Producer's Cooperative Elevator (PCE) believes that community is a strong staple of their business. They will take every chance available to help local businesses, organizations and charities to ensure a strong Floydada for future generations. On Tuesday, Oct. 28, PCE was happy to donate $500 to the Floyd County Historical Museum. They believe that the time, hard work and enthusiasm shown in the Museum is a worthy cause for donation. During Punkin' Days, the museum hosted over 800 visitors! Producer's Cooperative Elevator wants to congratulate the Museum for their hard work and encourage others to donate so that we may ensure that it will be around for many generations to come. Pictured receiving the donation from Seth Stephens, (right) General Manager of PCE, is Dorothy Turner (left), Director of the Floyd County Historical Museum.

J.W. Harrison VFW Post 5616 will be having their annual breakfast Saturday, Nov. 8 at the Covey Smokehouse in Floydada, courtesy of a community grateful for their veterans. According to Post Commander Bill Weir, when the VFW approached Monte Covington, owner of the Covey Smokehouse, to schedule their breakfast, Covington posted a notice about the event on Facebook unbeknownst to the veterans.

Here's the posting that the restaurant owner ran on the Covey Smokehouse Facebook page on October 30. "Would like a few sponsors for a Veterans breakfast we have been asked to do. There will only be about 35 attending. They are prepared to pay, but I thought the least a few of us could do is buy them breakfast. Let us know. The breakfast is November the 8th." By the next day the Facebook posting had already begun to snowball. "Veterans Breakfast...those wishing to donate money for the Veterans Breakfast

The Paperboy A perspective on writing

My son asked me a strange question last night. "Dad, how do you write?" I had to think about it a minute before I decided I'd have to think about the answer awhile.

It is a good question. How does one write. To me, it's more complicated then explaining how to put a news story together. Just off the top of my head I can think of several ways to write in journalism alone. My favorite "way" to write is probably here in this space. Column writing can be pretty loose and in my case, random at times.

CHRIS
BLACKBURN

Sports writing is interesting. It's more loose style-wise than hard news writing. Feature writing is pretty loose as well.

In small towns, most writers are accustomed to writing in several styles.

Beyond journalism there are many other writing styles as well. Just think of television. Almost everything you hear on television was written.

How about speeches. Think of all of those politicians giving speeches.

Novelists - there's nothing like reading a great piece of fiction. I think great authors are some of the best writers.

Today we have a world of bloggers where anybody and everybody can be a writer.

And it goes on and on. From essays to cookbooks - there are dozens of way to write.

So the answer to "Dad, how do you write?" is quite complicated. I don't really know how I write.

I learned the basics a long time ago and I just do it. And it's like most things in life: the more you do something, the more proficient you are at it.

Speaking of being proficient at something... is there anything like experience?

I have no idea what percentage of business owners would tell you they'd take experience over education, but I bet it's pretty high.

I'll concede that a college education has advantages as far as getting a foot in the door, but beyond that, there is nothing like experience.

Looking back at the time I arrived on the job, I didn't know much. I knew how to write, but not real well. I certainly didn't know how to be a boss. I was so ill-prepared for so much of the job that I honestly felt lost.

Right now in the U.S. there are hundreds of thousands of college students trying to enter the workforce in their respective fields. Sadly, companies are not hiring and when they do, they want experience. These workers will tell you, "They want experience only, but you can't get experience if you can't get a job."

It's a tough deal.

Veterans: Thank you.
Thank you for your sacrifice.
Thank you for the sleepless nights.
Thank you for the training.
Thank you for representing me to the world.
Thank you fighting for freedom.
Thank you for your commitment.
Thank you for doing the hard work with little pay.

Thank you to all veterans of this country. You make me proud to be an American.

FUMC to honor retired soldiers

By Linda Matsler

The past six years the First United Methodist Church of Floydada has sent 631 packages to soldiers serving our country - primarily to Afghanistan. This year the church has chosen to honor our retired soldiers through the Texas South Plains Honor Flight.

The Honor Flights are a nationwide non-profit organization established in 2005. These flights were created to honor veterans for service to their country. Since 2005, more than 100,000 veterans have been transported to our nation's capital to visit the military service memorials, Arlington National Cemetery, and other points of interest in Washington, D.C. In 2012, 137 Veterans flew to D.C. from Lubbock, ninety in 2013. The trip for a veteran costs about $1,600, but is free to veterans because of donations from the community - in this case the community includes all of the South Plains. Caregivers and others assisting the veterans pay their own way.

Priority for the trip is first to World War II veterans, then to Korean War veterans, and then to Vietnam War veterans. The veterans are in their senior years now, but were once young people who trained hard for their various roles in military branches and were willing to risk their lives in defense of our country.

David True, 2013 South Plains Honor Flight committee chairman, will be coming to speak to the First United Methodist congregation on Veteran's Sunday, November 9. The worship service will honor all veterans that day. Please extend an invitation to your special Veteran and bring him/her to be with us.

The First United Methodist Church will be taking donations for the Honor Flight during November. Donations can be mailed to 203 W. Kentucky, Floydada, TX 79235. Checks should be made to FUMC, noting on memo line "Honor Flight."

The Little Things

"I'm not a detail person," he says. "I'm more of a big-picture kind of guy."

And with that, he sloughs off any responsibility or intention to handle anything he deems "too little" for his attention. He doesn't have energy to clean up, he's got to get to work. He doesn't have time to help put the kids to bed, he's got to get his rest. She doesn't have time to show her husband affection, because her friends are waiting on her and she's the life of the party. He can't be expected to remember to put the toilet seat down every time - and after all, it's such a "little thing" - what difference does it make?

How many of us wish we were "important enough" not to have to deal with the "little things" in our lives? I'm afraid that no one ever becomes so important that he's no longer responsible for the little things in his own life.

Part of being a Christian is growing up to shoulder responsibility well. It's a sure sign of immaturity to be a person who chronically, habitually leaves things un-done. (Trust me, folks, I'm speaking very close to home when I say these things!)

Part of how we rationalize our way out of being responsible people is by designating some things as "important" and others as "unimportant." Of course, we need to learn to prioritize ourelves, but I think we also abuse our prioritization by calling "unimportant" the things we just don't want to do.

We want to be successful people, respected by our peers, and role models for those around us. Because we're "important people" we want equally important projects and objectives which will justify our sense of self-importance. "We must be about the Big Things and not the Little Things," we insist. Key idea: Humility!

You can't build a house by starting with the roof. You must have a foundation. You can't run before you crawl. You can't tackle the Big Things without first mastering the Little Things.

Go home and ask your spouse: What are 5 "Little Things" I could do to make our home/life better for us? As your co-workers: What are 5 "Little Things" I could do to make this a better work environment for you? Go to your church and ask the leadership: What are 5 "Little Things" I could do to be a better disciple of Jesus and member of this church?

"One who is faithful in a very little is also faithful in much." (Lk 16:10)

Flea Market Will Return to Lockney on Nov. 15-16

By Carol Huggins

After all the positive responses and requests for another Flea Market, the Floyd County Fair Association will host another Flea Market at the Fairgrounds in Lockney on November 15-16. Booth rent will be the same as before - $30 for an 8 x 10 space for the 2 days. If you need more space, you can request 2 side-by-side booths.

As before, your booth can contain most anything -- garage sale items, antiques, collectibles, Christmas decor, food of any kind.

If you are crafty and want to try to sell some of your crafts, this would be a good place. The turn out in August for our first ever Flea Market was very good, both booth wise and customer wise, and we are hoping for more of both this time around.

So, gather up all your "goodies" and join us for another great Flea Market on Nov. 15-16 at the Fairgrounds. Christmas is coming up soon, and you might find just the right gift for someone on your list.

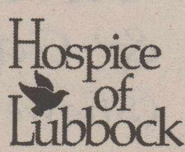

If you are interested in renting a booth, please contact Rosie Rendon at 292-9528. Hope to see everyone there!!!

