"Armed Ships To Cut Losses"—Knox

Move Branded Necessary To Counter Raids

Another "No Man's Land" In Iceland Waters Indicated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Arming of merchant ships was described by Secretary of Navy Knox today as one means of helping reduce American ship losses due to submarine attacks in the battle of the Atlantic.

At a press conference, the secretary was asked whether the employment of tactics new in maritime warfare as compared with World War methods meant that the arming of merchantmen would not be so effective as in 1917-18.

U-Boats In Packs
Emphatically, Knox replied that placing guns on such vessels would help reduce losses.

Submarines have no love for ships with guns on their decks," Knox declared. He said that new U-boat tactics revolved chiefly around hunting in packs.

The secretary declined comment on recent losses of American naval ships in a small area of the North Atlantic west of Iceland. He said that all the information the navy had received on the sinking of the Reuben James had been out and that a belated report was made on the torpedoing of the tanker Salinas only in order to permit that crippled vessel to reach port safely.

New "No Man's Land"
Germany intends to make the waters west of Iceland a major theater in the battle of the Atlantic, informed sources concluded today, and battle for a decision there with wolfpack U-boat tactics.

But She Turns Down The Job—Elector In Swanky Township Name Cook As Peace Justice

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Elector in swanky Sewickley Heights township chose Loretta Bernsdorff, 22, a domestic, as her justice of the peace but she turned down the job today.

Last September write-in voters gave Miss Bernsdorff the nomination in the Republican primary and yesterday she defeated her Democratic opponent, Harris Wachter, 42 to 39, in the general election.

Miss Bernsdorff said, however, she will not take over the office next January. She explained:

"My family is moving next week to another township and so I won't be able to accept the office."

Officials of the county board of elections confirmed her statement, saying that the office to which she was elected would be declared vacant in January if she moved from the township.

Miss Bernsdorff, who works as cook and maid in a Sewickley Heights home, said she hadn't campaigned but had paid any attention to yesterday's voting.

"I hadn't thought much about being elected so I am not worrying about not being able to take the office. I don't know how I came to be nominated, some people just wrote in my name."

"I don't know whether I should be elected or not."

Germans' Subs Operating Off Newfoundland

Hitler's Subs 900 Miles From Boston In Latest Threat

GERMANY'S U-boats were reported operating "off the coast of Newfoundland—within sight of the shore" today, indicating that the Reich had moved its undersea threat to the closest approach yet to American shores.

The disclosure was made by Canada's Navy Minister Angus Mac Donald.

Mac Donald's statement, placing units of the Nazi U-boat fleet, less than 900 miles north of Boston, followed shortly after a German spokesman in Berlin had declared:

"Now as always, we can only say who ever sails for England heads for certain death."

Planes, Warships, Attacking
The Berlin radio compared the warships and planes attacking German submarines "wherever we can find them," and in the presence of Rear Admiral Percy Nelles, Canadian naval chief of staff, he added:

"You can say there are submarines right off the coast of Newfoundland—that they are actually within sight of the shores."

St. John's, Newfoundland, is about 885 miles northeast of Boston.

Red Forces Split
In the Russo-German campaign, Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were reported to have stormed across the rugged Taimur mountains and headed for the Black sea, thus apparently splitting Russia's Crimean defense forces into three parts after a 100-mile advance in eight days.

The Berlin radio compared the Red army retreat with the British-French withdrawal from the bloody fields of Flanders to Dunkerque last year, declaring that roads were littered with smashed trucks and artillery while snow drifted over corpses heaped in the roadside ditches.

Russians In Flight
German troops were pictured as pursuing the Russians toward the Balachava heights, south of Sevastopol, where the British Light Brigade made its storied charge into the "valley of death" in the Crimean war of 1855.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters said Nazi troops had planted their swastika battleflags on the peninsula's south coast between Sevastopol and Kerch.

German dispatches yesterday said that Kerch, at the eastern tip of the Crimea, had been isolated by Axis forces which knifed across the neck of the pear-shaped peninsula and captured the coastal town of Feodosiya.

The reported crossing of the Crimean isthmus, which apparently still was alive when she was dragged into woods, he said there was evidence that she had clutched at low-hanging branches.

Former Envoy To Berlin On New Mission

Showdown Is Seen As Nippon Seeks "Understanding"

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—The Japanese government announced today that it was sending Saburo Kurusu, former ambassador to Germany, to Washington by trans-Pacific clipper in an effort to reach an accord with the United States "in view of the very serious situation prevailing."

Arrangements for Kurusu's trans-Pacific flight were made in radiophone talks last night between United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

The special envoy already is en route, having left Tokyo by plane yesterday.

The government spokesman said Kurusu's mission was to facilitate a United States-Japanese understanding through the talks which have been in progress in Washington since late August.

Domei news agency with close official connections, said Kurusu would second the efforts of Ambassador Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura to "explain the Japanese situation to United States leaders, including President Roosevelt."

Seven-Point Program
Nevertheless, the departure of the envoy, whose title is special adviser to Ambassador Nomura, coincided with publication in the Japan Times and Advertiser, foreign office organ, of a seven-point program which it said the United States must accept if an accord is to be reached.

In effect this called on America to withdraw her influence from the Orient, recognize Japan's military, economic and diplomatic conquests of the past ten years and approve her "very superior" in greater East Asia.

The same paper returned to the attack with an editorial in its afternoon issue.

Static Aids Crop Cotton Dried By Sandstorm!
What good is a sandstorm to a cotton grower?

"Plenty," said J. C. Newton, of Rural Route No. 3, to Walter S. Posey in First National bank this morning.

Newton, who lives approximately 10 miles northeast of Lubbock in the Badger Lake area, told Posey, bank executive, that "cotton picked today, after last night's dry wind and sandstorm, was bringing $55 a bale, as compared with $78 per bale on cotton from the same field several days ago."

Newton told Posey that the electricity, or static, in the wind "dried and fussed out the cotton" in a manner almost miraculous.

Girl's Body Is Found

South Plains Defense Units 'Very Superior'

SAGINAW, Mich., Nov. 5.—The body of a young girl who had been beaten to death with a heavy club was found today in a lonely woods near here.

The victim was tentatively identified as Miss Wanda Wheatley, 20, a Postal Telegraph company telephone operator who had been missing since Monday.

Club Is Found
The body, with the clothing disarranged as if by severe struggle, was found in woods, about 195 feet from a little-traveled dirt road, by Alex L. Druige, a Saginaw hunter.

Sheriff Hugo Muehlenbeck said he did not know whether the girl had been criminally assaulted.

Muehlenbeck found pieces of broken spectacles, part of a girl's garter and blood spots on the road. A bloody 18-inch birch club was found nearby.

Apparently still was alive when she was dragged into woods, he said there was evidence that she had clutched at low-hanging branches.

Mrs. M. E. Merrill, 75, formerly identified with the old Merrill hotel that was razed that the Hilton might be built there, died at 9 o'clock this morning at her residence at Rotan.

She had been ill several years. Recently she suffered pneumonia and her sister, Mrs. John C. Hart of Lubbock, went to her bedside twice in the last two weeks.

Services will be read sometime Thursday from the First Presbyterian church in Lubbock, by Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor. Burial will be in a Lubbock cemetery. Mrs. Merrill's husband was buried here in 1928, a son, Geover C. Merrill, later. Sanders Funeral home will bring the body to Lubbock.

Mrs. Merrill was born Feb. 24, 1866, in La Prairie, Ill. About 1894 she and her husband moved to Hale county, removing to Lubbock about 1905, relatives said.

The Merrills accumulated much property, including the hotel, a farm and a large tract of land.

Miraculous Healing Of Human Sores By New Drug Announced

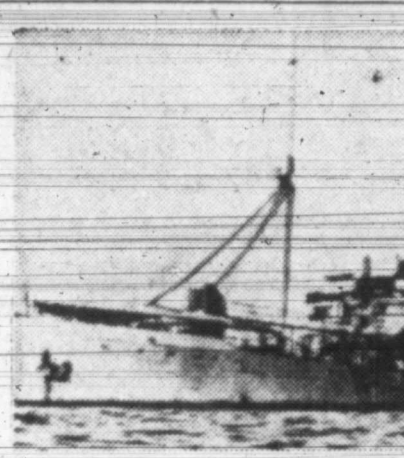

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Almost miraculous healing of human sores and wounds by a new drug discovered in the soil was reported to the American College of Surgeons here today.

