NAZIS REEL UNDER RED ATTACK

WINTER STRIKES NORTHERN IOWA—A sudden winter storm that spread a nine-inch blanket of snow over much of northwestern Iowa left this artistic scene down an avenue of snow-laden evergreens at Spencer, Ia. The storm hampered transportation and communication in the area.

City Will Be Decorated

Colorful Yule Plans Okayed

Christmas decoration plans surpassing anything that nature ever seen on the South Plains were approved unanimously at a meeting of about 50 downtown business men in Lubbock this morning.

The meeting was held at the call of J. B. Maxey, president of the chamber of commerce.

To broadcast music in addition to decorations, those attending the meeting approved a plan for the broadcasting of music appropriate to the season from some central downtown location at times to be set throughout the holiday period.

The decorations are to include 28-inch cylindrical sleeves, upon which large Santa Claus faces are to be painted, to be fitted like shades about 125 to 150 downtown street lights.

About each of the silver-colored lamp posts large "ropes" of greenery, either spruce or laurel, will be twisted from about head-height to the top of the standard. When "bluffed out," these ropes will measure more than six inches in thickness.

Huge Tree Planned

A huge Christmas tree measuring more than 40 feet in height is to be set up probably in Courthouse park and studded with several hundred colored lights. The tree is to be the gift of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion which, as usual, is to conduct Christmas tree sales this year for the benefit of the relief fund.

Some 2,000 to 3,000 additional colored bulbs are to be purchased as replacements for those that have become dead in the strands of lights which were purchased in 1937 for stringing across the downtown streets. These strands have an aggregate length of nearly three miles and sockets for almost 10,000 bulbs are attached to them.

To Use Smaller Trees

Most merchants likewise will use smaller Christmas trees, measuring four to seven feet in height, in the store spaces drilled several years ago in the edge of downtown sidewalks. These trees, especially when viewed from a distance, give

Price Bill Facing Threat Of A Veto

Restrictions Against Ceilings On Farm Prices Are Reported As Objectionable

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—High administration officials said today President Roosevelt would veto the pending price-control bill, which critics say would permit sharp increases in the cost of agricultural commodities, if it reached his desk in the form recommended by the House banking committee.

At his press conference earlier in the day, the chief executive did not answer questions concerning the bill's restrictions against establishing ceilings for those commodities below the 1919-29 average were objectionable to the president.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—High administration officials said today President Roosevelt would veto the pending price-control bill, which critics say would permit sharp increases in the cost of agricultural commodities, if it reached his desk in the form recommended by the House banking committee.

At his press conference earlier in the day, the chief executive did not answer questions concerning the bill's restrictions against establishing ceilings for those commodities below the 1919-29 average were objectionable to the president.

Despite the president's reported opposition, there was no immediate indication that the committee would attempt to revise the bill before it reaches the House floor. It has not yet been formally reported to the House, although the banking committee approved it last Saturday, but Chairman Steagall "D-Alt" said last night he hoped to present it today and to call it up for House debate next Wednesday or Thursday.

Ex-Student Of Tech Drowned

One Is Killed In Bus Crash

Notification that Will M. Tucker, 43, graduate of Texas Technological college who was one of the first students to enroll in the college, apparently had been drowned in a lake near New Orleans has been received by Dean O. V. Adams of Texas Tech.

Tucker registered in Texas Tech from Ovalo in 1925, the year the college opened. His high school transcript was received from Abilene Christian college. Records also show he formerly had attended Wesley college at Greenville.

He received a bachelor of arts degree in 1928 and a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in 1929.

R. Woods Tucker of New Orleans, also a former Tech student, and a brother of Will M. Tucker, wrote that his brother was lost from a boat while gathering data in connection with his work for the Brown Geophysical company at a lake near New Orleans.

The body had not been found at time the letter was written, but the supposition was that the engineer had drowned and belief was that the body would be recovered since the lake is small and placid, R. Woods Tucker wrote.

REPEAL VOTE NEAR

FDR Says U. S. Marines May Be Removed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt declared today that the government was considering the withdrawal of American marines from Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai, China.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference he did not know when a decision would be reached. He declined to elaborate in any way on his statement.

Not Discussed With Japs

The president read to reporters from a memorandum a paragraph announcing which said:

The president said today that the government of the United States is giving consideration to the question of withdrawal of the American marine detachments now maintained ashore in China at Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai.

The chief executive did say in reply to a question that there had been no discussion between the United States and Japan at any time on the presence of American marines in China.

Questions Brushed Aside

He brushed aside questions whether withdrawal would create a new status for American citizens in China.

"What interpretation would you put on your announcement?" a reporter inquired.

Mr. Roosevelt said he would not try to interpret because there was a grave question whether interpretation was news. When he used to edit a paper, the chief executive declared, it was considered the duty of the editorial desk to make any interpretations, although times have changed.

Number About 1,500

While the president gave no interpretation of the proposed withdrawal of marines, there has been an opinion in war-and-navy circles for some time that the American military forces in China should either be considerably increased or withdrawn entirely. Latest navy records show that six months ago the total marines force in that country was about 1,500.

Peiping (Peking) and Tientsin are both now occupied by Japanese military forces and the international settlement at Shanghai, where marines are based, is now entirely surrounded by Japanese troops.

Threatened Ban On Pastors Draws Fire

Army Chief Protests He Meant No Intolerance In Warnings; Urges Men To Attend Church

DENVER, Nov. 7.—Col. Early E. W. Duncan protested today that he was a "religious man" and meant no intolerance when he threatened to declare churches whose pastors preach anti-war doctrine as out-of-bounds for the 10,000 soldiers of his command.

The colonel, commandant of the air corps technical school at Lowry field, issued a formal statement answering congressional demands that he be "thrown out of the army" for his order barring soldiers from America First headquarters and from possessing anti-war literature.

Not Trying To Dictate

He had indicated also that the order would be extended to include churches whose pastors sought to indoctrinate the soldiers with isolationist propaganda and "preached against true Americanism."

Today the colonel said: "I have no intention of dictating to my officers and men where they should go to church."

Tech Homecoming Is To Open With Rally

Huge Bonfire Planned Tonight; Other Events Are Scheduled For Saturday

Freshmen were busy collecting bonfire kindling and alumni were busy making last minute preparations today as homecoming time neared at Texas Technological college.

Homecoming "kick-off" is scheduled for tonight, when a traditional pep rally and bonfire will be conducted on the campus. Band music, speeches and cheers are on the program for the rally, which is to open about 7 o'clock in the gymnasium and to be broadcast over KFYO from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. The bonfire will be set off immediately afterward.

Louchee, Dances Saturday

Lloyd Croslin, president of the Alumni and Ex-Students association, urged that ex-students attend the luncheon and one of the dances to be held Saturday.

Croslin said no formal program had been planned for the luncheon, the executive committee having decided the event should be informal. So ex-students would have opportunity to mingle and talk to one another without interruptions of a planned program.

Program Of Events

The program of general homecoming events, not including dozens of breakfasts, dinners and other events planned by campus organizations, follows:

8 a. m. to 12 noon—Registration in the lobby of Lubbock hotel, homecoming headquarters.

10 a. m.—Parade opening at the city hall, going southward to Broadway and west to the circle on the campus.

11 a. m.—Homecoming con-

Former Texas Judge Dies In California

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—Relatives here were notified today of the death of former District Judge W. F. Robertson at Santa Monica, Calif.

Judge Robertson formerly lived at Taylor, Dallas, and Austin. He was county judge of Williamson county, and while living at Austin was appointed judge of the 126th district court here by former Gov. Ross Sterling.

Town Offers To Help Newcomers Buy Home

BROKEN ARROW, Okla., Nov. 7.—The Chamber of Commerce wants folks to come and live in Broken Arrow. It's near Tulsa.

Merchants will contribute $150 on the down payment for a FHA home to the first 20 out-of-town builders.

Warning Is Issued Here After Series Of Automobile Thefts

Another automobile theft, reported Thursday, caused officials of Lubbock's law-enforcement from this morning to issue this warning:

"Now that national defense has cut down production of automobiles to an extent where demand is taxing supply, you should take even more precaution in protecting your cars. Observe all the rules of locking them and, if possible, housing them at night so that the machines and accessories will be safer."

There has been a steady series of stolen car reports in recent days.

O. M. Beck of Crosbyton was the latest victim. His 1941 Buick sedan was taken from Thirteenth street and Avenue C in Lubbock, police said.

The license number was 239-485.

M. J. Lefell of 2011 Broadway reported his bicycle stolen. A bike belonging to M. L. Reid of 1831 Avenue R was recovered.

Police announced this morning.

Germany Near Disaster, Is Stalin's Claim

Sweeping Gains On North Front Made By Soviet Forces

A Russian counter-attack on Volokolamsk appears to be developing into a powerful offensive which may completely reopen Moscow. Leningrad communications and relieve the siege of Leningrad, informed sources in London said tonight.

Swift, mobile Russian units are hammering hard at the German forward positions northwest of Kalinin, 85 miles northwest of Moscow, and already have reopened a secondary branch rail line in that area, these sources said, and thus are easing some of the pressure on Leningrad by blunting the northern claw of the Nazi pincers aimed at Moscow.

Red Advances Continue

Stalin's confident Red advances in the south, a bulletin from the first time acknowledged that the German-Rumanian drive into the Crimea peninsula was meeting stubborn resistance, with Soviet troops harrying the invaders in the fastnesses of the Crimean mountains.

The high command made no specific claim of new advances, reporting merely that "pursuit" of Red army defenders was continuing and that Nazi dive-bombers had smashed positions among the fortifications of Sevastopol, Russia.

World Leadership Urged

Austin made it clear that he would support that legislation even though he would prefer to have the law completely repealed.

Crusade and complete repeal would serve notice that this country is again free, that the arms of this country are again released so that this government can take any action it sees fit to do.

The Vermont senator, who is the assistant Republican leader, said he and Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Gurney (R-SD), sponsors of complete repeal, "believe that the foreign policy of this nation should be what it was before the neutrality law was enacted—that it should be one of independence, one of vigor, and leadership in the world's affairs."

No Filibuster Planned

Administration leaders claimed the certain support of 53 senators—four more than needed to pass the measure.

