German Drop "Peace" Hints With Threats Toward Turkey

STRIKES MUST END! -- FOR

Sweeping Nazi Plan To "Halt" War Is Bared

Von Papen Reveals Spain, Too, As A Future Nazi Ally

(By The United Press) ANKARA, Nov. 18.—Germany, it was revealed today, has lifted another "peace" trial balloon while hinting that "certain transit facilities" in Turkey and Spain may be required in the new Mediterranean-Middle Eastern phase of the war expected to get under way this winter.

The hint was given by Franz von Papen, ambassador to Turkey and ex-Nazi diplomat, in an interview with the Spanish Falangist newspaper, La Vanguardia, Madrid, Nov. 18. Von Papen, at the moment, is busy ushering the German press chief, Dr. Paul Schmidt, through ceremonies and calls upon Turkish officials which are expected to culminate in the issuance of a new communiqué "affirming" the continuity of the German and Turkish press.

Von Papen's statement was that once Russia is crushed by Germany, Europe will be so exhausted that a general "armistice" must follow in which Turkey, in her chosen role as a peace power, may play a great part.

However, he added, should Britain refuse an armistice, the war must continue for a "very long" time and Germany will proceed to drive Britain from the Mediterranean.

Admits Economic Gains Small Turkey and Spain, he noted, remain outside the war as strong nations guarding the east and western ends of the Mediterranean. Therefore, he said, Turkey and Spain may be called upon eventually to provide "certain transit facilities" and cooperation in exploitation of resources in return for their non-involvement in the war.

Germany, von Papen indicated, proposes to write Europe and win with Russia, "pacifying" any dissident sections by starvation and extermination of opposition. He was said to have admitted that Germany can expect no more than a 20 per cent grain harvest from the Ukraine next year and little in the way of industrial or economic benefits from Russia for two or three years.

REBELLION FLARES

*** FINAL EDITION

Virtual Civil War Reported In Yugoslavia

Remnants Of Army Fight Desperately Against Invaders

(By The Associated Press) ZAGREB, Croatia, Nov. 18.—Information reaching here from throughout Axis-occupied Yugoslavia indicates a situation charged with distrust, unrest, terrorism and even, in some areas, virtual civil war.

These reports are necessarily fragmentary because of poor communications and military control, but they add up to a picture of turbulence.

Desperate Fighting Reported

Well-equipped soldiers of the puppet Serb government, supported by German occupation forces, are described as engaged in "desperate fighting" with remnants of Yugoslavia's army, rebellious Chetnik guerrilla units and what are described as "Communist bands."

Even in nominally-independent Croatia, armored trains patrol the railways in a fight against sabotage. In the Black Mountains of Italian-occupied Montenegro, villages have been bombed and burned where antagonistic Montenegrins have resisted the occupying forces.

A spokesman in London for the Yugoslav government-in-exile declared last week that, despite mass executions of 350,000 Yugoslavs, relentless mountain warfare waged by 80,000 guerrillas had wrested most of Serbia from the Axis.

Appeal Is Made

Macedonia, absorbed by Bulgaria in the Balkan campaign, virtually is sealed up as a news source, but there have been reports of outbreaks there, too.

GUNS SPEAK NEAR MINES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Disorders, including the shooting of two men, broke out at strike-affected captive coal mines in West Virginia and Pennsylvania today as President Roosevelt was reported ready to exert the full powers of the government to get production resumed.

The United Mine Workers called out its membership in the captive mines, owned by steel companies which use coal, yesterday. About 53,000 miners in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Alabama, Tennessee and Illinois worked in captive mines, and the UMW claims 95 per cent are members.

Now Is Time To Act President Roosevelt has said the coal must be mined to keep the vital steel mills in operation on armaments. There have been insistent demands on Capitol Hill for anti-strike legislation and persons closely in touch with the president said today he was convinced now was the time to act to stop interference with defense production.

The president moved in another field to avert a threatened strike of railroad employees by inviting the smaller inland cities of which Lubbock and other cities in South Plains are typical are about to share in a large way in national defense contract spending.

Saturday, Nov. 29, was set as date for a school expansion bond election in Lubbock, independent school district at a called meeting of trustees late Monday.

On that date, qualified voters of the 10-mile square district centering around the City of Lubbock will vote "yes" or "no" on the proposition to issue $350,000 worth of bonds to expand the school system's physical properties already overflowing with the largest enrollment in history. If the bond issue is approved, the $350,000 thus raised will be added to a federal grant of $121,600 made the district by the Washington government as a result of the location west of the city of a U. S. Army Air Corps base.

DETROIT, Nov. 18 (AP)—Frank Kujawa, self-styled workingman's candidate for mayor, received four votes in the Nov. 4 election.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

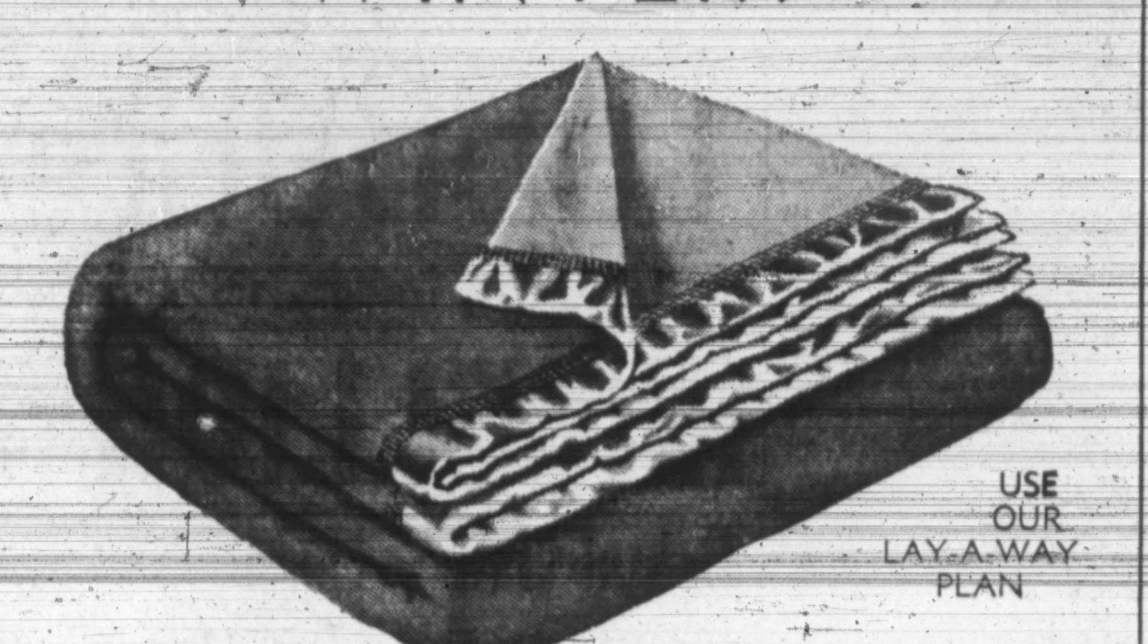

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

Armed Vessels To Aid British

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

The liberalization of the neutrality act puts teeth in the most colossal job of war-underwriting the world has even dreamed of before this era of figures gone mad.

The United States now not only is the arsenal of democracy but is in position to deliver its own goods, protected by naval convoy, in the ports of all countries resisting the Axis powers. That is, Uncle Sam is in position to try to deliver, over the violent protests of Herr Hitler.

May Hasten Entry
We would seem to be purveyors of shot, shell and encouragement to something more than half the population of the globe. This doesn't include the Latin American countries, which can subscribe any time they want to.

One still hears speculation as to whether this brings us nearer to participation in the war. The sending of ships into belligerent waters will increase our hazards of getting shot up, and consequently may hasten the day when he shall go all-out in a shooting conflict.

However, so far as this column can see we have been in the war for a long time, certainly since last March 11 when the lend-lease bill was signed. To say that we aren't in is just splitting hairs. The only question which now arises—and that is a big one—is how extensive our participation is going to be.

Will Aid British Navy
The chief value of the neutrality act revision would seem to lie in the lifting of the ban on sending ships into belligerent waters. Much time can be saved if deliveries of supplies can be made direct to ports in the British Isles and perhaps even in the Mediterranean. Since we presumably shall convey our merchantmen, many British warships which have been used in this work will be released for other efforts.

One important angle of the new situation is that the United States is now in position to ignore Japanese protests against sending ships into Vladivostok with supplies for the Russians. That won't make so much difference if the present peace conference in Washington fails and Japan and the United States go to war. So long as the two countries don't start gunning for each other, however, this greater freedom for merchantmen may be very useful in aiding the hard-pressed Bolsheviks.

Good Results Possible
It will be interesting to see how much value there is in arming merchantships. This was done during the World War and proved to be rather a mixed blessing in many cases, according to my observation, and I did a good deal of traveling on armed ships in those days.

For one thing, the firing of a gun from the deck of a cargo vessel or passenger ship, which hadn't been constructed to stand such a strain, frequently did about as much damage as an enemy torpedo would. Too, there weren't enough first-class naval gunners to go round and while the gunner assigned was eager, and zealously practiced shooting at barrels tossed overboard from his ship, his experience often was limited.

