

Workers Accept Roosevelt's Proposal To Reopen Mines FLOODS HIT TEXAS, OKLAHOMA

Lewis Reveals Settlement In Labor Dispute

Some Will Reopen Tonight, Others Start Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — John L. Lewis announced today that the United Mine Workers had accepted President Roosevelt's proposal for reopening the strike-bound captive coal mines and added that the men would return to work as fast as arrangements could be made locally.

In some areas, Lewis said, the night shifts may return tonight. Other mines, he asserted, could be reopened tomorrow.

Gratified By Cooperation
Lewis made the announcement in the Mayflower hotel room of Myron C. Taylor, former board chairman of United States Steel corporation, which owns some of the captive mines. Taylor was standing beside the mine workers' president when it was made and said he was "very much gratified with the broad cooperative attitude which Mr. Lewis has displayed in a difficult situation in time of great national peril."

The principal issue in the dispute, which has threatened the supply of fuel for steel mills, is whether the captive mine operators shall accept the union's demand for a union shop, under which employees would be required to join the UMW after a period of probation.

Have Rendered Service
Lewis told reporters that the entire basis for the arrangement for reopening the mines had resulted from the six-hour conference which he held yesterday with Taylor.

In an oral statement to reporters Lewis said: "Once again Mr. Taylor and I have been able to render service at a time of great national interest in a manner that has secured the gracious approval of the president."

"It may be recalled that seven years ago in this hotel Mr. Taylor and I settled the captive mine controversy of 1934."

"In later years we substantially negotiated the contract covering the present relationship in the steel industry. At that time I stated that Mr. Taylor was an industrial statesman of far-reaching vision."

Uncle Sam Is Planning To Mop Up Extra Money In People's Pockets Social Security Tax Rate Likely To Skyrocket Next Year

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced today a program of steep increases in social security taxes would be ready for congressional consideration within the next two months.

He declined to give proposed new rates, but disclosed at a press conference that the size of the increases would be geared definitely to mop up the extra money in people's pockets for which there will not be goods to buy.

In some authoritative circles it has been reported Morgenthau favors increasing the employee's old-age pension tax from 1 per cent to 5 per cent of his pay check. Morgenthau, however, said he was "not satisfied yet with the plans and not ready to give out figures."

In the current fiscal year, the treasury expects a deficit of $2,583,000,000 on its budget of $24,581,000,000. One of the important sources of borrowing to meet this deficit is social security taxes.

Social security taxes go directly into the old-age reserve fund, but are immediately borrowed by the treasury in substantially the same way the treasury borrows from banks and other investors by the sale of securities. Some officials estimate that the treasury could borrow as much as $5,000,000,000 a year from social security if the taxes are raised. At present, social security taxes the treasury about $1,000,000,000 a year.

Morgenthau explained that social security taxes were being considered in conjunction with regular taxes and borrowing. He put it this way: "My first job is to finance the national defense program. We get as much as we can from regular taxes. Then we have to borrow the rest, and any move we can make that will help must be considered. The secretary also disclosed that his aides have prepared for him—but he declined to disclose it—an estimate of how much money the people will have to spend next year which the experts think ought to be immobilized either through taxes or borrowing in order to prevent use of this money to bid up prices and cause inflation. This figure, he said, may be the main guide in his finally choosing a new proposed social security tax rate.

Soviet Armies Baffle Grimly For Advances

(By The Associated Press) Russia's armies were credited in front-line dispatches today with throwing the Germans back across the Nara river, some 50 miles southwest of Moscow, while on the southern front, Soviet troops were declared to have won strategic heights guarding the route to Rostov-on-Don.

Tass, the official Russian news agency, said the Germans tried repeatedly to cross the Nara but were beaten back.

Storm Across River
Counter-attacking Soviet troops then stormed across the river, Tass said, and entrenched themselves on the south bank under heavy fire.

Slowed down in their land offensive against Moscow, the Germans sent more than 300 planes in a mass assault on the U. S. S. R. capital yesterday, the Soviet radio said.

"It was the biggest attack carried out so far but was exactly as unsuccessful as all previous raids," the radio declared, adding that 39 Nazi planes, a record, were shot down.

Aerial Attacks Heavy
Big-scale aerial attacks on Moscow have been under way for several days, it was reported.

Society Case Nearing Jury

(By The United Press) BERRYVILLE, Va., Oct. 30 — The case of blonde Marie Pierce, 26-year-old former Boston socialite charged with murdering Lewis T. Moreland, was expected to go to the jury today.

The defense rested late yesterday soon after Miss Pierce testified she shot her 35-year-old neighbor in self defense, and Judge Phillip Williams recessed court until this morning when he planned to charge the jury.

Had Abused Her
The young divorcee, former wife of a well-known horse-trainer, Ted Jones, testified in a steady voice that Moreland had come to her farm on several occasions and struck, choked and abused her.

On the night of the shooting—March 19—Moreland came to her home, she said. While they were talking in the living room, she heard a voice outside. Moreland went one way with a shotgun and she went the other with the pistol, she testified.

Winter Threatens To Engulf South Plains

Temperature Dropping Steadily In City; Rain And Possible Snow Likely Tonight

Steadily falling temperature, a chill rain and a forecast of "snow," occasionally mixed with "sleet" tonight combined this morning into a threat that real winter is about to descend upon the South Plains.

Meanwhile, crop pessimism returned with the moist weather to supplant the optimism that had resulted from several consecutive rainless days of partial sunshine.

No Estimate On Damage
Agricultural authorities would not attempt this morning to estimate the additional damage that the return of inclement weather has done to crops.

Temperature Falling
According to information obtained at the state agricultural experiment station east of the city at about 11:30 o'clock this morning, the temperature was falling at the rate of about one degree per hour.

The temperature was 41.5 degrees at 7 a. m. it was 46 degrees. The minimum represented a drop of 22.5 degrees from Wednesday's maximum of 64 degrees. The temperature was steady just above the 40-degree mark early this afternoon.

Overnight precipitation there measured .72 of an inch, of which .64 fell during the night. Total precipitation for 1941 was increased to 39.58 inches.

A 49-year-old negro, Curtis Wilson, got six months in jail for theft of a jacket and six months for "popping off" county court officials said this morning.

It happened this way: Judge G. V. Pardue sentenced "Wilson" and the negro "mouthed around" and said, "I've done 17 years in the pen for murder; I guess I can manage the six months."

Huge Airliner Is Trapped In Morning Fog

Ship Burns After Plunge; Pilot Is The Only Survivor

(By The Associated Press) MOORHEAD, Minn., Oct. 30 — Trapped in fog and mist, a Northwest Airlines plane crashed within two miles of its objective early today. Fourteen persons died in the impact and flames that immediately engulfed the wreckage.

Only survivor was Captain Clarence Bates, of Minneapolis, pilot, thrown clear as the big liner struck the earth a glancing blow, bounced 100 yards and then piled up.

Suffers From Shock
Captain Bates suffered only from shock but physicians would permit no one to talk to him.

The St. Paul dispatcher said he last heard from the plane, westbound from Chicago to Seattle, at 1:54 a. m. (CST). It then was over Fargo airport, descending at 2,700 feet.

Making a routine instrument approach in weather described on the surface as "thick" with a freezing temperature, the pilot next should have reported when he sighted land.

The dispatcher vainly tried to get in touch with the plane at 2 a. m.

Police Tell Of Crash
Ten minutes later, police telephoned that a plane had crashed. Scene was two miles from the Fargo airport, or about one mile north of the city limits of Moorhead which adjoins Fargo.

The two cities are separated by the Red river which is the state line between Minnesota and North Dakota.

The crackup occurred on a flat prairie. Captain Bates, dazed, was found wandering in a field by motorists attracted by the flames. There apparently were no witnesses to the catastrophe.

Trials Resumed
Croil Hunter, NWA general manager, left St. Paul with a plane and crew to resume the westward trip started by the ill-fated liner.

Rescue Squads Go Into Action Today At Wichita Falls As Homes Are Flooded; Highway And Rail Traffic Is Blocked

(By The Associated Press) WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30 — Flood rescue squads went into action here today for the third time this year as heavy rains sent streams out of their banks, flooding lowland homes and interrupting highway and rail traffic.

The Kelt field airway communications service reported six inches of rain fell in 20 hours. Rainfall in Wichita Falls was 4.38 inches for the same period.

Lake Wichita, which has been flowing over the spillway, rose 29 inches during the night and Holiday creek, into which the spillway empties, flooded at least 100 residences and was still rising.

The Wichita river was expected to go out of its banks during the day, flooding additional homes. High water was expected to near or equal the marks reached in an early October flood which drove 2,000 persons from their homes.

Highways Are Closed
Highways and rail lines were closed between Wichita Falls and Iowa Park toward Amarillo, and between Wichita Falls and Henrieville toward Fort Worth. A flooded creek held up traffic between Wichita Falls and Sheppard field, air mechanics training center, until 9 a. m.

To date, Wichita Falls has received 45.55 inches of rain as compared with the previous high annual record of 35.12 inches in 1925.

Snow Is Predicted
Rain and some snow was predicted by the weather bureau for West Texas, but Pampa reported no snow at mid-morning. The overnight low was 36 degrees, rain .31 inch and a continuing drizzle.

Nipponese Again Dreaming Of "Japanese Hemisphere" In Far East

Tokyo's 'Plan' Is An Old One

By MORGAN BEATTY
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Japan is eyeing the western horizons of her traditional hemisphere again. That's the explanation behind the Tokyo cabinet crisis.

The Japanese hemisphere is a dream of all Japanese statesmen—a dream more than 50 years old; a dream nearer to reality today than ever before in the history of the land of the rising sun.

That hemisphere is a great half-circle which centers at Tokyo, and with a radius that extends 2,200 miles westward to Lake Baikal; 2,000 miles southward to Canton; and 2,200 miles northward to include the bulk of Kamchatka peninsula.

