

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

That the Communists are expending every effort to assure the downfall of the Free World and establish a complete dictatorship over the entire earth is a fact we all know. We are aware of this threat and are contributing to Freedom's effort every day in the performance of our duties.

Although we recognize the danger, it is not necessarily true that each of us is as well informed about Communism, its history, methods of operation and specific aims as we should be. It is important, however, that we know as much as possible about the enemy which has dedicated itself to our destruction as a free nation.

Our base library has many good, authoritative publications concerning Communism. The majority of these books and periodicals are well written, easily understood and interesting. Their pages offer a wealth of knowledge.

I urge each of you to visit the library and read these publications whenever possible.

How Free Are We?

The 16-year-old driver is ordered to the side of the road by a motorcycle policeman who has clocked him at 50 miles an hour within the city limits. The youngster is unimpressed. "Ain't this a free country?" he asks belligerently. "Well, all I was doing was enjoying my freedom. I like to drive fast!" The policeman points out that the driver is mistaken in his conclusion and writes out a traffic ticket for him.

The editor of a weekly newspaper writes an article about the laxity of the city government and calls upon his fellow citizens to throw the rascals out in the next election. The mayor and his council are angry about the matter but the editor doesn't go to jail. "This is a free country," he correctly states. "I exercise my freedom by criticizing the city administration."

Two simple examples. In the first, the young driver was exceeding his freedom and placing himself and his fellow citizens in danger of death with his speeding car. The government properly places limits on our freedoms. Otherwise, "freedom" would become "license", which is an abuse of liberty.

The editor, however, was well within the limits of his freedom to use the press. This right was written into the Constitution in most explicit terms. As long as the good of individuals or of the state are not harmed by his printed messages, he may exercise his guaranteed rights.

The Founding Fathers of the United States had a passionate regard for freedom. They pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to establish it in our nation. They sought no licenses — nor allowed none — for one's freedom is always limited when the dignity and well-being of other men are at stake.

Third Cycle 20-10 Criteria Set; Background Explained

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—The basic criteria for the third cycle of the Fiscal Year 63 "Project 20-10" to screen reserve officers for retention past 20 years service now reach dates back to about Jan. 1, 1943.

Reserve officers eligible for this cycle will not have been previously screened. They will have a Total Active Federal Military Service Date (TAFMSD) of June 30, 1943 or earlier and a Total Active Federal Commissioned Service Date (TAFCSD) of June 30, 1953 or before. Both dates are inclusive.

In announcing the criteria, USAF repeated some of the basic philosophy and working procedures behind the 20-10 program.

Officials underscored a number of points. They said the program is necessary because of the "hump" — the large number of officers who entered service during WW II. In a matter of years, all of these officers would face mandatory retirement, and the Air Force cannot replace these experienced officers all at once. Project 20-10 is designed to spread these losses over a greater time period to lessen the impact.

Those under survey have many options. They can retire voluntarily and specify their month. It should be noted that all under Project 20-10 are eligible to retire at 20 or more years service, 10 of which have been commissioned, at the highest rank held.

Again, those under survey can stand their chances at being selected for further duty or having a retirement date set for them by USAF.

THE AIRMAN'S MEDAL — The newly adopted Airman's Medal can be awarded to any person serving in the Air Force who distinguishes himself by heroism involving risk of life. The deed must involve voluntary risk under conditions other than conflict with an armed enemy. The medal is a bronze circular device on which the figure of Mercury is crouched releasing a falcon. The legend "Airman's Medal" is inscribed on the perimeter. The ribbon is a light Brittany blue with 13 alternating stripes of ultra-marine blue, gold and yellow.

Chaplain Counsels Be True To Self, God To Win Peace

By Chaplain J. D. Taylor

"I have been reflecting," said an oldtimer, "upon the case of the average man, as his neighbors see him.

"If he is poor, he is a bad manager. If he is prosperous, everyone wants to do him a favor."

"If he is in politics, it's for gain. If he is not in politics, one can't place him, and he's no good for his country."

"If he gives not to charity, then he's a stingy dog. If he does give, it's for show."

"If he is active in religion, he is a hypocrite. If he shows no interest in matters spiritual, he is a hardened sinner."

"If he shows affection, he is a soft sentimentalist. If he seems to care for no one, he is cold-blooded."