Things have changed since then and we may see some remarkably good results, provided it is possible to put proper naval gunners aboard the merchantmen. Many passenger and merchant vessels today are built so that they can be armed, and we have guns

Boyhood Dream Is Realized In $3,000,000 Religious Shrine

BY WILLIAM LEICK

SEA SERVICE WRITER
OCEANSIDE, N. Y., Nov. 18.—In this Long Island town, where once barren dirt lots and desolation reigned, has risen a beautiful shrine visited by over 35,000 Roman Catholics every Sunday.

When Father Robert Barrett first came to Oceanside, his gaze met dreary wilderness. Fifteen years of work and $3,000,000 have transformed acre upon acre of sand and weeds, used for a garbage dump, into St. Anthony's Shrine, which many have called the most beautiful religious retreat in the world.

Fifteen years ago there was no church, and no parish house. First mass was held upstairs in the local fire house. Later on, a tent was used.

Laughed At KKK
Father Barrett's flock was a small one at first—only 50. There were not enough to give sufficient and sustaining financial aid to a priest with such a tough assignment.

In addition, Ku Klux Klanners then were cutting plenty of sharp capers and making life miserable for a lot of people out in Nassau county.

But the Irish never scare easily. And Father Barrett is Irish to the core. The Klanners didn't worry him a bit, which was a good thing. What did worry him was the smallness of his congregation.

Three Elaborate Chapels
Today there are three chapels on the five-acre grounds: the Chapel of the Miraculous Medal, St. Anthony's Shrine, and Sacred Heart Chapel. The start was made with St. Anthony's chapel, located entirely underground.

Here we find an imported altar. Kneeling figures of angels on either side hold watch over the figure of the dead Christ. Walls are lined with grotto after grotto, portraying incidents in the lives of the saints in a realistic and natural setting, enhanced considerably by clever lighting effects.

Dazzling brightness greets the visitor to the Chapel of the Miraculous Medal. It comes from the brilliant chandeliers, all of them pure crystal, some of which once graced the festivities of European nobles; others were obtained from estates of some of America's largest fortunes. Marble pillars flank both sides of the altar, which glows in a bluish light, and is set back in grotto-like relief.

Establishment of the shrine had been his boyhood dream. With tremendous courage, unceasing planning and the help of a substantial legacy he put his dream into reality and created the wonderland it is today.

What goes for the chapels is also true of the gardens, of which there are two: the Garden of Prayer with its huge statue of Christ, flanked by two huge urns, and the Rose Garden with its 4,000 roses, artistically arranged.

An ingenious broadcasting system, with loudspeakers strategically spotted throughout the grounds, permits everyone to follow mass, hear the music provided by special soloists, and join the congregational singing. Vine-shaded and glass-enclosed walkways give view to attractively arranged grottoes provide protection from sun and inclement weather.

Father Barrett was born in County Kerry, Ireland. Today, at 64, he has the agility of a man much younger, a quick and refreshing wit that is typically Irish and which very often brings chuckles from his church auditors.

Establishment of the shrine had been his boyhood dream. With tremendous courage, unceasing planning and the help of a substantial legacy he put his dream into reality and created the wonderland it is today.

What goes for the chapels is also true of the gardens, of which there are two: the Garden of Prayer with its huge statue of Christ, flanked by two huge urns, and the Rose Garden with its 4,000 roses, artistically arranged.

An ingenious broadcasting system, with loudspeakers strategically spotted throughout the grounds, permits everyone to follow mass, hear the music provided by special soloists, and join the congregational singing. Vine-shaded and glass-enclosed walkways give view to attractively arranged grottoes provide protection from sun and inclement weather.

Father Barrett was born in County Kerry, Ireland. Today, at 64, he has the agility of a man much younger, a quick and refreshing wit that is typically Irish and which very often brings chuckles from his church auditors.

Abram Plays Here Monday

A large audience heard Jacques Abram, young pianist, play Monday night in the second program of the Civic Music association series in Senior High school auditorium.

Abram displayed keen techniques from the opening numbers, three sonatas, by Scarlatti, to the last of several encores, "Pastoral," by Poulenc.

Besides having perfect technique, he is a pianist of compelling musicality, his playing in various moods conveying itself unflinchingly to the listener.

In Ecstatic Mood

In the "Sonata" of Scarlatti there was sparkling crispness, the "Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor" of Bach-Liszt brought dramatic utterance, dynamic range and contrapuntal clarity. In the "Sonata Opus 81" of Beethoven Mr. Abram encompassed the introspective and the joyfully ecstatic moods with prevailing conviction.

The second half of the program brought works by Chopin, Liszt, Debussy and Poulenc. It was here that the artist revealed pure poetry and sang a beautiful melody.

For encores Mr. Abram offered "Prelude in G Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff, the "Stravinsky Etude in F Sharp" the "White Peacock" by Griffes and the "Pastoral" by Poulenc.

From here he returns to New York for concertizing in the East. In March Mr. Abram will tour throughout the middle west and will return to Texas for other appearances.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

There are some things you might as well not ask a woman: Her age — if she's more than 25. If she "uses anything" on her hair. How she makes the dish for which she has a local reputation.

Where she bought the dress that came from a bargain shop, but does not look it. Any questions about her family back in some other state, if she is a social climber.

What she weighs — unless she is underweight. What size dress she wears — if it is more than a 14. Where a clever decorating idea came from. (She'll give the impression that it was original every time.)

What she REALLY thinks of her "best friend" among women her own age. Her hottest reaction to a best seller the critics have labeled "Great."

Whether or not her daughter is really chafing college. (Every wonderful time at college — according to Mama.)

What her husband's salary is. How old she was when she married, after you have just told her that you can't believe she is the mother of a nearly grown son. (She was "just a child" when she married — every time.)

Go ahead and ask a woman those questions, if you're bound to. But don't set any store by her answers. Those are r questions which women either side-step or answer in the manner that is most flattering to themselves.

Japan Feared Ready To Make Stab At Burma Road

Chinese Urge Allied Action

(By The Associated Press)
CHUNGKING, Nov. 18—A declaration by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that Japan is on the point of opening a drive to shut the Burma road coincided today with the assertion of his foreign minister that "all signs seem to point" toward an ABCD alliance of America, Britain, China and the Dutch East Indies to resist Japan.

The generalissimo, too, spoke of completed plans for a united democratic defense in the Orient as Brig. Gen. John Magruder, head of the U. S. military mission to China, returned from a 10-day trip to Rangoon, Burma, where he conferred with British and Chinese military leaders. He also inspected the Burma road and Chinese defenses on the trip.

Reported Blowing Up Bridges
 Four other members of the mission already had left for Yunnan and Kwangsi provinces where Chinese troops were reported blowing up bridges in a broad defense zone along the frontier of Japanese-occupied Indo-China. Troops too were reported streaming southward for the defense of the Burma road, supply link with British Burma.

Shanghai dispatches said the Japanese were pouring fresh thousands of soldiers into Indo-China.

Urging that Britain and the United States join forces with China to smash Japan without delay unless she gets out of China and Indo-China and breaks with the Axis, Chiang added, "now is the vital moment."

Japan Weakest Axis Link
 He spoke before the 160 delegates of the people's political council, China's nearest thing to a parliament.

The foreign minister, Quo Tai-Chi, made his statement at a press conference.

"The forces of aggression are openly banded together, so why not the forces opposed to aggression?" he said.

"Japan is the weakest link in the Axis chain. If we settle the Pacific problem first, we could devote all our strength toward Europe."

"It is as much the concern of the United States and Britain to keep the Burma road open as it is for them to keep open the Atlantic sealanes," he added.

Chiang predicted Japanese blows at Thailand, Singapore and other parts of the south seas would follow an attack on the Burma road.

Foreign observers regarded the arrival of Canadian soldiers at Hongkong as fresh testimony of British-American determination to defend their Far Eastern interests.

GOOD BEET HARVEST

DANGER! Approach With Caution

AP Feature Service

HOLLYWOOD seems to be combing the glossary of pyrotechnical terms these days, judging by the explosive nicknames that are being hung onto the glamour girls. Nearly every major motion picture studio boasts at least one such, the verbal effect ranging from loud noises down to an inarticulate sputter which implies that no word, no matter how colossal, could do the girl justice. Here, looking their prettiest, are some of the present-day successors to Clara Bow, the "It" girl.

Deadline On Signing Applications Is Set

Nov. 27 has been set as deadline for signing applications for 1941 federal soil conservation benefits, according to Walter Y. Wells, administrator here of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Wells added that the nearly 600 applications already filed are to be considered for approval by the county AAA committee today.

Farmers are being asked to sign a farm loan sheet for 1942, at the same time. In this plan they are asked to increase their production of certain foods and feeds to meet the needs of the national defense program. Substantial increases in milk production, chickens and eggs and other feeds are being asked, as well as beef cattle and hogs.

M. C. Todd, who will act as district field man, will meet with the committee. He is to audit the applications already signed.

