Airmen With 160 Years Service Reenlist

Vote Of Base 73 Per Cent Of Eligibles

A final vote count this week at Reese showed that 73 per cent of eligible voters participated in the presidential elections of Nov. 8, reported 1st Lt. John Sirmans, voting officer.

Each of the 14 eligible voters in the 8th Weather Detachment cast votes for the only 100 per cent organization on the base.

Percentages for other units were: Pilot Training Group headquarters 96, M&S Group 95, Hospital 88, Transportation Squadron 82, 3501st PTS 80, 3502 Flight Line Maintenance Squadron 78, Mobile Training Detachment 77, and Civil Engineering Group 77.

Of 1,246 eligible voters on the base, 906 cast ballots. There were 843 absentee voters and the remainder voted in local areas. Voting dependents totaled 82.

Lt. Sirmans said he thought the percentage was good and he hoped would compare favorably with the national military record. Project officers worked in each unit to increase the totals.

Boards Pick Higher NCO's

A Reese selection board met this week to select a technical sergeant to be promoted to master sergeant and two staff sergeants to be elevated to technical sergeant on Dec. 1. The three promotions make up the quota allotted the base.

Another board also considered several NCO's in frozen fields and nominated three staff sergeants and three tech sergeants for promotion as best qualified in Air Training Command. ATC officials will select a few men for elevation in the frozen fields and will notify Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, of any Reese people to be promoted on Dec. 1 in this area.

Reese personnel officials said the December quota was considered good when compared with previous quotas for upper grade NCO's.

Contracts Signed To Remodel Buildings Used For Training

Contracts for rehabilitation of four Reese Air Force buildings to support the consolidated pilot training program have been awarded, Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, has announced. The four contracts total $186,372. Buildings to be rehabilitated are occupied by base operations, the two pilot training squadrons and the Pilot Training and Air Base Group headquarters.

H. C. Lewis, Lubbock, was the low bidder for repairing, modifying, sound-proofing and air-conditioning of Building T-62, base operations. New heating also will be installed. Bids were solicited from 25 contractors and 10 submitted bids.

The Medlock Co., Inc., Lubbock, was low bidder and was awarded the contract for repairing, modifying, sound-proofing and air-conditioning Building T-75, the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron operations building. Seven of the 27 firms solicited submitted bids.

Knox & Gailey, Lubbock, submitted the low bid for air-conditioning and sound-proofing of academic classrooms in Building T-815. Thirty bids were solicited and eight were received. The building, now occupied by the Pilot Training and Air Base Groups headquarters, will be used exclusively for academics under the new consolidated training program effective at Reese in the spring. The group headquarters will move to other buildings now being prepared for them.

Knox & Gailey also submitted the low bid for renovating and air-conditioning Building T-91, the 3501st PTS operations building. Eight of 27 contractors notified of the letting submitted bids.

All work will start soon.

Enrollment In ECI Halts

Enrollment in all Extension Course Institute courses was halted this week because the ECI staff cannot handle the workload created by unprecedented registrations.

A message to Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, said:

"Extension Course Institute enrollments are increasing at such an unprecedented rate that the workload is now beyond the capability of currently authorized resources. The USAF austerity precludes additional manpower authorizations.

"To reduce the workload to a level commensurate with available resources, it is necessary to suspend enrollments in all ECI courses. Therefore, request no applications for enrollment be dispatched to ECI subsequent to receipt of this message.

"However, personnel currently enrolled will be permitted to complete the course in which enrolled. Enrollments will be reopened by course as rapidly as possible."

J. F. Reeves, base education officer, said that his office will continue to receive enrollments but none will be forwarded until the proper course is reopened.

First-Termers Extend Time For Part In 55/45 Program

Further Air Force production from airmen with more than 160 years of service has been made possible through reenlistments at Reese already this month.

Fifteen of 18 eligible airmen, or 82.7 per cent, re-enlisted during November and TSgt. James I. Brown, reenlistment counselor, reported several other eligibles will reup within a few days.

In addition, ten first-term airmen extended their enlistments for nine months in the 55/45 program with the intention of reenlisting within the extension period, and three career airmen extended enlistments in order to go overseas.