Champing At Bits
The army and the navy have been champing at the bits—especially the army—since 1930, to break out of the Japanese island, and bring the Japanese hemisphere into reality.

The army first got its way in 1935 in the war against China. Helpless China gave up the Korean peninsula, and set the Japanese for the next step toward their coveted hemisphere. Ten years later they burst through the restraints of Japanese statesmen again and fought a war with Russia. Out of it Japan increased her hold on Korea, and grabbed the Kwantung peninsula. She got the southern half of Sakhalin island, too, with its valuable fisheries and oil.

The pressure of the great powers including the United States, prevented further expansion until the World war, when the Japanese took the Shantung peninsula from the Chinese—but were forced by the Allies to give it up.

Manchuria Was Step
The world wide depression was the next signal for Japanese expansion toward the hemisphere they wanted. In 1931, the Japanese invaded Manchuria, and in 1935 began subduing the northern section of China around Peiping.

In the midst of this operation—which carried the Japanese closer to the Lake Baikal extremity of the hemisphere than they had ever dared dream they'd get in this generation—the western nations again went to war against each other.

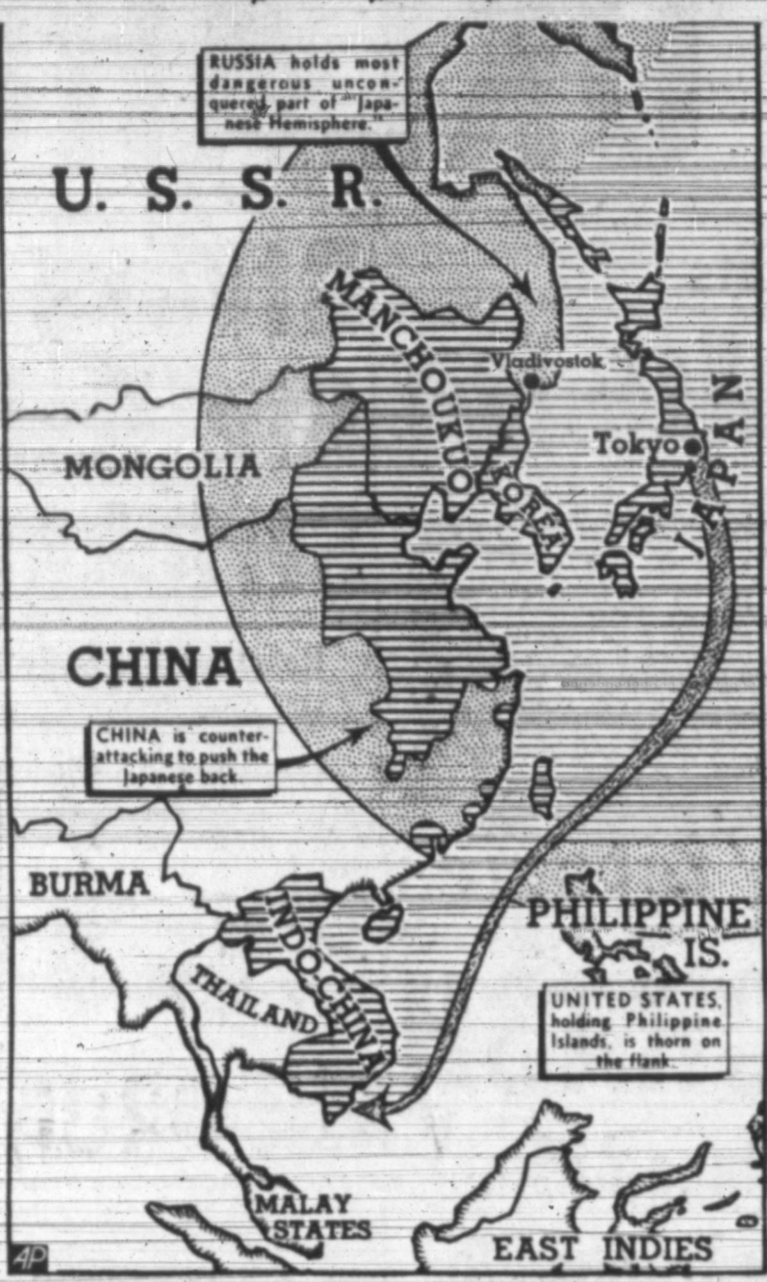

Follows Axis Steps
This time, Japan joined the Axis, and as soon as France fell began a march toward the southern limits of the hemisphere. Indo-China fell into Japanese hands.

Next came the Russo-German war. As long as the Russians held the Germans back, the Japanese swarmed, but as soon as the Reich's armies began to menace Moscow, the Japanese moderate statesmen began to lose their hold on the army and navy again. For the Japanese army saw the possibility of pushing toward a part of the hemisphere they most desired toward Vladivostok, which is a Russian point aimed at the heart of Japan.

And so, General Eiki Tojo became premier in mid-October. General Tojo has publicly stated Japan must be prepared to fight both Russia and China at the same time.

As matters stand, Japan is blocked in the south by the United States and Great Britain, on the southwest, she's blocked by the persistent Chinese. And on the north there's a Russian army, but much of it may have been moved to the Western front.

Perhaps Japan will continue to wait awhile yet, perhaps not.

New Law Forbids Frenchmen To Listen To Broadcasts By British Penalties Are To Be Severe

(By The Associated Press)
VICHY, Unoccupied France, Oct. 30—A new law today forbids Frenchmen to listen to British and certain other radio broadcasts, including what authoritative sources said were Free French stations operating in this country.

The law prescribed fines up to $200 and jail sentences up to 2 years for listening to "anti-national" stations, "whether foreign or not."

Communists Included
 The source explained that illegal Communist stations, perhaps not in France, also were included. The same source said American stations were not affected if they avoided "anti-national propaganda," defined as "severe criticism of the French government and its policy."

(From London the BBC's mysterious broadcaster, Colonel Britton, will give final instructions tomorrow to French workers on how to strike 15 minutes later as a protest against the German execution of hostages in their country. The instructions will go out in nine languages.)

College Flying Units Formed

Keen interest in the army's aviation cadet training program in Northwest Texas is evidenced by the formation of three college flying units, composed of 20 men each, who qualified from among the student body at Texas Technological college, and the formation of two city units, at Lubbock and Amarillo, according to Major Joseph R. Peller, district army recruiting officer.

"One purpose of these units is to enable members of the unit to complete their flying training together," Major Peller said. "and El Paso, Odessa, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Lubbock, Amarillo, Plainview, Dalhart, Pampa and Shamrock, are cities in which local leaders, civic and patriotic organizations and others are sponsoring such units."

Can Complete Tests
 It has been found that a great number of young men who want to fly, but who do not have the privilege of enough college work, or work in the required subjects, can, with the aid of a "refresher course," successfully complete the

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is Better
 Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, indigestion and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

army's mental tests. Such schools are now in the process of formation, and it is hoped to get them started by next week, according to Major Peller.

"School authorities at Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Dalhart, Pampa and Shamrock are ready to start," he said. "The popularity of the 'refresher course' among high school graduates was indicated by those appearing before the aviation cadet examining boards at Lubbock and Amarillo, Oct. 22 and 23, respectively. Since the refresher course will necessarily need to get under way in early November, to prepare students for the next army mental test in February, 1942, all prospective applicants interested in flying are urged to promptly apply at army recruiting stations in order to enroll in the November 'refresher course.'"

Bride And Bride-Elect Honored With Luncheon And Tea Given Wednesday

Wedding Date Is Nov. 29

A bride and a bride-to-be were in the spotlight Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. L. E. Davis gave a luncheon at the Hilton hotel to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Jacqueline Davis, to Pat Slavin of Clarendon, son of Mrs. C. T. McMurtry of that city. A tea and shower were given at the E. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway, honoring Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander, bride-elect of William F. Love of Santa Monica, Calif.

A white and orchid color scheme was stressed at the luncheon. The T-shaped table was lighted with white tapers and centered with azalea mums and gardenias, scattered down the board, interspersed with trailing greenery. The wedding date, Nov. 29, was revealed on orchid match folders which were plate favors and lettered with "It's a Match, Jackie and Pat."

Giant Chrysanthemums
The head of the table was centered with an arrangement of giant white chrysanthemums and smaller white chrysanthemums and gardenias and lighted with candles in crystal candelabra.

The honoree wore an orchid corsage and her mother and Mrs. McMurtry wore corsages of gardenias. The list of 35 guests included Miss Laverne McLurty of Clarendon and Mrs. A. L. Robertson of Slaton.

The couple will be married at the First Methodist church. Thirteen Are Hostesses
Miss Rylander is to leave today or Friday for California where her marriage is to take place. She recently resigned from teaching school at Wichita Falls.

Hostesses were Mesdames Paul Lavery, Mary Ware, Elois Elliott, Raymond Marshall, T. A. Turner, E. K. Key, P. T. Callaway and Walker Nichols, Misses Margaret Huff, Jeanette Kelly, Marion Gray, Dimple Watson and Margaret Prewitt.

In the receiving line were the honoree, Miss Rylander; Mrs. W. C. Rylander, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. E. C. Love, mother of the bride-groom-elect; and Miss Dorothy Rylander. In the house party were faculty members from the K. Carter school where the honoree formerly taught.

Misses Dimple Watson and Bray presided at the guest book. Presiding at the tea table were Mesdames H. W. Sims, Jack M. Lewis, J. T. Trigg, W. R. Spencer, and Miss Stella Thurman. The table was laid with a gold satin cloth reaching to the floor and was centered with a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums.

Music was furnished during the afternoon by Mesdames Marshall, Martin, R. Smith, Rex Webster, Ware, Elliott, Lavery and Misses Prewitt, Imogene Webster and Ruth Dupree.

Gifts were on display. One hundred and fifty guests called.