Wells said that farmers who have to come to town at night, and who have not signed their soil conservation applications or farm plan sheets, may do so by calling at the office, 1280 Avenue Q, before 8 o'clock at night and sign up. Clerks will be on duty until that hour, he said, to assist farmers.

Applications Sent In
 Approximately 90 per cent of the 2,550 cotton parity applications which Lubbock county farmers will make for the 1941 parity payments, have been approved and sent to the state Agricultural Adjustment administration office in College Station.

A dozen farmers last week were notified to have their excess cotton acreage plowed under by not later than Tuesday morning, if they wanted to check application for parity payments. Reporters Wednesday morning will check these farms and if they are not in compliance, the tenants or owners will lose their parity payments.

When motor cars looked like Grandpa's surrey, we thought they were wonderful. But compare them to the streamlined beauties we have today!

Remember when electric lights hung from the ceiling like balls of fire? A swell gadget then—but miles behind the marvelous lighting of 1941.

Making a good thing better is an old American custom! And it's an old custom of Kellogg's world-famous makers of cereals. # Great Britain's Aid To Beleaguered Russians Is Again Under Fire

Ties Defended By Churchill

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today that the cooperation between Great Britain and Soviet Russia was as close as "geographical and other conditions allow."

He made his statement in answer to a query from the laborite, Josiah Wedgwood, as to whether British and Russian relations were as close as those which existed between France and Britain when they were allies.

Drastic Measures Urged
House members urged the government to adopt drastic labor conscription measures during the session in which Churchill and cabinet members parried a wide variety of questions on domestic problems.

Citing reports of waste, extravagance, delays, and lack of planning in production, Sir Cuthbert Headlam, conservative, said the minister of labor, Ernest Bevin, was "gravely mistaken when he did not conscript labor after Dunkerque."

"It is clear," Sir Cuthbert continued, "that if the prime minister decides to throw one of his band of brothers to the wolves, many members would not hesitate suggesting who would be his most suitable successor."

Post-War Plans Raised
The minister is touring the country telling us that things are desperate, and threatening to conscript women to work in factories when he utterly failed to conscript men."

To all questions as to post-war plans, Churchill pointed to the Atlantic charter, agreed upon with President Roosevelt, as the only answer possible now.

Sir Andrew B. Dugan, president of the board of trade, said "no opportunity is being neglected for discussions with the United States" in reply to a question of whether lease-lend would be continued after the war.

Capt. H. D. Margesson, secretary for war, told the members the government was not satisfied with certain aspects of the German treatment of prisoners of war, especially regarding food and clothing, and that these questions were being taken up with the protecting power in Germany.

The United States is representing Britain's interests in Germany.

Farm Session Is Held Here
With every one of the 20 counties in district 2 of the state extension service represented, a joint county farm-home demonstration meeting got under way this morning in Lubbock hotel, presided over by K. J. Edwards, district agent leader.

During the afternoon the farm agents were to meet separately from the women agents. Miss Kate Adele Hill, district home demonstration agent, will preside over that group.

Speaks On Club Work
James W. Pitts, assistant state club leader, attended the morning session and spoke on club work. He urged agents to have their club boys complete their record books and have the reports to the state office by Dec. 1, if possible.

Louis Franke, extension service editor, who recently returned to Texas from an assignment in Washington, was to speak at the men's meeting in the afternoon. Dr. Shinn, of Washington, also was present.

During the morning session agents reported on the progress in securing support of farmers in the increased production of feed and food for national defense in 1942. The agents cooperated with county U.S.D.A. defense boards in asking farmers to sign up for increased production next year.

Red Cross Roll Call Lagging In County
The annual Red Cross roll call in Lubbock county has obtained only 1,663 of the 6,150 sought, according to incomplete reports Monday night to Olen Stewart, chairman.

The campaign is scheduled to close today.

Those signed have contributed a total of $2,168.60, the chairman said.

Members reported by groups were: residential, 762; business, 297; special gifts, 229; special group, 175; and unclassified, 80.

Roll call headquarters in the American Legion home, 910 Texas avenue, are to remain open this afternoon, Stewart said.

U. S. Detention Camps Are Facing Expansion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The justice department, which already has more than 2,000 Axis nationals on its hands, is contemplating a three-fold expansion of its alien detention camp system. It was learned today, to make the facilities equal to any sudden war emergency.

The immigration and naturalization service, a unit in the department, now operates camps at Fort Lincoln, N. D., where more than 300 German sailors are held, and Fort Missoula, Mont., which has about 1,000 Italians, mostly seamen.

Capacities Are Doubled
The capacities of these camps recently have been doubled so that they can accommodate more than 2,500.

The service also operates Fort Stanton, N. M., as quarters for 400 German sailors from the scuttled liner Columbus who have the status of distressed sea men.

Still to be provided for are 20 members of the crew, and a woman who were aboard the Norwegian vessel Busko when it was seized near Greenland in September, and those aboard an unnamed Axis merchantman which the navy announced yesterday was picked up while masquerading as an American flag ship in Atlantic waters ten days ago.

Others In Custody
In addition there are several hundred more aliens in custody on sabotage charges. A number of these already have been convicted and sent to prison for damaging Axis vessels which had tied up in U. S. ports for the duration of the war.

The immigration service is considering the purchase of a camp near Sacramento, Calif., with a capacity of 900, a well-informed official disclosed. In addition, it has chosen tentative sites for five new camps.

The sites are secret, but three are in Georgia and one each in Florida and Alabama.

Mrs. Rindlaub, while still working with the council, said she thought the place should be filled by one whose stay in Lubbock is certain. Last week she sent out letters asking friends of the Scouts to bear them in mind in making their financial budgets for 1942. The annual drive will be in April.

Kiss Boys Goodbye Sergeant's Idea Of Good Salesmanship

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 18 (UP).—Recruiting Sergeant Frank Carr must have studied salesmanship, for today he hit upon a plan that makes signing up for the army not only painless but downright pleasant.

Sgt. Carr is on the lookout for four or five pretty girls to kiss the boys goodbye when they join the army and leave for camp.

"We want girls who have the looks and personality," said the sergeant. "We want to make it worth while for the boys."

The idea is, Sgt. Carr said, for the girls to line up before the recruits. The soldier just gets to kiss one girl, but he can have his choice.

In the months ahead, however, you may find it hard to get one. Where all lines in our cables are taken up we can't add new customers quickly, because nearly all the additional cable we can get is required for vital defense construction.

We're making every substitution, salvaging every bit of usable equipment to keep up with orders as well as we can.

Great Britain's Cosmetic Shortage Spawns Big Bootleg Racket

British Beauty Is Endangered

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Service Staff Writer
LONDON, Nov. 18.—There were few women throughout the length and breadth of the British Isles who were not appalled when the "cosmetic racket" was disclosed recently in the press.

The thought that backyard manufacturers were knowingly defrauding His Majesty's Government of over a million pounds sterling a year (about 4,000,000 dollars), did not affect them so much as the thought that these defrauders, these makers of cheap cosmetics, might be responsible for ruining the looks of thousands of womenfolk.

Racket Is Bared
Racketeers of the Beauty Black Market, most of whom have been operating since the outset of the war and the subsequent introduction of the Limitation of Supplies Act, have been perfectly ruthless. This was told by the manageress of a beauty parlor.

The new racketeers have sold cosmetics made from the lowest quality ingredients and under the most unhygienic conditions, often with only a dirty kitchen sink and correspondingly filthy utensils for their laboratory.

Deals were made in unsuspecting tea-shops, in public houses, in the street even, and the finished goods were tumbled around by a army of men and women. Their best were mainly in manufacturing areas, in the less expensive flat buildings, and they also haunted chain tea-shops where typists and shopgirls congregated.

Offered Great Opportunity
Leading manufacturers as well as the authorities were growing very worried over the amazing growth of illicit beauty products. The cutting down of legitimate brands to 25 per cent of their pre-war output offered a marvelous loophole, on the other hand, to small traders whose volume of business did not come up to the 100 pounds sterling (400 dollars) a month proviso. To their number were added hundreds of unknown chemists, hairdressers and drug-store owners who had never before attempted to manufacture cosmetics but who could not resist the opportunity offered by the new situation.

Were Near "Perfect" Fakes
Many of these fake preparations looked enough like well known brands to be mistaken for them. The counters of several of the London stores were stocked with a mass of quite unknown brands of lipstick, powder, talc and other beauty aids selling at much the same prices as Arden, Rubinstein or Cyclax's. Lipsticks, for example, sold for a dollar and a half; these cost the little chemist, around the corner, somewhere around 30 cents.

All this has now been stopped. The Board of Trade, not a moment too soon, has now made a ruling that non-registered cosmetic-makers cannot produce more than a certain amount of products—around $2000 worth a year—and these sales are to be made direct to the public.

There is also to be a control of perfumery, and beauty creams and preparations generally, but toilet soap, shaving cream, and dentifrices are exempt.

Officials Help Workers
Many women, unable to buy their favorite brand of cosmetics, have been patronizing these "parlor-chemists." Those who have escaped serious skin troubles may be thankful. Many of the products used by unscrupulous people—acids, fats and oils—are such that they were likely to provoke dermatitis and other affections of the skin. Women with delicate skins who become badly affected are liable to carry the marks for life. A skin specialist told me recently that his advice to women was to leave the nose shiny until the end of the war rather than use cosmetics other than those made by reputed firms.