We honor you for your service to our country.

Hospice of Lubbock-proudly serving our veterans with dignity and compassion.

DILLARDS MOVE WEST

Written by Lisa Noland

Dave and Elmira Dillard moved to Jack County, Texas in 1896 from Gadsden, Alabama. They rented 400 acres of land from a Methodist Preacher, which they later bought for $2500. They farmed this land for several years. Their main crop was cotton, and every year it looked as though they would make a bumper crop until the boll weevils would take over and ruin the entire crop.

In 1913, after several complete crop failures, people began moving to the Plains. Word had gotten around about how great West Texas was and it had plenty of farm land to rent.

Bud Leach, a friend of the Dillard's who had left Jack County to go west, convinced Dave and Elmira to move west also. So in 1915, the Dillards and several other families decided to make the move. They sold all their cows, chickens and farm equipment, loaded their wagons, and headed west. One of the four Dillard sons, Ben, stayed to work and finish paying for the 400 acres.

The families had a lot of fun camping out. It took them several days to travel about 300 miles. The first night on the Plains, they camped in the Fairview Community. They thought the crops and the country were the most beautiful they had ever seen. Already, everything seemed to be looking up for them.

Dave was instructed to call the sheriff Claude Goens, and he would direct them to the Bud Leach place. Bud got them a farm job with M. H. Taylor, who furnished a house for them.

Dave bought eight acres of cotton from Taylor. He headed maize to pay for it. At first, they didn't expect the cotton to make anything, but as it turned out, Taylor was sick that he had sold it and offered to buy it back plus buy Dave the best hat he could find. Dave sold the cotton back to Taylor. He fanned the rest of the year for Taylor.

The next year, the Dillards rented the land from Den Brown and bought livestock from him. They moved to the Brown Place and farmed it for nine years. During those nine years, Dozier Dillard met and courted Den Brown's daughter, Mary Lee. They were married June 10, 1917. They lived in a small two-room house in the Cedar Hill Community, where their first two children were born. Flake in 1919 and Earnestine in 1921. Two years after Earnestine was born, they moved a mile south of the Brown place where they lived fourteen years. Here their two youngest children were born. Betty Jo in 1924 and Dennis in 1930.

Later they moved back to the Brown place and lived in the house where Mary Lee was born.

The four children attended school in Cedar Hill until their high school years, then they rode a bus to Floydada.

Veteran's Appreciation Banquet hosted By Plainview Elks Lodge

November 11 is the day each year that this nation sets aside to honor veterans and thank them for their service and the sacrifices they have made. The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks set aside the entire month of November to honor our Veterans.

The Veterans Appreciation Banquet is being hosted by the Plainview Elks Lodge. Assisting with the banquet are the Plainview High School Naval Junior ROTC, Plainview 4-H and Student volunteers from Wayland.

The American Legion and VFW Posts in Plainview, Tulia, Lockney and Floydada have been a tremendous help in the planning of this event," said Libby Delgado, Veterans Chairman of the Plainview Elks Lodge.

The banquet will be held at 5 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 9, at the Pete and Nelda Laney Student Activities Center on the campus of Wayland Baptist University.

Weekends BBQ will be providing the main course of the meal.

Data shows there are 3,482 veterans in Swisher, Hale and Floyd counties. Only a small number are members of the American Legion or VFW posts in the area.

The Plainview Elks want to make sure that all veterans are given the opportunity to attend the banquet. They feel it is very important to honor and recognize all veterans and are asking veterans living in Plainview, Tulia, Kress, Lockney, Floydada, Petersburg, Cotton Center or Hale Center who would like to attend the banquet to contact them.

"It is very important that the veterans contact us if they would like to attend the banquet. We need to be able to give the caterer and others a number so they can make sure enough food is prepared," said Jana Cannon of the Plainview Elks Lodge. "If possible, we need to know by Oct 25th how many will attend. That will give us a couple of weeks to finalize the amount of food we will need to serve.

"Veterans who do not drive at night or might need assistance in attending especially need to call. There are options available to them and assistance will be provided," Mrs. Cannon added. "Please remember when you call that the volunteers work and might not be able to answer the phone at that moment. Make sure to leave a message including your name and number. If you leave your name and number, they will get back with you as soon as they can."

Veterans may call or text the following people to RSVP to the banquet: Libby Delgado, 806-774-3610; Jana Cannon, 806-729-5300 and Janice Langley, 806-292-1086.

Home Country

By Slim Randles

Dewey Decker, that accident-prone neighbor of ours, is the undisputed Pharaoh of Fertilizer, the Monarch of Manure. He has turned a shovel-ready business into a going concern, with the help of the woman of his dreams, Emily. But in the quiet times, when it's only Dewey thinking to himself, he really wants to raise things.

From the time he was a kid, he wanted to raise cattle, but Dewey's proclivities toward disaster left that particular item off the agenda. In helping out other cattlemen, you see, he accidentally let 17 steers escape from the feedlot onto the interstate, and of course there was the now-legendary time he herded a cow off a bluff into the top of a tree.

So he went into cow manure big time, supplying fertilizer for our yards and gardens, and then branching off into compost, worm castings and the worms themselves.

That's what he was busy with today, actually. Worms. Not just any worms, but red wigglers, approved by bass and trout from sea to shining sea. And today he was tucking them in for winter, spreading straw thickly over the top of their bins to wait out the cold until they came back to warm-weather wiggling next spring.

Dewey picked up a flake of straw and looked around. There wasn't anyone in sight.

"Here you go, little fellas," he whispered.

"You stay warm and have a good winter."

He looked around. Good. Still no one.

The next bin... "You guys stay warm in there this winter, okay?"

It's hard to take the husbandry out of the man, you see. A guy has to feed something and watch it grow. With worms, if he makes a mistake ... well?

Maybe someday his father tank will get topped off when he and Emily have children.

Let's hope, however, that it's Emily who teaches them to swim.

Flu Season Hits Texas

By Charles Keaton
The Hesperian-Beacon

AUSTIN - With the flu season in full swing in Texas, the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) encourages everyone to take the necessary precautions to prevent the flu and the spread of the flu. Vaccinations are available for everyone beginning at six months old. The vaccination comes in different versions. For healthy people from two to 49 that are not pregnant, a nasal spray is available. Also, for people 65 and older, a high-dose vaccine is available. The DSHS reminds everyone to talk to their health care provider about the best type of flu vaccine for them.

All flu vaccines this season are made to protect against the strains A/California/7/2009 (H1N1), A/Texas/50/2012 (H3N2) and B/Massachusetts/2/2012. For the second year, some vaccines also include protection against a fourth strain, B/Brisbane/60/2008. About half of the 150 million or more doses produced this season are expected to be four-strain varieties.

In the most recent report filed by the DSHS, Texas is considered to have widespread influenza activity level.