"If he dies young, there was a great future ahead of him. If he attains old age, he has missed his calling."

"If we apply this to the military, we would say that if a man gets a quick promotion, he knows someone. If he is slow on the promotion list, he is not doing a good job."

My advice is to be what you are no matter what others may think. Be true to self and God.

Student Cagemen Remain Unbeaten

ACTION! Action and more action, with generally plenty of scoring, have marked play-off action of the Reese Intramural Basketball League this week. The champion will be selected tonight. On the left, Jerry Daley, 4, of the 3500th PTS, blocks a pass intended for Dick Cook, right, of the ABG in closing moments of a Monday night encounter. ABG won, 38-31. Others in the picture are Pete

Gray, John Koch, Enex Johnson and Joe Cushing. In the picture on the right, Jim Ulm, 23, of the Students, steals a rebound from Manual K. Colbert, 18, of M&S, in a game won by the Students, 69-38. Other competitors are Walt Kosinski, 14, M&S; Gerald Myer, 21, Students; and Pete McGue, Students.

Another effort to halt the unbeaten 3501st Student Squadron basketball team will be made tonight as the students meet Air Base Group in the finals of the Intramural League play-offs.

The winner will represent Reese next weekend in the Squadron level district tourney of Air Training Command at Sheppard AFB.

The Students, sporting cage stars of many colleges and universities, breezed through the regular intramural season without a loss and continued the pace in the play-offs. Fans don't expect them to be stopped on the base, but the ABG five plans another "old college try" in the championship encounter scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the base gymnasium.

ABG tried to halt the "unstoppables" Wednesday night but ended up on the short end of a 57-45 score. Big Jim Ulm sank 17 points for the Students and John T. Koch racked 15 for the losers.

Should ABG win tonight another contest between the teams will be held to determine the base representative.

The play-offs rolled along last Friday night with M&S and the 3500th PTS as the night's winners.

M&S defeated the Civil Engineers, 41-34, as A2C Gerald Gould dropped in 16 points for the winners, 14 from the floor and 2 from the free-throw line.

The 3500th downed MATS, 44-37, as Capt. Charles Penola hit five field goals and a gift shot for the winners and A3C Harold Koon bucketed 13 points for MATS.

The ABG Team 1 marked up a 38-33 win over the '00th Monday night as 1st Lt. Jack Doane and 2nd Lt. John Koch each hit 11 points, five buckets and a free throw matching paces. Captain Penola and 1st Lt. Joe Roberts each hit three field goals and a free throw for the losers.

Later Monday, the Students rolled over M&S to the tune of 69 to 83, with 2nd Lt. Jim Ulm burning the net for 18 points, 13 in the first half. The Students had a half-time lead of 39-18 and used regulars only briefly before turning the encounter over to their reserves.

President, Secretary Laud Reserve, Guard Patriotism

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — President John F. Kennedy and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert have underscored again the patriotic contributions Reservists and National Guardsmen have given the country.

In his State of the Union message to the Congress Jan. 11, Mr. Kennedy summarized the historical backdrop of the call-up and Reserve force achievements, and gave some indication of the future.

"Because we needed to reach the higher long-term level of readiness more quickly, 155,000 members of the Reserves and the National Guard were activated under the act of this Congress," the President said.

"Some disruptions and distress were inevitable. But the overwhelming majority bore their burdens — and the nation's burdens — with admirable and traditional devotion."

Turning to the future, the President said: "In the coming year our Reserve programs will be revised — two new Army divisions will replace those guard divisions on duty — and substantial other increases will boost our Air Force fighter units, the procurement of equipment and our continental defense and warning efforts."

In a speech only a day before at Madison, Wis., Sec. Zuckert proudly cited the achievements in the call-up of about 27,000 members of the Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard as making "history many ways."

He said the recent deployment of air units to Europe "was the largest single overseas deployment of jet fighters in history, involving more than 200 combat jets."

"It marked the first time that RF-84F aircraft from the Air National Guard had flown the Atlantic, it set a record in time from recall to deployment. Three F-104 squadrons ordered to active duty on Nov. 1 began the move to Europe on Nov. 10, and the first of these outfits to become operational in place, stood 24-hour alert at Moron AB, Spain on Nov. 24.

"We are very proud of the speed, efficiency and professionalism with which both our Reserve forces and active duty forces have met the current challenge.