Democratic Leader Barkley contended the chamber would vote by 80-10 and return the measure for concurrence to the House, which originally approved legislation limited to arming ships.

Barkley arranged to ask the Senate today to agree unanimously on a debate limitation—probably one holding each senator to a maximum of 20 minutes—after Senator Nye (R-ND), an opponent.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Twelve cars of police rushed to a home in answer to a "murder" call last night, but found no body.

Detectives traced the anonymous telephone call to a 14-year-old boy who admitted giving the alarm. The boy said he wanted to scare his sister out of the house so he could entertain some pals.

The juvenile crime prevention bureau said it would investigate the measure.

Japs Threaten "Other Means" Against The United States

Message Sent To Roosevelt

TOKYO, Nov. 7.—Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, it was revealed today, has sent a personal message to President Roosevelt declaring that if Japanese-American rapprochement is not achieved speedily Japan will be forced "to use other means" to protect her existence against economic and military encirclement.

The message is being taken to Washington by Saburo Kurusu, special envoy charged with making a final attempt to solve the issues threatening United States-Japanese conflict in the Pacific. Coincidentally, there was a marked worsening of Japan's relations with Russia.

Hopes For Agreement Tojo's message was said to express eloquently a hope that Japan and the United States can resolve their differences and with dispatch.

Japan's diplomatic efforts to achieve a settlement were backed by the warning that, lacking an agreement with the United States, her "next blow" probably would be against the Burma road over which go American supplies to China.

The warning was issued by the Japan Times and Advertiser, semi-official organ of the foreign office.

The paper suggested this move would be welcomed by the United States "peace group" and that if the attack was ordered it probably would be based on French-Indo-China.

No Comment Made Koh Ishii, cabinet spokesman, said he could not comment on the Times and Advertiser statement because "that is a military matter."

The worsening of relations with Russia resulted from the sinking, reportedly by a Russian mine, of the steamship Kehl Maru with the apparent loss of 152 lives in the Japan sea.

Ishii said the Kurusu mission was "an expression of our earnest desire to bring the negotiations with the United States to a conclusion as soon as possible."

He denied that Japan has fixed a time limit for the conversations.

Kurusu arrived in Manila by China clipper from Hongkong today. He is accompanied, it was learned, by Shiroji Yuki, chief of the American section of the foreign office commercial bureau, which emphasizes Japan's hopes of getting lifted the economic sanctions imposed by the United States which gravely threaten her commercial life.

Japan, it was said, is more concerned by the alleged ABCD (American, British, Chinese, Dutch) economic encirclement than any other phrase of the current situation.

Small Nebraska Town Serving As "Guinea Pig" In Defense Effort

Defense Labor Study Planned

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—To determine just what impact the defense effort is having on the small towns of these United States, California Congressman John Tolson's committee investigating defense migration is moving in on Hastings, Neb., population 15,000. Investigators are already there. On Nov. 24 the committee itself will move in for a day's formal hearings on the situation, and in so doing it will be making a notable experiment.

Usual procedure for a congressional investigation doing spadework in the field is to hold hearings in the state capital or number one metropolis, summoning the small-town big shots in to speak their pieces. Here the committee is going right to the grass roots of the matter and so, Hastings, not far from the geographical center of the United States, will be the most important guinea pig town in the country for a day.

Is Typical Small City

Why Hastings? There's a mite of politics in its selection, for it is one of the cities in the district of Congressman Carl T. Curtis of Minden, Neb., and Congressman Curtis is ranking Republican member of the Tolson committee. Aside from that, however, Hastings would still be a good spot for the committee's first study of this kind. It is a typical American community and just as small-business is the backbone of American industry, so the little city is the backbone of America. In Washington, at any rate, 99 per cent of the big shots seem to come from small towns.

The committee decided to go into Hastings when Congressman Curtis called attention to the fact that his district, under defense impact, was rapidly becoming an old folks' home. The young folks were pulling out to take jobs in defense industry. At first the migrations were to the two coasts to work in aircraft factories. Then when new aircraft factories were built inland, these new plants became the meccas. Wichita, Dallas, Tulsa, Kansas City, and the like. And when the new Martin factory is opened in Omaha, it will draw new quotas from the surrounding small communities.

Nationwide Headache

So what happens in Hastings and all the other little cities like it? That's what the Tolson committee wants to find out, so it can determine what should be done.

Dr. Robert K. Lamb, formerly of progressive Bennington College in Vermont and now chief of the Tolson committee staff, has assembled data on Hastings that mark it as a typical little city of the type that is being hit hardest by priorities on supplies, allocations of materials, priorities, unemployment and labor migration. Here is Hastings, with 4,500 homes, 21 churches, 29 small manufacturers, eight auto agencies, retail stores doing $9 million worth of business a year, trading center for an area in which 37 grain elevators, a county seat, the home of Hastings college.

TALL, DARK AND FEARSOME DEFENDERS OF LONDON—Crews at sunset man giant guns of London's anti-aircraft which point death to the sky for bombing marauders. Raids over the capital have been few and far between the last few months with London reportedly now girdled with such nests, capable of throwing up an almost impenetrable wall of steel.

Along comes defense. At least two of the 29 industries get defense contracts, one for $206,000 worth of practice shells and another for $22,000 worth of meat blocks for Army camp butchers. Other manufacturers began to feel the pinch for raw materials; the hay fever air conditioner plant, the culvert and grain bin makers, the tire pump plant, the fire extinguisher factory. The power plant has trouble getting copper wire.

Labor Picks Up

Labor starts to pick up and go places. Selective service gets some. Farm labor, in a year when the crops are good and there is an active demand for farm labor, hears the call of better jobs elsewhere. Some of this farm labor perhaps goes into Hastings to take the jobs in Wichita and Omaha.

A barber in a neighboring small town of 2,000 noticing that his trade is falling off, starts checking up on his customers, by the head. Sixty-five that he knows personally have moved out to take defense jobs.

The picture is not all gloom. Married teachers are again hired for this school year and every graduate of Hastings college who wanted to teach has found a job. The relief picture has changed. Nebraska unemployment is the lowest in eight years, with 43,000 unfilled jobs in the skilled trades.

And that, roughly, is the picture of Hastings in defense. Hastings is a symbol, for the same thing is going on from Florida to Washington state. Congressman Curtis has a hunch that after this is all over the young folks who roamed may come back home, but he doesn't know in what shape.

More than one-half of the world's rubber and from one-half to two-thirds of its tin comes from British Malaya.

Poppy Sales Set Saturday

The American Legion's annual poppy sale has been set for Saturday, according to announcement by Mrs. A. C. Jackson, chairman of the joint sales committee of Allen Bros. post of the Legion and auxiliary.

The number of women and girls are to take stations on downtown streets at 8 a. m., and expectation is that the sales will be completed by noon, Mrs. Jackson said. She emphasized that contributions will be entirely voluntary and that any amount will be welcome.

Money Goes For Relief

Mrs. Jackson pointed out, however, that demands upon the fund created and sustained by the sales of poppies are increasing constantly, probably due to the advancing age of those who are eligible for relief from the poppy money.

She emphasized that all of the money realized from the sales must be used for the relief of some penniless veteran or for dependents of veterans of the first World War.

Each of the poppies has been made, she explained, by a hospitalized veteran with dependents who is paid on a piece basis for his work. Many such veterans, she said, have thus been provided a means of occupying their time and mind and, of much importance, have been enabled to earn a substantial contribution toward the support of their dependents.

All poppies are sterilized before leaving the hospital.

The money collected here, Mrs. Jackson continued, will go into a separate fund. The first deduction from this fund will be the money to pay hospitalized veterans for the poppies they have made.

The remainder of the money can be used only for relief work, and can be devoted to no purposes except to provide shelter, food, clothing or medicine for penniless veterans or the families of veterans.

Participants in discussion of plans for the pickup were B. L. Manire, Future Smith, W. A. Hood, Bob Cooper, Dr. R. C. Doug-

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 7 (U.P.)—Robert Allen planted a camellia tree in the yard of his home here 50 years ago, expressing the wish that the tree remain with the family wherever they lived.

When the property was sold recently, Mrs. M. L. Drennan, Allen's daughter, arranged for moving the tree to her new home at Stockton.

During the intervening half century the tree had grown so large it required a special derrick and a 10x12-foot box to move it.

Full Calendar Is Indicated For Saturday, Tech's Annual Homecoming Day

Events Begin With Dance

Homecoming, one of the bright spots in each fall season at Texas Technological college and which has been set for Saturday, will see hundreds of graduates and ex-students at the institution renewing acquaintances and meeting for varied entertainments.

A homecoming luncheon for the alumni and ex-students association has been set for Saturday noon at Hotel Lubbock.

Ko Shari club will honor its alumnae with a formal dinner dance at the Hilton hotel tonight at 8 o'clock. This formally opens the series of events. Sunday morning Ko Shari alumnae will attend a 9:15 o'clock breakfast at the Hilton hotel and will elect officers.

D. F. D. club has planned a luncheon Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the Hilton hotel.

Coffee Is Planned

An 11 o'clock coffee has been planned by Sans Souci club for Saturday at the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Las Chaparritas club members and alumnae will attend a breakfast at the Hilton hotel this morning in the Hilton hotel. The meal is to be served at 7:30 o'clock and dancing will begin an hour later to Jack York's music.

A 7 o'clock dinner has been planned by Las Vivarachas club Saturday at the Hilton hotel.

Las Leales club will give a tea Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the home of Dean and Mrs. James G. Allen, 3110 Twenty-first street.

Tech Home Economics Alumnae and senior class of that division will meet for breakfast in the north ballroom of Hotel Lubbock at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Frank Wilson is president of the alumnae organization.

Friendship Club Elects Officers On Thursday

Initial meeting of the Friendship club was held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack Briland, 1605-A Avenue S. In an election of officers, Mrs. Troy Womack was elected president, Mrs. R. C. Pratt, vice president and Mrs. J. A. Pease, reporter.

The club will meet the first and third Tuesday afternoons at 2 o'clock. The next meeting will be November 18 with Mrs. B. L. Akers, 2109 Thirty-first street.

Refreshments of coffee and cherry pie with whipped cream were served to Mesdames Troy Womack, Pratt, Pease, O. O. Williams, Akers, Raymond Womack and O. R. Justice.

