British Indian Troops In 200 Mile Advance

New Drive May Cut Axis Warriors Off From Supply Line

(By The Associated Press) British Indian troops racing 200 miles across the desert to capture Augila in central Libya raised hopes in London late today that the imperial column would soon reach the Gulf of Sirte, high water mark of last spring's British offensive, and cut off the main line of supplies to Axis armies in the west.

With their communications severed, the Axis North African forces, already boxed in by powerful British mechanized legions on land and by the British Mediterranean Fleet at sea, would thus be in desperate plight.

Battle Of Encirclement—Pacing this development, Russia's Red army were reported battling to stem one of the gravest threats to Moscow so far—with German troops acknowledged only 50 miles from the U. S. S. R. capital—while Berlin tersely reported a British attempt to land troops Sunday night on the coast of France.

British front-line dispatches claiming victory over the Germans in at least one sector of the Rezegh battle zone, 10 miles south of Tobruk, said the Nazis were gradually being cut off from their supplies by imperial columns driving westward along the Mediterranean coast.

Germans Badly Crippled—Cairo reports said that the great three-day tank battle at Rezegh had begun to die down as a result of heavy losses on both sides, but that British infantry reinforcements were pouring into the fighting from their bases east and south.

On the Ukraine front, Soviet troops reported that a powerful Russian counter-offensive west of Rostov-on-Don had hurled the Germans back 62 miles and that the invaders were rushing new troops to the threatened area.

Nazi Losses 'Enormous'—Nazi losses were described as "enormous" with the German tank division "almost completely smashed."

Drive Against Bolshevism Is Given Support

Pact Is Signed By Seven New Nations In Berlin Ceremony

(By The United Press) BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Before movie cameras and a battery of microphones, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop brought seven more nations into the anti-Communist pact and extended the adherence of the original six signatories for five more years.

The ceremony, occurring under a fierce glare of klieg lights, was held in the ambassadors' room of the new chancellery.

Ribbentrop acted as master of ceremonies. Adolf Hitler was not present.

Democracies Are Henchmen—"I am certain that I am expressing the convictions of all present," Ribbentrop said, "that our countries will not rest until Bolshevism is wiped out and the Communist danger is finally removed."

Ribbentrop charged that "the western democracies have lent their assistance to Bolshevism and thereby have become its henchmen."

The new signatories were Finland, Denmark, Bulgaria, Croatia, Slovakia, Rumania and the Japanese-sponsored Manchukuo regime of Wang Ching-Wei. They joined the present adherents, Germany, Italy, Japan, Spain, Hungary and Manchukuo.

Ribbentrop asserted that "the 'gigantic events' of this year have made the original reasons for the pact against international Communism even more timely than before."

'PHANTOM' TROOPS MAKE DARING RAID ON FRANCE

England's New Secret Forces Cross Channel

Hit-Run Thrust Is Revealed; Nazis Claimed Worried

(By The United Press) LONDON, Nov. 25.—Britain's Commandos, tough, black-uniformed, "phantom" troops, made a daring hit-and-run raid on the Normandy coast Sunday night and early Monday morning, it was disclosed officially today.

The Commandos, organized to reconquer German defenses and cause as much havoc and destruction as possible, got ashore, completed their mission and returned, the only casualty being a man who was shot in the arm by a machine gun bullet.

Might Have Altered War—As the ministry of information was announcing the raid, Admiral Sir Roger J. B. Keyes said in the House of Commons that the Commandos were eager and ready to act a year ago when, he said, they might have altered the course of the war.

Keyes organized the Commandos, beginning with July 17, 1940, but had to retire under the age limit five weeks ago.

The latest raid by the shock troops was believed to have been the first under a new commander. He has been appointed since Admiral Keyes retired but has not been identified.

Keyes started training the men 15 months ago after the fall of France. The training was a closely guarded secret and even war correspondents were not allowed to visit them. Later it was learned the Commandos operate with tommy guns, grenades, knives, sticks and dynamite. They always operate under the cover of night.

Black Their Faces—The Commandos black their faces to make them match their weird black battle dress.

The daring hit and run raid made by the Commandos Sunday night was the first against the continent to have been acknowledged officially. But it has been known that the group acted as spearheads in British blows against the Norwegian Lofoten islands, Spitzbergen and Bardia.

Finland Again Assailed

Stimson Blasts Law To Curb Labor Disputes Ordered

(By The United Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson charged today that Finnish army cooperation with German troops along the northern front in Russia is helping Germany to concentrate its efforts in a way "harmful to the interests of the United States."

He referred to German attacks on the Murmansk-Moscow supply line over which the United States is supplying lend-lease aid to the Russians and over which British assistance has been moving.

"Used By Germans"—In a statement which war department officials said was designed to answer numerous inquiries, Stimson said it was "regrettable that the Finnish army should allow this condition to continue."

"Regardless of the laudable ambition of the Finnish nation to recover ground lost to the Russians in the last war between these nations," Stimson said, "it is evident that the Finns are now being used by the Germans to further the German efforts to defeat the Russian forces in the Leningrad-Lake Onega theater."

Supplies Must Reach Reds—The secretary declared that this situation was "not only inimical to the final interests of Finland, but enables Germany to concentrate her efforts on a line harmful to the interests of the United States."

Simultaneously, the war department released a statement by Maj. Gen. James H. Burns, deputy lend-lease administrator and member of the recent U. S. mission to Moscow, who declared it was essential to our national policy that the U. S. get supplies in quantity to the Russian forces. He said "it now appears that Finland is being forced to act in such a way as to interfere with the delivery of these supplies."

Negroes Seek Right To Vote

After Wife No. 4, Nick Is Through

(By The Associated Press) HOUSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—A judgment declaring unconstitutional the custom of denying negroes the right to vote in Democratic primary elections was asked in a petition filed yesterday in federal court by Lonnie H. Smith, suing on behalf of himself and other qualified negro voters.

County Clerk W. D. (Bill) Miller, Assistant Election Judge James W. Luizza and Election Judge S. E. Allwright are the defendants.

Smith alleges in the suit that Miller denied him the right to cast an absentee ballot and that Allwright and Luizza denied him the right to vote in a primary election July 27, 1940.

He asks damages of $5,000 and a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from denying qualified negro voters the right to vote in the primaries.

Two-Billion Dollar Buying Spree Seen

Jingle Of National Defense Money Spurs Christmas Shopping; '29 Mark May Fall

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Spurred by the jingle of national defense dollars, a $2,400,000,000 national Christmas shopping spree is in the making this season, merchandise trade experts here estimated today.

Such a volume of business would exceed that of the boom year 1929 by more than 5 per cent and would be 11 per cent more than last year.

These estimates were compiled in a survey of the nation's wholesale and retail trade during the last 12 years prepared under the direction of Percy Wilson, director of Chicago's merchandise mart.

With preparations complete for the flood of buying already under way in the name of Santa Claus, merchandisers were reported by mail officials to be ready with shelves and display rooms well stocked.

The prime minister was as keen as I was to act vigorously in the face of hazards and achieve great results, which if the Commandos had been allowed to carry them out, might have electrified the world and altered the whole course of the war," Keyes said.

Day Coming When 1,000,000 Americans Will Be Pilots, Says Expert

Civilian Ranks Receive Boost

BY JACK STINNETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Although the training of army and navy pilots, few persons realize the enormity of the growth in civilian flying.

The other day, I heard a reasonably conservative aviation association official estimate that within the next few years one out of every 100 persons certainly—possibly one out of every 50—in the United States would hold a pilot's license of some kind.

That would mean a considerable acceleration in the rate at which the country now is turning out civilian pilots (about 100,000 a year), but when everything is considered, it is not an impossibility. For instance:

Civilian Training Boosted.

Under the inspiration and guidance of the National Aeronautic association, the number of model airplane builders in the U. S. has crept up to 2,000,000. These youngsters learn the elements of aerodynamics and plane construction. Although youthful hobbies can't always be taken as an indication that a youngster will choose a profession in that direction, aviation is different in that the rewards which it holds out as a profession are likely to appeal to the young man or woman as much as model building did to the juvenile.

The Civilian Pilot Training program has come of age. Thousands of youngsters every month are rolling out of the cockpits in hundreds of college and contract schools to earn wings for their solos, and start the long trek through the airways toward becoming ace of private, commercial or wartime aviation. The army and navy has recognized the value of this program and now is giving credit for flying time when graduates enroll in the armed services.

