

Details arranged for next promotions to E-8 in March

The timetable and procedures for the second round of 3,000 promotions to senior master sergeant (E-8) in the Air Force scheduled to take place next March 1, has been relayed to major air commands.

Beginning with the March 1 promotions, master sergeants (E-7) will be considered for senior master sergeant (SMS) only in their 7-skill level primary or control AFSC. Moreover, this Air Force specialty must be normal input source for the Superintendent AFSC for which they are being considered.

The testing period for the second SMS cycle began October 13 and extends until November 21. Testing eligibility requirements are possession of a 7-skill level primary or control AFSC, 24 months in grade of master sergeant and 10 years of active federal military service as of next March 1.

Emphasized in the letter of instructions is the requirement that only the score of the most recent supervisory examination AFPRT-28 will be used to determine an individual's eligibility for promotion consideration. Master sergeants who have been tested previously may take the test again, but those who received qualifying scores earlier should keep in mind that if they make a lower score on the retest, the lower score will be used.

Although all eligible airmen will be reported to headquarters for counting in allocating AFSC and command SMS promotion quotas, master sergeants will have to be specifically recommended by their immediate commanders to be actually selected for promotion.

Normally, they will be recommended for promotion in the Air Force specialty in which they are working, with a specific recommendation required for individuals eligible in specialties in which they are not working. In these cases, commanders must make certain they are fully and currently qualified to perform at the E-8 level in those specialties.

Wives invited to service lectures

PRIZES—Maj. Ralph W. McWhirter, left, chairman of the donations committee, and SMS William C. Lindley, publicity chairman, examine some of more than 50 prizes donated to help the Reese PTA Fall Festival. Prizes will go to game winners and to others. Helping secure donations from Lubbock merchants were Mmes. F. J. Benevent and H. E. McDermaid, Capt. J. A. Erdmann, M/Sgt. S. A. Jones, and M/Sgt. D. A. Tourtelot. (See story, Page 6)

Free nursery service is being provided for mothers wishing to attend the Family Service indoctrination programs next Tuesday and Wednesday, Lt. Guy F. Thompson, Jr., said Thursday.

All wives of airmen and officers at Reese are invited to the meetings, from 9:30 to 11:30 each of the two days in the base theater. Children may be left in the base nursery without charge during the hours. Wives attending the 1957 indoctrination also have asked to attend the sessions, since most subject matter is new and includes developments.

Various phases of Family Service program at Reese will be discussed.

Col. Clayton A. Scott, wing executive officer, will give the welcome and outline the attitude of the base commander toward the program.

Legal aspects of life at Reese will be discussed by Lt. Harold Holmes; Capt. Vincent Luch-singer is to speak on transportation facilities available; and Lieutenant Thompson will talk on personal affairs and the Family Service Center.

Work of the center is also to be discussed by volunteer workers, Mrs. Foley Collins, coordinator, Mrs. Jack Barnes, Mrs. Fred Kelly, Mrs. James Freeman, Mrs. Willis Stower, Mrs. Hubert Fraser, and Mrs. Robert Carlin.

Lt. Patrick C. Harrington, hospital adjutant, will outline Medicare provisions. Dwight Lloyd, Red Cross director, is to tell of work of his organization. Chaplain Willis Stowers will give invocations.

A 20-minute coffee break is scheduled for each session, with free coffee provided.

CLINIC SET

The Well Baby clinic will be held in Ward 4 in the future on each Wednesday and Thursday, Dr. Harold L. Stratton, chief of professional services at the hospital, has announced.

Two service crews, each serving half the area, will be in operations, it was said. The serv- (See SERVICE, page 8)

Service men open repair activity in Village starting next Monday

Repair of Reese Village dwellings by base preventive maintenance services crews will start Monday, Maj. Frank C. Lee, chief of operations in Installations, has announced.

"Due to material shortages, and extra time required to compile data for record purposes, a firm schedule cannot be published at this time," the major said. "Occupants will be notified by the crew foreman two or three days prior to the crew visit. The visit will cover a two-hour period."