Dinner For Husbands Is To Be Given By Group

Mesdames J. C. Stamm and J. M. Young were guests at a party given for the Kiever Kraft Klub Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lora Tucker, 1506 Avenue R, with Mrs. M. K. Foster as hostess.

Members attending were Mesdames J. C. Reynolds, James Sampson, F. G. Campbell, C. Wood, A. S. Meinecke, A. B. Brown, Gordon Finnikin, E. A. Tipton, Joe Baldrige, W. E. Humphries, A. N. Gamble and Floyd Honey.

Husbands will be honored at a Thanksgiving dinner to be given in the home of Mrs. Brown, 1923 Thirty-fourth street, November 25 at 7:30 o'clock.

Park Superintendent Is Garden Club Speaker

C. D. McGhee, superintendent of city park department, talked on shrubs and trees best suited to this climate at an evening meeting of the Bud to Blossom club Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. ACIE Cope, 1505 Twenty-sixth street. Husbands were special guests.

Mrs. Cope was elected reporter.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Johnny Cox, Harold Munn, Charlie Curry, Claude Boydston, Mesdames Osa Wilbanks, Ray West, L. A. Kerr, Estell Hendrix, Hardy Humphries and H. B. Holdridge.

D. B. Trotter Is Honored With Dinner By Beats

Honoring D. B. Trotter, who is home on furlough from San Diego where he is stationed with the marines, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Beatty of near town gave a dinner Wednesday night.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Milton Mitchell and son, Donnie, Bill McNally, Leslie Beatty and Mrs. Ben D. Beatty.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

This year may see the bicycle replace the automobile on American college campuses.

It will be college authorities throughout the country follow the lead of defense-minded Dean Theodore A. Distler of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., who has written to the parents of all undergraduates at Lafayette asking that they not permit their sons to bring automobiles to school "except for the most important reasons."

If as we are told it will, it soon becomes necessary for Americans to conserve gasoline and to get along on fewer automobiles, college students are one group it wouldn't hurt to make the sacrifice.

To begin with, there are enough young people of the same age in a college community so that they can provide their own entertainment and have no need for leaving town to find amusement.

If they must ride to classes, college students are an able-bodied, agile lot who can easily take to bicycles.

STUDENTS' CARS DON'T HELP THEM STUDY

Then, too, since colleges exist to educate the young, a college would have a better chance to do its job thoroughly if none of its students owned automobiles. For the student who owns a car or has access to one almost never puts in as much time studying as the student who isn't tempted to jump in a car and go to the next town for a dance or out to the edge of town for a drink the minute dinner is over at night.

More than that, students would be far safer riding bicycles than driving high powered roadsters and brakeless jalopies—especially when the driver, as so often happens, has been celebrating a football victory in the customary camp manner.

Also, since the army is going to have to teach a large part of the country's young men how to walk, the colleges might as well give them a start on that phase of their education.

Final Presentation Of Suite To Be Tonight

Final presentation of Tschalkowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" by the Treble Clef chorus will be given tonight at 7:45 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium with pupils from the Mary Ruth Diltz School of the Dance assisting. The program is sponsored by the Lubbock association of American Child Welfare and admission will be 10 cents.

Mrs. Elois Elliott is director of the chorus and Mrs. Paul Laverty, accompanist.

Amiga Club Plans For Thanksgiving Dinner

Amiga club members planned a Thanksgiving dinner for Nov. 20 at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. L. Thurman, 1917 Twenty-fifth street, when they met with Mrs. John L. Vaughan, 1909 Twenty-second street, Thursday afternoon. There were eight women present.

Lodge Leader Is Visitor

Mrs. Louise Orebaugh of Tyler, president of the Texas Rebekah Assembly, was guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Lodge Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock.

A Thanksgiving motif was featured in decorations.

Mrs. J. J. Smelser asked an invocation and Mrs. Gene Lettwich made the address of welcome to which Mrs. Orebaugh gave response.

Mrs. Frank Barclay sang; Mrs. Gracie Bownds gave two readings and Mrs. Jim Johnson played piano selections.

After the dinner, the lodge conducted a regular session at the I.O.O.F. hall and Mrs. Orebaugh conducted a school of instruction. Ten visitors from Levelland, one from Breckenridge and the following Lubbock lodge members attended: Mesdames M. A. Sanders, Pete Ynum, Stella Gilliland, C. C. Jones, Sid Clark, C. A. Pierce, Mozelle Tims, Ralph Burdett, Lucille Pierce, G. R. Saverance, A. M. Cowdrey, B. E. Needles, Clarence Woodson, P. V. Williams, A. E. Quest, Clara Halbert, N. M. Goodin, Ralph Henderson, R. J. # Labor Leaders Face Possible Long Prison Terms And Big Fines

Two Convicted For Extortion

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A possible maximum penalty of 30 years in prison and $30,000 fines confront labor leaders George E. Browne and William Bluff, convicted of extorting $550,000 from movie executives.

A federal court jury found the pair guilty on all three counts of an indictment after deliberating only two hours yesterday.

Bail is refused. The verdict, climaxing a four-week trial that brought some of Hollywood's top executives to the witness stand, with Judge John C. Knox told the jurors, "let a lot of fresh air into union halls throughout the country."

Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees (A.T.S.E.), and Bluff, his personal representative in Hollywood, were turned over to the United States marshal to await sentence next Wednesday. Judge Knox refused to accept bail and denied motions to set aside the verdict.

"Assured" Labor Peace
In characterizing the verdict as "eminently desirable," Judge Knox asserted "all labor will doubtless be glad to have their unions purged of such individuals," adding:

"If union labor is to endure, it must rid itself of men who stand ready to sell out labor when it suits their purpose."

The pair was convicted of collecting from Warner Brothers, Paramount pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox and Loew's Inc. for assurance of labor peace in the motion picture industry.

Of 236 motion-picture films censored in Sweden in a recent month, 116 were newswreels.

Record Attendance At Seagraves Event

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 7 (Special)—Annual chuck wagon dinner of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce attracted a record attendance of more than 400 representatives of 17 South Plains and New Mexico towns and cities here Thursday night.

L. M. McAdoo, retiring president, was honored as the "most useful Seagraves citizen" and was presented a loving cup by Seagraves First State bank. He made a brief report.

State Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton, acting lieutenant governor of Texas, urged West Texans "to rededicate ourselves to the American way of life, the American way of thinking to show power-drunk Hitler that he will never be able to set a polluted foot upon the Americas."

Other brief talks were made by Rep. Hop Halsey of Lubbock and Sen. Marshall Formby of Plainview.

J. L. Peeler is new president and Herma Jones Gerardy is secretary.

New directors are J. A. DuMont, Joe H. Webb, Joe Grimes, W. A. Griffin, M. W. Moseley and T. A. Kair.

The dinner was an informal affair with guests attired for the most part in western clothing. Guests were here from Denver City, Lamesa, Seminole, Brownfield, Levelland, Midland, Andrews, Abilene, Sundown, Littlefield, Odessa, Big Spring, Tahoka, Plainview and Lubbock, and Hobbs and Lovington, N. M.

Texas Tech Students Visit Spur Station

Thirty-four members of the senior class in dry farming, range management, terracing and contouring at Texas Technological college left Thursday morning to inspect the state agricultural experiment station at Spur.

Accompanied by Henry P. Clay, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, they spent the day at the station. Vernon Lovess, in behalf of the Aggie club, invited R. E. Dickson, the superintendent, to attend the club's annual pig roast next Tuesday.

Dickson offered the pig for roasting and after consultation with the bus driver, the boys accepted it. The pig is awaiting slaughter at the Tech meats laboratory.

Dr. A. W. Young, head professor of anatomy and head of the plant industry department, was unable to accompany the students.

MONEY FOR CRIPPLES
MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—Often during the 30 years that Charles Ellsworth Parsons delivered mail to farm homes in this vicinity did he think of what he could do for crippled children. Last month he died and his will disclosed he left the bulk of his estate of $79,972 to Morrow county with the stipulation that it establish a home for crippled children on his 80-acre farm.

Alec Wilder Is A Musician's Musician Who Does Anything From Jazz To Opera—Good!

BY JOHN SELBY
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—If somebody had not lost a $20 bill on GAY street, down in Greenwich Village, jazz would have been shy its newest white hope among the composers.

Somebody did lose one, and Alec Wilder, who found the bill, was enabled to go back to his home town of Rochester, N. Y. That was in the late 20's and marked the beginning of Wilder the musician. Before he left Rochester he had tossed off a "cello concerto," a string quartet, and some less ambitious things.

Alec—once wanted to be a writer. Some kind friend told him nobody could be a writer until he had turned out a three-foot stack of manuscript, and Alec took it seriously. He wrote the three-foot stack and decided he had nothing to say. And then he found the $20 bill, just in time, and turned to music.

Alec's latest venture is an album of jazz recorded by Columbia in which he uses the oddest combination of instruments—in jazz to date, to wit, clarinet, flute, oboe, bass, bassoon, bass clarinet, harpsichord and drums. There are eight pieces, the titles of which mean nothing at all. "Bull Fiddle in a China Shop" is one.

But the album has led to the formation of Alec Wilder "cello" all over the land. New York's is headed by Sigmund Spaeth, who says Wilder's stuff is "the most charming and original music written by any American since George Gershwin." Two other "cello" members are Leopold Godowsky, Jr.—and his wife, who is George Gershwin's sister.

ALEC WILDER
"Musical Dutch-Boy"

After Alec turned out those eight pieces he wrote a successful ballet called "Juke Box" for Lincoln Kirstein. He may do an opera, and he has talked to Fritz Reiner about a piece for the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Meanwhile he has been recorded by Bennie Goodman ("Soft as Spring") and by Harry James and Charlie Savak ("It's so Peaceful in the Country"). A lot of his stuff has gone into shows, "Three's a Crowd" and "Thumbs Up" among them. He's made some top flight arrangements, too.

The important thing to those who take jazz seriously is that Alec is the musical Dutch boy with his thumb in the dyke.