Example Is Given
As an example of what this program is accomplishing, I want to pass on a report from little Doane college at Crete, Neb., which I saw the other day. Out of 40 graduates of the elementary CPTP course there in the last year and a half, six are in the army aviation corps, another six in the navy; three more are awaiting call; two are taking advanced training to become flight instructors; six others have completed secondary flight training in the CPTP course. Out of 20 CPTP students there now, 12 have applied for the advanced course which opens in January. Multiply Doane by thousands and you have a picture of what is going on all over young America today.

The Civil Air Patrol, although held up for months in the Office of Civilian Defense, will get the "take-off" sign any minute now and add a patriotic stimulus to civilian flying that will give not only women flyers but men who are unfitted for actual military service an opportunity to spread their wings for national defense.

Air "Jeeps" Are Revived

Parachute jumping and stunt flying—both formerly frowned upon for civilians and in some sections outlawed—are having a big revival.

The discovery by the army and navy that the air flivver, or "putt-putt," is of vital importance in organization of a modern war machine. Some experts on war maneuvers this summer are predicting that the part these little air "jeeps" played in messenger, taxi and observation service will result eventually in all the field services having their own "grass-hopper" squadrons. That means the "air flivver," at one time believed threatened with extinction by priorities, will have just as much opportunity as the fighter, bomber and scout plane to develop under the existing program.

Back of it all, say the aviation experts, is the certainty that come peace and quieter times, civilian America will be the most air-conscious country in the world.

As Gen. Robert Wilson, president of NAA, put it recently: "Combat aircraft moving at 400 miles per hour, 35,000 feet above the earth are the couriers of tomorrow's commerce. Bombers carrying a load of 20 tons a third of the way around the earth without refueling are the forerunners of cargo and passenger ships of post-war transportation."

And he might have added that the "grasshopper squadrons" now being formed are the flivvers that will clutter peacetime skyways.

Medicinals are to be made from coke in a new plant in India.

POST NO BILLS

CHARLESTON, W. V. (AP)—Bears roaming through West Virginia woodlands have little regard for signs relating to fire prevention, fishing and hunting.

chewed or clawed by the bears.

Chief Game Protector H. Prentiss Farley explains that after destroying the signs, the animals "general use the tree for a rubbing post."

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 tsp. baking powder 2 tsp. Karo (blue label)
1 tsp. salt 2 tsp. melted butter
7 1/2 cups milk 2 eggs, slightly beaten

Sift and measure flour. Sift together with baking powder and salt. Stir milk, Karo, and butter into eggs. Add flour mixture (small amount at a time), and beat until smooth. Pour batter on preheated griddle, allowing space in bottom to spread. Allow about 2 tsp. of butter for each cake. Bake until golden brown. Turn, and cook until brown on other side. Serve at once with hot Karo (blue label). Makes 10 pancakes, about 4 1/2 inches in diameter.

Uncle Sam Rushes Training Of Gunners For Armed Merchantmen

Ocean Warfare Spur To Plans

BY JACK DEVLIN
NEA Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—"Submarine" banks the freighter's lookout. "Four points off the starboard bow. Fifteen hundred yards away."
An electric bell, operated by the officer of the deck, crashes into an alarm. Aft, on the poop deck, eight men scramble into action around a long, lean, mean-looking four-inch gun.
"Gun manned and ready, sir," snaps the gun captain to the battery officer. "Give the range," he orders in reply.
"One, five, O—O. Seale-five, four."
"Ready, sir!"
"Commence firing!"
"Wham!" goes the gun and 1300 yards away a fountain of spray rises.
"Up 200, right two!"
The gun bangs again.
The scene is not on the rolling North Atlantic, was in New York's lower bay at Hoffman Island, between the Jersey shore and Coney Island. The gunners, mostly war kids between the ages of 18 and 23, few of whom had previously handled anything more deadly than a slingshot or a bow and arrow when they were shavers.

These three seamen may soon be drawing beads on aerial commerce raiders, for they're some of the lads Uncle Sam is training to protect our fast-arming merchant marine. Here, they're pictured learning to sight anti-aircraft machine guns, at the Hoffman island training school in New York harbor.

Trained By Veterans
Today, following repeal of the Neutrality Act, which will permit the arming of American freighters and tankers going into the war zones, the youths are being whipped into shape to operate the armament on the vessels.
The "submarine" they were firing at was a triangular-shaped buoy, anchored off shore to simulate a conning tower. Instead of using four-inch shells, they were firing the big gun at the target and firing a 30-caliber rifle mounted on the breech of the bigger weapon. Outside of that, the scene might have been the McCoy.

The classes are under the supervision of the U. S. maritime commission and are conducted by veteran coast guard officers for both apprentice seamen and veteran seadogs who are being assigned to merchant ships as gunners.
The 50 men have been trained at Hoffman island and assigned to regular duty at sea. Veteran seamen, as fast as they can be spared from busy ships, are going to the school in increasing numbers to help Uncle Sam in the emergency program.

Given Thorough Course
The number of trainees has been forced to cut the gunnery training courses from three to two weeks. But, still, the men are given a thorough course. Besides working with the four-inch anti-submarine gun, they are trained in the handling of three-inch anti-aircraft guns, machine-guns for fighting planes, rifles and pistols.
Trainees first are given theoretical training in classrooms on the island on all weapons, then they are turned loose on real guns mounted at the edge of the island. During practice, to simulate the rolling and yawing of a ship at sea, the trainees are taught to aim at a target on a device which rises and falls and swings from left to right. Each student is given practice at all positions of a gun.
Tentative plans call for mounting guns on three training ships that would be sent out to sea so the men can practice firing under actual seagoing conditions.
Under present plans, about 400 merchant ships will be armed immediately with both anti-submarine guns and anti-aircraft weapons. If and when necessary, the number will be increased. While U. S. navy crews are expected to form gun crews on many vessels, Hoffman island is supplying the additional men needed to relieve the strain on regular ranks.

Col. Thomas L. Gilbert Here To Assume Duties At Air Base

Command of the air corps training school, under construction west of the city was taken over Monday afternoon by Lieut. Col. Thomas L. Gilbert following his arrival at Municipal airport.
He flew a basic trainer (BT 13) from Ellington field, Houston, where he has been sub-depot commander. He is temporarily in a suite at Hilton hotel.

Another arrival at 10:40 o'clock Monday afternoon—4:40 o'clock to the layman—was Major Harry S. Bishop, who piloted an advanced navigation training plane from Kelly field, San Antonio. He will be sub-depot commander at the new air field.
Col. Gilbert said Monday night he will rent a residence as soon as possible and will be joined by his wife and daughters, Jacqueline, 21, a graduate of Abilene Christian college and Betty Ann, 17, a freshman at Abilene Christian college who will transfer to Texas Technological college for a general course.

Col. Gilbert has been attached to the army air corps since 1917, when he received ground school training at the University of Texas. He went immediately to France and received his flying training there.
After the war he returned to the United States and since that time has been at many air fields. His appointments include Kelly field, Langley field, Va., March field, Calif., Chanute field, Ill., Post field, Okla., two years in Hawaii.
More recently he spent four and a half years as an air corps instructor for the Organized Reserves at Oklahoma City. From there he went to Ellington field in December, 1940, and has since been at that field.
Col. Gilbert has visited Lubbock briefly on two previous occasions. The later visit was Monday, Nov.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

By the time she has finished her education and is ready for marriage—no girl has any business admitting that marriage is her goal in life.

It's all right—even kind of cute—for sweet young college things to say flatly that their choice of a career is marriage. But that's because there is still no hurry about their finding husbands.

As soon as a girl is really old enough to be getting a husband, "if she's ever going to," as the saying goes, it's a terrible mistake for her to be frank about her intentions.

It isn't flattering to any man to be admired by a girl who, by her own admission, wants to get married. And it doesn't put the girl in a good light, either. "If she wants to get married," a man is bound to ask himself, "what's the trouble with her that she doesn't?"

And that is a fatal question, so far as a girl's glamor is concerned. Of course, the matrimonially minded girl probably didn't confide in the young man that she wanted a husband. She didn't have to. She had already confided in a few of her women friends—and they were unable to keep still about it.

And once a girl lets down her hair enough to tell her women friends that she wants a husband, she usually becomes more obvious in her technique with men.

It is as though having admitted her ambition, she is free to go after it in as open a manner as possible.

DON'T LET ON

So she says "Yes" too quickly and eagerly to any man who asks her for a date, and thinks one date gives her an excuse for inviting him to her apartment for dinner, or for asking him to go somewhere with her in her car or on her theater tickets.