Rose Culture Discussed By Hurlwood H-D Club
In selecting rose bushes the two-year-old plants should have at least three canes the Hurlwood Home Demonstration club members were told in a meeting with Mrs. L. V. Preston, yard demonstrator, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. H. Hampton will be the next hostess. Members present were Mesdames W. A. Martin, Dee Boone, C. E. Foreman, L. E. Huffstetter, E. R. Thompson, H. B. Moore, J. F. Martin, G. K. Horton, W. R. Byers, C. M. Eoff, V. L. Cade and Jim Bailey.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Some of the young men called into the army are bound to lose the girls they had counted on marrying to men whose futures at the moment seem a little more secure. (In fact, you probably know of some cases, if you know many young people of draft and marriageable age.)

But the cases aren't quite the calamities the disillusioned men stuck off in army camps will at first imagine. Because in this day and age, when a girl with any set-up-and-get-car-support-hed-for-a-few-years-and-is-no-disgrace-to-be-still-unmarried-at-twenty-five-or-thirty, any girl who really loves a man will wait for him, or marry him—and-be-responsible-for-her-own-support-for-a-while.

So the girls the soldiers are losing really aren't much of a loss—judging girls by 1941 standards. For the most part, they are the girls who are more set on getting married than on marrying any certain man. And they have a variety of reasons for feeling as they do.

Some of them have old-fashioned mania who begin to worry before their daughters are even through school for fear they won't get husbands, and who nag at them until they give up what mama considers a bad matrimonial prospect to concentrate on some young man who looks as though he'll be ready for wedding bells a little sooner. Fate isn't being unkind when she saves a young man from a girl who lets her mama pick her husband for her.

SOME HUSBANDS ARE MERE MEAL TICKETS
Then there are the shrewd, calculating girls who figure that they want to be married by a certain age—and who manage to get married by that time no matter how many engagements they have to break in order to get a husband who is ready to support them by a specified time. The husband of such a girl is never much more than a meal ticket—so she is no real loss to any man.

There are the girls, too, who are just naturally fickle, and who never let one man get out of their sight before making sure there is another to take his place. They don't make good marriage partners either, for they can switch their affections too easily to be depended on.

And last but not least, there is still the girl—even in 1941—who is so domestic that she marries for a house and a set of sterling instead of a man. She'll take the first man who can give her the kind of house she has always dreamed of. The soldier who loses her is in order to get a husband is luckier than he'll ever know. For it isn't much fun for a man to play second fiddle to a house and a set of silver.

Soldiers are losing girls all right—but they'll continue to lose them as the girls who are ready for marriage take what is close to home. But when they've lost them, they haven't lost very much—as they are bound to realize when the girl who is willing to wait comes along.

With Another Winter Bearing Down, Irish Hopes For Peace Rise

Pressure Upon Eire Dropping

BY REUEL S. MOORE
United Press Staff Writer

DUBLIN, Oct. 30 — Irish hopes of escaping being drawn directly into the war are on the upgrade as the conflict approaches the third winter.

The shifting of the struggle on land to the east and the improvement of Britain's position in the battle of the Atlantic are the chief reasons for optimism. On one hand the Irish have feared the Germans might use Eire as a stepping stone for an invasion of Britain. This seems less likely as Germany becomes more involved in the east.

On the other hand they have envisaged that Britain in desperation might decide it needed naval and air bases in Eire and seek to obtain them by force. The pressure for these bases has diminished as Britain's sea position improved.

However Eire is too close to the war not to be profoundly affected by it. The influences are complex, and in some instances counterbalancing, but the net effect is that the people of Eire are carrying an increasing war burden, although their lot is not as hard as that of the British.

Clings To Neutrality
Eire still adheres to declared neutrality, and a determination to resist if either belligerent attempts occupation of Eire. It is better prepared to do this than a year ago.

Eire's regular army, local defense force and local security force now total approximately 250,000 men. The local defense force is a military force while the security force is civilian. During the past year Eire has obtained more arms from Britain and the United States so that all the army and defense force are equipped at least with rifles. More modern arms are sought. The exact number in each force is not made public.

Eire's neutrality is not exactly conventional neutrality, but is adapted to the special circumstances of its geographical position and relationship with Britain, and is accepted tacitly by belligerents. Eire's neutrality is not entirely negative as far as Britain is concerned. Irish are serving with the British forces.

Closing in on the circular city of Moscow, German troops have this cluster of theaters, museums, public buildings and vital war factories as the object of their greatest assault of the current campaign. Heart of Moscow is the Kremlin, walled city within a city, from which radiate the streets of the capital, the communication lines of the nation and the Red arteries of the vast Soviet Union.

Irish labor is migrating to Britain to work in war industries. Eire is an important source of food supplies for Britain. Eire's steps to defend its territory constitute an important contribution to British security. The Irish undertake to see that the Axis powers cannot use Eire as a base for any activities hostile to Britain.

Blockaded By Axis
The Axis applies the blockade to Eire as well as Britain but does not otherwise challenge the Irish. Apparently the Axis powers are satisfied that Eire's neutrality gives them opportunity to maintain legations in Dublin to the annoyance of the British and prevents the use of bases in Eire by the British.

The presence of Axis legations has been a sore point in British Commons, where it is suspected they may be a source of valuable information to the enemy. Actually they have no means of communication with Germany which the British cannot watch. The British insist that the American cable companies route all communications from Eire to the United States through British controlled stations, under penalty of suspension of privilege to operate in Britain. There is no evidence that the legations use unauthorized radio communication, which would likely be detected by British monitors if attempted.

The main duty of these legations apparently is to prevent any grant of Eire toward Britain from its present neutral position by such persuasion as they can exercise.

The acquisition of bases in Eire by Britain would not be all clear gain for the latter, as Britain would have to provide intensive anti-aircraft defenses for the country, absorbing war materials

Britain Urged To Raise Huge Army Of Women To Resist Invasion

Hysterics Now Thing Of Past

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Dr. Edith Summerskill, laborite member of parliament, is fighting mad. She says Britain should raise an army of women to defend their homes if invasion comes.

But the war office says—just as definitely—women will not be enrolled in the home guard and nothing will be done to attract women to it, even in noncombatant capacities.

Need For Manpower
The unofficial view is whispered, however, that the urgent need for manpower makes it idle to say that the question of women in the home guard is definitely and finally out.

Dr. Summerskill, 40-year-old physician, is going to town before a Letchworth audience Sunday on her favorite topic.

She has proved her own prowess by scoring seven "bull's eyes" in her first 10 shots on the House of Commons rifle range and has announced she will put volunteer instructions within reach of girls groups.

No More Hysterics
"In the north of England mock invasion last week," she exclaimed, "they actually asked for a thousand women to pretend to be hysterical. That's just like the war office."

"I was simply staggered when I heard of it, for the heavy German raids have shown that hysterical women simply do not exist any more."

"Women in the services can do other things besides being cooks, clerks, typists and telephoneists. It is ridiculous to say how wonderful the Russian women are and at the same time expect our women, who number more than half the whole population, to hide in cellars."

Fine On Defense
"Mind you, I don't believe women in the army would be good if they work on the offensive. They wouldn't have their heart in it. They're too constructive and they have not the aggressive instinct of men."

"But on the defensive, fighting for their homes and children, they would be absolutely ideal and, therefore, I think there should be a reserve of women who, if Britain should be invaded, would know how to handle a rifle."

Tunney To Interview Naval Applicants

Young men, preferably single, who hold a degree in physical education from a recognized college and who want to take part in the navy's athletic program, will have an opportunity to be interviewed Tuesday and Wednesday of next week by a former world heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney.

Tunney, now a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve, on active duty, will be in Dallas at that time to interview applicants for appointments as physical instructors, said J. E. Calloway, chief quartermaster and naval recruiting officer.

Ensign J. W. Stack, captain of the Yale football team of 1939, is accompanying Tunney on a nationwide tour seeking athletic directors.

"To be eligible," Calloway explained, "applicants must have a degree in physical education from some recognized school of college in addition to the usual many physical requirements. Unmarried men will be given preference over those who are married. Men over the age of 30 will not be accepted."

To men who qualify the rank of chief boatswain's mate, acting appointment, will be given and they will be assigned to various stations. The rating carries a salary of $59 a month with living quarters and subsistence.

Cotton Losses Reported Here

Rainfall Wednesday night and this morning again drove a wedge into boll pulling and ginning.

Ginning of early cotton had been rather extensive over the county the last week, some gins reporting they had turned out approximately 100 bales each of early cotton.

But the farmers and the ginners were looking harassed in spite of intermittent treatment of fields to sunshine and wind.

These few but significant facts may serve to explain: Unfavorable weather has caused bolls to blacken and open only partially, and cotton is greener and wetter than it appears.

Takes More Cotton
It takes 200 to 300 more pounds of seed cotton to make a bale of lint, because of the heaviness of the green cotton.

The ginners find it necessary to use more labor and fuel to gin a bale of cotton because of the crop's green state, and his machinery is subjected to more wear and tear.

The farmer, having taken a bad licking on his feed crops—several head of livestock having been reported killed after being fed moldy sorghum—might do better to wait a week or so before having his cotton pulled, but he is afraid to wait. He saw his feed grow into bumper crops, then saw it sprout in the head, mildew and rot so that only by threshing could he realize much advantage from it. Maybe the same sort of weather, heavy rains and cloudy days, will continue to strike, he says.

Grades Are Lower
And when the farmer gets his bale he finds the ginned product averages a low middling, that about 20 per cent is strictly good ordinary, about 5 per cent ordinary and below grades.

And the official classing raises the staple of the South Plains as a whole at a little shorter than 11-16ths.

"Most of the cotton received here has shown up to be two grades lower than middling, which makes 125 points below middling grade," one ginner said. "I want to gin all the cotton I can, but frankly I'd prefer that the farmer wait a week or longer before he pulls his early cotton. Maybe he could make more."