Reenlisting this month were: MSgt. Rudolph Lester, Jr., Hospital, 18 years service; TSgt. George A. Edwards, Mobile Training Detachment, 13 years, 9 months; SSgt. Robert K. Perrine, 3502nd Field Maintenance Squadron, 12 years; A1C James McArdle, Civil Engineering, 4 years; MSgt. William S. Thompson, Transportation, 16 years;

A2C Muriel W. Hoppe, 3502nd, 3 years, 9 months; A2C Coy C. Kenzie, Jr., Transportation, 3 years, 3 months; A1C Russell G. Beahan, 3505th, 3 years, 5 months; A2C Victor R. McMullen, 3505th, 2 years, 11 months; A2C William A. Cayton, Civil Engineering, 7 years; SMSgt. Neven Mote, Jr.,

M&S Group, 19 years, 7 months; TSgt. Raymond L. Brady, 3505th, 19 years; SSgt. Floyd E. McCraw, 3505th, 10 years; SSgt. Louis Berk, Air Base Group, 15 years, 6 months; and TSgt. Howard E. Vehlewald, MTD, 12 years, 7 months.

Thanksgiving Services Set For Holiday

Special Thanksgiving religious services and special holiday menus are scheduled for Reese next Thursday as the nation joins in giving thanks for its blessings.

The Catholic Mass will be held at 9 a. m. in the chapel, with the Protestant Service of Thanksgiving at 10 a. m.

"Before sitting down to your annual Thanksgiving dinner, why not take an hour out of your hectic day to come to the Chapel and thank God for your many blessings?" suggested Chaplain James D. Taylor. "This day will mean a great deal more to you if you can spare this hour."

Thanksgiving dinner will be served in the Wing and Cadet dining halls from noon until 3 p. m. on Thanksgiving, with roast tom turkey and sliced baked ham featured.

The menu also will include shrimp cocktail, assorted relishes, giblet gravy, sage dressing, glazed sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, buttered broccoli, cloverleaf rolls, cranberry sauce, pumpkin and mince pie, fruit cake, assorted fruits, assorted candies, mixed nuts, dates, ice cream, and beverage.

Families are being urged to eat at the wing dining hall and special prices will be in effect at both dining halls. Each officer, airman and civilian entitled to eat in the field ration dining halls may have immediate members of his family as guests and not to exceed two friends.

Supper will be served in the wing dining hall.

Food Calorie Cards Posted

Calorie charts went up Tuesday in Reese's three dining halls in efforts to keep all military persons at proper weight.

The average calories needed by the desk worker on the base is 3,200 calories daily, with larger amounts for men performing manual labor.

Cards have been placed in front of each item of food in the wing, cadet and officer dining halls showing the calorie count of each serving. It is expected that each diner will watch his count and stay within the proper limits, it was stated. Noon and night meals might amount to 1,200 calories each, with lesser amounts for breakfast.

The count before each item shows the average serving. The cards were prepared at Reese as a local move to carry out the Air Force objective of restraining needed personnel from becoming overweight. The cards also will assist persons on diets to eat proper foods with a balanced calorie count.

GRADUATES—Four graduates of the latest instructors' OJT course in Air Base Group were from the motor pool. Here they look over certificates with supervisors. TSgt. Victor Patton, second left, shop supervisor, and 1st Lt. Carl Larson, automotive maintenance officer. Far left is Johnnie J. Mangus, civilian auto mechanic. Next to the lieutenant is A1C Richard Standriff, mechanic; then A1C Miquel Guana, production controller; and Harold C. Ingraham, civilian inspector. (Photo by Sorge)

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

The favorable results achieved during past "Operation Homesafe" campaigns clearly indicates our ability to eliminate holiday traffic accidents.

We began our 1960 "Operation Homesafe" Campaign last week and came through the Veterans Day long week-end without an accident or injury. This is a splendid start for our 1960 campaign.

We can maintain this fine beginning through each successive holiday period.

As we approach the second hurdle — the Thanksgiving Day holiday period — I take this opportunity to not only wish you a happy Thanksgiving, but a safe and accident-free one.

Defense Objective Detailed

A six-point outline of mutual objectives for strengthening national security is set forth in a joint statement issued by the Air Force Association, the Association of the Army, and the Navy League.

This represents the first combined action of the three national service organizations to present a united front on national objectives, although elements of them have been advocated by all three associations individually in the past.

