1918-ARMISTICE DAY-1941

He Kept the Faith of 23 Years

Presumably he has gone to meet the dead heroes of the Argonne and of Chateau-Thierry, for when the United States Navy announced the 45 survivors of the Reuben James, the name of this stalwart was not among them. But he will be remembered. On this day Americans do homage to him, and to the myriad others who have died that Freedom might live. You are not forgotten, sailor of the U. S. S. Reuben James, on this Armistice Day, 1941. Nor will you be forgotten.

America's World War Dead Must Not Have Died In Vain!—FDR

Colorful Parade Tops Observance Of Day In City

Normal pursuits were in the background for a day while Lubbock joined this morning in the observance of the 23rd anniversary of the signing of the armistice which brought the first World War to a close.

Hundreds of uniforms gave the downtown area a martial appearance during the early forenoon while preparations were made for the parade which was easily the most colorful event of the day's observance.

Several Events Sited

The parade, however, was only one of the several events included in the official program which was carried out exactly according to schedule, according to Dr. E. F. George, chairman of the joint armistice committee of Allen Block, post of the American Legion and Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

First event of the day was a before-dawn breakfast for former service men in the Hilton hotel. Music predominated on the program there. Participating in the program were Tom Biggs' all-girl orchestra, Hop Halsey's Drugstore Cowboys and Arthur Christensen's eight-piece string band. A talk by Halsey and dances by Debby Lull, Alton Walker and Dorothy Nell West were other events. Biggs was the program chairman.

Parade Is Elaborate

The parade was by general agreement, one of the most elaborate features of its kind ever included in an Armistice day program on the South Plains.

It was followed by Armistice day services in the First Baptist church, where Mark McGee of Fort Worth, a director of Texas Technological college, was the principal speaker. McGee, an attorney, is a former adjutant general of Texas and served as a lieutenant on the World War staff in France of Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen. Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Tech, introduced McGee. Mr. and Mrs. McGee and their daughter, Jean, arrived this morning and are guests during the day of Dr. and Mrs. Jones. They plan to return to their home tonight.

Condition Became Grave

Her condition became grave during the week end and members of the family were constantly at the bedside Monday night.

Mrs. Powell was born Oct. 11, 1889, at Independence, Texas, and came to Lubbock 10 years later in a covered wagon with her family. Her father, W. E. Penney, bought the first hotel constructed in Lubbock.

At one time in Lubbock's history the name Penney could be associated with every business concern. Mrs. Powell was the youngest of 12 children.

Church Activities Leader

She joined the Episcopal church about 13 years ago and was a leader in church activities until her health began to fail. She was identified as a leader in the church auxiliary work. She was a former member of the Eastern Star lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell were married April 24, 1907.

Besides the husband, a son, W. M. Powell of 3202 Twenty-first street, a brother, P. Barrett Penney of 1405 Nineteenth street, a sister, Mrs. J. C. Royalty of 1710 Avenue R, and grandson, survive.

Rev. John A. Winlow will preach funeral services at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Rix Funeral home.

SOVIETS TRAP BIG GERMAN FORCE

Russians Claim Nazi Invaders Are Exhausted

Crimean Defenses
Crumbling Before
Mighty Onslaught

Official Soviet dispatches reported today that the large German forces had been trapped near Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, and that Nazi prisoners captured in the 40-day-old battle on the central front now appeared exhausted.

In the Crimea, a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said German and Rumanian troops were continuing to advance against the great Black sea naval base of Sevastopol and the port of Kerch, gateway to the Caucasus.

Details Not Given

Details of the new gains were not given. Previous reports had placed the Germans about 20 miles from Sevastopol and slightly farther away from Kerch. With the Russians fiercely defending both points.

Beside the big German contingent reported trapped near Volokolamsk—victims of the same encirclement tactics exploited against Red army troops—the Russians said a major Soviet counter attack had been launched in the Serpukhov sector, 65 miles south of Moscow, against German panzer units attempting to break the central defense area.

German Annihilated

Reuters, the British news agency, declared German forces trying to cross the river Oka there had been annihilated.

Violent all-night fighting was also reported in the Tula sector, 100 miles north of the U. S. S. R. capital, with Soviet troops holding their ground against repeated Nazi tank assaults in the southern suburbs of the town.

A large group of prisoners captured in the last few days of the western Moscow front gave evidence during questioning of a further moral and physical deterioration of German troops, a Soviet communique said.

Prisoners Look Exhausted

All prisoners looked exhausted.

In the north, defenders of siege-girt Leningrad were reported holding fast against 60,000 fresh troops.

House Battle Rages Over Neutrality Bill

FDR URGES BIG TAX BILL

Administration And Opponents Claim Victory

Torrid Vote Seen;
Final Debate To Begin Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Administration leaders were making mighty effort today to forestall any possibility of a foreign policy defeat on neutrality act revision in the House.

The Democratic whip committee, headed by Rep. Patrick J. Boyland (D-Pa.), has made a survey which, it was learned, shows the House presently divided to give the administration a close margin on the bill to send armed merchant ships into war zones with lend-lease cargoes for delivery at belligerent ports.

Surveys Usually Accurate

Whip committee surveys are usually accurate within one or two votes. On the basis of the present survey—apparently close enough to cause concern among administration leaders—most anything could happen when the vote is taken late this week.

Boland, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) and House Democratic leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass) studied the survey late yesterday. Afterward they stood by their earlier predictions that the House would accept the Senate amendments to the original House ship arming bill, but made no guesses about the probable majority.

FDR's Leaders Concerned

Privately, however, President Roosevelt's leaders in the House were not happy about the prospects for the major foreign policy issue on which the chief executive has committed himself.

Leaders took the position that House rejection of the Senate neutrality bill, on the heels of Mr. Roosevelt's recent announcement that the shooting has started in the Pacific.

Scale Of Wages To Be Paid To Strike Breakers Posted; Workers Are Hired

CHARLES A. Blakely, commander of the 11th naval district, posted a scale of wages to be paid the strike breakers under civil service regulations. The scale was almost identical with that existing on the projects when the strike was called last week.

K. G. Bitter, strike leader and secretary of the local building trades council, professed to know nothing of the action of Richard Gray, acting president of the American Federation of Labor building trades department, in declaring the strike "outlaw."

Churchill Under Fire Of Laborite Leaders

Prime Minister Assailed For Allegedly Evading Censorship In Cable To FDR

LONDON, Nov. 11.—An indirect charge that Prime Minister Winston Churchill as first lord of the admiralty evaded the British censorship by cabling President Roosevelt behind the back of the Chamberlain government was aired today in the House of Commons.

It was suggested in the debate that Churchill was liable to prosecution under the defense regulations in connection with the alleged cable to Mr. Roosevelt.

Petain Annuity Scored

The incident was brought up by one of the prime minister's most bitter opponents, Richard R. Stokes, Laborite.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir H. Kingsley Wood disclosed that Britain is allowing Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, to draw an annuity of 600 pounds (about $2,400) taken out with a Canadian company in 1927.

The revelation was described by S. S. Silverman, Laborite, as the cause of "greatest perturbation" and he added that the country "will not approve exceptional treatment for the head of a state who is working as hard as the country in the worst life and death struggle of history."

Italian Crimes Spotlighted

Kingsley Wood replied that an "exception was made" on the grounds that Petain had contracts with a Canadian company and (Turn to Page 7, Column 7, Please)

Two Hurt In Slalon Crash

SLATON, Nov. 11.—Two persons were in Mercy hospital this morning with injuries suffered when their car overturned following a collision about one mile south of Slaton at 7 o'clock this morning.