She clutches at him like a drowning person; and he wouldn't be human if he didn't try to get out of her grasp.

No, the girl who wants to marry—and most girls do—has to be quiet about her ambition. If she acts as though her way of life suits her just dandy and that her job is fascinating, she is bound to fool some of the people, at least enough so that an occasional man will try to see if he can't prove to her that she's missing something.

And when a man starts in to show a girl how much she needs him—she has him, hook, line and sinker.

If Allies Win War, Russia Is Certain To Become Power In Europe

Berlin Parley Is Of Interest

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

Thirteen had better be somebody's lucky number—having especially in mind Herr Hitler and Comrade Stalin—what with seven new governments joining the Nazi-sponsored six-nation anti-Communist pact (that is, anti-Communism) at the Fuehrer's Berlin conference today.

These thirteen governments, headed by the reich, are giving what Berlin calls "a demonstration of defensive will to oppose all destructive powers which directly or indirectly support bolshevism." Observers took this to include Uncle Sam and John Bull, who are giving Russia war-aid.

World-Wide Thinking

The thirteen also represent "an alliance which will create the pre-conditions for a new order in Europe and for the application of principles of a new order in the entire world." So Herr Hitler is, after all, doing a bit of world-wide thinking.

However, the anti-Communist pact in itself has to do with Herr Hitler's avowed determination to destroy Communism. Since Stalin also is out to smash Nazism, the number thirteen becomes a matter of no ordinary importance.

This is particularly true because either the Nazi government or the Communist government is likely to disappear in this war.

What Is Stalin's Part?

Today's development in Berlin makes pertinent a query which I have from a Wisconsin editor. He is wondering what part Stalin is likely to play when it comes to deciding the fate of the German people in a peace conference, assuming for the sake of argument that the Allies win: Will the Communist chief's views be the same as those of Britain and America?

Well, the Nazi form of government presumably will have to go, and there will be no dispute between the Allies on that point. It isn't unlikely that Herr Hitler and his principal aides also will be dealt with, to make sure they don't start a new confederation.

However, the Allies have crushed the German people, and there seems no reason to believe that Russia won't adhere to this declaration. But there can be small doubt that Moscow intends to bring Germany and the rest of Europe under Communist influence.

Will Ask For Territories

It is logical to assume that Stalin will insist on rectification of his western frontiers for defensive purposes. He will want back the territories lost in this war, and that will affect Finland, the Baltic states and Rumania. In order to insure Russia's domination of the vital Black sea, Stalin likely will insist on control of the three mouths of the great Danubus on the Rumanian coast; he probably will demand the Rumanian seaport of Constantia for a naval base, and Bulgaria may have to give up naval bases as well.

If the Allies win, Russia certainly will be the dominating power of eastern Europe, and a hot rival of Britain. The Bolsheviks will expect to supplant Germany in the politico-economic control of all that area.

Fertile Soil For Isms

From that position of power the Reds will reach out politically across Europe in an effort to establish Communist governments which will come within Moscow's sphere of influence. Much of the continent, stricken as it will be from the ravages of war, will be fertile soil for the seed of any ism which affords even a glimmer of hope for recovery.

The continent is known among Bolsheviks as the "general staff" of the world revolution. Communism first tried to establish itself by a general upheaval but when Stalin came to power in 1925 he temporarily shelved this effort in order to make Russia strong militarily and industrially. When the signs of another European war appeared, the world crusade was intensified so as to take advantage of it.

This time, however, different tactics were employed. A host of Communist agents have been advocating nationalism and establishing "popular fronts" while Communism has been kept in the background.

These agents cover Europe like

"Now I Can Sleep For First Time . . ." Lufkin Man Takes Revenge For Wife's Slaying--Stabs Negro To Death In Crowded Court

(By The United Press)

LUFKIN, Nov. 25—On the 14th day of August, Roy Moorehouse, a 25-year-old shipping clerk, came home from work to find his wife murdered, her body lying in a pool of blood.

Physicians said she had been attacked.

The scene haunted him. He could not sleep nights. Then on Sept. 3, Mott Flournoy, a 70-year-old negro was charged with the assault. The negro signed a statement admitting the attack, said he had twice struck the pretty, young woman with a double-bit axe.

Monday, the negro was brought to trial in district court. Shortly after noon, defense lawyers asked for time to prepare a motion to quash the special venire of 150 men because of a typographical error.

The courtroom was sprinkled with white persons and negroes who had gathered to witness the trial.

Moorehouse was standing behind the prisoner. District Judge J. W. Chandler was on the bench. The bereaved husband looked cool and collected.

Suddenly a scream drenched the courtroom. Then the negro fell back and in a few minutes he was dead. Judge Chandler rapped for order but the courtroom had broken out in a furor.

Forty minutes later, Ranger R. D. Holliday charged Moorehouse with murder. The allegations said he had used a pen knife to stab the negro once in the left side.

Witnesses said Moorehouse reached over the negro's shoulder and buried his knife in the back of his neck.

A network, The Germans tried to suppress them but they still continue their labors underground. The same is true of other countries.

So it seems to me the answer is that Stalin will depend on political agents to spread Russia's influence, rather than try to achieve this by extreme demands in the peace conference.

in the soft flesh above the heart in one sure stroke.

After he had been charged with murder, 44 Angelina county and Lufkin citizens signed a $5,000 bond and Moorehouse was free.

"Now," he said, "I can sleep. It will be the first time since my wife was killed."

Milk Inspections In City Are Completed

Inspections which are to determine whether Lubbock is to remain on the "honor roll" of state and federal departments of health with respect to its safeguards against impure milk have been completed by W. T. Nettles, state department inspector according to G. G. Hunter, city milk sanitarian.

"Honor roll" cities, Hunter explained, are those which are scored with a percentage of 90 per cent or higher, according to an elaborate and rigid formula worked out in the state and federal departments. The formula, it was explained, is designed to insure the quality and the purity of the milk from the time it is taken from approved cows until it is in the hands of the ultimate consumer.

Lubbock's percentage, as based on the inspection about a year ago, was somewhat above 94—among the highest in Texas.

Nettles expressed satisfaction with his findings on the occasion of his recent inspection. It will be several weeks, however, before the percentage tabulation, as based on the inspector's report, will be worked out in the state and federal departments.

Twenty To Be Made Citizens

Last minute checks were being made this morning in the federal building by J. J. Daffron of El Paso, an inspector for the U. S. immigration and inspection service, of the records of approximately 20 South Plains residents who hoped to become American citizens this afternoon in federal court.

The ceremony is scheduled for the district court room beginning at 2 o'clock. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Dallas, presiding, is to talk to the new citizens on their rights and privileges as Americans. The oath of allegiance will be administered by an officer of the court.

Judge Davidson was to hear motions in six cases this morning. Whether the cases will come to trial depends upon decisions in the motions.

Lubbock School Trustees Hastening Expansion Program For Schools

Bids For Bonds Opened Today

The first of two meetings today of the board of trustees of Lubbock independent school district is scheduled this afternoon in the district business office, 1007 Texas avenue, in the effort to hasten the expansion program made necessary by the air corps training school nearing completion west of Lubbock.

The meetings are designed, according to A. C. Jackson, business manager of the district, to insure that no time will be lost in starting the building program if a proposed $350,000 bond issue is approved in the election here Saturday.

This afternoon bids for the bonds are to be opened. At the meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock, which will be the regular monthly session of the board, plans are to act on the bids, conditional upon the approval of the bond issue.

Public Opinion Favorable

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman of the board of trustees, said last night that "public opinion seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of issuing the bonds." As a matter of fact, he said, "I've heard numerous people say the board isn't going far enough; that we should do even more expanding than we have planned. However, the board is unanimous in the belief that it should not spend more than is necessary to put the school system on top efficiency, especially in unsettled times like these. Our policies have always been conservative and certainly they should continue to be under current national and world conditions."

Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools, said he believes school patrons are well informed concerning the need for immediate expansion of the school system, therefore are overwhelmingly in favor of getting the expansion job under way as quickly as possible. He pointed to overcrowded conditions throughout the school system which, in the cases of several buildings, have brought about "staggered schedules" to care for the pupils. Dr. Irvin pointed out that Senior High is so overtaxed that part of the pupils attend mornings only; part afternoons only, while a third segment is sandwiched in on an all-day schedule. In Dupre, K. Carter and George M. Hunt buildings, primary departments are operating on schedules between mornings and afternoons.