AID NEEDY

Reese Boy Scouts, members of Troop 148, want different "tricks or Treats" gifts tonight. They voted unanimously, on their own idea, to ask Reese Village residents tonight for pennies for the needy, instead of the customary candy, fruit, and nuts. The money will be used to help repair toys, buy new toys, and provide food for the needy at Christmas. ---

Weekend activity ends Chest drive

Final opportunity for Reese personnel to contribute to the 1958 Community Chest campaign is being offered this weekend in connection with payday.

Col. Dross Ellis, base commander, expressed the hope when the drive was started that all persons on the base would participate through contributions.

"We are short of that 100 percent mark, but have hopes of pushing closer this weekend," Lt. Col. Robert L. Velde, project chairman, said. "Response has been good in many areas, not so good in others. We do not know exactly how much has been contributed and pledged since Community Chest officials are in charge of tabulations.

"Numerous individuals have indicated they would make their pledges this payday. Thus, our totals in funds and percentage should climb.

"The Community Chest campaign this year provides opportunity for all of us to help 22 welfare organizations, to help care for children and adults. These 22 organizations provide health care, recreation, and spiritual benefits to thousands upon thousands of persons.

"Reese people in the past have been most generous; this year they have shown their fine spirit again. Conclusion of the campaign this weekend, we know, will mark another high spot in our base history, especially if everyone gives as they should. We are hopeful this giving will place us near the 100 percent level."

Civilian contributions this year totaled 23 percent higher than for the 1957 campaign. Contributions moved from $2,580.87 last year to $3,114.37 this year.

Library joins in observance of book week

The week of November 2-8 will be observed all over the country as Children's Book Week. The theme this year is EXPLORE WITH BOOKS. Special displays will be set up in the Reese base library to encourage reading, Mrs. Helen K. Fuller, librarian, has announced.

"Not only is it a good time for children to explore with books but it is a good time for adults as well," she commented.

To encourage base personnel to read, base library will give each customer who comes a bound book each time the library is visited, it was stated.

"Come in and enjoy the friendly atmosphere, Mrs. Fuller invited. "We are open 9:30 to 5:00 and 6 to 9 p.m. on week days. Saturday and Sunday we are open from 1 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m."

Ground accident costs decreased

Three first aid injuries, two to civilians, added $21 in costs to the Reese ground safety record last week, but represented a marked decrease from the $70 of the previous week, Joe Lopez, ground safety director, said.

An airman received injury to a finger while playing basketball.

One civilian suffered a cut to the palm of his left hand when a metal patch slipped as he was applying it to an aircraft wing; the other civilian bruised finger tips when packing cases he was stacking slipped.

Six Reese Weather, AACS men will be awarded proficiency pay

Six enlisted men at Reese become eligible for proficiency pay on November 1, receiving increases voted by the last Congress to servicemen who meet high production standards and are in certain critical fields.

The first man to qualify for the pay was A/1C Charles Stanfill of the 2010-2 AACS detachment, who passed the qualification tests before a classification board on October 22, just two days after he re-enlisted for six more years.

Airman Stanfill works in the GCA maintenance section and is on leave. On October 25 he was married to a West Texas girl.

Three other men who qualified this week in AACS were S/Sgt. Richard E. Hoffsmith, T/Sgt. Harry F. Eaves, and A/1C Bobby Mayo.

Qualifying from Detachment 17, 8th Weather group, were T/Sgt. Robert E. Baird and T/Sgt. Daniel R. Inman.

Airman-of-the-Month for Reese sees much of world in service

AIRMAN KITCHENS

An airman who enlisted to "see the world" and has been stationed in Japan, England, and Germany, as well as the United States has been selected as Airman - of - the - Month at Reese.

He is A/1C Jesse F. Kitchens of Roby, an air policeman, who enlisted in June, 1951, and has been stationed at Reese since last February.

Under regulation which sets up the Airman-of-the-Month program, nominees must have performed an outstanding act recently. Airman Kitchens proposed use of a land Polaroid camera to take pictures for identification cards, permitting issuance of a "pass while you wait." Previously several days were required for the photographs, a situation particularly distasteful to retired personnel and dependents in the Reese area who traveled as much as 75 miles to get to the base.