Altogether the beauty outlook is bleak. The new order will result in a further reduction of lipstick, powder and face creams, but front line girls of the ordnance factories in the West of England are to be privileged.

The Ministry of Supply will take the bulk of supplies from a famous cosmetic firm to help girl workers who have difficulty in getting lipstick and face powder in their home towns; these will be available at special prices in workers' canteens. This may be the incentive to make girls flock in the hundreds to recruiting bureaus, and Labor Exchanges.

Compelling Evidence In Death Of American Woman Said Incarcerated

Mistreatment Is Described

(By The United Press)

MONTERREY, Mexico, Nov. 18.—Police said today that they were convinced that the death of Mrs. Torrance, 54, New York scientist and explorer, mistreated his bride, wealthy Mrs. Ada Loveland Torrance, 65, at the scene of an accident which he claims killed her.

Mrs. Torrance, who married her husband a month ago in Kentucky, died Nov. 8 in a Monterrey hospital of a fractured skull. Torrance was charged with murder yesterday.

Says She Was Mauled.

Everisto Garcia, secretary of Capt. Ernesto Ball, chief of the Nuevo Leon police, said two ice cream merchants watched Torrance drag his wife from the automobile until her across the ground and maul her. The witnesses, Antonio Canhu Garza and Ismael Canhu Garza, said Torrance showed "no consideration or care," dragging his wife 10 to 12 feet on the ground, according to Garcia.

Torrance had testified that Mrs. Torrance was thrown clear of the machine when it overturned in a ditch. He said she struck her head on the rear-view mirror, but police said she probably had been struck with a thermos bottle.

Says Car Was In Ditch

Ismael Garza said the Torrance automobile was in a ditch when he and Antonio Garza reached it, but that it had not overturned. Torrance said the machine upset in the accident.

Ismael Garza said he and Antonio helped Torrance push the machine back to the road and, after Torrance began to drag his wife to the car, insisted on helping to carry her.

Then they saw "an extraordinary thing," Ismael Garza told police. Torrance climbed into the automobile and sat on the woman's head. After a short distance, he said, Torrance stopped and rested his wife's head on his legs.

Appeared Very Nervous

The Garzas said Torrance appeared very nervous, particularly when an ambulance passed. Mrs. Torrance's body will be exhumed at a Monterrey cemetery today for an autopsy. Garcia said Torrance, who is being held incommunicado, and several of Mrs. Torrance's relatives, would attend the exhumation. The autopsy will be performed at a Monterrey civil hospital by two physicians appointed by the district attorney.

Four Are Found Dead; New Crash Reported

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 18.—An aerial search for a silver airplane reported to have crashed near the Canadian border Thursday began today while a soldier hatched through a wilderness of 50 miles south to recover the bodies of four United States army fliers killed Saturday in a bombing plane crash.

Mrs. Lee Pierce, an Amity flier's wife, reported after she learned of the bombing plane's plunge that she had seen what appeared to be a flier parachuting behind a hill more than a mile from her home, toward Canterbury, N. B.

Bodies of the four men from the wrecked bomber in Lee were transported 15 miles by canoe and then another 30 miles by automobile to the army air base at Bangor, which the bomber was attempting to reach on the foggy last leg of a flight from Langley Saturday in a bombing plane crash.

Killed at Lee were: Second Lieut. P. W. Beckham, 28, of Houston, pilot; and Wyman O. Thompson, 21, of Underwood, N. D., co-pilot; Corp. J. L. Parson, Holbrook, Pa., engineer; and Private First Class L. E. Rothman, of Valley View, Pa., radio operator.

Proposal For Store Closings During Football Game Studied

Inquiry was being made through the Retail Merchants association of some of the member firms of the organization today as to whether they desire to close Thursday afternoon for the Texas Technological college-Hardin-Simmons football game, according to Mrs. Gladys Workman, association secretary.

Thursday, Nov. 27, has been set by members of the association for the official Thanksgiving closing. Mrs. Workman said. She has received suggestions, however, that stores close for the football game.

Banks Are To Close

Officials of the Clearing House association reminded that all banks are to be closed both Nov. 20 and 27.

Postmaster Amos Howard announced a partial observance of both days at the postoffice. On next Thursday, he added, windows will be open until noon and two downtown deliveries of mail will be made, but none in the residential districts. The schedule for Nov. 27 has not been set definitely.

Most other federal offices will be closed the whole of Thursday, Nov. 20, but will be open Nov. 27.

May Attend Game

City and county offices will be open Thursday, but in most departments those desiring to attend the football game will be allowed to do so.

City schools are to be recessed this afternoon until next Monday morning so that teachers may attend the state convention of the Texas State Teachers association opening in Houston Thursday. Classes will be conducted as usual Nov. 27.

Tech will observe Nov. 27, 30, inclusive, as the Thanksgiving holiday period.

Minister Arrested

The arrest complicated American colony plans for the traditional Thanksgiving day service at the church, where Wadsworth was to read President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation. Arrangements for the service announced from the pulpit last Sunday, were in doubt tonight.

The only other persons in the rectory at the time the police came were a servant and two United States embassy clerks who shared living quarters in the rectory and to whom the bulletins belonged. They are Leslie Piepenberg, Reidsville, Wis., and Hugh Osborne Macauley, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Woolf, a young bachelor, was formerly pastor of an American church in Berlin. He came to Rome about a year ago.

He drew the ire of the extremist Rome newspaper, Il Tevere, last Fourth of July when he flew the American flag beside the Italian one in a church on one of Rome's principal avenues.

Each driver will undergo a thorough physical examination. At 1:30 p. m. he will be handed two ounces of whiskey and given ten minutes to drink it.

Then he must drive a car forward and backward a distance of 200 feet, keeping the wheels within a 12-inch strip. He must drive a figure eight course marked by 16 posts set nine feet apart. This maneuver must be completed satisfactorily within three minutes.

At half-hour intervals each driver will down two more ounces of whiskey and repeat the driving performances.

Frequent examinations will be made with a drunkometer and upon the subject's blood, reflex action, blood pressure and his facilities of observation and co-ordination.

Part of the tests will be for beer drinkers only.

The tests will be closed to the public.

After it's all over, an officer will escort each driver to his home and explain, if necessary, to the little lady only 21, has been in Britain for a year.

Six Patients Killed In New York Blaze

AMITYVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP)—Six elderly patients—three men and three women—lost their lives early today in a fire which destroyed a building of a private sanitarium here. Thirty other persons, most of them bed-ridden, were rescued.

Dr. Conval L. Markham, superintendent of the institution, the Brunswick home for the care of diabetic and nervous cases, said that while a majority of the patients were incurably incapacitated, so far as he could determine those rescued had suffered no ill effects other than shock.

American Flier, 21, Heads Eagle Squadron

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Flight Lieut. C. C. Peterson of Salmon, Idaho, has been appointed to command the American Eagle Squadron of the Royal Air Force, the air ministry said today.

Peterson, the first American appointed to command the Eagle squadron, recently was awarded the distinguished flying cross for gallantry and daring in action.

The new commander, who is only 21, has been in Britain for a year.

was minded."

When a reporter suggested that the newspapers in Tokyo today did not sound exactly peace-minded Nomura laughed.

Meanwhile, in Tokyo Japan's Premier Hiroki Tojo declared today that "the Japanese army is prepared for any eventualities" amid sharply strained relations with both the United States and Russia.

Simultaneously, Navy Minister Admiral Shigetarō Shimada told the Tokyo diet parliament that "the navy has completed all preparations to meet any change in the situation."

The Twin Outcomes Of Mission

The twin wings that Japan is clearing her decks for possible action came as all eyes turned to Washington for the outcome of discussions by Japan's special "peace or war" envoy, Saburo Kurusu, with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

On the record, both statements were made in direct reply to a question raised in the Japanese parliament regarding the presence of asserted Russian floating mines in the sea of Japan, but the implication was unmistakable that they were directed to the United States as well as Russia.

Russian Reply Rejected

Foreign Minister Tojo said Japan had refused to accept Moscow's reply to a recent Japanese protest over the sinking of the liner Kehi Maru in the Japan sea, allegedly by Soviet mines.

Tojo informed the diet that Kurusu "carried no new instructions" to Washington, but he intimated that the outcome of Kurusu's mission would determine Japan's policy regarding her obligations under the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

Premier Tojo has already outlined three prime Japanese demands.

As an end to "such measures of hostile character as economic blockade" by the ABCD—America, Britain, China and the Dutch East Indies.

Halt To Encirclement

A halt to asserted "military encirclement" of Japan by Britain and the United States.

A Hands-off Japan's conflict with China.

Tojo said it was still too early to say what effect the Washington conversations "will have on the third clause of the tripartite pact"—the clause obligating each Axis signatory to lend all aid, including military, to its allies in the event they are "attacked" by a power not yet involved in the European or China wars.

From Bad To Worse

Tokyo newspapers declared the international situation had gone "from bad to worse" even as Kurusu flew to Washington.