U. S. "Chips In" $121,600

If the voters approve issuance of $350,000 in school bonds—running from one to 23 years—there will be added to that amount the sum of $121,600 granted the system by the federal government to defray expenses incidental to expansion brought about by location of the air base 10 miles west of the city. All in all, the construction planned will run in the neighborhood of $471,600.

Expansion of the school system following construction, Dr. Hutchinson said:

Addition to four rooms to Sanders ward school; addition of eight rooms and a cafeteria to each of the Bean and Wilson ward schools; erection of a new ward school in the north-west section of Lubbock, to be similar in construction and design to the present Bean and Wilson structures; and the addition of 16 to 18 classrooms, plus a cafeteria, to the Senior High school building.

The Lubbock independent school district is roughly 10 miles square and centers at the City of Lubbock. It currently operates 13 buildings. If the bond issue is approved next Saturday, immediate steps will be taken to let contracts and get construction under way. Members of the board, in addition to Chairman Hutchinson, are Secretary R. F. Bayless, Walter G. Alderson, Ellsworth J. Parsons, Maple Wilson, W. E. Atkins and Chas. A. Guy.

The building committee is composed of Bayless, Anderson and Guy.

THERE'S A SANTA IN THE HOUSE—Christmas is already at work in the busy fingers of Edward McDonald of St. Louis, who has started to remake toys for the underprivileged children of his city. He's been doing that for 14 years, and St. Louis officials have now given him a workshop in a public building.

Not Realizing Danger Is Where The Danger Lies... More People Killed In Avoidable Accidents In U. S. Last Year Than By Bombs In Britain

BY GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 — At this moment, you are in danger. That's silly, you may say. You're safe at home, reading the paper. That's where you're wrong.

There were 34,500 people killed in automobile accidents last year. There were 33,000 people killed in their homes — mainly falls and burns — quite likely to happen to you.

O. K., you didn't realize it — so what?

Not realizing accident danger is just where the danger lies. Pedestrians and people sitting at home assume that they are perfectly safe — and thereby put themselves in danger.

The result of such oblivion was that in the United States last year four times as many people were killed in avoidable accidents as were being killed in bombings in England. Some 33,000 in home accidents, 34,500 in automobile accidents, 17,000 in occupational accidents — altogether 96,500 people.

Deaths of industrial workers alone in auto accidents so far this year represent a loss of man-hours of work sufficient, safety experts figure, to build 20,000 fighter planes.

Practice What It Preaches

The National Safety council for 27 years has been the hub of safety work in the United States. It is a cooperative, non-profit clearing house for safety information — statistics and detailed advice on everything from installing electric plugs in the home to what type of goggles are best for steel welders.

The council occupies most of a floor in the big Chicago civic opera building built by Samuel Insull. The council practices what it preaches. As you walk down the corridor, you see a big yellow lane line where it warns right — to prevent people bumping into each other and breaking themselves, or, as happened before the time was put in, breaking wax stenographic recording cylinders.

The plate-glass office doors have little black targets painted on them, to prevent people walking through them.

The council has 135 employees and is a million-dollar-year organization — big money, yet not much when you consider that its province is the minute-to-minute safety of 130,000,000 people.

The council started in a little office with one man, two stenographers and a bankroll of $1,400, set up by five industrial firms as a result of the workmen's compensation laws which grew up in the administrations of Theodore Roosevelt and Taft.

The total loss from last year's occupational deaths was estimated at $700,000,000. That is not just the safety men's sensational pipe-dream. The U. S. Steel company, which knows the value of a dollar, spends over a million dollars a year on safety — everything from safety experts' salaries to non-skid shoes for workmen. And it considers, on a hard-headed business basis, that in the last 30 years it has saved more than $700,000,000 in potential accident costs.

The results of the safety work are impressive. Occupational deaths have been steadily reduced, although industry has expanded many times. Many of the big industrial plants have cut their accident rates 90, 95, even 99 per cent. The auto death rate, while still alarming, also has improved substantially in relation to the amount of auto travel.

Farmers Sign Pledges To Raise More Food

Pledges to increase food and feed production next year have been signed by more than 2,000 Lubbock county farmers, according to Walter Y. Wells, administrator here of the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

The AAA office was open Sunday, said Wells, and a large number of farmers who were in town, called and signed their farm plan sheets. The office is at 1320 Avenue Q.

"We will be open all day Thursday," Wells said. "We also will be open each night until 8 o'clock, for the benefit of those who cannot get into town during the day time. Saturday is the final date for signing up. Also it is the last date for farmers to sign for soil conservation payments for 1941."

Lubbock county has approximately 2,550 farms.

The new Curtiss-Hawk P-40F, "world's deadliest," pictured at the Curtiss-Wright Corp. plant in Buffalo, N. Y. All signs of its heavy armament have been painted out.

American Designers Produce The "World's Deadliest" Fighter Plane For U. S. Army

(By NEA Service)
 BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 25—America has produced the "world's deadliest fighting plane."
 It's the new Curtiss Hawk P-40F, whose fire power exceeds 60,000,000 foot-pounds of energy a minute. This latest sky terror is in mass production here for the U. S. Army Air Corps and the British.
 The plane, being manufactured by the Curtiss-Wright Corp., has armor plate protection for the pilot, bullet-resistant gasoline tanks, and carries the equivalent of 12 to 14 machineguns of 30 to 50 caliber. Actually, it is believed to have two 20-millimeter cannon and a brace of machine guns although official details are secret.
 The plane is the first American military aircraft to be powered with the new American-built Rolls Royce engine, which is expected to give the ship a speed of 400 miles an hour and ability to fly at greater altitudes.
 The tremendous hitting power of the plane is declared to be six and two-thirds times—667 per cent—greater than the P38 model produced in 1937.

The tremendous hitting power of the Curtiss Hawk P-40F, as compared with previous models, is graphically portrayed above.

That Monster Seen Again On Loch Ness

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—In the rapidly diminishing memories of peacetime there lives the story of a monster.
 For quite a time, while war was little thought of, the Loch Ness Monster occupied many columns of front pages throughout England. Travelers saw it. Fishermen saw it. Innumerable people saw it—but no one could ever prove that such a monster really existed.
 Came the war, and little things like monsters went into oblivion. For nearly two years not one person professed to have seen it again. But apparently the monster has slid a long humped body into the world again—under wartime conditions this time.
 J. MacFarlan-Barrow and three of his children were out in a yacht dinghy when the monster "broke surface" near Glendoe pier.
 They saw "a long snaky back and fifteen to eighteen feet of the body, shaped rather like an up-turned boat" for something like ten minutes.
 Said Miss MacFarlan-Barrow: "It raced up and down and across the Loch as if it really was in high spirits. Occasionally it dived and reappeared with the agility of a giant seabird.

 "It must have covered seven miles during the display. Sometimes it moved so rapidly that rhubarb—belongs to the buckwheat family.

"American Guerrillas" Get First "Action" In Carolina Maneuvers

Civilian Force Aids Regulars

BY THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer
AT ARMY MANEUVERS IN THE CAROLINAS, Nov. 25
"Blitz!"

An excited voice rings in the telephone operator's ears. Like lightning she plugs in the call. "Susan!" shrills the voice. "55-5-7! Two tanks moving northeast! Parachute troops landing!" "Okay!" replies a steady voice. "Tank Attackers? Two tanks moving northeast. Parachutists landing Susan. 55-5-7." Urgent code words spoken over telephones of North and South Carolina set in motion this week what may become the American version of the Russian guerrilla warfare that has helped draw the sting of many an attack by the hitherto invincible German armored columns.

"Eyes" For Attackers It is being tried out for the first time in the climax of this year's record-breaking army maneuvers now going on here. Among their main objectives is to prove again the military adage that for every offensive weapon there is a defense. Of several ideas, the "American guerrillas" represent the newest in civilian defense.

They are not, like the Russians, peasants supplied by the army with weapons and ammunition for bushwhacking fighting against stalled tanks. They are typical descendants of the Carolinian revolutionary guerrilla leader Marion, who have leaped to help defend their own homes if need arise. Their organization is similar to the secret service "cell," a nucleus centering around a "nucleus." New System Introduced The nucleus is a police station, a filling station, a telephone central, a bridge watchman; the nucleus a half dozen or so friends of the key man, chosen for keen wits and vision.

They have become eyes for Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum's First Army, strong in infantry and artillery, against Major General Oscar W. Griswold's IV Corps, mostly armored forces and parachute troops.

So air road crossings or large level fields there will be watchers, silent and apparently harmless. But let a tank appear, or a soldier-laden truck, to say nothing of a parachutist floating down, and they dart to the nearest telephone.