Airman Kitchens received basic training at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, completed Food Service school at Fort Lewis, Wash., and went to Japan in November, 1951. In the Far East he transferred to the Air Police and returned to Harlingen AFB in May, 1954. In January, 1955, he went to England, spent 10 months attending an intelligence and AP school in Germany. He returned to England, later shifted to Bossier base, L., and thence on to Reese. He was the Airman-of-the-Month last April for the base and presently is cross-training to become a small arms instructor.

Airman Kitchens is married to the former Doris Rogers of Roby. They have a son, Alan Wayne, 13 months old.

Other nominees for Airman-of-the-Month were A/2C Richard B. Bonnet of wing headquarters squadron, A/2C Eddie W. Polansky of M&S, and A/2C Hans Von Delschitz of PTG.

Officers assigned to other bases

Several Reese Air Force Base officers are being re-assigned to other bases.

Col. Marcus Satsky, Air Base group commander, has assumed command of the Installations group at Amarillo AFB. He has been at Reese since January, 1957. He will be succeeded by Col. Frank M. Crittenden of Lowry AFB, Denver.

Capt. Stanley E. Bartlet, flight commander, is being sent to James Connally AFB, Waco, as mission pilot. He has been at Reese since February, 1955.

Capt. Alfred F. Savage, assistant flight commander, is going to Mather AFB, Calif., as mission pilot on Project Carousel. He came to Reese in June, 1957.

Connally-Bound

Lt. James K. Overman, instructor in the wing instrument school, is going to James Connally AFB. He's been at Reese since March, 1956.

Lt. C. F. Stark, aircraft maintenance officer, also is being re-assigned to James Connally.

Lts. Richard G. Dutnell and Neale J. Schmidt, flight instructors, have been re-assigned to Johnson AFB, Japan. Both came to Reese in February, 1956.

Lt. Robert H. Mueth, helicopter pilot, is going to Goose AB, Labrador, to aid in rescue work. He came to Reese last October.

Enters School

Going to the B-47 program in SAC early next year is Capt. James Lokey.

M/Sgt. Charles M. Sorenson, has taken over as Air Base group sergeant major.

First Lt. John K. Stewart, instructor pilot, is going to Harlingen AFB as mission pilot.

M/Sgt. Winton L. Maughan has been re-assigned to Dyess AFB.

Need for accident cut stressed

Capt. Amos O. Fox, Reese aircraft accident investigation officer, attended the fourth World-wide Flying Safety Officer's conference in San Bernardino, Calif., recently.

The conference, initiated by Maj. Gen. Joseph D. Caldara, director of flight safety research for the Air Force, was charged with the responsibility of formulating the 1959 aircraft accident prevention program for the Air Force. General Caldara told conferees that much more effort has to be expended "in the important realm of saving pilots." He pointed out that although the accident rate is at all times low, pilot fatalities are on the upswing.

Maj. Gen. Jack Wood, deputy inspector general, USAF, linked aircraft accidents to communicable diseases.

"Just as disease will always be with us, so will certain types of accidents," he told the 300 delegates. "The flying safety program of the USAF can be compared to preventive medicine in that constant study and research can reduce the occurrence of accidents.

"Just as certain 'bugs' have been isolated and destroyed in medicine, you, flying safety officers, have been able to isolate and eliminate certain 'bugs' in your accident prevention effort."

First Lt. Glenn B. Ashworth, instructor pilot, is going to James Connally AFB as mission pilot.

A NEW EXPANDED RE-TRAINING PROGRAM that emphasizes formal retraining of airmen of all grades who are in surplus skills has been received in Airman Personnel. In addition, many people who have heretofore not qualified may be eligible. This program will include personnel who hold one of the following Air Force Specialties:

20470, 22250, 23170, 23270, 23370, 23371, 23372, 29150, 29333,

30270, 36172, 40170, 42351, 42371, 42352, 43170, 53150, 53170,

532250, 53270, 5515, 56350, 56370, 56750A, 56750B, 58250, 58270,

59170, 60270, 60350, 62150, 62250, 62350, 64370A, 71170, 72170,

73270, 73330, 73370, 73470, 90671, 92130, and 92170.