The House of Peers unanimously approved the empire's 3,800,000,000 yen ($74,000,000) military budget, thus completing parliamentary action on the huge finance sheet.

At the same time, the Japan Times and Advertiser, the organ of the Japanese foreign office, declared the choice of peace or war in the Pacific was up to the United States.

It said Japan "now has laid down her cards and waits for America to make the next move."

Meanwhile, the special diet session watched tensely the progress of talks in Washington.

The meeting here was sponsored by the South Plains pool, which is made up of approximately 15 counties and industrial operators in this area. The chamber of commerce assisted in the arrangements.

Present at the meeting were G. E. and W. A. Green of Plainview; G. B. C. and L. Spencer and Raymond Lee Johns of Lamesa; Edgar G. Lewis, T. A. Rogers, A. D. Montgomery, H. V. Bigham, C. A. Clark, George Pierce and Harry B. Lewis, of Lubbock.

Youth Arrested For Tahoka Auto Theft

At 9:15 o'clock this morning B. P. Millsap, city recorder, received a call from Tahoka saying a 17-year-old youth had stolen a 1933 Chevrolet two-door sedan at Tahoka and was presumed to be en route to Lubbock.

Millsap put the complaint on short-wave radio.

B. L. Woodell, state highway patrolman, heard the call and raced out the Tahoka road. He found the automobile seven miles from Tahoka.

Woodell, accompanied by a Tahoka person who knew the suspect, arrested the youth on East Broadway in Lubbock, near the canyon.

The suspect had changed clothing, Millsap said he later was informed.

Charges will be filed at Tahoka, it was understood.

Youth Is Surviving Shot Through Neck

TRINIDAD, Colo., Nov. 18 (AP)—While he was hunting near Trinidad, a stray bullet struck the base of Deonnis Girardo's neck from behind, narrowly missing his spinal cord and his brain. The bullet ripped into his mouth, its force spent.

Girardo spat out the bullet and most of his teeth.

Physicians said his condition was "fair" and that he would live unless infection developed. He is 23.

MINERS WOUNDED

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 18 (AP)—Two negro miners were shot and wounded today in an attempted charge upon a picket line at the No. 10 captive coal mine of the United States Coal and Coke company at Gary.

Tass said German officers fired in a vain attempt to halt their troops.

In the Crimea campaign, Adolf Hitler's field headquarters reported that German combat and dive-bomber planes dealt "devastating blows" on fortifications and port facilities at Sevastopol, Russia's great Black sea naval base, while Nazi infantrymen were reported fighting before the city's outer defenses.

Nazi front-line dispatches said 60 Russian transports had been sunk and 69 others damaged in aerial attacks at Sevastopol, Kerch and other Crimean ports. The high command yesterday reported the fall of Kerch, bridged to the Caucasus fields.

On the Ukraine front, a bulletin from Hitler's headquarters said Axis armies driving into the Dnests river industrial basin had occupied additional territory and that "the enemy was thrown out of field positions which some planes stubbornly defended."

The Red army command said Russian planes operating on the southern front destroyed 118 Nazi trucks, five armored vehicles and 500 infantrymen.

Weather and road conditions in the south were reported improving.

Vote Sympathy Walkout

In northern Cambria county, Pa., a union official said about 7,500 of an estimated 10,000 membership in commercial coal pits had voted a sympathy walkout. Three hundred miners at a Terre Haute, Ind., mine which supplies coal for a Public Service company of Indianapolis, also were out in sympathy with the captive miners.

John L. Lewis, president of the UMW, and his policy committee met again today here to consider the strike situation at the CIO in an annual convention in Denver.

The CIO voted yesterday to approve the strike in captive mines.

FDR Losing Patience

"The president is losing patience," one reliable informant declared. "He is getting ready to crack down—and hard—on John L. Lewis or anybody else who is holding up the nation's production."

There still were no specific indications what specific course Mr. Roosevelt was contemplating, but the belief was widespread that the moment for action had been reached.

On Capitol Hill, the defense strike problem continued to monopolize congressional attention and the congressional tempers but definite action awaited a cue from the White House.

Senator Connally Offers Bill

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said he wanted to talk with President Roosevelt soon regarding his bill, introduced yesterday, to give the government power to take over defense plants when production was threatened by a strike or labor disturbance of other cause.

Connally said he had high hope that the chief executive would approve the measure in principle. Under the legislation, the question of an open or closed shop would be frozen at the status quo whenever the government took over a plant.

"There are some senators who say that this is a socialistic measure," Connally told reporters. "If we want to do it, we must have the law to do it. If management and labor can't run a plant, there is nobody but the government left to run it. Government control would last only for the duration of the emergency. There is no effort to limit the government; there is only an effort to keep up production."

They are said to suggest that the Vatican regard the regime as Russia as nearing an end and that the Nazi regime constitutes the major danger to the church.

Police did a thorough job of turning the section upside down and the negro's car was found parked near a servant's house in a street. Subsequent search revealed money hidden in an ironing board, bloody clothing and other incriminating evidence.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, his assistant, conducted the prosecution. They indicated they would call several other witnesses early this afternoon and rest their case about 3 o'clock or earlier. The defense had not indicated what it would offer by way of evidence.

Skilled Americans Are Going To China

HONOLULU, Nov. 18 (AP)—Skilled American workers were en route to the Burma road to supervise the trucking of war supplies to the Chinese army, it was revealed today.

The first group of 46 mechanics, dispatchers, zone managers and maintenance managers arrived here yesterday.

"We're the first batch, but there are a lot more coming," said a spokesman. He estimated about 3,500 trucks now are operating over the vital lifeline.

Former Big Spring Mayor Death Victim

BIG SPRING, Nov. 18 (AP)—C. W. Cunningham, 64, president of the school board and former mayor, died today in a Big Spring hospital.

He was stricken ill Sunday while on a deer hunt in the Chisos mountains.

Active in civic and church affairs, Cunningham had been in the drug business here since 1913. He retired as mayor in 1930 after serving a year.

Most of the clashes apparently are centered in an area within a radius of 75 miles south and southeast of Macva west of the Province of Tucuman.

Terrorists are pictured as so active that Serbian railways are almost unusable except for main lines kept open under strong military guard.

Attacks on German soldiers in Serbia are said to have increased despite retaliation which hundreds of hostages are shot for each soldier assaulted, and the bodies of the executed often are left hanging in public as an example.

Winter May Help Axis

There is no way of telling how many Serbs have paid with their lives for these activities but an unofficial computation based on official announcements and Serb newspaper reports showed 813 had been executed since June.

Officials in Croatia expect that Serbia will put an end to the fighting and raids on villages and railroads. The outlaws have operated from mountains and forests and officials believe the cold will drive them from their quarters and the snow and bare forests will expose their hideouts.

Travelers have reported thousands of Montenegrins deported and held in Albanian concentration camps for opposing the Italian occupation. These sources said opposition leaders even spurned an effort of the Italian command to confer, and some said word that rebel activity would end "when the last Italian has left the land."

Anti-Italian demonstrations have occurred in this Croat capital. At a recent Zagreb meeting shouts of "Duce!" were drowned out by cries of "Ante!" for Croat leader Ante Pavelic.

Troops Suffer In Icy Blasts

LONDON, Nov. 18—Authoritative British quarters reported today that many German soldiers have been frozen to death on the central Russian front and that Nazi troops are suffering terribly in the cold blasts of the steppes.

British reports said many Nazi troops in Russia have been found wearing women's fur coats and other makeshift garments to protect them from the bitter cold.

Few Properly Equipped—Very few German troops, these reports said, are properly equipped for the winter.

In contrast, said the British sources, Soviet troops on the Moscow sector are well equipped and life in Moscow, close behind the front is proceeding normally.

"The Muscovites are taking things seriously," said the British source, "but there is no responsibility; their morale is very high. The food situation is satisfactory."

How To Be Comfortable Though Bombed—Modern Warfare Brings About House To Weather Air Raids

By MARGARET KERNODLE Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—Yesterday I played house in a steel something that looks like an open parachute from above, like a silo from the outside and like an orange inside. This is a house in which to brave bombs. It is built for a family of six, said the people who know at the Museum of Modern Art—where the contraption is bedded down for the next two months.

They call this thing a dymaxion deployment unit. It's actually a couple of circles which can be shipped knocked-down like mail-order catalog products.

Uncle Sam is playing house in a house like this, too, according to Buckminster Fuller, the philosophic designer. He says the navy took the first 1941 house intended for the public; somebody else in the government asked for No. 2, and we get our look-see at No. 3.

Meanwhile, the navy and the government continue to consider it as a defense design. Mr. Fuller declares. This strange steel structure really is a descendant of a something shown in Chicago in 1927 in dismay or delight architects. Its name—means nothing you can put your finger on. Mr. Fuller says. He says the same men who invented the word, radio, invented dymaxion—to express his philosophy a flier talking with him for three days and deciding that he spoke mostly in three-syllable words.

Two connecting cylinders of corrugated steel are painted white. One is 15 feet in diameter and 11 1/2 feet tall; the other is 20 feet in diameter and 12 1/2 feet high.