The injured were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Blalock of Clyde. Blalock suffered a fractured leg. X-ray examination was being made this morning to determine whether he suffered any other fractures and to determine injuries of his wife. Both were in state of shock, but neither was believed critically injured, said a physician.

Slavs' Terror Reign Flares

ROME, Nov. 11.—An official communique said today that Yugoslav terrorists had hurled three bombs into a public square at Split, a truck filled with Italian soldiers, wounding 24 soldiers and 25 civilians.

The bombs were thrown during a concert by an Alpine army band.

Simultaneous with the attack at Split, a truck filled with Italian soldiers was machine-gunned by other Yugoslav "Communist terrorists" and some were wounded, though not seriously.

The announcement said 150 arrests were made in the Split region, mostly among the Communist elements originating in other Balkan areas.

The 150 persons will be held as hostages pending investigation of those guilty of the attacks, the communique said. Trial of persons arrested for the attacks will be conducted by a special military tribunal.

Minor Thefts Are Reported

Police this morning were investigating theft of automotive equipment at College Avenue Wrecking Co., at 303 College, theft of heads for a saw, a blanket, a square, a bathing suit and a flashlight from Charles Johns of 2402 Seventh street, and lesser complaints.

Rangers said a negro was sought after a theft report had been made in the Roby section. He allegedly had stolen cotton scales and was believed en route to this section, where he lives in an automobile well described.

Japan Ignores War Threat Of Prime Minister Churchill

Determined To Push Policies

(By The United Press) TOKYO, Nov. 11.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's war threat against Japan was viewed in informed quarters today as a last minute attempt to apply pressure on the eve of the negotiations special envoy Saburo Kurusu is to conduct with the United States.

A grant of $121,600 has been approved by the Defense Public Works authority in Washington toward the expansion program of Lubbock city schools made necessary by the increased enrollment resulting from the establishment of the advanced air corps training school under construction west of the city.

Announcement of the grant was received by school authorities by a telegram from Congressman George H. Mahon, who was instrumental in guiding the district's application for federal aid in connection with a general building expansion program. Confirmation by telegram also was received from Sens. Connally and O'Daniel.

Local school officials, including Board President J. T. Hutchinson, Superintendent W. B. Travis and Business Manager A. C. Jackson, were jubilant over the news.

Federal Grant All Inclusive

The government's grant will defray expenses in connection with the addition of six classrooms to the Senior High school building; six classrooms to the Wilson school; six classrooms to the Sanders school. The grant also takes care of the equipment of those additional rooms.

Board President Hutchinson said a special meeting of the school board would be called at the earliest possible moment—doubtless within two days—for the purpose of discussing further additional expansion made necessary by the growth of Lubbock. With the government's grant assured for that part of the expansion made necessary by the Air Corps project, the board is expected to call for a $300,000 to $350,000 bond election to care for the balance of a building program which school authorities agree is essential.

In addition to the expansion covered by the federal grant, the school board advises two more rooms for each of the Sanders, Bean and Wilson schools; six more rooms for Senior High and construction of a new ward school building in the Northwest part of the city. Under present plans additions to the high school will include a cafeteria, a band room, and an agriculture department, while cafeterias will be included in Bean, Wilson and the new Northwest ward buildings.

Buildings of the Lubbock Independent School district—13 in number—are packed to the eaves and some pupils and teachers are on "staggered" schedules in order to accommodate the crush. Plans for the expansion program, under the direction of Haynes and Strange, local architects, are well under way and a building committee of the school board, composed of Trustees Walter G. Alderson, R. F. Bayless and Chas. A. Guy, has been busy for several months, studying the situation and working on possible remedies.

Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal of Roscoe Wilson school, announced the week's program for that school. Parents are invited to visit any day, but Thursday has been designated as visiting day. Written invitations are being sent to parents specifying the hour at which they are to come. This is necessary because of crowded conditions. Mrs. Savage explained. Regular classroom work will be carried on in most of the rooms, but special programs of dramatizations, rhythms and demonstrations are being planned.

Civilians Of U. S. Are Warned They Must Be Prepared For Possibility Of 'Total War'

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Office of Civilian Defense today warned civilians that this country must be prepared for the possibility that "total war" may come to our cellars and backyards just as it did in France, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, Poland and other European countries.

Civilian defense week begins today and the OGD warned that 1941 war is a war of civilians as well as soldiers.

"The heroes of total war," it said, "may never don a uniform, may never enter a trench, may never fire a gun.

"Back yards have become front lines.

"Cellars have become dugouts."

In his proclamation announcing Armistice day as the beginning of Civilian Defense week, President Roosevelt called on civilians to join themselves to the OGD program and participate in it as air raid wardens, nurses corps, messengers, drivers, and auxiliary firemen.

OGD Director Fiorello H. La Guardia followed the president's proclamation with an appeal to governors of the 48 states to stimulate observance of the week.

at this time, said Mrs. Bradley, who reported that the battalion that is to break camp, was busy Sunday packing and getting ready. As far as she knew, she added, none of the Lubbock units will make the trip today.

Sgt. Bradley and his orchestra played for a farewell dance Saturday night for officers of the battalion. Sunday afternoon the band, under direction of Joe Haddon, also a former Lubbock man, played a concert at 4 o'clock for the enlisted men.

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

AMARILLO RIVALRY

Dear Plainsman: I have been in Lubbock for four months and there is something I can't understand, I came from Amarillo and up there everyone speaks very highly of Lubbock. But here, if you ever hear Amarillo mentioned it is someone taking a dirty dig at Amarillo when they lose a football game. They always say the best team wins.

I understand that before the Lubbock-Amarillo ball game they had a pep rally at the high school and one of the teachers made a talk telling the students how dirty Amarillo football fans are and what poor sports they are. When the schools try to instill hate in the children for a neighboring town it looks to me like all the poor sports are not in Amarillo.

A Reader,
Lubbock.

Dear Reader: Thanks for your letter, but "that ain't the way I heard it." I have a lot of friends in Amarillo and they tell me that if an Amarillo citizen mentions Lubbock's growth and prospects in a local gathering there, he simply lets himself in for plenty of raps. I don't know anything about the speech to which you refer. But if such a speech was made, I agree with you that it was very poor form. As for the general rivalry between Lubbock and Amarillo, I think it is healthy, goodnatured and good for both towns. Cordially yours—The Plainsman.

Individuality In Style, Fabric And Color Is What Counts In Your Suit

Torso Jacket Is Popular

By HELEN FORRIST HALL, Associated Press Fashion Editor

It's individuality that counts in the suit you wear today, whether it's your "uniform" or a less integral part of your wardrobe.

Maybe our American designers lost perspective for a moment and created too many silhouettes for one season, but when it comes to suits they have produced a goodly number of fashions that are exciting and in good taste, too. And they've made it easy for us to select what is really becoming—what merely means good-dressing.

Softness Is Evidence

That suit individuality carries through in style, fabric, color and treatment of fabric or trim.

Even the classic suit likely has softness and easy body lines this season. The pencil-striped suit, for instance, usually severe in cut, may have gentle body softness and an inset belt. And new color may give the classic suit a dressed-up air. The wearer, of course, handles the "mystery" a little like a lot's business by varied accessories and warmth giving gaskets of fur or of cloth contrast.

Torso Jackets Everywhere

Suits in general have soft shoulders with sleeves cut in one with the yoke, and some bodies softness merging into that yoke. The dolman sleeve is making itself evident. Yet the narrowed and slightly lifted shoulder isn't out if its done right.

Long torso jackets are everywhere, and the usual shock of the new, appear to fair advantage.