For there's a great lag in jazz. There are a lot of performers who can, and do, play anything. But most of their real stuff has to be improvisation because the composers don't as a rule write as well as the musicians play. Alec

Britain Reported To Be Augmenting Her Military Power In Iran

Fresh Troops Are Arriving

(By The Associated Press)
ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 6. (Delayed)—Britain was reported today to be steadily augmenting her military power in Iran, bordering the Russian Caucasus, with a stream of fresh troops drawn from the empire and American-made tanks and planes and the help of two United States military missions to the Middle East.

The American delegations, each headed by a brigadier general, are expected to bolster not only the transportation organization but to manage the repair and supply for American-made planes.

Situation Improved
The transportation and ship unloading situations at the head of the Persian gulf, an intermediate link in the conveyor belt to Iraq, Iran, and the Caucasus, were said to have been vastly improved but were still far from satisfactory.

The Russian air force still has "pools" of planes far behind the lines, including one in the Caucasus containing upwards of 700 aircraft, according to a military observer who arrived today from Kibyshev.

The Russian army, he said, has suffered tremendous losses but retains good morale and has "huge masses" of forces yet in being.

Artillery Tanks Needed
He declared that the Russians were capable of carrying on a defensive fight far into the winter but badly wanted tanks and artillery for offensive action because, in their constant retreating, they had lost huge quantities of such equipment to the Germans.

Coupled with the reports of British activities in Iraq, Iran and Syria, there were renewed reports that the Germans steadily were preparing air bases and assembly points in Bulgaria for what one military authority called "a quick move in" if such a step were considered desirable either for military or political purposes.

dough for it. Me, I'd be a volunteer."

It was explained to Mr. Swataka that the Lip's role probably would not call for him to go through any scenes depicting the sweet surrender of love. He would be a ball player—but a ball player wearing the New York Yankees' uniform.

"Them Yankies exploded Mr. Swataka. 'Lucky stuff. Why if Fitz hadn't got himself fit on the leg by a line drive in the third game, we would have moidered."

Will Give Him The Bird
It equaled another 10 cent investment in lager by your agent to divert him from that line of reasoning and return him to the matter of the Yankee uniform. He considered it silently for about half a glass.

"I seen funny things in pitchers," said Mr. Swataka, "but I never thought I'd see the Lip in a Yankee suit. What us guys won't do to that Lip next summer when he comes out to coach."

We asked quickly, "You mean the bird?"

"The bird," said Mr. Swataka, "but good."

A dreamy look came into his eyes as he continued: "Yeah, I can hear us getting on him right now. I'm gonna yell 'Hey, Lip, which one of them Yankies you rooming with—Henrich or DiMaggio?' Or how you like 'Hey, Lip, how come Rizzuto beat you out of your job this year?' Naw, wait a minute I got it. 'Hey, Lip, don'tcha know what subway runs to the stadium?'"

Minimum Reading In City Is 33 Today

Minimum this morning at the state experiment station was a duplicate of Thursday, 33 degrees, with light damage done to tender plants, but no killing frost damage reported.

Thursday's maximum temperature was 71 degrees. The spread between the minimum and maximum was 38 degrees.

Thursday night shortly after 6 o'clock a sand-laden wind swept in from the north-northeast. The wind will aid sunshine in drying out both land and wet cotton bolls. Soggy crop land has held back harvesting of crops of grain and cotton.

Mississippi State's undefeated status, State, without much conviction.

Cornell Over Yale
Louisiana State - MISSISSIPPI: Ole Miss looks good now and rates the nod in a close one.

CORNELL-Yale: The Big Red's going through a shakeup but so what? Cornell - MISSOURI: New York University - MISSOURI: No rest for the Wildcats.

BOSTON COLLEGE-Wake Forest: The Eagles finally are clicking. Boston College - PENN.: Fighting off a strong inclination to pick the Lions, this ballot is cast for Penn.

Dartmouth Over Princeton
Princeton - DARTMOUTH: Dartmouth has the backfield strength to cash in on Princeton's lack of speed. Or so it seems to this corner. Dartmouth.

WEST VIRGINIA-Kansas: Taking West Virginia without much assurance. Kansas - IOWA: Even Stephen.

PURDUE-Michigan State: The Boilermakers luck is due to change. Purdue - DETROIT: Marquette: Just a guess. Detroit.

KANSAS STATE-SOUTH CAROLINA: Ditto. South Carolina. OKLAHOMA-Iowa State: Oklahoma looks much too strong.

RICE-Arkansas: Probably very close. Rice - CALIFORNIA: Washington: You'll go crazy if you look at the comparative scores on this one. Strictly out of the hat, California.

OREGON STATE-C. A.: This one is in the far north. Oregon State. WASHINGTON STATE-Idaho: Taking State.

FLORIDA - GEORGIA: Probably close. Georgia - GEORGIA TECH - Kentucky: Taking Tech.

St. Mary's-DUQUESNE: Despite the long trip, Duquesne. Brown - HOLY CROSS: The Crusaders are due to get organized again. Holy Cross.

Temple Gets Nod
GEORGETOWN - Mar a y land: Taking Georgetown. Penn State-SYRACUSE: State always gives the Orange trouble but this basket still is marked for Syracuse.

TEMPLE - Villanova: Neighborhood rivalry and we do mean rivalry. Tossing away the form charts but it still adds up to Temple.

FURMAN-George Washington: Sticking with Furman. Richmond-NORTH CAROLINA: May be Carolina can win one.

WILLIAM & MARY - Virginia Military: Probably fireworks. Out of the hat - William & Mary.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE - Virginia Tech: Not easy. Spinning the coin, North Carolina State. Washington & Lee-VIRGINIA: Taking Virginia.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Rutgers over Lafayette; Williams over Wesleyan; Manhattan over Boston University; TEXAS TECH over Creighton; Washington University (St. Louis) over Illinois college; Oklahoma A. and M. over St. Louis; Drake over Iowa State teachers; Tennessee over Howard; Vanderbilt over Sewanee; Texas Christian over Centenary; Citadel over Wofford; Montana over North Dakota; Denver over Utah State; Brigham Young over Wyoming.

Nazis Say FDR Tool For Jews

(By The United Press)
BERLIN, Nov. 7. — A Nazi spokesman said today that President Roosevelt can call Berlin a slave market then Germans are justified in calling Washington a ghetto.

"Roosevelt," said this spokesman, "is the personification of mania and the Jews are using him as their instrument. History some day will describe him as America's misfortune."

Have No Millionaires
"When Roosevelt challenges a comparison between the United States and Germany we do not hesitate to take up the challenge. We have no starving citizens. It is true that we have no millionaires but then, we have no citizens living in rags and filth," the spokesman continued.

"We will gladly be slaves if what Roosevelt means by slavery is the breaking of the chains of the old slavery under which Germany lived and the creation of a new Reich which can live in freedom, dignity and peace."

single game, and tied another. The one comparative score is with Amarillo. The Eagles lost to the Sandies, 6-0; the Westerners went down, 3-0.

Statistics told another story on those games, however. The Eagles were pushed all over the field by the Sandies, even though they held the state champs to a single touchdown Lubbock, on the other hand, held a large edge over Amarillo in statistics.

Lubbock Contest Is State's Highlight

BY TOM W. MILLER

United Press Sports Writer
In the 21 years of their gridiron relations, the Tors of Galveston's Ball High have never won a football game from Beaumont's Royal Purple. This corner predicts Galveston's frustration will end tonight at Beaumont.

The forecast is based wholly on accomplishments, or lack of them, of the teams this season. Galveston has been slapped down a time or two, but altogether has met with surprising success. Beaumont has lost every time out.

Lubbock Game Tops
Just last month Galveston whipped Port Arthur 7 to 0, the Tors' first victory over the Jackets in 22 years. Now they have a good chance of licking Beaumont, a team they tied three times in 21 games but never defeated. The island city boys ought to go it.

The choice game of a skippy week-end program — nearly all the big games will be played Armistice day — pits Lubbock's once-beaten Westerners against San Antonio Brackenridge in the state city night game.

It looks like Lubbock from here. Seven of the state's nine unbeaten and untied teams are in action and all look like winners.

Waco, Temple Favored
Waco and Temple, the Central Texas powers, should clear Cleburne and Waxahachie respectively in preparation for their big clash Nov. 21.

Paris looks three, maybe four, touchdowns better than McKinney. And Dallas Sunset over Dallas Tech, Gonore over Port Arthur, and Goose Creek over Beaumont South Park.

Men And Women Both To Wear The Pants When War Is Over

Death Claims Father Of Lubbock Resident

After learning of death of his father, W. C. Edwards of 1625 Seventeenth street, went to McKinney Thursday afternoon. His father, Granville M. Edwards, 97, was a native of Kentucky and the only surviving Confederate veteran of McKinney.

The elder Edwards had been ill several months. The Lubbock son, is a machinist for the Avalanche-Journal publications.

Mr. Edwards had lived in McKinney since 1887 when he moved from "Kantman" after living there six years. His wife, the former Miss Leona Jones, died in 1925.

He was the oldest of four Confederate veterans in Collin county. He was commander of Troop 1, 1st Cavalry of United Confederate Veterans.

Three other sons, William J., Edgar and Ernest P. Edwards, all of McKinney, and two daughters, Mrs. Ward Hart of El Paso, and Miss Carolyn Edwards of Dallas, and several grandchildren, survive.

Bond Election Is Held At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Nov. 7. (Special)—Election is in progress here today on a proposed bond issue of $25,000 to build a city hall.

G. T. Tubb will be presiding judge. J. A. Strong, judge. Bob Ford, clerk, and Lester Haskins, clerk. Voting is to be done at the city hall.

The bonds, if voted, would bear interest not to exceed 3.5 per cent, and they must be retired in not to exceed 30 years.

When the city commission ordered the election for bonds, it also ordered one for the same date on transferring of income of the city from one fund to another. This election was called under provisions of chapter 18, acts forty-eighth session, forty-third legislature, as amended by chapter 74, acts second called session, forty-fifth legislature.

24-Hour Work Day Is Urged

(By The United Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — Associate OPM's Director General Sidney Hillman said today that the United States must "end the idleness of machines" by inaugurating three or four shifts daily in all key defense plants.

"Considerable progress has been made in recent months in the expansion of shift operations in the defense industries and there is prospect of more progress along this line in the near future," Hillman told the United Press.