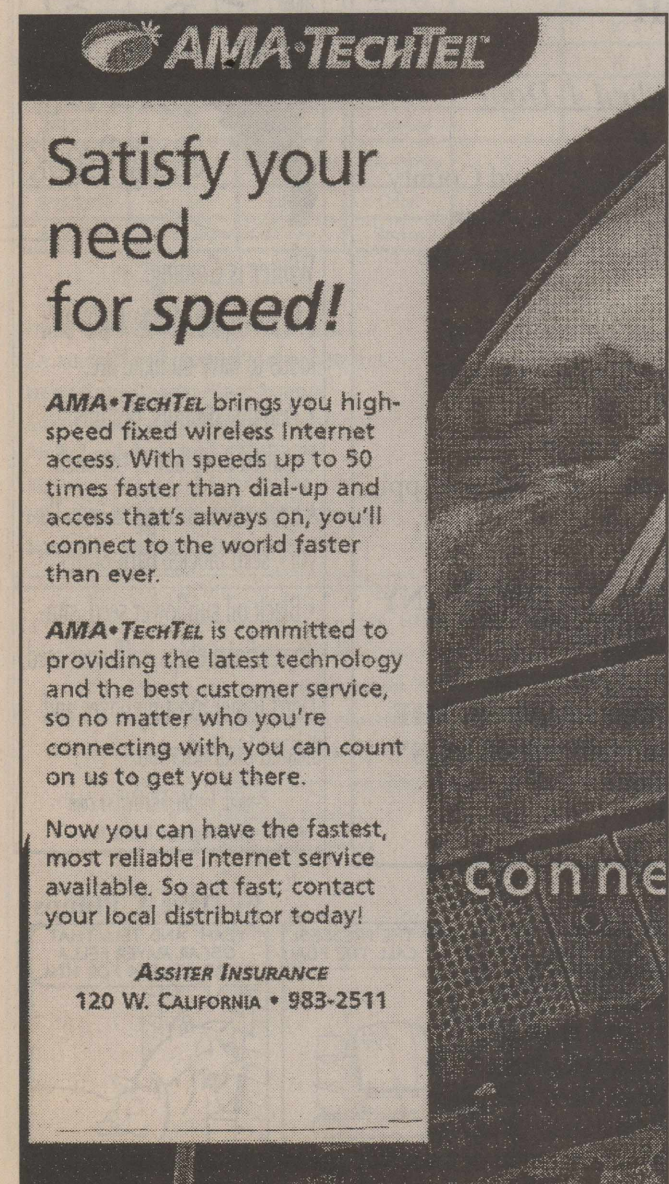

Dr. David Lakey, DSHS commissioner said, "Flu is on the rise and causing severe illness in certain people. It is not unexpected this time of year, but it's a good reminder for people to get vaccinated and stay home if they're sick. Flu can be deadly. People who have not been vaccinated should do so now. It's the best defense we have."

On average, the flu kills 23,600 Americans a year according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Those most at risk include people over 65, pregnant women, young children and people with chronic health conditions.

Standard prevention steps include: washing hands frequently with soap and water or using alcohol-based hand sanitizer; cover coughs and sneezes; and stay home if sick.

Signs that you may have the flu include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, chills, fatigue and sometimes diarrhea and vomiting. Not all of these symptoms have to be present for it to be the flu, so be sure to consult your health care provider for treatment. Do not put off seeing your health care provider because if they feel you need antiviral drugs, the sooner treatment is started, the better the drugs work.

FLOYDADA SCHOOL

Whirlwinds Fall in Battle for District Lead 47-14

By Charles Keaton
The Hesperian-Beacon

FLOYDADA – Abernathy built a 33-0 lead before Floydada could find the end zone in battle for the District 2-2A-D1 lead this past Friday.

The Antelopes found the end zone with 10:11 left in the first quarter when Adrian Pierson scored on a one yard run to give the Antelopes a 7-0 lead. With 5:23 left in the first quarter, Garrett Royal found Donovan Rodriguez for a 40 yard touchdown reception to make it 13-0 for Abernathy. With 1:10 left in the first quarter, Rodriguez scored on a 28 yard run to give the Antelopes a 19-0 lead after one quarter.

In the second quarter, Abernathy kept the pressure when Royal and Rodriguez connected for another touchdown pass, this time from 47 yards out to make it 26-0. Pierson scored his second touchdown of the evening on a one yard run with 2:35 left in the half to make it 33-0. Floydada finally got on the board when Aaron Chavarria hit Kyi Baker for a 75 yard touchdown pass with 1:42 left in the half to make it 33-7.

In the third quarter,

Chavarria connected with Corbin Nutt on a 55-yard pass to cut the Antelopes lead to 33-14 with 9:14 left in the third quarter. The Antelopes found the end zone with 1:57 left in the third when Royal passed to Sterling Kitchens for a 31-yard touchdown to make it 40-14 after three quarters.

In the fourth quarter, Royal scored on a one yard run with 10:25 left in the game to make the final score 47-14.

Offensively, the Whirlwinds had 312 total yards, 270 passing and 42 rushing. Chavarria was 9-22 passing for 270 yards and two touchdowns. Nutt had 20 carries for 70 yards rushing and one reception for 55 yards and a touchdown. Baker had four catches for 133 yards and a touchdown.

For Abernathy, Royal was 10-13 passing for 213 yards and three touchdowns and had 17 carries for 123 yards rushing and one touchdown. Rodriguez had eight receptions for 175 yards and two touchdowns and he had 28 yards rushing and one touchdown.

“Our scoring at the end of the first half and the beginning of the second half were key plays,” Head Coach Todd Bandy.