Citing Reserve forces now on active duty, Zuckert said: "While talking about our deterrent force, we also should not lose sight of the importance of the Air Reserve forces not now on active duty.

"These civilian airmen form a far more powerful deterrent than most Americans realize."

Toastmistresses Seeking Members

Additional members were sought this week by the Reese Toastmistress Club. Interested women were urged to attend the next meeting, at 8 p.m. Monday in the Officers Club. The Toastmistresses meet the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

The club received its International Charter on Nov. 29, with Capt. Robert Opdycke, president of the Officers Toastmasters, making the presentation. Toastmistresses seek to assist members to think clearly and to express their thoughts with ease and confidence.

Reese members declare each meeting is enjoyable and informative, with effectively spoken opinion replacing idle chatter and satisfaction coming through achievement and self-improvement.

Officers of the Reese Toastmistresses are: Mrs. Elmer Nutting, president; Mrs. James Holly, vice president; Mrs. Joseph McElroy, secretary; Mrs. Joseph O'Connell, treasurer; and Mrs. Daniel Shiderly, club representative.

TAX CUT

(AFNS) — Air Force military personnel who are residents of New York State will receive a tax exemption of $100 a month, according to an announcement made by the state department of Taxation and Finance. Both officers and airmen will benefit from the law which was enacted in November, to the extent of the first $100 of pay received.

The widows remained to live with the Aucas and have devoted their lives to educating the Indians. The book tells of their lives.

The Feb. 12 Protestant Women's salad luncheon will be at 1:30 p.m. in the Chapel Annex with Mmes. James D. Taylor and Elwin G. Kirby as hostesses. Mrs. Ernest Watley of Lubbock will be guest speaker, visually constructing a Hebrew tabernacle and explaining its parts.

School Offers New Courses In Languages

Need for Reese people to enroll in classes in a foreign language was stressed this week as opening of the spring semester for colleges neared.

"All military personnel should know one or more foreign languages because of the possibility of transfer overseas," said J. F. Reeves, base education officer.

"The Air Force is very anxious that foreign language knowledge be obtained as quickly as possible, especially by officers."

South Plains College at Levelland is offering night courses for Reese people, starting next week.

"The college has very fine instructors and one of the best equipped foreign language laboratories in the state," said Reeves. "Military and civilian personnel have the opportunity to enroll in Spanish, French or German."

The classes will meet one night a week, beginning Jan. 24. Reese people may enroll at the college or in the base education office. The Air Force will pay a majority of the cost if registration is through the education office.

Reese Speakers Tell Air Force Story To Clubs

Reese officers will make three important speeches on the South Plains early next week.

Colonel L. C. Hess, base commander, will discuss the importance of man to the Air Force during the principal talk at a Monday noon meeting of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce in Brownfield.

Wednesday morning Lt. Col. Dwain A. Rockie, Air Force Group executive officer, will be speaker at commissioning of ten AFROTC cadets at Texas Tech in Lubbock. The exercises, scheduled for 10 a.m., will be attended by relatives and friends of the graduates.

Coming of the T-38 Talon supersonic jet trainer to Air Training Command and Reese, will be discussed by Capt. Floyd Longwell at a meeting of the South Plains Shriners at noon Monday in the Chicken Shack, Lubbock.

Thursday night of this week, Capt. Robert Opdycke told the Rush School PTA of advances in the Air Force program and of the service's readiness to go into action at any time.

Another Reese speaker, TSgt. Robert A. King, on Jan. 11 spoke to students of Alderson Junior High School, Lubbock, discussing need for education in the armed forces.

Additional Students Needed For On-Base Night Classes

More students are needed for on-base night education classes, J. F. Reeves, education officer, said Thursday.

Enrollments in elementary typing are so numerous a third class is being added, but six more students are needed. The class will meet from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting Feb. 6.

Classes in English composition and algebra are being organized, but unless more enrollments are obtained cannot be offered Reeves said. He pointed out that the composition course would

FROM THE BOOK—Members of the Officers Wives Club will serve a special menu to the troops at Mathis Service Club today, starting at 5 p.m. Dishes listed in "Chef Propelled," OWC international recipe cookbook, will be served free to all. Persons wishing to attend are asked to call the service club. Here, Mrs. Alex Goodkin, sales and advertising chairman of the club calls attention of A2C Jim Sichterman to recipes. He's an alternate advisory council member. The cookbook is on sale at several places on the base.