Asks Cooperation
President Roosevelt told labor delegates from 33 nations attending the final session of the International Labor Office conference yesterday that Americans must submerge their labor-industry differences and work "three shifts a day" to help defeat Hitler.

Hillman hoped that both management and workers in defense industries "will cooperate to expand production further along the lines proposed by the president."

Some of the so-called "continuous process" industry plants already are working 160 hours a week with four, 40-hour shifts and Hillman believes that this operation can and should be expanded.

OPM Director General William S. Knudsen was known to have approved of President Roosevelt's call for a "three-shift" defense program. He has been calling for longer working hours and privately has expressed a desire for uninterrupted production of war materials on a full 24-hour basis.

He also has appealed to aircraft plants to remain in operation over holiday periods.

Hillman pointed out that most of the key defense industries already are operating on "multiple shift" schedules. Most of the blast furnaces, steel and rolling mills, and chemical factories are running three or four shifts a day, he said. But some machines still stand idle during part of the 24-hour day.

"We won't have a man's world. It will be a people's world."

The reason: "War has always given women enhanced opportunities. For ages men have had the privilege of picking mates because women felt they had to look to men for assurance of security in life."

Beck accompanied his forecast with a warning that this radical readjustment will call for educational guidance.

Mrs. Patricia Strauss, wife of a laborer member of British parliament went along with Beck's line of reasoning and pointed out that many wartime practices may endure after hostilities cease. For instance, she said, the practice of families "doubling up" for meals and marketing and the freeing of numerous women for war work by delegation of one to prepare meals for several families.

Mrs. William P. Hobby, Houston, Tex., publisher and head of the women's division of the U. S. army's public relations bureau, warned that the defense effort was not a "tea-time adventure" and asked parents to quit finding fault with the national endeavor.

Actual Construction Started On Houses
Actual construction was started this morning on 14 of the houses being built by Lubbock Homes, Inc., for rental to army officers to be stationed at the air base west of the city, according to report by Homer Maxey, member of the contracting firm.

The houses will represent a total contract investment, exclusive of lots, of $53,690, according to building permit records. The individual permits are for $3,835 each.

All the houses are in Green Acres addition, which was brought into the city limits recently. The addition begins at Twenty-sixth street and Adams avenue.

Maxey Lumber company has the contract to build the first 40 of the houses planned by the corporation.

Road Bond Election Scheduled Saturday

FLOYDADA, Nov. 7. (Special)—Taxpayers voters in precinct 1 of Floyd county are to vote Saturday on issuance of $125,000 in road bonds for construction of hard surfaced roads in that section of the county.

The commissioner's court called the election. Voting places will be in the city of Floydada, Starkey precinct 1, Almon, precinct 3; Sand Hill, precinct 4; Hammy precinct 16; and McCoy, precinct 22.

Roads to be constructed include one to the county line near Petersburg and another to Barwise.

Under the resolution adopted by the commissioner's court, the bonds would bear three per cent interest the first 15 years and 3 1/2 per cent the next five years, with retirement at the end of 20 years, maturing serially.

ROMAN MASONRY FOUND

LUCERNE (AP) — Discovery of Roman masonry at Moriken recently appeared to prove that the Romans built palatial homes on the sunny southern slopes of the Kaiserberg near here.

Belief that this was the site of a former patrician Roman settlement was supported by the fact that the name "Moriken" has always been considered a derivative of the Latin "murus," meaning a wall.

Steam Radiator Heat

Steam Radiator Heat provides complete, uniform heat distribution without drafts or overheated air. This helps prevent colds and other ailments due to inadequate, unbalanced heating. The even, penetrating warmth of Clow Gasteam Radiators is the most healthful heat you can get, and by heating the house uniformly, you don't pass from a warm room to a cold one and catch cold.

Clow Gasteam Radiators make their own steam heat with gas. They are installed under windows or near doors where they warm cold air as it enters the room. The heat is then distributed through the lower or "living zone" of the room instead of to the ceiling, as with furnace heating.

For commercial heating, Gasteam Radiators are durable, simple, and require small space. The vented type radiators are recommended for the prevention of excessive moisture on windows.

For industrial or commercial heating, investigate the Clow Unit Heaters.

"Black Friday" Painted For Germany By Stalin

Western Front Is Doubtful

BY FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

Fatalistically, Joseph Stalin today gives Nazi Germany "one year, maybe" before it explodes. He chooses for this prediction a sort of black Friday for Germany, a day on which the Nazi armies before Moscow have suffered unexpected reverses and a day on which a billion dollars have been entered to the credit of Soviet Russia on Washington's least-kept book.

However, if one carefully considers Stalin's first speech, the one he made yesterday, it looks as if his "one year, maybe" forecast is based on the expectation that a second fighting front will be set up in Western Europe within that time.

Urges Second Front

"What is the cause of the temporary lack of success of the Red army?" Stalin asked, in yesterday's broadcast speech. "One of the causes is definitely the lack of a second front in Europe against the German Fascists. The matter is that at the present time on the European continent there are no armies of Great Britain and the United States conducting war against the Fascists."

Coming from Stalin, this is bound to have the most profound effect in England on public opinion, already querulous about the extent of aid which is going to Russia. It will hasten, although not necessarily change, the plan of the imperial general staff for the opening of a second front.

Italy May Suffer Blow

The British do not conceal the fact that such a plan exists and they say it will be put into effect when "the time is opportune." Well grounded informants here and in Washington believe that the first phase of this plan is a large-scale offensive to stamp out the Germans in Libya, and that the second front on the continent will be opened up from African bases, very possibly in Italy.

The main flow of American-made mechanized equipment is being directed into Africa; in Egypt the British, with the aid of American military experts have set up a service of supply of tremendous potentiality. Only from the air is the British Mediterranean fleet challenged, and Britain's own Middle Eastern air force daily gathers strength.

Stalin put great stress on the man-power losses of the German army; he said Hitler's losses were 4,300,000. The British, however, have shown a natural wariness to accept figures intended to show that German military strength in western Europe is woefully weak, and that, plus the fact that there are not enough British tanks, planes and other supplies for both home and Middle Eastern fronts, has weighed against an early frontal smash at Nazi-occupied France.

At best Stalin's 4,500,000 figure for German casualties can be but a broad estimate. The figure might well be cut in half when it is placed alongside the Russian leader's acknowledgement of 1,748,000 casualties.

Of one thing, however, there is no doubt: The present casualties, whatever they total, are but starters.

Entertainment Row Has Praise For Season's First New Star

BY TOM WOLF
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Fall's first new evening star has just risen over New York's famed night club skyline. Her name is Aurora.

All Americans—North and South—know of Aurora. They have been singing her praises for almost a year, for it was she who inspired the hit Brazilian tune whose title bears her name. But it was not until her recent debut here at Monte Prosser's Copacabana that North Americans have had a chance to hear her do the singing.

Carmen's Sister

Their verdict on this raven-haired songstress from their billing reads: "the sultry, exotic, orchid-laden verandah of Brazil" is: "Oh, oh, oh, oh, Aurora."

Aurora's second name is as well known to North Americans as is her first. It's Miranda. Yes, she's Carmen Miranda's kid sister. You know it the moment you see her. Full-figured, she has a round face, with Carmen's sparkling deep brown eyes and stubby nose. "Mama has so beautiful a nose. Why Carmen and me we got papa's nose?"

"Yanquis" Like Difference

There the visual resemblance stops. Aurora avoids any trace of the clothes of Bahia which have become Carmen's trademark as assiduously as she refuses to use the name "Miranda." She wants to stand on her own two feet and make her own name, just as she did in Brazil.

"In Brazil Miranda is a very often name," Aurora announced, her expressive hands waving as she clutched for the correct English words. "I am Aurora Miranda and people don't know I am Carmen's sister. Like Carmen, only Carmen sings. When I begin, I sing the same songs like Carmen. But it's different. We are different." The "Yanquis" who have heard Aurora seem to like the difference.

Likes America

Aurora began singing five years ago in Brazil. Carmen didn't teach her. The whole family just sang naturally. (Two brothers and a sister are not professional singers, however). Aurora used to go with Carmen when she broadcast twice a week and listen. One day one of the other singers on the program forgot to show up. Aur-

County Goes 8 Years Without Jury Trial

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo., Nov. 7 (AP)—Citizens boast that Hot Springs county has the most law-abiding inhabitants of any county in America.

It has been eight years since a law case was decided in the county by a jury. The February jury convened—the first in four years—but was dismissed without hearing a case.

Seven cases were on docket when the jury met—and it looked as if the record were doomed.

However, all seven cases were settled out of court and the jurors returned home without hearing a trial.

SHAFTER, Cal., Nov. 7 (AP)—Cracks in the soil caused by alternate heating and drying have been overcome by a machine designed here to roll and press fissures together in the Kern county potato fields.

The object of the machine, designed by James Camp and Donald Hart, both of Shafter, is to keep soil cracks closed during the growing period, thus reducing the danger of tuber moth infestation.

The pressing unit is comprised of two concave-surfaced wheels, supplemented by a curved bar to raise the vines as the wheels pass and lower them without injury.

Netherlands East Indies Steeled For Action If War Approaches

Defense Plans Chief Problem

BY JOHN M. RALEIGH
United Press Staff Writer

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 7.—Gradually the Netherlands East Indies are adjusting themselves to a condition of war wherein sacrifices and alteration of daily life are common now.

Since last year, when the Indies awoke to the shock of German armies pouring into Holland, the Dutch here have had to adapt an entirely new way of life, a policy totally foreign to everything these rich islands have embodied for decades.

From the easy occupations of tea planter, rubber estate manager, or importer and exporter, colonial Hollanders suddenly faced the menace of total war.

That meant siestas in the afternoon's heat, long week ends in the mountains, and a nearly courtly manner of conducting business all had to stop.

Home News Lacking

Before them were problems, not only unfamiliar, but seemingly unconquerable. There are very few Dutch homes in the whole of the archipelago that are not daily wondering what has happened to a loved one caught in the lowlands when German soldiery poured over the frontier.

Air raid precautions had to be organized; the army faced the task of how to double and triple its numbers in the shortest possible time.

Navy officers submitted plans for new harbors, dry docks, submarines of the latest types, and more flying boats to patrol 6,000 miles of vulnerable coastline.