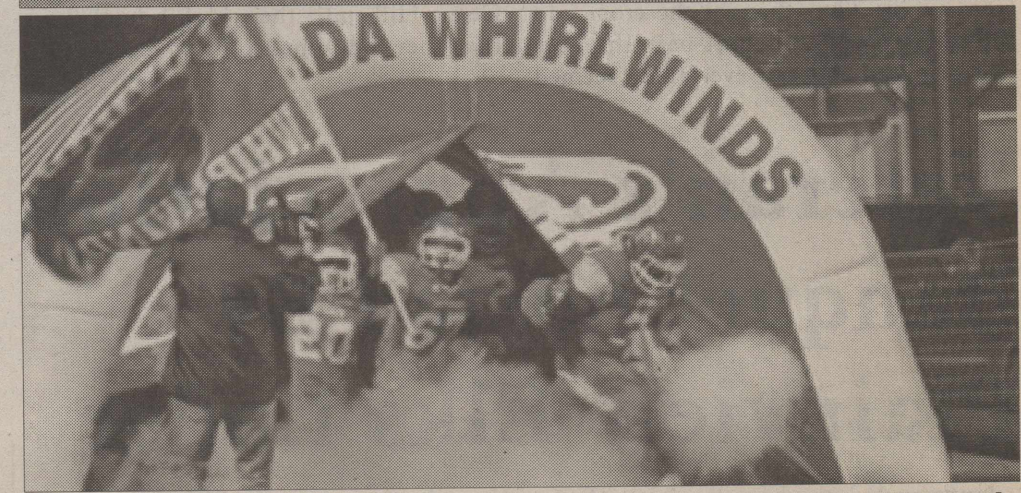

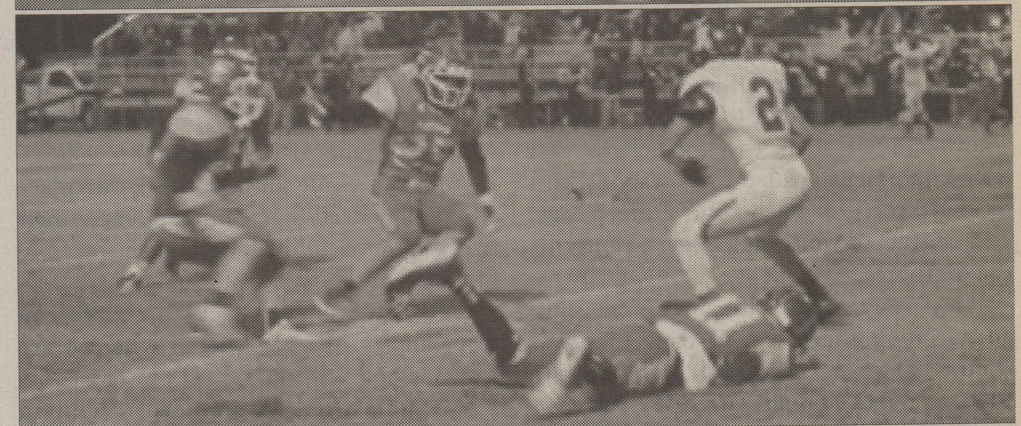

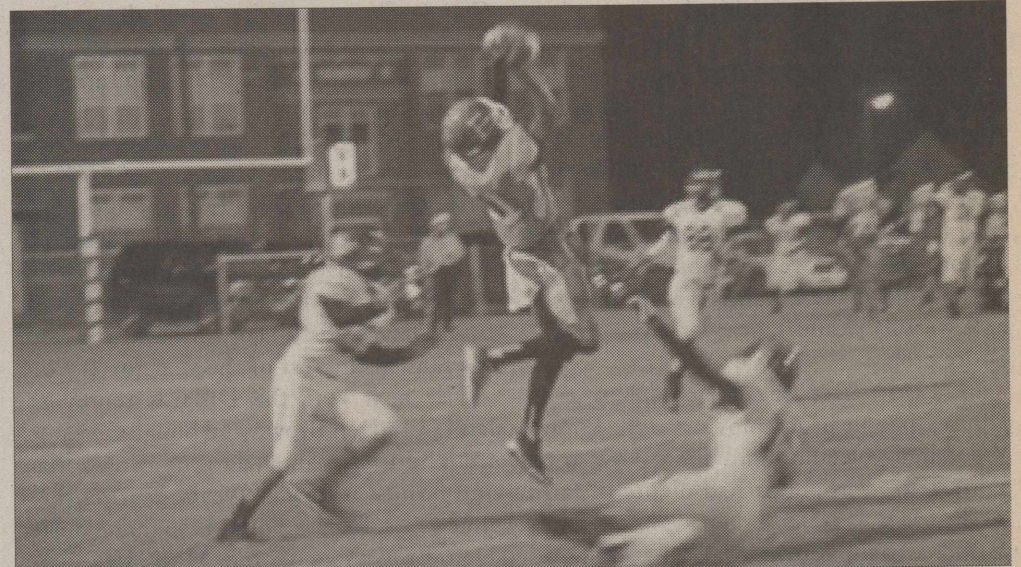

Bandy said that when Abernathy answered the score in the third quarter, that was the turning point of the game.

Abernathy clinched a share of the District 2-2A-1 title with the victory and can secure the outright title by defeating Tahoka at Abernathy. Floydada travels to New Deal with the winner securing the second seed and the loser will be the third seed. In other district action, Hale Center travels to Olton.

“We need to stop their run game,” Bandy said, “and we need to execute and score more offensively.”

Bandy listed Nutt and Baker as key offensive players and DeAndre McCann as the key defensive player.

The playoff teams out of District 1-2A-1 has not been settled except for Canadian, who will be the number one seed. According to Bandy, if Wellington beats Panhandle then it's Canadian, Wellington and Stratford but if Panhandle beats Wellington by nine points, then it's Canadian, Stratford and Panhandle. The two districts are working on a double-header in the Amarillo area for Friday, Nov. 14.

“Top Shot” held Oct. 5

By Patty Davenport
Floyd County 4-H Parent/Leader

What a blast! The Floyd County 4-H Shooting Sports Coaches held a “Top Shot” competition on Sunday, October 5. This was a great, fun and safe way to introduce youth to the different disciplines offered in the shooting sports program. Youth got to try their hand at archery, rifle, pistol, shotgun and both muzzleloading rifle and pistol. We had a great group vying for this year’s “Top Shot”.

In the senior age group, Arnie Martinez placed first, followed by Abigail Delozier and then Alex Glass. Carson Miller came out on top in the intermediate group. Mason Esty was second and Ryder Glass was third. Tyann Phillips repeated as the top junior shooter. Payton Anderson was second and Ky Rendon placed third. Shooting Sports practices will begin this month. Archery will begin November 6 at 6 p.m. at the Unity Center. Hunting and Wildlife will meet November 9 at 1 p.m. at the Unity Center. Pistol is set for November 13 at 6 p.m. at the Unity Center and Rifle November 20 at 6 p.m. at the Unity Center.

If you are interested in any of the shooting sports disciplines offered; archery, rifle, pistol, shotgun or hunting and wildlife, contact the County Extension Office for information, 983-4912.

LOCKNEY SCHOOL

Lockney Unable to Contain Quanah Passing in 55-12 Loss

By Charles Keaton
The Hesperian-Beacon

QUANAH – Quanah capitalized on early mistakes by the Lockney Longhorns to score three first quarter touchdowns enroute to a 55-12 victory over the Longhorns.

The Indians totaled 453 yards of offense on the night. They had 147 yards rushing and 306 yards passing. The Longhorns managed on 188 yards, 97 rushing and 91 passing.

Early in the first quarter, the Longhorns fumbled a punt attempt and the Indians took advantage when five plays later Clay Robertson connected with Adam Medina on a 27 yard pass and after the two point conversion, held an 8-0 lead. Just a few minutes later Robertson connected with Cory Bodine for a 32-yard touchdown pass and after the two pint conversion, it was 16-0 with eight minutes left in the first quarter. Just three minutes later, Robertson found Craig Miles open for another touchdown pass of 32 yards and after the conversion, held a 24-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Miles scored for Quanah to extend the Indians' lead to 30-0. With nine minutes left in the second quarter, the Longhorns finally got on the board when Mauricio Davila passed for 11 yards to Levi Kasner to make it 30-6. Two minutes later, Miles scored his third touchdown of the night for the Indians on a four yard run and with seven minutes left in the half, Quanah had a 37-6 lead. Robertson connected with Bodine for a six yard touchdown pass to make it 43-6. Late in the half, Davila found Eli Guerra open for a three yard touchdown pass to make it 43-12 at half time.

In the third quarter, Robertson and Bodine connected for their third touchdown of the evening from 15 yards out to push the score to 49-12 with seven minutes left in the quarter. Medina scored his second touchdown on a four yard run late in the quarter and Quanah took a 55-12 lead.

Neither team scored in the fourth quarter and Quanah came away with the victory that put them in a four-way tie with Lockney, Memphis and Clarendon for second place in District 3-2A-D2.

Offensively for the Longhorns, Davila was 10-19 passing for 91 yards. Darin DeLeon had 10 carries for 43 yards, Nick Sherman had 15 carries for 30 yards and Davila had six carries for 24 yards. Guerra had six catches for 47 yards and a touchdown and Kasner had one reception for 11 yards and a touchdown.

For the Quanah Indians, they had 453 total yards, with 306 passing and 147 rushing. Robertson was 15-23 passing for 306 yards and five touchdowns. Miles had 20 carries for 77 yards and two touchdowns and he had one touchdown receiving. Medina had four catches for 85 yards and a touchdown and he scored once rushing. Bodine had six catches for 66 yards and three touchdowns.

"When we gave up three quick scores in the first eight minutes," Head Coach Jay Ragland said, "we just could not overcome the deficit."

Lockney must beat District Champs Crosbyton and Ralls to have to beat Quanah for Lockney to secure a playoff spot. Quanah only needs to beat Ralls to secure one of the three playoff spots. Crosbyton has already clinched the number one seed in the playoffs. The winner of the Memphis and Clarendon game will clinch one of the spots.

In the final weekend of the regular season Lockney hosts the Crosbyton Chiefs Friday evening at 7 p.m. and Quanah travels to Ralls and Clarendon travels to Memphis.

"We have to stop their running attack in order to win this week," Ragland said.

Lockney JV Loses to Quanah

By Coach Kyle Browne

LOCKNEY – The Lockney Longhorns JV football team finished their season with hard fought battle with the Quanah Indians. The Horns lost the game 19-14 but they never gave up and fought until the very end. The game was a defensive struggle at first with the score being 0-0 after the first quarter. The Indians got on the board first and had a 13-0 lead at the half.

The Horns came roaring back in the third quarter as they cut the lead to 13-6 with a 12 yard touchdown run from Kevin Lopez. After the Indians returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown to make the score 19-6, the Horns came back again and added another touchdown on a 16 yard run by Kevin Lopez. Nathan Johnson added the 2 point conversion to make the score 19-14.

The Horns could not recover the fumble and with eight seconds left in the game could not reach the end zone.