The statement established the following commonly held objectives:

- "1. While recognizing that the total threat of aggressive communism covers a wide spectrum, we believe that the military threat continues to be the basic consideration.
- "2. To insure Free World security, the military forces of the Free World must be capable of deterring, repelling or defeating attack from any nation or combination of nations.
- "3. An adequate military posture must be measured against the threat it is designed to meet and not against an arbitrary fiscal ceiling. The American people under the free enterprise system can support whatever level of patriotic effort and expenditures is needed to defend their freedom.
- "4. National complacency concerning the communist threat and our ability to counter it is an internal enemy that deserves the full attention of all areas of our leadership.
- "5. The status of the professional military man deserves continuing review to assure that basic requirements of life, such as pay, and housing, are maintained at levels commensurate with his unusual responsibilities and sacrifices.
- "6. The ability of our population to survive surprise attack through protective measures must be provided for as a necessary element of our National deterrent posture."

The Bench and Gavel

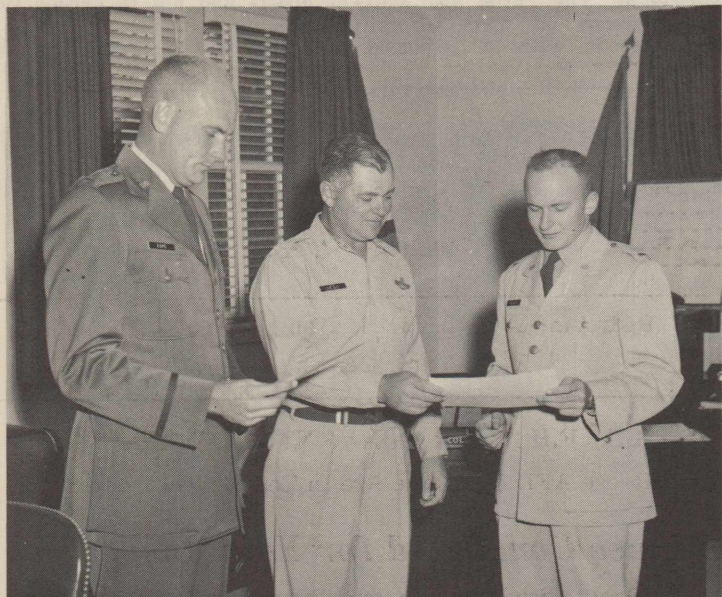

(Written by Staff Judge Advocate's Office)

Armed Services personnel separated by a dishonorable, bad conduct or undesirable discharge will find that their entitlement to many Federal benefits has been seriously curtailed and in many instances lost. Information concerning these benefits may be obtained by visiting the Judge Advocate's office.

Probably a more detrimental effect of a discharge under other than honorable conditions is the effect on the individual's future in civilian life. No more graphic illustration of the ultimate effect of dishonorable, bad conduct and undesirable discharges could be given than the following actual quoted extracts from letters of former servicemen:

"I would like to have my BCD discharge changed for the following reasons:

1. "I have not been able to get a job to support my family of five."
2. "I am a social outcast."
3. "I would like to re-enter the service as I have realized my mistake and I know it will be a mark against me for the rest of my life."
4. "I was discharged on _____, and upon returning home I went to the Veterans Administration and was told by them that I get no veterans benefits and cannot even go to school under the GI Bill of Rights. I then tried to get a job under my occupation as an electrician which I did in the service and after telling a few employers my kind of discharge, I am turned down and unless I do get a remit on my BCD, my life is destroyed practically. What can I do? I do want to make an honest living, have a family and settle down, but I'm not wanted. What choice do I have?"
5. "At the time of my discharge I had planned to go to school. After trying school out I find I am not capable to go to college. Therefore, I must go to work. Most of the plants are defense plants and I cannot be accepted with my present discharge."

Man-Made Laws Incidental When Opposing Spiritual

By Chaplain George J. Worner

This world and what we know of the Universe is governed by laws. There are those natural laws that govern health, that govern the movement of objects and the orderly composition of things that belong together. There are laws composed and compiled by man to govern personal behavior in society. Both of these types of laws we are familiar with. They, however, are incidental to the spiritual laws that place a man in harmony with himself and with his Maker.

Men seem to search the world over for the way to happiness, contentment, peace of mind and at the same time ignore what they have heard from childhood to be the answer to their quest.

In the Bible we have the statement, "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" So simple and yet so neglected.