The drug is gramicidin, and its potency is from 1,000 to 100,000 times greater than sulfanilamide. It was literally unearthed three years ago at the Rockefeller institute, New York City, by Dr. Rene D'Amico.

An idea of its potency is given by the fact that one millionth of a teaspoonful, which is about as much as a drop of mist, is sufficient to protect a mouse from 10,000 fatal doses of pneumonia germs.

Half a dozen of the nation's greatest medical institutions are starting human experiments with it, and the British government has asked for it to try on war wounded. Today's report was made by Doctors Charles H. Remmelkamp and Chester S. Keefer.

Germany's Shattering Air Power Repeating Previous Victories

Slukas Wreak Swift Damage

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

The battle of the Crimea is forming itself into grimly monotonous repetition of the lessons of the Peloponnesus and Crete.

These lessons are the vulnerability of even the best natural defenses of island or peninsula and the impotence of seapower operating in restricted waters—against the applied might of overwhelming air power.

Slukas Shatter Tradition

In another day the four-mile Perekop isthmus which connects Crimea with the Russian mainland would have been a death trap for an invader from the north, if properly defended. In this war the Germans negotiated it by combining air-borne shock troops, dive bombing, and ground assault from fast-striking mechanical units.

Up to very recently the Crimean war of 1853-56 despite its mismanagement, was pointed out in Britain as a historic demonstration of the potency of armies based on sea power.

Now the slukas are demonstrating the inability of the Russian Black sea fleet to reinforce or supply the Crimean armies which are being pushed back into the mountains and to the coasts of the Red river.

Nazis' Drives Advancing

German accounts, so far unchallenged by the Russians, indicate that the Soviet warships hovering off the coast have been forced to withdraw after firing a few shells at German positions already established on the coast. This can be understood if one remembers the grievous damage done to the British Mediterranean fleet by dive bombers off the coasts of Crete.

Meanwhile the German armies have trisected the Russian defenders in the south Crimea, German accounts assert. They have skirted the Yaila mountains on the east to reach the coast at Feodosya and to isolate Kerch, on the narrow strait which separates the Crimea from the Caucasus. They have crossed the mountains between Feodosya and Sevastopol, Russian naval base at the southwestern corner of the Crimea. The main Russian force probably is falling back at the western end of the Yailas onto Sevastopol and Balaklava, where the light brigade once charged and the Russian cannon "volleyed and thundered."

Russians Admit Grave Outlook

The Russians have not disguised the fact that the Crimean situation is grave, perhaps hopeless. Thus although the defenders can be counted on to fight a hard delaying action and while strong bands may hold out for a long time in the prehistoric caverns of the Yailas, the naval port of Sevastopol has lost its value and probably will, in due course, be evacuated. The Russian fleet then will operate from Novorossisk and Batum, on the east coast of the Black sea.

This fleet has its job cut out for it, because the Germans already are talking about using the Black sea as a supply lane for the armies which will assault the Caucasus via the strait of Kerch, the supplies to be shipped from Rumanian ports. Naturally German air power and possibly U-boats will be used to keep surface attackers at a distance from the supply ships.

Thus Hitler again is seeking to master time by the conquest of the Crimea and to hasten a deadly stroke into the oil lands that lie about Krasnodar, at the western end of the tall and icy Caucasus range.

Shivering causes contraction of the muscles and, like exercise, it can increase the appetite.

Work On Community Center Nears End

With Lubbock union painters donating their services in painting of the interior, work on the Lubbock Community Center, Sixth street and Avenue B, is nearing completion and only a few hundred dollars more are needed to make the institution debt free.

Mrs. R. A. Mills, president of the Church Women's Federation, said the federation is sponsor of the project which serves as a meeting place for residents of the Sanders school area. The building has been under construction for approximately two years and is now in daily and nightly use in spite of unfinished sections and construction activities.

Mrs. Mills said the federation was indebted to the various unions of Lubbock for their services in the building of the center. Carpenters, painters, plumbers, electricians, lathers and other groups of union laborers gave freely of their time in construction of the building.

A host of materials was donated by various Lubbock lumber and building material firms. Mrs. Mills said an effort will be made to secure the final donations for the project and clear the property of all obligations before the close of the year.

State Jaycee Leader Will Speak In City

Members of Lubbock's five service clubs, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other civic leaders are being invited by members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce to their luncheon Monday noon at the Hilton hotel when Fred F. Morgan of Corpus Christi, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, will speak.

"We hope to have an attendance of 200 or more persons at the luncheon," George Dale, chairman of the Jaycee inter-club relations, said this morning. "Morgan is an excellent speaker and we are especially anxious that as many of Lubbock's business and professional men hear his talk as is possible. Anyone in Lubbock is invited to the luncheon."

Morgan will be accompanied by Thurmond Krueger, also of Corpus Christi, executive secretary of the Texas Jaycees. They will only be in Lubbock for Monday's luncheon and will go from here to Sweetwater to attend a regional meeting opening Monday afternoon and continuing through Tuesday at Sweetwater. A number of Lubbock Jaycees plan to attend the Sweetwater session.

ERVY ICE-BOATERS, you'll remember from your high school science book, can actually race along faster than the wind they've got. Yet they can never get to the finish line as soon as the judges waiting there! That's something like fast flow alone never getting a motor oil to lubricate as soon as Winter OIL-PLATING, which you can have in your engine by changing to Conoco Nth oil—patented.

Conoco Nth flows fast, all right, but that's not all. Conoco Nth includes a rare man-made extra substance with magnet-like action, which joins up OIL-PLATING to engine parts. This close-bonded OIL-PLATING isn't all draining down as the car stands. That's why OIL-PLATING is already there—far up the cylinder walls ahead of every start—while lubrication that depends on fast flow alone would still be trying to get there! Before breakfast, OIL-PLATING is already way up where lubricant can help most to make quick Winter starting safe.

Not long after every cold start, of course, your engine is as hot as the good old Summertime. So your Winter oil still needs heat-resistance for mileage economy. And here's the strict reality about Conoco Nth mileage as revealed by the Certified Death-Test down in the Death Valley desert . . .

Conoco Nth competed impartially against five other big-name brands. 5-quart fills of each brand—locked in identical stock cars—had to keep speeding, day on day, till each oil hit bottom . . . till each engine met Death. One rival gave out—engine a wreck—while Conoco Nth was still up at 3.65 quarts . . . Certified. And even the runner-up died hopelessly while the original 5-quart fill of Conoco Nth was still up at a good 2.7 quarts! . . . Certified.

Long live your oil—your battery—your OIL-PLATED engine. Change now to popular-priced Conoco Nth for Winter at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other Death-Tested oils.

In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.

Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps to save gasoline, too.

Anthony Eden Comes Back--As Great Britain's Number Two Leader

Diplomat Has Bright Future

BY PAUL MANNING
NEA Service Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 5.—If Winston Churchill were to die, the King would ask Anthony Eden to take over and form a new cabinet. For Eden today is again the number two man of British politics.

Lord Beaverbrook has too many enemies in and out of government circles to advance much further. Ernest Bevin could develop into a political colossus when war ends, but signs indicate he will not.

The upper-class conservatives tolerate Bevin because he represents the group upon which they must depend to win this war. But labor, while currently acknowledging Bevin as its champion, is today split, and when present emergency war laws are one day rescinded, the burly labor leader from Bristol will probably find that he, too, lacks a great political future.

The youthful freshness... has gone and...

Took Too Much Responsibility

So Anthony Eden is again the bright boy of British politics and today he unofficially admits that it feels good. It was in 1933 that he resigned his post as foreign secretary in disagreement with the Chamberlain faction over Mussolini and the Italian question and retired—at age 33—to the country with his wife Beatrice and their two sons. Since then he has been disappointed to his many friends.

... today, you see a man who has aged tremendously.

They could not understand his reluctance to head a new liberal party and were puzzled when he refused to accuse his former colleagues in the cabinet, all members of the Conservative party, of diplomatic blundering and lack of vision. And they were angry when he bore the blame, as foreign secretary, for all that happened during that ill-fated period.

Winston Churchill now says: "Eden was made to bear a good deal of discredit, which properly rested on others."

Regularly Paid Dividends

That's over now, and Eden's reluctance to kick over the party line has paid dividends. He has the unqualified support of the Conservative party, still the most potent backing a political figure in England can get.

And Winston Churchill, head of that Conservative party, has acknowledged this backing by drawing into his cabinet, first as war minister, then as foreign secretary, the man they once labeled the "Beau Brummel of British politics."