"Blitz!" That code word, all telephone operators know, is the tank-warning signal calling for instantaneous connection with the headquarters of Major General Sandorfer Jarman. This tall, massive officer, lately come from devising the important air-raid warning system for the Panama Canal Zone, has just introduced the tank warning service here. He and his staff recruited the American guerrillas, and have just finished adding to their 126 observer stations an outpost force consisting of all the ham radio operators in an area of several thousand square miles. Gathering in Charlotte, N. C., these devoted amateurs pledged that once the "war" started, they would watch for armored forces and from their sets would flash warning, using an established frequency. A powerful Asheville set monitors, and if need be, repeats their messages.

"Parachutists saw 'em come down behind that loblolly pine thicket out yonder!" An apparently harmless farmer who is really one of the new "American guerrillas," points out the "enemy."

All these messages are translated into action through General Jarman's code whose names (like Susan) and numbers (like 55-5-7) enable his staff instantly to locate any spot on a checkerboard map of the maneuver area.

Each "guerrilla" territory is so arranged that only brief, simple reports are needed. When General Jarman has spotted the "box" when the "alarm" came, General Drum calls out his "fire department."

This new outfit General Drum calls, not anti-tank defense, but "tank attackers" because "you can't beat tanks or anything else just by defense."

I found them hidden, lights out, in a mass of low-lying, sandy backwoods and pine woods as dark as they keep their plans and methods. Like Marion's men, they plan to strike quick—and hard—in darkness, when tanks are parked. "One moment in the hostile

100,000 Expected To Watch Service Teams Army-Navy Classic Holding Spotlight

By JACK GUENTHER United Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The football season is all over except for the shouting but there is plenty of that in store this week when Army collides with Navy in the nation's banner game while three conference championships and the bowl line-ups are settled in a half-dozen others.

Although the national program will be split between Thursday and Saturday, the year's second Thanksgiving will feature only one contest of great importance. That's the slam-bang embroglio at College Station, where the Texas A. & M. meets its old jinx—Texas U.

A meatier schedule will be offered Saturday. The annual "gigantic" of the service schools heads the list but included are two big intrastate battles in Mississippi and Oregon, Fordham's wind-up against New York U. and Stanford's last bid for the Rose Bowl against California.

Here are quick sketches of the better attractions: Army-Navy at Philadelphia—Another 100,000 crowd will buck traditionally miserable weather in Municipal stadium to watch the Cadets and Middies match their best teams in a decade. Army has been beaten twice and tied once, while the Navy has lost only one and tied one, but the record always goes into the annals when these two get together. Navy, boasting power and reserves, rates a 2-1 edge but Army has the speed and finesse.

Texas A. & M. vs. Texas at College Station—The Aggies, undefeated and untied, are rolling right on to the Rose Bowl and a strong challenge of Minnesota's claim to the national title. Texas, the "wonder team" of the nation three weeks ago, isn't going anywhere just now but this is another game where statistics don't mean a thing. A. & M. is the favorite, but if Texas is completely recovered from injuries—watch out!

Oregon State vs. Eugene—Stop it if you hear this before, but here is another game in which the records don't count. State needs only this victory to clinch the western Rose Bowl designation, but Oregon knocked off Washington last week and Santa Clara the week before. The advantages here are Oregon, offense and the home field; State, defense and the inspiration of a holiday trip to Pasadena as the prize.

Mississippi-Mississippi State at Oxford—And more of the same. These two will be meeting for the Southeastern conference title and the Orange Bowl bid that may accompany the crowd. Neither has been defeated now in conference play although Mississippi lost to Georgetown and State to Duke.

Fordham Big Favorite—The Rams should win this by 40 points, but there is always that memory of Pitt. NYU is out-manned, out-powered and out-spiced and a Violet victory would rank as the most shocking upset of the year—bar none. Fordham still is bowl bound, so look for a solid triumph.

Tennessee-Vanderbilt at Knoxville—The Vols have nothing to lose and Vanderbilt has its first possible bowl invitation to gain. Vandy flattened Alabama last week and is coming fast, but Tennessee is a team which nobody is going to push around. The Vols play at home, but Vandy has the incentive.

Stanford-California, at Palo Alto—Stanford can't win the Pacific

Golden Gophers Hold No. 1 Championship Ranking Among Nation's Football Powers

Texas Aggies Voted Second Duke Named Third With Irish Fourth

BY BILL BONI Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Minnesota's Golden Gophers, unbeaten and untied—and unbeatable, since their season is over—ride high again today in first place in the Associated Press football ranking poll.

Winners of 17 straight games and their second successive Western conference championship, Bernie Bierman's boys were made first choice by 95 out of 115 sports experts throughout the country. Sixteen writers ranked the Gophers second, three listed them in third place and one rated them fifth, for a total of 1,124 points out of a possible 1,150.

Irish in Fourth Again With one more poll to go, Minnesota appears a good bet to retain its 1940 No. 1 ranking when the final votes are counted next week.

The Gophers' only serious rivals are two more of the country's four major all-winning teams—Texas A. & M. and Michigan, which still must protect that record against Texas in Thursday's climactic Southwest conference engagement and against Washington State December 6, and Duke, the Southern conference powerhouse which, like Minnesota, has completed its regular schedule.

The Aggies, given only two first-place votes to Duke's 15, got 41 votes for second and 40 for third in accumulating 922 points. Duke was only 10 points behind in third place. Notre Dame, unbeaten but tied by Army, also retained the fourth position. It was voted a week ago. The Irish got two votes for first and 778 points, on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Texas in Charmed Ten Unbeaten and untied, Duquesne moved up a notch to fifth, changing places with Michigan. The Wolverines, though tied with Ohio State in their game last Saturday and also in the final Western conference standings, considerably out-distanced the Buckeyes in the poll which gave Ohio State only 71 points and 15th place.

The rest of the first 10 consisted of Missouri, the Big Six champion, moved up from eighth; Fordham, back in the charmed circle—on its walloping of St. Mary's; Northwestern, probably the best 1941 football team that lost three games, and Texas. Outside of Texas, all of these except Fordham have finished their seasons. The Rams play badly-battered New York U. on Saturday.

Dallas District Will Be Decided Tonight DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—District 8-A's football champion will be decided tonight when undefeated Sunset and Woodrow Wilson meet on the Dallas High school field.

Originally scheduled to be played last Saturday night, the game was postponed because of rain and cold weather. A crowd of more than 20,000 was expected to attend tonight's contest.

The winner of the game will play Amon Carter Riverside, Fort Worth, winner of the District 7-AA title, there Dec. 6. Because postponement of the game allowed no opportunity to replay the game in case of a tie, the penetration rule will apply to tonight's game.

TEXAS TECH VARSITY MEN got together yesterday and polled their "all-opponents" team for 1941. Here's the way the Red Raiders voted: Ends—Joe Boyle of Creighton and H. C. Burrus of Hardin-Simmons.

Tackles—Tom Kearns of Miami and Hugh Swink of Oklahoma A. & M. Guards—Nick Broker of Miami and Joe Crittenden of Loyola. Center—Fred Dondelinger of Creighton.

Halfbacks—Dick Weber of St. Louis and Jim Reynolds of Oklahoma A. & M. Quarterback—Tom Kelley of Creighton. Fullback—Howard Plasman of Miami.

Sportometer Acknowledging Some Mail By Collier Darris

Only unanimous selection was Center Fred Dondelinger of Creighton. Dick Weber, fine little St. Louis halfback, was second best choice, losing but three votes.

Second edition of Texas Tech's all-opponent team will be published next week, after the Red Raiders have played the Wake Forest Deacons.

A baseball player and a barber from Berger, attending Sunday's meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico league here, said they could see no reason why the Berger "yob" in the District 1-AA football tie should not go to Lubbock.

Likewise, a party of two from Amarillo said Lubbock "should represent the district, because the Westerners have a better chance of going somewhere in the state race."

Dear Collier: "Quite a few people have asked recently why the Tech football games were not being broadcast over KFYO. Football fans will go to the stadium to see the games instead of listening to them over the radio, when they are physically able, and in my opinion there would be more tickets sold every year if the Tech athletic council would see fit to broadcast games."

The writer has supported the Tech football club since its existence, but at this time I am ill with influenza. Although we have season tickets to Tech games, I will not be able to attend the game this week. (Week of the Hardin-Simmons game). I would certainly appreciate hearing the broadcast of this game. I think the broadcasting of Texas Tech games would be greatest advertisement that Texas Tech could have.