Orders for American fighters and bombers were rushed to factories in the United States.

Storage Caves Built

In North Java, the mining city of Bandung, powder plants increased their staffs, instigated new departments, and hastily built vast storage caves in impenetrable mountain country where shells and demolition charges were to be stored.

A hundred different efforts began at once. Money exchange control organizations were formed. The Dutch ARP began the arduous task of educating natives and Dutchmen to the terrors of air raids.

In a few months enough shelters to house 20,000 people had been built in Batavia alone. Gas decontamination squads drilled. Ambulance and first aid units studied motors and manuals of field surgery.

Export and import committees regulated foreign trade.

Propaganda departments, shipping boards, war message emergency groups sprang up overnight, mushrooming into a compact entity bent upon the protection and defense of the Indies.

Great Progress Made

What the Dutch have done to secure one of the world's richest territories in a scant 12 months' time is surprising.

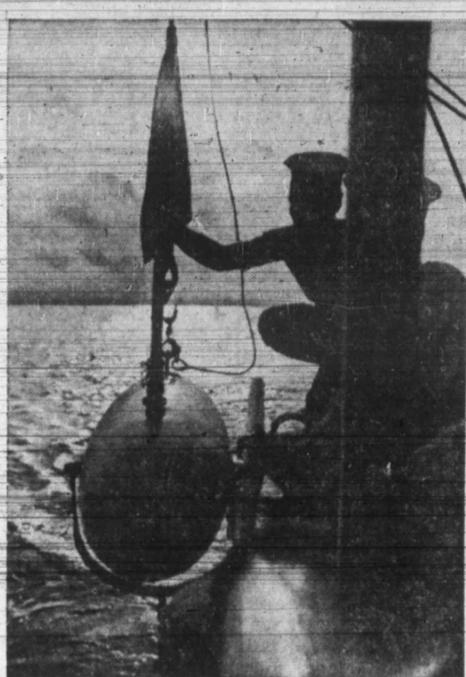

Army and navy officers, facing realities, admit that the NEI is not an elongated Gibraltar. But neither are the islands as easy to invade as might be thought. Long range navy flying boats stay away from their main bases for periods of six months at a time constantly covering a lonely stretches of coast and sea.

Army airdromes—more than 50 of them—are buried in deepest jungle, hidden away and camouflaged in Borneo and Sumatra, the Celebes, and other outposts.

Terrain Test Fliers

Pilots and observers are trained over territory that might become a battleground. Enemy air arms, even with the best of facilities, would find it difficult to operate above one of the most dangerous areas for flying in the world. Dense undergrowth for countless acres, and peaks that tower more than 12,000 feet make flights over the islands perilous to the uninitiated. An enemy, too, would have no radio to guide him. Night bombing would be largely a matter of guesswork.

The country is fairly secure from air attack by its natural abundance of tropical foliage. While trees, bushes, and vines make emergency plane landings nearly impossible, troops—dressed in light green regimentals—may march unmolested along tree-lined roads, and still remain un-

DAWN COMES UP LIKE THUNDER—Dawn on the China Sea finds keen-eyed Malay seamen on the lookout for mines that might be lurking in the shipping lanes around Singapore. The Malays are swinging out a float from a British minesweeper manned and mastered by dependable natives.

Army, Navy Perfect Substitute For Silk

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7, (UP)—Army and navy officials have announced that they are not concerned about the impending shortage of silk used in powder bags and parachutes because they have developed satisfactory substitutes.

Navy informants say they have sufficient stock of raw silk to fill their needs for the next two years, anyway, and that several years' experiments with synthetic fibers have produced satisfactory results.

The army discloses that its ordnance officers have developed a cotton cloth suitable for powder bags, and tests with Nylon and similar materials have shown that these substitute fibers are adequate for parachutes.

Everyone knows why parachutes are made of silk. Their cloth must be of light weight and strong resistance. Powder bags, it is explained, must leave a minimum of residue when the charge is fired to prevent smoldering fragments from igniting the next charge inserted in the gun's breech and causing it to explode prematurely.

Both the army and navy, with a long-range eye toward the future, have conducted experiments toward discovering these suitable substitutes and they say now that their efforts have borne fruit and they are highly satisfied with their results.

Production of the new materials is still in small quantities, but informants disclose that when it will become necessary they expect to have adequate facilities established to produce enough to fill all requirements.

Jesuits At Los Gatos Work As Stonemasons

LOS GATOS, Cal., Nov. 7, (UP)—The Jesuit brothers of the Novitiate of Los Gatos have built their new winery office stone by stone.

The Jesuits used native sandstone cut from outcroppings of their hillside vineyards for the building. The work was finished just before the autumn grape harvest began.

TIME FOR DENTIST

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Willard C. Fleming, dean of the University of California College of Dentistry, figures the average American should spend three hours and 12 minutes each year with his dentist. In each 100,000 persons, he said, at least 90,000 have dental disorders.

Fewer Radio Calls From Pilots Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7, (UP)—Civil Aeronautics Administrator Donald H. Connolly has asked all airplane pilots to reduce the number of radio messages they send, as airways communications facilities are becoming overtaxed.

Copnolly said air-wave facilities were particularly crowded at points where there are training activities.

"A great many requests are being received which could be eliminated if pilots would listen to the scheduled broadcasts rather than make calls for weather information just after the sequence weather reports have been sent out on the regular schedule," he said.

The famous European news agency, Reuters, started business nearly 100 years ago with a pigeon post service.

LOST SHEEP

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Marysville lost one of its best known national institutions when offices of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association were moved to San Angelo, Texas. The office has been here since 1900 and in that time has recorded the pedigrees of nearly a half-million sheep.

Motor Head Is Making "After Hitler" Plans

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Writer

DETROIT, Nov. 7 — Production of $1,200,000 worth of defense materials, machine guns, trucks, airplane motors, shells, marine engines, anti-aircraft guns and half a hundred other vital materials is a big job. But Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of General Motors is not too busy with it to prevent keeping one eye on his "A. H. Plan."

That, he explains, is the "After Hitler Plan." It concerns finding answers to the question which will then be a grave one: what are we going to do with the vast industrial facilities and productive capacities that are being built up in the defense effort?

Every General Motors division, under Sloan's "A. H. Plan," is under orders to study plans for altering the war products, cheaper products, which can be produced with defense-plant machinery and factories, and by the vast influx of newly-trained workers who are now pouring into industry.

Sloan doesn't think it's out of order to give thought to this problem now. "I think that if we don't, we may win the war but we will lose the peace," he says. "After all, this whole effort is to preserve democracy and free enterprise. One means the other."

NEITHER PLANTS NOR WORKERS CAN BE IDLE

As Sloan looks ahead to this "After Hitler" problem, when the defense emergency is over, the country will find itself with a vastly-increased productive capacity, and with thousands of new workers returning from military service. For those productive facilities to be unused, for those workers to be idle, is intolerable. In one way or another, both are going to be used. If private industry doesn't do it, public funds will, with a resumption of spending.

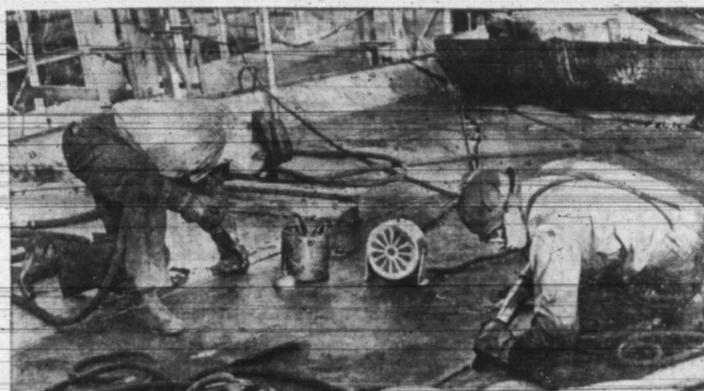

But what will need then, Sloan believes, is "to produce more, cheaper and better products in that 'after Hitler' time. That is the way to increase consumption, not simply by spending more and more." Unless free enterprise institutions are prepared to take up this problem "after Hitler" and lick it, there will be no alternative to returning to the government "pump-priming" which, in Sloan's opinion, has "frozen or semi-frozen the economy during recent years." Then, he believes, "something serious" might happen, involving the end of what we have known as the "free enterprise system."

NEW MASS PRODUCTION INDUSTRIES HAVE GROWN

Most people do not realize, for instance, what is clear on any comprehensive tour of the defense industries. That is that this is not simple expansion, but the building of entire new industries. The airplane industry, as a mass-production industry, for example, simply did not exist in 1940. When you consider that in the Ford plant at Willow Run near Ypsilanti, it is planned to employ 60,000 men building planes, the size of the new industrial effort is suggested. (There are only 90,000 at River Rouge, the largest single industrial plant of today.)

constructed or are building, and if the defense effort lasts until 1944 as it well may, it is expected that 23,000,000 men and women will be working in defense industries. Add to those three or four million demobilized from the army, and the size of the problem is suggested.

Haiti's Voodoo Cults Are Claimed Waning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP) —

The Haitian voodoo cult, famed for its "black magic" religious ceremonies, is nearing its last days, according to Dr. Alfredo Métraux, Smithsonian Institution archeologist, who has just returned with one of the finest collections of voodoo ceremonial paraphernalia.

The decline of voodooism is associated with an intensive drive by missionaries, who discovered that some of the most ardent members of the cult were prominent in various Christian churches. They recognized no essential discrepancy between the two loyalties.

As a result of the missionary endeavors, a great number of voodoo objects — vases, drums, pipes, wooden bowls, satchels of earth, stone axes, rattles and images of saints — have been discarded. Sacred fig trees are being felled, and large posts representing African gods are being destroyed.

The voodoo cultists also are taking oaths to forewear any association with the African deities of their forefathers, and only in the remote jungles of the West Indian Republic is voodooism still practiced as before.

Men Have Novel Way To Aid Blitz Victims

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 7 (AP) —

Members of the crew of a Canadian National Railway train agreed to drop a penny in a box every time they used profanity.

When the train arrived here the other day, the box was opened and the contents—$9.56—was donated to aid bomb victims in Britain.