The first thing Eden did when he became foreign secretary was to cut down the elaborate quarters at the foreign office which Lord Halifax had made into a combination eight-room office-apartment. He reduced the place to two rooms and turned the rest into small offices for key clerks.

He sleeps and works in these quarters and each day he follows about the same routine. A foreign office messenger, who acts as his valet, carries out his clothes, draws a tepid bath, then calls his chief at eight. Eden bathes, dresses, eats breakfast and then goes straight to his desk in another room. Until ten o'clock in the morning he pores over reports, dictates memos and messages to the men of the foreign staff in the British embassy offices of the world.

Routine Is Busy One

At ten, he leaves for the customary cabinet meeting at No. 10 Downing. This gives him thirty minutes in which to walk through St. James park for the only exercise he gets, aside from an occasional game of tennis in the country.

After luncheon he's back in his office for an afternoon crowded with appointments. At no time does he keep a record of what is said during these interviews, but the last task he performs at the end of his official day is to dictate a resume of whatever occurred of importance.

He usually to be found around the Churchill dinner table every evening, because that is when many knotty problems of the day's war effort can best be unraveled. The prime minister, Eden, and other key men of the inner circle talk far into the night.

Hundreds of Different Kinds of Plants Found in Lubbock And On South Plains; Only Three Trees Are Native To Section

BY R. G. EDWARDS

Lubbock and vicinity have hundreds of different plants, both native and imported, but there are only three trees native to the Plains. These are the words of Dr. E. L. Reed, Texas Tech botany professor and authority on West Texas plants.

According to Dr. Reed there are 849 different kinds of plants growing on the Plains near Lubbock and innumerable species that have been imported or brought here by other means.

Wild Flowers In Profusion

Wild flowers grow in profusion on the Plains and counting, different colors, species and types more than 900 can be found.

Different types of plants growing on the Plains are grasses, shrubs and trees. Of the trees the only ones that are native are the hackberry, mesquite and white oak. All different types of trees have been imported but the non-native trees the Chinese elm seems to thrive the best in this climate.

Chinese elms must be transplanted by man, for the period of germination lasts only three months and for this reason it seldom spreads as does mesquite and other trees.

Grasses Cover Ranches

Ranches which made the Plains famous were covered with native grama and buffalo grasses. Other grasses are native to the Plains but these two are the most common.

Loco can also be found in the vicinity of Lubbock. On the Plains are found patches of woolly loco.

Anthony Eden had decided by the time he was ready for Eton that he would be a parson in the Church of England. He took the Bible to bed with him and memorized its passages. He dreamed and prayed at Eton and he won the Brinkley-Brimley prize.

Along came the first World war. Four years, and he returned to the shadow of Canterbury Cathedral, a major. But in the ensuing four years he had lost his desire for the ministry and after trying his hand, briefly, as a painter, he entered politics. It was a smooth and rapid journey that this idealistic pilgrim made to the cabinet.

He was defeated his first try for a seat in Parliament from the section of England called Gateshead. The Conservative party gave him another chance by letting him run as its candidate from near-by Leamington, in the Midlands.

Protege Of Baldwin

He won. During the campaign he married the daughter of Sir Gervase Beckett, part owner of the powerful and very influential Post. From then on it was smooth sailing.

Sir Gervase Beckett was a personal friend of Stanley Baldwin, useful to an up-and-coming politician, and that's when Eden began really moving in the very select circles of Conservative party politics.

Stanley Baldwin liked the talented, well-mannered M. P. from Leamington and he, too, began to push Eden along. It was not a hard job to do, because the other elderly pillars of the party—Anthony Eden's modest readiness to listen, his ability to put a case suavely and convincingly.

The move upward was interrupted during his tenure as foreign secretary when he resigned from the cabinet over Mussolini and the Italian question, which he believed was handled in criminal fashion.

Time and events brought the man back, however. He is a man who, though still magnificently suave, is no longer the dreamy Eden of pre-1938, but a hard-working realist who fully knows that upon what he does may depend the fate of an empire.

This is the plant that causes stock to lose their senses when near water.

There are some wild grapes and other fruits on the Plains but these are found in such small quantities that they are not worth picking.

Usual Methods

Some of the plants that are not native have come here by unusual methods. Johnson grass was brought in by being mixed with seeds such as maize and wheat. Russian thistles, which cause much damage, blew in by tumbling before the wind. Some government specialists claim that goat-heads became scattered by sticking in the rubber tires of automobiles and tractors.

Some months ago Dr. Reed found a plant at the Meadowbrook golf course that so far as is known has never been noticed here before. The plant is commonly known as California plant or Yerba Mansa. This plant is found in the Trans-Pecos region of Texas and in parts of California and New Mexico. The seeds of the plant are extremely small and Dr. Reed is of the opinion that shore birds such as cranes gathered the seeds on their muddy feet and transplanted them to this section.

Birds—quite frequently—carry seeds of plants into another region.

Useless Plants Valuable

Many of the seemingly useless plants found in the vicinity of Lubbock have more value than could be imagined. Cactus, or prickly pear, has been used by some experimenters to make preserves. The plants have never been used on a commercial basis but some experimenters claim prickly pear preserves are excellent.

Yucca found in great quantities on the Plains seemingly has no value at all. This plant, however, is used by some Mexicans for shampoo, the seeds of the plant make excellent soap which gives the hair a luster that is difficult to obtain with other compounds. Experiments are being pushed forward to extract fiber from the plant. Dr. Reed stated that yucca would have to be grown on a commercial basis before soap could be manufactured with any great degree of success.

Practically every farm plant has been introduced to the Plains and other plants are rapidly being brought in. Several years ago experiments were made to plant trees across the Plains but according to Dr. Reed it would be practically impossible to plant enough trees to cover the Plains and the dryness of the climate makes this region unfit for most trees except native growth. Imported trees usually have to be watered during a dry year. The year 1941 has yielded enough moisture to support most trees but

JUVENILE CRIME UP

LONDON (AP)—Juvenile crime in Britain is increasing to an alarming degree, according to the home office and board of education. Since the war started, juvenile crime in Britain has increased by 41 per cent, and in some months, it has increased by 65 per cent over the last peace-time figures.

on an average the rainfall is not sufficient to support imported growth.

Has Large Collection

Dr. Reed can classify approximately 10,000 plants and has quite a collection in his office at Tech. At the present time Dr. Reed is running experiments for uses of different plants. He is working with mesquite roots and is running experiments in an effort to use them for pipes. Pipes made from mesquite are fairly successful but have a tendency to crack after five or six months use. Dr. Reed is working on a process to keep the bowl from cracking under heat.

It is difficult to say but from experiments being run it may be possible that Lubbock may some day receive profits from its useless plants such as mesquite, yucca and prickly pear.

Mrs. Cecile Hardy Concludes Series Of Lectures; Cactus Director To Visit

Scouts Have Busy Week

This is a busy week for Girl Scout leaders, council members and others interested in Scouting with a lecture visit of an advisor from the national office and the coming Thursday of Edith Sinnett of Dallas, director of the Cactus region which includes Lubbock.

Mrs. Cecile Hardy, health and safety advisor, gave the last in a series of lectures this morning at the Scout Little House. She was guest of honor at a luncheon at the Mexican Inn at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Rindlaub Resigns

Coincidental with the morning meeting, Mrs. Bruce Rindlaub tendered her resignation as Lubbock Girl Scout commissioner, effective Nov. 10. Since it will soon be time to set up plans for the 1942 season and because the status as permanent residents during the present emergency is unlikely, Mrs. Rindlaub said she thought it best to resign in favor of one who is a permanent resident. Major Rindlaub is commander of the Tech R. O. T. C.

Her resignation was handed to Mrs. Grady West, vice commissioner, who will present it at the next council meeting.

Miss Sinnett is expected to arrive early tomorrow for a one-day visit.

Mrs. Hardy addressed a group at Senior High school Tuesday evening.

"Keep Healthy"

Opening with the commendation of the Parent-Teacher study courses of Lubbock, the speaker listed three points for students: "Keep healthy, make friends and know your job."

Mrs. Hardy reminded the audience that more than ever the idea of good health for defense is being flaunted in our facts and that "a nation has no greater asset than good health."

The important point, the speaker stated, "is bridging the gap between what we know on one hand, and on the other, what we do." With this, she stated the duty of the parent to encourage in youth (1) "a knowledge of the importance of health" (2) "the incorporation of healthful practices."

"The cry has gone up from women of America," the speaker said, "of 'what can we do?'—And an answer to your abilities, desires and interest in young people can be found in service with Girl Scouts."