Jesus said, in essence, "two things above all others are to be done by man in order to please God and they are: love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, and soul, and they neighbor as thyself."

Why then do men invite unhappiness by harboring ill-will, hate, grudges, and envy? Why then do men ignore the Lord who is the Source of wisdom, peace, strength and hope?

He who angers you conquers you. Daily set yourself to live above the petty reaching out for God's help when it is difficult — and live conscious of His goodness and with readiness to offer love and a helping hand to all you meet.

Beatnik Theme Features Wives Party

Reese people planning to use commercial air carriers for their Christmas holiday leave were urged this week to make reservations early. Fred Butts, Central Airlines station manager, said last year many persons were stranded along the way because they lacked confirmed reservations.

A beatnik party is planned by the NCO Wives Club next Tuesday night in the NCO Club, with pizza and refreshments provided free. The Tornados will play dance music.

Newcomers are especially invited and free nursery service is available. Reservations for the party and nursery should be made with Mrs. Billy Hall, HU 8-2641

The Service Club will open at its regular hours from 1 to 11 p.m. that day.

AACS Observes 22nd Anniversary

Members of Detachment 2010-2 of the AACS at Reese on Tuesday joined other AACS units in observing the 22nd anniversary of the organization with "business as usual."

AACS came into existence on Nov. 15, 1938, as the Army Airways Communications System. The command now includes nearly 38,000 people serving in every part of the Free World from which the Air Force operates.

AACS is responsible for the USAF communications complex (Aircom), the long haul system that furnished point-to-point and air-ground communications support of air operations, weapons systems and related activities. It handles about 5 million words annually in air messages.

Another major job AACS handles is to provide air traffic services in support of nearly two million Air Force Flights annually.

HELPFUL ITEMS—Three volunteers at the Reese Family Service Center check items available for loan to incoming families temporarily without their own household articles. Hundreds of items may be borrowed by newcomers. Here Mrs. Kathy Freeman, left, starts to move a roaster to the ironing board for inventory, as Mrs. Andre Deshaies calls out an item number for Mrs. Donald Dederick to check off on the "items available" list.

Service Center Serves All Families During Emergency

Newcomers to Reese are almost unanimous in praise of assistance received from the base Family Service Center operated by volunteer wives of persons assigned here.

The center has received praise from visitors from other bases and from higher headquarters, who rate it as one of the best in the Air Force. The Center provides several types of aid to incoming and outgoing families, especially in getting settled and in learning of new stations to which they are assigned. Assistance in securing proper housing and in having adequate household equipment on arrival has received especial praise.

Among volunteers who have added to the Family Service Center record are Mmes. Donald Dederick, Andre Deshaies, Patrick Durning, John Erdmann, and William Freeman.

Mrs. Dederick, who came here from Bryan AFB, has worked six months in the Center and declares, "The chance to help other members of the Air Force has brought much pleasure and satisfaction."

Mrs. Deshaies began working immediately after taking the orientation course in August, 1959. She previously was at McChord AFB.

"I feel this work with the center is very worthwhile and I enjoy every hour of it," she comments.

Mrs. Durning, assistant office chairman, is serving her first term as a volunteer. She came from Bryan AFB and is "happy of the opportunity to meet and help the many new families coming here."

Mrs. Erdmann was one of the first volunteers to work in the center. She began work when the center opened three years ago. She came from Furstenfeldburg, Germany, and "wouldn't pass up the chance to serve in the center for anything."

Mrs. Freeman came here from Webb AFB and is assistant housing chairman. She's been a volunteer since last July.

"Being a volunteer is most satisfying," she says.

Mrs. Robert Rankin and children are visiting with her family in Florida.

Woman's Chatter

By MRS. PATRICK DURNING
With a forward look into the coming holiday season, we find several noteworthy events.

On Dec. 1 the Officers' Wives Club will hold its monthly luncheon at the Officers' Club, sponsored in a Christmas mood by wives of the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron.

Nov. 25 will see the 3500th PTS cocktail party from 7 to 9 p. m. in the Club.

The OWC cocktail party will be in the Officers' Club on Dec. 10 and all members are urged to get baby-sitters early and plan to wear their prettiest dresses.

The past week also has been bustling with activities.

Mrs. Thomas Manjak has been visiting her mother in Alamogordo, N. Mex., the past week.