We must watch our braided trims—they ought to be of the same color as the suit, generally, to be right, and the exceptions for color contrast likely should go into the dress. For the distinctive and dressier suit, trapunto (padded, quilted treatment) adds a most effective note.

With so many suiters making dress and jacket combinations, and with the imagination that has gone into blouses to be worn with skirts—it looks like a fine time for suits.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

The courage of the British women, who have found no defense job too dangerous to tackle has won for them more respect and admiration than have, perhaps, ever been given a nation's women.

And they deserve every bit of it—those uniformed women who are driving ambulances, ferrying planes, digging the dead and wounded from flattened buildings, fighting fires, serving as air raid wardens, working long hours in factories turning out planes and guns.

But don't you suppose that actually those British women are finding the active role they are playing in this war more satisfactory than the role that usually falls to women in wartime?

They are right in the thick of things, defending their homes in an active—not passive—way. The woman who drags the injured from a pile of bricks that was once a house, loads them into an ambulance, and, ignoring personal danger, gets them to a hospital for treatment is bound to know that she is doing something worthwhile, that she is playing an important role.

One good indication that the role that the British women are playing in this war is far more appealing to women than a more passive one is the way American women have started organizing themselves so that if war should come to America they, too, will be driving ambulances, ferrying planes and managing to get into the fight.

No matter how often they are told to stick to their knitting and canning and feeding their families well-balanced meals, they just get together and organize another ambulance driving unit.

If war comes, they want to make sure they'll be ready for a more exciting job than bandage rolling.

Ticket Sales Are Reported

Because of the holiday, the tickets to the Helen Keller lecture Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Senior High school auditorium were discontinued at school principals' offices and in the Hilton hotel booth today but will be available Wednesday and throughout Thursday. The City Parent-Teacher council is sponsoring the appearance of the famous blind woman.

Tickets are $1.10, 83 cents and 85 cents which include federal taxation.

Miss Keller, accompanied by her friend and secretary, Miss Polly Thomson, will come to Lubbock from Pueblo, Colo., en route to Dallas where she appears Friday and Saturday. She is a wonder of a generation, having overcome handicaps of blindness and a lute tongue.

"Let There Be Faith" is the theme of Miss Keller's lecture Thursday night. In addition to her appearance, young Edouard Blitz, cellist, will be presented, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz.

There were 8511 conventions, conferences and expositions held in the United States and Canada during 1940.

WANT TO DO MORE THAN ROLL BANDAGES

She is bound to feel more useful than the woman called on to play the traditional role of women in wartime, who is told to do her part consisting of knitting sweaters, rolling bandages, sending boxes of food to soldiers, canning, and scripping at home so that "the boys" can be fed.

Those things are essential, of course, but they don't give a woman the feeling that she, individually, is taking part in the fight.

One good indication that the role that the British women are playing in this war is far more appealing to women than a more passive one is the way American women have started organizing themselves so that if war should come to America they, too, will be driving ambulances, ferrying planes and managing to get into the fight.

No matter how often they are told to stick to their knitting and canning and feeding their families well-balanced meals, they just get together and organize another ambulance driving unit.

It's just surprising how winter colds and drafts disappeared after we put in the Clow Gasteam Radiators

Steam Radiator Heat

Steam Radiator Heat provides complete, uniform heat distribution without drafts or overheated air. This helps prevent colds and other ailments due to inadequate, unbalanced heating. The even, penetrating warmth of Clow Gasteam Radiators is the most healthful heat you can get, and by heating the house uniformly, you don't pass from a warm room to a cold one and catch cold.

Clow Gasteam Radiators make their own steam heat with gas. They are installed under windows or near doors where they warm cold air as it enters the room. The heat is then distributed through the lower or "living zone" of the room instead of to the ceiling, as with other forms of heating. For commercial heating, Gasteam Radiators are durable, simple, and require small space. The vented type radiators are recommended for the prevention of excessive moisture on windows. For industrial or commercial heating, investigate the Clow Unit Heaters.

"Super Airliners" To Speed World Travel And Trade Are Visioned

Future Outlook Is Bright One

BY NEIL BURKHARDT
United Press Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—The sleek, twin-engine fighting planes rolling off American production lines today are the forerunners of future commercial airliners that eventually will fly from Los Angeles to London in 10 hours, according to Thomas A. Corpe, executive of the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

The airliners of the not-too-distant future, Corpe said, will fly non-stop from Los Angeles to New York in six hours and from Los Angeles to Honolulu in the same time.

The giant planes will be multi-motored luxury liners that will travel 400 miles, and possibly 200 miles an hour, faster than present-day transports, he predicted.

"The technological progress we are making," he said, "is bringing us very near to the production of commercial and private airplanes that will give us a new conception of time, space and distance."

Greater Things To Come
"As marvelous as have been the developments in aircraft production in the past few years, they are only the forerunners of the great things to come."

Corpe pointed out that the high speeds attained by today's military planes were unheard of 10 years ago and he disclosed that bombing planes are being built that are expected to exceed 400 miles an hour and will be capable of easily flying 30,000 feet.

Unlike most "predictors of things to come," Corpe has a concrete example of what the planes of tomorrow will be like. They will resemble a super-transport ship now being constructed.

The plane is the Lockheed Constellation, which the government has authorized the corporation to build because of its conversion value as a troop transport as well as a passenger craft.

Plane Has Pressure Cabin
The Constellation, Corpe reports, is a pressure cabin plane, whose landing gear folds into the wing and fuselage during flight. It is powered with four 2,200-horsepower engines and will have a top speed estimated at more than 350 miles an hour and a non-stop cruising range of at least 4,000 miles. It will fly during 1942.

"This plane marks the first attempt to combine speed and size

SMALL BATTLEFRONT

Although it changed the history of the world, the battle of Waterloo was fought over a front of only two miles and lasted nine hours.

The chief sources for cork are Spain and Portugal.

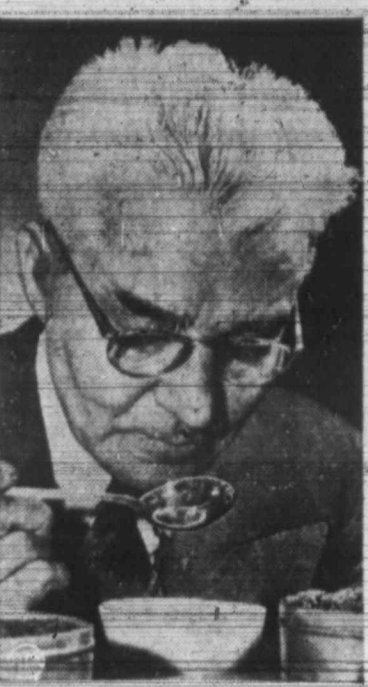

and is the predecessor of greater planes in the future," Corpe said. "Some day an automobile highway will be completed to South America. But long before that we will be flying from Los Angeles to Rio de Janeiro in the time it took to fly to New York a few years ago. Good neighbors will become close neighbors and continents and oceans will lose their vastness."

More Freight To Be Flown
"Departures of clipper ships will be stepped up in the future from one a week to one, two or three a day. Freight, as well as express, will be carried by air—in fact, a company already has been organized to handle nothing but air freight."

Corpe predicts that airplanes will permit the average man to live farther from his work, in communities not yet dreamed of, and maintain close contact with distant friends.

But this great future in the air, Corpe said, will be a direct result of the rapid expansion of American aircraft industries during the national defense program. The planes of tomorrow will be constructed sooner than even the most fantastic dreamers imagined.

due to the advances of the present aircraft program.