We quite agree with Mr. Stewart that broadcasting of athletic events never hurt attendance, and in some cases increased attendance. There are figures in the records to bear out this. And it isn't that KFYO would not like to air the college games; the radio station has tried for years to gain permission to broadcast the Tech home games (KFYO, by leased wire, has aired nearly all out of town games) but always there has been some fly in the ointment.

Another communique we're glad to get comes from J. D. "Jake" Sander, oil promoter of Breckenridge, one of Hardin-Simmons university's best friends.

"I want to thank you for your fine articles touching the Tech-Cowboy renewal of athletic competition. Several of us have worked hard to get this fine rivalry renewed, and I feel that none deserves more credit for same than you."

"I thought the game Thursday was a good one and that the best team won, which it as it should be. The cordial reception extended the Abilene boys."

Littlefield To Play Cubs In Title Tilt

Wildcats Named North Zone Champs Over Slaton By District Executive Committee

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 25.—Littlefield's once-beaten Wildcats and Brownfield's undefeated Cubs will fight it out for the District 5-A football championship on Seely Field here Thursday afternoon.

Coach Abe Murphy's Wildcats, who had been tied with Slaton for the north zone crown, were voted the title at a meeting of the District executive committee at Leveland Monday night.

Slaton's only conference defeat was at the hands of Muleshoe in their opening game of the season, 14-7. Later Slaton had defeated Littlefield, 6-0, on a muddy field at Slaton.

Except for the loss to Slaton, Coach Abe Murphy's Littlefield team is undefeated, and holds victories over two district championship teams. Earlier in the season, the Wildcats defeated Hereford, now District 1-A champion, 33-8, and Floydada, now District 4-A titleholder, 9-7.

Slaton had been beaten by Brownfield, 38-0. Brownfield won the south zone title without a touchdown on each of six conference opponents. It was Brownfield's fourth straight zone championship, and in addition the Cubs won the district title in 1937 before it was divided into zones.

The district committee, meeting under the direction of Chairman Ray Brown of Leveland, also voted to return the Slaton team to the south zone of the district next season if Brownfield is forced to move up to Class AA, which seems probable.

Thursday's game at Littlefield will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Kress at Hale Center; Jan. 27, Nazareth at Hale Center.

Undeclared, Untied Temple Wildcats Again Seeking Crown

Team Expected To Come Close

DONALD DUCK

By The Associated Press
TEMPLE, Nov. 25.—Temple's Wildcats are unbeaten, untied and ready to battle for the state schoolboy championship but a flock of fans would like to know how they did it.

As one critic put it: "The team can look worse and win more than any team I ever saw."

But, anyway, here it is with a district championship and picked to fight its way at least to the semi-finals.

Feather In Cranfill's Hat
And that's a record for the coaching genius of ponderous Les Cranfill. He came to Temple in 1937. It was his first Class AA team. But he has won the district championship four times in five years. Everybody says he would have made it five except that in 1939 Temple was serving out a suspension from the Interscholastic league.

The team is typical of Cranfill eleven: It blocks and tackles hard, never gets excited.

It's so deliberate it uses two huddles. Nine boys go into one and wild Wayland Hill, the team's main offensive gun, and Ed Heap, the blocking back, make up the other, close by.

Hill and Heap decide which play to use.

Boast Triple Threat
This Hill boy is the stuff. He's fast, elusive, kicks and passes and his 174 pounds are hard as nails.

He furnishes the color. As he runs with the ball he ribs his opponents at the top of his voice. Sometimes he startles them half out of their wits. But once in a while they startle him by screaming back.

He even ribs his mates while in the huddle. But they love it.

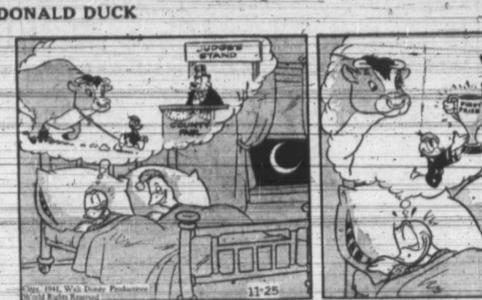

The team is lighter than last year's eleven that went to the state finals. The line averages 166, the backfield 167 and both are very fast.

Is Great Punter
The backfield has two of last year's linemen—Jumping Jack Allen from end and Heap from guard.

One of the major reasons for its success is its great punting. Bubba Morris is the boy who boots that ball a mile. Against Corsicana he averaged 40.3 yards on nine kicks and allowed not a yard of return. You see, he kicked out of bounds eight times, twice inside the five-yard line, and over the goal line once. His 35-yard twist that went out on Waco's six set up a touch-down as Temple beat the Tigers 13-0 for the district title.

The line is rated equal to last year's on defense although F. G. Martin, 169-pound center, is the only starter from 1940.

As usual, Temple doesn't have too much reserve strength but the first team is quite durable.

The Westerners drilled two hours yesterday afternoon. They are, of course, practicing against the possibility that they'll meet Wichita Falls, and are working on the sketchy information that's available on the Coyote team.

"We haven't scouted Wichita Falls," reported Keyes, "and they haven't scouted us. We don't know exactly what to look for, but we're working against a short punt of offensive formation. That's what the Coyotes ran a few years ago."

Plans for the bi-district contest between the District One representative and the Coyotes possibly will be announced after the Saturday night session at Plainview. It is probable that Wichita Falls will have representatives there, and that as soon as the champion of this district is named officially of the two schools will go into a huddle to make arrangements for the next game.

A REAL REASON FOR GLY-CAS GIVING SUCH SATISFACTION

This herbal capsule remedy is a carefully prepared pharmaceutical preparation which combines vegetable principles in a way that makes it effective and comfortable.

"Gly-Cas gave me such complete satisfaction. I was delighted," said Mr. D. G. Coleman of Mobile, Alabama.

"I cannot understand now why I hesitated in trying Gly-Cas," a lady from Texas states.

"Gly-Cas made a fast friend in me once I gave it a trial," declared a gentleman from Louisiana.

These are just a few of the thousands of praising public statements lauding the merit of this modern capsule remedy.

There are thousands who are happy to spread the good news of Gly-Cas' action. When it is necessary for you to have aid, be sure you obtain COM-FORJ-GIVING GLY-CAS at your drug store.

MR. TELEPHONE WILL WEAR PLASTIC TO SAVE METAL FOR UNCLE SAM

We're ready with a wartime telephone in which plastic and steel replace the more vital defense metals—zinc, aluminum, magnesium. It's not a makeshift telephone—it's a good telephone.

In the months ahead, however, you may find it hard to get one. Where all lines in our cables are taken up we can't add new customers quickly, because nearly all the additional cable we can get is required for vital defense construction.

We're making every substitution, salvaging every bit of usable equipment to keep up with orders as well as we can.

We hope that our record over more than 60 years is evidence that we will always be doing our best to keep your service as good as conditions permit.

AMERICA SPREADS OUT

Little that is constructive comes out of any war. But the emergencies were create occasionally cause constructive trends. One such being hastened by the present war is the movement of city dwellers to suburban farms. Recent surveys reveal this movement has been accelerated tremendously of late in Texas, including the South Plains.

ON BROADWAY (Copyright, 1941, for The Journal)

HERE'S another Murder, Inc., yarn. Suggsy Goldstein went to the chair was held in a baghouse for a spell. The place got on his nerves and he kept asking the doctors when he'd be released. "Pretty soon," was the daily reply. One day he noticed a new and youthful medico. He put the question to him. The newcomer knew nothing of the case, and in order to rid himself of Goldstein, replied: "Tomorrow."

In 1918 Cole Porter, in collaboration with Lawson Riggs, wrote the book and score for a musical named "See America First." It closed after three nights. Porter was so discouraged he joined the Foreign Legion. His co-author was so depressed he gave up writing. Later he entered the priesthood and today is chaplain at Yale, WINCHELL.

He wrote so many song hits and hit shows—he is now a millionaire. A lad about town, nearly 28, has been having a jolly time since he was 18. A favorite with the ladies, he never worries about tardy hours, dancing, drinking and all-around whoopee. Not a care in the world. A few weeks ago his draft board doctor, in rejecting him, told him the reason was: A murmuring heart. The chap who never had a sick day in his 28 years—is dying in a hotel hospital. From worry.