Slovakia, Using German-Modeled Curbs, Rules Jews' Every Move

Sharper Teeth Given Program

BY ROBERT H. BEST
United Press Staff Writer
BRATISLAVA, Nov. 7—In solving the Jewish problem, Slovakia is closely following Nazi Germany's example.

After more than two years of deliberation and experimentation Dr. Josef Tiso, prelate-president of the protectorate of Slovakia, has abandoned his former program of half-way measures and has invoked a series of laws closely resembling the Nuremberg code and the numerous administrative measures which give even sharper teeth to this law throughout greater Germany.

Official Positions Banned
Like its Nuremberg model, Tiso's code divides the Jews into full-blooded and mixed-blood, according to the number of Jewish grandparents. Marriage is forbidden between half, three-quarter or full-blood Jews and non-Jews or quarter Jews.

All official positions are closed to Jews, and likewise the general practice of medicine, pharmacy, law and veterinary surgery.

On railway trains they can travel only in third-class coaches and cannot use either sleepers or dining-cars. They cannot possess radios, cameras, field glasses, firearms or fishing licenses.

Cannot Drive Auto
No Jew is permitted to drive an automobile, motortruck or motorcycle. They can employ as domestic servants non-Jewish women past 45.

Except by inheritance, they cannot acquire new property of any kind. For houses or businesses now owned by Jews the government can appoint administrative commissioners.

Those who have acquired landed property in the past through forced sales must return this property to the original owner against a refund of the sum paid for it. The state further can liquidate at will or transfer any Jewish business to an Aryan person or corporation. To date almost 3,000 Jewish enterprises have been liquidated.

Towns To Be "Purged"
They can be expelled from the whole or any part of any village, town or city and segregated in other centers or special sections thereof. In principle all communities with fewer than 5,000 inhabitants will be purged first. Jewish residents in larger centers must vacate their dwellings in certain specified districts soon.

All clubs or associations of Jews are outlawed; the only organization to which they may belong is the Jew Central in Bratislava. They can neither conduct nor participate in any public meeting, nor can any product of a Jewish writer be published anywhere in Slovakia. Later a periodical may be permitted to the Jew Central.

Worship is permitted but only in buildings whose outside appearance in no way reveals the nature of the building.

Schools Are Restricted
Ritualistic slaughtering of animals has been abolished. Educational facilities have been reduced to a grade school standard and a few special classes. They must attend separate schools.

From their bank accounts Jews can withdraw weekly a maximum of 500 kronen, (approximately $20). Recently the state imposed a 20 per cent levy on Jewish property which is valued at an estimated $3,000,000,000 crowns—more than half of the value of Slovakia's total property—and a 40 per cent levy on bank deposits.

Gradually a large percentage of able-bodied Jews will be placed in work camps and many others assigned to living quarters in unoccupied military barracks built by Czechoslovakia after the World War.

Most of the measures became effective Sept. 12. Some have been in force for several months. For the remainder of the period of grace expires by January.

Special labels similar to the obligatory yellow and black "David's Star" with the superscription "Jude" worn by Jews in Germany are expected to be worn by Slovakian Jews before Christmas.

They Remake Their Lives At A Profit

(By The Associated Press)
Long-term convicts in Oklahoma State Penitentiary at McAlester, who have dependents outside the walls have turned to a wide variety of arts and crafts to aid in supporting those dependents and to occupy spare hours after the prison work day is done. Markets are found through a cooperative organization of the prisoners. Families and friends act as salesmen. Here is a picture story of the profitable and morale building enterprise.

TWENTY-SIX months in death row gave Roy Murphy plenty of time to study. When his sentence was commuted to life he began turning out lamps that found a ready market.

VERNON MATHEWS contributes to the support of his mother and has a bank account of his own after 13 years in Oklahoma State Penitentiary. Here he is grinding down a set for the stone of one of his unique ring designs. He is recognized as an expert in ring engraving.

BEAUTIFUL hand-tooled saddles, bridles and gun belts made by Henry Lane command high prices and are in demand throughout Oklahoma. Some of his saddles have brought as much as $1,500. Four children and an invalid wife are supported by the income.

WOMEN'S black suits and dresses and sport and cowboy shirts comprise the specialized line of garments made in spare prison time by Alvin Coffey, left, and his cousin, James Wade. Alvin taught Jimmy the tailoring trade and they have developed a profitable business.

MOSAIC inlay, an ancient craft, as practiced by William Thompson, a Creek Indian, in Oklahoma State Penitentiary, has brought financial reward since he entered prison in 1939 to serve a ten-year sentence. Here he puts final touches to a picture frame.

DESIGNING, shaping and engraving of gold and silver belt buckles set with precious stones have brought Kurt Kusterer considerable fame and a nice financial return.

Beehive Insignia Is Chosen For Squadron

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 7 (AP)—Fliers and planes of the new 20th bombardment wing stationed in Salt Lake City soon will have an insignia—and an all-Utah one at that.

As one of his last official duties before being transferred to New Orleans, Brig-Gen. Walter H. Frank sent sketches of the new insignia to the War department for approval.

Designed by Paul S. Clowes, the insignia is made up of two bombs, a seagull and a beehive. Utah is known as the beehive state, and the seagull emblem is taken from the historic incident in which swarms of seagulls came from Great Salt Lake to destroy hordes of Mormon crickets which were devastating crops of the first Mormon settlers in the state.

The two bombs, in V-shape, will flank the beehive with the seagull perched on its top. Wing colors of ultramarine blue, gold and yellow will serve for the background.

That Girl on Broadway says man's inhumanity to man is a mild and gentle thing compared to woman's cattiness to woman!

If you are worrying for fear you may be a bit unbalanced mentally, stop it right this minute.
You have to be somewhat crazy in order to live in this fool world today!

NOW that Waco has been awarded the 1942 convention of the WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce, we are confidently expecting Texarkana and Beaumont to fight it out for the 1943 meeting.

There are many ridiculous situations in the world today, but none of them is more incongruous than the thought of the WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce holding its annual convocation in a city long established and recognized as the business, social and cultural capital of CENTRAL Texas!

Waco is a lovely old city. Its hospitality is justly acclaimed. The Plainsman knows because he has attended two state-wide newspaper gatherings there and he can testify that nowhere is the visitor more kindly or thoughtfully welcomed and treated than in the graceful McLennan county capital.

We have no criticism of Waco, or its people, for inviting the WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce to meet there, because in so doing Waco only lived up to its enviable reputation as a hospitable community.

But for the WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce to choose as a convention site a city that isn't in WEST Texas is nothing short of plain silly.

FOR the WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce to choose Waco as a convention city is comparable to the East Texas Chamber's selecting Abilene, or the South Texas Chamber's selecting Wichita Falls.

One of two things is bound to be true in connection with awarding the 1942 WEST Texas Chamber of Commerce convention to a CENTRAL Texas city:
Either the WEST Texas cities large enough to accommodate the WCCC convention aren't interested in it; or

Choice of Waco was dictated solely with an eye to the membership cash register.
But regardless of the truth in the matter, it's a ridiculous situation.

If old Diogenes were still ambling around and about with a lantern, searching for an honest man, we could put him in touch with one right quick.

We'd send old Diogenes to W. A. Helton, who operates the barber shop in Amarillo's Herring hotel.

Mr. Helton advises: The Plainsman that on Oct. 25, the day of the Lubbock-Amarillo football game, there was left in his barber shop a topcoat bearing the Hemphill-Wells label. Mr. Helton has been holding the coat, expecting its owner to drop in, but as yet no one has come to claim the garment. He is ready to turn it over to the owner after, of course, the latter identifies the coat.

Mr. Helton certainly is acting honorably in this matter. (And while the Plainsman has heard of people losing their shirts in connection with Lubbock-Amarillo football games, this is the first time he's heard of anyone losing an overcoat!)

That Man on Avenue Q says the taxpayer who's carrying it around on his shoulders doesn't think this is a small world.

The average man can tell you all he knows in two hours," declares a Columbia university professor.
Not if we see him first!

CAUGHT on the Fly. Our Army intelligence officers have received word that Germany is concentrating forces in Tunisia and soon may be expected to start the long talked-of assault against the Rock of Gibraltar; famed British stronghold guarding entrance to the Mediterranean.
Many federal employees in Washington now are putting in much overtime work without additional pay of complaint. They're patriots, too. For years, manufacturers and jobbers of musical instruments have had tough sledding but now are enjoying a feast after the famine. Increased Army and patriotic demands are given the credit, but the prosperity is to be short-lived. Priorities in metals used in band instruments will soon all but halt their manufacture.

"Pam! Ten years have been frightened off the end of my hair!" Jerry's arms closed around her and drew her tight, the water from their dripping garments making a little circle around them.

"Silly!" Pam exclaimed. "Have you forgotten that I was born in Key West?"
"Consequently swim like a fish. Yes, I had forgotten. I'd forgotten everything in the world, Pam, except that if you went out of my life all of its reason for being would be gone. That's I lost you. I'd have lost everything."

Pam clung to Jerry in momentary panic. His words had brought home to her doubly what it would mean to her to lose him. She paused on the thought of what she would have done if he had not plunged in after her.

"It would, she knew, have built a barrier that they could never have surmounted. It would have separated them forever, because it would in a sense have been making a choice between his own crowd and her. If he had chosen the others in that crisis, she could never have forgiven him.

"Oh, Jerry!" Her emotion finally found words. "I feel that way, too. If I lost you, I'd lose everything!"
"I know, darling. I know." He kissed her damp face. "Pam, you're the dearest, sweetest girl in the world!"

"If I only could be, for you! I want to be everything in the world that you want."

It was Jerry who was first concerned about their wet clothes. "You'll take cold," he said. "These wet things. Come, I must get you home where you can get dry ones."

"You keep forgetting that we Corns aren't afraid of salt water," Pam laughed. "Salt water never gives you a cold. It's being out in the rain that does that."

"Says you. Come, I'm taking no chances with you, sweet." "But really I mean it, Jerry. We're never afraid of being wet with salt water. It never gives you a cold. That's a belief handed down through generations of seafaring men and women."

"We're never afraid of the ocean, but we don't want its conch shells in our houses. We feel they're bad luck when you bring them under a roof."

"Nevertheless I'm taking no chances with you." He lifted her in his arms and carried her to his car. "You can change, darling, and then we'll go to the hotel and I'm preparing to build some steel mills in South Africa, far away from this crowded English industrial city so easy to bomb."