Leaders Luncheon

Mrs. Hardy spoke on "Health and Safety in the Girl Scout Program" at the Girl Scout Leaders association luncheon held at the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel at 1 o'clock Tuesday.

Those present were Mesdames Bert Colard, Bruce Rindlaub, G. A. White, S. E. Gillespie, John W. Thomas, Clyde Sanders, C. J. Heatley, H. H. Van Aken, James G. Baker, Allen Hamilton, H. D. Weston, Glenn Ridge, N. H. McFarland, Fred H. Childress and G. R. Evans and Miss Doris Hoping.

Energetic Club Attends Luncheon; Hear Guest

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

When a man gets fed up with his boss and decides he is underpaid and under-appreciated, a wife's natural reaction is to tell her husband he is exactly right.

Not only that, women being wildcats at heart when any of their loved ones are attacked, the wife is likely to get more riled up over the situation than her husband.

In that state of mind she convinces her husband that he is really the brains of the organization and that it would serve old-so-and-so right if he would up and leave him. Then the boss would realize just what he had lost.

There is something admirable in that kind of feminine reaction—but it usually isn't very bright.

It encourages a man either to go on with his job feeling that he is being walked on, or it gets him keyed up enough to throw up the job just to show old-so-and-so.

And the man probably can't afford to indulge in either method of nursing his pride.

It might be, and probably is, very important to that family that its head find a more sensible solution to the problem. A woman should control her resentment and help him find it.

TAKING LONG RANGE POINT OF VIEW

First she ought to realize that when two persons don't get along it is seldom the fault of just one of them. So she should try to see if her husband isn't being too touchy, or if he isn't childishly expecting more praise or more credit for what he does than one is likely to get in the business world.

If so, she should gently but firmly make her husband see the situation honestly. If won't draw him as close to her as the moment as would blaming the boss for everything and calling him names—but it will make for a better solution of his problem in the end.

Even if her calm judgment tells her that the boss is really at fault, a wife should go easy on encouraging resentment against him in her husband's mind.

Maybe the family can't afford for Papa to risk his job at the moment—or maybe, taking a long range view of the situation, it is important to the man's future that he make the best of an unpleasant situation for a time.

If either of those things is true, a wife should be careful not to increase her husband's discontent; but should say, "Of course, it's a bad situation—but it looks as though for the time being you'll have to put up with it. But we'll do everything in our power to make the time as short as possible."

And then, being a good wife, she'll see that her husband's home life is as happy as possible—and that whatever beating the pride takes at work, he'll be allowed to feel like head man around his house.

Spain's Fascists Lead New Propaganda Drive Against Americans

Pro-Axis Latin Nations Goal

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A new campaign of Axis propaganda, espionage and potential sabotage is being launched against this country. Its plan is to slip a knife into vulnerable defense spots behind a cloak that suits Latin-American taste better than do brown and black shirts—the scarlet and gold of Spanish Fascism.

This original Fifth Column—from Spain, where the term was coined—is now to become the sharp point of Axis secret warfare against American interests in the western hemisphere, which included not only Puerto Rico and Cuba, etc., but Texas and California.

they are en route back, fares paid by the Axis.

On arrival, they will become unpleasantly busy in operations for which Spain and Portugal are to be increasingly important springboards. They will improve the spy and propaganda courier service via ships flying various flags. They will intensify efforts, already reported by our authorities as dangerous, to recruit to their anti-American ranks Spaniards near our defense outposts, working on chosen groups behind closed doors, stressing at first cultural ties with the old country.

They will add to the 8,000 agents they are known to have sent to Latin America to work for restoration of the Spanish influence as against Pan-Americanism. They don't admit it openly, but that means that Spain should get back her former empire in the western hemisphere, which included not only Puerto Rico and Cuba, etc., but Texas and California.

you pay up on loans, and anyway, the Axis will soon rule the world.

In politics: "Don't let the Gringos build their Pan-American Highway or defense bases; those are tricks to help their new army invade and conquer you. Already they are plotting with Spanish Republicans to invade the Canary Islands and other Spanish possessions."

Such stories and advice are harmful when spread by influential Spaniards. In Panama, Falange leaders include proprietors of big stores and agents of widely advertised articles, whose money comes from this country. In the Philippine schools contributions have been collected and scholarships offered. In Puerto Rico, Falange sympathizers are said to include university instructors and at least one government official, and to be encouraging the movement for independence from the United States.

EX-MATES MOONSTRUCK ON MAINSTEM—Divorced only a few days before in Reno, pretty Puk Paaris and ex-hubby, Dr. Joseph E. Gevaert, seem to be hitting it up all right in a New York nitery. Sigh they: "It's possible we made a mistake."

Spanish consulates have not been expelled from the United States, as have German and Italian consulates, and their staffs still move freely and can handle jobs for both Axis partners. Also there are Falange groups, sometimes organized as social organizations, in several cities including New York where Franco has influential sympathizers. Our government has handled Franco gently, but is now trying to counter the Falange's threat to the Mexican border and Panama canal. The Mexican government is being urged to force all aliens to register. This is only a half-measure for many Falangistas are Mexican citizens.

Powers Is Selected To Head Teachers

Members of the Lubbock county unit of the Texas State Teachers association elected Dan W. Powers, dean of men in Lubbock Senior High school, their president at the fall meeting in Junior High school here Tuesday night. He succeeds A. L. Faubion, superintendent of New Deal school.

Floyd Honey of Lubbock and E. W. Harper of Roosevelt were named first and second vice presidents, respectively. Miss Irene Arms of Slaton was chosen secretary and R. W. Matthews, Senior High principal, was named treasurer.

District house delegates selected were Dr. Lewis Cooper and Dr. R. E. Garlin, both of Texas Tech; D. M. Howell, Miss Evelyn Jones, H. C. Bowlin, Matthews and Honey, all of Lubbock; Roy Boyd and John Jenkins of Slaton, G. L. Farrar of Friendship, E. P. Duvick of Cooper, N. B. Wilkerson of Idalou, J. B. Johnson of New Deal and Harper.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson of Texas Technological college was main speaker. The mixed chorus of Senior High school, under direction of Mrs. Waldo Trotter, sang, Juanita James of New Deal presented a vocal solo and a Senior High clarinet quartet played.

HAIR TRIMMER PATENTED JOHNSTOWN, Pa. U.S. — With the new "one-man portable barber shop" patented by Joseph Grachan of Johnstown, the male population could keep well groomed without having to undergo long waits at a barber shop. The trimmer would be adaptable for any standard razor-blade.

More than 300,000 have enrolled in a voluntary movement in northwest England of people prepared to give up their Sundays and go anywhere to help after an air raid.

Great Britain Said Preparing For Large-Scale Aerial Offensive

Blows By Air To Aid Soviet

(By The United Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Well-informed government officials said today that Great Britain is preparing for a large-scale aerial offensive against the Germans on the Russian front.

That will be the British government's reply to demands by the British public for direct military aid to the Russians, these officials said.

Planes Are Moved In

For the last six weeks, according to information received here from competent sources abroad, the British have been moving an ever-increasing number of planes, fighters and bombers—into Russia. The planes will be manned by seasoned RAF pilots.

Major combat operations will not be undertaken by the RAF expeditionary force until all arrangements have been completed for maintenance and supply. Even British ground crews, officials said, are being sent to Russia.

The bombers, it was understood, are being flown directly to Russia from the United Kingdom. The fighters are being transported in all sorts of aircraft carriers, presumably some aircraft carriers, to Russian ports, whence they are flown to air bases well behind the lines.

Air Aid Sorely Needed

These sources said few, if any, planes have been made available for Russian aid from Britain's Middle East command.

British air aid was sorely needed by the Russians, the officials said, to slow up or stop the onslaughts of German dive bombers. The Russians were said to feel they could cope more effectively with German panzer divisions if the Stukas, which operate in coordination with the ground forces, could be counteracted.

Gauge Filed On Well Here

An official gauge showing 160 barrels of 28-gravity oil pumped in 24 hours from the Lee C. Harrison and associates No. 1 W. G. Nairn Estate discovery well three and one-quarter miles east of Lubbock was filed Tuesday in Midland at district preparation offices of the Texas railroad commission.

They further stated the well has a gas-oil ratio of 300-1. It topped pay at 4,870 feet in Clear Fork, Lower Permian, lime and is bot-tomed at 5,000 feet. The well was acidized with 2,000 gallons and shot with 460 gallons of nitro. It is located 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 25, block A, John H. Gibson survey.