The structure grew in a different direction from the usual house, too. It started upside down. Mr. Fuller bolted steel segments of the roof on the ground. He raised the roof by means of a collapsible mast which extended through the ventilator at the center of the roof. It went up a little at a time because circular segments were bolted on to make the walls from the top down. Then he laid a circle of bricks (with sand, not mortar) for foundation on the ground. After he removed the Airplane manufacturers of Britain are increasing their use of plastic materials to replace light metal alloys.

It can be put up in about three days by several unskilled workers. Mr. Fuller says the houses can be made 1,000 a day under present conditions.

The house is as earthquake and hurricane proof as it is bomb proof, the designer declares. And for the same reason: A nearby bomb hit might make the building bounce above its foundation a few inches, he points out. But that's all, because, he explains, the blast of suddenly expanded air whose vacuum causes higher pressure atmosphere within a square building to expand toward a round form, merely would bring into play the designed cylindrical and valving function of the dymaxion deployment unit.

A First Line FOOD FOR DEFENSE Against Fatigue

It's just surprising how winter colds and drafts disappeared after we put in the Clow Gasteam Radiators

Steam Radiator Heat

Steam Radiator Heat provides complete, uniform heat distribution without drafts or overheated air. This helps prevent colds and other ailments due to inadequate, unbalanced heating. The even, penetrating warmth of Clow Gasteam Radiators is the most healthful heat you can get, and by heating the house uniformly, you don't pass from a warm room to a cold one and catch cold.

Clow Gasteam Radiators make their own steam heat with gas. They are installed under windows or near doors where they warm cold air as it enters the room. The heat is then distributed through the lower or "living zone" of the room instead of to the ceiling, as with other forms of heating. For commercial heating, Gasteam Radiators are durable, simple, and require small space. The vented-type radiators are recommended for the prevention of excessive moisture on windows. For industrial or commercial heating, investigate the Clow Unit Heaters.

FOOTBALL UPPER CLASSMEN at Hardin-Simmons university threatened the freshmen with dire degree of hazing if they, the fish, didn't defeat the Texas Tech freshmen last week.

The Cowboy yearlings didn't get the hazing. After beating the Tech first year men, the varsity boys crowded around with congratulations, and the significant statement:

"Okay, kids. We'll take up next Thursday where you left off today!"

THE GOLDEN GLOVES plans for 1942 are moving along nicely. The sponsoring body of the South Plains District Golden Gloves tournament, hopes to make an important announcement. In the meantime, all amateur fighters, regardless of experience, as long as they are 16 years of age, are urged to spend a lot of time getting in shape. According to plans, there'll be two divisions in this winter's tournament—one for the inexperienced boxers, boys who have never won a District tournament fight and who have never competed, and one for boys with considerable experience, or who have competed, and won, in District tournaments.

As an indication of interest over the territory, high school officials of Post and Littlefield already have notified this department of plans to conduct preliminary tournaments and send their winners to the District event.

Coach Howard Price of Post High school was first under the wire with a letter asking for details regarding a preliminary tournament and stating that Post High intended to sponsor a tournament.

Coach Abe Murphy of Littlefield High school, who staged a highly successful preliminary tournament last year (and the year before, while at Childress) was in the office Saturday afternoon, saying in person that the Littlefield tournament would be staged a week before the Lubbock District tournament.

It now appears that the District tournament will be staged the last week in January, possibly on the nights of January 28, 29 and 30, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

All preliminary tournaments should be concluded—at least a week before the District tournament starts. The State tournament, at Fort Worth, starts February 11, runs through the 16th.

Littlefield's tournament then would be scheduled for the week beginning January 18. Post's tournament will be about the same time, possibly a week earlier.

We should like to hear from other schools and coaches desiring to stage preliminary Golden Gloves tournaments, and we shall be glad to help them arrange dates and outline tournament plans. Drop us a card, come by, or phone us and we'll try to get together for a talk-over or something.

WE HOPE the anonymous correspondent of last week was on hand when Tech played St. Louis. You, we mean, who sent in the cartoon referring to "Splinters" Webster, and James Reed, and wondering why they were collecting bench splinters instead of scrimmage bruises. If you remember that cartoon, neighbor, and the attitude adopted in the picture by the players you designated as Webster and Reed, you should cease wondering. It was a pretty good picture of the way Webster and Reed feel about the game of football, mister. If you have forgotten the lesson of the cartoon, drop by and we'll try to explain.

But if you reluctantly paid your $2.20 last Saturday (which very few people did) you certainly must have seen Jumbo Webster show some of the stuff of which he is capable. The guy's a natural, as we've always said, and he can play a heap of football when he's in the mood. Trouble is, get him in the mood—if you can do it. Coaches have been trying for some time now, (incidentally, and don't tell anybody; they're going to try harder than ever to make a "regular" out of him next year).

I also think that our Westerners are of championship ability. Therefore, how about a post-season game between Masonic Home and Lubbock for the unofficial championship of the State—and we wouldn't enlist the aid of the Tarrant County courthouse, either. Seriously, this may be an idea."

It's a crack idea, all right, and we'd like to be the promoter of such a game, because we could fill up a park somewhere—anywhere. Tough luck, the Mighty Mites getting booted out of the face on the eve of one of their

There is no standout game; at least six rate equal notice and four more will help decide who will play whom and where when the whistle blows on the Jan. 2 bowl extravaganza. Here are the 10 contests on which national, sectional and post-season claims hinge.

Irish Have Chance
Notre Dame-Southern California.—The Irish have an historical standpoint in this contest, having defeated the Irish with their first undefeated season since the Rocke era. Notre Dame has only a tie to mar its record while the Trojans have been beaten four times, but the record shows favorites here seldom win.

Minnesota-Wisconsin—The Golden Gophers have run up 16 straight triumphs and are headed for their second successive Big 10 title and perfect season. Minnesota ranks as a heavy choice, but the Badgers throw the ball to all four wings and have run up an exceptionally high score even in defeat.

Breeze For Duke
Duke-North Carolina State.—The Blue Devils have only this tie to get by and their perfect season—and a bowl invitation—are assured. Duke is the highest scoring team in the nation, with a record of 256 points to 33, while State has been pounded about a plenty. Apparently Duke should just breeze.

Missouri-Kansas—The terrible tigers, who seem to get stronger each week, can clinch the Big Six title by beating an opponent already beaten five times. On a point basis, Kansas is the second weakest defensive team in America, while Missouri has visions of roses, sugar, cotton or oranges.

"Natural" On Tap
Pennsylvania-Cornell.—One of the annual naturals of the east, Penn. a forgotten team since that one defeat by Navy despite a fine record, can assure its second consecutive Ivy league crown but Cornell has the habit of rising to the occasion and the Quakers are the traditional enemy at Ithaca.

Washington-Oregon—Washington's slim Rose bowl hopes can be kept alive at the expense of a team which is unpredictable as Tulane. The Huskies, now in a triple tie for the conference championship with Stanford and Oregon State, must defeat Oregon or drop out.

Texas Christian-Rice—The Horned Frogs face the same problem in the Southwestern title chase. T. C. U.'s chances are predicted on plenty of ifs, but the Frogs must win this one or surrender the pennant to Texas A. and M. without further question or delay. Frogs are favored, but it's close.

Fordham-St. Mary's—The normal quota of interest in this annual collision has been removed, but the game is important as a gauge of the Ram ability to rebound after that Pittsburgh upheaval. Fordham isn't out of the bowl picture yet, and a big score against the Gaels could help matters greatly.

Alabama-Vanderbilt—Bowl bids and the Southwestern title may be at stake in this one. The Crimson Tide and Vanderbilt both have been beaten once but have

Westerners Prime For Bulldog Test

Lubbock High's Regular Scheduled Play Ends Thursday; Milner Thorne Injured

Lubbock's Westerners this afternoon will go through a stiff practice session, quite probably their last real workout of the season, trying to get ready for Thursday's game with Plainview.

Wednesday there'll be nothing more than a tapering-off drill, and Thursday's game will, unless the Amarillo Sandies fail when last expected—and most hoped for—be the final one of the season for the Westerners.

So if you're a fan who likes to watch hard workouts, you'd better go out to Chapman field this afternoon.

Bad news greeted the Westerners Monday when it was announced that Milner Thorne, regular halfback and leading ball carrier of the team, would not be able to play Thursday. Thorne injured his back in the game with Austin last week, and it isn't likely that he'll be ready for the Bulldogs.

Two-Hour Workout
He was suited out yesterday, but wasn't taking much part in the maneuvers. The Westerners put in a bit more than two hours, including in no heavy scrimmage but otherwise giving their gridiron tactics a complete working-over.

Lubbock's players have a healthy regard for the Bulldogs—and have had since a year ago when Plainview sprung a 20-0 upset on the Westerners. Most of this year's wearers of the Black and Gold were present, though perhaps unaccounted for when that game was played.

Backfielders Tops
Mick Mason will be back on full-time duty Thursday, and that means trouble. With the three Mason brothers and Dawson Malone operating in the backfield, the Bulldogs will have one of the best offensive quartets in the state. All four of them can carry the mail. Mick can kick field goals and extra points. And Malone is unexcelled at punting—he's averaged close to 35 yards this season, with most of his boots going out of bounds to obviate any return yardage.