Westerners Prepare For Austin High; Red Raiders Bear Down For St. Louis

Pampa Invades Plainview; Slaton Entertains Brownfield--

Schoolboy Clashes Top Armistice Card

Class B Crown To Be Decided

District 1-AA Tilt Set For Plainview

In important high school games calculated to draw heavily on Lubbock and South Plains fandom this holiday, the Pampa Harvesters play Plainview's Bulldogs at Plainview in a District 1-AA contest; Brownfield's "Fighting Cubs" invade Slaton for an outstanding Class B contest, and Petersburg plays Frenship High at Wolforth in a championship Class B game.

Undeclared in District 1-AA championship play, Plainview is a "paper" favorite to defeat Pampa this afternoon in a game certain to attract a large crowd at the Plainview stadium, although there are some who figure Pampa's heavier line will more than offset the speed of attack which has seen the Bulldogs through several victories, including a conference triumph over Borger.

Both could upset Amarillo. Either team is given a chance, though slight, to defeat the Amarillo Sandstorm, which defeated Lubbock by the margin of a field goal, and throw the district race into a tie.

Amarillo is heavily favored to win over Borger today in a game at Butler Field, but favoritism won't be so high in Amarillo's favor when the Sandies clash with Plainview and Pampa in succeeding weeks.

Lamesa goes to Midland today for a District 3-AA contest, due to win.

The Class A race of the district, No. 5, won't be decided, officially, when the Tigers of Brownfield and the Tigers of Slaton meet today, but here is an old football rivalry that will attract one of the largest crowds of the season, in the Slaton park. A special train of two will bring fans from Brownfield, and there'll be a speed bus or several, and no telling how many private automobiles from the Terry county seat.

Brownfield Favored. Brownfield is favored, on the basis of its record, but Slaton's victories over Littlefield, Morton, Olton, Post and Levelland brand the Tigers as a worthy foe for the undefeated Cubs. The game may serve as a preview of the district championship contest.

Coch Harris Cheek's Petersburg eleven plays Frenship at Wolforth today for the District 4-B title, and it's rated as a close, interesting game. The Buffs of Petersburg closed out their campaign for the North zone title with nothing more than a scoreless tie to mar their record, while Frenship, coached by Roy Morris, formerly of Meadow, won from Ropes-tied Meadow, and by forfeit from Cooper for its South zone championship.

Fordham Still In For Bowl Consideration. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11 (AP)—A role of cheer for Fordham football followers who have for had hopes of celebrating New Year's eve in New Orleans, was sounded today right from Sugar Bowl headquarters.

Asked what effect Fordham's loss to Pittsburgh Saturday would have on Sugar Bowl plans, President A. N. Goldberg of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports association declared:

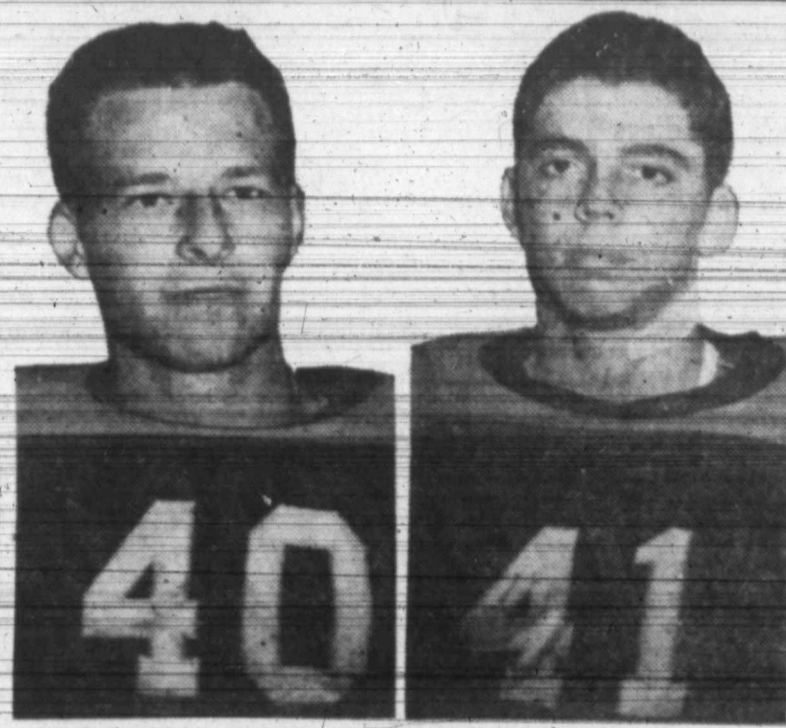

"Every team with an outstanding record has a chance to be invited to the Sugar Bowl. We choose teams only on the strength of their records. Naturally, as the season goes along more and more teams are defeated."

Until that amazing Pittsburgh affair Fordham was generally considered almost certain to be on the Sugar Bowl bid, January 1. Goldberg said he had visited authorities of Fordham and Temple on recent trips to New York, but added:

"It just amounted to a personal visit. I would have been foolish if I hadn't seen them."

"We are not committed to any team in the country and never have been."

Minnesota Takes First Spot In Grid Poll; Texas Second

INTRODUCING THE WESTERNERS — Here are a couple of reserve linemen of whom you've heard little this season. Frank Liddell (41), right, is listed as a guard, but has played both at guard and tackle, starting one game at the latter post. He's a 144-pounder. James Conley (40), left, is a reserve tackle who completes his eligibility this season. He's a 179-pounder.

Bowl Choices May Emerge From Contests-- Notre Dame-Northwestern Tilt Highlights Week End Of Grid Classics For Football Fans

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 — All but one of the nation's seven unbeaten football teams, risk their records this week against rivals who have nothing to lose and all to gain, and out of the scramble will emerge the Big Six king, a couple of bowl biggies and possibly the mythical national champion.

There's only one choice as game-of-the-week and that is the meeting of undefeated Notre Dame and burly Northwestern at Evanston, Ill. For the Irish this is the contest that makes or breaks the best season since the era of Knute Rockne, and for Northwestern it's one well-chance for revenge.

Turn back the clock to 1936 and you'll get the angle on this. That was the year the Wildcats whipped everyone they faced only to have their dreams of a national crown go up in smoke when the Irish clipped them, 26-6. On Saturday the positions will be reversed, and Northwestern hasn't forgotten.

Oklahoma Faces Missouri. Here are the other stand-out contests: Missouri-Oklahoma at Columbia, Mo.—The Big Six pennant and a possible jump to sunny lands on New Year's day are the prizes at stake here. Both teams have been beaten once but have perfect records within their conference. Only a micrometer expert can find anything to choose between them.

Duquesne-Mississippi State at Pittsburgh.—The only game which matches two undefeated teams. These two fought it out in the Orange Bowl in 1937, and Saturday they fight it out again for a probable return trip. Duquesne is the only perfect record squad in the east and the game is a toss-up.

Minnesota 3-1 Favorite. Minnesota-Iowa at Iowa City.—Unless the Hawkeyes have improved faster than Pitt this contest is important only because it will help make Minnesota's Big Ten title official and carry the Gophers a little closer to the national championship. Minnesota, 3-1, but remember what happened to Texas.

Stanford-Washington State at Palo Alto, Calif.—Stanford holds a one-game edge towards the Pacific conference crown and western Rose Bowl bid, but the Indians face a team which has lost two games by only a single point and has a giant-killing reputation.

Ineligible victories over Palestine and Livingston would be forfeited.