Sufficient Gins Available
The ginner said he had turned out only two bales of picked cotton, the other 100 bales having been "bolled" cotton.

It will be approximately two weeks before the late cotton begins to open fast, it was estimated, and present conditions would have to be maintained, even then.

Cotton being ginned is from the south and parts of the county, in the main.

Lubbock has four gins, Lubbock county 35. All are ready for the crop, if the crop matures. Some have done scarcely any business, and some are having to gin practically all night. That is because farmers are so busy gathering cotton and piling it in the fields they don't want to lose a minute during daylight, and so haul the crop to gins at night.

Much In Storage
Some gins Wednesday were found to have as many as 100 bales of unginned cotton in storage and as many as 25 loads of unginned cotton in the yards. Ginners observe the rule that the stored cotton must wait until the "yard is cleared" before it can be ginned.

Some of the city gins have turned out as much as 100 bales. One, for instance, manages about two bales an hour—where we ought to be able to gin four or five bales, but this cotton is too green and wet.

Farmers, paying approximately $1.10 a hundred pounds to gather and gin their cotton, are losing from $3 to $5 a bale by hurrying to the gins with it, one ginner estimated. They pay more to have it ginned because it is heavier, and the grade is lower than if

Oil Shortage In Reich Seen

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—If Russia can battle Germany for five more months, the Reich's oil supply will become critical in the opinion of Earl Petty, member of the Moscow conference on war supplies, who is returning to his post in Washington.

Petty and two other representatives, in the conference took off from Meacham field for Washington at 8 a. m. today. Other members of the party were Dr. George K. Strode of the American Red Cross and Edward Page, Russian desk, state department, Washington.

Texas Is Pilot
Their huge Consolidated bomber, on the last leg of a 28,000-mile, round-the-world flight, was piloted by Mat A. L. Harvey, a native of Cleburne.

Director of refining in the Middle West under Secretary of Interior Harold S. Ickes, Petty was the most outspoken of the trio.

"From the information I could get," he said, "I think the German reserves of petroleum products probably will last for about five more months; but then, without new sources, Hitler's situation will become critical very rapidly indeed."

Need High Octane Gas
"And I think the Russians may very well fight both before and behind the lines for five months longer, but that's just a guess."

He said the Russians need high octane gasoline and enough equipment to "stagger" the nation's largest oil companies. Despite constant demand, Petty said he had learned that Germany had built up its oil reserves from the Russian Bakur fields.

However, he said the Russians got even by getting refining equipment in the trade. It was his opinion that the Soviets would fight as long as they had equipment.

England recently issued a call for everyone to protect themselves against diphtheria.

Newton Stokes, commissioner of county precinct 4, said at least two of Siallowater's three gins worked until 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Charles Yates, Slaton constable, said all roads saw cotton moving to five Slaton gins Tuesday and Wednesday. Stokes said he counted 40 field hands in one cotton patch.

Cotton being the money crop of this section, farmers who had been dejected at their chances last week are "doing the natural thing and trying to get what they can while they can," as one of the ginners said. "We just hope they can have good weather and a scrapping chance to make something."

Well, How Would You Describe One If You'd Just Seen Her

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A cow has "six sides" and is "arranged for milking," according to an essay written by a 10-year-old boy from the east-end slums of London and released by Ernest Brown, minister of health.

The boy had been evacuated from the city and the country where his amazed eyes beheld a cow for the first time.

"The cow is a mammal," he wrote. "It has six sides, right and left and upper and lower. At the back it has a tail on which hangs a brush. With this he sends flies away so they don't fall into the milk. The head is for the purpose of growing horns and so his mouth can be somewhere. The horns are in-butt with and the mouth to 'moo with. Under the cow hangs milking. It is arranged for milking. "When people milk, milk comes and there never is an end to the supply. How the cow does it I have not yet realized but it makes more and more. The cow has a fine sense of smell and one can smell it far away. This is the reason for the fresh air in the country. "A man cow is called an ox. The cow does not eat much but what it eats it eats twice so that it gets enough. When it is hungry it moos and when it says nothing at all it is because its insides are full up with grass."

"Heal" On For Nocona Bandit

(By The United Press)
NOCONA, Oct. 30.—The "heat" on him today as police throughout the northern part of the state hunted him for his third bank robbery.

A blond youth yesterday held up the Peoples' National bank here, scooped $5,538 into a paper sack and fled. Police believed he was the same man that had robbed banks at Bowie, Tex., and at Petrelia, Tex., within the last three months.

He Flew On Foot
In all three robberies a lone gunman entered the bank just before or just after the noon rush, poked a gun through the tellers' cage and stuffed cash into the paper sack he carried. Then he fled on foot.

Police said the similarity of the crimes pointed toward their commission by the same person. All the robberies occurred within a fifty-mile circle in Clay and Montague counties.

Yesterday, just before noon factory whistles blew, a blond youth appeared at the tellers window behind which Grouh Whaley, vice president of the Peoples' National, was standing.

Just Wanted Money
"I mean business. I don't want to hurt you," he said, "just give me the money."

He scooped the currency from the tellers' cage into his sack, then forced Whaley to open the bank safe. Included in the loot were nine $100 bills and seven $50 bills.

Several customers entered the bank during the robbery and one of them, J. C. Gentry, chased him as the youth ran out the door. The gunman leaped a hedge surrounding a school ground, mingled with children leaving the building for noon recess, and shook his pursuer.

Oil Industry Busy In Area

Oil activity in nine counties of this general section late Wednesday was summarized thus:

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cities Service-University, short east outpost to the Emma pool, looms as a failure, having recovered 360 feet of drilling fluid bearing only a slight show of oil, and a sulphur odor after running 30 minutes drill stem test from 4,286 to 4,329 feet. Two cores from 4,312-40 feet carried negligible staining and porosity. The test is waiting on drillpipe, bottomed at 4,445 feet in lime.

GIVE LIVER BILE FLOW A BOOST---

Start Tomorrow Morning And Keep This Up for 30 Days

Normally the liver should discharge about a quart of digestion-aiding bile juices a day. If it doesn't—a scanty flow—may mean Bile Headaches, so-called Biliousness, Poor Digestion, with that "flat" feeling, all-going feeling and most probably Constipation.

There's no need to take Calomel or other risky drugs—just take a little daily dose of that world-famous, Kruschen Salts—half a level teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water about half an hour before breakfast. This causes the flow of bile with its gentle "bowel action." Try it for 30 days and you too may shake off that "run-down" feeling and get a real "lift." But don't start unless you are willing to keep it up for 30 days. If then you do not feel 100% better get your money back. Mark Halsey Drug Stores, Adv.

Russia's Factories Moved Speedily Out Of Path Of The Germans

Empty Towns Greet Nazis

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

Today's dispatches from the Volga and from Moscow permit a short but sharp glimpse of the primary reasons why the Red armies defending the Red capital stand today and even fight back under conditions which are fast approaching those of Verdun.

Henry Cassidy, the Associated Press chief of bureau in Russia, a self-contained New Englander who has both shrewdness and penetration, tells the story of one of Stalin's "leap frog" factories. This one was uprooted from the Ukrainian capital of Kiev shortly after the German-Russian war started and moved bodily to the Volga river country, a distance of perhaps 800 miles, where in September it doubled its Kiev output.

Product Unknown
The censor does not permit Cassidy to say what the factory is making, but it is safe to guess that this plant and its brother "leap-frogs" from Moscow, Leningrad, Kharkov and other industrial cities now threatened or actually captured by the Germans are turning out the tanks, the shells and the guns which still are killing Nazis outside Moscow—three weeks after Hitler's propagandists said that "final" battle of the war was over.

This morning's early Moscow communique tells, too, of Kharkov, captured Donets basin city where the empty rooms of blackened factories laugh hollowly at the German army of occupation.

Factories Are Evacuated
The communique says: "Kharkov has been left by our troops for strategic considerations at a time when the Soviet command deemed it expedient and not when the Germans wanted. During this period (September and most of October) all the most important factories and plants, railway rolling stock, raw material stores and other valuables were evacuated from the town in time."

This is in part a story of machines and a story of men. For Joseph Stalin has revealed to the British Lord Beaverbrook that these "leapfrog" factories were built that way.

It is, however, even more a story of men—of skilled workers who—turned—moving—men after their day's work was done, of engineers who heaved over their shoulders, heedless of overtime. The factory Cassidy visited uprooted 600 specialized workers from Kiev just as it unscrewed the machines, lifted them out of their homes and set them down in the country. It would be silly to assume they were particularly happy about this, but the work which Cassidy saw them turning out is its own tribute to their acceptance of the sacrifice.

An acute shortage of cigars recently caused profiteering in British Malaya and American smokers that retained at 65 cents a can of 50 skyrocketed to $1.10.

Mustangs To Be Disappointed If They Expect Steers To Be Overconfident

Texans Ready For This One

One-At-A-Time Is Bible Strategy

(By The United Press)
AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Southern Methodist's football followers who hope to find the Texas team in an over-confident mood this week are likely to be disappointed.

For Texas' "one-at-a-time" attitude appears to be solid. Football men have marveled at the sober reactions of Coach D. X. Bible's great team. If publicity or top-sided victories have affected the players, nobody has discovered it yet.

Attitude Of Humility

The team's attitude toward its success, started by an upset victory over Texas A. & M. last Thanksgiving, has even been described as "humility." The Longhorns wanted to beat Rice last week. Their determination was based upon long series of setbacks at the hands of Rice teams. But when Texas walloped its foe 40 to 0, there was little rejoicing in the locker rooms.

Coach Bible said tersely that "speed and blocking did it." Then he told the boys to get ready for S.M.U.

No team knows better than Texas that it can't count a victory before the game is over. Whether for or not the Aggies were over-confident last Thanksgiving day, the Texas players gave positive evidence that none are too mighty to fall.