Base Credit Union Declares Five Per Cent Dividend Again

A five per cent dividend is being paid by the Reese Federal Credit Union for the fifth consecutive year, members were informed Tuesday night at the annual meeting. The dividend was declared by the board of directors and is paid on a semi-annual basis.

Union membership elected Capt. A. G. Abernathy of the Hospital and Maj. Ben S. Gibson of Pilot Training Group to the board for new three-year terms and Maj. Harold G. Barber of Air Base Group to a two-year term. Holdover board members are Tom Ireland, Ruth Allen, Jack House and Elric Bordelon. The board named Capt. Abernathy president, Borledon vice president and Ireland Treasurer.

Named to three-year terms on the credit committee were Jack Browder and SMSgt. Lawrence Caldwell. Holdover members are Sinia Harris, SMSgt. Basil Smith, TSgt. Stanley Southerland and Dessie Berry.

House, outgoing president, advised membership at the annual meeting that as of Dec. 31, 1961, the Reese organization had 1,888 members and $492,324 in assets. He said during 1961 the union had made 1,422 loans for $744,154, had charged off $1,097 in bad loans and had operated the latter six months at 43 per cent of gross income. Substantial increases, he said, had been made in membership, individual investments and total amounts loaned.

House noted that federal examiners had found the credit union in sound financial condition and that the nearly three-quarters of a million dollars loaned had enabled members to meet financial needs at low cost and without "turning to loan sharks."

"Base people were able to forestall many disciplinary and morale problems by doing business with the credit union," House commented.

HIGHEST IN CLASS

SSgt. John R. Bowdon, NCOIC of the Air Force Communications Command detachment at Reese, received the highest grades in a class of 11 in a course on unit supply given at the Amarillo Technical Training Center. He attended classes for six weeks.

provide excellent review before starting freshman English work in a college and would assist students in other ways. Reeves also cited that algebra is needed for electronics courses and as a prerequisite to college mathematics.

"The Air Force is cooperating in permitting people at Reese to further their education through night school," Reeves commented. "If classes are to be offered this spring there can be no delay in registering."

Information on classes may be obtained by calling Extension 437.

Plans Formed For Re-Paving Of 4th Street

Fourth Street between the base and city of Lubbock may be improved and renovated this year, if plans under discussion become effective.

Alton Brazell, Lubbock county commissioner, and Oscar Crane, district highway engineer, have stated they are asking the state highway department to improve the road and "all will be done that can be done" on the project this year.

Application for funds followed a luncheon meeting at the Officers Club, attended by Mayor David C. Casey of Lubbock, Crane, Brazell, Col. Roscoe Woodruff of Reese and others. Discussions were devoted to the road improvement program.

Brazell noted that the road, 2255, needs to be widened and resurfaced and work needs to be done on eliminating dangers at the intersection of 2255 and Farm-to-Market road 1073. He noted increased traffic on the pavement since 1958, when it was installed.

Colonel Woodruff cited several accidents on 4th Street between the base and city.

Crane pointed out that the state highway department had considered road improvements on the stretch for many months and might take action during 1962.

Mayor Casey said all positive action on the road improvement plans will come because of close cooperation between city, base, county and state representatives.

ATC Holiday Deaths Drop 66 Per Cent

Despite a higher-than-expected holiday death count nationally, Air Training Command's "Operation Homesafe" recorded its most successful year.

The Homesafe period — 5 p.m. Dec. 23, 1961, to 8 a.m. Jan. 2, 1962 — resulted in a record low of one private vehicle fatality. The program was initiated in 1953.

Of the approximately 79,000 private vehicles driven during the holidays by ATC military personnel, one fatal accident was reported. The single death represented a 66 per cent decrease from the three deaths recorded the previous year at the command's 20 bases.

There was a 36 per cent drop in private vehicle non-fatal accidents with seven mishaps as opposed to eleven the previous year.

Commenting on the command's achievement, Lt. Gen. James E. Eriggs, commander of ATC, said:

"We have not only held the gains made in previous years, but we have improved and must continue this improvement as long as avoidable accidents continue to occur. Accident-free driving is the responsibility of every individual in the command every day of the year."