Drillpipe Recovered

Stuck drillpipe was recovered from Harrison and Tohe Foster No. 1 E. L. Steck, Lubbock wildcat three and one-quarter miles west by northwest of the discovery pumper, and is drilling ahead past 4,750 feet in lime.

Broderick and Associates

Amon C. Garter and associates No. 1 G. H. Hayward, Bailey county wildcat nine miles southwest of Muleshoe, is reported drilling in lime at 3,980 feet. It is a closed operation and no information is being released about the well.

Magnolia Petroleum Company

No. 6-E Mallet Land and Cattle company, on the Hockley county side of the Slaughter field, which also extends into Cochran and Terry counties, was completed for a daily potential flow of 1,209.6 barrels at 5,013 feet after acidizing with 10,500 gallons.

Water Is Present

Ray A. Albaugh, and Richmond Drilling company, Midland, No. 1 J. J. Handley, prospective pool opener in northwestern Davos county, is reported swabbing an average of two barrels of fresh oil hourly on natural test. A small amount of water is present when bailer is run to bottom. It has not yet been ascertained whether this is formation water or drilling fluid pumped back into the porous lime.

No. 1 Handley now is being swabbed from bottom of 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,776 feet. In swabbing fluid down to that point it had yielded an estimated six barrels of fluid hourly, 70 to 80 per cent oil and the balance sediment and water. The well is bottomed at 4,980 feet in lime, three additional feet having been made with cable tools after rotary was moved off.

Anderson Richard O. corporation and American Drilling corporation No. 1 W. L. Ellwood estate, northeastern Hockley county wildcat, checked normal regionally on anhydrite topped at 2,093 feet and salt topped at 2,195 feet. The scheduled 5,500-foot test is 18 miles northeast of the Slaughter field.

Six-inch Prairie Oil company No. 1 Charles J. Kleiner, wildcat four miles east of Plains in Central Yoakum county, completed repairs to clutch and now is drilling below 5,389 feet in time. It logged some oil staining in cuttings and in the top two feet of a core from 5,370-84 feet.

Some cores bleeding oil are reported to have been recovered between 5,203 and 5,248 feet in American Drilling corporation No. 1 W. T. Humall, wildcat in western Terry county. It is coring ahead below the latter point.

Texas Co. 2-J University, on the east side of the Emma pool in southern Andrews county, flowed at a rate of 816.96 barrels per day upon completion at 4,325 feet after acidizing with 5,000 gallons.

TEXAN AND FAMILY BACK FROM JAPAN—P. D. Brown, a native of Clarendon, Texas, but a business man in Tokyo for 25 years, is shown with his Japanese wife and five children as they arrived in Seattle, Wash. They returned to this country on the Japanese liner Hikawa Maru.

Settlement In Strike Sought

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Associate Director Sidney Hillman of the OPM said today a committee representing striking west coast welders had agreed to ask the strikers to return to work immediately.

The number involved in the walkout is estimated variously by the union at 20,000 and by the OPM labor division at 5,000. About 10,000 other workers have been made idle by the strike.

All Night Negotiations

After all night negotiations Hillman said Karl V. Morris, president of the United Welders, Cutters and Helpers of America, had been designated to call off the walkout by long distance telephone.

As soon as the men returned to work, Hillman added, the OPM would call a conference of the welders, OPM labor officials, and representatives of other labor organizations interested in the dispute in an effort to find a permanent solution of the welders' troubles.

Tension Drops In Oil Circles

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—Signs of lessening tension in the oil industry, at least in Texas, appeared this week.

Regulatory authorities noted a drop in Gulf coast storage, the only Texas district reporting a decrease in stocks above ground, which was taken as an indication demand henceforth would be spread evenly over the state.

Yields To Crise

In recent months the Gulf coast area has yielded to the North and West Central Texas and Panhandle districts in cries for larger allowances.

The removal of oil from storage was considered an aftermath to the return to coastwise service of some of the tankers recently released by the British.

To Continue Strong

Informal estimates were that demand would continue strong for several months and might climb five to 10 per cent above present levels.

United States Production

The week ended Nov. 1 declined 29,650 barrels to 4,074,900, the Oil and Gas Journal reported. Texas increased 11,050 to 1,469,590. Oklahoma was up 11,050 to 436,300 and eastern fields increased 600 to 114,250. All other production declined slightly.

"Whoever Sails For Britain Sails To His Death," German Retort

FDR's Policy Again Rapped

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—A spokesman, commenting on the torpedoing of the American naval tanker Salsburg, said today the "German government's reaction to these cases is always the same: Whoever sails for Britain sails to his death."

The spokesman said the press extracts from a number of American criticisms of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's criticism of Finland including those of former president Herbert Hoover, Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., and the New York Sun.

Some Are Decent

The spokesman said "there are at least some decent Americans." "These few extracts," he said, "show the world that it is not right to identify the entire American people with the policy of Roosevelt and the Jewish men behind him and that there are Americans who wish to have nothing to do with these gangsters and ghetto manners."

"We have no illusions," he said, "about the fact that Roosevelt will continue to stick fingers into European affairs despite angry cries of his American fellow countrymen and we are aware that this interference cannot be countered alone by decent Americans but that we must at all times be prepared to meet them with our own measures."

Temple Farm Hand Drowned In Lake

Members of Lubbock fire department assisted in the four-hour job of locating and recovering the body of Otis Moore, 26, negro farm hand from Temple, who drowned in a surface lake on the H. N. Delancey farm five miles northwest of Shallowater Tuesday afternoon.

Grappling hooks were used from a row boat to search for the body. It was deemed useless to attempt artificial respiration since the body was under water so long, firemen said.

Delancey said the black had been offered $1 to recover a raft in the lake and that he had been told not to try to swim the cold water. While Delancey and another of his negro hired hands went for a boat, Moore started to the raft.

Moore's cries for help attracted Delancey and the negro. He had sunk when they arrived at the lake shore.

John Nugent, Noel Waldrop, Alfred Parrack, Craig Bonds, W. A. Hood, firemen, and Herbert Spence assisted in recovering the body.

Sweden's National Federation of Labor unions now has 261,000 members.

Double Help for WOMEN!

What do you do when headache, nervousness, cramp-like pain, lack of energy and appetite, or some other form of periodic, functional distress begins to make you miserable? Why not do as thousands of women and take CARDUI?

There are two ways to take it. First: To help relieve periodic pain and discomfort, start three days before "your time" and follow directions. Second: To assist in building energy, strength, through increased flow of gastric juice which helps appetite and digestion, take it by directions as a tonic. Women who use it both ways seem to be CARDUI's most enthusiastic boosters.

Transplanting Of Portion Of Cat's Eye To Human Reported

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 5.—Transplanting of the cornea of a cat's eye to a human being to restore partial vision was described today before the Pan-American Homeopathic congress.

The operation, declared to be one of the newest in surgery, was reported by Dr. Mario Escobar of Mexico City through a motion picture film and a description by Dr. Angel Camargo, also of Mexico City. Because of illness Dr. Escobar was not present.

Only three persons have received the cat eye transplants, Dr. Camargo declared, but all three, formerly completely

Highway Bond Issue Approved In Lamb

SUDAN, Nov. 5 (Special)—A bond issue of $145,000 for construction of highways in district No. 4 of Lamb county was approved by a vote of 239 to 114 in an election Tuesday. A two-thirds majority was required for approval of the bonds.

The election was the second. The first election last June 10 was defeated by a vote of 125 for to 95 against.

Road district No. 4 was created by the last session of the legislature. L. E. Slate, former postmaster, was presiding judge at the election.

Re-Election Of Mayor LaGuardia Highlights Voting Over Country

East, South Scene Of Odd-Year Balloting; Boston Keeps Mayor

Two congressmen, a governor, a lieutenant governor, an attorney general, two legislatures and many judges, sheriffs and mayors were elected yesterday.

In Mississippi, Jamie Whitten, Charleston attorney, apparently defeated L. A. Pyle, New Albany attorney, for the unexpired congressional term of Sen. Wall Doxey, who was elected to complete the term of the late Sen. Pat Harrison.

LaGuardia Gets Third Term. In Pennsylvania, Wilson D. Gillette, Republican state legislator, defeated George O. Wainer, Monroe county district attorney, in a 18th congressional district special election for the unexpired term of the late Rep. Albert G. Ruthenford.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, a Republican, was re-elected to a third term over Democratic candidate William O'Dwyer, district attorney of King's county (Brooklyn), who broke the record of 100,000 votes in the 1937 election.