SUDDEN Thoughts: Johnny Weissmuller's Tarzan is getting gaggly. In the next flicker the ape-man will have a vocabulary of 97 words. When he learns three more he can become a producer. Several film stars dodged a personal appearance jaunt to Duluth. Instead, they sent their greetings on records. The fatigue must be great, when you have to hire a machine to say "Hello" for you. Mugskeys have tiny ears. The American College of Surgeons was told. When you see a monkey holding his head that means it's aching from the program coming in. Uh-huh. If he holds his head, AND his nose—it's Ben Bernie's program.

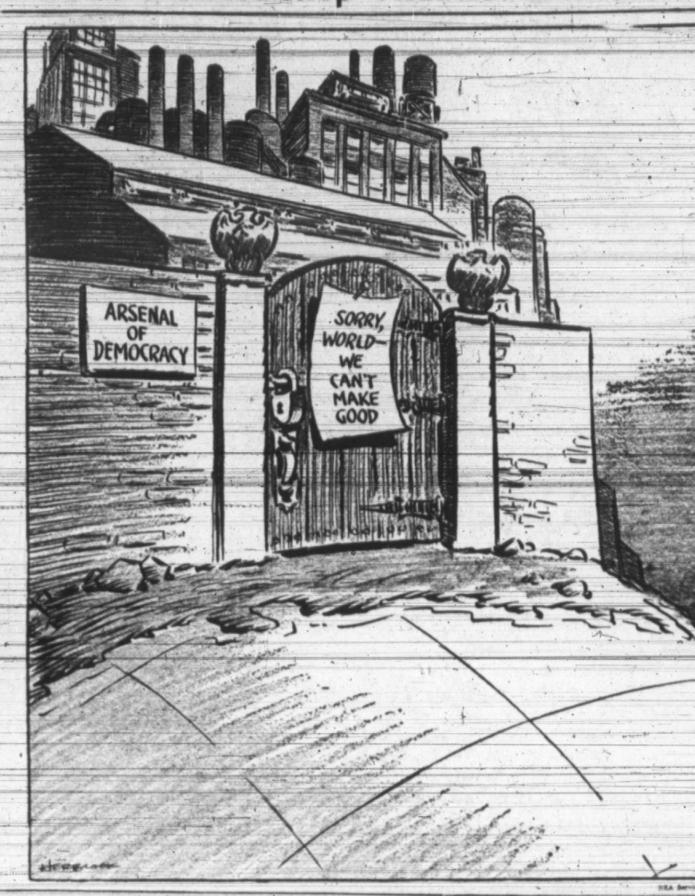

The Times Square ticket brokers have their own language. To them an attraction is never a play or a show. It is a "ticket." A flop is "no ticket," meaning nobody asks for it. There are lots of shows which grow up as "good tickets," meaning satisfactory sales. "Hot tickets" mean near capacity. When a show is S.R.O. (Standing Room Only) it becomes "The Ticket." Noel Coward's "Billie Spirit," is a name one of them, and "Let's Face It" to name another. Tip to players who dislike wasting their coin: Go to a ticket window in a theater lobby and have a look at the ticket-tack. That is the barometer of the show's appeal. If it is crowded with tickets—then you don't want any.

TIMES Square Ticket: The British Consulate paid up that Madison Prince's arrears at the Madison Park, releasing his 32 trunks. Georgie Price says they are now calling Mussolini "Il Dumbo." Zito, the dog-carrist-artist, has a doggone funny plan. Doing a book on cafe society—2,000 cats and smellies—caricatured as dogs.

DISAPPEARING: WHERE does it come from? Steel companies used to depend largely on supplies from Russia, the African Gold Coast, India and Brazil. Ore from these sources made good ballast cargo for the return voyages of vessels carrying fabricated steel abroad, and more important, it was one of a high manganese content. Russian mines are now shut off completely. Shipping shortages have interrupted deliveries from Africa and India. The U.S. freighters, to be shipped in the South Atlantic recently, was traveling light to pick up a cargo of manganese ore. The Brazilian supply is hard to get at, the quality is not too high, and there is a shipping problem here, too.

SEEK HIGHER PRICES: TO contract have been signed to start production of this domestic ore, but a trade association, the American Manganese Producers Association, is on the job in Washington under the presidency of J. Carson Adkerson, building bonfires to get the price raised about 50 per cent which would, according to the association, start the domestic mines producing automatically. The $1 per unit price which the industry is seeking has an interesting background. It was first worked out in 1925 by a subcommittee of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical En-

Is This the Closed Shop That Lewis Wants?

Foreign Supplies Of Manganese Are Rapidly Diminishing Another Shortage: It Is In Starch For Steel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—You may not figure that manganese means much in your sweet young life, but manganese in the starch of steel is the stuff that makes steel harder than steel would otherwise be. In the last war the stuff was so scarce any farmer with a manganese out-cropping on his land could ship the ore by parcel post in 20-pound sacks and be paid spot cash money for it. Significance of manganese should now be clear.

Manganese is important to the family bus, the street car tracks and the defense program which you may have seen mentioned a time or two lately, and your Navy would not like it if their battleships had no starch in them—in all that salt air.

There is, therefore, a current manganese problem, though it isn't as serious yet as it was in the last war. The problem is one common to practically everything else these days, from marbles to money. There isn't enough. The average is 14.4 pounds of manganese to a ton of steel, and while 14 pounds of anything isn't much except to a woman who wants to take it off her hips, yet when you consider that defense production calls for 99 million tons of steel a year by 1942 or 1943, you can see that the manganese requirements may run more than 700,000 tons a year, as against the current year's requirements of around 140,000 tons. In other words, a five-times expansion must be arranged.

Steel companies used to depend largely on supplies from Russia, the African Gold Coast, India and Brazil. Ore from these sources made good ballast cargo for the return voyages of vessels carrying fabricated steel abroad, and more important, it was one of a high manganese content. Russian mines are now shut off completely. Shipping shortages have interrupted deliveries from Africa and India. The U.S. freighters, to be shipped in the South Atlantic recently, was traveling light to pick up a cargo of manganese ore. The Brazilian supply is hard to get at, the quality is not too high, and there is a shipping problem here, too.

To build up the stockpile, the government-owned RFC subsidiary metals reserve company has placed orders for nearly two million tons, but deliveries under these contracts have been negligible because of the shipping problem. To remedy this, on Nov. 1 the metals reserve company announced it would consider contracts with U.S. producers of low-grade ores having a manganese content of 40 per cent or more.

TO contract have been signed to start production of this domestic ore, but a trade association, the American Manganese Producers Association, is on the job in Washington under the presidency of J. Three-fourths of this stockpile, or 860,000 tons, according to an OPM survey, is now in the hands of the consumers, 10 principal steel and alloy companies and some 700 smaller users. The government stockpile of 360,000 tons makes up the other fourth of the national reserve.

To remedy this, on Nov. 1 the metals reserve company announced it would consider contracts with U.S. producers of low-grade ores having a manganese content of 40 per cent or more.

Manganese production from U.S. mines for the year 1941 is estimated at about 100,000 tons. In the war year of 1918 it was more than 300,000 tons, but even that production is far short of the estimated requirements of 700,000 tons a year, regardless of what price subsidy the industry can get from Jesse Jones and his metals reserve company.

TOWNS claim to being "the perfect state" was substantiated by a Bureau of Census compilation of Congressman Ben Franklin Jensen of Exira, Ia., which gave the corn state 24 first, 22 second and six third. Iowa, among the farm states, was first in corn production, value of farm buildings, hogs, horses, poultry, eggs, oats, farm telephones, farm tractors, farm automobiles and farm machinery. It was also first in geese, Bobcats and lespedeza seed. Iowa was second to Texas in cattle. It was third in milk cows, honey, grass seed and soybeans.

MORE news from the "Pet Front": Sidney and Buzzie Glenn, of Sudan, write that they have a pet Scottie named "Prissie," whose birthday is on Valentine's Day. Sidney, a girl in the fifth grade, and Buzzie, a boy in the fourth, say "Prissie," at four years of age, is "the smallest and smartest dog in our neighborhood."

L. Taylor, of Slaton, has a household of pets, judging from a letter from him. Included in Mr. Taylor's pets are "Smoot," a snow-white kitten with a blue "smudge" between his ears, but apparently the No. 1 Taylor pet is "Granny," another cat.

"We call her 'Granny,'" writes Mr. Taylor, "because of her age and her fierce temper. She has always been in the hair of every cat and dog on the place, except her own kittens, and as soon as they are able to take care of themselves they are 'just some more cats' as far as she is concerned."