"I am very proud of all the kids tonight. We played a very good football team and the kids played their hearts out," Coach Kyle Browne said.

Wit and Wisdom of Texas

By Charles Keaton
The Hesperian-Beacon

Wit and Wisdom of Texas looks to show the readers the common sense and uncommon genius of many Texans from the past to the present. I hope you enjoy and delight in these comments.

"Whether your destination is heaven or hell, you always have to change planes in Dallas." – Kinky Friedman

If you want to surf, move to Hawaii. If you like to shop, move to New York. If you like acting and Hollywood, move to California. But if you like college football, move to Texas. – Ricky Williams

When I was young, my family didn't go on outings to the circus or trips to Disneyland. We couldn't afford them. Instead, we stayed in our small rural West Texas town, and my parents took us to cemeteries. Jenny Lawson

"Her name belongs to Texas history. She cast her lot with the immortal heroes of the Alamo. After its fall, with the "Babe" in her arms, she carried the news to General Houston at Gonzales." – plaque on granite memorial for Susanna Dickinson in the Texas State Cemetery, Austin

"Yes, siree," the Amarillo rancher said to the visitor, "We got them high winds blowing on us almost ever' day. You jes' learn to kinda lean into 'em. One day last November, I think it was, the wind jes' stopped, and all the chickens in the Panhandle fell over." – old joke

"I'll wager they found no wounds in his back." – Elve Bowie, on learning her son, Jim, was killed at the Alamo

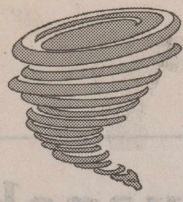

"Texas is composed of the shrewdest and most interesting population of any new country on earth. The people you send to exhort them must be respected and talented." – William B. Travis

"Texas is like an attractive, troublesome, and immature person who gets an inheritance -- ranching -- and then gets a second one -- oil -- and now has to grow up and get to work." – JOE B. FRANTZ, Texas Monthly, Jun. 1986

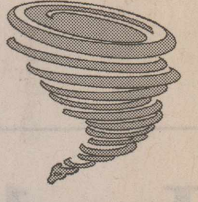

"Truth' in Texas is topic sensitive. If you're doing a business deal, a true Texan always stands by his word. There is nothing more sacred to Texans than their word, and they will do anything in their power to meet their obligations. But when it comes to tell-in' stories, the whole truth thing blurs quite a bit." – JIM GRAMON, attributed, 1001 Greatest Things Ever Said About Texas

"Texans ain't Texans if they aren't willing to boast about the state they call home." – ANONYMOUS, AAA Texas Tour Book, 2005

"One objection I have heard voiced to works of this kind—dealing with Texas—is the amount of gore spilled across the pages. It can not be otherwise. In order to write a realistic and true history of any part of the Southwest, one must narrate such things, even at the risk of monotony." – ROBERT E. HOWARD, letter to August Derleth, March 1933

Off-season: Preparing For Success

By Roxy Chavarria
Staff Writer

Preparation for an upcoming sport is key for an athlete in order to succeed. Off-season consists of particular athletes, which at the time are not involved in a sport, and allows them to recover not only physically but also mentally. Amounting to recovery, maintaining a competent fitness level during off-season is an important factor to an athlete before they can begin competing in their next sport.

"Off-season is very important to me because it's valuable time to take advantage of to make myself stronger, ambitious, and prepare for powerlifting," said Chris Chavarria.

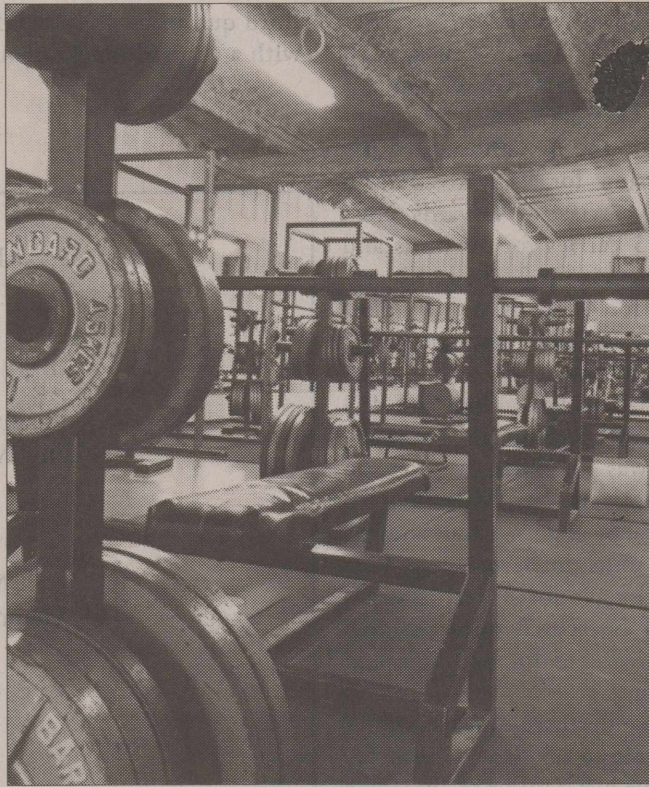

Integrating lifting with cardio constructs a sensible workout with an increase in both strength and endurance.

It is important that an athlete execute a balanced workout that includes both lifting and cardio to ready the athlete to what is to come in a future sport.

Junior Chris Chavarria has been a participant in off-season since the beginning of the school year. He believes in pushing himself in off-season to find his limits. Knowing how far he could go, it has benefited him to not injure him self when competing in powerlifting and track.

"I lift heavy when we do a lifting workout, and find my pace when we do our cardio workouts. I think it is important to know how far I can go without doing too much. If I hurt myself now, it prevents me from doing any sport post off-season," said Chris Chavarria.

Chavarria, along with many other athletes, has spent numerous hours during the athletic period and after school to train. "I live in the weight room. It is important to stay in shape during this off time. I don't want to compete in powerlifting and fall behind because I wasted my time during off-season," said Chavarria.

Fall Back

By Melissa Arizpe

Beginning on Nov. 2, daylight saving time will be ending, meaning we set our clocks back by one hour. We will gain an extra hour of sleep, but the sun will set at an earlier time. This change has both its pros and cons.

The pros and cons of the daylight saving time vary between students and teachers, all having a different opinion on the topic. FHS teacher, Tasha Hughes states "Personally, I'm glad we're going off daylight savings time because I leave home every morning at 7 o'clock in the morning to drive to work and it is dark the whole way. It will be nice when it is lighter earlier in the morning."

Rita Cox, another FHS teacher, states "It's awesome because I get to sleep in an extra hour. I have four children and many students, so the extra hour is every much needed and beneficiary when running on a busy schedule." The staff appears to have a positive opinion about the DST change.

FHS student Alyson Perez states "I'm not too excited about the time changing because by the time I get out of [my] workout after school it'll be much darker than it used to be."

Many have the misconception that all states follow the daylight saving time. One exception to this is the state of Arizona. The reason that Arizona does not follow the same daylight saving time as the other states is because of its extreme heat.

However, not all parts of Arizona are exempt from DST today.

A Career to Foretell

By Aaron Chavarria
Senior Editor

The final two years of student's lives in high school consist of many agendas; playing varsity sports, taking part in college classes, participating in extracurricular activities; most importantly, preparing for the future. Once a student has walked the stage at graduation, decisions have to be made and an adult livelihood comes into play. To help make these choices, a career day at the civic center in Lubbock, Texas was held on Oct. 30.

For many, this was an opportunity to jumpstart their prospects and look forward to what they might want to make a career out of in the future.

"With me only being a junior this year, I feel this was an early opportunity to start looking at what I want to do in the future," said Chris Chavarria, "I understand that I have over a year to go, but according to what I have seen from my older brothers, time goes by faster than what you think, and I believe now is the time to make early decisions on what I want to do in the future."