Boston Mayor Re-Elected. Mayor Maurice J. Tobin of Boston, a Democrat, apparently was re-elected to a second term, defeating James M. Curley, former Democratic governor and mayor of Boston, who was elected to a third term.

Tuck, lieutenant-governor, and re-elected Abram P. Staples, attorney general. All are Democrats, and the election was only confirmation of the winners of the Democratic primary. Virginia also elected a state legislature.

LaGuardia Leads By 133,841 Votes

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Tammany Hall was frozen out of New York City's government for another four years today as complete returns from yesterday's municipal election assured Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, "the little flower," of his third term.

To make matters worse for "the Hall," the country's best known and most denounced political organization, voters approved a proposition that abolishes most of the non-federal jobs which have kept it alive during the eight years LaGuardia has kept the municipal patronage faucets closed to it.

William O'Dwyer, former policeman and the prosecutor who broke Brooklyn's gang of professional killers, Murder, Inc., ran the best race of three Democratic candidates who have opposed "the little flower," but complete figures from the city's 4,059 election districts brought him up 133,841 votes short. LaGuardia got 1,186,394 votes; O'Dwyer, 1,052,553 votes. LaGuardia's plurality was considered a small one.

Two Indictments For Murder Are Returned

SEMINOLE, Nov. 5 (Special)—Two persons were indicted on charges of murder with malice by the grand jury in the 106th district court of Judge Louis B. Reed here Tuesday.

Ralph Prather, about 25, was named in the slaying in August of George Dark on the Dark farm near Seminole.

A negro woman, Lela Grant, was billed in the death of her husband in September.

In all, 11 bills were reported by the grand jury that had been impaneled Monday. J. N. Kemper, about 24, and another man were indicted for cattle theft. The other defendant was not in custody tonight.

Other bills included three for theft of oil field property, two for forgery and three for child desertion.

The cases have been set for hearing the week of Dec. 1. The jury was assisted in its investigation by Rollin McCord of Tahoka, district attorney.

AVERAGE

Although it is the largest state east of the Mississippi river, Georgia most nearly approaches the average area of all the 48 states in the United States.

841 votes short. LaGuardia got 1,186,394 votes; O'Dwyer, 1,052,553 votes. LaGuardia's plurality was considered a small one.

AIRPORT HUMS

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Albuquerque, the nation's 283rd city in population, is surpassed only by Cleveland and two army posts in size of its airport. Its municipal airport, only four years old, is bettered by Cleveland's which was 20 years in the service. Cleveland ranks sixth in the nation's population.

BOISE, Mont. (AP)—If you would like a buffalo steak or one of the shaggy skins for an overcoat you had better hurry—the 139 animals for sale from the National Bison range here are not expected to last long. Prices for the huge animals range from $40 to $60, f.o.b.

VETERANS OF '38 DWINDLE—WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 7,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War died in the 12-month period between June 30, 1940, and June 30 of this year, leaving 152,000 veterans of that war on government payrolls, according to the U. S. Veterans Administration.

East Texas State Teachers Ace Claims National Passing Record

Star Hills 73 In 130 Shots

COMMERCIAL, Nov. 5.—Modest J. C. Meeks has completed 73 passes out of 130 attempts for 901 yards and if that isn't the national college record for the season East Texas State Teachers folks will want proof in affidavit form.

He's the boy who has swept East Texas Teachers to the top of the Lone Star conference and who has kept the Lions in the ranks of the undefeated teams.

Was a "Gift" — But no hero—in his own opinion — is this red-headed, chunky runner and passer who is ranked as the greatest all-around back in East Texas Teachers history.

He's so conservative—frisky is the word—that he washes and irons his own shirts in his dormitory room. You see, he works his way through school.

Meeks came to East Texas State Teachers as a gift. He was a star at Oklahoma Baptist university but football was abandoned there last year. So he just stepped across the Red river from Chandler and became a Lion.

Has Amazing Record — And what a break for East Texas! He has run, passed and converted for 95 of his team's 132 points—and counting—588 yards carrying the ball has rolled up 1489 yards in seven games. His highest completion record in one game this season was eleven out of fourteen for 118 yards.

Fulfilling the request of his father, Meeks stayed out of football until he was big enough to take care of himself. He weighed only 129 pounds upon entering high school at Chandler but by the time he was a junior he managed to scale 175 pounds by sleeping 12 hours a day while working around Stillwater during summer vacations.

As a high school senior he gained an all-Oklahoma quarterback berth. He spends most of his time studying the strategy of opponents and a major course in biology. His grade average is A.

He will be 21 years old next month and will play another season at East Texas Teachers unless the army takes him.

Cage Program (Continued From Sports Page) — ciding factors in the race. Coach Huffman is at a loss to fill the three vacancies made by "Whizzer" White, Jake Geron and Bob Andes, who were key men in the successful season last year, but the abundance of freshmen material due to don the shorts this year and returning lettermen will give Coach Huffman plenty of experienced squadmen to choose from.

Elvis Erwin and Norman Volk, two of the starting quietest last year, are expected to handle a big part of the load this season for the Raiders. Ed Irons, Gabe Gillery, Norman Cox and Byron Gilbreath, returning lettermen, will fill out the more experienced portion of the team. Garland Head, Billy Hale, Vernon Ray, Maxie McKnight and J. R. Callahan are up from the freshmen ranks to try for starting berths.

Bob Phillips, transfer from Chanute Kansas Junior college, has enrolled and will see plenty of action this year. Lawrence McCulloch and George Allen were squad members last year.

The 1941-42 basketball schedule: X-Jan. 6—Flagstaff Teachers at Flagstaff. X-Jan. 7—Tempe Teachers at Tempe. X-Jan. 8—University of Arizona at Tucson. X-Jan. 15—New Mexico University at Lubbock. X-Jan. 16—New Mexico A. & M. at Lubbock. X-Feb. 7—Hardin-Simmons at Lubbock. X-Feb. 12—West Texas State Teachers at Canyon. X-Feb. 13—Hardin-Simmons at Abilene. Sports Roundup (Continued From Sports Page) — from Mississippi next season to take Joe Sheeketski's Holy Cross job.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR — Sid Benjamin, Hazleton (Pa.) Plain Speaker: "After watching Penn State walloped N. Y. U. Friday night, it occurs to us that in the true spirit of Halloween the N. Y. U. eleven came disguised as football players."

FOOTBALL FRICASSEE — Add kicking feat: Owen Price of Texas Mines averaged 53 yards on five punts against Hardin-Simmons and booted one 83 yards. Eddie Prokop, the Chattanooga High school star who had most of the Southeastern conference upset before he picked his school, is doing all right for the Georgia Tech frosh... One reason for the Army team's improvement is that Carl Hinkle, who was All-American center at Vanderbilt a few years ago, is working with the scrubs.

with Charles Dvoracek, Roger Smith, Red Amnett, Muley Bates, Jumbo Webster, Don Austin and others, but especially Dvoracek and Webster, ramming through and across the fighting freshmen.

The workout was so severe that it was not without its casualties. Joe Albright, tireless little guard, sustained a nasty cleat wound in a leg, and Muley Bates, reserve half-back, came off with a badly sprained left hand. It might have been broken. Tom Douglas, who shared honors with Dvoracek and the others, worked with a heavily swathed head, result of an injury in the Miami game, but it was there to serve as a protection more than to derive a wound. He is due to be ready for the Creightons.

Tickets Start Moving — Tickets for the game Saturday, the Homecoming game, started moving yesterday, and Muley Bates, in charge of sales, predicted one of the best advance sales of the season. There remain several hundred choice seats and fans are urged to act quickly if they want them. The tickets are on sale at the gymnasium office.

Creighton university, the second of three Missouri Valley conference teams on the Tech schedule, also suffered a defeat last week, and like Tech, is expected to be on the comeback trail Saturday. The Bluejays were hampered by Oklahoma A. & M., 13-6, in a flashy football game.

Longhorn-Navy Bowl Contest Is Talked

(By The United Press) — These interested persons had this to say concerning a proposed Navy-University of Texas Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, New Year's day:

"Pepper" Satisfied With Present Post (By The Associated Press) — OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 5. — Above the din of his barn yard zoo, squirrel John Leonard "Pepper" Martin said today he was happy in the comparative quiet of the Pacific Coast league—far from the big leagues' roar.

You could practically hear yourself think as dogs, cats, hogs, turkeys, guinea hens, peahens, mules, and mares serenaded the former St. Louis Cardinal star, back from the baseball wars to his farm home near here.