With steel-shorn in the U. S. and Canada, our neighbors in the latter country are suggesting that wooden ships be built for the merchant service. Canada has millions of feet of lumber which could be used in ships; points out that many-wooden merchantmen built during the last war are still in use.

A cheerful old bear in the zoo could always find something to do. When it bored him, you know, to walk to and fro, he reversed it, and walked fro and to. Boyce House.

MANY years ago, a fine San Antonio lady—a member of an historic Texas family—frequently gave financial aid to worthy young girls attending College of Industrial Arts at Denham, now called Texas State College for Women. The philanthropic lady was Miss M. Eleanor Brackenridge.

Recipient of the first aid from Miss Brackenridge now lives in Washington, D. C. She is Mrs. Annie Andrews Schwartz. And although it has been many years since Mrs. Schwartz was helped by Miss Brackenridge, the former has never forgotten, in memory of her benefactress, who has since passed on, the "Good Neighbor" policy of the national organization, called the M. Eleanor Brackenridge club, which also has a worthy aim to aid young girls.

Members of the M. Eleanor Brackenridge club are sponsoring the various kinds of entertainment proceeds from which go into a fund to be used for scholarships. These scholarships will go to outstanding young Latin-American girls who, in turn, will use their scholarship money to attend college in the United States. Thus worthy Latin-American girls will be given additional educational opportunities and the plan, also, will help the "Good Neighbor" policy of the national organization.

First event sponsored by the M. Eleanor Brackenridge club was a concert, held in Mrs. Schwartz's home in Washington. Young wives and daughters from the various Latin-American neighbors appeared in the costumes of their native lands, sang native songs, danced native dances and entertained, in general.

First Latin-American recipient of the M. Eleanor Brackenridge scholarship has not yet been named, but already a search is on for her.

Thus bread cast on Texas waters years ago is coming back to girls in neighboring republics populated by the same people who have played such a role in the history of San Antonio de Bexar, home of M. Eleanor Brackenridge and many others of the same name.

BEAUTY, VS. MATERIALS OF WAR

Representatives of U. S. beauty supply houses climbed 'way out on the well known limb at a convention recently when they adopted a resolution asking high priorities ratings for the sort of metals used in containers for such products as lipsticks, face cream and the like.

It is the misfortune of the beauty supply people that metals now used in most of those containers, as well as many others of the fixtures in beauty shops, also are essential to the national defense.

Some of the speakers in the convention contended that the use of the metals for cosmetics and beauty apparatus is more important than for many purposes commonly associated more directly with the national defense effort. They argued, doubtless with some truth, that the ability and opportunity of the average American woman to pay occasional visits to the beauty shop, and to make regular use of cosmetics, is an aid to the preservation of high morale.

For our part, we cannot believe that the beauty or the morale of American womanhood is of such flimsy stuff that she would permit—much less demand—that materials needed for guns and airplanes and warships be used instead a continuing abundance of cosmetics.

Let the beauty-business go on, say we with a rousing cheer for the miracles it works, but let's be sensible about it.

We need guns and tanks and planes and ships much more than metal containers for artificial beauty aids!

I'll change. We'll go back to the party and laugh at them for having given us the sweetest hour of my life.

"No, Jerry. I can't go back. Don't ask me to do that. I couldn't!"

"But you don't expect me to take you home and then go back to the party alone, Pam? I couldn't do that, either. Not now, Darling. I've got to have you a little while longer. The night's too young and beautiful to give you up, even for a few hours, just yet."

"I'll tell you what," Pam's voice was as eager as his own. "Let's change and then drive to South Beach and let me show you the only place in the States where you can see it."

"In the mood I'm in, sweetheart, an ordinary garden-variety star would be a seven-days' wonder." It was then that Jerry, standing beside the car, patiently awaiting her turn at attention, Jerry turned to her.

"You four-legged idiot," he said tenderly. "But you deserve a jeweled collar for your loyalty to me. Come on, he invited and with her dripping coat she got in to the car and rode aloop."

A Heroine Now Melita met them at the door and hurried to get a towel with which Jerry could dry. Blaze, who was thoroughly enjoying the attention, called up to Pam.

"Make yourself beautiful, darling," he said. "On second thought, this skipping the rest of the party is no go. We've got to go back. There is a lot of fun still to be had—the night's young now, and you—let that bite into Lenore's pride and vanity! That's going to be a wallop right where it will hurt her most, Pam—in her pride."

Pam didn't reply immediately. "We can't let that girl annihilate us," Jerry went on then. "Besides, Mother and Dad would be worried. They'd think we'd developed quick pneumonia, or something. So the Southern Cross can wait."

John L. Lewis Loses Leftist Backing In CIO

BY PETER EDSON Journal Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—All kinds of motives have been ascribed to John L. Lewis for bringing the captive coal-mining union shop battle to a showdown at this particular time. A frequently heard explanation charges Lewis with staging a grandstand play to capture the CIO national convention in Detroit late in November, taking the CIO presidency away from Phil Murray.

In this strange day and age of universal stupefaction and false fronts it's almost impossible to determine anyone's real motives, but men high in the councils of labor men—familiar with the workings of internal labor politics as complicated a set of currents as ever bedeviled any political party—these men say Lewis' chances for recapturing CIO leadership are practically nil for the simple reason that Lewis has lost the support of the left-wing labor forces.

The original alliance between Lewis and the left-wingers took form back in 1933, Lewis then believing that if the leftists had something to contribute to industrial unionism, their talents and resources should be used. Since 1933, Lewis has never said one word in public against the left wing in the labor movement. Other labor leaders have openly blasted at the Reds from time to time, but not Lewis.

IN the years right after 1933, Lewis and labor generally "sold" Roosevelt hard. Organization drives under the wage and hour law were conducted with the slogan, "Roosevelt wants you to join a union." The results were phenomenal, but by 1936 Lewis was drifting away from Roosevelt ahead of the Reds. The battle over the sit-down strike in Detroit had come along, and Lewis supposedly told the President that if the men were shot out of the auto plants, Lewis would be in there with them, and Lewis would have to be shot out, too. . . .

By 1940, Lewis is supposed to have been ready to bargain with Roosevelt, trading labor support for certain concessions to CIO. The deal didn't come off. Lewis then began to be undermined by his own unions—the auto workers and other great sections of the CIO—pledging their support to Roosevelt in spite of the stand taken by Lewis. He then believed the issue was whether Roosevelt was to head the labor movement in America, or whether a man from labor's ranks was to lead.

MURRAY MIDDLE-ROADER IN the 1930s, Lewis lost out on that issue, but in spite of that at the CIO national convention only a few weeks later, Lewis was the dominating figure. His basic strength was his United Mine Workers' union, but his support came from the left wing unions and marginal groups among the steel and auto workers. Sidney Hillman, who had supported Roosevelt through this period, was a dominant figure for the conservative group. Phil Murray, taking a middle-ground, supporting Roosevelt but not supporting Hillman, was nominated by Lewis for the CIO presidency and elected.

As the defense effort gained momentum, Lewis continued his support of the left wing unions in key strikes like those at Vulture and North American plants, Hillman, now in the government as labor adviser, said Phil Murray, loyal to Roosevelt and as a good Washington lobbyist, anti-Red, both criticized the left wing, "communists inspired" strikes.

That was the lineup right up to the time summer day when Germany invaded Russia. Almost immediately the left wing switched, feeling that the political content of the U. S. foreign policy issue had changed and that this was now a real anti-fascist war.

Today, the left wing labor doctrine preaches no compromise with John L. Lewis, and this doctrine is clearly defined in the Communist Daily Worker. "Where previously there had been a tendency to let Lewis go his own way on foreign policy, but to work with him on domestic issues, now the left wing leaders no longer come to see Lewis for the simple reason that they regard him as pro-fascist. They point to three things in support of the charge that Lewis is pro-fascist and an appeaser: 1. Lewis has made only one statement on foreign policy and that by indirection when he signed the recent Landon-Roosevelt statement opposing the Roosevelt foreign policy. 2. Lewis' daughter Katharine is a member of the America First committee. 3. In the absence of statements giving support to the anti-fascist elements of the labor movement, Lewis' uncustomary silence is considered significant by the left wingers.

LABOR LINEUP WASHINGTON labor leaders use the term "left wing" as the CIO to indicate a general tendency on policy without attempting to classify the entire membership of any union as communistic or radical. . . . In general, the CIO union heads who make up the leadership of the so-called left wing group are the following: Ben Cole of the fur workers, perhaps the farthest left of the CIO units, and a strong union. . . . James Carey, until recently president of the largest CIO unit, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union. . . . Harry Bridges of the longshoremen, Joe Curran of the maritime union, Mike Quill of the transport workers, Abe Flaxer of the municipal workers, O. M.

est things I've ever done. And, you know—he was grinning whimsically—"I seem to remember your saying you'd never ask me into your house again and my saying you couldn't keep that threat. Well, tonight you asked me in. I seem to be getting somewhere. Progressing, as it were."
"Foolish! Could I be discourteous to a man who had risked his life for me when he thought I needed saving?"
"Foolish? Well, as I seem to remember saying before, darling, it's nice—foolishness."
It was then that Blaze, who had been crowded away from them in their triumphant return to the yacht, sniffed inquisitively from the stairs. Her nose was quickly followed by her whole eager body, her tail wagging madly at discovery of her loved ones.
"You old snooper!" Jerry scratched her ear fondly.
"Shall we go down and dance now?" Antoine was idling near the rail as Jerry and Pam passed. "Come on, Antoine," Jerry said, "we could do with a brace of cadenzas!"
Antoine grinned.
"The stars of the evening have but to command," was his easy reply as he moved toward his piano. A chord brought all the boys to attention. And Edmund's opening notes brought dancers to the floor.
Pam, looking over Jerry's shoulder, saw Vin trying to engage Lenore in conversation while de Bellefort stood close. Lenore seemed to wince with embarrassment. Pam signaled to Vin. He cut in. As Antoine finished, he caught Vin's eyes in friendly greeting and held out his baton. Vin moved swiftly toward him, urged on by a friendly pat from Pam.
"Show them how it's done, Vin," she said.