Record Good Example

If that memory fails to arouse sufficient restraint, the Texas record against teams coached by Milt Bell should provide what-ever the is needed. Texas has not beaten S.M.U. since 1933, not since Bell became head man for the Dallas team.

"Moaning Matty" is one of the nation's great defensive strategists and psychologists. His 1939 and 1940 teams stopped Jack Crain's touchdown jorneys, and last year the Texas star had a net loss from scrimmage of three yards against Southern Methodist.

Bell personally scouted Texas against Rice Saturday, and went home to spread the reports of his next opponent's prowess. The Texas line, he said, is the fastest thing in the land and its offense is superb. Bible and the Texas team read his remarks—and remembered 1933-40.

They Expect To Win

Texans players expect to beat Southern Methodist this year. Except for Woody Johnson, a reserve guard, all three Texas teams are in fine physical fettle. Their victories over Colorado, Louisiana State, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Rice have been so easy that Jack Bible has used only a few of the plays in its repertoire.

Crain, Pete Layden and the Texas first string have played little more than one-third of the time this season. They are wondering if this is the week they should have to go all the way like they did against the Aggies in '46.

Whatever the future holds, Bible's boys can look around most any where in Austin today and read the sign:

LAST HEAVY DRILL

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 30.—The return of tackle Jay Lawhorn to the Arkansas football squad and his subsequent stellar play cheered the Porkers today. They held their last heavy drill before the A. and M. game here Saturday.

INTRODUCING THE WESTERNERS

Two Lubbock High performers expected to play a large part in the game against Pampa at Tech Stadium Saturday afternoon are Howard (Left) Lanford (10), left, and Hubert Bechtel (87), right. Lanford is a letterman who has been alternating with Robert Brewer at the right half position. He's the best kicker on the squad—against Amarillo he booted one 81 yards—a good passer and a powerful runner. Bechtel is the regular left end, good at pass receiving and adequate at all other duties demanded of a terminal. He's playing his first year with the Westerners.

Tyler's Lions Are Roaring Challenge

(By The Associated Press)
TYLER, Oct. 30.—Tyler's Lions, the team that became great because of a defeat, let out a roar today.

Scanning headlines they saw where Lufkin and Corpus Christi pointed out that before Lufkin could get that far in the official race they had to win the bi-district title and do such they had to beat Tyler.

Since then it's been different. With third and fourth stringers and a team that figured in the season's first big upset and then surged back better than ever.

Tyler opened the season against Sunset of Dallas. Somewhat cocky regulars played nearly all the way on that sultry evening whereas Sunset subs nearly ran themselves to death. The Dallas outfit won 19-12.

It's Different Now

With then it's been different. With third and fourth stringers and a team that figured in the season's first big upset and then surged back better than ever.

Tyler opened the season against Sunset of Dallas. Somewhat cocky regulars played nearly all the way on that sultry evening whereas Sunset subs nearly ran themselves to death. The Dallas outfit won 19-12.

Tyler just experimented in beating Oklahoma 49-0. That's 150 points.

What's more Tyler has had at least two starters from last year on the sidelines save for five minutes.

And the Lions are almost certain to play without these injured stars—scoutback Jerry Stinson and tackle J. D. Kay—until late in November, when bi-district time rolls around.

Note to Lufkin: Don't count your semi-final scores until Tyler shows what it can do with arithmetic.

Texas Tech Ranks Up With Leaders

West Texas Teachers	6	0	0	187	20
Texas Tech	5	0	0	128	25
St. Mary's	4	0	0	116	25
East Texas Teachers	3	0	0	112	7
Howard Payne	4	0	1	83	13

(By The Associated Press)
Seven Texas college teams remain undefeated as the campaign which has passed the half-way mark but the crown is heavy on the head of more than one.

The Texas Aggies, leading the parade with five victories in which they have rolled up 206 points to the opposition's 7, do not appear in much danger this week against Arkansas but West Texas Teachers, the runner-up with six wins and 197 points to 20 face their toughest battle of the season against Hardin-Simmons at Abilene.

Texas Has Rugged Test

Texas, unbeaten in five starts and with 196 points to 27, has a rugged test ahead in the Southern Methodist Mustangs.

The other undefeated teams do not appear in great danger.

Texas Tech, the last of the undefeated, is scheduled to play Miami University at Miami, Fla.

There are three teams unbeaten but with ties marring their records. They are St. Mary's, East Texas Teachers and Howard Payne. They play Southeastern Oklahoma, Sam Houston Teachers and Texas Wesleyan, respectively.

Howard Payne probably has the roughest road with Wesleyan, which has shown a startling upsurge and now looms as Howard Payne's major battle in the Texas conference drive.

15 Games On Schedule

There are 15 games on the week's schedule for Texas colleges and 11 of them are conference affairs.

The Southwest conference lists three games, the Aggies-Arkansas, Texas-SMU and Baylor-Texas Christian.

The Texas conference features the Wesleyan-Howard Payne battle with Trinity meeting Southern Methodist, McMurry playing Daniel Baker and Abilene Christian tangling with Austin college in other tilts counting in the standing.

The Border conference brings together West Texas Teachers and Hardin-Simmons while Texas Mines tackles Arizona university.

Two games count in the Lone Star conference race with North Texas Teachers meeting Southwest Texas and East Texas meeting Sam Houston.

Sammy Baugh Also Quite A Kicker

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Sammy Baugh, the great Washington Redskins halfback, is just getting up to the defense of his National football league punting title.

Baugh, who produced the year's best boot—75 yards—against New York on Sept. 28 just to prove he still is in the league, saw his average sliding downward for the three weeks previous to last Sunday. Then, against Cleveland, he delivered six punts averaging 56.3 yards and boosted his year's mark to 52.9 yards.

Only one other player has a higher standing—Norm Standlee of the Chicago Bears—but Norm has kicked only two times for his 63 yard average. Other leaders are Jack Banta of Washington, two kicks averaging 52 yards; Kay Eakin of New York, seven for 51, and Dean McAdams of Brooklyn, 11 for 50.5.

Wheat, wine, olive oil and hemp are the four leading crops of Italy, yet, and the boys would like to try them out. It might be a good idea that I don't think Miami can upset us, and I think we can stop them but there's no use taking chances."

MR. WALLACE WADE of the Duke University-Wades comes forth with a very interesting gridiron theory, or maybe it isn't a theory at all, Mr. Wade, a highly respected member of the coaching profession whose Blue Devils yield to no eleven men on a football field, says it's a bad business to run up the score on an outclassed opponent, because that opponent will be gunning for you next year and your own team, remembering the lopsided score of the year before, thinks the game is a breeze.

That, says Mr. Wade, is how upsets are made.

Which brings to mind the fact that Texas Tech got mad and whipped Miami last year in a game as one-sided as a Nazi war communique, and also that Texas Tech must play Miami again tomorrow night.

The score last year was 61-14, and that would seem to put Mr. Wade's theory on the spot.

Miami is still on the rapidly dwindling list of the nation's unbeaten and untied football teams, as is Texas Tech, but unless something quite unexpected happens in the Orange Bowl tomorrow night, it will be the Hurricanes, and not the Raiders, who join the list of dwindlers.

Coach John J. Harding (Pittsburgh, 1926) has steered his team to four straight victories by rather convincing scores. But those four victories have been over nobodies—only claimant to fame in the lot is Rollins, which has a corner on the nation's collegiate tennis talent, if that means anything.

Miami university is one of the nation's newest schools. It opened its doors in 1925, same year Texas Tech hung out the "come in" sign. It's located at Coral Gables, Florida, but the Hurricanes play their home games in Miami Orange Bowl. The university has 1,300 students, 650 men, is a member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association.

With this game, Miami is embarking on a "major league" schedule for the first time. On successive week ends, the Hurricanes will meet Texas Tech, Florida, South Carolina, Alabama and VMI.

How does Texas Tech rate nationally by now? This week the Associated Press football poll put the Raiders in 23rd in the nation, while the What's What rating system picked them 21st.

It's our personal opinion that there aren't a half-dozen teams in the land that could beat the Crimson when they are steamed up, but there's not much chance of heavy national recognition coming Lubbock way with the schedule the Techs play this season.

Of course, a few high scores would push the Raiders on up, but for a number of very good reasons, the Raiders aren't going to be running up high scores this season.

Incidentally, after Friday night the Techs will get no more cracks at undefeated college teams this year. Creighton, St. Louis, Hardin-Simmons and Wake Forest all have been defeated. Record of the Camp Croft team, last scheduled opponent for the season, is not available. It's probable that the army team is just now getting into training.

Clash Here To Be Headliner

Other Good Tilts Scheduled In Area

BY JOE PIERCE
Journal Sports Writer

This week's review of the West Texas high school football situation, with a hasty dismissal of the guy who keeps reminding us of how we didn't pick the winners, a week ago:

Headliner on the local card is Saturday afternoon's game at Tech Stadium between the Harvesters of Pampa and the Westerners of Lubbock, a telling District 1-AA conference engagement.

Pampa To Beat Lubbock

This reporter, after sticking with the Westerners through six games this year, now falls off the bandwagon, and picks Lubbock to be beaten Saturday, because:

1. It's reported on reliable authority that Pampa has the power and speed this season.

2. More important, we think the Westerners' played out their string against Amarillo. We remember only too well how the Lubbock team folded a year ago against Plainview after losing a close one to Amarillo. We hope we're wrong, and we're ready and willing to be shown, but while awaiting proof, we'll pick the Harvesters.

Others Are On Card

There are other games on the District 1 card for the week end, two scheduled for Friday night and one Saturday afternoon, but no other has the importance of the Lubbock-Pampa clash.

Amarillo's state champions, seeking their 21st consecutive victory, entertain Fort Worth North Side Saturday afternoon, and the Sandies figure to win easily unless they fail to bottle up Dean Robertson, who'll be plenty troublesome if ever he slips by the forward wall.

Border entertains Hollis, Okla., and Plainview journeys to Big Spring. Both are non-conference games, as is the Amarillo-North Side tilt.