Mrs. William Roth recently was surprised with a baby shower at the Officers' Club. Hostesses were Mmes. J. N. Dick and Alexander Milligan.

First Lt. and Mrs. Patrick Durning and son have returned from San Antonio where they visited old friends from Bryan AFB.

Mmes. Travis Dabbs and Stephen Hutzaluk will entertain the M&S Wives luncheon at 1 p. m. today. Bridge and canasta will follow the luncheon.

The 3500th PTS wives held their luncheon at the Golf Clubhouse with wives of Flight 9 as hostesses.

Col. and Mrs. William A. Martin have gone to Roanoke, Va., to visit with their families on Thanksgiving.

The Teen Club formal Christmas dance is planned for Dec. 14 in the Mathis Service Club with "The Tornados" providing music.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles Secrest leave Sunday for the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Houston.

Mrs. Franklin Varley will accompany her husband to Craig AFB, where he will attend Primary Instructor School. Before returning after Jan. 1, the Varleys will visit their parents in Salt Lake City.

Mmes. Adrian McDonald and Jerome Goebel were hostesses at a coffee last Friday at the McDonald home at which Flight 8 wives entertained their "sister" flight, Flight 3.

Wrestling Class Starts On Base

For young men between the ages of 13 and 18, opportunity to become wrestlers will be given at Reese.

Beginning Saturday, Nov. 26, a wrestling clinic will be held at the Base Gym continuing for eight Saturdays. Classes will be from 1:30 until 3 p. m.

Cadet Jim Hostetter, former Kansas University wrestler, will instruct, with Capt. Robert Carlin, an Olympic wrestler, supervising instructions.

"Wrestling is probably the finest of our development sports and most young men can acquire a high degree of physical fitness by participating properly," said Leonard Maranto, director of youth activities.

The objective of the wrestling is to teach the basic fundamental wrestling technique, to develop skills for self defense, and to develop physical fitness, strength, and self confidence.

Competitive wrestling during class meetings will be controlled and closely supervised at all times.

Bowling Results

Intramural League
Winter Intramural Bowling last week saw the 3505th squad hit a new high score of 2,650 in high team series. Air Base Group had held the high with 2,647 since the last week of October.

The '05th, earlier in play last week carded 913 for high game—and a member of the team, TSgt. William R. Leonard topped 607 pins for individual high series.

The high individual game went to A2C William J. Gathings of Transportation with a solid 222. This is the 11th week in the Winter Bowling League, with play scheduled to end Jan. 20.

So far ABG leads with 30 wins, 10 losses. PTW and Students are deadlocked for second at 26-14.

The '05th, which highlighted league play for the past couple of weeks, is resting at 25 wins, 15 losses in the third slot.

Officers League
The M&S Cripples moved into first place in Officer Bowling League standings this week on a 24 won, 8 loss record. The PTG Spoilers held second spot, 21-11, and the Whiz Kids were third at 20-12.

The Bad Guys rolled the 2,445 high game Tuesday night, trailed by the Whiz Kids' 2,415. The Pin Busters had an 891 high game, ahead of the Whiz Kids' 856.

First Lt. Ronald Tingley topped 583 pins for the high series, with Chaplain James D. Taylor second at 548. The lieutenant had a 227 high game, the chaplain 223.

Choir Practicing

The Reese Protestant choir has begun practice for its annual entry in the Air Training Command Chapel Choir contest. The Reese unit has won numerous prizes in past years.

All choirs will submit taped recordings, one of which must be "With a Voice Singing," by Martin Shaw and the other of its own choice.

Sports Report

By A2C Roger Gillard

ABOUT 3,000 channel catfish ranging from three to four inches long have been shipped from the State Fish Hatchery at Wichita Falls and placed in Reese Lake. Other species of fish also are planned for the lake.

NEARLY ALL HUNTERS bagged ducks at Reese Lake over the long weekend. In order to hunt at the lake, blind reservations must be made 72 hours in advance at the Small Arms Branch, Ext. 223. Hunting regulations and lake policies are also available at the Small Arms Branch.

CONGRATULATIONS to TSgt. R. L. Walker of the 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance for receiving the Athlete-of-the-Month trophy for October.

Golf Notes

By KENNETH McGUIRE

After four weeks of Intramural Golf play the 3502nd takes the top spot with PTW second and ABG third.