This event featured many possible career choices that could jumpstart a student's prospects.

"I am very interested in the medical field at this point in my life because I want to live my life helping people and the pay is also good," said junior Jacob Degollado, "If the medical field doesn't happen to work out, then I may fall back on some type of mechanical work. All my options are open because there are many out there to choose from."

The atmosphere of this career day provides motivation for many to continue striving for what they want.

"I felt there was a ton of positive attitudes, which helped me with my motivation to continue striving for success in the future," said senior Esmeralda Garza.

This event is held every year to allow students to explore the careers of this world or what colleges to possibly attend after high school. This event is the beginning of young student's lives, as it provides a major opportunity to see what potential every individual possesses.

There's a Time and a Place

By Alyson Perez
Staff Writer

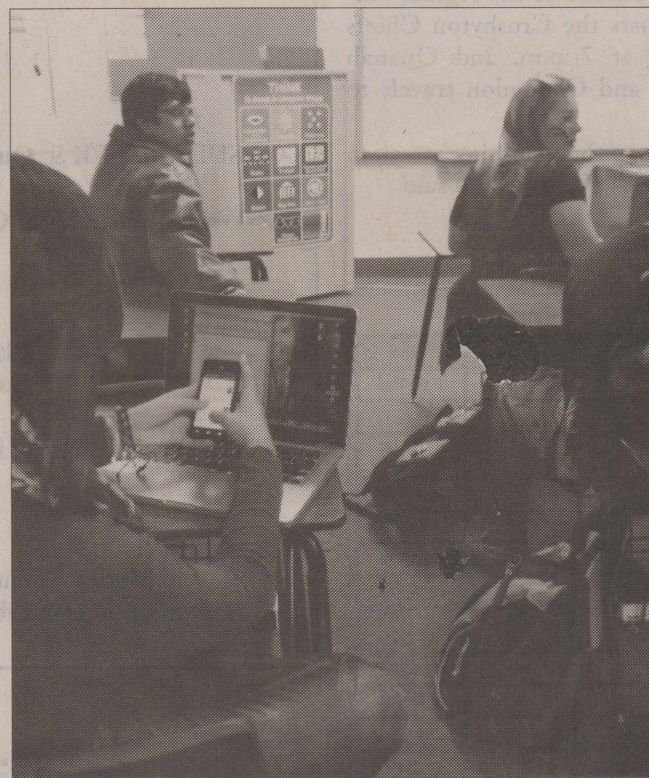

In today's world, cell phones are one of the most commonly shared accessories among high school students. There are many advantages to owning cell phones, such as "staying connected", having resources, and for safety purposes. However, when it comes to students receiving their education, cell phones should be put away unless there is an emergency.

"It's nice to have the luxury of a cell phone in case of an emergency, but they can be a deterrent because kids tend to want to be on their phones. It's not a huge problem that I have to deal with on a daily basis," said Rita Cox, high school English teacher.

Students already struggle with the difficulty of paying attention during lectures and class work without the distraction of a cell phone. For instance, a student sidetracked from their class work because of the temptation to text a friend or be on a social media is not prescient in their studies. There is also the distraction of students forgetting to silence their phones, resulting in classroom disruptions.

The rationale for cell phones being banned in schools is the looming threat of academic dishonesty, or cheating. With today's advancements in technology, it becomes easier for the students to cheat. For example, the camera function on the phone allows student to send each other photos of various kinds. Some photos are purely innocent and in the spirit of fun; in the same scenario, students could send photos to each other of completed tests. Millions of apps can take the place of a student's development. A calculator can prevent one from acquiring math skills and a dictionary can prevent one from perfecting his or her spelling ability.

Being dependent on an accessory causes students not to strive for their fullest potential. Cell phones in schools are very controversial in today's society. Studies have shown that a child with the ability to use a cell phone in class does not grow at the same rate, academically, as their peers who do not have the use of cellular devices.

The Fandango UIL Preparation

By Kimberly Pacheco
Staff Writer

There are many wonderful athletes in public schools, but not everyone in school is 'athletic'. Some students are athletic; some are more academically inclined. Regardless, all students express their sharpness by participating in UIL.

On Saturday Nov. 8, The "Fall Fandango" UIL Invitational meet will be held in Lubbock. UIL instructors (teachers) do everything they can to prepare their students and themselves.

Pake Freeman, coach of the science UIL team, said, "Since I help with science, we prepare in all 3 sciences: chemistry, biology, and physics. We mainly use practice tests to get a feel for the competitions in which we will be competing."

The Fandango UIL meet is an annual event that Floydada High School routinely attends. This UIL meet will be the first practice meet of the UIL season. Therefore, since this year is a brand new school year, it also means we are in a new district that includes new teams and people.

"It's not going to be easy, but I feel confident that we can make it," said Desiree Guerra, senior. Some students have never been in UIL, and have decided to try it out for the first time by joining this year, while others may want to adjust to a different event.

Josh Chavarria said, "Even though it is my first time in a new event, I feel like I should do well because I'm going to try my best!"

Since it is the first practice meet for the UIL season, teachers do not feel as prepared as they will in the future meets.

"I don't feel as prepared for this meet since we have not practiced enough, but I do feel like we have intelligent students willing to prepare to win," said Mr. Freeman.

Longhorn Band Marches Their Way to Victory

On Saturday, October 18th, the Lockney Longhorn Band went to UIL marching competition in Lubbock. The marching competition was held at Lowery Field where the band competed against bands from other schools in the area. After working for two weeks to prepare and get their show to perfection, the band performed their show in front of the judges.

After their performance, the band had to wait with anticipation to find out their score. As soon as LHS band director, Rob Lovett, got word of the scores he went to tell the band. The band was given a "1-1-1" the highest score. The Longhorn Band has been getting straight 1's in marching competition since 2007, and they were all ecstatic about their score.

UIL marching band competition is held every year for Lockney and surrounding schools at Lowry Field. Three judges decide a rating for each band with a one being the highest rating, superior, and a five being the lowest rating, below average. The Longhorn Band received a one from all three judges, receiving a division one rating overall and securing their eighth consecutive year of superior ratings.

"It was such an emotional experience because we finally knew that all of our hard work paid off," said senior drum major, Sarah Belt.

This year the band put on a jazz marching performance called Jazz Phases. The show music consisted of "Just a Closer Walk With Thee", "When the Saints Go Marching In", "Da Blues", and "Brazos Boogie" all written by Barry Hurt. The band worked really hard to get all the songs memorized to jazz

The Lockney Longhorn Band has been practicing since August 12th. The band practiced every Tuesday until their first competition. The band practiced through rain, wind, and mosquitos. They started practice at 7:30p.m. and ended at 9:00p.m.

Next year, the Longhorn band will have the opportunity to advance to the state level of competition by receiving all ones at UIL regional competition, and coming in the top three bands at area competition.

"I think next year is going to be a great experience for everybody, including the new freshmen coming into Lockney High School," said sophomore Blanca Bueno.