Class A Is Tense

The Class A situation is tense on every hand this week. Two games which may decide titles are slated, along with a number of other conference tilts and a few scattered inter-league games.

Top is Friday night's Slaton-Levelland game, in which the Techs seek to continue their recently formed habit of knocking off conference opponents with monotonous regularity.

After losing to Muleshoe in the season opener, the Tigers have battled down Littlefield, Morton and Olton, and must be regarded as the favorite to win the north zone crown in 5-A. Levelland still has a chance at the crown, and would be in fine shape to attain it if the Lobos could upset Slaton.

Littlefield and Sudan, other contenders for the title, do not enter into the picture.

Lumberjacks of Flagstaff, members of the 4th-division footballers' new.

The 45th, stationed at Camp Berkeley in Abilene, has only recently returned from maneuvers, and the soldiers are now ready for a little batting on the gridiron.

Capt. McCreary coached the Lumberjacks for 10 years before he was called up when the national guard mobilized last fall. His teams played in Lubbock in 1937, losing 6-0, and in 1939, losing 54-0, to Texas Tech.

It's planned to play a schedule consisting of other army teams, with the big game of the season with the 36th division of Camp Bowie late in December.

Bud Ward Is Boy To Watch

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—In the United States airplanes fly at 8,000 feet, but Mexico is starting its amateur golf championship today at 8,000 feet altitude and with U. S. Amateur Champion Bud Ward already the leading threat.

Ward shot a 67, only one above the course record, in a practice round over the course which lies high above Mexico City.

He is one of 15 United States golfers here to join Mexicans in one of the few international golf matches left in a warring world.

Others include Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles; Bobby Riegel of Houston, a semi-finalist here last year and Ward's special opponent for the U. S. title; Spec Stewart of Roswell, N. M., and Fred Perry, the tennis pro who says "tennis is business but golf is sport."

Qualifying medal play today will be over the Chapultepec golf club course, which stretches beside a drill ground where soldiers sham battle throughout the day.

Match Play Friday

Tomorrow the match play will begin over the Mexico City golf club course, which was a battle ground during a revolution a generation ago, when a battery of 75 in the bunkers near the fourth hole shelled rebels in the club house for four days and where cactus now grows in the sandtraps.

The match play goes into the finals Sunday, John Barnum, Edinburg, Texas, 1940 champion here, is not scheduled to defend his title.

Divorce Probe Is Under Way

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 30 (AP)—Mass production of quick, easy and sometimes fraudulent divorce in Florida's rich resort area has collided with the most searching court inquiry since the state's 60-day divorce law was enacted six years ago.

Four Miami Beach attorneys—two women and two men associated with them—face disbarment proceedings ordered by Circuit Judge Richard H. Hunt.

More than 1,000 cases filed by about 15 other attorneys since Jan. 1 are being studied by a committee of 10 court-appointed lawyers in search of fraud or collusion.

Direct Every Step
The most common complaint is that two or more lawyers working hand in glove direct every step in a case, from filing the original complaint to appointment of a special master to take testimony through preparation of the report and filing of a final decree ready for a judge's signature.

One instance was uncovered where a single attorney filed six entire divorce cases—complete from original entry to final decree—in one day. The court, believing this could not be done without fraud, ordered a special investigation.

Since the 90-day divorce law became effective, the annual rate of divorces in Miami alone has grown to more than 4,000 a year, whereas only 3,700 were granted in the five years from 1930 to 1935.

AGGIES STILL HOT
COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30 (AP)—A wave of cold weather dropped in on the Texas A. and M. drills today but the Aggie play continued to be as hot as a depot stove on Saturday night.

After looking at pictures of past A. and M. Arkansas games, the squad took the field and held a long pass defense workout.

Upsels Likely For Saturday

Aggies, Texas And TCU Also Favored

BY HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—Using the pass, punt and prayer system in an attempt to pick Saturday's football winners:

NOTRE DAME over Army—The game of the day between two undefeated, untied teams.

CORNELL over Columbia—But it may be a tough, bruising battle.

FORDHAM over Purdue—A great offense smashes on toward a great defense.

PENNSYLVANIA over Navy—Ugh and ouch. One of the toughest games to pick anywhere.

OHIO STATE over Pittsburgh—A breeze.

HARVARD over Princeton—A zephyr.

YALE over Brown—Good game in an ancient rivalry.

COLGATE over Holy Cross—21 to 0.

TEMPLE over Boston college—Despite a hunch that something may be cooking here.

WISCONSIN over Syracuse—With Harder leading the way.

OKLAHOMA over Kansas—Easy does it.

NEBRASKA over Kansas State—Say about three touchdowns.

MISSOURI over Michigan State—Something to see. Could be a tie and both sides probably would be willing to settle for that.

INDIANA over Iowa—A sophomore named Hillenbrand is the difference between 'em.

MISSISSIPPI over Marquette—Those boys from down South can really turn it on.

TULANE over Vanderbilt—Spilling an undefeated, untied record.

TEXAS over Southern Methodist—Takes a brave man to pick against those two teams at Texas university. Or is it three teams?

ALABAMA over Kentucky—Three, maybe four, touchdowns.

DUKE over Georgia Tech—But not until there has been quite a scrap. A good one to see.

GEORGIA over Auburn—Sink-wich sinks the Plainsmen.

TEXAS A. AND M. over Arkansas—On passing and speed.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN over Baylor—But it'll be hard work all the way.

TENNESSEE over Louisiana State—The nickel came down heads.

RICE over Centenary—28 to 6.

WEST STANFORD over Santa Clara—Best game on the coast.

DENVER over Colorado State—By at least one touchdown.

OREGON STATE over Idaho—Bouncing back from last week's loss.

COLORADO over Utah—By just a whisper.

U.C.L.A. over California—On a hunch. Good game.

WASHINGTON over Montana—A practice session.

OREGON over Washington State—13 to 7. Season record: Right 61. Wrong 22. Tied 5.

into conference action. Sudan is idle, Littlefield plays Lubbock High Cowhards, Oton and Muleshoe also are idle, and Morton plays at Monument, N. M.

Brownfield Faces Post
In the south zone, Brownfield faces its next-to-last hurdle in its attempt to win its fifth consecutive area championship, and isn't expected to have much trouble.

The opposition is Post, site for the game is Brownfield.

Denver City plays at Tahoka and Seagraves at O'Donnell in conference games; and Seminole at Plains in a non-conference test.

Floydada's game at Lockney Friday afternoon is the eye-catcher in 4-A. Championship aspirants are at stake, with both teams still in the running for the title. Matador, third contender, is idle this week, resting up for games with Floydada and Lockney on the next two week ends.

Crosbyton At Spur
Spur is host to Crosbyton in a cellar test tonight, and Rails will play at Paducah tomorrow night.

Frenship and Meadow will meet Friday afternoon at Frenship with the District 4-B, south zone, crown at stake. Frenship needs a victory or tie for the title. A Meadow win would leave the race in a three-way tie involving those two teams and Ropes.

Other Class B conference games match Anton and Whittarral at Whittarral and Abernathy and New Deal at Abernathy. Non-conference tests send Southland to Cooper, Hale Center to Amherst and Petersburg to Ropes.

This week's complete schedule, with this report's closing, as the probable winners in CAPITALS.

PAMPA at Lubbock. The Harvesters are showing for a title, but they're not the best team here, unless the Harvesters do a flopper. We're predicting a flopper. But the Sandies had better watch Dean.

PLAINVIEW at Big Spring. The Bulldogs have little aspirations, too. STOLKA, OKLA. at Borden. Strictly a guess.

DISTRICT 4-A
Crosbyton at SPUR. That's tonight. FLOYDADA at Lockney. Leaving the district race up to Floydada and Matador. SEMINOLE at Plains. Hard to pick. Matador, open date.

DISTRICT 5-A
Levelland at SLATON. We picked the level at Slaton. We still think so. Meadow at Monument. N. M. Another shot in the dark. Lubbock Cowhards at LITTLEFIELD. Too much power. Sudan, Muleshoe and Oton, open dates. Post at BROWNFIELD. But class. DENVER CITY at TAHOKA. Off the records. SEAGRAVES at O'Donnell. Easy to pick. SEMINOLE at Plains. Another easy one.

CLASS B
PETERSBURG at Ropes. Sticking with the champs. Hale Center at AMHERST. Ditto. Meadow at FRENSHIP. That's what the dope says, but watch out. Southland at COOPER. This week's tie. Anton at WHITTARRAL. Why, we don't know. New Deal at ABERNATHY. Obviously at NEW DEAL. That's a guess too.

LAMESA OTHER GAMES
The upset of the week, and watch White show up. Plainsman.

Harvesting Is Slow Process

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 (AP)—Slackening rains permitted crop harvesting in northeastern and north-central portions of Texas last week the U. S. agricultural marketing service reported today.

The service also estimated wheat stored in Texas interior mills, elevators and warehouses at about 2,500,000 bushels.

Rains in the northwest, however, brought further deterioration to grain sorghums, corn and hay crops while hurting cotton.

Soil moisture, except in the coastal bend, was ample to excessive.

Cotton Matures Slowly
Cotton matured slowly in the northwest and reports of quality damage were general. Harvesting completion in other areas.

Seeding of fall grains was possible in much of the state but there was no progress in this line in the northwest.

Second crops were being harvested outside the northwest and many sections reported the crop harvest complete. Peanut gathering continued.

Rice harvesting made some progress with favorable weather. Pecan production was found normal only in the western and northern portions of the pecan area as gathering started.

Growth and harvest of truck crops continued in dry, cool weather for the lower Rio Grande valley. In the winter garden, some young onions and carrots suffered worm damage.

Rank and sappy growth of pastures and ranges was caused by continuing rains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A tiny new submachine gun particularly suitable for defense against parachute troops was exhibited to army ordnance experts today.

