be available but at present time the base has an ample supply of vaccine.

Former Navy Enlisted Man Selected Outstanding Cadet In Class 57-B

A decorated former Navy enlisted man who received a high school diploma after he enlisted has been selected as the Outstanding Cadet of the Flying Training Air Force. He is Cadet James F. Willingham, Jr., member of Class 57-B at Reese AFB.

Willingham is a native of Johnson City, Tenn., and spent most of his life there. He enlisted in the Navy in September, 1947, while still lacking three credits of graduation. He completed the Navy's Electronic school and was awarded his diploma by Science Hill high school of Johnson City, in the spring of 1948.

The cadet served with the Navy until September, 1951, a majority of the time in China, Japan, the Philippines, and Korea. He won several decorations.

He was employed by the Lockheed plant at Burbank, Calif., a short time and then became electronics technical representative for a radio corporation, doing contract work with the Air Force.

"What I saw the Air Force do motivated me to enlist as an aviation cadet," Cadet Willingham commented.

He entered cadet training in June, 1955, and completed primary pilot training at Graham Air Base, Fla. He will be graduated October 13 from the basic multi-engine pilot training program at Reese AFB, being commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force reserve at that time.

He was selected as the FTAF honor student on the basis of achievement in pre-flight and primary basic pilot training.

Handbook Not Authorized

A recent message from Air Training Command has brought to attention that a new commercially published book, "Air Force Handbook" is not approved by Headquarters USAF. The book is published by Fearon Publishers, San Francisco, and contains factual inaccuracies and erroneous information the message stated. A revised edition will be submitted for clearance and all commands will be notified when the accepted revision is published.

Communications Center Sets Working Records

Seven months without a mistake in sending or receiving messages and 11 months without a mechanical failure is the record established by communications center.

The center, RJWK, has the best record in sending, receiving, and maintenance of the 47 relay centers in the 2048th Airways and Air Communications network, information at the network headquarters showed. Several Strategic Air Command centers are on the network.

The Reese unit handles over 4,000 messages monthly, with Lt. Col. James G. Moore as base fixed communications officer and T/Sgt. Henry M. Winson as non-commissioned officer in charge. Other airmen assigned to the center are S/Sgt. Floyd D. Spain, in charge of maintenance, S/Sgt. Rudolph Brown, S/Sgt. Billy Whitt, A/1C Robert Crosby, and A/2C Jacob Arline.

Our obligation as citizens is to vote intelligently. Obligation is a two-way proposition. The men we vote for also have obligations.

The elected official is obliged to serve all the people in his district, not just the people who voted for him, nor a particular group of voters.

In trying to represent all the people, the honest official has a tough job. He may assume that, by electing him, the people endorsed his campaign platform. But, what else do the people expect of him? Here the obligation again becomes a two-way street.

As citizens, it is our right and our duty to inform our representatives how we feel on public issues. As servicemen, we are free to do this in all matters except legislation affecting the military.

Federal law and Armed Forces regulations forbid us from engaging in politics. But they certainly do not prohibit us from expressing ourselves on all non-military matters. In fact, as free citizens we should do so. (AFPS)

Russia Now Admits Accusations

The free world has long pointed an accusing finger at the Communist rulers of the Soviet Union. For more than a generation the Kremlin met these accusations with dead silence or indifference or counter-attacks. But the truth, however, won out. It has now been admitted that the free world's accusations were true.

The confirmation has come from none other than the First Secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, Nikita S. Khrushchev, long a powerful figure in the Soviet regime. The affirmations were made in a speech denouncing Stalin, delivered by him at a secret session of the Twentieth Communist Party Congress in Moscow in February, 1956. The text of this speech has been published by the U. S. State Department.

His speech has not yet been published in the Soviet Union, although it has been publically discussed by top Communists in many parts of the world. The Communist ruling group has not dared to trust the Soviet people with the detailed indictments.

Here is only one example of a charge made by the free world; what Soviet Communist officials formerly said by way of denial or contrast, and — finally — confirmation of the accusation as contained in Khrushchev's speech to the congress.

The Free World said:

"... It is not a pretty story that confronts us. It is a story of terrible physical and moral degradation. It concerns men shaken loose from their foundations of moral value, men beaten down by the conditioning which the science of Pavlov reserves for dogs and rats, all in a vicious attempt to make them accomplices to a frightful lie.

"... the story we have to tell reflects a Communist system which deliberately flouts every principle of morality and truth, devoting itself to one sole object, the progress of communism by any effective means, no matter how evil..."

"... The evidence of the falsity of such alleged confessions, and of the methods of duress and threat and wearing-down by which they are always obtained, is too well known. This is the picture of Communist 'justice.'"

Charles W. Mayo, U. S. Representative to the U. N. General Assembly.

(Report to the Political and Security Committee, October 26, 1953.)

The Communists said:

"... We can truly be proud of the fact that during the past thirty years we have lived and worked under the guidance of Comrade Stalin... The fame of his great works for the good and happiness of our people and the workers of the whole world will live through the ages." Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Former Foreign Minister. (Funeral of Stalin, March 9, 1953.)