A stiff workout is in prospect for the Westerners today, with tapering-off scheduled for Wednesday.

Arkansas Again Is Plagued By Injuries
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 18 (AP)—As they have most of the season, injuries plagued the Arkansas Razorbacks today.

Hubert Barker, a back, has a broken nose, a moment of the SMU game, and may not see service against Mississippi. Ends Layton Wynne and Virgil Johnston still were ailing with leg injuries, and Guard Paul Paladino's knee injury, which sidelined him last week, has not healed.

The Razorbacks opened their preparation for Mississippi with a blackboard session on Rebel plays.

well be at stake in this one. The Crimson Tide and Vanderbilt both have been beaten once but have

Tech Workouts Are "Secret"

Contest Attracting Gridiron Spotlight

Texas Tech's footballers, serious enough about their forthcoming game with the Hardin-Simmons university Cowboys that they have asked that there be a minimum of visitors at their workouts, resume drills in preparation for the Ranchers this afternoon.

The Red Raiders are designing new offensive formations this week, for specific use against Hardin-Simmons, and they want none of their magic to get to the Cowboys ahead of time.

Record Crowd Seen
Consequently, practices this week are of a semi-secret nature, with particular care being exercised against the presence of movie cameras.

After a six-year break, the teams resume varsity football relations here Thursday afternoon in a game that has claimed the fancy of fans from El Paso to Dallas, from Dalhart to Del Rio.

Tickets, at least, have been reserved by fans from all over the region and the game, last one on the Texas Tech home schedule this season, is certain to attract

Hardin-Simmons Fans Hope For Upset—Abilene Will Turn Out To Ride Special Train To Tussle Here

(Special To The Journal)
ABILENE, Nov. 17.—The special train from Abilene to Lubbock Thursday for the Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech football game on President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving day, will carry local civic leaders among its several hundred passengers.

"We can make this trip a real good-will journey to the South Plains capital for renewal of football relations between the two schools," said Ed S. Stewart, chamber of commerce president, as he made train reservations today.

Oldest passenger aboard will be the Rev. W. A. Nicholas, 86-year-old superintendent of the West Texas children's aid and welfare association and veteran Cowboy fan.

Band, Cowgirls On Trip
The youngest will be Roger Mac Evans, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Evans—Roger Mac's daddy is captain and leading scorer of the HSU football team, and his mother, member of the senior class, is president of the campus scholarship society.

On the train, too, will be the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band, the H-SU cowgirls and the six flag bearers with the six white horses. The band and the cowgirls, with music and co-ed roping routines, will share honors with Texas Tech's Matador band at the between-halves pageants.

Cowboys Bear Down
Coach Warren Woodson scrimmaged the Cowboys Monday with the varsity on the offense against the freshmen, who edged past the Tech freshmen last Thursday night, 6-0.

Today, he'll reverse the procedure, sending the freshmen, armed with Texas Tech plays, of reasonable facsimiles thereof, against the varsity in the last stiff scrimmage before Thursday's game.

Texas Will Warm Up Slowly For Aggies
AUSTIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—Heavy work in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game with the Texas Aggies at College Station will NOT be started by the defeated Texas university Longhorns until tomorrow.

Light drills in sweat shirts Monday and today are counted upon to offset any overtraining that may have had a part in the team's slump.

Crain, only serious casualty of the TCU game, expects no lasting trouble from a pulled leg muscle.

Bob Zuppke Resigns After 29 Years As Football Coach Of Illinois

Veteran Tutor Out For Good

(By The Associated Press)
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 18.—Bob Zuppke, dean of the Western conference, has resigned after 29 years as Illinois' football coach—and this time he means it.

The decision was made in typical Zuppke fashion. He might have waited until Illinois ended its season Saturday against Northwestern, or he might have held off until next March, when he had agreed to discuss his future with University President Arthur C. Willard. But Zup jumped the gun.

Resigned Once Before

He asked Harold Fogus, of Decatur, Ill., one of his former gridiron pupils and a former president of the University board of trustees, to announce his resignation to James M. Cleary, present trustee president, to Dr. Willard and to Douglas R. Mills, acting athletic director.

Once before, in 1936, Zuppke said he was resigning. He signed an agreement whereby he would yield the post he had held since 1913 when he came here direct from brilliant high school coaching successes at Muskegon, Mich., and Oak Park, Ill.

Meeting Planned

That action touched off a long and frequently bitter football fuss among the university's thousands of alumni, and the furore abated only slightly when the board of trustees refused to accept the resignation.

After the 1936 season there were frequent rumors that Zuppke would leave. He said he'd never quit, and when affairs came to a head last summer, the board of trustees again retained the 62-year-old coach but deposed Athletic Director Wendell S. Wilson. After this season Zuppke was to meet with Dr. Willard and the trustees to see if he would stay until the retirement age of 65.

Future Promising

But there was no promise of success this year for the Illini, who lost all major games. They showed signs of improvement, however, and there was a hint of better things to come. The team that started against Ohio State last Saturday included five sophomores and four juniors, and put up a terrific scrap before losing 12-7.

"I have told President Willard several times that I wanted to retire when I felt the university's athletic affairs were in good hands," he said. "I have obtained that object."

Zuppke's teams in 29 years won 182 games, lost 79 and tied 12. They were Western conference champions seven times and finished second twice.

Duke Is Not Allergic To A Rose Bowl Bid

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 18.—A deaf-mute with lockjaw is a "chatter box" compared with Coach Wallace Wade when it comes to discussing a possible bowl invitation for his undefeated and untied Duke eleven.

Nevertheless, there's a definite feeling at Duke today that the Blue Devils will accept a bid to the Rose bowl, if they are invited.

This is a real development because up until now the talk has been just the opposite—that Duke wouldn't consider any sort of a post season bid.

Wade himself, only a week ago, was telling sports writers that he was personally opposed to bowl games. Presumably, he still feels that way but he now says that he will leave the decision up to the Duke administrative officials and the players.

The officials, like Wade, don't intend to stick their necks out until the Blue Devils receive an invitation. But the players without much prompting, say they're ready and willing to spend their Christmas vacation in Pasadena.

Gophers First, Ags Next In Grid Poll

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—There is no argument among sportswriters in Minnesota's ranking as the nation's top college football team but the writers can't decide with finality on the runner-up to the Norsemen in the weekly Associated Press poll.

As is customary, Minnesota heads the parade again this week with 1,272 out of a possible 1,290 votes and the scribes selected Texas A. and M. as second. A year ago today the two elevens held identical positions.

Balloting Is Close

The Texas Aggies, however, are threatened. Only 52 points behind their aggregate of 993 is the all-winning Duke combination, with Notre Dame three ballots to the rear of the Blue Devils.

Of the 129 ballots received, 112 put the Gophers in first place; five scribes chose Texas A. and M. while 12 selected Duke as the best club. Homer Norton's athletes, however, were almost a universal choice for second and pushed Duke to third.

A week ago the University of Texas was second but Texas Christian nipped the Longhorns and tumbled them to ninth place. Missouri in eighth place.

Newcomer to the favored 10 this week is Mississippi, the Tigers jumping from sixteenth to eighth place following their 28 to 0 defeat of Oklahoma. Stanford made room for Missouri by losing its second game and slumping to seventeenth after holding a "Big Ten" berth for a week.

But just to show that the scribes aren't influenced entirely by wins and losses, thrice-beaten Northwestern retains its ranking among the nation's 10 best.

Fordham, Navy, Pennsylvania, Ohio State and Mississippi, each beaten only once, are relegated to the second division.

The top 10, in order, with their points:
Minnesota 1,272; Texas A. and M. 998; Duke 951; Notre Dame 936; Michigan 682; Duquesne 580; Alabama 415; Missouri 238; Texas 228; Northwestern 204.

Tahoka Tussle Is Moved Back

(Special To The Journal)
TAHOKA, Nov. 18.—Tahoka fans who want to see the Hardin-Simmons-Texas Tech football game Thursday afternoon—and there are a lot of them—and still not miss seeing their own Bulldogs play Brownfield will be able to see both games.

Supt. W. T. Hanes of the Tahoka schools announced Monday that the Tahoka-Brownfield game, originally scheduled for Thursday afternoon, had been made a night game in order not to conflict with the college game in Lubbock.

Cubs Heavy Favorites

It's the final regularly scheduled game of the season for both Tahoka and the pennant-bound Cubs, and will count in the District 5-A south zone conference standings.

Brownfield already has clinched a tie for the title, which it has won the last four years in a row, and probably would be awarded the crown even if Tahoka should win this game and Seminoe defeat Seagraves to tie the Cubs.

Getting Stronger

To all outward appearances, the Tahoka Bulldogs and their followers, whom Tahoka school officials claim are the most loyal fans in the whole country, never have even heard of the impressive record of the Cubs. There's a lot of optimism in the Tahoka camp, even though the Bulldogs are facing a team that's averaged six touchdowns in its eight games this year.