In addition, NCO's who hold a specialty at the three or five skill level leading to one of the seven level specialties may apply for retraining, although the three or five level specialty is not shown. The entire retraining program will be distributed to First Sergeants at an early date.

A RECENT VISIT BY THE USAF RETENTION AND CAREER COUNSELING TEAM advised that the NCO quality control program has taken on new emphasis at Headquarters USAF. Concurrent with this announcement, "word" came that Air Force Regulations 39-62, current performance report directive, and AF Form 75 are additional emphasis will be added by higher headquarters in justification of ratings given, discussion of reports with individuals reported on, control of records to insure that ratings are not removed, and control of reporting procedures to insure that reports are submitted within allocated time limits. Informers say that this program will be utilized in promotion systems at all echelons.

CHRISTMAS AT HOME seems to be the motto of the week in early separations. The Christmas early out program, just announced by Headquarters USAF, shows that all officers and airmen personnel on initial enlistments who have adjusted dates of separation between Dec. 15, 1958, and Jan. 31, 1959, will be released on December 1 or as soon thereafter as practical.

This program carries a "commanders discretion" clause to provide for holding airmen and officers whose loss would hamper the mission. For some airmen personnel whose separation dates have been rolled back 60 days under the present early release program, the Christmas "early out" could mean separation up to four months early for many "first termers."

Persons whose normal enlistment expires during the December 1-10 period and intend to re-enlist have first priority; the December 1-31 men intending not to reenlist have a December 2 priority; February "outs" who do not intend to reup have a December 3 priority or release date; and airmen getting out normally in March have a December 4 priority.

All airmen will be individually contacted for separation processing, to include physical examination commencing early in November.

God's Frozen Assets

By Chaplain William D. Franks

All of us are familiar with the meaning of the phrase "frozen assets." If something is "frozen" it is of no use to the owner or anyone else. If it is money, it cannot be spent. If it is property, it cannot be sold. Whatever the nature of the asset it is beneficial to no one until it is declared to be "liquid."

God, too, has "frozen assets" in the form of people who have let their attitudes, opinions, and thoughts harden. They are people who have reached definite conclusions about other people and the world in which they live and have left no room for change in their minds. To be an opinionated person is not wrong unless those opinions are allowed to become rigid.

The practice of humility keeps us as one of God's liquid assets through which He can work.

To be able to say in the face of difficult situations and complex problems, "I don't know what the answer is. This is what I think at this time but my opinion might change in the future," is a virtue.

If we were to try to take the ministry of Jesus and find a set theology or system of belief in his teachings we would fail. Jesus was not attempting to be consistent in what he said to people but he was trying to speak to human need. At times he was hard; at times, he was tender. Jesus was a "liquid asset" in the hands of God.

He did not form prejudices and formulas by which to judge people and the world about Him.

Throughout the coming weeks may we endeavor to be a flexible instrument in the hands of God. Wherever we stand in the chain of command, whether airmen or officers, we must not allow our minds to become hardened and set in regard to a situation or a person. We would make of ourselves a "liquid asset" which God can use.

General Twining lists Army role under conditions of general war

(First of a series of articles based on an address by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff)

In a major policy statement JCS Chairman, Gen. Nathan F. Twining recently explained to a meeting of the Association of the U. S. Army the roles of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps in both limited and general war situations. Speaking of Army missions, General Twining said:

"It is clear that the United States Army has a most important role to play in contributing to our ability to meet the requirements of every type of war from the all-out to the very small local action.

"I would like to give you a few observations as to the direction toward which I believe the Army should point for the future.

"First of all, we must face up to the fact that the personnel strength of the Army, and of our Armed Forces as a whole, is not likely to increase.