NOW --- Nikita S. Khrushchev says:

"... when the cases of some of these so-called 'spies' and 'saboteurs' were examined it was found that all their cases were fabricated. Confessions of guilt of many arrested and charged with enemy activity were gained with the help of cruel and inhuman tortures.

"And how is it possible that a person confesses to crimes which he has not committed? Only in one way — because of application of physical methods of pressuring him, tortures, bringing him to a state of unconsciousness, deprivation of his judgment, taking away of his human dignity. In this manner were 'confessions' acquired."

This is only one of many crimes the Communists now admit they committed. But they are attempting to shift the blame from themselves to the dead Stalin.

Relations Within The Family

The husband to the wife

"Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her."
"Husbands, love your wives, and do not be harsh with them."

He is to honor her

"Likewise, you husbands, live considerately with your wives, bestowing honor on the woman as the weaker sex, since you are joint heirs of the grace of life, in order that your prayers may not be hindered."

He is to be faithful to her.

"Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled; for God will judge the immoral and adulterous."

He is to support her

"If anyone does not provide for his own and especially his own family, he has disowned the faith and is worse than an unbeliever."

Service Club Probable Under New AF Fund

Seventy-one bases have one or more recreation-type facilities going up or definitely planned under construction funds voted by Congress up to a year ago. Additional USAF recreational facilities — $42 million worth — were voted this past July as part of the $1.2 billion construction appropriations act of Fiscal Year 1957. September 15 AIR FORCE TIMES story stated further that more recently the Air Force has increased recreational facility funds on the theory such building will attract persons to career service. There is always a time lag due to requesting funds, Congressional approval, design planning, advertising bids, signing contracts and actual building.

Reese AFB Service Club was all ready to go right down to signing the contract to begin construction when it was canceled at the last minute. "The building of the dormitories and mess hall was short of funds and the funds necessary for the Service Club were transferred to the construction of the dormitories and mess hall", said Major Robert H. Duke, commander of the 3500th Installations Gp.

Major Duke stated further that everything is held in readiness for the construction of the Service Club at Reese AFB and will proceed when a new appropriation is voted and the Corps of Engineers gives the order.

Base Drops 10 Places In ATC Safety

Ground accidents which cost the base $209 and disabled one officer were recorded at Reese last week, Joe Lopez, ground safety inspector, reported Thursday.

The officer fell in the bath tub and broke his hip, causing him to miss three days of duty.

Two other officers were injured and required first aid. One suffered a broken finger when a window fell on it; another bruised a knee playing football.

Eight airmen were hurt. One cut a thumb on aircraft cowlings; another sprained an ankle roller skating; and a third blistered his foot playing basketball. A fourth airman sprained an ankle while running down a hill; another cut his hand when a water bottle he was carrying broke; and an airman suffered chemical burns on his hand while cleaning a floor. Another airman cut his head on a pipe in a mess hall, and another twisted his foot dismounting from a trailer.

Damage totaling $42 was done when a desk dropped off a forklift while furniture was being moved.

Accident Roundup

Five disabling accidents last month, four to military personnel and one to a civilian, skidded Reese from sixth to sixteenth place in the Air Training Command's Commander's award in ground safety, Joe Lopez, ground safety inspector, was notified this week.

Lackland AFB continued in first place, followed by Scott and Ellington AFBs. Then came Parks, Perrin, Randolph, Laughlin, Tyndall, Chanute, Keesler, Williams, McConnell, Sheppard, Greenville, Webb, and finally Reese. Sixteen other bases were listed still further down the line.

Lopez used the changed position of Reese as indicating "how easily we can move down the ladder." The spot is the lowest this base has held since the contest opened.

...AND A BAG OF GOLD FOR THE SUGGESTION OF THE MONTH.

TCU Graduate Arrives As Hospital Registrar

First Lt. Teddy Hayes, Fort Worth resident and 1952 graduate of Texas Christian university, has reported for duty as registrar of the base hospital.

The lieutenant, in service since October, 1952, came to Reese AFB from Johnston Island in the Pacific, where he was adjutant of an Air Force dispensary.

He was graduated from North Side high school, Fort Worth, in 1946, and received his degree of bachelor of science in commerce in 1952. He lettered two years in baseball at TCU and is a member of the TCU ex-student association, chamber of commerce, and ex-letterman's association.

AF Rocket Reaches Hypersonic Speed

The Air Force announced September 16 it has developed a research rocket that reaches several times the speed of sound in just two seconds.

It is called the Hypersonic Test Vehicle, designated HTV. It has been developed as a free flight research tool to gather data at hypersonic speeds.

The first AF HTV developed at Aerophysics Development Corporation, in conjunction with ARDC's Wright Air Development Center is now nearing standardization. Twenty experimental models already have been fired and tested at ARDC's Holloman Air Development Center, Alamogordo, New Mexico.