Tech, Temple Tied For 24th Place; Aggies Are Fifth

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Fordham's defeat by Pittsburgh and the 7-7 tie to which Texas was held by Baylor had their aftermath today in the fifth of the weekly football ranking polls conducted by the Associated Press.

The Rams' first loss of the season dropped them right out of the first ten; Texas, though still undefeated, was shoved down to second place, and a full tide of favor swept the Golden Gophers of Minnesota back into the No. 1 position which was awarded them at the beginning of the campaign.

Most Decisive Margin. Ballots were received this week from 122 football experts all over the country, and 99 of them made Minnesota their first choice. Thus the Gophers, winners of 15 straight games, were returned to the spot they held for the first two weeks of the season and shared with Texas as two weeks ago. With improving and high-scoring but four-times-beaten Wisconsin left on the schedule, Minnesota now appears a good bet to finish its second straight season without defeat and also repeat as No. 1 team in the final national ranking.

With such a strong proportion of first-place votes, the Gophers had the most decisive margin in any poll this fall. Getting 40 points for first place, nine for second and so on, they drew 1,187 points, to only 881 for Texas, still first pick of four experts.

Duke, Aggies Next. Besides Minnesota, only three other major elevations are undefeated and untied, and all of them made the first ten. Duke, with 11 first-place votes and 844 points, got third place; four went to Texas as A and M, with six and 794, and Duquesne, which ends its season Saturday, against an undefeated Mississippi State, broke into the select group for the first time at tenth place.

Notre Dame, unbeaten but tied by Army; Stanford, west coast standout which recovered handsomely from its single loss to Oregon State; Michigan, beaten only once by Minnesota; Northwestern, noted out both by the Gophers and Michigan; and Alabama, its record marred only by an early-season loss to Mississippi State, won the other berths.

Notre Dame Fifth. The Irish, impressive in handling Navy's initial defeat, were moved up from seventh to fifth; Stanford, with two games to go for another Rose Bowl trip, from ninth to sixth; Michigan from eighth to seventh; Northwestern from 10th to eighth; and Alabama from 13th to ninth.

Standout game of the week will meet Notre Dame and its star sophomore Angelo Bertelli, who has passed for more than 700 yards against Northwestern and its more versatile soph ace, Otto Graham. Texas will play Texas Christian, Duke will meet North Carolina, Texas A and M will tackle Rice, Stanford will meet Washington State, Michigan should have its toughest against Columbia, and Alabama will go (Continued On Page 7)

Sweetwater To Meet Odessa

Lamesa Is Playing In Midland Today

(By The United Press)
Armistice, the day of peace, found 30 Texas high school football teams embroiled in Class AA gridiron battle.

The top game of the day was at Sweetwater where two brawny teams fought it out for the leadership of District 3. Sweetwater's Mustangs, unbeaten and untied, were favored over Odessa's Broncos, losers of one game this season.

Leading Scorer Set. The game provided Marion Flanagan, the state's top scorer, with an opportunity to widen the margin of his lead over two other fine backs — Raymond Borneman of Houston Lamar and Buryl Baly of Paris — who have inched up close to his total.

As of this morning, before the Sweetwater-Odessa game, Flanagan's point total was 128. Baly has 121 and Borneman 117. The latter two, however, did not play today.

Lufkin Faces Nacogdoches. Another important game pitted the heavily-favored Lufkin Panthers, No. 1 offensive team in Texas despite one scoreless tie, against the Nacogdoches Dragons, 14-0, as expected. Lufkin wins, the district 12 title may belong to the Panthers for another year.

Other Armistice games: Pampa at Plainview; Borger at Amarillo; Big Spring at San Angelo; Abilene at Colorado City; Lamesa at Midland; Gainesville at Denison; Sherman at Bonham; Brownwood at Breckenridge; Ranger at Cisco; Tyler at Longview; Texarkana at Marshall; Palestine at Athens; Kingsville at Robstown.

New Mexico To Play Marquette Saturday. ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 11 (AP)—A squad of 30 New Mexico university gridlers will leave on a streamliner tomorrow (7:35 a. m. MST) for a 1,433-mile jaunt to Milwaukee and Saturday's game with Marquette university.

Coach Ted Shipkey said many of his players would be making their first trip from New Mexico's mountains and mesas and the Texas plains. He planned only limbering up exercises along the way. The squad plans to arrive in Milwaukee Thursday, about 11 a. m.

New Mexico, third place in the Border conference, has won four, lost two and tied one.

NO LETDOWN FOR BAYLOR. WACO, Nov. 11 (AP)—One might think that the Baylor Bears earned a rest after their shocking upset tie of Texas, last Saturday. Not so.

The Bears reported for practice yesterday and were rushed immediately into heavy scrimmage against the freshmen.

"There will be no letdown," said Coach Frank Kimbrough. All-Brazilian factory forces in Brazil will make products for Brazilians.

No Armistice At Plainview

By Collier Parris

ARMISTICE DAY FOOTBALL, which, as a holiday feature, hasn't meant these days, offers entertainment on scattered fronts today.

For citizens and soldiery of the immediate vicinities, there is the Pampa-Plainview high game at Plainview, a District 1-AA game of considerable though non-championship-bearing interest; the Slaton-Brownfield high school game at Slaton, which may prove to be a preview of the Class A championship game, and the Petersburg-Frenship game at Wolforth, which is designed to settle the District 4-B grid title.

These games are recommended for football fans of Lubbock who, for the first time in years, do not have to be concerned with either a Texas Tech or Lubbock High game on this holiday. Slaton and Plainview are getting considerable Lubbock "business" today, and for good reason.

If you will allow us a guess, we would pick the visiting teams in both ball parks. We wouldn't say it out loud, but Pete Smith must have some reason for leaving Plainview, after several successful chamber of commerce years, and Brownfield seems to have too much on the ball, and too many ball players for Slaton.

That's letting down our own and dear neighbors, but that's the dope as we get it, and if the dope is wrong, we won't cry a hill!

There are other important high school games today. Amarillo plays Borger, but the Sandies shouldn't have much trouble. Windy Nicklaus, the first captain at Texas Tech, is having his first setback as coach of the Borgers. Everywhere else he has coached, his teams have been front rank. He couldn't lose at Amarillo Junior college, or Oklahoma Baptist, his last two assignments before going to Borger, and it certainly wasn't his fault that the places declared a closed season on football after winning championships.

He is having a struggle at Borger High, but give him time, mates, and he'll have a winner there or he'll move out.

Up to now, Amarillo and Plainview are the undefeated teams of the district, but it may be only a matter of hours, maybe minutes, from the time this edition hits the street or is delivered to your home—until the scene changes. Maybe fifty per cent, maybe all the way, although we can't see Borger defeating Amarillo. Stranger things have happened and we have long since become accustomed to upsets. Less surprising would be a Plainview victory over Pampa this afternoon, but we've picked the heavy, stoutly defensive team of Pampa to conquer Plainview.

The Class B championship game, scheduled this afternoon at Wolforth between Frenship and Petersburg, not only should be an interesting game for the fans but no doubt will be a most exciting game for the coach of the favored Petersburg team, Harris Cheek.

For on this day, and for all last night, Coach Cheek, former student manager of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, was wondering whether it's going to be a boy or a girl at the Lubbock sanitarium. Good luck, Preacher!

Otherwise, in the abbreviated holiday football schedule for today, Lamesa plays Midland in a District 3 game, while Sweetwater, that circuit's favorite, tackles Odessa and Big Spring meets San Angelo. Abilene plays Colorado City in a less important contest. Sweetwater, coached by former Tech stars, Larry Priddy and Toy Clark, appears to be the hot business in that

Techsans Play Here Saturday

St. Louis Eleven Also Major Test

While other college and high school teams appear in scheduled football contests this afternoon, Texas Tech and Lubbock High gridlers were facing vigorous workouts in preparation for non-conference but otherwise interesting games this week end.