"In my opinion, the Army should be a compact, mobile, hard-hitting outfit with a minimum of supporting impedimenta. The majority of combat equipment should be capable of movement by air or fast ship. In the past we have paid a lot of attention to protective measures such as heavy armor on tanks and other vehicles. The resulting weight has created mobility and engine efficiency problems. I believe the emphasis should be on firepower and speed. Let the protection come through those characteristics. I realize that the Army has been doing a lot in these areas. All of us know that more needs to be done.

"When I speak of mobility, I am thinking of both rapid movement and fast reaction.

"The Redstones, Corporals and even Honest Johns of today are not really mobile in the sense of rapid movement in a battle area. Nor do they yet possess the capability for fast reaction. Firepower is not much good unless it can be applied quickly and flexibly. Emphasis must be placed on insuring improvements in these characteristics in the follow-up models such as Pershing and Sergeant.

"I think you should look closely at some of the non-combat activities of the Army. Are the research and development programs, which are certainly limited, dollar-wise, directed properly to providing this compact, hard-hitting Army I've mentioned? You must get the most out of your available personnel and funds by concentrating on essentials. I will add that these comments apply equally to the other services.

"This mobility and flexibility I speak of depends in large measure on rapid and reliable communications, accurate target acquisition, and simple supply procedures. Every aspect of modern technology should be used to improve these areas.

"The Army is doing a great deal in the direction of developing better weapons. I urge continued effort especially in the low-yield nuclear and the optimum fragmentation areas.

"Finally, a word on human engineering. There is no question that the military machine is becoming more complicated every day. The very demands for speed, power, and reliability I have mentioned have caused this. However, I sometimes get the feeling that much of our equipment today is unnecessarily complicated. Are we making equipment so technical because it is supposed to be so today? I think we have introduced too many refinements and comforts into much of our equipment with resulting problems of maintenance under field conditions and of training, not to mention the factor of cost. I would urge that we not lose sight of the great advantage of simplicity, particularly under conditions of stress.

"The United States Army has played a vital role in the life of our country so far. It will continue to do so.

"Together with the other services, the Army must help build a force capable of meeting whatever type of aggression the Soviet Bloc may choose to throw at us. To do this, we must eliminate duplication, waste, and misdirected effort, and develop interservice teamwork. I feel we're showing improvements in these areas today, but we can always do better."

—woman to woman—

By Mrs. Harry W. Williamson

A Japanese motif prevailed at a cocktail party given Saturday evening for Lt. and Mrs. Neale J. Schmidt by Lt. and Mrs. Norman L. Nuckolls at the latter's home. The Schmidts, who leave soon for Japan, wore Japanese attire decorated with lanterns and fans. Oriental punch bowls, cups and serving pieces were used to complete the theme.

Mrs. Schmidt also was honored with a coffee yesterday by Mrs. Richard A. Coffland. Guests were served pumpkin tarts and halloween candies on a table highlighted with a centerpiece consisting of a pumpkin and fall leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jensen, Chicago, have been the houseguests of Lt. and Mrs. Nuckolls for the past two weeks. The Jensens are the parents of Mrs. Nuckolls.

A layette shower in honor of Mrs. Stewart Loftis, whose daughter, Amy, was born October 19, was given by Mrs. John P. Lewis last Monday. Color scheme was highlighted with a bouquet of pink carnations in a silver vase. Game prize was won by Mrs. Richrad Mattox.

Mrs. Anthony Gekakis entertained Flight 7 with a coffee Friday morning. The event was held in Mrs. Gekakis' home and guests enjoyed miniature breakfast rolls and orange muffins served with coffee and tea.

Reservations for the monthly OWC luncheon will be accepted until noon Tuesday, November 4. The affair will be held in the Officers Club on November 6.

New features, hours, day planned for Fall Festival

New hours, a new day, and new features are planned for the Reese PTA Fall Festival this year, Mrs. Frederick F. Shriner, festival committee chairman, has announced.

The festival is set for Saturday, November 15 in the Reese Elementary school, a change from previous weekdays. Hours are from 4 to 8 p.m., a shift from previous night hours.