The HTV is a two stage solid propellant rocket vehicle. The first stage is a booster which raises the second stage to a supersonic velocity. When the first stage burns out, it falls away and the second stage ignites and reaches the maximum velocity. It is this stage that the hypersonic data is gathered. These data include information on aerodynamic heating, aerodynamic shapes, and air pressures.

Nothing but sadness went over the country as upset after upset hit the football scene. The weekend would have been a complete loss but the Milwaukee Braves poked their heads into a brief lead in the National League.

Our visiting football experts, one each, Lord Helpus and Count MeOut had little or nothing to say about the 4 out of 10 average they had in picking the winning football teams.

But they did talk freely as they were summoned before a Football Pickers Evaluation Board.

The board found the gentlemen guilty of nothing more than upsetitis and sentenced them to two weeks of hard labor picking at least 5 out of 10 of the week's football games. To make it all the harder, the board suggested that the "Experts" pick a few of Slippery Rock's gridiron contests. They said that picking TCU over Kansas and UCLA over Utah wasn't a test of anyone's ability.

Both Lord Helpus and the count are going along with Georgia Tech again this week against Southern Methodist and Michigan State over Stanford. Oklahoma should be no sweat to beat North Carolina. Baylor will beat Texas Tech by a slight margin and Syracuse will take Pittsburg... Texas A&M should beat Louisiana State and Navy should beat William and Mary.

Going along with the suggestions, Count MeOut said the Slippery Rock Rockets will be victorious over Edinboro, as it is the season opener and a home game for Slippery Rock. He then looked far into his crystal ball and claimed that Hamline of St. Paul wouldn't have a ghost of a chance winning their contest with Concordia. Princeton will beat Rutgers, says the count.

Boxers at the base are invited to attend workout sessions at the American legion youth center, at 2nd and College Ave. At present the boxers and coaches are preparing for Cotton Belt Tournament set for November 16-17.

02nd Maintenance Is Softball Champs For Second Year

The 3502nd Maintenance squadron gave a repeat performance in softball Wednesday evening to take their second base championship in a row.

They defeated the 3501st Maintenance squadron 4-3 to become the champions.

The 02nd, behind the pitching of Saupo Taupoa scored three runs early in the game and added another tally in the fifth inning. Michaels was the losing pitcher with the 01st plating two runs in the fifth inning and their final in the seventh.

The 02nd was undefeated in the double elimination tournament play and was the winner of the second help of the league play.

Members of the championship team will receive individual awards for their efforts.

Off To Greenland

A/1C Gordon E. Redmond and A/C Clarence R. Hunt of Motor Vehicle squadron have received orders for reassignment to Sondrestro Fjord AFB, Greenland. They are leaving the base Oct-seas shipment December 6 after taking a delay in route.

Wives Urged To Hear Reup Counseling Talk

Something new is being established at the Reese Re-enlistment Office. All wives of Airmen due for separation in 30 days are being urged to accompany their husbands to the Re-enlistment office for their final counseling.

Normal separation procedures require all airmen and NCO's who are not planning to re-enlist to be counseled. The counseling consists of a personal talk regarding the man's prospects in civilian life as compared to his future in the Air Force. No pressure is exerted.

Wives are invited to "sit in" on these discussions because they and their children are closely concerned in their husband's future. His position in life is reflected in her standard of living.

"We believe in letting the Airman request that his wife be in on these talks or we'll even go out to his house if he so requests it", said M/Sgt. Robert F. Stock, NOCIC of the Re-enlistment office. Sergeant Stock added that pre-separation counseling for airmen and NCOs is now standard throughout the Air Force.

F-104 STARFIGHTER—The fastest of all fighter aircraft is called "the most advanced plane of its type ever developed" by the Air Force chief of staff, Nathan F. Twining. The supersonic jet can take off in less distance and climb faster than any other fighter.

USAF Academy Has New Catalogs Ready For Future Candidates

The 1956-57 Catalog of the United States Air Force Academy is now ready for distribution to young men who desire to compete for appointments to the Academy's third class, which will be enrolled at Lowry AFB, Denver, Colo., July 8, 1957.

Among those eligible as candidates are a number of Air Force members now on active duty. They can compete for appointments in several categories, including Congressional appointments and the places provided for both Air Force and Army, Regular and Reserve, members.

The new catalog outlines the mission of the AF Academy, the program of instruction, the qualifications required of young men seeking appointments as cadets, and the procedures they should follow.

The third class will number approximately 300. Eighty-five per cent of the cadets will be selected by the Air Force in competitions among candidates nominated by U. S. Senators and Representatives. The remainder will be chosen in competitions among candidates nominated by other authorities.

Although members of Congress have until January 31, 1957, to complete their nominations, it is to the advantage of prospective candidates to apply to their nominating authorities as soon as possible. Those nominated under the military allotment have an earlier cutoff date, December 31, 1956.

Individuals may obtain the new catalog by writing to the Director of Admissions, United States Air Force Academy, Denver 8, Colo. The new catalogs have not been received at Reese AFB.