Since his highly satisfying debut as a Card farm manager—he stepped Sacramento to the final play-offs only to lose to Seattle—it was fair to inquire if he did not hanker for a return to the big show.

"Let's get this straight," said Pepper, who dashes through conversation like he used to run bases. "The only way I can go back to St. Louis is as a manager."

And put this down in big print—I'll never have any designs on the Cardinal job as long as Billy Southworth is there. He's the grandest guy in baseball. "He really straightened me out just when I needed it. The best there is, and I've played under some guys a little out of the ordinary too—Willie McKeen, Gabby Street, they're no run-of-the-mill managers."

Anyway, he said, he had lots of fun on the coast, his 315 in 90 games, and he likes baseball any place, so long as its baseball.

Motor Busses and Military Highways

In a country as large as the United States, broad, smooth highways are of primary importance in national defense. And highways are built by taxes, of which the motor bus lines pay their full share.

In fact, every year, the motor bus lines pay out enough in taxes to build a modern, streamlined highway from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

Thus, entirely aside from service to the public, America's motor busses more than pay their way in taxes alone. Joseph B. Eastman, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, says that thousands of busses pay more than double their share of the cost and maintenance of the highways they use.

TO THE NEWS PHOTOS Before we make a picture, please. Of a skirt with 'skirt below her knees!'

THE Plainsman isn't exactly what you might call a "red hot" football fan.

While he is considerably more than casually interested in the gridiron fortunes of Texas Tech, and annually goes into a mental tangle while the Lubbock High-Amarillo High game is being rolled off, he can take his football or let it alone, as the occasion arises.

Therefore, when a friend casually remarked the other day that he wouldn't tell his "teen age boy play football because of the physical dangers involved, the Plainsman defended the game. And not having the facts at hand, he later looked 'em up in an effort to inform himself regarding football deaths and injuries.

It is estimated that in the United States this fall, something like 70,000 college students are either playing the game, or competing for the chance to play. In addition, approximately 700,000 high school and prep school kids are engaged in the sport one way or another.

Judging from the records of past years, this football season will see 50,000 of these college, high and prep school kids hurt somewhat, somehow, before the final whistle is blown. And as many as 50 of these 50,000 injuries likely will prove fatal.

That's a terrible toll, just for a sport, you may say. And you're right, in that it's always hard to see or hear of a boy being hurt or killed—whether in sport or some other undertaking.

But maybe football saves as many or more deaths and injuries than it causes. Such is possible—very possible.

For The Love Of Pam

BY VIVIEN GREY (Copyright, 1941, For The Journal)

CHAPTER 13 TO MATCH YOUR EYES "You may be giving yourself a very long drawn-out job, Jerry," Pam said.

"I'm equal to it." "And about the ring, Jerry—there isn't much point in talking about it, since rings and you and I don't make a picture at all, but I do like your letting Freda keep it."

"Darling!" It was as if he had moved to her and put his arms around her. "That's one of the things I love about you! Material things just don't count at all, do they? But I'll get you a stone just as fine when you say the word. In fact," grinning, "I'll get it before, so the minute you say I can pop it on your finger, and you can't change your mind."

"Well, your boy friend, Doctor Shore, is going to be there." "That was really all Pam wanted to know. With Leo there she was sure of a rush. Let one man start plying a girl with attention and every other man at the party followed his lead. Pam wasn't listening especially, but Jerry was going on to tell her some of the others who were to be at the party, a pleasant selection of winter and townspeople, most of them from the younger sets.

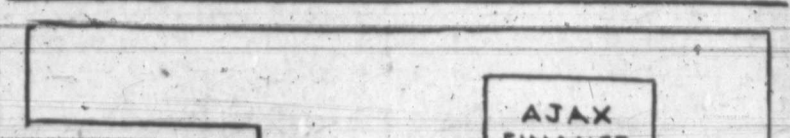

"Pam, I love you," Jerry broke off about the party suddenly and spoke with much earnestness. "I don't know why I'm talking about anything else when I feel that all that's worth saying."

"Jerry, it's late. Time you pushed off." It wasn't an answer to what he had said, but there was a tenderness about it, a deep, tranquil tenderness had enveloped Pam. The temporary chaos of her life seemed to be clearing again and the old tranquility returning.

"I love you tomorrow, I know I'll love you party. I've never 'he's not as deaf as my mother'."

That Man on Avenue Q says an editorial "The Daily" is an answer to Pam's question. "I don't know why I'm talking about anything else when I feel that all that's worth saying."

A CRACKPOT IDEA FAILS

Reports even from sources worthy of reliance indicate the response was negligible a few days ago to the proposal that Frenchmen engage in a 5-minute "standstill protest" against executions of hostages by the Nazis.

If there was any response whatsoever, either in occupied or unoccupied France to the idea, it would have been surprising.

In the first place, the suggestion probably impressed the French, as it did many others elsewhere in the world, as being downright silly.

In the second place, it would have been poor judgment, to say the least, on the part of those either in occupied or unoccupied France to have attracted suspicion upon themselves by participating in an utterly valueless gesture which would have been observed by the Nazis or their agents. Even if the participants had escaped punishment—which is most unlikely—the new or added suspicion they would have aroused certainly would have reduced their capacity for damage to the invaders. It would have made real rebellion more difficult if, and when, the opportunity for revolt comes.

It is difficult to understand why sensible men high in the affairs of the British government should have given their support to this crackpot notion. Possibly it came from some source which, for reasons of policy, was unwise to ignore. Possibly it was endorsed by the British leadership with the thought that it couldn't do much harm, and might do some good.

But those who approved it surely must realize that if the Nazis ever are to be beaten, it isn't going to be with "standstill protests." It is going to be with action—far more action than has been shown thus far.

been on a really big yacht for a really big party." "I'd much rather you'd love me than the party. And as for big parties on big yachts, you'll be on them lots from now on, sweetie."

Early next afternoon a messenger arrived with a package for Pam. She found when she opened it a corsage of velvety French marigolds, fresh in their beds of ice. They had come in on the moon plane and there was a card with them signed "Jerry." Pam smiled as she read the written words: To match your eyes.

Jerry had said that to her once, that her eyes were like French marigolds. It was sweet, a thing to take to her heart and keep there. Jerry had so many lovely qualities, Pam thought, it only took something worth while instead of just loafing. Anything, thought Pam.

She would wear the flowers against the soft green organdie of her dress. Later a box was delivered with Leo's card. Marchal-Neil roebucks.

Jerry's eyes lighted as he looked up the long flight of stairs as he waited in the hall and saw Pam coming toward him.

"Didn't I tell you that first day on the beach that we were going to be friends?" he asked as he tucked her into his car and they paused a moment to leave a light kiss on the palm of her hand.

The People Must Be "Sold" On Their Own Government!

Government Publicity Costs Are Staggering

BY PETER EDSON Journal Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. A detailed check on the estimated expenditures of the federal government for regular, routine publicity, promotion, education and information services has now been made by the Bureau of the Budget. The report covers the fiscal year 1941, ending June 30, and at last has been made public by the House of Representatives Committee on Appropriations.

This is the first time any such check has been made on the executive department and the results are shown in a series of 32 summary statements and breakdowns, covering 26 pages, 2 feet long and 3 feet wide, bound in a report more than an inch thick.

To come to the point and present the bad news like a night club check that can only be appreciated on the morning after for this fiscal year of 1941 is $27,770,000.

The report shows that 153 agencies of the executive department of the government had in this year services of information, education, contact with the public, publicity, press agency, propaganda or whatever you want to call them.

The number of full-time information specialists engaged in this work was 2895 and the number working part time in this service of public enlightenment was 31,618. The report is so detailed that the services of these 31,618 part-time workers has been estimated on an hourly basis, with the result that the Budget Bureau has been able to make a complicated computation showing that if all this work were done by full-time employes only, it would have required the services of 8433.5 employes. Putting it another way, 8433.5 man-years of labor went into the job of keeping you citizens informed on what your government was doing in 1941.

The payroll for this job, it should be added, exceeded $8,319,463.70. Other expenses of $8,306,470 must be piled on this figure to achieve the $27,769,940 total aforementioned. All figures cover operations in both Washington and the country at large.

PUBLICATIONS TOOK HALF BREAKING the total down by types of publicity, it is seen that publications of one kind and another accounted for $13,751,797, approximately half of the total.

Next largest item was for "contacts," $6,150,300. Contacts in the government sense of the word are of two kinds—group contacts in which some government expert goes out to make a speech to explain some government program, and individual contacts in which only one person is worked on.