The Bulldogs, after dropping games to Class AA Lamesa and Borger teams and their first two conference starts, have steadily grown stronger and have taken their last three games by handy scores. Denver City's highly touted Cydome Jones, and his mates lost to Tahoka, 27-6. Then O'Donnell, a traditional rival of Tahoka and one, which has always played Tahoka its hardest game of the year, fell before the Bulldogs, 46-0. Then last Friday night it was Post which felt the Bulldog bit, 27-13.

After the Post game the boys told Coach Leo Jackson in the dressing room that they could and should have done better, but they just couldn't get their minds off the Brownfield game.

In Top Condition

All of which adds up to the fact that the Cubs will probably take Tahoka by a top-heavy score, but they will have to do it after the whistle blows to start the game, and not on the columns and columns of publicity they have had this season.

Coaches Jackson and Hope Hayes, say their boys came out of the Post fracas in top condition the largest attendance of the year here.

Tech's Edge Is Slight

Hardin-Simmons, beaten twice and tied once this season, decisive winner in five other contests and gunning for the Border conference title in its first campaign in that league, hopes to win the game that will throw the eleven-year rivalry into a deadlock. The Cowboys have won four from Tech, lost five to the Red Raiders. Once they played a scoreless tie.

On paper, Texas Tech is figured to win, but as Head Coach Dell Morgan of Tech, usually an optimistic creature, put it, "unless our boys come out fighting, we're going to have a tough bird for Mr. Roosevelt's Thanksgiving."

Both teams won their games by hand margins last week. Hardin-Simmons taking it easy in walloping Louisiana Tech, the Red Raiders having it easy in crushing St. Louis university. Neither team suffered important injuries, and both sides are due to be in happy physical condition. Also keyed-up mental conditions, provided the Red Raiders get that way.

Leaving the Red Raiders to their practice, and their future in the hands of the football fates, here is the latest team and individual "dope" on the Texas Techs as handed out by Publicity Director Bill Parker yesterday, covering the first eight games of the campaign.

Michigan, Ohio State, Texas, once-beaten midland powerhouses will settle the right to second place in the Big 10—or to a title tie should Wisconsin upset Minnesota. Neither can accept bowl invitations but sectional pride guarantees a slam-bang battle. A slight edge to the Wolverines.

girl I know who could do as you're doing. I mean support yourself, be an independent—and all that. But there's one thing that still puzzles me. Will you tell me about it now?"

"What?" Her eyes met his.

"That night of the party, Antoine's supper party, why did you run away from me?"

"This would be the time to straighten that out, he thought, if Pam really had understood. Algar Bruce had been hurt. Pam turned away and considered a moment. The old hurt of that night flooded back like a rising tide. It was still a thing that she hadn't forgiven. A sudden desire to hurt Jerry rose in her. She had been so hurt herself that night. She wished he hadn't spoken of it just after their lovely luncheon party. His question brought back sharply all of the bitter humiliation she had been trying to forget. A strange, intangible barrier seemed to rise between them again.

"You haven't answered yet, Pam," Jerry reminded her gently. "You made a joke of me that night, Jerry."

"A joke?" Pam dear, but I didn't! I couldn't have done such a thing ever—feeling as I do about you."

"But you did. You—you humiliated me. And I hate you for it! I hate you, Jerry Winthrop!" "Pam!" Jerry's voice was tense. He was sure now that Pam did know about the bet. Sure that was what she was referring to. He must right that, and immediately.

"Do you mean the bet? Edmund's and my bet about you? Surely you haven't taken that seriously? Pam, it was just a joke, something—but Pam's voice was breaking in wildly. All of the sturdy Quelleron temper she had inherited was flaming within her.

"A joke? If your idea of a joke is that low and cheap—"

It was just then the old-fashioned knocker touched the electric bell of the front door. Pam stopped speaking and stood for a moment of indecision. She spoke to Melita, who was coming to answer the door.

"I'll take it, Melita."

She opened the door to see the stony, expressionless face of Lenore Winthrop staring at her without recognition.

"Tell Jerry I want the keys to his car," Lenore said, "as if giving an order to a servant."

"Who, who, who, recognized Lenore's voice, came to the hall. "Who wants the keys to my car?" he asked of Lenore.

"I do."

"You're not talking to me, Lenore. You don't get any car keys from me."

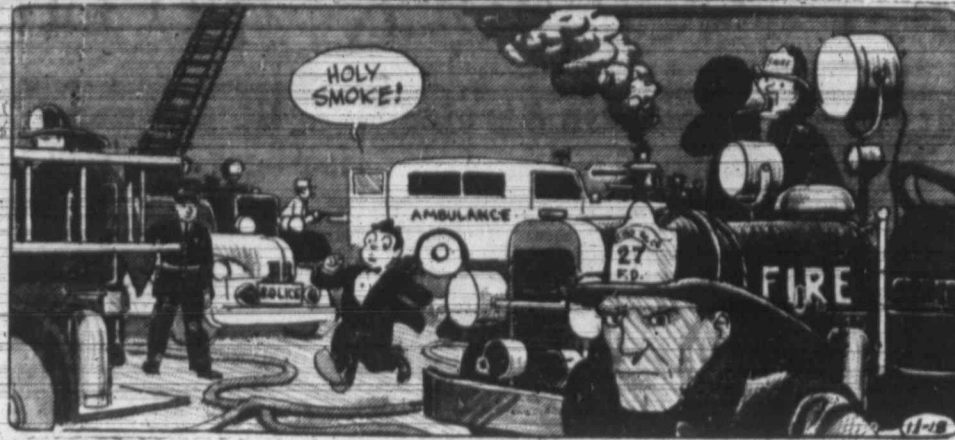

"I've got to have them!" "So what?" Jerry asked in irony.

Jerry Winthrop, shut up!" Lenore said fiercely, lunging at her brother.

MINIATURE PROWLER

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 18 (AP)—A frantic voice on the telephone told police headquarters there was a prowler in the basement making a lot of noise. A squad car raced to a south Minneapolis home. Patrolmen caught the prowler, all right. It was a mouse, its tail caught in a rat trap, racing around a dishpan.

Post-War Mental Epidemic Said Threat To Civilization

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—The R.A.F.'s chief mental trouble-shooter, Dr. Robert Dick Gillespie, told a distinguished medical audience here last night that a post-war mental epidemic threatens civilization.

The epidemic, he predicted, would hit nations and peoples in two ways: One is a revival of the almost-forgotten medieval mental trouble known as accidie, a serf-like apathy of the brain; the other is a mental restlessness which would rebel against social order.

Dr. Gillespie, psychiatrist specialist in the R.A.F., here on king's leave, made the first of a series of nationwide talks in this country. He will hold a private meeting in Washington with the U. S. army and navy joint conference on recreation and welfare.

Psychoneuroses were the danger signs he discussed. The person with a psychoneurotic looks and acts normally, but has a hidden, abnormal mental state.

"Surprisingly enough," he said, "the war has given birth to two institutions which are highly successful as a preventive of psychoneuroses. They are the air raid shelters and community centers."

"We have learned that shelter life with its common sharing of danger has helped people to withstand peril better than isolation in small groups."

"Now we find persons returning from safe areas to the shelters in large cities declaring 'I'd rather be bombed than bored.'"

Significant symptoms of psychoneuroses is the apathy noted in the battle-worn soldier as well as in those whose homes have been destroyed and whose lives are completely disorganized.

This apathy is usually the result of continual thwarting of simple desires—in the case of the soldier, the repeated thwarting of instinct of self-preservation, in the case of the civilian, the thwarting of the desire for activity.

"The continual thwarting of the desire for activity produces restlessness and irritability followed by a rebellion against the status either a dangerous restlessness or an equally dangerous apathy unless we are as energetic in organizing peace as we have been in organizing war."

Among desires was included in Alexander's charge. He said that while a parity price on turkeys had not been established by the department of agriculture, prices paid are not commensurate with high demand for turkeys and apparent shortage in this year's crop.

BURNED TO DEATH GALVESTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Dora Cummings, 75, was burned to death here today when her clothing became ignited as she was putting wood in a stove.

It was not announced when the transfer will take place, but contractors have expressed hope that the construction work will be completed by as early as Dec. 24. The transfers involve 76 units from six Texas airfields to new stations in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Constant and proper advertising has overcome the "war complex" which aviation companies encountered in Europe, according to Sean M. O'Connell, official of an Irish air line.

PLANT ABOUT READY LAMESA — Expansion of the egg drying plant of Hemmingson Bros. of New York City is nearly complete. The company is employing about 150 persons and more may be employed later in the season. Three buildings have been added to the plant this summer and fall.

THUNDER AND LIGHTNING Lightning causes thunder by compressing the air and leaving a partial vacuum. Other air rushes in to fill the space and forms the wave motion that produces the noise of thunder.

Charges Of Fixing Turkey Prices Heard

WACO, Nov. 18 (AP)—E. R. Alexander, general manager of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, charged in a telegram to Attorney General Gerald Mann today that turkey prices in Texas are being set by some buyers, processors and packers.

He recommended an investigation to determine whether there was an agreement to that end. Allocation of buying territories