Several new ideas will be incorporated in this year's program, it has been stated. The Talent Show is to feature adult talent, with a few children's acts. An innovation is a Smoker. Side shows and rides will

SHOW TICKETS

A limited supply of tickets are available for the Bob Hope Variety to be held at the Lubbock Auditorium November 21, 1958. Tickets will be sold at the personnel service office Monday through Friday 8-5 p.m. until November 19. Price of the tickets will be $2.00.

Holy Name Society will hold meeting in Officers club

The Reese Holy Name Society will hold its monthly business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Officers club. This will be the first time the society business meeting will be at the club but plans are underway to hold future meetings there, also, in an attempt to increase participation and give opportunity for the men to better know each other. A social portion will follow Monday's business meeting.

be arranged to entertain youngsters and adults. Games are scheduled.

Serving hours are set from 4 to 6:30 p.m., with the Talent Show from 7 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Shriner has called on all parents of Reese school children to volunteer for Fall Festival aid. Persons with the time and interest may call her at 3331 to volunteer.

Persons with talent have been asked to call Mrs. John Portie, 3291. Volunteers need not be members of PTA.

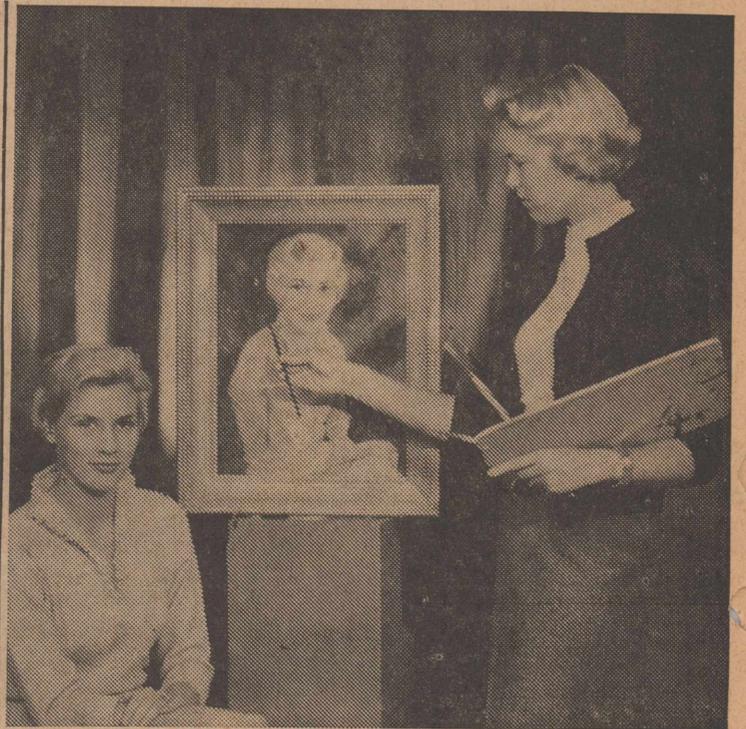

Mrs. Shriner said hope was held that the festival will be the "best yet."

Dance to feature men, women garbed in flight apparel

Officers and their wives all will wear flight suits for the Halloween dance at the Officers club Saturday night, with music of Paul Lovett and his Men of Note played from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

The Happy Hour from 6 to 6:30 p.m. today will include chips and dips served to all. Sunday dinner, served from 12 noon until 2 p.m., is to feature Southern fried chicken. Adults will pay $1.25, children 50 cents.

The Officers Toastmasters meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Sunday, with special games set for 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, the Officers Wives club luncheon at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, and duplicate bridge that night at 7:30 p.m.

Portrait once more proves base woman artist's skill

By Jim McCarthy

Pretty as a picture and a pretty picture and a pretty artist — that's the best way to sum it up.

The history of the latest portrait for the base is simple. Mrs. Pat Keith wanted a portrait of herself to give her husband, Rob, as a Christmas present. The pains-taking labor of producing a fine painting took 12 hours — approximately 7 sittings.