At the same time, war department officials accepted delivery of the 250,000th Thompson submachine gun manufactured by the Auto Ordnance company of Bridgeport, Conn., and were told they could expect another 250,000 within five months.

CHAPTER ELEVEN OVER-NIGHT GUEST

Freda was smiling, but there was a note in her voice that was far from laughter. For the first time Pam felt she could believe that Freda was sincere with her. Then Freda was talking again: "You see I wasn't as fried as I seemed when you came out and saw us in your flower beds."

HOW British Lord Louis Mountbatten, the ex-captain of the illustrious, will soon be making front page news again, but that's a naval secret. He was telling us about the sinking of the Hood by the Bismarck and the way the Bismarck was chased, trapped and destroyed.

Mountbatten suggested that the complete exciting sea saga be given to the newspapers—to cheer lovers of freedom. "Heavens, no!" ejaculated the admiral. "No more publicity. The incident has had too much of a press as it is!"

Capsule Criticism: Shakespeare's "As You Like It" wasn't liked very much by the reviewers. The Hollywood Reporter's New York man, I. Hoffman, summed it up: "From Bard to Worse." ... The Mother Goose Dept.: When drama critic Richard Wright's address was rehearsing for the "We the People" program the other evening WINCHELL he got this wire four hours before the broadcast. "Program coming in fine, Russell Crouse." ... Thumbnose Description: Critic George Jean Nathan: A one-man concentration camp. ... We've Met Her: A lovely lady walked into a night spot, nose in air. Someone cracked: "She's sure putting on some dog since she's been to the coast."

"You mean," Dick Todd elaborated, "she's gone Hollywood!"

I DON'T Believe It: Rosemary Lane met a panhandler who asked for a nickel ferappacawfer, and she asked him for a nickel ferappacawfer.

By Way of Report: Most papers missed this bit at the Bluff-Browne trial, where testimony about thousand dollar bills is being tossed about like confetti. Judge John C. Knox, who has a senyawa, was questioning Nick Schenck of MGM, who was having trouble remembering his annual income. "Well, just try to give it to us approximately, within $75,000," said Hizzoner, whose record is the best on the Federal bench, whose decisions involve billions, whose salary is $10,900 a year.

UNCOMMON Sense: Conrad Thibault tells of the three appeasers who were crossing the Arabian Desert. "Look," said one, "there's an ostrich with its head in the sand. Isn't it silly bird?" "The ostrich has his beak and intoned: "When I have my head in the sand I have enough sense to keep my mouth shut!"

Warning: "Dear Mr. Winchell," writes Jack McGhie of Yonkers, N. Y. "I can vouch for this: It happened to me. Note to suckers: If your wallet gets lifted in any New York joint after too many with a local belle—don't worry. It'll probably be returned in the mail minus the cash. A dozen in Times Square."

To a Quarrelsome Lover: We've fought again. Who was to blame? It was the same old pattern as our tiffs before—You hurt me, and I slammed the door. Someday perhaps you'll be more kind; Or I more sensibly resigned. And we shall be a charming pair. When you've reformed—or I don't care.—Sis-Willner.

They're Pun-cky: The Ritz Freres would have you believe they know of two butterflies who communicate with each other by the moth code.

Baroli and Lenore at that little stand at the other end of Duval Street, where they sold that peculiarly tropic delicacy, sour-rop ice cream; talking interestedly over two dishes of the sweet with its strange, half sour, musky flavor. Lenore and Baroli sitting close on the steps of the cabana at Beach where a white cleaner bush grew out of the sand.

Baroli glanced at Antoine then and took up the baton, giving the lady the lawn beat, going through the number again without the voices. It was Baroli's orchestra, then. Lenore walked toward Antoine.

"You've caught me, Eddie," she said. "Doing a very creditable job," was his answer to a preoccupied tone. Lenore sensed that he wanted to give Baroli and his music undivided attention, and said

Red Tape Enmeshes Uncle Sam's Efforts To Get Ready To Fight Inter-State Truck Barriers Threaten Defense

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — A United States Army gun mount, fresh from the factory, but not yet accepted, recently had to be moved across the boundaries of the sovereign states of Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania to be put in service.

In order to make this trip of a little more than 100 miles, it was necessary for the trucker to get clearance from the highway regulatory agencies.

Going through Delaware, the highway cops stopped the load and because it measured slightly over the 96-inch maximum width limit of the state, the trucker was fined $13.50. The total delay in making the delivery was 25 hours.

This pretty little story is told to keep fresh in mind that the old bogey of interstate trade barriers is still cluttering up the country, and to emphasize that it has some new angles now which have particular bearing on national defense.

Every day in every way these conflicting state laws on highway regulation are bailing up the free flow of goods from one state to another, providing a bottleneck that can be attributed to only one thing—human legislative stupidity.

There is before Congress now one law, sponsored by Rep. Warren G. Magnuson of Seattle, which would give the Interstate Commerce Commission power to regulate these state trade barriers, but there is no telling what its fate will be or when. The law is based on a three-year investigation by ICC to determine what might be done to relieve the situation.

OLD KENTUCKY MOAN IT isn't quite as bad as it was a few years ago, but it's still plenty tough. Kentucky's 18,000-pound load limit is regarded by truckers as the worst situation. Virginia and Oregon laws are also regarded as unnecessarily restrictive. Texas repealed its 7,000-pound load limit (14,000 pounds on a railroad) during the year, raising the limit to the now generally accepted 18,000-pound axle weight. Missouri repealed its law requiring all buses and trucks entering the state to take out Missouri permits. And so on.

But the tendency of the states to set up laws restricting commerce across their borders has not yet been checked. A WPA marketing survey has been grinding away more than two years just to catalog all the restrictive regulations the states have set up against one another. When WPA gets through, it will have nearly 3,000 separate statutes classified for the use of shippers.

While the trend to pass more and more of these regulations may have been checked to a degree, it is still a strong movement. Forty-three state legislatures met in 1941. Collectively, they have passed nearly 1,000 laws for consideration, between 800 and 1,000 new laws further restricting trade across state lines. It's too early to check yet on how many have been or will be passed, but the

NOTHING TO BE SURPRISED OVER

"Surprise" was the reaction expressed by those in command because of the "veritable avalanche"—as they put it—of applications when announcement was made at Randolph Field a few days ago that lessons in Spanish were to be made available for the first time to enlisted men.

A better cause for surprise, we believe, is the revelation that such lessons are just now being made available. The fact that many men have applied for the lessons is not surprising. The surprise would have been justified if the "avalanche" of applications had not materialized.

The advantages of instructions in Spanish are too obvious for discourse in this nation which is making such efforts to promote good will and understanding with its Latin fellow-Americans. Nothing promotes good will like understanding, and a difference in language presents a tremendous obstacle to understanding. If that obstacle ever is to be removed in the Americas, then it must be through our own people who learn the easier Spanish rather than those Spanish-Americans whose opportunities to learn English, a very difficult language, are limited.

Most people in this nation would have something to gain from a knowledge of Spanish. But there is no group where such a knowledge is more desirable right now than among men of the armed forces whose defense of the Americas may require service in Latin lands.

incomparable freshness of things there that is weighted with the pleasant scents of earth and flowers. There was only a note in Freda's room when Pam went there. Pam read the large, flamboyant writing so characteristic of the girl. "Thanks for everything. I still mean what I said last night."

Strange Music Duval Street in Key West runs east and west, straight across the island. Near the west end, not far from the dock where vessels from foreign ports tie up, is a hall that is rented upon occasion for band practice.

Not far from the hall, across a vacant lot, is an empty house sagging under the weight of a vine that blooms with an order of brown flower that is dry and, at all appearances, lifeless even as its bud unfurls. It has a strange, luring sort of beauty that is changeless even after the dust of years has coated it. "Rose of Hell," the call it in Key West. Or by the less gusty souls, it is named "Wood Rose."

Two middle-aged tourists had stopped to admire the strange flower. The woman turned suddenly, her plain face lifted as if listening to some ethereal strain. "Tom! That must be an order of one singing! I've never heard anything like it!"

They stood entranced, the roses that never bear any fragrance, forgotten. A tone turned faintly and walked along Duval Street. Just opposite the two tourists he stopped, held to the spot by a harmony of sound issuing from the hall. Two voices were bending in a sort of melodic unity that was more than singing though.

Antoine, with his sensitive ear trained to catch every nuance, every imperfection of measure and beat, had the look of a man who had just made an important discovery. He turned, suddenly, and went into the hall, realizing only then that the girl's voice was familiar.

In the hall Lenore stood close to Vincenzo Baroli, her singing lips uplifted slightly to his. His voice, as he looked down at her, poured from his throat like sunlight water flowing over a bed of velvety moss. Antoine was struck by something in their voices, and their faces. He remembered seeing Baroli at the window while Lenore sang at his party at Pena's, sang with that odd brightness in Pam. Just how sweet you were to me. I wouldn't have been that way to you. I want you to know that it's only fair. I couldn't have been as big and fine as you've been. I fight for what I want in all the small ways a woman knows. I've never wanted anything as you want Jerry. If I had, I'd have been poisonous. I'd never have insisted that you be brought into my house, had things been reversed. I'm not mad of that kind of stuff. And I'm surprising myself in wanting you to have Jerry."

"But that was nothing," Pam said quietly. "Anyone would have done what I did."

"That's what you think. Really it was heroic. Pam. Not one girl in my crowd would have done that. Not one. From now on I'm with you, Pam."

"Thanks," Pam said in a very small voice. She was still hurt and stunned by the events and revelations of the night. "You will stay here?" she asked. "It's too late for you to go out alone."

"Yes, I will," Freda said with the quick decision of her sort. "Mother would scold me if I came in at this hour. So show me a bed. I'll phone the hotel in the morning to tell her I've stayed with friends."