Government press services cost $1,170,000 with 232 full-time and 715 part-time press agents working a total of 42.2 man-years at a payroll cost of $1,067,085 for the job.

Other items, in round numbers, include these: radio $435,000, ex-

Farm Facts Favored

Breaking the totals down by departments of the government, Department of Agriculture accounts for 42.3 per cent of the total or $11,887,800. It has 111 full-time public relations employes and 20,343 part-timers, the two working a total of 3691.7 man-years on their job. The payroll is $8,984,446.

But this whole departmental summary is interesting and so, to bore you with a statistical tabulation, here are its principal items:

Table with columns: Department, Full Time, Part Time, Payroll, Total Cost. Rows include President's offices, Federal loan agencies, Federal security agencies, etc.

The important thing to remember in connection with this is that the figures cover only the fiscal year 1941 before the defense effort really got going. If all the war-time propaganda services were added to this, you would have perhaps another $5 million or $10 million of expense.

Unusual Ulster types in Ruth-erford Mayme's new play "Peter" are making Abbey Theater audiences in Dublin rock with laughter.

The Love Of Pam

having a good time. "I'm jealous that you're wearing his flowers," she heard Jerry say.

"But I'm carrying yours, Jerry, and I'll wear them later!"

Mrs. Winthrop, standing at the gangplank waiting for the rest of her party to come from the car, smiled warmly at Pam. "I hoped you'd come, my dear, I'm so glad."

Then Pam reflected, Mrs. Winthrop had spoken of her. It hadn't been only Jerry who had thought of her when the guest list was made. That was pleasant to know.

The yacht was a blaze of light. There was the sound of clinking ice in glasses; of light laughter etched against a background of soft music. There were flowers scenting the air. It seemed to Pam that she must be dreaming.

Pam noticed Lenore was most often standing at the bar where Cuba Libre and rum highballs were being handed out with lavish generosity.

Jerry took Pam to the bar. "Drop a conch shell in it, so she'll feel at home," Lenore said as she watched the bartender mixing their drinks. Pam had asked for plain orangeade.

"Pipe down, Lenore," Jerry warned in a low voice. "It seems to me you're the one to pipe down!" Lenore exclaimed. "Bringing Miss Conch to the party!"

"You'd do well to watch your own step," Jerry snapped. "You'll have shells growing out of your own shoulders if you aren't careful! And it might help you some; it might counteract the poison brewing in you."

"At least I don't bring it to the yacht," Lenore flushed. She hadn't supposed Jerry knew about Vin. She paused on thought of Vin. He had wanted to come to the party. Not for the party, but to be near her. He was getting so jealous of her. She wondered what he was doing.

She looked across at de Bellefort standing languidly at the bar. He had never stared her as Vin did. And he had never done anything that gave her interest an upward trend. With Gervase in New York, she did the same things day after day—cocktail parties, to dinner, to a night club, to a breakfast place, and then home to bed in a dawn she was too weary and bored to appreciate.

Shriners To Gather In Carlsbad Saturday For Ceremonial In Caverns

Led by Imperial Potentate Thomas C. Law, of Atlanta, Ga., Movie Star Harold Lloyd, of Los Angeles, a member of the Imperial council, and others high in the order, approximately 1,000 members of the Ancient and Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will stage a ceremonial next Saturday deep under the ground in Carlsbad caverns, New Mexico.

Five special trains loaded with Shriners from Al Malaikah temple, Los Angeles; El Zaribah temple, Phoenix; and Al Bahr temple, San Diego, will bring Pacific Coast nobles to El Paso where they will be joined by members of the Border City's El Maida temple and proceed to Carlsbad by motorcade. There they will be joined by members of Ballut Abyad temple, Albuquerque, as well as by visiting nobles representing Khiva temple, Amarillo; Mascot, Wichita Falls; Moslah, Fort Worth; and other Southwestern temples.

Ceremonial To Be Most Unusual
The ceremonial will be the most unusual, Shrine officials announced, ever staged by a Shrine temple. At least 100 novices are expected from the Los Angeles temple alone to take the vows, which will make them nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Obligations to candidates will be delivered by the Imperial Potentate. Every role in the divan will be taken by a Shrine potentate or past potentate. James T. Keen, potentate of El Maida temple, El Paso, will serve as orator, receiving his appointment for the ceremony from J. Marion Wright, potentate of Al Malaikah temple.

Harold Lloyd is a past potentate of the temple and is imperial outer guard of the Imperial council of the Shrine. He will act as first ceremonial master of the divan. Other prominent Shriners who will have parts in the divan are Leo V. Youngworth, chief rabban, Los Angeles; Joseph H. Kirkpatrick, potentate of Ballut Abyad temple, Albuquerque, assistant rabban; Kenneth B. McMicken, potentate of El Zaribah temple, Phoenix; high priest and prophet; R. M. McDonald, potentate of Al Bahr temple, San Diego, second ceremonial master; and Hugh M. Caldwell, past imperial potentate, Los Angeles, will give the inspired charge to novices.

Uniformed Bodies To Be There
Al Malaikah's uniformed organizations, including its band, patrol, chanters, temple guard and stagecrafters, will take active part in the ceremonial.

An unusual feature of the colorful ceremony hundreds of feet underground and among the aged stalagmites and stalactites, will be the singing of "Book of Ages" and Noble Albert Hay Malotte's famous "Lord's Prayer" by the Chanters.

Composer Malotte, who is musical director of Walt Disney's Publications, Ltd., and who writes and synchronizes musical scores for Silly Symphonies, will attend and hear his "Lord's Prayer" sung in the caves. He also will have a part in the singing.

A barbecue will be held for visiting Nobles on the Circle K ranch following the ceremonial. Kathryn Ford, who operates the ranch, has declined to accept pay for use of the ranch for the affair.

Shriners from the west will arrive in El Paso at 7 a. m. Saturday and leave at 7:30 a. m. for Carlsbad caverns, arriving there at 10:30 a. m. Lunch will be eaten in the caverns dining room at 11:30, followed immediately by the ceremonial. Shriners will leave the caverns at 4 p. m. and arrive at Circle K ranch at 5 p. m. for the barbecue, leaving in time to reach El Paso at 7:30 p. m. for visits in El Paso and Juarez before catching their trains at midnight for California.

Potentate Wright said that the ceremonial will be staged in the caverns by special permission of the U. S. Parks Service and as the result of personal efforts of Col. Thomas Botes, superintendent of the caverns and himself a noble of the Mystic Shrine.

Numerous Shriners of Lubbock and the South Plains area are expected to be present at the ceremonial.

BLUE-WATER BLITZ!

Fastest fighter afloat, her speed's a Navy secret... no secret, though, that Camel outspeeds all cigarettes in popularity with Navy men.

ALL OF A SUDDEN three propellers tear the water behind her into tattered white lace, and from an easy, silent glide she roars into battle speed as fast, almost, as you can blink. She's the Navy's new darling... and what a girl! Four torpedo tubes and four machine guns. She's a thunderbolt. Fast as lightning... and she hits harder.

YOU'VE GOT TO BE GOOD to serve on her crew. Over 4,000-horse-power running "all-out" means that she leaps from wave-top to wave-top—crew lashed to stations. No wonder, after a session on this blue-water blitz the first words you hear from the men are: "Boy, a cigarette, quick!" (And that means Camel—favorite of Navy men.)

—AND TORPEDO-BOAT DESIGNER IRWIN CHASE SHARES THE NAVY MAN'S PREFERENCE FOR CAMELS

IT'S CAMELS WITH ME—THEY'RE Milder—THEY'RE COOLER

THERE'S JUST NO OTHER CIGARETTE THAT TASTES SO GOOD AS A CAMEL

IRWIN CHASE speaking. He's chief of the naval division, Electric Boat Co., one of the outfits making Uncle Sam's new PT boats. And after a session on that battle-bridge (he's in the action pictures at the top of the page, too), "There's just nothing like a Camel," he declares.

IT'S AS TRUE as the sextant's reading of the sun at high noon... this fact: Camels are the favorite of modern America. Active America. Busy, up-and-doing America. Take a man like Irwin Chase (above), Elco's naval architect. Take the men in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard. Their favorite cigarette is Camel. The extra coolness, extra flavor, extra mild-ness, and 28% less nicotine in the smoke of Camel's slower-burning costlier tobaccos all add up to that "extra something" that Camel fans say just no other cigarette seems to give them. Try a pleasure cruise on Irwin Chase's smoking chart—make your next cigarette a Camel. (Based on actual sales records in Post Exchanges, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, and Canteens.)