This history tells nothing of the talent, skill, and years of training that goes into such a work. Mrs. Phyllis Lawson, wife of Lt. John Lawson of the academic section, was the artist, and she has been interested in art since childhood. She proved to have a natural talent which she developed in formal courses in high school.

Her high school work won her two scholarships which helped put her through the Phoenix School of Design in New York. She graduated from the 4-year Phoenix course in 1952. At present Mrs. Lawson is enrolled in a correspondence course from Famous Artists, Westport, Conn. The course will take three years to complete.

Since graduation from the Phoenix School of Design, Mrs. Lawson has worked for the Railway Express Agency as a commercial artist and for the Buckner Advertising Agency in Lubbock. Last year she exhibited a portrait of her husband, John, at the OWC art and crafts show. Incidentally, John is both her staunchest and most discerning critic.

As a hobby, painting is Mrs. Lawson's first love and it is evident that this love of painting has borne fruit. A good picture is always worth 1,000 words. So take a look again at the top of this column.

Gayer orchestra, Sunset Ramblers, to play at club

A costume Halloween dance, following special games, is programmed for the NCO club tonight, with Jess Gayer and his orchestra supplying music. The ballroom will be decorated and prizes are planned for wearers of best costumes.

The Buddy Hour is scheduled for tomorrow from 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. Don Allen and the Sunset Ramblers will play for night dancing.

A special dinner Sunday from 12 noon until 3 p.m. will feature fried chicken, potato salad, sweet peas, corn, hot rolls, and tea or coffee. Adults will pay 75 cents, children 40 cents. Kid-die games are from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Joseph M. Budde Toastmaster club will meet at noon Wednesday.

Golf clubhouse contract signed

Modification of the Reese golf clubhouse to include construction of a center patio section and installation of heating and electrical equipment is expected to start within the next few days.

A contract for $17,892 for the work was signed early this week with the C. M. Pharr Construction company of Lubbock. The contract, signed by Lt. Bobby J. Hayes, custodian of CNWF funds, provides that work will be completed within 100 days. The construction is being financed by a grant from Air Training Command CNWF.

Unit Commanders invited to attend Toastmasters club

Unit commanders of the base are being invited as special guests of the Joseph M. Budde Toastmasters club in an effort to place greater emphasis on club activities, it has been announced.

Attending the last meeting were Col. Clayton A. Scott, wing executive officer; Lt. Col. Mansell McElroy, M&S commander; and Lt. August L. Shumbrea, Jr., of the weather detachment.

The Speaker's cup went to T/Sgt. Nelson Koscheski, who competed with T/Sgt. Kenneth Gordon and T/Sgt. Bob Ellis.

All interested NCO's have been invited to the club meetings each Wednesday noon in the Couples room of the NCO club.

A/1C Sydney P. Ponti is going to the Fort Benjamin Harrison Army school of stenography.

Bowling News...

Officers League

The Wing Wizards continued to hold a slim lead in the Officers Bowling league this week, following its 3-1 win over Flight 13. The Wizards had a 20-10 season's record.

The Instrument School Outcasts were close behind with a 20-12 record, while the M&S Lubers had 19½-12½, and the M&S Greasers sported a 19-13 record.

The Outcasts won 4 from the Jet Blowtorches, the Lubers marked up 1½-2½ with the M&S Oilers, and the Greasers took 4 from the PTS '00th unit.

The Greasers, who moved up from sixth place during the week, set a new season's high of 2,450 for the series and an 857 game. Maj. Lewis J. Britain of the Greasers rolled a 539 series, while Lt. James A. Tiltonson, Jr., of the Oilers, had a 208 game.

Base League

Don Moore of PTW five rolled high game last week in the base bowling league toppling a total of 222 pins. Moore also had high individual series with a 536 total.

High team game was rolled by M&S "B" team having a team total of 872. They also captured high team series with a 2356 total pins.

The winter season is divided into two halves of 15 weeks each. The first half is slated to end on December 18th. At the close of this part of the season the first and second place teams will receive team trophies. No individual trophies will be presented at the end of the first half.

At the season's end additional trophies will be presented to the first and second place team and to individual team members.