The 3501st and '00th PTS squads tied, 3 to 3, in last week's play. The '02nd took Air Police by 5 to 1; Weather-AACS beat M&S, 4 to 2; Hospital scored 4-2 over ABG and PTW whitewashed Civil Engineers 6 to 0.

The Turkey Shoot Golf Tournament was a success with 40 players trying their skills at winning Thanksgiving Turkeys. Lt. Col. John Arnette made a clean sweep by taking three turkeys home. He racked a low gross of 75, a low net 66, and was the closest to the number 6-hole pin. Maj. Joe Setnor won second low gross with 78.

Second low net was captured by Capt. Donald Tarver with a 68. Col. L. C. Hess was third low net with his 69 and fourth place was a tie between Capt. Gus Quiroga and MSgt. George M. Pope at 70 each.

In the sudden-death playoff, Sgt. Pope won his turkey on the first hole with a 5 to Capt. Quiroga's 6. WO Bill Bartels won a turkey for a booby prize on the number 2 hole.

In Ladies Golf play Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Wanda Hess won low net with Mrs. Flo McGuire in second place.

For the men, Maj. Bruce McCall won first low net and Maj. John Garrett finished second. Low putt for the women was made by Mrs. Ruth Goodkin with Maj. McCall low for men.

A tournament for mixed couples is planned for next Sunday, so get your partner and come out and play.

'00th PTS News

By CAPT. WILLIAM ROTH

The 3500th Pilot Training Squadron has taken on an added international flavor with addition to Flight 6 of Flight Lt. Alexander Young of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Lt. Young is from Nova Scotia and has served the RCAF for 10 years. He is presently serving two years as an exchange officer in the USAF. Prior to his present assignment, he was stationed at Gimli AFB, Manitoba, as an instructor pilot.

Also joining the squadron for instructor duty is Capt. Palle R. Gylov whose previous tour was with MAAG in Copenhagen, Denmark. Capt. Gylov's MAAG tour was a delayed return to his native country which he had left at the age of 15.

The squadron also has student representation from Pakistan, Iran and Ecuador.

First Lt. Richard S. Gregory, formerly assigned to Greenville AFB, has come to Reese AFB as instructor pilot. He has been in service almost seven years and his home is in Houston.

Overseas Education Holding Quality

Children of American service personnel stationed overseas are not getting inferior educations, a Department of Defense official has declared, striking back at critics of the overseas dependents school program.

Edward A. Sompayrac, of the Defense Department's Office of Personnel Policy, answered complaints against the quality of the overseas school program published in a Washington newspaper by John Westbay, President of the Overseas Education Association.

Westbay is now an assistant principal and teacher in Europe. DOD standards for teachers are "high" Sompayrac said, pointing out that teachers must have at least a bachelor's degree with appropriate teaching requirements, two years of classroom experience, and be recommended by their immediate prior employer and at least one other person well acquainted with the applicant's work.

Teachers now in overseas classrooms have an average of 10 years teaching experience and all of them were employed following recommendation.

"Occasionally," he said, "a teacher is employed overseas without the required two years classroom background, but they come to us well recommended or they are not employed."

The DOD is in a favorable position to be selective in choosing teachers for overseas posts because of the general attractiveness of these jobs. For most jobs to be filled there are several well qualified applicants, said Sompayrac.

Answering a charge that teacher turnover is 50 per cent a year and as high as 90 per cent in others, Sompayrac said the actual figure is 35 per cent.

"This is to be expected," he said, "because of the changing overseas situation and also by the fact that many of the best teachers are recruited from U. S. schools on leaves of absence and they are engaged with the understanding they will be returned at the end of a year."

Countering charges in another area, Sompayrac said that classrooms, facilities, and texts are generally with the recognized, desirable standards. The overseas dependents schools have experienced the same growth problems as schools in the United States. Temporary facilities have had to be used. Undoubtedly there are some cases of overcrowding.

Because of the distribution problem some schools may be temporarily short of some texts or instructional supplies but when reported by school authorities this is corrected as quickly as possible.

Safety and other standards in school buildings are set by the local commanders and periodic inspections are made by local fire marshals.

How well the overseas teaching job is being done is demonstrated by the accomplishments of children who have returned to U. S. schools and the graduates of overseas schools who have entered U. S. colleges and the military academies.

Sompayrac said the accrediting team of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which just completed inspections of Army high schools in Europe have "informally reported most favorably."