The Lubbock High Westerners, their remaining hopes for Texas interscholastic league honors depending on the outcomes of games between other District 1-AA rivals and their own final clash next week with Plainview, are at present steeped in the study of how to win from the Austin High team of El Paso come Friday afternoon. The teams play at the Texas Tech stadium in the final game of the season at home for Lubbock.

Tech Bears Down Today. Texas Tech's Red Raiders, none too happy over a more or less narrow escape Saturday from the narrow escape Saturday from the Bluejays, were granted more or less a holiday yesterday, but were ordered into uniform for an important drill this afternoon in which defense against the St. Louis university Billikens will be stressed.

The Billikens are coming here Saturday for the next to last college game of the season. They held the Red Raiders to a 7-6 victory in St. Louis last year, and as representatives of the sturdy Missouri Valley conference are expected to give the Red Raiders quite a scrap Saturday.

Tickets for both the high school and college games will be on sale tomorrow at the Hilton hotel lobby booth, Texas Tech, St. Louis tickets will be available at the Tech gymnasium office at all times except between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

There are two conference games in District 5—Gainesville at Denison, Sherman at Bonham, with the visiting teams favored here; two in District 9, with Brownwood at Breckenridge, Ranger at Cisco; three in District 11, where Tyler is favored, one in 12, where the high-flying Lufkin even is due to swamp Nacogdoches, one in 16, Kingsville over Robstown.

The college front offers few, if more than one, important or exciting game, and that's the Oregon-Santa Clara contest. Many of the dopests give Santa Clara a very, very slight edge. The game is at Portland, and this corner is giving Tex Oliver's Webfoots the nod by a touchdown.

For information of Texas Tech fans, St. Louis university is little, if any worse off than Creighton this year. Creighton took the battle to Tech Saturday, and St. Louis will do the same this week end. Is there any way of telling the Red Raiders that they ought to rise and shine during the rest of the 1941 campaign? Sure wish they would.

Separate Air Force Rapped

(By The United Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Under-secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today that an independent air force divorced from both Army and Navy, would destroy teamwork which "is the first essential of a military organization."
Patterson replied to proponents of a separate air force in an article in Future magazine, publication of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.
"Teamwork is the first essential of a military organization," Patterson said. "You cannot have teamwork when you have separation of organization and separation of command."
"For when you have separation of organization and separation of command you also have separation of responsibility, and when you have separation of responsibility you are at a disadvantage before you begin to fight."
Patterson also pointed out that the German army, he said, has proved the chief value of its air force by integrating it closely with other army units, even to the point of assigning certain aviation to brigade commanders.
The Reichswehr, he said, that support, teamwork by all arms engaged in the same battle—under single command—that is what always has won, that is what always will win.

Factor in Loss of Crete
Patterson said the independence of Britain's Royal Air Force was probably a factor in the loss of Crete where "an inferior German force won a signal victory with an organic air force, an integral part of a task force which included land and sea units."
Proponents of the independent air arm usually think of it in terms of long-range bombing which "has never been a decisive factor in any campaign," because aviation lacks the ability to take and hold ground, he said.

Country Club Women Plan Thursday Play

Postponed from the regular meeting day until Thursday, Lubbock Country Club women will play host to Meadowbrook club in a "blind bogey" tournament.
Golfing women of both clubs are to meet at the Lubbock Country Clubhouse dining room at noon Thursday for luncheon, at which Mrs. A. C. Fennell is to be hostess, and weather permitting to play golf in the afternoon, with prizes going to players scoring best on three "blind" holes.
Postponement from Wednesday was ordered in deference to the Red Cross drive scheduled here tomorrow.

"Bomber Bowl" Grid Game Slated Today

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 11.—The first "bowl" game of the year will be played when a crack 45th division team from Camp Barkeley, Abilene, meets the Fort Sill reception center eleven here today. The game has been styled as the "bomber bowl" classic.
Fort Sill's strong aggregation is coached by Earl Perry, former Frederick High school coach who was inducted several months ago. It has rolled up 72 points while its own goal line is unbreached.
It is the first game for the 45th team which is coached by Capt. G. H. Jerry Hines, former head coach at New Mexico A. & M.

Conferences Are Held
Bitter conferences last night with federal labor union leaders and confers with them again today. Bitter said the conferees were making "every effort" to bring about a settlement. Admiral Blakely apparently was not waiting. He has termed the strike an "open revolt against the United States of America" which "the navy will take full constituted authority to suppress."
"Labor leaders," he had continued, "have refused to abide by their national organization's agreement with the navy. They are negotiating only one contractor—the United States government."
The carpenters, plumbers, electricians and other craftsmen struck to enforce demands for a $1 a day increase in wages which are from $6 to $11 a day. They say the cost of living has multiplied in this crowded, defense boom town.
Government railroads in Demark are to have electric locomotives.

Maniac Runs Wild

scription of that driven by the gunman, in Watford by-pass road. The driver was arrested.
The maniac's victim was Leslie Ernest Ludford, 28, a lawyer, killed in the Chiswick section shortly after 9 a. m. He was shot at point blank range as he was buying an Armistice day poppy.
A few minutes later Mrs. Harriet Fell, walking past a parked car on another Chiswick street, heard two shots ring out and felt one smash into her arm. The car speeded off.
Air raid precautions ambulances were pressed into duty as reports came in of the wounding of six more persons in west London.
A staff member of the Blandford public library reported that one group of victims was shot as they were walking down Duke avenue. "The driver of the car slowed down as he approached the woman, fired and hit her," the librarian said. "The car then speeded up, but further along the road a little man was coming in the opposite direction. Again the car slowed down, a shot was fired at the man and the car raced away."
Police believed that after killing Ludford the maniac drove into a quiet roadway near St. Mary's grove where he stopped across from a flat occupied by Mrs. Emily Crisp and Mrs. Harriet New. He left his car and rang the bell of the flat, returning to the automobile before anyone answered.
When the women came to the door, he opened fire, seriously wounding both and then sped away.

CHAPTER 19 BROKE

"What do you mean?" Mrs. Winthrope's voice was suddenly tense, more tense than she had intended it to be.

"Just what I said, Adele. I'm broke. That's one of the things I came down here to tell you. I couldn't bear writing you bad news."

"I know you came down sooner than we expected you"—she was looking at him doubtfully—"but, Bart, you can't mean this. Something of the seriousness of the thing bore in on me with startling suddenness. Why you couldn't you wouldn't have let me go on with that big party tonight if you'd been really broke."

"Yes, I would, Adele. You were having such a grand time getting it together that I couldn't bear to stop you. A little money one way or the other doesn't make much difference."

"But you shouldn't have let me, Bart!" Winthrope smiled indulgently. "You're feminine to the heart, Adele, and I admire you for it. But women always think in terms of petty money when they're saving, and then squander hopelessly when it comes to big things. When would the few hundred you spent on that party mean to you, if it rapidly losing favor but is irrevocably committed to the 'New Order'?"

"Long may the Italians and Germans have trouble between themselves!" For it is written: "When thieves fall out, then honest men get their due!"

"The increasing possibility that we may be preparing to save this country from the dictatorial Axis powers and for the dictatorial American labor leaders is dampening the patriotic ardor of many a loyal American citizen."