Holding the top four slots after last week's play were: ABG, 23-5; Dental Clinic, 21-7; '02nd "B" team, 21-7, and the Hospital 20-8 record.

S/Sgt. Homer Lott has been sent to Barksdale, with training enroute at Chanue.

Capt. William E. Bauer will go to Keesler AFB early in 1959 to attend the communications electronic staff officer course.

Lt. Floyd A. Sullivan has been assigned to the ground electronic officer course at Keesler, starting early in 1959.

Going to Mather AFB are Lts. J. R. Mathis, Paul Rader, and Carl R. Sanders.

Re-assigned to James Connally AFB are Lts. R. R. Praul and E. C. Kennedy.

Maj. Elmer L. Baker has been re-assigned to Iran in the MAAG program. He departs next week.

Bleacher Sidelights

by S/Sgt. Ray Santangelo

As the winter slowly creeps upon us the Reese sports program moves to the in-doors. Basketball coaches are working out their teams at the gym daily preparing for the opening of the intramural basketball season November 10.

Speaking of basketball there will be a coaches meeting in the gym on November 6, at 10 a.m. Rules and regulations will be discussed at the meeting as well as scheduling games before the regular season opens next week.

Congratulations to the pilots of the '01st PTS for their terrific play in last Friday's football tournament games. An extra tip of the hat to coach Norman Nuckolls who put plenty of extra hours in coaching the team.

Plenty of sports gear is available for all personnel at the gym supply if any one wants to play tennis, basketball, or maybe go hunting over these fall weekends. Stop by and look over the equipment in building T-211-(base gym).

ice crews will correct discrepancies and make repairs to buildings and government installed equipment, time permitting. Occupants will be requested to list and hand to the crew foreman any needed repairs, such as defective switches and outlets, leaking faucets, repairs and adjustment to stoves and refrigerators, and any minor repairs to the interior or exterior of the building.

Major repairs, such as painting venetian blinds, linoleum or tile floors, etc., cannot be handled in the two-hour period, it was announced.

"Service crews will not enter apartments unless the occupant or a designated representative is present," Major Lee commented. "Repairs or adjustments to privately owned appliances will not be made by service crews.

"Occupants are requested to defer for maintenance and repair, not of an emergency nature, pending arrival of the service crews in their vicinity. Trouble calls such as leaking water heaters, defective heater units, clogged drains, etc., will continue to be called to the service shop, Extension 495."

Passenger car advertisers invested over 13 per cent more in newspaper advertising in 1957 than in the previous year.

Policemen in event of emergency.

The prospective auxiliary police are receiving instructions in military training, security, public relations, chemical warfare, passive defense action, work as sentries, and other information considered helpful to augment Air Police activities when needed.

One class of 23 airmen is meeting three hours each morning, another of 19 members for the same time each afternoon. S/Sgt. Patrick Gandall of Air Police is in charge. Speakers include Col. Hester Daniel, base defense officer; Truett Cranford, base fire chief; T/Sgt. Gene Forbes, NCOIC information services; and others. Films also are being shown.

Goes to Sheppard

Capt. Maybelle Ockerby of the base hospital is being sent to Sheppard AFB.

Capt. William L. Threlkeld is attending the school of aviation medicine at Randolph AFB, prior to becoming assistant flight surgeon at Reese.

Maj. Frank C. Lee of Installations has been re-assigned to ATC headquarters for duty with the Deputy Chief of Staff, Installations.

A JOB WELL DONE—Col. Clayton A. Scott, wing executive officer, left, congratulates Maj. Ralph McWhirter, commander of the 3501st Periodic Maintenance squadron, after presenting him with a check for $50 and the green safety flag. Accepting the award with the major were M/Sgt. James Thede, first sergeant, and M/Sgt. Russell Gras, NCOIC of maintenance job. The squadron averaged three cents per capita for the July-September period. (Photo by Santangelo)

According to the Navy's "Hurricane Hunters," an average of eight tropical storms occur during the season from June 1 to December 1 in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico areas. Of these about five develop into full hurricanes.