FCCLA

By Lissa Hernandez
Lena Luna, and
Lexi Chavez

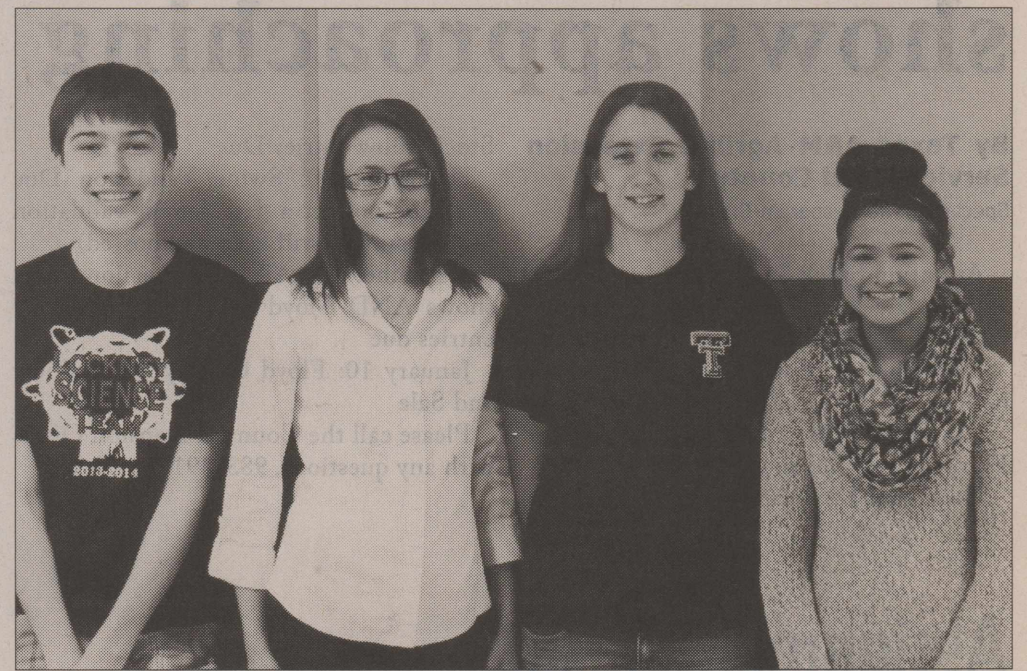

The local FCCLA (Family, Career and Community Leaders of America) chapters had a convention Monday, October 20, 2014 at Springlake-Earth High School. FCCLA is an organization made to show young community members ways that they can make their community a better place. Lockney High School FCCLA holds meetings every first Monday of the month, to talk about the activities they plan to put on or participate in.

"FCCLA means a lot to me, I was in it last year and I got to meet new people and travel and be in competitions. It was a lot of fun and it's really enjoyable for me." Said Neri Enriquez, junior member of FCCLA

There are many things you can do in FCCLA, including competitions. The competitions can include giving a presentation on a subject, or taking a test on how well you know the FCCLA creed.

One benefit of being a member of FCCLA in high school is having the opportunity to receive many different types of scholarships for college.

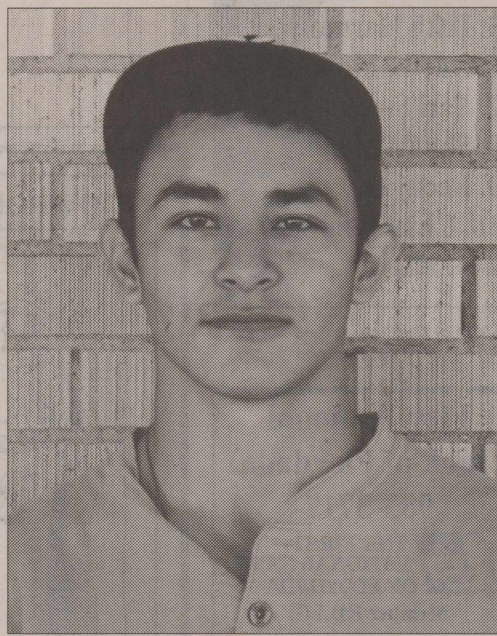

Senior Spotlights:

Cristian Emmanuel Bejarano and Sarah Marie Belt

By Alec N. Tambunga

Cristian Emmanuel Bejarano was born in Plainview, TX on April 18, 1997, to Gustavo and Martha Bejarano. He has lived in Lockney his whole life. During his time at Lockney High School, he has participated in the following extracurricular activities: AG (three years), band (four years) and athletics (four years). And after graduating, Cristian plans to go to South Plains College to become a welder or a diesel mechanic.

Sarah Marie Belt was born in Lubbock, TX on February 12, 1997, to Preston Belt and Lori Hooten. She has lived in Lockney for 16 years and attended Lockney ISD schools since kindergarten. During her time at Lockney High School, she has participated in the following extracurricular activities: band (four years), drum major (senior year), UIL (four years), track (four years), tennis (four years), FCCLA (two years), FCA (two years), junior class secretary and senior class vice-president. After graduation, Sarah plans to attend either Texas A&M University or Lubbock Christian University and major in Pediatric Psychology or elementary education.

The Big Five: Current Issues and Events

Half semester coverage of Lockney's Top UIL events.

By: Jace Klein, Emilie Encizo, & Sher Keyser

Current Issues and Events is a UIL competition that focuses on basic knowledge of current state, nation, and world issues. The test contains 40 multiple choice questions and an essay. It will cover basic topics like war & conflict, domestic problems, economics, and international problems. In order to win, you must have the highest combined total of points tabulated from the multiple choice test, and the ten point essay.

At Lockney High School, the students competing in Current Issues and Events are, seniors: Brenna Tidwell, Marisol Hernandez, Isabella Rodriguez, junior: Jace Klein, and sophomores: Valerie Hernandez and Luke Kasner. They are led and instructed by my LHS teacher D'lyn Morris.

"I enjoy coaching Current Issues and Events because it helps me and my students stay plugged in with the rest of the world," said Mrs. Morris.

Last year, the LHS Current Issues and Events team was runner up at the district contest. Jace Klein made it to the regional level of competition by placing first at district individually. Senior Marisol Hernandez placed fourth individually.

"When I placed last year in Current Events, it was a wonderful feeling. It was my first year being in UIL and being able to compete. I never expected to place my first year, especially to come as an alternate. It was [amazing] for me and my team. I couldn't have been more delighted," said senior, Marisol Hernandez.

This year's current issues and events team has been practicing every week during lunch since school began. The team's first meet November 8th. They are hoping to advance to regionals again this year. The work put in could help them when the need it the most.

National Honors Society 2014-2015 Induction

By Trevor Ascensio

On Monday, October 20, 2014, 17 new members were inducted to the National Honors Society (NHS).

The requirements for an invitation to join are that a student must have an 85 or above in all classes and must be a junior or senior. The Lockney High School NHS sponsor is Carol Lane.

Members of the National Honors Society are very involved in the community. For example, they package food for the less fortunate in Lockney. Another great benefit of being a part of NHS is the ability to receive scholarships for college.

"It is a great privilege being a part of the National Honors Society", said NHS member Anissa Guerrero.

NHS will be painting Longhorn emblems in driveways for $20, as they do every year for a fundraiser. If you would an emblem painted in your driveway, please contact any member of NHS or the high school office.

USDA Issues Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) Payments for Certain 2013 Crops in Texas

(COLLEGE STATION, TX), Oct. 28, 2014 — U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director Judith A. Canales announced today that FSA has begun distributing Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) payments for revenue losses associated with certain crops in Texas. Discontinued by the 2014 Farm Bill, the ACRE program provided producers with protection from revenue losses for crops grown in 2009-2013.

Crops eligible for October payments in Texas include barley, irrigated corn, grain sorghum, wheat and non-irrigated cotton grown in the 2013 crop year. More than 10,000 producers in Texas enrolled more than 2.8 million acres in ACRE. The Budget Control Act passed by Congress in 2011 requires these payments to be reduced by 5.1 percent.

For more information on ACRE, producers should contact their local FSA office or visit FSA's website at www.fsa.usda.gov.

Farmers and Ranchers Encouraged to Make Their Voices Heard

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31, 2014 — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is encouraging farmers and ranchers to make their voices heard by voting in the upcoming Farm Service Agency (FSA) County Committee elections. FSA Administrator Val Dolcini announced that beginning Monday, Nov. 3, 2014, USDA will mail ballots for the 2014 elections to eligible producers across the country. Producers must return ballots to their local FSA offices by the Dec. 1, 2014, deadline to ensure that their vote is counted.

"The role and input of our county committee members is vital as we implement the 2014 Farm Bill," said Dolcini. "New members provide input and make important decisions on the local administration of FSA programs. We have seen promising increases in the number of women and minority candidates willing to serve on county committees, helping to better represent the diversity of American agriculture."