"That Man-on-Avenue Q says if a speaker's gestures describe arcs more than 90 degrees, he isn't impressed by anything the orator says."

"If the war continues many months longer, lipstick and rouge will be extremely hard to get—if not entirely unobtainable," the dealers in beauty aids warn.

"Thus the young man of today may soon enjoy a new and thoroughly delightful experience unknown since grandpa's time: a kiss flavored with nothing but grit!"

"RAILROAD executives of the nation may be excused and forgiven if they have become confirmed pessimists and believe in the theory that 'no matter how bad things may be, they are certain to get worse.'"

"It has only been a few years since the great rail systems were clogged on every line by the lack of passenger business. Railroad bosses, in fact, were the greatest users of 'crying towels' in all the land. Then things began to pick up—and now the railroads are being faced with worries directly opposite to those they once struggled under."

"It's just a matter of arithmetic. The Army is planning to give furnishings to approximately 100,000 soldiers free to travel home for the holidays. Put that on top of the usual Christmas rush, and it becomes clear what the railroads will be up against."

"Transportation experts are already studying the problem which this anticipated condition presents. Since it is too early to know how many boys in the training camps will use their holiday privileges, the railroads are making necessary or less in the dark. But they have decided on one thing: The soldiers will get a preferred status for rail accommodations."

"Therefore civilians are warned to do their traveling now and stay home during the holidays. Of course, it will be impossible to keep families from uniting for Christmas after long separations, but those who do travel by train during the holidays must expect inconvenience and possible delay."

"The difficulty is something more than mere congestion of passenger traffic. Defense requirements are putting a heavy burden on rail facilities. So people who are accustomed to choosing the holidays for a journey simply for pleasure can help by selecting some other time. After all, home is about the best place in the world in which to celebrate Christmas. And the folks do want the boys back to enjoy the occasion."

"Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone; if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.—Matthew 18:15."

"It is presence of mind in untold emergencies that the native metal of man is tested.—Lowell."

Hold Everything!

"A new idea for a shell, Lieutenant—I got it from a corkscrew!"

Today's Journal Editorial

A NAME WELL CHOSEN

The passing of more than 20 years has been required to bring home the realization of just how accurate and appropriate are the words, Armistice Day, used in reference to the November 11 we celebrate as the anniversary of the close of the first World War.

During the years that followed 1918, the words, Armistice Day, came into a general acceptance in this nation as being synonymous with the end of war and the beginning of peace—enduring peace. It came to signify to a great many people the anniversary of the end, not merely of the one war. It signified to them the end of all war for this nation. Even as late as one year ago, the opinion was strong—and the hope much stronger—that peace for our nation could, and would, continue.

But the dictionary definition of Armistice is: "A brief cessation of arms; . . . a temporary suspension of hostilities."

So it seems that Armistice Day was most aptly and accurately named—that it actually marked the beginning of "a brief cessation of arms; a temporary suspension of hostilities." One must be an optimist, indeed, to cherish hope that the cessation of arms and suspension of hostilities still will endure when another Armistice Day comes around.

"Yes, And," with a wry grin, "he says he can cook. I thought it might be well to have someone like that around. You haven't done any wrestling with pots and pans in so long, dear."

"I can cook, Bart! I'm a good cook!" Adele's thought sped back over the years to the Blodgett house in Shirley, Indiana; those last years when Aunt Matilda was so frail, and she Adele, had gotten out her mother's yellowed, cook-books, found the much-thumbed pages where marks indicated her father's favorites, and had learned to follow them. Tom Blodgett had lived during those days. He was proud of his daughter's cooking and often entertained bigwigs of the firm who came to look the Shirley plant over.

"Of course, I know you can, Adele," Winthrope said quickly. "I know you say things like, 'I am bored.'"

"We know night club bouncers who can say that with just their toes."

"Our Daily Grunt: The life of Helen Morgan is going to be screened. Let's hope it includes the last tragic and ironic episode."

"How she was allowed to die in want—two weeks before it was discovered that her story was worth money."

"ADD NEATEST Tricks of the Week: From Winchell's review of 'The Land Is Bright,' in the New York Mirror: 'But Lacey murdered his best friends and partners in the old days out in Montana to get his booty, and one of them came to his mansion in New York to shoot him dead.'"

"Hehehe! A women's club, which had been trying to land Helen Hayes as one of their teas, finally reached the star's husband, Charlie MacArthur, by phone."

"No," stalled MacArthur. "She has a cold and we are having great difficulty in just getting her to the theater for her performances."

"Then we will be glad to have you appear instead," persisted the bore.

"Who, me?" exclaimed MacArthur. "Why, I've been drunk for a week and Helen won't let me out of the house!"

"AINT IT SO? Some of LaGuardia's foes are aghast because he uses words. There's nothing wrong with a mayor who offends the ears. The time to worry is when he outrages the nose."

"made her almost impatient. Winthrope looked at his son. 'Know where your sister is?' he asked. 'I wonder where Lenore is?' she asked. 'Isn't she?' Bart asked in surprise. 'Of course not!' Her concern

BUDDY CLARKE of the Park Central's Coconut Grove relays the silly-dilly about the little boy who was run over by a steam-roller while playing in the street. He was flattened like a pancake. A passerby picked him up and brought him to the child's mother on the third floor.

"What is it?" she yelled in response to his knock. "Your son," he replied, "he's been run over by a steam-roller—he's all flattened out!"

"Well," the mother grumbled, "I'm not dressed. You'd better slip him under the door."

Such is Life: Jean Wright on the staff of Life underwent a throat operation. When she was released she met Irene Winston in the shopping district.

"Imagine," Jean said pointing to the scar. "Five years on Life and they cut me straight in a hospital."

The Herald-Tribune's gingerly London newsboy cables: WINCHELL "The Green man" Generals are supposed to be regarded in this country as a different, more decent and more responsible class of persons than the Nazis.

"Without violating confidences, could you ascertain who isn't?"

EACH week Variety lists the names of showfolks en route between the coast and the city. Rita Hayworth listed twice—going and coming from Hollywood. We always knew she had every guy in N. Y. to the point where they didn't know whether they were coming or going, but this is the first time we've heard she was in the same dither herself.

B'way Bell-laff: Arthur Bates, of Rogers' Corner, travels one of the classics of the betting fraternity in speaking of a longhorn called "Green-a," a six foot sharpie who tipped the scales at a hot 125 pounds, but would do anything as long as there was a price attached. He was challenged one night by some of his pals who asked whether he would fight a heavyweight. "Make the odds good enough, and I'll take 'em," he said.

Before you could mutter "Pinkerton" the book was made, and the boys drove out to the countryside and turned their lights toward a center-spot, and the fight was on. Greenie looked like a varicose vein in comparison to his carner—so long as there was a price attached. He was game and had bet a "G" on himself at the prevailing odds through Bates, who was his second.

In the first ten seconds of the fight the stringbean was hit on the chin with a hay-maker which brought forth the Aurora Borealis. As he fell backwards, he passed Bates and yelled, "Better start hedging!"

YES, INDEED: Zorin's classic legs are so eloquent, reports the N. Y. Junnel-American mag, they can say things like, "I am bored."

We know night club bouncers who can say that with just their toes.

where Lenore was, but there was no use telling her. Leave that to Lenore. Anyway, it was her life. "No, I don't, Dad," he said quietly, glad that he wasn't actually telling his father an untruth, because he really wasn't sure about Lenore. It was just a supposition. He wasn't sure it had been Lenore and Vin he had seen on the beach.

Winthrop looked at his wife. "These kids seem to have gotten out of hand down here. Lenore shouldn't be out this late without our knowing where she is."