"We had another cat called 'Blue,' because of his color, and still another called 'Nigger,' because he was as black as a crow. He was smart and a most unusual cat in many ways. He grew up with four healthy puppies; ate and slept with them as if he were a dog—and they treated him like he was a dog. They chewed his ears, pulled his tail and mauled him as only a bunch of puppies can do—and he stayed right there with them. He could take more punishment than any thing I ever saw and come out of it with a good humor."

(Any Lubbock or South Plains person having unusual pets is invited to let The Plainsman know about them. Just drop us a postcard.)

IT so happened that The Plainsman was among the reporters gathered in the great oval office of President Roosevelt a few weeks ago, when the Chief Executive, with fittingly serious mien, announced that too many of these tests made up a serious indictment against a system which, in this advanced age, permitted illiteracy to flourish. And, of course, Mr. Roosevelt was right.

However, while no thoughtful American will defend either widespread illiteracy or a system which permits it, it is good to remember that there is no necessary corollary between intelligence and illiteracy. A comforting proof of this irrefutable fact comes from the Army Medical Technician's school at Denver, which had heart-warming experience with at least one draftee.

Although Private Claude S. Aston, 23-year-old Oklahoma cowboy, can neither read nor write, he was graduated from the school with honors. Impressed by his natural intelligence, his superior officers read his lessons to him and recorded his answers to questions in a way that enabled him to master his subjects without knowledge of reading and writing. His grades soon soared to class an excellent. He led a class of 236 enlisted men. Lack of schooling had not daunted this draftee.

Such is the American spirit. With any opportunity at all, it is the American inclination to make much out of little. There is therefore much room for encouragement despite the widespread failure to take advantage of educational facilities. Under proper guidance the American spirit will assert itself. If this is provided the percentage of draftees found to be deficient in mental training will be lowered.

In short, "book larnin'" while highly desirable, isn't exactly essential to man—in the army or out.

"A lot of men who say 'ain't' have more native intelligence than their neighbors whose most employed words are multi-syllabled."

"Few millionaires go into night clubs," remarks W. Winchell. Uh-huh. And fewer millionaires come out of 'em!

she had been given still another and entirely new slant on life. She pondered that new philosophy as she worked with her palm leaves that afternoon.

And Freda lightheartedly turned her wheel toward Flagler Avenue, stopping at the Winthrop cottage. Jerry was there alone when she walked in. Bart and Adele had gone to the Keys for a drive, he explained, and might stay for dinner.

Ice Box Supper Freda started Jerry a little when she told him where she had been.

"She's too sweet," Freda said. "Sincere and fine. If she wants you, Jerry, she deserves you—oh, let more than I do." The girl looked at him intently. "If I could really believe you're broke, I might not regret letting her have you—without a struggle. I've stepped out of the picture gracefully, darling, you must admit. Well, I couldn't stand not having money—even with you, my sweet."

"You seem to know everything." "Yes, I think I do," she said. "And I hope it isn't gone. Pam deserves things. I've got to be that fair, anyhow, Jerry."

"And though Jerry got restless, Freda stayed on. Once or twice, as he looked out, he was sure he caught a glimpse of May Frisbee passing slowly. Not that it meant anything. She had already done about all she could do. Finally he turned to Freda in exasperation.

"Darling, is that the way to treat a girl who's practically dying of love for you? All but shovel her out of your house? Come on, let's have dinner together! She moved toward the kitchen and began examining the ice box. "I can serve from an ice-box like nobody's business, and all the makings are here." She was getting out food. "I'm starved. You wouldn't turn a girl from your door hungry, would you?"

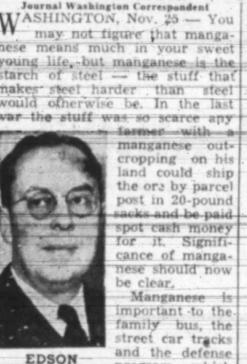

"I'll probably be committing murder if you keep on!" Freda went blithely on, with all of the assurance of her giddy young set, and Jerry sat down to the ice-box meal she had put out for him. Freda had delayed so long and spent so much time fooling as she got the meal that Jerry knew he was going to be late. He liked Freda, however, respected her good sportmanship.

"Remember," she admonished as he left, late for his date. "I'm not a saint. I'm giving you up to her. It's liable to be a fight to the finish." Her voice was gay, but Jerry caught a serious note under it. He knew she was joking, that she knew there was only friendship for them in the future. But he knew Freda still cared in her way.

He left the house unlocked. That seemed to be the accepted thing. Freda could stay on if she wished until Bart and Adele returned. They had always liked Freda.

But Freda stayed only long enough to see Jerry depart.

Call From Vin Freda stood on the piazza of the Flagler house and watched until the figures of Jerry and Blaise, moving swiftly toward Division Street, were lost blurs in the half light.

The Love Of Pam

May, seemed to sit on meaninglessly past Pam's attractive old place, stopped at the gate, stared for a space at the great Jack-randa tree in gorgeous bloom and then walked in.

Pam was sitting in the yard with Vir Baroli, who had dropped in to talk with her. He was hurt to the quick by Lenore's recent conduct. He knew she had been seen with Jim Perry and was afraid that association would end in no good. He realized it was only with de Bellefort Lenore wanted her name linked, and that seemed petty and lacking in courage to Vir. Still he loved her, and believed she loved him.

"I can't help it," he said to Pam frankly, and then went on to talk of the song he had written for Lenore. It was finished finally. Pam had heard it in fragmentary form at one of the holiday parties. "It's perfect for her," Vir said thoughtfully. "She could make it live. But I don't suppose she ever will. And, if she doesn't, no one will. It was written for her. I can't let anyone else sing it."

Vir looked toward the gate then. A girl was opening it.

"You're going to have company," he said. "I'll be pushing off."

LIGHT BUT LOADED—Soldier carries new Winchester carbine lightly on his back, but this weapon, which replaces the pistol for infantry troops, packs a heavy wallop.

ROLL OUT THE BARREL

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—"Fraslein, another beer." Despite the war—or maybe because of it—Swiss beer drinkers made that request 12 per cent more often during the first full war-year of 1940 than they did in the preceding 12 months. Swiss beer consumption increased from 2,185,000 hectoliters to 2,461,000, or an average per grown man of 200 liters a year.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, recently celebrated the 25th anniversary of the fire department with a parade of firemen and fire fighting equipment.

Oil Showings Low For Test

Approximate contract depth of 5,500 feet has been reached in the Lee C. Harrison-Tobe Foster No. 1 E. L. Steck wildcat test two miles northeast of the city without sufficient oil showings to encourage the hope it will become a producer, according to reports here today.

No Shows Logged
The test failed to log any consequential oil shows and a core from 5,130-48 feet is reported to have returned 16 feet of lime and a hydrite bearing sulphur water.

Trinity Drilling company No. 1 Dan Auld, western Lynn county wildcat, is cleaning out on bottom at 5,202 feet. Operators plan to take a core then probably will run Halliburton leep, following which the well will be drillstem tested.

The Cochran county part of the Slaughter field gained two more producers. George P. Livermore, Inc. of Lubbock, No. 18 H. T. Boyd flowed at a daily rate of 1,324 barrels after acidizing with 15,000 gallons at 5,050 feet. Magnolia Petroleum company No. 16 F. L. Woodley was good for 1,139.68 barrels a day after 10,500 gallons at 4,995 feet.

New Ones Completed
Eight new ones have been completed in the Hockley county sector of the Slaughter. Magnolia No. 9-E Mallet Land & Cattle company made 1,640.12 barrels; Magnolia No. 11-E Mallet 1,464.16 barrels; Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 3 L. L. Laubhoff 735.72 barrels of oil plus two per cent water. Honolulu Oil corporation No. 18-5-49 Mallet "B" L. 315.4 barrels.

Texaco No. 44 Bob Slaughter 2,516.3 barrels; Texaco No. 51 Slaughter 1,385.52 barrels; the same firm's No. 53 Slaughter 1,609.08 barrels; and its No. 56 Slaughter 1,868.52 barrels a day.

In Northeastern Hockley, Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation and American Drilling corporation No. 1 W. L. Ellwood estate is stilling unchanged at 4,539 feet in lime.

Top San Andres Lime
A scheduled 7,200-foot Permian wildcat test in extreme northwestern Gaines county, Likins & Hall of Midland No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, is drilling hard lime past 5,295 feet.

Placid Oil company No. 1 Higginbotham, wildcat 43 miles southwest of Lamesa in southwestern Dawson county, spudded Saturday and was slated to cement approximately 200 feet of surface pipe.