FSA County Committee members provide an important link between the local agricultural community and USDA. Farmers and ranchers elected to county committees help deliver FSA programs at the local level, applying their knowledge and judgment to make decisions on commodity support programs; conservation programs; indemnity and disaster programs; emergency programs and eligibility. County committees operate within official regulations designed to carry out federal laws.

To be an eligible voter, farmers and ranchers must participate or cooperate in an FSA program. A person who is not of legal voting age, but supervises and conducts the farming operations of an entire farm may also be eligible to vote. Agricultural producers in each county submitted candidate nominations during the nomination period, which ended on Aug. 1, 2014.

Eligible voters who do not receive ballots in the coming week may pick one up at their local USDA Service Center or FSA office. The deadline to submit ballots is Dec. 1, 2014. Ballots returned by mail must be postmarked no later than Dec. 1, 2014. Newly elected committee members and their alternates will take office Jan. 1, 2015.

Nearly 7,700 FSA County Committee members serve in the 2,124 FSA offices nationwide. Each committee consists of three to 11 members elected by eligible producers. Members serve 3-year terms of office. Approximately one-third of county committee seats are up for election each year.

More information on county committees, such as the new 2014 fact sheet and brochures, can be found on the FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov/elections or FSA office. Visit <http://go.usa.gov/pYV3> to find an FSA office near you.

USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer. To file a complaint of discrimination, write: USDA, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, Office of Adjudication, 1400 Independence Ave., SW, Washington, DC 20250-9410 or call (866) 632-9992 (Toll-free Customer Service), (800) 877-8339 (Local or Federal relay), (866) 377-8642 (Relay voice users).

Assignment: Texas

Sierra Madera

The sight must have been a spectacular one. While estimates vary, sometime around 100 million years ago, the skies above what would later become the dry desert grasslands between Fort Stockton and Marathon, Texas glowed in a brilliant light. Some scientist say that it was a comet while others say it might have been a meteor but either way, something big slammed into the earth and created an enormous scar on the landscape. Estimates say the object was as big as a football field.

Considering the size of the blemish on the earth, it is remarkable that an object so small can create a scar so enormous. A scar so big - most don't even know its there.

Somewhere south of Fort Stockton on US Highway 385, a mountain peak rises curiously from the desert landscape. Detached from the Glass Mountains further south, the singular peak stands juxtaposed in the surrounding landscape of scrub mesquite and a ring of smaller foothills around the periphery. Between the hills and the peak is a big, flat plain of mesquite and creosote bush. In all, the astrobleme is enormous at about eight miles across.

The mountain (or using a geological term, central uplift) is five miles across and rises nearly 800 feet above the desert floor and is only 600 feet shy of towering a mile above sea level. The structure was formed when the extraterrestrial object slammed into the earth and caused the underlying limestone to be projected upwards in the collision.

Think of it like this: When you drop a stone into water, a crater is first created and then a central peak rebounds in the middle of the crater. This is how Madera Mountain was created. Unlike the fluidity of water, the hard rock limestone's peak froze forever in mid-rebound. Now it sets off the east side of the highway as a Texas curiosity.

The feature is so rare, it is the only impact crater of its kind in the United States with a central mountain peak and one of the few that you can still drive across. While the peak sits on private property, it is still very visible from the road. In fact, highway signs signal when you cross into the crater on one sign and herald your exit on the other.

It is truly a fascinating piece of natural history.

breakfast is November the 8th. They will be there before the rooster crows."

According to Weir, when the VFW prepared to pay Covington for the breakfast last week, the restaurant owner said, "It's already paid for." The veterans insisted that the owner not have to pay for the event out of his own pocket, and at that point he told the VFW that the community had come forward to cover all expenses.

In fact, there will be volunteers serving the veterans. These volunteers stepped up to help because of the Facebook posting, and there were so many donations that there may even be food left over for the VFW to take.

The 501 The Dirt on Daubers

Dirt daubers are amazing. They're better at adobe than the Anasazi Indians. They kill spiders. They're very deep blue. They don't sting like wasps. They don't get hyper just because they see you coming. Yea.

Most of that stuff could be wrong, but we're just talking.

I used to think daubers were "dobbers" because of the horse name Dobbin and the bobbin on the sewing machine - bobbin, Dobbin, dobber. It's a logical progression, at least for a 5-year-old, at which approximate age I became aware of dirt daubers. It really didn't dawn on me they were "daubers" until much later - like maybe this week.

If you look up "dirt dobber," Google and Wikipedia both let you know how illiterate you are. What's more, Wikipedia calls them "mud" daubers - not "dirt" daubers. No doubt Yankees say "mud." Yankees rule when it comes to standardizing names of things. I blame New York City with all its publishing houses and television empire headquarters. (If they're not headquartered there, my mistake.) We regional types have a responsibility to keep provincial names alive and well. It's enough to make me want to say "dirt dobber." Dirt dobber.

Enough of the subtleties of naming insects.

Poor dirt daubers, practically harmless, are feared because they look like wasps. Look 'em up on the Internet, and lots of the pictures that initially pop up actually are wasps - not dirt daubers. It's like confusing red ants and fire ants. True, red ants look fearsome, but I've heard they keep fire ants at bay. Here's to red ants, our friends. Fire ants should go home to South America or wherever they came from. My opinion.

Back to daubers. I did find a comment on an ignorance-fighting website that tells me at least one other person in the world shares my feeling toward dirt daubers:

"Dirt daubers are ok. They aren't aggressive. I wait until winter (after they leave) to take down nests on my house. I figure live and let live. They don't hurt anything."

My thoughts exactly. But that person sounds like he-she is more diligent than I at nest removal. And it never occurred to me that daubers leave. Where do they go? Mexican vacation towns? Retirement communities in the Valley? I guess I thought they stayed around to freeze to death along with that lazy fabled grasshopper who begged the hard-working ants in vain for a cushy place to spend the winter.

Maybe it was a fear of cold weather that prompted many of our resident daubers to build their nests in our RV furnace. The cost of their eviction and the repair of one electrical short (I'm blaming them) was $147.86. We spent a little more money for a special screen to keep them out - assuring an ounce of prevention after paying for a pound of cure.

Meanwhile, if you want to keep dirt daubers off your porch ceiling, paint it haint blue. Seriously.

If you don't know what a "haint" is, you probably say mud dauber.

ordered evaluation for competency.

Castillo was indicted in May for burglary of a habitation while committing a sexual assault.

The order for evaluating Castillo's competency to stand trial relates to a reported suicide attempt by the suspect early Tuesday.

Potential jurors in 110th Judicial District Court were dismissed last Tuesday morning after Judge William P. "Bill" Smith became aware of the situation.

Following the incident, Castillo's previous request for the competency evaluation was granted.

The trial, originally set for Sept. 23, was moved to Tuesday after a key witness failed to appear.

Castillo is accused of breaking into a residence and raping an 84-year-old Lockney woman last February. Castillo was arrested after stolen property from the victim's residence was found in his possession.

The suspect faces a first-degree felony charge with a penalty range of five to 99 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

He is accused of sexually assaulting the woman in her Lockney home between 3-4:45 a.m. Feb. 8. The victim was taken to WJ. Mangold Hospital in Lockney, where police were notified of the assault. The victim was unable to provide an accurate description of the suspect at the time because it was dark in her room during the assault.

If convicted Castillo is also eligible for probation since it would be his first offense.

SLOW SWING ON SERVE

The serve uses muscles in your back, shoulders, arms and legs. Therefore, it's important to start your service motion slowly when practicing your serve before a match. Hit a few by swinging slowly, concentrating on keeping your motion smooth while loosening your shoulder muscles.

As your arm and shoulder warm up, try using more of your body when swinging on the serve. Excessive-spin serves are harder on your body than flat power serves, so hit spin serves after you've completely warmed up.