"She's probably with Gervase," Mrs. Winthrop said placatingly. "She went with him, and he's all right. Maybe they stopped at Chic's on the way home, for a drink and bollos, or something. They like to think they're slumming. They have quite an idea."

"I should think you'd be quite to want another drink after all that was washing about the boat. You could bathe in it. I think the blond Count did. I think that had happened the liberties I've given him a little too seriously. The bar bills signed by deBellefort that have poured in even since Lenore's been down here would turn a seaman green with envy of his royal capacity."

"But he's going to marry Lenore!"

"So I've heard. And not with any particular happiness."

"I'm sure it'll be all right, dear. At least Lenore is safely accounted for," Adele said anxiously. "I wish I could be as sure of that as you are, Adele. That man accepts guest privileges altogether too willingly to suit me."

"Oh, Bart, it's just that you're nervous and upset and aren't seeing Gervase straight right now. Poor darling. You've gone through all this alone. Made all these arrangements, attended to all these hideous little details. You really should have told us, dear, and let us help you."

Jerry, who had been sitting silently by, paused on that. Help! Little help any of his family could have been to Mr. Winthrop. They had lived lavishly and elegantly. Blithely and carelessly. Never giving thought to where the money was coming from nor how eternal its stream might be.

"You know we'd all want to do what we could to help, Bart," Adele was repeating helplessly.

"I know, my dear, you've always been the most understanding wife a man could hope to have. I've appreciated that. What we've got to do now to get these two kids looking at things straightly. That's our biggest job, Adele. I'm actually more concerned with that than about the money."

"Darling, I think you're taking their little peccadilloes too much to heart."

"I don't believe that's possible, Adele. Yesterday isn't soon enough to get our kids started right, get them pointed in the right direction."

"I don't see why they have to carry on as they have!" Adele Winthrop's voice was etched with impatience and concern.

"You'd never believe they were around with all kinds of people. I can't understand it. Neither you nor I are that way. Where do they get it?"

Britain's War Machinery In Full Blast

Changes Okay In Priorities

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—Railroads, pipelines and truck fleets which move the products of the petroleum industry received priority assistance today on repair, maintenance and operating supplies.

The change was contained in a series of amendments to the general repair and maintenance priority order, which covered the production of petroleum but not its transportation. The new amendments, in addition, gave priorities assistance to producers of natural gas and hydrocarbons associated with petroleum.

Another Change Made
 Another change brought under terms of the order privately owned irrigation systems, toll bridges and toll canals. Previously these received preference only if owned by government agencies.

A third paragraph extended priority help to those machine and repair shops, blacksmiths and independent contractors who use their tools or equipment to maintain the property of other producers.

To Replace Equipment
 The priorities division withdrew its prohibition against priorities assistance for firms which wish to replace old equipment with improved equipment unless the old machinery was beyond repair.

A priorities division spokesman said it had been found undesirable, and in many cases impossible, to require replacement with equipment exactly like the old.

U. S. Exporting Food To Britain

(By The United Press)
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—The Commerce department reported exports of more than $50,000,000 worth of food during September—the highest monthly figure since August, 1935.

The food shipments were part of a total of $417,139,000 of all types of exports for September, which also included $15,000,000 worth of cotton. Most of the food and cotton went to Britain, although exact figures were not given.

Comparisons Are Made
 Total exports of agricultural products for the month were valued at $74,000,000, or three times the amount shipped in September, 1940. The figure compared with $56,000,000 in August of this year.

The aggregate export figure of $417,139,000 was 8 per cent less than the $455,414,000 shipped abroad in August. Total imports declined from an August figure of $283,000,000 to $263,000,000 in September.

The heavy movement of foodstuffs and cotton constituted the outstanding change in the export trade during September, the department said.

Trend Is Reversed
 The shipment of $15,000,000 of raw cotton reversed, at least temporarily, a downward trend in this country's foreign trade in cotton. September exports totaled 99,302,000 pounds against 42,035,000 pounds in August.

Exports of wheat jumped from 769,000 bushels in August to 3,771,000 bushels in September. Corn shipments from 1,181,000 to 2,811,000 bushels; manufactured dairy products from $6,019,000 to $7,753,000; lard from 44,634,000 to 46,976,000 pounds; meat products from 46,429,000 to 50,309,000 pounds; dried and evaporated fruits from 22,164,000 to 45,113,000 pounds; canned fruit from 2,340,000 to 6,187,000 pounds.

New Center Of U. S. Population Located Near Indiana Village

CARLISLE, Ind., Nov. 11 (AP)—The new center of population of the United States is a fence post alongside a blacktop road two miles southeast of this southwestern Indiana village.

It's a corner post, with a winter wheat field on one side and a bluegrass pasture, complete with cows, horses, and two mules, on the other. "Across the road is a corn field."

The new population center, decided by the census bureau at Washington, is in a region of rich black farms at the edge of Indiana rural areas are natives. Carlisle was founded in 1813.

No Pause For Armistice Day

BY JOHN PARRIS
 United Press Staff Writer
 LONDON, Nov. 11—When Ben tolled 11 o'clock today nowhere in Britain did the whirr of the drills or the crump of the steel presses in the war factories fall silent.

The 23rd anniversary of the armistice which ended the World War was observed by a day of labor to supply the fighting machines of another war.

Appeal Is Carried
 But on the continent of Europe the call was out to make of the day a "dead march"—a day of walking slow and of working slow to slow the German war effort.

The appeal was carried to the continent by Colonel C. Britton, the radio leader of the "U" army. He reported that "German military authorities forbade any manifestation of Armistice day in the occupied zone of France; warning that the consequences might be extremely grave if incidents occur."

Britain's traditional pause for two minutes of solemn silence at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month was omitted.

Plant Wooden Crosses
 But as always there was a cluster of folk standing before the field of remembrance at Westminster abbey as Big Ben struck the hour. They were there to plant little wooden crosses in the plot of ground in tribute to their war dead.

Waiting her turn with the others today was a grey-haired woman who leaned on a pair of crutches. In her hand she had two crosses, one for her husband and one for her son.

Her husband was a mine sweeper in the World War. He went down with his ship before his son was born in February, 1918. Two months ago, the son, a sergeant-pilot in the Royal Air Force, was killed.

No Tears For Losses
 A bomb hit the house which the woman had taken near the air-raid shelter to be near her son, costing her leg. But today as she waited to plant the crosses she had no tears for her losses.

"I'm not the only one, am I?" she asked.

There were no ceremonies in observance of the day. But a wreath of poppies was placed on the Cenotaph which honors Britain's war dead by Col. Piers Leigh, master of the Royal Household. The card was inscribed "in memory of the glorious dead, George, R. I., Elizabeth, R."

Traffic did not halt at the Cenotaph today but about 2,000 persons stood with bare heads for a moment as Big Ben struck eleven. A half dozen battered bunches of chrysanthemums were placed by citizens among the big wreaths from the royal family, regiments and governments at the base of the Cenotaph. One bunch had a card attached by a piece of wire. It said: "To Ted with love and gratitude, mother."

ONCE WAS SEVENTH
 September always has had its present number of days, but it has not always been the ninth month of the year. Until the calendar was changed by Julius Caesar, it was the seventh month and was named for the Latin word "septem," meaning seven.

The suit, involving the same issues and the same parties, was tried early this year in a state court at Conroe, where the jury returned a verdict in favor of the Humble company.

Since many litigants live outside Texas, the plaintiffs are seeking a trial in federal court.

In the pre-trial hearing, Judge Alfred will hear arguments for and against such a trial.