Pam took her upstairs to a room that was a revelation of simple beauty. There was an old teakwood bed that had once been part of a ship that had sailed the early seas. There was a little round table that had been made to take a ship's roll. There were old and rare bits of bric-a-brac. Freda lay asleep almost as soon as Pam's soft footfalls left her room. Not Pam, however. She stood at her window, looking out into the star-swept early morning sky. The sweet heavy scent of the blooms of the orchid tree lay on the soft air. There were the low, vague sounds of tropic dawn—palm trees rustling, the sharp crack of the fruit of the sandbar tree exploding.

Pam turned finally to her own bed with its quaint patchwork quilt. She was more tired than she had realized. Sleep closed her eyes to the slowly waking world just as a shower dropped suddenly from the sky. One of those strangely tropical things—rain that comes swiftly and without warning from a suddenly clouding sky, and then stops just as quickly, leaving in its wake an

Today's Thought

WE could go on and on and on, indefinitely, citing instances to prove that the American citizen is less free—as an individual—than he has been at any time since the successful completion of the first war against England.

Further than that, all who can read and listen, realize that day by day regimentation, and laws, and red tape, and interference on the part of multitudinous federal bureaus and agencies, is lessening the freedom of action still left to the average citizen, be he worker, farmer, business or professional man. There's no use kidding ourselves about it. While we are the freest, or among the freest people on earth, we are NOT the freest in HISTORY.

Since the word "free" means, according to Webster, "not subject to arbitrary, external power; independent; free from the superlative of 'free,' the President evidently slipped a cog in his characterization of life in this nation today.

But simply because we have less individual freedom than we used to have—hence cannot make the freest nation in HISTORY—does not prove in itself that the nation as a whole isn't getting along better under the new economic and social order.

Many sincere, intelligent people argue with considerable logic that although our present form of government has curtailed the freedom of the individual, the curtailment of that freedom has made for better GENERAL conditions of living, hence more freedom for many Americans.

Many other sincere and intelligent people deny this statement; and with logic argue that, through gradual, continued loss of further individual freedom we Americans eventually will become as thoroughly regimented as the pliant herds of Germany and Russia.

The Plainsman has neither the time, the space nor the facts essential to prove or disprove either side of this argument.

But the fact remains that we are NOT the freest people in HISTORY, for the simple reason that we are less individually free today than we

That Girl on Broadway says don't inject your hat color into the conversation. Nobody cares a hoot about it!

Statistics show that people of the United States spend an average of $8,000,000,000 on sin every year. Sometimes we wonder if it's worth it!

WE have seen and heard all sorts of comment upon the war-and-peace angles of President Roosevelt's Navy speech, but we have seen or heard no comment at all upon one important statement contained in the address.

Toward the end of his remarks, broadcast to the nation and to the world at large, the President said: "We have come out of them (the trials and tribulations of floods, droughts, attacks of foreign tyrants, domestic strife, and staggering social, economic and physical problems) the freest nation in all history."

Have we? Let's examine the statement further.

Because of droughts, depression, a world aflame—AND a new type of national government—the people of the United States today are NOT as free as they were 15 years ago, and for many years prior to that time.

You doubt that statement? Well, have a look. Today, the American farmer cannot plant or market with the complete, individual freedom through which he carried on his business a decade and a half ago. He is bound by rules and statutes and dictated to upon every hand by committees and employees of the federal government.

The employer cannot always employ whom he wishes to employ; neither can he always discharge employees whom he wishes to discharge. He cannot, in many cases, set the remuneration involved. He frequently finds that he must pay some employee for work not even begun—at the order of a government agency.

The worker, be he skilled, or semi-skilled, cannot be his own man—even if he wishes. Whether he likes it or not, he must, in most cases, belong to some union—even though it be not the one of his choice. He has no say about whether—or how much—tribute he must pay in the form of dues to the embellished gentlemen who run his union. In many cases, his tribute in the form of dues is subtracted from his pay envelope before he ever gets it. In short, he is forced to pay higher-ups—some of whom he has never seen—for the right to ply his trade.

As he crashed into a finale that softened gradually until it was only a whisper, Barolli turned to Antoine and held out the baton.

"My name is Barolli," he said. "Give my boys a whirl. See how they follow." It was evident he was proud of his collection of young musicians, their dark, sensitive countenances testifying visibly of their Cuban heritage. There was an eagerness in their faces they turned to Antoine.

"And this is Edmund Antoine, Vin," Lenore said. "He's maestro at the hotel."

"Yes, I know," returned Barolli.

"You've evidently done some fine selecting and training here, Barolli," Antoine said. "I didn't suppose the island would produce this sort of stuff."

"Oh, yes. They're born musicians. They are so grateful for a chance to let it out."

"They could have plenty of chance," Antoine turned then to the musicians. He looked them over calmly, seemed to be taking stock of them. The music on the racks was the old number Fritz Scheff made famous: "Kiss Me Again." Antoine gave the boys a quick down beat.

Lenore and Vincent took up the words. Their voices soared, died to a tender pianissimo, and soared again. People passing on the street stopped to listen.

Barolli's smile, when he turned to Antoine as they finished, covered a riotous welling of emotion. He had been singing beside beautiful Lenore Wintroppe, his voice blending with hers, and his boys had played as they never had before. It was almost too much for one day.

"You do with them what I never can," he said.

"No—Antoine was quick to give credit where it was due—"all you need is a little time. Come around some morning. I'd like to have a talk with you. I've got to push along now. We play for lunch today."

"Edmund, I'm going your way. Let me drive you," Lenore offered quickly. And then, as Antoine suspected, after they had settled in Lenore's car, Lenore wanted to talk.

"Eddie, you won't say anything to Adele, will you? I mean about my being there with Vin? She and Father would just die if they knew. Of course it's not serious, I mean with Vin. It's just my art, my singing. And Ger vase is coming down with Father any time now. I just don't want anything unpleasant. You see they wouldn't understand."

"But I understand, Lenore," Antoine said seriously, wishing to set her fears at rest. "I won't mention anything to your mother or father or your handsome Count Ger vase de Bellefort—though I hate to see you throw yourself away on that effete gentleman!" He laughed a little on the last.

"You know Barolli really has got something."

"Oh, Eddie, do you think so, really?" Her eagerness was slightly surprising to Antoine.

When they reached Casa Marina Antoine dropped down on a bench for the few moments he still had left, and watched Lenore go into the hotel.

He wasn't so sure it was all just her art that took her to that barren hall to practice with Barolli. He had seen her face as she stood beside Barolli lifting her voice with his in song. Lenore hadn't realized how much was written there.

READY TO MOVE INTO—

Rumanians, Loaded With Booty, Returning Home

Declare That War Is Over

BY ERNEST G. FISCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WITH THE RUMANIAN ARMY

AT TIRASPOL, Occupied Russia, Oct. 21—(Delayed)—Day and night the tramp of boots and the clatter of horseshoes echo through the cobblestoned streets of this ancient city on the Dniester as a section of the Rumanian armed forces, loaded with booty, returns home from Russian conquests. Rumanian officers say the Russian war is over for them except for a cavalry corps, and perhaps two more corps, which will continue to represent Rumania in what they call a "common European front against Bolshevism."

Thousands Are Included (Anywhere from 100,000 to 250,000 men might be included in three corps.)

Apparently the Rumanians regard their territorial ambitions satisfied with an advance to the Bug river, from 50 to 100 miles beyond their 1939 frontier at the Dniester.

One returning contingent was strung out for approximately 20 miles and was hours passing through the city. These troops were afoot and mounted, but mostly rode hundreds of horse-drawn wagons taken as war booty in the Ukraine.

In contrast to the highly motorized army still moving eastward one west-bound Rumanian unit had about a dozen 18-centimeter cannon drawn by oxen.

Taken From Them Rumanians claimed the decrepit wagons, loaded with fodder and drawn by waxy little horses, mostly were taken from them when the Russians annexed Bessarabia a year ago.

The stream of horses, however, appeared to be an ill-omen for the coming year, for one can ride for hours through the fertile farmlands of the Dniester valley without seeing a single horse in the fields.

The land remains unplowed and unseeded, farmers said, because both their work animals and their tractors have been pressed into war service.

To Get Little Grain (This would appear to mean that the Germans will draw very little grain from their Ukraine conquests for another year at least. Most of the wheat grown in the Ukraine is winter wheat, and should be in the ground before now if it is to yield a crop next year.)

Now these war-weary horses, before the wistful eyes of Ukrainian farmers, were being prodded across the Dniester.

One irony of this was that one portion of Russia settled mostly by German, has been conquered by the Rumanians. Between here and Odessa our party passed through a number of villages given such names as Mannheim, Alsace and Strasbourg.

Even if they had horses, farmers along the main highways could get into the fields only at their peril because of mines.

These were sown so densely in some places that our military guide warned against leaving the highway. Rumanian crews were busy exploding them, and we frequently saw clouds of dust and smoke and heard loud reports as they were touched off.

To make good the loss of cod liver oil, Denmark is buying a huge quantity of carrots.

IN AUSTRIA in 1938, after anschluss, he whipped his army into a potent part of the Greater Reich military machine. Later he headed occupation of Sudetenland.

HIS STRATEGY and genius for swift attack brought fall of the Polish campaign. In the same campaign he engineered destruction of Polish Army of Corridor.

AT END of the Polish fighting, Hitler decorated him with the Knight's Cross. He came out of World War I with the decoration "Pour le Merite."

Philosophical Group Will Sponsor Page

Decision to sponsor a page in La Ventana, Texas Technological college yearbook, was reached by members of the college Philosophical society in the home of Dr. A. J. Bahm, sponsor, according to announcement Wednesday.

Next meeting of the society will be at Dr. Bahm's home, 2627 Twenty-third street, Nov. 18, it was announced Wednesday. At Tuesday night's meeting V. H. Britton, graduate student from Texas, read a paper, on "The Philosophy of Perfect Government." A motto was adopted and Miss Doren Tucker was named vice president of the organization.
